ROBLIN HOUSE,

Late Douglas House.

As the late proprietor of the Douglas House has removed to other premises and called it the New Douglas House, I beg to notify the public that I have reopened the Douglas House myself, under the name of the "ROBLIN HOUSE." As the house has always had the name of a First-Class Hotel, I shall spare no pains to make it as popular as it ever was. The above is pleasantly situated in the central part of the city, and is a very desirable place for Families and the Public generally. It has been thoroughly renovated and furnished with new furniture. A cordial invitation is given to all old patrons of the Douglas House, and all new ones who will favor me with a call.

P. P. ROBLIN, Proprietor,
Roblin House, 49 Adelaide St,

If and If.

"If you are suffering from poor 'health or languishing on a bed of 'sickness take cheer, if you are simply 'ailing, or if you feel weak and dispirited, without clearly knowing 'why, Hop Bitters will surely cure 'you."

"If you are a minister, and have overtaxed 'yourself with your pastorial duties, or a Mother 'worn out with care and work, or a man of 'business or a labourer weakened by your every-'day duties, or a man of letters, toiling over 'your mid-night work, Hop Bitters will surely strengthen you."

"If you are suffering 'from over-eating or 'drinking, any indiscre-'tion or dissipation, or 'are young and growing 'too fast, as is often the 'case."

"If you are in the workshop, on the 'farm at the desk, anywhere and feel that your system needs cleansing, 'toning, if you are old, blood thin and 'impure, pulse feeble, nerves un-'steady, faculties waning, Hop Bitters 'is what you need to give you new life, 'health and vigor.'

If you are costive or dyspeptic, or suffering from any other of the numerous diseases of the stomach or bowels, it is your own fault if you remain ill.

If you are wasting away with any form of Kidney disease, stop tempting death this moment, and turn for a cure to Hop Bitters.

If you are sick with that terrible sickness Nervousness, you will find a "Balm in Gilead" in hop bitters.

If you are a frequenter, or a resident of a miasmatic district, barricade your system against the scourge of all countries—malaaria, epidemic, bilious and intermittent fevers — by the use of Hop Bitters.

If you have rough, pimply, or shallow skin, bad breath, Hop Bitters will give you a fair skin, rich blood, the sweetest breath, and health, $500 will be paid for a case they will will not cure or help.

That poor, bedridden, invalid wife, sister, mother, or daughter, can be made the picture of health by a few bottles of Hop Bitters costing but a trifle.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Winslow's Soothing Syrup For Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrub for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world Price 25 cents a bottle.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the error and indiscretion of youth, nervous weakness, early decay loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt, that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self addressed envelope to the REV JOSEPH T. INMAN Station D, New York City. d&w is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co.s. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY

ON THIRTY DAYS' TRIAL.

The VOLTAIC BELT Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above,—N B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty day's trial is allowed.

HALL'S

was the first preparation perfectly adapted to cure diseases of the scalp, and the first successful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth, and youthful beauty. It has had many imitators, but none have so fully met all the requirements needful for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor, and spread its fame and usefulness to every quarter of the globe. Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause: the entire fulfilment of its promises.

The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries, where they had never made an effort for its introduction.

The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER wonderfully improves the personal appearance. It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fever, and dryness, and thus prevents baldness. It stimulates the weakened glands, and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholic preparations, but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

THE TYENDINAGA STABBING.

SIR—On reading your account of the recent stabbing affray in this township where two young neighbors (whose family as well as themselves had always been on friendly terms) got drunk and, unconscious of what they were doing, engaged in a fight, when one feeling himself worsted used a knife with serious, nearly fatal effect on the other, it occurred to me that you would much better fulfil your duty as a public journalist were you to write an article in condemnation of the reprehensible—I will not say criminal—practise of giving liquor in unlimited quantities at bees. A practise which still prevails in many parts of the county, than in giving a history of "Tyendinaga's crimes," coupled with the untrue statement that this is the most lawless community in the Dominion.

I am no apologist for those unfortunate residents of this township who make a practise of getting drunk and while in a state of insanity commit the crimes to which you refear. But as a lifelong resident of this township I unhesitatingly assert that life and property are more safe in this township, where we have comparatively no legal protection, and where in the absence of police or police magistrate any criminal may escape before measures can be taken for his arrest, than in your community with its staff of policemen, judges, and magistrate.

But why is it that your drunken brawls, arsons and crimes that should be nameless are passed over without comment in your city press, while every brawl in Tyendinaga is brought prominently before your readers. If an unfortunate drunk comes before your P. M. you seem to think it a very interesting item if you can trace his origin to Tyendinaga. If an unfortunate lunatic comes from this township you volunteer the false assertion that most of the lunatics of this county come from Tyendinaga. When two young men get drunk and one draws a knife on the other, an occurrence that has often taken place in Belleville and the neighboring township we are told that Tyendinaga is the most lawless community in the Dominion.

The reason is not far to seek and has long been keenly felt in this township—the manifest intention to cast a slur on the majority of the people of this township.

TYENDINAGA.

PROFIT SHARING.

At the sixteenth annual Cooperative Congress, which was held at Derby, England, in the early part of last month, the most important subject under discussion was the application of the co-operative principle to production as well as distribution.

So far as distribution goes, co-operation has reached a really wonderful development in the United Kingdom, and of its practical success there is no room for doubt. The experiment of giving the purchaser a share in the profits on his purchases was first made in Rochdale forty years ago by a few poor workmen, who started with a capital of about $150. Since that time, and chiefly within the last twenty years, the number of co-operative stores in England, Scotland and Ireland has increased to 1,846, with a share and loan capital of nearly fifty millions of dollars and a total membership of about seven hundred thousand.

The full statistics presented to the Congress were no later than for the year 1882, at which time so marvellous a development had been reached. During the year the sales at the stores amounted to $133,080,005; the value of the stock in trade at its close was $16,617,610; the trade charges were $8,179,955; the profits declared, $10,561,725; the loss only $44,295. These co-operative societies also had investments other than in trade of a value of $21,339,445, on which the profits was $655,955. They also devoted $73,650 to education.

Having demonstrated so triumphantly the feasibility of co-operation in distribution, the next great step is to show that the principle can be carried with equal success into production. Mr. Sedley Taylor, who delivered the inaugural address as President of the Congress, devoted himself chiefly to a discussion of the methods to be adopted in taking the new departure. He referred to the experience of France in "profit sharing," saying that that mode of remunerating labor had there made an amount of headway little surmised in England, and suggested that the co-operative leaders might apply for a Royal Commission on the subject, which should collect from various quarters information supplementary to the evidence on French participating houses issued last year under authority of the French Minister of the Interior.

Fortified with such facts, and sustained by the proof of their ability to manage the co-operative stores, the workmen, he hoped 'would independently approach their employers with requests for trials of a system which they had studied and were prepared to make a success.' He contended that they could show that an employer who introduced the system 'was under no necessity of lowering the rate of profits which he had previously been obtaining.' The workmen would labor more faithfully when he was working on his own account than as a mere hired servant. He would be more careful of materials and of costly machinery, would require less expensive superintendence, and would assist in every way to increase the profits of the common business and to improve the quality of the production. Finally, said Mr. Sedley Taylor, profit sharing 'has at command potential energies capable of opening an entirely new source of profits, and so of independently creating its own fund.' In other words, the employer has only to arrange matters in such wise that the share allotted to his employees shall represent no more than the surplus brought in by their improved work.'

Still, he had no faith that employers as a class would listen to such arguments, and therein he was undoubtedly right. Capital is very conservative and very timid about innovation, and what he proposes is a tremendous revolution. Mr. Taylor was therefore wise in advising that the workmen themselves set the example and make the experiment by organizing more widely than they yet had done industrial and agricultural production on a genuine profit sharing basis.

A subsequent speaker reported that more attention would hereafter be given to the subject, and that it was hoped that by next year three or four of these productive associations would be established. They had resolved not to start until they had sufficient members and capital, and both of these were increasing at such a rate that they felt sure of success. Already a co-operative trunk-making establishment has been started in London, and is doing well. —N. Y. Sun.

Johnston, of Huron, Dak., writes that his wife had been troubled with acute Bronchitis for many years and that all remedies tried gave no permanent relief, until he procured a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, which has a magical effect, and produced a permanent cure. It is guaranteed to cure all Diseases of Throat, Lungs, or Bronchial Tubes.

THE DAILY ONTARIO.

THE TYENDINAGA STABBING.

A Subscriber writes to say that there are as good people in Tyendinaga township as in any other notwithstanding that there are a few wild boys. This has reference to the recent stabbing affray and the publication of the bad record of crime which has disgraced the township. No one casts any reflection on the good people who form the bulk of Tyendinaga's population, though if our correspondent intends to palliate the cowardly and dastardly crime committed by McAuley he is not doing a good act or anything creditable to his township. Crime often becomes epidemic in particular quarters, and then it devolves upon the residents to use every endeavor to stamp it out and relieve their locality of the reproach. It is hoped that "Subscriber" will see good-will to Tyendinaga in drawing attention to crime within its borders whenever necessary, as it is the function of a friend to seek to remove the sore which is disfiguring the bealty body. The amount of crime in this Province of recent years, and particularly this year is a reproach of disgrace to Ontario.

Since writing the above we have received a letter a part of which is published elsewhere in this issue. So far as the ONTARIO is concerned its reports are not and never were directed against any particular portion of the county, and the imputation with which the letter concludes is altogether baseless, and "Tyendinaga" must know that it does not apply to this paper. If the facts are hard we are not responsible for them. We agree with our correspondent as to the evil arising from the free use of liquor at "bees" but fail to see how it can be stopped.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE French Senate has declined by a vote of 156 to 131 to erase "cruelty" from among the grounds for divorce in France.

REPORTS from Moosejay, Swift Current and Maple Creek say that the crops there are withering. The Brandon and Broadview districts are also parched and unless rain comes soon the magnificent crop prospects will vanish.

THE proposal to appoint a committee to improve its own efficiency was promptly rejected by the House of Lords. We cannot wonder at this. No such body will ever reform itself. That task will devolve on others. So it is useless to expect the Canadian Senate to improve over its past record. The people of Canada will have to imperatively direct the reform of its constitution.

IT IS SAID that Attorney-General Miller took some thousands of dollars, public money of course, with him to pay his expenses in looking after Manitoba's interests in the boundary case in England, and the Winnipeg Sun insinuates that it is to be used in betting on cricket matches, Mr. Miller's companions, Messrs Moore and Jokes, being judges of skill at the bat. This is a wicket charge to bowl at an Attorney-General's head.

MR. DAVITT complains that as chairman of the Irish Migration Committee, Mr. Parnell has been paying the most exorbitant prices for the land which the company has acquired; that he is in collusion with the landlords to secure his personal gain, and that he is converting the National League to the uses of a private real estate speculation. Mr. Parnell has treated those allegations with silent scorn, but Davitt reiterates them.

CONTEMPORARY COMMENT.

OUR BAD GOVERNMENT.

Civil service reform is pretty badly needed in Canada. Mr. Be[illegible], who has just been appointed a[illegible]t clerk of the Privy Council, is being instructed in his duties by the officials over whose heads he has been passed. He is of shady reputation, but Mr. Chapleau is his patron and that is enough. The law provides that civil servants shall pass an examination of some sort but it is a dead letter. Mr. Hilliard, who was appointed land agent at Calgary, could barely write his name. His most eminent qualification was that he was the relative of a Tory member of Parliament.—Winnipeg Sun.

Do you want fast colors and brilliant shades use the popular package Star Dyes.

CONSTRUCTION TRAIN WRECKED.

KEOKUK, Iowa, July 2.—In the wreck of the construction train on the Chicago, Burlington, and Kansas City railroad last night from 20 to 25 people were precipitated into the stream, the fall being from 40 to 50 feet. Ten or fifteen were more or less injured; several may die. Fred Young, of Milan, Mo., and John Long, of Sumner, were killed. It is reported that three other bodies were taken from the wreck.

In no other medicinal preparation have the results of the most intelligent study and scientific inquiry been so steadily and progressively utilized as in Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It leads the list as truly scientific preparation for all blood diseases.

DISASTROUS EXPLOSION.

VICTORIA, B. C., July 1.—An explosion occurred in the Wellington colliery at Nanaimo, yesterday, by which 24 miners were killed and a number of others injured.

Mr. Alex. Robinson, of Exeter, in writing about one of the most popular articles, and one that has done more good to the afflicted than any other medicine has during the short time it has been in existence, says: "I have used four bottles of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, and have been cured of Dyspepsia that troubled me for over ten years. Part of that time I had it very bad, and was at considerable expense trying to get relief; but this excellent remedy was the first and only relief I received."

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all Drug

CANADIAN NEWS.

The Hamilton Correspondent of the Mail Arrested for Libel.

HAMILTON, July 2.—The Palladium of Labor, a small weekly paper published in this city, contained in last Saturday's issue a long article full of insinuations and gossip about a family in high life. Yesterday Joseph Dillabough, a youth who has been the Hamilton correspondent of the Mail for the past month, was arrested and locked up on a charge of having written it.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

BRANTFORD, July 2.—The Brantford Caledonian Society successfully carried out their annual games here yesterday. During the program the grand stand suddenly collapsed, throwing its occupants to the ground, none of them being injured however.

THE MARRIAGE AID.

The Officers in Gaol at Brighton Under a New Charge.

W. A. H. Duff, President of the Mutual Marriage Aid Association, was taken from Hamilton to Brighton on Wednesday night last under a warrant issued by T. N. Scripture, J. P. The information upon which the warrant was issued charged Duff with publishing, on or about the 1st of May, 1884, a certain statement with the intent to deceive and defraud one R. D. Symington, a shareholder of the association. The published statement is the May issue of the "Mutual Marriage Aid Journal," which among other things stated that "a thorough investigation of the merits and standing of this association disclose the fact that it is not only sound and practical as regard its aim and capabilities, but par excellence the best benefit society of modern times." This is in effect the peg upon which the charge hangs, and is considered a violation of section 85 of the Larceny Act. The investigation was opened on Thursday morning before the J. P., who issued the warrent, and I. B. Thayer, and continued on Monday. The Webbers were both in attendance—the taking of the evidence of John M. Webber was proceeded with. Mr. W. R. Squier is retained both by Mr. Duff and the Webbbers, against whom two warrants are now out—one on an information sworn to by J. W. Brown and another by R. D. Symington, who is prosecutor of Duff. The charges made against the two Webbers are exactly similar to the one preferred against Duff. Opinion is very much divided, The Magistrates are evidently determined to see justice done to all parties concerned.

One of the most extraordinary instances of the rise in value of a picture is the story of "The Monarch of the Glen." Landseer painted it for the adornment of the House of Lords; it was returned to him, with a civil note of thanks and a refusal to hang it on the walls of "the Upper House." A purchaser, however, came forward shortly after the illustrious animal painter had received this snub, and became the possessor of the picture for $1,500. Early last May, at a sale of private collections by Messrs. Christie & Manson, "The Monarch of the Glen" was put up for $10,000, and, after an animated bidding, was knocked down to Mr. Eaton, M. P., for $30,000.

SHANNONVILLE SIFTINGS.

Mr. Holden's Death — Grand Sabbath School Picnic.

(From our own Correspondent.)

SHANNONVILLE, July 2.—The death of Mr. Holden, of Belleville, has awakened feelings of profound sadness and sympathy in this community, not only on account of the bereft family, but out of regard to the aged father, one of the oldest residents of this village who has been suddenly robbed in his declining years of his only child, Mr. Holden was a man of unbinding integrity, and his lamented death, outside of his own home circle, will leave a vacancy that will not be easily filled. A faithful public servant has fallen in the prime of his days.

Yesterday on the plains overlooking the bay, on Mr. Brown's farm front of Thurlow, a very successful Sabbath School picnic was held. Five or six schools in the vicinity united in the demonstration, and what with the gathering of old and young, it was a very successful affair. After dinner Mr. Clacey, of the Belleville road S. S. was called to the chair. Short addresses were given by Messrs. Hawley, Boldrick, Ross, Ash and Edwards, interspersed by appropriate singing by the several schools present. The picnic closed with field sports appropriate to Dominion Day. In al probability this will become, as it might be, a fixed and permanent celebration of Dominion Day in this beautiful grove.

Mrs. Elmy, wife of Mr. James Elmy, an old resident of the first concession of Thurlow, departed this life on Sabbath last aged 78 years and 3 months. She was born in Suffolk, England, and about 48 years ago emigrated with her husband and a young family to Canada and settled in the County of Prince Edward. She afterward removed to the township of Thurlow where by great industry she and her husband succeeded in securing a competency for the decline of life. The latter years of her life were years of helpless suffering, brought on doubtless by excessive labor in her early days. For nearly half a century she had been a consistent member of the late Bible Christian Church and her death was eminently peaceful. To her husband she was a helpmate indeed, and her children arise to call her blessed. Her death was improved by an appropriate sermon by the Rev. J. C. Ash, of this place.

SERIOUS BUSH FIRE.

McLaren's Mill at Mississippi Surrounded by Flames.

KINGSTON, July 2.—A terrible conflagration is in progress near Mississippi, about ten miles beyond Sharbot lake. A week ago fire was observed burning in the bush, but little attention was paid to it. Monday it developed into gigantic proportions, and rushed towards Peter McLaren's mills. Every effort was made to turn the flames in another direction, but all to no purpose, and yesterday word came that the mill was in danger and asking that a fire engine be sent out to assist in keeping the lumber wet. An engine and hose reel, with Engineer Burke and several firemen, left on special train for the scene of the fire. The latest news this afternoon is that the flames are into the centre of McLaren's lumber and eating up large piles with lightning rapidity. The engine is playing upon the mill, and a gang of men are removing the lumber so as to isolate the building and prevent it from being destroyed. The prospects are that the mill will not be saved and with it $30,000 worth of umber will be consumed. The mill is valued at $50,000.

Last night the wind changed, the flames rushing towards the village. All the section men on the Kingston & Pembroke Railroad have gone to the fire. The mill is safe, bu the village may burn.

SELECTED AND CONDENSED.

The other day, after dinner in Eaton square, London, much to the amazement of the neighborhood, a young nobleman, in full evening dress, rode for a bet a racer up his steps, into his hall, thence to his dining room, and out again. Those exploits used to be confined to the old castle Squander, Sir Toby Rackrent, six-bottle, fifteen paces era in Ireland. A gentleman there styled Jerusalem Whaley, rode one of his coach horses up the grand staircase of his residence in Stephen's Green, Dublin and into the dinner room, where his guests assembled.

It removes wrinkles and softens the skin. The regular use of MURRAY & LANMAN'S FLORIDA WATER at the toilet tends to prevent and remove wrinkles, the softness of the skin produced by its taking away the natural inclination of the cuticle to form into ridges and furrows.

IN THE BEAR PITS.

In Paris recently a workman fell over the parapet of one of the bear pits at the Jardin des Plantes and very nearly became a prey to two huge bears awaiting their afternoon repast. The man lay for a few minutes insensible with a bad wound on his head, from which there was a copious flow of blood. The spectators for a short time kept the bears employed, by throwing them endless pieces of bread but they made so much noise in carrying out their well-meant stratagem that the animals were frightened away from this frugal entertainment, and the male, wandering about in search of refuge, approached the more palatable food and licked up the blood flowing from the prostrate sufferer's wound. Amid intense excitement the keepers arrived and the man recovered his senses. Seeing his danger, however, he lay still, as if dead, while the keepers prepared a rope and distracted the bear from its prey by striking it with long poles. At length the prisoner clutched the rope and was speedily hauled aloft, to the disappointment of the bear, who displayed much irritation at the withdrawal of so dainty and ample a meal. The rescued individual, who was badly hurt by his fall, was conveyed to the hospital.

THE WHITE MAN'S BEVERAGE.

Fresh from a journey of 4,000 miles in a mule cart and ox-wagon, up and down the most disturbed districts in South Africa, with the exception of Zululand, the Rev. Wardlaw Thompson, the travelling secretary of the London Missionary Society, reports that in all the tribes of South Africa bad brandy is the greatest curse of the natives. The brandy keg does far more harm than the powder barrel. In North Bechuanaland brandy has been kept out hitherto with considerable success; and in Basutoland, in the old times, the import of brandy was forbidden. Since the late Basuto war liquor has been introduced freely. As a result half the chiefs in Basutoland are dipsomaniacs. They drink morning, noon and night, and many of their absurd actions are attributable, not to the interest folly of the Basuto nature, but to the baleful influence of the white man's beverage.

Joseph Rusan, Percy, writes: "I was induced to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lameness which troubled me for three or four years, and found it the best article I ever tried. It has been a great blessing to me." Beware of similarly named articles; they are imitations of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil.

A VICTIM OF MISPLACED CONFIDENCE.

The individual who places trust in many of the claims of the advertised remedies is often sadly dissapointed, but the array of facts regarding the honest virtues of Burdock Blood Bitters are indisputable. It positively cures diseases of the blood liver and kidneys. Investigate the proofs and testimonials.

A RELIABLE WITNESS.

R. N. Wheeler, of Everton, speaks highly of Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, having seen its effects in his own case, a severe inflamation of the lungs and distressing cough, was quickly and perfectly cured, which had resisted other treatment.

NERVE PAIN CURE.

Polson's Nerviline cures flatulene, chills and spasms. Nerviline cures vomiting, diarrheo, cholera and [illegible] try. Nerviline cures headache, sea sickness, summer complaint, Nerviline cures neuralgia, toothache, lumbago and sciatica. Nerviline cures sprains, bruises, cuts &c. Polson's Nerviline is the best remedy in the world, and costs 10 and 25 cents to try it. Sample and large bottles at any drug store. Try Polson's Nerviline.

ALWAYS PROMPT IN ACTION.

This is just what every sufferer wants—prompt action, and rapid relief from pain. The grandest discovery of the age, the great pain cure, it is Polson's NERVALINE—prompt, powerful, pleasant to the taste, and yet so pure that it may be given to the youngest infant. Try a 10 cent sample bottle, which you can purchase at any drug store. Nervaline the great, sure, and prompt pain cure The large bottles are only 25 cents.

A PAINFUL OCCURRENCE.

Some of the most painful sufferings that afflict mortals occur from rheumatism. Either the acute or chronic form may be eradicated from the blood by an early use of the grand purifying system renovator, Burdock Blood Bitters.

LORETTO CONVENT.

The annual distribution of prizes at the Loretto Convent in this city took place on Thursday afternoon, when medals, crowns of honor and other rewards of merit were given to the young lady pupils who had won honorable distinction in their studies.

The year's work, thus pleasantly concluded, was very satisfactory to both pupils and teachers, as the examinations show that the good work for which the ladies of Loretto have long been well known was even in excess of that done in previous years. As readers are aware the premises long occupied by this community were recently enlarged by the purchase of the adjoining handsome grounds and residence owned by Mrs. Gillen. In consequence of this, the facilities in the hands of the sisters were vastly increased, and this increase of means has even since its acquisition caused an improvement in the attendance. The boarding school last year numbered 25 young ladies, chiefly from a distance, while in the day school the attendance was about 175 of all ages, and resident in the city. This is the best possible index that could be given of the character and success of Loretto Convent, Belleville, while the future augurs still more favorably from the continual improvement of the large and commodious buildings, and the healthful and roomy grounds, which are thoroughly secluded though in the very centre of the city and in the midst of social life. Lorretto Convent combines all the advantages of the primary school and the graduating academy. In the junior classes the ordinary branches of English education are carefully taught, as well as those invaluable moral principles, obedience and respect. In the advanced courses all the essentials of a sound mental training are conducted side by side with the accomplishments that are now inseparable from a lady's education. Music, instrumental and vocal, elocution painting and drawing, needlework in its latest and most beautiful varieties—in short, whatever bright talents, patient industry and large experience can acquire, is imparted to the pupil in so successful a manner as to enable her to shine with proper grace in society. And to this the chief end and aim of this religious community, the developement of the moral and religious sense of their pupils, and the reader has a clear idea of the result of the labors of the Sisters of Loretto, namely, the gradual change of the young scholar into the true woman, with that sense of dignity, self respect and religious feeling which gives to womankind the legion of graces that no artificial charms can equal.

Among the prize winners at the recent examinations may be mentioned Miss Hattie Davern of Newburg, whose general excellence in English and French was sufficient to deserve the gold medal founded by the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Farrelly, Miss Davern was the first pupil of Loretto in this city to merit this distinction. Miss Julia Baughton distinguished herself as the medallist in mental and practical arithmetic.

A Note of Warning to Suffering Humanity.

We feel that we would be wanting in the duty we owe to humanity if we did not sound a note of warning in regard to the use of Mercury and other poisonous minerals in the treatment of blood and skin diseases. If the reader could see the horrible suffering, the awful wrecks of human health and happiness, shown by our correspondence with those who have been dosed with these mineral poisons, he would shudder with horror. Arsenic, Mercury, Antimony, and Iodide of Potassium, are some of the remedies ordinarily used for these diseases, and they are all POISON. Do not take these poisons. They might dry up your disease for a few days but it will surely return, and with it Mercurial Rheumatism, which may bring you [illegible] torture. Shaker Blood Syrup will invigorate you and build you up, and force all poison out through the pores of your skin, and cure you sound and well.

SHAKER BLOOD SYRUP [illegible] completely Scrofula, Syphilis, Rheumatism, Cancer, Catarrh, and Skin and Blood disease of every description. Sold everywhere [illegible] a bottle, or six for $5.00.

The Belleville Division of the Knights of Labor are making arrangements for a monster labor celebration here on the 18th of August. A requisition asking the city council to fix that day as a civic holiday has been forwarded to Mayor Dunnet. It is proposed to have a grand procession in the morning and a picnic in the afternoon in Bleecker's grove.

The Executive Committee met on Monday night and endorsed the reports of the other Committees, besides passing some accounts. The Womens Christian Association grant to the hospital was discussed. Ald. Pope moved a grant of $3,000 to be paid in three annual instalments but Ald. Diamond contended that this years council had no authority to appropriate for the council of 1885. The resolution was lost. The Chairman of Executive then intimated that it was his intention to place $1,000 in the estimates for this work to be paid over on certain conditions. The estimates were not brought down.

ONLY A WOMAN'S HEART.

The Toronto Globe says:—Only a Woman's Heart was received in a manner that must have been very gratifying to the management and at once stamp the new American play an emphatic success. The situations are singularly effective. The character of Old Roger is altogether a strong one, and Newton Beers shows himself as an actor of no ordinary merit in this new style of stage creation. In his hands Old Roger rapidly but almost imperceptibly grows into the affections of the audience till its sympathies are so fairly captured that the shortcomings of the rest of the characters are for the time forgotten. Mr. Beers has won a very high place among the eccentric characters now upon the stage. He has plenty of dramatic force and fire, and his Old Roger certainly stamps him as a man of genius. He is, in fact, just the man to make his mark in the very difficult line of business he has selected as his specialty. The support was very satisfactory. This Company appears in the Opera House here to-morrow evening.

BAIRD'S MINSTRELS.

One of the finest minstrel performances ever given in this city was presented at the Zoo last evening. In the minds of many in the audience it was actually the best to which seekers after amusements in Toronto have been treated. The vocal and instrumental music was of a high order, the jokes and other kinds of witticisms were fresh and new, and the special features introduced were novel, and each excellent to a degree in their several lines. The first part was composed of songs and ballads, probably heard for the first time in this city, and the singing satisfied everbody. The travestie on grand Italian opera was exceedingly funny. The contortionists, Harry Loa and Willie Ruge, performed the most remarkable feats, and certainly cleverer acrobats have not yet visited the city. Altogether, the entertainment is a superior one in every respect, and was a surprise to everyone who expected a mediocre company at this season of the year. The audience which enjoyed the first performance last night was a very large one, filling every seat and standing in hundreds around the crowded benches. The merits of the performance justify a continuance of this patronage, and it is probable that the capacity of the Zoo will be taxed every evening during the present week.—Mail.

This show will give an exhibition in their tent on the hospital lot Monday, July 7th.

DOMINION DAY.

How it was Celebrated in this Section.

A QUIET TIME IN THE CITY.

Yesterday being Dominion Day there was a general cessation of work in the foundries and workshops and the merchants generally had their places of business closed. Front Street wore a deserted appearance all day, and the general remark was that it was the "tamest" Dominion Day ever seen in this city. From early morning there was a continual exodus of citizens bent on enjoying our natal day in some of the towns and villages on the Bay of Quinte, while a fair representation took the Hero for Kingston to participate in the festivities of the old Limestone City. But they all returned in the evening generally not very well pleased with their excursion.

DOMINION DAY IN TRENTON.

TRENTON, July 2—The celebration here yesterday was witnessed by at least five thousand people and was the greatest demonstration ever seen in Trenton. The citizens and business men seemed to vie with each other in making their premises attractive to visitors by a liberal display of bunting and evergreen and the decoration committee had four handsome arches erected on the public streets—a large double one at the corner of the Queen's Hotel, another one in front of the Grand Central Hotel, a third arch east of the bridge and another one in front of Bleecker & McLaren's hotel. The Church of England congregation had a most successful picnic in Wilkins' grove, where aethletic games and other sports were indulged in. The Brigade camp paraded through the town in the afternoon which was a prominfeature of the day's proceedings, but the most attractive event on the program was the yacht race for second class yachts. There were four entries—the Iolanthe and Gracie of Belleville, and the Surprise and Enid of Trenton. The course was from a buoy off Wilkins' grove to a buoy in the harbor, then across to a buoy near Mill Island, up the south shore of the bay to a buoy off Indian Island, back to the starting point, three times around; a course of about twenty-five miles. The yachts got away shortly before noon and finished about five o'clock in the evening. The wind was favorable for the Gracie, but through Mr. Roy making a mistake in the location of one of the buoys he lost the race by about ten minutes. The Surprise in rounding the buoy off Mill Island upset having no ballast in her, and the crew was quickly rescued by the Dauntless. On the first round the Gracie, by the mistake spoke of, lost about four minutes, but on the second round she gained on the Iolanthe, until they began to sail the course a third and last time when the Iolanthe ran away from her competitors easily, beating the Gracie by ten minutes. The Enid was nowhere.

HO! FOR THE SANDBANKS.

The Annie Gilbert left here at five o'clock yesterday with a party of thirty ladies and gentlemen on board for the Sandbanks, reaching Picton at ten. Mr. Vorce was on hand with several handsome carriages and drove the excursionists to the Banks without further delay, where they spent the day in a most delightful manner, starting for home at 4.30 in the afternoon. It was nine o'clock when the boat left Picton for Belleville, reaching her dock at just five this morning. It is needless to add that the all-night trip on the water was a rare treat.

THE DAY IN KINGSTON.

KINGSTON, July 2.—The celebration here yesterday was a great success. In the yacht races Garfield won the first-class race, Laura the second-class, and Merlin the third. Thirteen boats in all started together, the Laura came in first, beating Garfield two minutes. Zeta, of Sackett's harbor, was in the second-class race but she made a poor show. The blowing up of the ship Mohawk in the harbor was a great success, the arrangements made by Sergeant-Major Buttes having been most perfect. She was set on fire first, and after burning for ten minutes was sent into the air in millions of pieces. Six hundred pounds of powder were placed beneath her in two barrels.

HOLIDAY NOTES.

The Quinte took up a large crowd of people to Trenton in the morning.

The Varuna went up in the afternoon with a full load and came back at eleven last night with the Mary Ethel lashed alongside; also with her decks crowded with passengers.

The liveries did a lively business yesterday.

A pic-nic was held in Bleecker's Grove in the afternoon by the people of St. Michael's Church which was largely patronized and which proved a flattering success. Games and dancing was the order of the day until nearly dark.

It being a good thing, we are pleased to do more than is our custom to learn its virtues and exhibit [illegible] others."

KINGTSON HORSE RACES.

E, Horan of Picton Suspended for Disorderly Conduct.

A THIN ATTENDANCE.

The events on the card yesterday were: 2:30 class. Purse $200—$100 to first, $70 to second, $30 to third,

Moody's b. m. Gipsy Queen	2	1	1	3	1
Horan's br. g. Fuller	1	2	4	4	2
Mallett's b. m. Jenny	4	4	3	1	3
Swift's b. g. Jas. Halfpenny	3	3	2	2	4

Time—2:34, 2:33¾, 2:34½, 2:38½, 2:37.

2:45 Class.—In this race Blue Bell had everything her own way, and in the second heat distanced her two competitors.

Purse $200—$120 to first, $60 to second $20 to third.

E. Horan's b. m. Bluebell	1	1	1
Swift's b. g. Stadacona	2	dis.
Julian's b. m. Maggie May	3	dis.

Time—2:37½, 2:39¾

In the scrub race for runners, Horan's b. m. secured the prize. At the conclusion of the 2:30 race some words occurred between the groom of Fuller, owned by E. Horan of Picton, and, one Clark, which resulted in their clinching. At this juncture Horan struck Clark over the head with a loaded whip, inflicting an ugly wound. It was decided to expel Horan from the association and retain the prizes won by his horses pending the judgment of the Secretary of the National Trotting Association.

KINGSTON, July 2. (Special.)—The Summer Meeting at the Cataraqui Driving Park under the auspices of the Canadian Trotting Circuit proved a great fizzle. The track was not in good condition and the attendance each day was small, the management having made the mistake of charging an entrance fee of 50c, instead of a quarter. There was a large attendance of visitors in town yesterday, but not more than 400 or 500 people went out to see the races. The following is the summary of the first day's races:

2:25 class—Purse $300; $200 to first, $70 to 2nd, and $30 to 3rd.

Doddridge's b m Elsie Groff	1	1	1
Horan's b r h J. Fuller	2	2	2
Swift's b g J Halfpenny	drawn

Time—2:35, 2:33¼, 2:35½.

Three minute class—Purse $200; $120 to first, $60 to second, $20 to third.

E. Horan's b m Bluebell	1	1	1
Swift's b m Stadacona	2	2	3
Julian's b m Maggie May	3	3	2

Time—2:46¾, 2:45¾, 2:43½.

There was scarcely any betting on the ground as Elsie Groff and Bluebell had it all their own way. Halfpenny acted badly and will probably be withdrawn from the circuit. Maggie May was beaten easily in the 3 min. class by Stadacona for second place.

Westbrooke, the bicyclist of Brantford, came here and entered in the local race as Whitehall, and gave money to some young men to bet on him, but as they found out who he was they bet against him, in order to let him lose his money. Westbrooke, however, was too sharp for them and lost the race.

SPORTING NEWS.

Lord Rosebery has purchased the racehorse Foxhall, paying forty-eight hundred pounds.

Frank Martin's trotting gelding Rifleman, which was here last summer, is recovering from a mild attack of epizootic.

A regular monthly meeting of the Bicycle Club will be held to-night. The major portion of the wheelmen who went to Toronto returned last night.

At the Canadian Wheelmen's races at Toronto yesterday R. S. Wilson, of Toronto, won the one mile green race in 3 min. 30 sec. Mr. F. J. Campbell captured the prize in the three mile dash in 10:28½. The one mile championship was won by C. L. Lavender, in 3:07½ lowering the Canadian record, 4:10 made last year by Ross. The half mile race without hands fell to P. E. Doolittle, and the two mile contest open to the world was won by G. S. Low, of Montreal. W. G. Ross Montreal took the five mile championship.

THE BRIGADE CAMP,

From our own Correspondent.

TRENTON, July 2.—The brigade Camp had a review on the field here yesterday and in the afternoon marched into town and through the principal streets, which had been sprinkled for the occasion. Col. Villiers has received orders from the Adjutant-General to inspect the troops in camp at Kingston, and left here last evening for Kingston, mustering the troops for Wednesday morning between 10 and 12 o'clock and inspecting them during the afternoon. Col. Villiers leaves Kingston on Wednesday night for the inspection of troops in Trenton on Thursday. The camp here will break up on Saturday next.

THE OLD, OLD STORY.

A young man named Wilkins came from Belleville to Toronto yesterday to take part in the celebration. At the Union station last night he was seen wearing a countenance sober enough for a funeral, and when questioned told the old story. Some rascal had worked the confidence racket on him, giving him a bogus $20 check. Wilkins had enough to take him home simply because he had bought a return ticket in Belleville.—World.

PERSONAL.

This paper makes a practice to examine closely and reject all matters of such a character as could be in any way objectionable to our readers, but the following, drawing as it does your notice the name of and article of sterling merit, known throughout the land as the only sure and non-poisonous remedy for corns, is welcome to a place in our columns. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor now finds its way to nearly every part of the world, which is itself a guarrantee of its merit. We advise our readers to buy it, and when purchasing to get Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Polson & Co., Kingston, proprs.

WATER WORKS.

A System of Gravitation Proposed by Mr. H. Corby.

Mr. H. Corby, at considerable expense, has been investigating the feasibility of furnishing the city with a supply of water from the region of his distillery at Corbyville. The following letter speaks for itself.

H. CORBY, ESQ., Sir.—In accordance with your instructions I ran a line of levels from Corby's Dam to Belleville, and beg to report thereon as follows:—I commenced operations at Corby's Dam and carried the line of levels down towards Belleville along the Grand Junction Railway and so on down through the Grand Trunk Station yard, thence down the Grand Junction to the premises of Geo. Denmark, Esq., thence down John Street to Bridge St., thence down Bridge to Pinnacle St., thence down Pinnacle St., to the market place and to your office. I find that there is a fall of forty feet five inches from the top of Corby's dam to the Grand Trunk station yard. The highest ground on Taylors Hill near the residence of Geo. Denmark is about on a level with the water in Corby's dam and this high ground is the top of a ridge falling quickly to the north and south. The surface falls rapidly from this high ground and I found the doorsill of your office to be seventy-two feet below the top of Corby's dam. W.S. DREWRY, P. L. S.

It will thus be seen that it is within the reach of any private citizen or company to establish a system of water works, sufficient to supply the city with plenty of pure, wholesome water for all purposes at a comparatively small outlay. It is to be hoped this matter will receive the careful consideration it deserves. There can be no doubt but the investment would prove a remunerative one.

Mrs. J. Lang, Bethany, Ont., writes. I was one of the greatest sufferers for about fifteen months with a disease of my ear similar to ulcers, causing entire deafness. I tried everything that could be done through medical skill, but without relief. As a last resort, I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and in ten minutes found relief. I continued using it, and in a short time my ear was cured and hearing completely restored. I have used this wonderful healer successfully in cases of inflamation of the lungs, sore throat, coughs and colds, cuts and bruises, &c., in fact it is our family medicine.

HORSFORD'S ACID PHOSPHATE

A GOOD THING.

Dr. Adam Miller, Chicago Ill., says: "I have recommended Horsford's Acid Phosphate to my patients, and have received very favorable reports. It is one of the very few really valuable preparations now offered to the afflicted. In a practice of thirty-five years I have found a few good things and this is one of them.

AN END TO BONE SCRAPING.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctor told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used instead, 3 bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve and my leg is now sound and well.

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c per box by R. Templeton.

SPRING CLEANING.

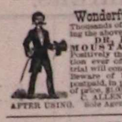
HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Invalids distracted by indigestion and discouraged in their search for its remedy should make a trial of this never-failing medicine. A lady long a martyr to dyspeptic tortures, writes that Holloway's Pills made her feel as if a burden had been taken off her. Her spirits formerly low, have greatly improved; her capricious appetite has given place to that of healthy hunger; her dull, sick headache has departed, and gradually so marvellous a change has been effected that she is altogether a new creature, and again fit for her duties. These pills may be administered with safety to the most delicate. They never act harshly, nor do they ever induce weakness; they rightly direct deranged, and control excessive action.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally and the Ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceeding efficacious. When influenza is epidemic this treatment is the easiest, safest, and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free, without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of saving suffering when any one is afflicted with cold, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints by which so many persons are seriously and permanently afflicted in most countries.



AFTER USING.

Wonderful! Wonderful!

Thousands of young men are exclaiming the above every day, after using DR. LAMARTINE'S MOUSTACHE GROWER. Positively the only reliable preparation ever offered to the public. A trial will convince the most skeptical. Beware of bogus imitations. Sent postpaid, in plain wrapper, on receipt of price, $1.00 per box.

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "28 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 28, 1882.

"Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.
Yours truly, W. M. PHILLIPS."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the SARSAPARILLA in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1882. Yours gratefully,
HIRAM PHILLIPS."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blotches, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

LOVE'S LOTTERY

OR,

THE RIVAL SISTERS.

Pauline! Juliette!' she said in much concern. 'Here is a telegram from America. It comes from your agent's partner, Mr. Jabez Scladden, who announces the sudden and unexpected death of Mr. Freeland. He states that his affairs have been left in so complete a state, that he advises your immediate presence in Louisiana.'

'Our presence!' cried the sisters.

'Yes. He says your intention to sell the estate almost demands it. Mr. Freeland being dead, there are papers to be signed. Still, I should think a power of attorney might——'

Stuart Loring raised his hand sligtly.

'Nay,' broke in Juliette; 'what is the journey? If our presence is necessary, why not go? It may save much trouble.'

'It certainly would, but——'

'Do not say a word against it, dear aunt,' chimed in Pauline. 'If we must part with Longueville, as we must, for my part I would like to visit it once again before it goes entirely from us.'

'I agree with you, Lina.'

'Then my dears, you desire to go?' asked Lady Dudley.

'Yes, aunt.'

'What, would you again undertake that toilsome journey?'

'Tailsome, it is delightful.'

'Oh, if that be your opinion, my loves, I will be no barrier; go by all means. Now I must return to my guests.'

Hearing that, Stuart Loring, rising, moved further into the room.

His leoine face was radient, his eyes glittered, he rubbed his hands softly

'They will go,' he thought, 'they must go. For a more urgent telegram shall follow this. How easily my play slides. How can I doubt success?'

While speaking, his glance fell on Eustace Belmore.

'This is my only obstacle,' he added but by Grum's aid, he can easily be removed.'

CHAPTER XII.

THE ACTRESS'S LETTER—HOW IT SUCCEEDED.

Nelly Montmorency's threat respecting Stuart Loring was not merely the words of momentary passion, to be afterwards forgotten.

On the contrary, the morning found her more firmly resolved upon revenge.

The difficulty was—how could she accomplish her design?'

The world's opinion, to an opera-bouffe actress of Nellie's stamp, was of no more consequence than the thistle-down to the north wind.

Therefore, her father being dead, she would have treated the American's knowledge of her history with disdain, but for one reason—Eustace Belmore. He had been her first and only true love, and she shrank from the incidents of her past London life reaching his ears.

Nevertheless, her anger against Stuart Loring for, by the practices of a charlatan making her, as she believed, his dupe, was too great for passivity.

She vowed to expose him, and by rendering a service to Eustace Belmore, win at last his gratitude.

There was one drawback.

What she was about to do would be aiding him to take to his arms her rival, the woman of whom she was gealous, Pauline Beauchamp.

That was a bitter idea, which it took Nellie Montmorency a long time to overcome. She hated Pauline, yet would help Eustace and would be avenged upon the American.

Finally the latter, assisted by the thought of compelling Eustace Belmore to have one or more interviews with her, carried the day, and on the morning succeeding the reception at Lady Dudley's the actress, having taken her chocolate, rose a little before noon, threw a flowing silk dressing gown around her, sat down at her writing desk, with a real gold pen, the holder of which was rendered uncomfortable by silk and beads, bagan on a sheet of baper, as delicate in hue as in perfume her epistle.

The actress's grammar was not of the purest, neither was her caligraph quite of the Italien type. Nevertheless she had the power of expressing herself to the purpose and rapidly wrote as follows—

'A sincere friend to Mr. Eustece Belmore desires him for his own sake and that of another he holds still dearer, to grant her an interview, as she has that to tell which he would give much to learn. She hopes this will prove inducement enough, but in case it don't she adds that danger from an unexpected quarter threatens him and the other one—a danger before which he is powerless, because he is powerless, because he is ignorent of its existence. The writer bids him call tomorrow, when she will be at home to receive him, and tell him all she knows. Don't be mad enough to treat this with indifference, or you and she may rue it.'

Placing the address, she folded and sealed the rather curious missive, then dispatched it to its destination.

'Will he come?' she thought. 'Surely he can hardly refrain. Man is as curious as woman.'

Health is a duty, Disease a crime. Use Dr. Henry Baxter's Mandrake Bitters and be cured of all biliousness or liver trouble. 25 cents will buy a large bottle.

Every one who walks the streets of a great city, and scans with an intelligent eye the colorless faces of more than fifty per cent of the people he meets, can easily agree with us in the statement, that this age, which makes such dwarfs upon the working energies the greater part of men in the intense pursuit of business, has destroyed in a proportionate degree the animal health and robust condition. Nature in its stage of exhaustion, cannot be restored of its self but requires some stimulating tonic to strengthen and keep the system in regular order, such in Northrup and Lyman's Quinine Wine we have the exact remedy required. The peculiar operation of this medicine, in case of general debility and nervous prostration, has undergone long and close observation, and it is believed it will never of properly and judiciously administered. Prepared by Northrup & Lyman, Toronto, and sold by all druggists.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND IS A POSITIVE CURE

For all of those Painful Complaints and Weaknesses so common to our best FEMALE POPULATION.

IMPORTANT TO RUPTURED PERSONS

The Excelsior Rupture Treatment was introduced to the American people several years ago in such a manner as to completely secure the confidence of the whole nation. The mode of introduction was by furnishing the remedy to those afflicted with Hernia in any of its various forms and collecting no pay until a permanent cure was effected. In this way the treatment gained a world wide reputation on its own merits, never failing to cure any reducible Hernia. The Company has at the solicitation of thousands placed the remedy on sale by all druggists both wholesale and retail, in the United States, Canada and England, in this way bringing it within the reach of all classes at a trifling cost compared with the benefit which are derived from the use of the treatment. Ask your druggist for a free book on rupture or send 6 cts. for one to the Excelsior Rupture Cure M'f'g Co., Ogdensburg, N. Y.

SCIENCE.

To increase the weight of the body invigorate the system, revitalize the exhausted and depressed, is the true object sought by medical science. The digestive organs must be in a healthy condition if we wish to secure this desired result, and no remedy yet discovered has ever proved so effectual in accomplishing this as FLAX-SEED EMULSION COMP. It contains Phosphorus to build up the nervous system and all the fat producing properties of Flax-seed to enrich the blood and supply the animal economy with the elements for reconstruction.

ROBLIN HOUSE,

Late Douglas House.

As the late proprietor of the Douglas House has removed to other premises and called it the New Douglas House, I beg to notify the public that I have reopened the Douglas House myself, under the name of the "ROBLIN HOUSE." As the house has always had the name of a First-Class Hotel, I shall spare no pains to make it as popular as it ever was. The above is pleasantly situated in the central part of the city, and is a very desirable place for Families and the Public generally. It has been thoroughly renovated and furnished with new furniture. A cordial invitation is given to all old patrons of the Douglas House, and all new ones who will favor me with a call.

Of the 100 teachers, 20 held second class Provincial certificates, 48 third class, 18 extended third class certificates and 14 special certificates granted on the authority of the Minister of Education.

Fifty school houses have been built during the past thirteen years.

The amount of money raised for School purposes from all sources :—

Sidney	$7,278 18
Thurlow	6,827 46
Tyendinaga	8,508 85
Hungerford	5,873 62
Trenton	3,569 57
Deseronto	2,317 79
Total	$34,375 47

This is $30.34 less than what was raised in 1882.

Nearly all the schools are kept open during the whole year of 222 days.

The number of pupils between the ages of 5 and 21, who attended the schools in 1883, were: Sidney, 1,068; Thurlow, 1,036; Tyendinaga, 1,238; Hungerford 1,165; Trenton, 601; and Deseronto 476; making in all 5,584.

Including the money paid teachers, and for repairs, maps and apparatus, cleaning and fuel, the cost per pupil for instruction would be; Sidney, $7.69; Thurlow $7.59; Tyendinaga, $5.58; Hungerford, 4 57; Trenton, 5.81; Deseronto, $4.16.

A large percentage of the schools are thoroughly and efficiently taught by earnest, painstaking and energetic teachers, but I have to admit that some are in charge of persons who lack nearly every essential quality of a good teacher. If teachers were more plentiful it would not be so difficult to have all the schools well taught and in a thorough state of efficiency. Many of those to whom permits are given are not able from want of scholarship and preparation for the work, to give a proper elementary training to the youth placed under their charge. It is more difficult to teach the lower classes than the higher, yet it has been thought and is thought by many at the present time that almost any one can teach junior pupils.

It requires a good thoughtful, energetic and live teacher to do this work. Many pupils are spoiled in their early training by being placed in charge of teachers unacquainted with this important work. Many children are considered stupid and dull, but in many cases the dullness can be traced to the bad teaching during their early days at school.

Nearly all the trustees, are anxious to secure good teachers, and make every effort at the proper time to place the school in charge of such, but some are more willing to engage somebody on a permit at a low salary than to secure a teacher with a certificate.

Some schools were vacant during part of the winter, and this was caused in many cases by the carelessness of trustees. Several trustees were written to during the holidays, and were offered good teachers, trained in the Model School, but instead of securing the teacher offered, a request was sent some time after asking for a permit to be given to some inexperienced, untrained, and in some cases, worthless candidate. Very frequently the money paid to those who get permits is really thrown away.

It would be far better for such trustees to give a few dollars more and thereby obtain a teacher, under whom the scholars would learn more in one month than in three under the cheap and unqualified teacher who probably never had any successful experience.

I hope the time will soon come when none but qualified and trained teachers will be engaged in our public schools.

Irregular attendance is a great obstacle to real progress in many schools. Pupils who came to school two or three days in a week learn but little. They frequently hinder the progress of those who are always present. The parents of these children frequently complain that they make no progress, and that they have been so long in the book, and are displeased if they are not promoted to a higher class with the scholars who have been regular attendants. Parents could do much in this direction in improving the efficiency of the school and encouraging teachers by sending their children punctually and regularly.

It is very noticeable that in schools taught by live, earnest teachers, the attendance is quite regular. These teachers by their manner, their thorough teaching and making the school room a pleasant place encouraging regular attendance on the part of all scholars, and through the pupils they arouse in the parents an interest in school.

There are in many sections children who rarely go to school, yet the property holders are taxed for the support of the schools. When all are taxed for the education of the youth of the country every parent should be compelled to send his children to school.

Trustees should enforce the compulsory clauses of the School Act, which require that all children between the ages of 7 and 13 years inclusive shall attend regularly 55 days in each half year.

Uniform promotion examinations are being held in the schools during each six months of the year. The papers are prepared by the Inspector and sent under seal to the teacher, who conducts the examination, carefully reads the answers and sends a tabulated statement to him, giving the marks in each subject and designating those who have passed. The answers are filed away to be examined by the Inspector at his next visit, if thought necessary. These examinations are giving universal satisfaction to teachers and to trustees and parents who have been made thoroughly acquainted with their object. They have encouraged regular attendance on the part of the scholars and more thorough and thoughtful teaching of the school subjects. According to the present arrangement much depends upon the honesty of the teacher in conducting these examinations and in reading the papers. At the request of the teachers the examinations for the first half of 1884 will be held July 3rd and 4th on the same days as the Entrance Examinations to High Schools

Besides the usual Entrance Examinations held in Belleville and Trenton, the Department, on application, has allowed me to hold Entrance Examinations in Belleville, Deseronto and Tweed to accomodate pupils from rural sections. The Examinations held at Deseronto and Tweed are not only of value to those in these villages, but it saves the pupils in rural sections in Hungerford and parts of Tyendinaga a good deal of expense and inconvenience by being allowed to write at places so much nearer than Belleville. I have encouraged teachers to prepare their fourth class pupils for these examinations. They have stimulated both teachers and pupils to teach and to learn the fourth class work thoroughly and well. The County Council by paying the expenses of these examinations in Belleville, Deseronto and Tweed, and by coming to an equitable agreement with the Board of Education for the city, by which all pupils from the county can receive a higher education without paying tution fees, has done much to further the educational interests of the County of Hastings.

The frequent change of teachers is another great hindrance to the thorough and efficient progress of schools. Every time a teacher is changed the scholars are put back, but Trustees are only too willing to continue the services of faithful and efficient teachers.

The only remedy for the unequal size of school sections is a Township Board of Trustees but the ratepayers are opposed to this, as shown by the vote taken a few years ago at the Annual School Meetings, when the matter was submitted for their consideration, yet they complain of the unequal rates imposed in different sections for the support of the schools.

Honest public examinations have been held by the energetic and painstaking teachers, but I am sorry to say that some have neglected this important duty. Every teacher should hold public examinations once at least every six months, and trustees should see that this part of a teacher's duty is carried out as required by the school law, for nothing will create a greater interest in school matters than good thorough examinations held at certain times during the year at which all the parents attend. Any teacher failing to hold these examinations neglects a very important part of his duty, and will not succeed in arousing a lively interest in the minds of parents and ratepayers as regards his school. No one can create such a healthy opinion in a section as an energetic and live teacher.

On the written request of the trustees I asked the Minister of Education to grant extended certificates expired at the end of the year and who had been successful, This was necessary on account of the scarcity of teachers.

The teachers of Belleville and South Hastings meet in convention in the Central School building twice a year for the purpose of discussing the subjects taught in the public schools. At the first meeting of the year we generally secure the services of some noted educationist from a distance to take up the subjects taught in the schools, but the second meeting is generally conducted by the teachers. Last year we had a very successful Institute, conducted chiefly by G. W. Ross, now Minister of Education. In October we had a very practical and useful meeting, managed by the teachers of the Central School, who showed to the teachers present their methods of teaching the school subjects, by doing the actual work of teaching classes from other rooms than their own.

Arrangements were made by Mr. Mackintosh and myself, to hold a Union Institute in Belleville. This meeting was held on the 22nd and 23rd days of May. We secured the services of Prof. DeGraff, M. A., of Washington, one of the best educators in America, to do the work. He showed himself to be an able man, and thoroughly acquainted with all the departments of public school work. He gave a lecture each evening—one in the City Hall and one in the Opera House, which was kindly offered to the Institute by the Directors. These meetings are highly beneficial to teachers and all concerned. I am sure that the teachers went back to their schools filled with renewed energy, and with a determination to do better work than they had ever done before.

I wish I could report greater care in keeping in good condition the grounds and outbuildings of many schools. In a few sections this is carefully attended to by teachers, scholars and trustees, but in many there is a lack of proper attention to cleanliness in the school-room and premises.

To have good schools we must have good teachers. Everything has been done to assist teachers and to help them to do their work in the very best manner. It gives me pleasure to say that the greater number of the schools are thoroughly and efficiently taught by faithful and earnest teachers.

Great care is taken to see that the important subjects of reading, spelling, writing, arithmetic, grammar and composition and geography are well and thoroughly taught to all boys and girls.

In conclusion I must say that it is gratifying to be able to speak so favorably of the efficiency of the schools of South Hastings.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen.
Your obedient servant,
JOHN JOHNSTON,
Inspector.

Belleville, June 3rd, 1884.

If and If.

"If you are suffering from poor 'health or languishing on a bed of 'sickness take cheer, if you are simply 'ailing, or if you feel weak and dis'pirited, without clearly knowing 'why, Hop Bitters will surely cure 'you."

"If you are a minister, and have overtaxed 'yourself with your pastoral duties, or a Mother 'worn out with care and work, or a man of 'business or a labourer weakened by your every'day duties, or a man of letters, toiling over 'your mid-night work, Hop Bitters will surely 'strengthen you."

"If you are suffering 'from over-eating or 'drinking, any indiscre'tion or dissipation, or 'are young and growing 'too fast, as is often the 'case."

ADVICE TO MOTHERS

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Winslow's Soothing Syrup For Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels; cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrub for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world Price 25 cents a bottle.

"Twenty-four years experience, says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the Generative organs is to repair the wastby giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas, Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See adv't in nother column is the first preparation perfectly adapted to cure diseases of the scalp, and the first successful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth, and youthful beauty. It has had many imitators, but none have so fully met all the requirements needful for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor, and spread its fame and usefulness to every quarter of the globe. Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause: the entire fulfilment of its promises.

Vegetable Sicilian

The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries, where they had never made an effort for its introduction.

The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER wonderfully improves the personal appearance. It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fever, and dryness, and thus prevents baldness. It stimulates the weakened glands, and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholic preparations, but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy.

Mr. E. A. C. Pew says of his negotiations with the Dominion Government respecting the Manitoba Southwestern Railway, that in all his interviews with the Hon. J. H. Pope, the acting Minister of Railways, he was forced to the conviction that he was dealing with a man "who was as much interested financially in the C. P. R. as George Stephen or any director of the C. P. R."

A New York clergyman has been preaching austere observance of the Sabbath and holding up Toronto as a city in which the Sabbath is properly kept. We venture to say that public sentiment in Toronto will endorse well-conducted Sunday excursions before many years. The larger the city grows the stronger this sentiment is becoming. It may perhaps not be amiss to refer just here to bicycling on Sunday, held by many good people to be highly improper. A little thought, however, will show that a man who takes a walk on his wheel is doing neither more or less than the pedestrian on the sidewalk who is taking a walk for pleasure and recreation. The wheel will take a man into the country and surround him with quiet pastoral scenes framed by Nature herself. The great majority use it as a pleasant and swift means of locomotion, and as a beneficial exercise. To strengthen and keep in health the body God has made you caretaker of, in a way which rids you of crabbed humors provoked by a disordered liver, is a duty eminently fitted for Sunday as well as Monday discharge.

The Pope's encyclical against all Freemasons has not gone unmarked. The Earl of Carnarvon, Pro. Grand Master of the Freemasons of England, at the quarterly meeting of the Grand Lodge presented a communication from H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, Grand Master of England, calling attention to the Pope's encyclical against Freemasonry. After an able and moderate review of the errors and mistatements made by the head of the Roman Catholic Church in regard to the Order, his Lordship moved the following resolution which was carried unanimously:—

"First, that this Grand Lodge has seen with great regret the recent encyclical letter in which the charge of atheism, sedition and vice are made against Masonry in general without discriminacion or qualification; and, secondly, that this Grand Lodge, whilst it does not deny that meetings for political and seditious purposes have in some countries been held under the pretence of their being Masonic Lodges, can only express its astonishment and regret that English Freemasonry should by some strange misapprehension of facts be included in this sweeping charge, which the law practices, and traditions of the Order, as well as the position of its rulers, clearly prove to be utterly without foundation."

ANOTHER SCANDALOUS TRANSACTION.

An Ottawa despatch says:—Mr. Charles McCarthy, an efficient engineer of the Public Works Department, has been superannuated to make way for Mr, Pennington Macpherson, Sir John Macdonald's nephew. The latter was unable to pass the necessary examination to entitle him to promotion in the Finance Department, but that difficulty has been overcome by transferring him to the Public Works Department, his salary being at the same time increased from $1,200 to $1,800 per annum. This is the same hopeful nephew of the Premier who obtained eight months' leave of absence last year so that he might attend a military course of instruction without losing pay. Superannuation of a vigorous and capable officer like Mr. McCarthy to make a place for such a man is a gross outrage. Sir John Macdonald's love for the Irish Catholics does not stand in the way of his removing an official of that nationality and persuasion to make a position for his nephew.

THE FEDERAL BANK.

Montreal, July 2.—A good deal of interest is still being taken in the affairs of the Federal bank. The irresolution displayed by the board of directors in the numerous and rapid changes made in the personnel of the management of the bank are commented upon severely, the general opin being that the members of the board had lost their heads. Mr. Ingram states so far as he knew the arrangements made by him for a securing assistance from other banks would be carried out. It is reported that there has been some difficulty in effecting settlements to-day with the branch of the Federal bank. It is understood that some of the strongest banks are not accepting checks upon the Federal but are accepting notes. It is reported that Mr. Yarker, the new general manager has demanded and obtained an advance in his salary for the fourth and fifth years of the term of his management, namely, $30,000. Mr. Ingram has, it is believed, secured full emoluments of one year's general managership at $12,000 although relieved of the unenviable duties of that office.

A despatch from Kingston says:—The Trotting Association has decided to withdraw from the circuit. This week's races were anything but a success, and those who furnished purses are heavy losers. In future meetings here will be held under the auspices of the Kingston Association.

A team of the Toronto Lacrosse Club will go to New York where they will be the special guest of Mr. Wiman, who pays all expenses. The proceeds of the matches will go to the pedestal fund of the Bartholdi statute after the payment of the deficiency in the expenses of the American team just now returning from Great Britain.

Walter Fanning's Chestnut gelding won the free-for-all race at Warkworth Tuesday, Mallory's horse second and Dr. Richardson's brown gelding third. Hines bay gelding captured the purse in the running race, and the honors in the named race fell to Mallory's horse. Huyck's colt won the green trot. There were about sixteen hundred people present.

At the Campbellford races on Dominion Day there were three entries in the first event—Gillispie's Oyster Girl, Morton's colt and Platt's black horse. The race was won in the order named. There were eight entries in the running race and six responded to the call. Blute's colt was selling at $20 to $5 against the field but failed to get a place in the race. The match running race between Blute's and Drennan's horses did not take place on account of the track being too rough.

A YOUNG WOMAN'S SUICIDE.

TAKING A DOSE OF STRYCHNINE SHE PREPARED FOR HER STEPMOTHER.

Ella Thompson, aged 17, committed suicide on the outskirts of Scranton, the other day by taking a grain and a half of strychnine. Her father keeps a drug store, and Miss Thompson, who appeared to be in high spirits, prepared the dose deliberately and then said to the clerk:

"Do you dare me to take it? Here goes. One, two, three," and then she swallowed it.

The clerk, thinking she was only in fun, paid no further heed to the matter. Two hours afterward she said:

"Good-bye. I am going up stairs to die.' and then tripped out the room.

Her movements attracted the attracted the attention of her stepmother and another woman. When they entered the room they found the girl in great pain. Looking at her stepmother the the sufferer said:

"I have taken a dose of poison which I prepared for you. Get me a drink of water."

A physician was promptly summoned and administered antidotes, but Miss Thympson died at 4 p.m., in great agony.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasent, sure, and effectual.

SHE WOULDN'T.

HE THEREFORE PUT A PLACARD TO THAT EFFECT IN THE FRONT WINDOW.

New York, July 3.—A sheet of white paper fluttered yesterday afternoon on a pair of drab trousers hanging in the first story window of a new house in a uniform row of houses at 88 Suydam street, Brooklyn. Printed in bold black letters across the paper was this notice:

Laziness.—A woman who won't sew her husband's pants, but goes gossipping among her neighbors.

Some small boys while on their way to school discovered the paper, and soon there was a dense crowd in front of the house. The crowd was pressing a baby into fearful distress, when ponderous Policeman Snyder of the Ninth sub-precinct arrived. He dispersed the crowd with his club, and about the same two hands were seen gathering in the pants through the parlor window.

Col. Richard Behman's trousers and his wife have been the topic of conversation in Brooklyn, E. D. ever since.

She says she won't mend his trousers till he gives her some money.

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in th market. Many more could be given but this shouldbe sufficent. For sale by all Druggists.

A QUACK'S CRIME.

Pretending to Cure, Kills a Little Child.

George Hall a quack residing near London, Ont., is charged with manslaughter. The evidence as brought out before the coroner's jury goes to show that a fireman named Bredin, on the Great Western Division of the Grand Trunk had a four-year old child who though bright and intelligent was deaf and dumb. Not long ago the parents hearing of Hall's reputed wonderful skill applied to him to cure this child. The nature of the case was explained to the quack, and he guaranteed to cure the child of his deafness, and was confident that by splitting his tongue and other operations he would restore his speech. The parents entrusted him with full power to cure the boy if he could. Mrs. Bredin called upon him and he agreed to perform the operation on the child Thursday afternoon. Having procured all the appliances and concoctions which he deemed sufficient to restore the speech and hearing of the unfortunate child, it was called in from the street and resigned himself to the tender mercies of the quack, who decided to treat the deafness first. The mode of treatment consisted in injecting some colored substance at the back of the child's ears by means of a syringe. The same treatment was applied to the back of the neck, and both parts were covered with cloth. This was continued at intervals although the child had in the meanwhile relapsed into a comatose state, finally going off into spasms. The quack then left with the assurance that these were symptoms indicative of the success of his treatment, promising to call on Saturday. He returned however the same evening and refused to allow a doctor to see the child who succumbed to the quack's doctoring about one o'clock in the morning. Hall was arrested on the charge of manslaughter.

A LOVER'S SUICIDE.

SHOT HIMSELF AFTER HIS SWEETHEART RETURNED THE RING.

Baltimore, July 3.—Walter Terrel, aged 21 years, living at 391 Lanvale street shot himself in the head at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. The cause of the rash act is attributed to a love affair with Miss Ada Dowd, an attractive young woman living on McElderry street whom it is said young Terrell was engaged to marry. On Saturday Terrell went out yatchting with several friends. On his returned to the city he was intoxicated and in that condition called upon his sweetheart. What occurred between them is not definitely know, but when Terrell returned to his home on Saturdao night he had in his possession the engagement ring and he appeared very despondent. Tuesday evening before he retired to his room he requested his mother to awaken him early yesterday morning, as he was going out of the city. About 5 o'clock the loud report of a pistol alarmed the household. The shot was followed by a groan and the falling of a body to the floor. George W. Terrell, father of the young man, hurried to his room and was horrified to find his son lying on the floor, his life blood slowly oozing from a wound in the right temple, and a large revolver in his right hand. Physicians were summoned, who pronounced the wound a fatal one. The following note with the returned engagement ring and a lock of Miss Dowd's hair beside it, was found on Terrell's dressing case.

Dear Mother,—I bid you and all my friends and enemies good-by. I ask your forgiveness for this terrible act, but God knows I could not help it. I love Ada honestly and devotedly, but she has seen fit to request me to discontinue visiting her. It is all my own fault, so do not blame her. Accompanying this note is our engagement ring and a lock of her hair. I want them buried with me. God bless you all. Once more, good-by. Your unhappy son.

Walter.

Terrell has been travelling salesman for two years for Edward Brady, book publisher of this city. He was well and favorably known, and was prominent in society here.

Mr. Alex. Robinson, of Exeter, in writing about one of the most popular articles, and one that has done more good to the afflicted than any other medicine has during the short time it has been in existence, says: "I have used four bottles of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, and have been cured of Dyspepsia that troubled me for over ten years. Part of that time I had it very bad, and was at considerable expense trying to get relief; but this excellent remedy was the first and only relief I received."

CONCEALING A WILL.

Chicago, July 3.—Suit has been brought by Mrs. Annie Fanning against the Right Rev. Patrick Terry, pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church of this city. The complainant alleges that her uncle, Michael Lanning, died 20 years ago, leaving a will bequeathing a portion of his estate to her; that Father Terry has concealed this will ever since, and that the estate went to her uncle heirs at law. She says that Father Terry recently told her of the bequest. Father Terry says that when Lanning was very ill 38 years ago, he attended the sick man, that there was a will then; that Lanning recovered and lived 13 years; that he (Father Terry) went elsewhere, and does not know whether a will existed at the time of Lanning's death or not.

A Note of Warning to Suffering Humanity.

We feel that we would be wanting in the duty we owe to humanity if we did not sound a note of warning in regard to the use of Mercury and poisonous minerals in the treatment of blood and skin diseases. If the reader could see the horrible suffering, the awful wrecks of human health and happiness, shown by our correspondence with those who have been dosed with these mineral poisons, he would shudder with horror. Arsenic, Mercury, Antimony, and Iodide of Potassium, are some of the remedies ordinarily used for these diseases, and they are all POISON. Do not take these poisons. They might dry up your disease for a few days but it will surely return, and with it Mercurial Rheumatism which may bring you years of torture. Shaker Blood Syrup will invigorate you and build you up, and force all the poison out through the pores of your skin, and cure you sound and well.

SHAKER BLOOD SYRUP

cures completely Scrofula, Syphilis, Rheumatism Cancer, Catarrh, and Skin and Blood diseases of every description. Sold everywhere $1.00 a bottle, or six for $5,00.

In no other medicinal preparation have the results of the most intelligent study and scientific inquiry been so steadily and progressively utilized as in Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It leads the list as truly scientific preparation for all blood diseases.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY

is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co's. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

BIDDING HIM FAREWELL.

Address Presented to Rev. Wm. Stacy by His Congregation.

Last evening a strawberry festival was held in the Congregational Church when the members and friends assembled to take leave of their pastor. After partaking of refreshments the chair was taken by Mr. Robert Richardson, who presented the pastor with the following address accompanied by a purse of $50.

DEAR SIR:—It is with feelings of the deepest regret that we now assemble to bid adieu to you as pastor of this church and to you and your wife as kind, loving and faithful friends. You have labored amongst us with untiring zeal and patience and the ties that knit us together can never be broken. We pray that God may grant you health and strength through many years to proclaim the everlasting gospel and in your appreciation of your good works in this city as well as in the church we beg your acceptance of the accompanying purse of $50. Praying always that God's richest blessing may rest upon and remain with you and yours for ever and at last may we all meet in Heaven where parting will be no more, and there share together the eternal joys of everlasting happiness.

Signed on behalf of the congregation and many other friends

CHEESE MARKET.

WOODSTOCK, July 3.—At the cheese market yesterday twelve factories registered 2,816 boxes of cheese, the last half of June make. Sales—250 boxes at 9c; 300 at 9 3-16c; 725 at 9½c; and 695 at 9 5 16c; total sales, 1,960 boxes.

Disease Gathers Strength as it advances. Annihilate it at its birth. When the bowels become sluggish, digestion feeble, or the liver torpid, they should be aroused and stimulated with Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, a medicine foremost in usefulness among alteratives. It should not be abandoned if an immediate cure is not effected, but be used as it deserves systematically and with persistence. It will then prove that it is thorough.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

Cherry Pie.—Use a very deep pie plate and make your undercrust extra thin; to one quart of cherries (stoned) add one cup of sugar; cut two or three gashes in your top crust to allow the steam vent.

Cologne Water.—To make cologne water try this rule: To one quart of alcohol allow three drachms each of oil of lavender, one drachm of rosemary, three drachms each of oil of bergamot and essence of lemon, and three drops of the oil of cinnamon.

String Bean Salad.—String beans when young and tender make a good salad. Cut them in small pieces, boil in salted water until they are tender, drain them well and mix with them some onions chopped fine, and pour over them a mayonnaise dressing. The onions may be left out if you prefer to do so.

Strawberry Preserves.—To make strawberry preserves put two pounds of sugar and a half pint of boiling water into a porcelain kettle. After the sugar is dissolved and is almost reached the boiling point, put the fruit in, let it boil until the fruit looks clear; have the cans standing in a pan of hot water on the back part of the range or stove; skim the berries out, draining the juice from them as much as possible: then boil the juice until it is thick and pour it over the fruit in the cans. If these have been kept in the pan of hot water they will be ready for the hot syrup, and the can may be closed at once.

Canned Rheubarb.—A correspondent says she has canned rheubarb with good results, by baking it instead of boiling it; she cut the stalks in pieces about an inch long, put in earthen pudding dishes, or on pie plates, scattered sugar over it abundantly and baked; then she put her cans into a pan of hot water and put it on the stove, and when the rheubarb was tender put it and the syrup formed by the juice and the sugar in also, and when the can was full sealed it up. She says that the juice thus formed is much richer and that it takes less sugar to sweeten it than is required in the boiling process.

MR. G. A. SWAYZIE AND ALBERT COLLEGE.

This gentleman, who has occupied the position of Writing Master in the High and Public Schools of Belleville for more than seven years, is about to resign, having accepted the position of Prof. of Commercial Science and Penmanship and Head Master of the Commercial Department of Albert College.

Prof. Swayze began his career as a public school teacher in the western part of this Province in 1862. He was trained in the Toronto Normal School and holds a Provincial Normal School 2nd class certificate. After teaching in the public schools for several years he turned his attention especially to writing and commercial subjects generally, making these a specialty. Having taken a course in the London Commercial College (then in a very flourishing condition) he became manager and joint proprietor of that Institution, which position he held for three years. In the autumn of 1876 he came to Belleville and for six months taught penmanship, book-keeping, arithmetic, &c in Beatty's Commercial College. In April, 1877, he was appointed by the Board of Education to the position he has since held and filled with great satisfaction to all concerned. Prof. Swayze is also an accountant by actual experience having for some time kept the books and conducted corresponbence of an extensive manufacturing establishment. During the past year, in addition to his duties as writing teacher in the public schools, he has taught the business writing in Albert College and the special penmanship department of the Ontario Business College—thus demonstrating his capacity for a vast amount of work. Prof. S. purposes spending a portion of his vacation in visiting several of the leading Commercial Colleges of the United States, and in every way possible will endeavor to improve the course and method of study in his department so as to place it on a par with the best Business Colleges of the continent.

It may be truthfully said that Professor Swayze is excelled by no man in the country as a penman and teacher of penmanship. His penmanship is a marvel of beauty, and symmetry. He is about to issue a series of copy books with movable headlines, the copies of which are already engraved. This series will embody several features not found in any other series, being the fruit of his long experience in teaching this important branch of education. He has also in contemplation the publication of a text book on business writing which will appear at no distant day. On the whole, Albert College is to be congratulated on securing the services of so accomplished a teacher and head of the Commercial Department, which from this time is expected to take higher rank than ever.

A JUDGE LOSES HIS COURT ROOM.

London Times.

Yesterday, while a case was being tried before Mr. Justice A. L. Smith and a common jury, the court adjourned at about half past one for lunch. At two o'clock the jurors and counsel had re-assembled, when, to their astonishment, Mr. Justice Stephen, whose court had also adjourned for lunch, entered the court, took his seat on the bench, and was apparently about to resume the trial of an action which had been begun Mr. Justice A. L. Smith. Mr. McIntyre, Q. C., evidently somewhat embarrassed at having to open the case for a defendant before a judge who had not heard the case for the plaintiff, ventured to ask whether, amid the intricacies of the new building, his Lordship had not lost his way and come into the wrong court. It appeared that this was so, and Mr. Justice retired amid some amusement.

Holloway's Pills.—Invalids distracted by indigestion and discouraged in their search for a remedy should make a trial of this never-failing medicine. A lady long a martyr to dyspeptic tortures, writes that Holloway's Pills made her feel as if a burden had been taken off her. Her spirits formerly low, have greatly improved; her capricious appetite has given place to that of healthy hunger; her dull, sick headache has departed, and gradually so marvellous a change has been effected that she is altogether a new creature, and again fit for her duties. These pills may be administered with safety to the most delicate. They never act harshly, nor do they ever induce weakness; they rightly direct deranged, and control excessive action.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally and the Ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceeding efficacious. When influenza is epidemic this treatment is the easiest, safest, and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free, without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of saving suffering when any one is afflicted with cold, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints by which so many persons are seriously and permanently afflicted in most countries.

AFTER USING.

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "22 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 28, 1882. "Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect

has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly, W. M. Phillips."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the Sarsaparilla in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1882. Yours gratefully, Hiram Phillips."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blotches, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

LOVE'S LOTTERY
OR,
THE RIVAL SISTERS.

Returning that evening from Portland place, depressed by the projected journey of his beloved, yet already forming in his mind a plan by which they should not be separated, Eustace Belmore found the letter awaiting him at his appartments.

The contents puzzled him.

What could it mean?

Whatever could be the danger at which it hinted, and who could be the anonymous writer?

Each question was equally difficult to answer.

Some people boast that they pay no heed to such nameless communications; it is not so easy a matter.

In vain he studied the writing.

To his knowledge he had never seen it before, while the wording declared the sender to be no person of education.

Drawing the lamp nearer he read the missive a second time, with no better result.

'Pshaw! it's a hoax!' he exclaimed tossing it from him. 'Yet'—and his fingers again recovered it—'what can this refer to? 'Another he holds dearer.' Mean? Good Heaven! can it point to Pauline?' he cried, with sudden interest. 'Is danger threatening her?'

In an instant his manner totally changed.

His indifference was gone and he perused the letter again and again, hoping to find a clue to the mystery.

'Danger from an unexpected quarter,' he repeated,

Danger before which he is powerless, because he is ignorant of its existence.

Why, he could not tell, but as he read there arose in his mind the remembrance of Stuart Loring.

'What is coming to us all?' he ejaculated pressing his hand to his forehead. 'Everything lately seems imbued with mystery, That man—this letter—how can I solve these riddles? Respecting the last there is but one way. To go to the appointment made. Still, suppose it should be a hoax, it is no agreeable thing to be made a laughing stock. I wonder who lives at No. —, Seneca Street, Chelsea. I know the locality is not of the best repute. What is the hour now? Not yet twelve. I see what I'll do. I'll go down to the club, Jack Frobbisher is most likely to be there. He knows every place and everybody. He'll be the man to tell me.'

Having sent his valet for a hansom, Eustace Belmore drove to Pall Mall, and found Jack Frobbisher.

'Jack, a word with you.'

'A dozen if you like. What is it, old fellow?'

'Can you tell me who lives at No. —, Seneca Road, Chelsea?'

Can I? I should rather think I could. Why one o' the prettiest opera-bouffe actresses, and also one who surpasses most of them in singing delightfully out of tune. That's saying much.'

'An actress!'

'Yes. Nellie Montmorency. Why, man, how you look! What's up?'

'That!'

And Eustace Belmore placed Nellie's letter in the other's hand.

Jack Frobbisher burst into a loud, amused laugh.

'I see,' he exclaimed.

'See what?' asked Eustace, rather petulantly,

'Why, she wants you to make one in her charmed circle, and this is the ruse she has adopted to gain her end. It's like Nellie.'

'Do you think so?'

'Most decidedly. If you are unaware of any other reason to the contrary, what danger in Heaven's name, could she know of as threatening you?'

'None.'

'Well, do you suspect any danger yourself?'

'None. No man less likely than I, I imagine, to be so threatened.'

'Then depend upon it I am right. It's a ruse of the little minx's. Perhaps she has seen you in the park. If you go, there are lots who will envy you, for I understand she gives excellent suppers.'

'Thank you. But I shall not go,' laughed Eustace.

'I feel you have rightly explained the letter, and hold myself indepted for the service, Jack. Good night.

Eustace Belmore remained of that opinion for some hours; but tossing sleepless on his bed. the fear seized him lest there should really, after all, be more truth in the letter than he deemed, and that by any neglect upon his own part, peril and suffering might come to Pauline.

That and the wakeful night flung Jack Frobbisher's reasoning to the winds, and when Eustace Belmore arose he had fully resolved to keep the appointment.

'If it be a ruse what matter?' he reflected. 'No man minds being thus duped by a pretty woman, while, should I find it so, I can assure Miss Nellie Montmorency she will not be favored with another visit.'

Upon that, dressing, it must be owned, with unusual pains, taking a cab, instead of using his own horse, he proceeded to Seneca Street, Chelsea.

With a palpitating heart, and anxious frame of mind, the actress awaited him.

Never had she striven to render herself more bewitching.

Every [illegible] who walks the streets of a great city, and scans with an intelligent eye the colorless faces of more than fifty per cent of the people he meets, can easily agree with us in the statement, that this age, which makes such dwarfs upon the working energies [illegible] the greater part of men in the intense pursuit of business, has destroyed in a proportionate degree the animal health and robust condition. IMPORTANT TO RUPTURED PERSONS

The Excelsior Rupture Treatment was introduced to the American people several years ago in such a manner as to completely secure the confidence of the whole nation. The mode of introduction was by furnishing the remedy to those afflicted with Hernia in any of its various forms and collecting no pay until a permanent cure was effected. In this way the treatment gained world wide reputation on its own merits, never failing to cure any reducible Hernia. The Company has at the solicitation of thousands placed the remedy on sale by all druggists both wholesale and retail, in the United States, Canada and England. In this way bringing it within the reach of all classes at a trifling cost compared with the benefit which are derived from the use of the treatment. Ask your druggist for a free book on rupture or send 6 cts. for one to the Excelsior Rupture Cure M'f'g Co., Ogdensburg, N. Y.

SCIENCE.

To increase the weight of the body invigorate the system, revitalize the exhausted and depressed, is the true object sought by medical science. The digestive organs must be in a healthy condition if we wish to secure this desired result, and no remedy yet discovered has ever proved so effectual in accomplishing this as FLAX-SEED EMULSION COMP. It contains Phosphorus to build up the nervous system and all the fat producing properties of Flax-seed to enrich the blood and supply the animal economy with the elements for reconstruction.

Use the Imperial Kidney and Liver Cure—price 50c.

The above remedies are sold in Belleville by James Clarke & Co. and R. Carmichael druggists.

ROBLIN HOUSE,

Late Douglas House.

As the late proprietor of the Douglas House has removed to other premises and called it the New Douglas House, I beg to notify the public that I have reopened the Douglas House myself, under the name of the "ROBLIN HOUSE." As the house has always had the name of a First-Class Hotel, I shall spare no pains to make it as popular as it ever was. The above is pleasantly situated in the central part of the city, and is a very desirable place for Families and the Public generally. It has been thoroughly renovated and furnished with new furniture. A cordial invitation is given to all old patrons of the Douglas House, and all new ones who will favor me with a call.

Vital Questions!

Ask the most eminent physician
Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?
And they will tell you unhesitatingly
"Some form of Hops! ! !"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians:
"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, debetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—
"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu! !"
Ask the same physicians
"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.," and they will tell you:
Mandrake! or Dandelion !"
Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable.
And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is
Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

CHAPTER II

"Patients
'Almost dead or nearly dying"

For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.
Women have gone nearly crazy ! ! ! !
From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.
People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic, or suffering from scrofula.
Erysipelas!
"Saltrheum, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact, almost all diseases frail"
Nature is heir to
Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.

None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile poisonous stuff with 'Hop' or 'Hops' in their name.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY

is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co's. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the error and indiscretion of youth, nervous weakness, early decay loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt, that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN Station D, New York City. d&w

ON THIRTY DAYS' TRIAL.

The VOLTAIC BELT Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous de. ty, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above,—N B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty day's trial is allowed.

"Twenty-four years experience," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weaknesse of the Generative organs is to repair the wast by giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box. 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas. Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure See adv't in another column

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "28 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 28, 1882.
"Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.
Yours truly, W. M. PHILLIPS."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the SARSAPARILLA in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1882.
Yours gratefully,
HIRAM PHILLIPS."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blotches, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

A GRAND OLD POEM.

Who shall judge a man from manners?
Who shall know him by his dress?
Paupers may be fit for princes,
Princes fit for something less;
Crumpled shirt and dirty jacket,
May beclothe the golden ore
Of the deepest thought and feeling—
Satin vests could do no more.
There are springs of crystal nectar
Ever welling out of stone;
There are purple buds and golden,
Hidden, crushed and overgrown.
God, who came by souls, not dresses
Loves and prospers you and me,
While he values thrones the highest
But as pebbles in the sea.

Man, upraised above his fellows,
Oft forgets his fellows then;
Masters, rulers, lords, remember
That your meanest hinds are men:
Men by honor, men by feeling,
Men by thought and men by fame,
Claiming equal rights to sunshine.
In a man's ennobling name.
There are foam embroidered oceans,
There are little weed-clad rills;
There are feeble inch-high saplings,
There are cedars on the hills,
God, who counts by souls not stations,
Loves and prospers you and men;
For to him all famed distinctions
Are as pebbles in the sea.

Toiling hands alone are builders
Of a nation's wealth or fame;
Titled laziness is pensioned,
Fed and fattened on the same;
By the sweat of others foreheads,
Living only to rejoice;
When the poor man's outraged freedom
Vainly lifteth up its voice.
Truth and justice are eternal,
Born with loveliness and light;
Secret wrongs shall never prosper
While there is a sunny right;
God, whose world-heard voice is singing
Boundless love to you and me,
Sinks oppression with its titles,
As the pebbles in the sea.

A BALL AT THE QUIRINAL.

COSTUMES AND SURROUNDINGS AT THE PALACE IN ROME—REAL CHAMPAGNE—A QUEEN'S TACT.

A letter from Rome, to the New York Herald, says 'The ball at the Quirinal, which had been postponed on account of the death of the Princess of Saxony, came off last night and was a magnificent success. The place was superbly decorated and flooded with light, Two thousand guests responded to the invitation issued by the prefect of the palace and the lady in waiting in the names of the King and Queen. The guests went away delighted with the kindly warmth and hospitality of their reception. Carriages began to roll into the Quirinal court yard as early as 9:30. At 10 precisely the stirring strains of the 'Royal March' were heard in the ball-room, heralding the arrival of King Humbert, Queen Margaret and the nobles and ladies of the royal household. The Queen, as usual, looked radiant as she entered, smiling and bowing graciously to her guests, and took her place in the quadrille of honor with Baron von Kendell, the German Ambassador, facing Mlle. Minghetti and d'Uxhull. She wore a simple but costly dress of white moire, ending in a long train and very decollete, which gave the Herald correspondent, who was standing just behind her, an opportunity of once more admiring her lovely neck and shoulders. Round her throat she had a neck-lace formed by eight rows of flawless pearls. A triple chain of emeralds and brilliants glittered in her corsage. Two Diamond butterflies did duty as shoulder knots, and he shapely head was crowded by a diadem of pearls and diamonds given her at Christmas by King Humbert. Between the dances the Queen, attended by the Princess di Triggiano, Countess di Santa Flora, and Marchesa di Villamarina, three belles of the Italian Court, glided from room to room, chatting unaffectedly with the guests and singling out the most retiring for marks of special favor. Princess Triggiano, an American, like many ornaments of the court, hardly less dazzling than the Queen, wore a white dress decollete, diamond necklace and a diamond tara. Another American lady of more mature age and no figure worth speaking of attracted both envy and admiration by the beauty of her pale pink dress, almost covered with seed pearls. The Marchesa Villamarina and Countess Santa Flora wore rich brocades and had enough diamonds in their hair to keep six German princelings in comfort for a lifetime. Among other costumes which deserve mention were those of Mme. Pierantoni Mancini, red satin and tissu d'acier; Mme. Cairoli, faded blue satin, a la Watteau, decollete trimmed round the throat with blue ostrich feathers, and Princess Stora-Cesarini—a marvel—striped white satin and velvet, cut very low, triminating in a long train. The whole surmounted by a diamond diadem. The dancing was kept up under difficulties to the music of a capital band until 1:30, when the King and Queen withdrew.

FLUID LIGHTNING.

WIFE—What's the matter now John.
HUSBAND—Oh, that neuralgea and toothache pear kil me.
WIFE—Why don't you go to A. L. Geen's Wholesale and Retail Drug Store and get a and get a bottle of Fluid Lightning, you know it cures all such things as tooth ache, neuralgea, headache, lumbago, earache, sore throat etc. It gives instant relief.

It removes wrinkles and softens the skin. The regular use of MURRAY & LANMAN'S FLORIDA WATER at the toilet tends to prevent and remove wrinkles, the softness of the skin produced by its taking away the natural inclination of the cuticle to form into ridges and furrows.

DAIRY DOINGS.

The whey or buttermilk should be utilized before an excess of acid has consumed the better portion of it, as it invariably does when stored in large quantities.

Nothing should be given a milch cow that, so far as quality is concerned, we would not be willing to eat and drink ourselves. Pastures should be free from weeds, brush ann rank grasses, also from bitter herbs and low growing decidous and evergreen trees.

Every housewife should have a jar exclusively set apart in which to keep cream. It should not be allowed to remain any length of time in a jar which has previously contained vinegar, apple butter, pickles, etc., unless it has undergone a thorough washing and airing.

The proper way to do where cream that has been skimmed at different times is to be churned, is to thoroughly mix it by stirring several times during twelve hours keeping it in a temperature of sixty degrees and it should not stand longer than that if the temperature is lower and less if temperature is higher.

The great flow of milk of cows is truly artificial. In a state of nature the cow gives only the necessary quantity, and gives it only the necessary time to sustain the calf. The greater and longer yield of milk is the result of better feeding, better treatment, and longer manipulation of the teats. Hence to increase the yield of milk feed and milk well.

POTASH.

Iodide of Potassum is one of the strongest of the minerals used in medicine, and has produced much suffering in the world. Taken for a long time in large doses, it dries up the gastric juices, impairs digestion, the stomach refuses food, and the patient declines in health and weight. Persons with Blood or Skin Diseases should be careful how they take those mineral poisons, as in most instances the effect of them is to almost permantly impair the constitution. To take the place of these poisons we offer you a safe, sure' prompt, and permanent relief from your troubles Shaker Blood Syrup is entirely a vegetable preparation, and easy to convince you of its merit.

I have cured permanently Blood Taint in the third generation by the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, after I had most signally failed with Mercury and Potash. Dr. Smith, Bangor, Pa.

A young man requests me to thank you for his cure of Blood Poison by the use of your Specific after all other treatment had failed.
J. E Kenngdy, Druggist, Cobourg, Ont.

For years I was afflicted with Dry Tetter of the most obstinate type. Was treated by many of the best physicians; took quantities of mercury, potash, and arsenic, which, instead of curing the Tetter crippled me up with mineral poison and rheumatism. The tetter continued to grow worse, and the itching almost made me crazy. In this condition I was induced to take Shaker Blood Syrup, and the result was as astonishing as Gratifying. In a few months the Tetter was entirely well, the Mercurial Poisoning all out of my system, and I was a well man—and due only to Shaker Blood Syrup. All like sufferers should take it.
C. H. Sargeant, Haverhill, Mass.

CALISAYA, THE PERUVIAN or Jesuits' Bark, is the best bitter tonic we have in all febtile conditions, and in neuralgic and rheumatic pains, from weak digestion and assimulation, and, as combined in Dr. Wheelers' Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya, forms a permanent strengthing nutritive in all used up conditions of the various causes which lead to nerve prostration. This combination is made by a process peculiar to the inventor, and there is no substitute that will do its work.

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all Druggists.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Winslow's Soothing Syrup For Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrub for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists through out the world Price 25 cents a bottle.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER was amongst those present at Mrs. Gladstone's reception last month.

THE degree of M. A. was last month conferred upon the Marquis of Lansdowne, at Oxford.

THERE is every prospect of the trip of an English team of artillerymen to Canada this year being satisfactorily arranged.

DR. BARNARDO is to come to Canada this autumn, with the view of extending the facilities for bringing to Canada suitable children from his well-known homes.

IT IS understood that the Dominion Government have decided to continue for another year to pay the bonus of $10 upon all actual settlers in British Columbia.

EMERSON has reduced her assessment from $2,209,000 to $600,000, and even if a tax of two cents on the dollar were levied, the revenue would be barely sufficient to pay the cost of civic machinery without speaking of the city's debts.

SECTIONAL domination must be put down, says the N. Y. Sun and adds:—It is better for the country—the people of the whole Union—to decide this question now at the ballot box peacefully than later with rifles in their hands.

AN ACT of the Legislature of New York State declares that any person in the shape of porter, carrier, baggage master, expressman, or employe who shall hereafter recklessly injure or destroy any trunk, box, valise, bag, package, or parcel, intrusted to his care or handling, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall pay a fine not exceeding $50, and if he has no money or effects to pay the fine, the railroad or other corporation which employs him shall be held responsible.

A WRITER in the Chicago Sanitary News describes the "Moorish room" in Mr. J. H. Jewett's house of that city. It is very luxurious, with its geometrical ceiling, broad divans, and Oriental carpets. The wall space on one side is filled by a genuine Cairo lattice window brought here after a service of 200 years in the picturesque Egyptian city. The latticed panels swing outward, and its spindles, circles, and squares are as perfect as they were two centuries ago. The cedar wood is dark with age, but still retains its delicate spicy fragrance.

THERE ARE five States which are preeminently doubtful as regards the Presidental election of next November. They are New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Indiana, and California. New York casts 36 electoral votes, Connecticut 6, New Jersey 9, Indiana 15, and California 8. As in addition to those States which are certain to vote for the Democratic candidate, 48 electoral votes are required to give the Democrats the majority and elect the Democratic candidate for President, it follows that the Democracy must carry New York and Indiana, or New York and two of the other doubtful States, in order to win.

CONTEMPORARY COMMENT.

A CRYING WANT.

Canada wants women.—Ottawa Free Press.

THE PEOPLE PAY FOR IT.

George Stephen's grand palace on Montreal Mountain cost $1,000,000. Mr. Stephen is fond of it; so is Montreal; so are the Montreal newspapers. It has been described in glowing phrases and with great amplitude of detail by yellow plush writers in Montreal and Toronto journals, and all Canada has been called upon to admire it. And why not? For is it not a national enterprise? It is built on the scale of the Pacific Railway, and out of the same resources. The people pay for it. Their representatives in Parliament voted the supplies. Twenty-five million acres of public lands and $25,000,000 in cash were voted in a round lump and drawn upon according as progress reports were made on the palace and the railway. But 25,000,000 acres and $25,000,000 were found to be inadequate or the carrying out of two such gigantic enterprises, and so Parliament has generously voted $30,000,000 more. Whether this will prove to be enough for the completion of the works, time alone can tell.—London Advertiser.

NORTH WEST NOTES.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

BRANDON, July 1.—Grain is looking well here now and farmers feel happy. Barley and wheat are in head.

Farmers are looking for a good price for wheat this fall, millers claiming that there will be a want of grain long before fall.

Times seem to be pretty dull here just now. There can be little doubt but all of the cities and towns have lived a little too high, in fact they are a year or two older than they should be. Real estate sales are slow, still there are some splendid chances to buy for men of means. Those men who bought land to speculate in are now anxious to sell. They have not made the improvements required of them, and have only one year or so more to, or they lose their land. Not much sympathy can be expressed for them.

James Cullan, Pool's Island, N. F., writes: I have been watching the progress of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil since its introduction to this place and with much pleasure state that my anticipations of its success have been fully realized, it having cured me of bronchitis and soreness of nose; while not a few of my rheumatic neighbors, (one old lady in particular) pronounce it to be the best article of its kind that has ever been brought before the public. Your medicine does not require any longer a sponser, but if you wish me to act as such, I shall be only too happy to have my name connected with your prosperous child.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Tasse, of La Minerve, was fully committed by the Police Magistrate to stand his trial at the Court of Queen's Bench for criminal libel against the Hon. Mr. Mercier.

THE FEDERAL BANK.

TORONTO, July 4.—The Federal Bank question is at last settled to every one's satisfaction except the bears. It is expected that a couple of brokers' firms will go up to-day, owing to inability to put up their margins. On the Toronto Stock Exchange business appears to be on a better footing, and the market generally is stronger. Mr. Yarker the new manager announces that he will at once enter on a policy of retrenchment; and with the object in view he will make immediate arrangements for the sale of at least three of the country branches, from which it is expected that half a million dollars will be at once realized.

A NICE YOUNG MAN.

LONDON, July 5.—A young employer of a prominent merchant has been dismissed for stealing from the till. His salary was $10 a month. In his drawer were found among other things a bundle of love letters, showing that he was engaged to marry seven girls—two in Victoria, Ont., three in Pontiac, Mich., and two in London South. The letters showed that he had given jewellery to the girls, and to one he had promised money with which she was to come and meet him. The manager has corresponded with the girls, offering to return their letters if they returned him the jewellery. So far he has received in response three rings, a watch, and the promise of more to follow.

A DARING ACT.

A most driang case of housebreaking occurred in Toronto on Wednesday afternoon about 1 o'clock. Wanless, a jeweller on Young street, was standing at the door of his store watching the procession when two strangers came up to him and entered into conversation. Meanwhile a confederate had entered the store by a window at the rear and Wanless' attention was directed to him by hearing his safe door click. He made for him when the two strangers stepped in, bolting the door and knocked Wanless unconscious with a blow from a horse pistol. All three then hurriedly left, carrying off several articles of jewellery.

MR. SCHUSTER'S GOOD FORTUNE.

By a Singular will he Obtains Seven Hundred and Fifty Dollars.

In February 1883, Mr. W. N. Ponton chanced to notice in a Toronto paper an advertisement for claimants under the will of Thomas Hannay late of the county of Gray, deceased, and formerly of the United States, who, it appeared, had bequeathed "one thousand dollars to the pious poor converted Jews that meet together for the reading of the scriptures for their instruction and mental edification." Mr. Ponton called the attention of Rev. Anselm Schuster to this notice, and he determined to claim a share of this legacy. Fortified by the fact that Mr. Schuster is the representative here of the British Society for the propagation of the Gospel among the Jews, and strengthened by affidavits from some prominent citizens and from those who knew Mr. Schuster's labors among the German Jews on the Upper Ottawa, they have succeeded, after the usual involved processes of Chancery action, in securing for Mr. Schuster two thirds of the legacy mentioned, together with two years interest. There were in all five claimants but only one other, a New York Jewish Society, was admitted to participate. Mr. Schuster gets one third as representative of the British Society and one third for himself and his family, but he has plenipotentiary powers over the expenditure of all, and readers will no doubt agree that good fortune could not fall upon a worthier object than the City Missionary. Stimulated to new exertion he proposes to visit Montreal and Toronto almost immediately to systematize the Jewish Missions there, and his Industrial Home here will henceforth be especially open to the children of poor Jewish parents.

Personally, Mr. Ponton says, he does not believe in the efficacy of Missions to Jewish adults. There are few Christians who can throw a stone at an honest, conscientious Jew, but it is the neglected and forsaken whom Mr. Schuster aims at relieving and educating. The Testator's mind was evidently a peculiar one as is evidenced by another clause in his will which reads as follows:—Thirdly—As the time for the fulfilment of prophecy in the conversion of the Jews is now speedily approaching, I give for Jewish missions the sum of $1,000 to that church which is sound and evangelical in doctrine and pure in worship using in songs of praise the Inspired Book which can unite all nations, Jews and Gentiles, in all ages in singing with their voices together to the glory, honor and praise of God." Mr. Justice Proudfoot allotted this bequest to the trustees of the United Presbyterian church of North America of which deceased had formerly been a member.

Mr. Ponton suggests to the benevolent in Belleville that sufficient be raised here now to make Mr. Schuster's legacy an even thousand and thus let his adopted home share in the honor of the good results which will no doubt follow from the work of his now strengthened hands and spirit.

DEMANDING A NEW TRIAL.

Texas Siftings.

A verdict of murder had just been brought in.

'Your Honor,' said the prisoner's counsel rising and addressing the court, 'I demand a new trial.'

Part of that time I had it very bad, and was at considerable expense trying to get relief; but this excellent remedy was the first and only relief I received."

FIGHT FOR LIBERTY.

Desperate Conflict of a Detective with a Murderer.

A MARVELLOUS ESCAPE.

NEW YORK, July 3.—Miguel Chacon, the murderer of Maria Williams, the colored woman, at No. 128 West Twenty-eighthy street, was captured yesterday morning, and the attendant incidents were as soul-piercing as any ever embodied in the wildest creation of the romancist's brain. Immediately subsequent to the shooting Detective Price, of the Thirtieth Police Station, was assigned to the case, and, in company with a friend of Chacon, he made a thorough search of the Eighth Ward, and a number of saloons the Cuban was known to frequent were inspected. When the detective reached the house, No. 70 Spring street, occupied by a Cuban family—he sent his companion in to enquire if there were any tidings of Chacon, and while awaiting his return crossed crossed the street. The man came out of the house shortly and informed Price that the murderer had been there and had told his friends that he had shot a person, but he was ignorant how serious was the wound he inflicted, and he neglected to tell them whom he had shot. He stated on leaving the house, that he was going to his uncle's saloon on at No. 128 Bleecker street, and from there intended to go straight to the house of the murdered woman. Acting upon this clue, the detective proceeded to the house where the shooting took place, and on entering found lound lying on the table a PHOTOGRAPH OF THE MURDERER.

A thorough search of the apartments was made, but without resulting in anything of moment, and after making arrangements to have the house well watched, he started down town again to No. 70 Spring Street, having concluded that sooner or later the murderer would return there. He took up his position under the stoop of the next dwelling and waited fully three quarters of an hour before his vigil was rewarded. At last, in the neighborhood of 2.30, he heard the sound of rapid footsteps approaching, and a man appeared, gazing up and down the street, apparently on the lookout for danger. His face was partially concealed, but sufficient was seen by the aid of a near-by lamp to enable the detective to make him out a negro. The suspected person seemed satisfied that the coast was clear, and he hastened across the street to No. 70, rapidly ascending the steps, knocked very softly on a panel, and a moment later disappeared within the half opened door. The detective was now satisfied from the stranger's suspicions actions that he was the man for whom he was looking, and waking up a friend who opportunely resided near by he despatched him to the station-house for officers, who soon arrived upon the scene. He stationed his assistants in the front and rear of the house to prevent an escape, and, accompanied by an officer, he entered and mounted to the top floor, where lived the friends of the murderer. There he found a party of Cubans playing cards, but a vigilant search revealed no trace of his man, nor could he extract any information from the inmates of the room. The window, an old fashioned dormer one, was in the rear, and from it Price peered into

THE OUTER DARKNESS.

For a time he saw nothing, but at last his attention was attracted by a white object just behind the chimney, and perceiving that a fire-escape projected from under the window, leaving but a few feet between it and the roof he imagined that Chacon might possibly have made his escape in that way. Calling upon policeman O'Brien to follow, he stepped out and gained the gutter. The roof was peaked and high pitched and it was with difficulty that Price maintained his footing. The darkness was intense, and as the detective made his way upwards on his hands and knees he kept his eyes fixed upon the speck of white. At last he noticed that it moved and then paused. The detective still moved noiselessly upward and when within an arm's length his arm shot out, and with the grip of death he clutched Chacon, the sought for murderer. The hunted man was in his white underclothes, and the detective had grasped his foot. Unavailing struggles to release the captured member followed, but Price's grip was of iron. 'Come down quietly,' said he, 'there's do use in making trouble. You're wanted. I've got you, and I swear I'll hold you.' With the words the detective began a retrograde movement, still clutching the foot. At that instant his foot slipped, he rolled rapidly downward, and would have been dashed to instant death had he not been clutched by Policeman O'Brien, who caught him only in the nick of time. The prisoner was taken to the Twenty-ninth precinct stationhouse, and locked up in cell No. 12. In speaking of his thrilling escape, Detective Price said to our reporter: 'How did I feel? Why, I thought I was gone, sure. But I made up my mind if one of us went the other would follow. I held on to him like grim death to a nigger. He told me on the way to the station house that he bought the pistol on Saturday with the firm intention of killing the woman. I cautioned him not to say anything until he had seen his lawyer. He asked if the woman was dead, and when I told him 'yes' he relapsed into silence and would talk no more.'

In no other medicinal preparation have the results of the most intelligent study and scientific inquiry been so steadily and progressively utilized as in Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It leads the list as truly scientific preparation for all blood diseases.

No injurious effects can follow the use of Ayer's Ague Cure in the treatment of malarial diseases. It contains besides specific and unfailing antidote for miasmatic poison other remedical agents which unite to expel the poisonous humors, purify the system, and leave it in a healthy reinvigorated condition.

VISIT TO BELLEVILLE

Fifty Thousand Dollars will be Given Away.

THE SPIROMETER GIVEN FREE.

The Above Offer Holds Good for this Visit Only.

TO THE MEDICAL PROFESSION AND SUFFERERS FROM CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, WEAK LUNGS AND CONSUMPTION.

My motive is not one of money only, but for science and the good of suffering humanity.

To convince the public and prove to the sceptical that the Spirometer is the best instrument ever invented for the treatment of diseases of the air passages, and that it is all I have ever claimed for it, anyone suffering from the above named diseases who call at the Dafoe House, Monday or Tuesday, July the 14th or 15th, 1884, and consult the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, will be given a spirometer free the medicines alone to be paid for. I do this to show the confidence I have in the treatment, and to convince the medical profession and others who are still sceptical (notwithstanding the thousands of people who have been cured by it) that the Spirometer I have invented and the medicines and treatment prescribed by the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute are curing and will cure a larger percentage of these diseases than any other treatment in the world.

If impossible to call upon the surgeons during their visit to your city, write for International News and List of Questions.

A BALL OF FIRE.

Brilliant Meteoric Display Over the City.

THE NATURE OF METEORS DESCRIBED

Shortly before nine o'clock last night a ball of fire appeared in the eastern heavens and shot across the sky to the west, there going out with a loud detonation. The city was illuminated as if by the electric light, and it dawned upon observers that that they had witnessed a large meteor. It left it its train a luminous streak which clearly outlined its course. It is said that some boys saw a piece of the stone fall at the rifle butts on Coleman's common and hearing this Ald. Davis went and saw a large piece of blackened stone from which he broke a piece and gave it to Prof. Bell. The meteor certainly seemed to break over Sidney, but as it passed over Toronto this would seem doubtful. It is seldom that such a brilliant display is seen at so convenient an hour and was a magnificent exhibition of celestial fireworks.

It may be interesting to reproduce here some few ascertained facts about stony meteors. The region of meteor paths is regarded as between 40 and 80 miles above the earth. The cause of a meteor is now universally admitted to be something that enters the earth's atmosphere from without at a velocity of about 19 miles a second. By the resistance it meets in penetrating the air the light and other phenomena of the luminous train are produced. The stony meteor is often of a globular structure. Heat is developed in it enormously, and the stone being pressed closely against the hot air is melted and developes an intense light. The condensed air charged with the melted matter is pushed aside, and left behind in its wake to form the train. The stone is not heated in the centre and may reach the ground with its interior cold. It sometimes drops off in scales or pieces and this may have been the case last night.

ITS APPEARANCE ELSEWHERE.

ROBLIN MILLS, July 4.—A most remarkable meteor passed over this place last night between eight and nine o'clock, Appearing a little east of the Zenith it moved in a W. N. W. direction and was lost to view at twenty or thirty degrees above the horizon. It shed a most brilliant light, far above the brightenings of the moon, which is now in its third quarter, and reminded us strongly of the electric light in its silvery whiteness. A bright streak was left all along its course remaining for several minutes. Toward the lower end a portion seemed to become detached. It was brighter and broader than the remainder and looked like a huge silvery serpent, sinuous and tapering. As it grew fainter it became broader and shorter, until it went into fragments and at length disappeared. It must have been visible for fifteen or twenty minutes and was even a more interesting object than the meteor itself. After the meteor a loud double report was heard but it may have had another cause.

TORONTO, July 4.—Last evening about eight o'clock, it being almost daylight, a very large meteor shot across the eastern sky at an elevation of about twenty degrees from the horizon. The light was so bright that a citizen in the north-east part of the city thought at first sight it was a blue light from a rocket and looked away. Looking again, he saw the meteor careering across the sky followed by a train of red fire. The course of the meteor seemed to be from south to north. As it disappeared the red light faded away into a silver streak which remained visible for nearly ten minutes.

SPOKES FROM THE WHEEL.

The Ramblers ran out on the front of of Sidney last evening and, encountering a strawberry festival in a cheese factory, the dismount was whistled and in a short time 55 quarts of berries had disappeared. The Sidney people now declare their belief in the virtue of wheeling to give one a large appetite.

LIVELY SCENE IN CAMP.

TORONTO, July 4.—Wednesday was the last day in camp and the different corps left for home. Early in the morning a serious riot was narrowly averted. Some one cut down the tents of the 77th battalion while the inmates were asleep. Believing the members of the 12th battalion, between whom and the 77th there has been a long standing grudge, were the guilty parties, a general fight was proposed and a bugler sounded assembly. Word was dispatched the main guard, C Company infantry school, and 31 of them came to the scene of action at the double. The 77th were ordered back to their tents but refused, saying they wanted to lick the 12th. The guard was then ordered to fix bayonets, and the 77th, refusing for the second time to disperse the word was given to charge. When the 77th saw the bayonets coming quickly towards them they ran and were quickly in their tents, two or three being slightly wounded.

COMPLIMENTARY SUPPER.

To Mr. D. M. Waters on the eve of his Departure for "Home."

Mr. D. M. Waters who left last night for Quebec where he will sail on the Sarmatian to-morrow for Scotland, was entertained last evening by a few of his most intimate friends, at a complimentary supper at Hambly's previous to his departure. Among those present were Messrs. W. H. Ponton (chairman) Wm. Sutherland Angus McFee, James Gordon, Alex. Waters D. B. Robertson, T. Runciman, J. P. Thompson, D. Graham, Donald McLean, Wm. Webster, S. R. Balkwill, Geo. Sutherland, J. H. Starling, Wm. Smeator, J. C. Keith, J. D. Clarke, Hugh Walker, A. Brignall, H. McKinnon, Jas. Edgar, Jas. Clarke and E. Force. A first-class dinner was furnished by the landlord which was relished by every one present. The toast of the evening was accompanied by "For he's a jolly good fellow" with three rousing cheers and a tiger. Mr. D. B. Robertson then approached the guest of the evening and read the following address:

To DONALD MACKENZIE WATERS, ESQ., BELLEVILLE.

DEAR SIR,—Having learned that you are about revisiting your native land after a residence amongst us of 17 years, we cannot allow you to do so without some slight marks of our good-will and esteem.

As a youth, and in later years as one of our business men your course has been upwards and onward and we cheerfully accord to you many of the finest qualities of true manhood. Your faithful discharge of very onerous duties in the various positions of trust, to which you have been from time to time appointed has merited our admiration. Your assiduous attention to business and strict integrity of character, as a business man, has won our confidence, and your sterling regard all that is really noble and kindly in our social life has endeared you to us all. We heartily wish you a most pleasant holiday trip—so well deserved—and a safe return to us again, and would request your acceptance of this golden pendant or a small token of our great regard and best wishes.

The address was signed by those present and several other prominent citizens, and it is needless to add that it voiced the sentements of all who knew Mr. Waters, for, as the chairman stated, "a more genial kind-hearted young man could not be found.' Mr. Walters was so completely taken by surprise that he could scarcely find words to express his appreciation of the honor done to him. He promised not to forget his dear old associates in the City of the Bay while on a visit to his native land, and he hoped on his return to be able to unite in giving another as hearty a farewell reception as that which he himself had received.

The gold locket was a pretty one from Mr. Angus McFees' establishment with a handsome monogram on one side and an appropriate inscription on the other.

When the hour arrived for breaking up, hand shaking was in order, and all united in wishing Mr. Waters bon voyage and a safe return. He was accompanied to the depot by over a dozen of the company who gave three hearty cheers for their departing companion as the train moved out.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

THE TABERNACLE PULPIT.

Mr. Wm. Watson writes to say that our report on Monday regarding Mr. McVety's retirement was in errror when it says that the trouble arose between Mr. McVety and his official quarterly board because he would not allow a certain religious band entrance into the Tabernacle. It is well known that Mr. McVety stated during the last year he could not stay another year as the labor was more than he could bear under his failing health. There was not one of the official quarterly board exercising their influence against Mr. McVety at the Conference at Napanee. He questions if there was a telegram sent from Belleville in reference to who should be the minister for the Tabernacle this coming conference year. He concludes;—I heartily endorse the letter under said article as Mr. McVety and his good wife have had our sympathies in their labor with us as a congregation.

WAGES ON THE C. P. R.

SIR.—The men operating on the O. & Q. R. from this village to Perth struck for higher wages yesterday. The mighty Syndicate had it all its own way up till now and used through its minions and puppits collectively and individually an arbitory sway and mean tyranny, scarcely ever known in the annals of railroading here or on the other side of the Atlantic. Simply because work was, in the beginning of the year, scarce in these regions and the men without means to remove to more distant places, where it was plentiful. The tables are, however, happily turned, and if the poor men have taken reluctantly their only available means to vindicate their humble powers, and assert their just right, no one can blame them. The contemplated increase of wages is from $1.35 to $1.50 per day. Comparatively poor contractors gave the latter wages on the road last summer, and if the great Syndicate are not willing to do the same this summer after getting $30,000,000 from the Government, they must be made to do so, and what they can well afford.

THE CONSULTING SURGEON
—OF THE—
Medical & Surgical Association of Canada
(MAIL BUILDING, TORONTO, ONT.)
Will be at the DAFOE HOUSE, Belleville,
On SATURDAY, SUNDAY and MONDAY, JULY 5th, 6th and 7th,
TO CONFER AND ADVISE WITH THOSE WHO MAY BE AFFLICTED WITH ANY FORM OF CHRONIC DISEASE OR DEFORMITY.
THIS IS A PURELY CANADIAN INSTITUTION
and is the only one of the kind in Canada. It employs a large staff of eminent Specialists, and is the most extensive Medical Institution in America. Besides their large establishment in Toronto, this Association now owns "Springbank," St. Catharines, the most complete Sanitarium on the Continent.

The Medical and Surgical Association of Canada has been established, with offices in the Mail building, Toronto, for the exclusive treatment of chronic diseases and deformities. It is connected with no other institution of a like character in the United States or other foreign country, but is established in Canada, by Canadians, to do business in Canada.

OUR STAFF OF SPECIALISTS.
The professional gentlemen employed by this Association are Canadians by birth and education, graduates of Canadian Medical Colleges of high standing, who have spent many years in the practice of their profession as "regulars," and who have perfected themselves in their various specialties in Europe and America. We have gathered together a staff of eminent specialists such as no other institution of a like character on this continent employs. Every case we treat is laid before this staff, discussed and the mode of treatment decided upon and thus the combined experience of these professional gentlemen is brought to bear upon individual cases, ensuring the patient such treatment as the family physician, acting by himself, cannot be expected to furnish.

OUR REMEDIES AND APPLIANCES.
In order that we may have the best and purest drugs to aid us in our work, and to avoid adulterated goods, we manufacture our special remedies in our own laboratory, where all our prescriptions are compounded under the directions of competent chemists, thus assuring absolute accuracy and certainty as to quality. we buy only the best and the purest and best medicines and chemicals from the most reputable manufacturing druggists and pharmacists. Another feature of our Association is the manufacturing of ARTIFICIAL LEGS AND ARMS, ELECTRIC INSTRUMENTS AND SURGICAL APPLIANCES, and everything necessary for the successful treatment of deformities of whatever nature. We manufacture the article ourselves in our own manufactory, which is supplied with all the necessary machinery, and experienced work men to turn out the very best of work. We take all measurements (or instruct the patient to do it) and manufacture the article ourselves and guarrantee perfection in every respect.

WHAT KIND OF CASES WE TREAT.
We can successfully treat all kinds of chronic diseases and deformities. We are enabled to do this by employing a number of physicians who, by proper training and experience, have attained the highest degree of skill proficiency in their respective specialties. In addition to this advantage we have every facility that science affords and that money can buy in the way of instruments, appliances, remedies, etc. We are thus prepared to give relief to those who treat with us. no matter what their disease may be or the nature of their deformity, or what doctors have failed to cure them. If you are afflicted with Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Nervous Debility, Heart Disease, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Dyspepsia, Disease of the Liver, Kidney's, Bladder or Stomach Rupture, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Deafness, Loss of Sight Cross Eyes, Crooked Limbs, Spinal Curvature, Hip Joint Disease, Club Foot, or any other kind of Chronic Disease, or deformity, call on or write us and we will give you an honest and and candid opinion free of charge. IF WE CAN DO NO GOOD WE WILL CANDIDLY SAY SO AS WE TREAT NO CASE UNLESS THERE IS A STRONG PROBABILITY OF A CURE OR PERMANENT BENEFIT.

WE CANNOT AFFORD TO DECEIVE.
any more than a merchant or manufacturer can hope to succeed by misrepresenting his wares. In all our dealings we will be candid, honest and straightforward, and in no way will we attempt to deceive the public and especially those who have trouble enough to bear without having deceit practised upon them.

REMEMBER
This is a purely Canadian institution, located in the midst of the people it is dealing with, AND HAS COME TO STAY, and is not in Canada to-day and in the United States tomorrow. People will therefore have no trouble in finding us when they want us.

COST OF TREATMENT
The course of treatment of course varies according to the nature of the complaint, what surgical appliances may be required, etc., but in no case will it be placed beyond the patient's ability to pay. In this way as well as in other respects we shall endeavor to keep the scales of justice evenly balanced. Widows, orphans, working girls and the very poor in this world's goods will be treated at exceptionally low figures. If you cannot come to consult personally write to our home office in Toronto, giving full details of your case, and we will give you our honest and candid opinion, together with all information as to cost, etc. All information cheerfully furnished free of charge. Medical treatment can be furnished by correspondence and express.

If you are afflicted with any form of chronic disease or deformity call on our Consulting Surgeon at the Dafoe House on Saturday, Sunday or Monday, or write the head office at Toronto, and you will receive an honest and candid opinion.
CONSULTATION FREE.

A RELIABLE WITNESS

B. N. Wheeler, of Everton, speaks highly of Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, having seen its effects in his own case, a severe inflamation of the lungs and distressing cough, was quickly and perfectly cured, which had resisted other treatment.

PERSONAL.

This paper makes a practice to examine closely and reject all matters of such a character as could be in any way objectionable to our readers, but the following, drawing as it does your notice the name of and article of sterling merit, known throughout the land as the only sure and non-poisonous remedy for corns, is welcome to a place in our columns. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor now finds its way to nearly every part of the world, which is itself a guarrantee of its merit. We advise our readers to buy it, and when purchasing to get Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Polson & Co., Kingston, propre.

Our systems often need renovating also, and there is nothing better to make pure blood and cleanse, and regulate all the secretations than Burdock Blood Bitters, preventing disease incidental to the season's changes.

To be smart, be as different from other people as possible. To be comfortable, be as much like other people as possible.

As a sure remedy for sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Dispepsia Indigestion, Constipation, Torpid Liver, Biliousness, &c., no medicine is equal to Baxter's Mandrake Bitters. 25 cents per bottle.

It is said that nothing is impossible to him who wills. This is false; for it is impossible to him who wills to keep his heirs from fighting over his property.

To cure consumption, ulceration in the lungs must be stopped, the matter must be thrown off, the membranes and tissues healed and the system invigorated. Downs' Elixir will do this. Try it. Every bottle warranted.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Invalids distracted by indigestion and discouraged in their search for its remedy should make a trial of this never-failing medicine. A lady long a martyr to dyspeptic tortures, writes that Holloway's Pills made her feel as if a burden had been taken off her. Her spirits formerly low, have greatly improved; her capricious appetite has given place to that of healthy hunger; her dull, sick headache has departed, and gradually so marvellous a change has been effected that she is altogether a new creature, and again fit for her duties. These pills may be administered with safety to the most delicate. They never act harshly, nor do they ever induce weakness; they rightly direct deranged, and control excessive action.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In in common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally and the Ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceeding efficacious. When influenza is epidemic this treatment is the easiest, safest, and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free, without reducing the strength irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of saving suffering when any one is afflicted with cold, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints by which so many persons are seriously and permanently afflicted in most countries.

AFTER USING.

Wonderful! Wonderful!

Thousands of young men are exclaiming the above every day, after using DR. LAMARTINE'S MOUSTACHE GROWER. HALL'S was the first preparation perfectly adapted to cure diseases of the scalp, and the first successful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth, and youthful beauty. It has had many imitators, but none have so fully met all the requirements needful for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor, and spread its fame and usefulness to every quarter of the globe. Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause: the entire fulfilment of its promises.

The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries, where they had never made an effort for its introduction.

The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER wonderfully improves the personal appearance. It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fever, and dryness, and thus prevents baldness. It stimulates the weakened glands, and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholic preparations, but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy.

LOVE'S LOTTERY

OR,

THE RIVAL SISTERS.

Never had she selected a more becoming and fitting toillette to display her charms to their best advantage.

But, to her, never had she so ill-succeeded.

To her alone, for as she reclined among the yielding cushions of a Turkish ottoman impatiently watching the hands of her tiny jewelled watch move towards the hour of twelve, she formed a picture of loveliness and fascination, wherein art and nature were combined.

'Will he come? Shall I really see him?' she asked herself, for the fiftieth time.

The colour—that which was not artificial—fled her cheek,

Her bosom heaved tumultuously beneath it's light muslin covering.

She trembled from the golden braids of Truefit's hair. to the embroidered slippers on her foot, while the jewelled watch fell with a crash to the ground.

A knock had sounded at the hall door.

He, the man she loved, had come.

Seized with faintness, the actress sank back on the cushions.

Then recovering, leaned breathlessly forward, listening.

Was it he?

Yes, yes!

She recognised the voice.

He had come.

He was here.

The door opened and the maid brought in a card on the salver.

'Mr. Eustace Belmore,' murmured the actress, 'Show him in Janet, and remember I am not at home to anyone else; mind not even to his lordship.'

She, actress as she was, arose, nervous and with trepidation.

He advanced, inclining civily yet with slight hauteur.

'I yesterday received a letter madam. he began, when his eyes rested fully upon her.

The recognition despite her toilette was instantaneous.

The hauteur vanished giving place to uncontrolable horror blended with indignation.

He leaped back, the expression of his eyes a reproach in itself, one arm thrown forth as if to warn her away, or to signify his abhorrence.

'Jane Murdock!' he ejaculated.

Then his hat falling from his grasp, he covered his eyes with his hands as he exclaimed, shuddering—

'Oh, Heaven! Wretched girl has it come so this?'

'Mercy!' cried the actress with bitter moan, as dropping on her knees, she extended her bare arms imploringly, yet, too, shrinkingly towards him. 'Oh, remember, Eustace Belmore, what I have come to is through love of—of you.'

'Miserable girl, would that be an excuse in a pure womanly mind?' he retorted sadly, his features betraying, as his accents the deep pain he experienced.

'Some women are too cold to love, too weak to control their affection,' she answered with abandon, 'and mine was—nay, is—greater. For that be lenient, have pity.'

'Jane Murdock,' he answered, 'my heart is full of pity. but it is for the inmate of that quiet grave in Greystone churchyard where lies Amos Murdock, a worthy God-fearing man, my tenant and your too fond father. My soul swells to bursting for him who died, yes, Jane Mvrdock, of a broken heart. caused by a daughter's shame,'

'Mercy,' she repeated, 'this would not have been had I not loved you so dearly. Even a dog would give some return for such an affection. Is man worse than a dog?'

'No, the comparison is not just; man has the power of reading more deeply. Listen Jane Murdock,' he added severely, 'this painful scene has been of your own seeking; I read its purpose, as bad as it is useless. I would have spared you as myself, but I could not. I have the power to abridge the interview. Farewell, I trust for ever.'

She was kneeling, crushed to the earth by love and humileation,

Now she sprang erect.

No, she was not quite the Jane Murdock he had known.

The world, the hard, cruel world of vice had educated her.

'Stay,' she exclaimed authoritatively; 'you shall not go Eustace Belmore. You say you read my purpose—what purpose?'

'Need I pain you as myself by answering?' he asked bitterly. Can I doubt, after this scene enacted in my rooms when first you arrived in London, after what, I find you an actress, the talk of the town.

'You have shot at the mark, Eustace Belmore, and gone wide of it,' she rejoined with a flush of pride, drawing herself to her full height, a splendid, a dangerous temptation in her beauty. partly artificial as it was. 'I love you, yes, as I never have as I never can any other. Oh, I have passed that shame woman feel to confess it.' and she smiled bitterly, a smile that pierced the beholder to the heart. But still, that was not the sole cause that made me bid you come.'

He bowed incredulously.

'You said,' he remarked, 'a danger threatened me and another dearer.'

Every [illegible] who walks the streets of a great city, and scans with an intelligent eye the colorless faces of more than fifty per cent of the people he meets, can easily agree with us in the statement, that this age, which makes such dwarfs upon the working energies the greater part of men in the intense pursuit of business, has destroyed in a proportionate degree the animal health and robust condition. Nature in its stage of exhaustion, cannot be restored of its self but requires some stimulating tonic to strengthen and keep the system in regular order, and in Northrup and Lyman's Quinine Wine we have the exact remedy required. The peculiar operation of this medicine, in case of general debility and nervous prostration, has undergone long and close observation, and it is believed it will never of properly and judiciously administered. Prepared by Northrup & Lyman, Toronto, and sold by all drugists.

IMPORTANT TO RUPTURED PERSONS.

The Excelsior Rupture Treatment was introduced to the American people several years ago in such a manner as to completely secure the confidence of the whole nation. The mode of introduction was by furnishing the remedy to those afflicted with Hernia in any of its various forms and collecting no pay until a permanent cure was effected. In this way the treatment gained world wide reputation on its own merits, never failing to cure any reducible Hernia. The Company has at the solicitation of thousands placed the remedy on sale by all druggists both wholesale and retail, in the United States, Canada and England. In this way bringing it within the reach of all classes at a trifling cost compared with the benefit which are derived from the use of the treatment. ROBLIN HOUSE,

Late Douglas House.

As the late proprietor of the Douglas House has removed to other premises and called it the New Douglas House, I beg to notify the public that I have reopened the Douglas House myself, under the name of the "ROBLIN HOUSE." As the house has always had the name of a First-Class Hotel, I shall spare no pains to make it as popular as it ever was. The above is pleasantly situated in the central part of the city, and is a very desirable place for Families and the Public generally. It has been thoroughly renovated and furnished with new furniture. A cordial invitation is given to all old patrons of the Douglas House, and all new ones who will favor me with a call.

Vital Questions.!

Ask the most eminent physician

Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?

And they will tell you unhesitatingly "Some form of Hops!!!"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians:

"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, debetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women."—

"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu!!"

Ask the same physicians

"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.," and they will tell you:

Mandrake! or Dandelion!"

Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable.

And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is

Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

CHAPTER II.

"Patients

"Almost dead or nearly dying"

For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.

Women have gone nearly crazy!!!!

From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.

People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic, or suffering from scrofula.

Erysipelas!

"Saltrheum, blood poisoning dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact, almost all diseases frail"

Nature is heir to

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY

is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co's. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the error and indiscretion of youth, nervous weakness, early decay loss of manhood &c., I will send a receipt, that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self addressed envelope to the Rev. JOSEPH T. INMAN Station D, New York City. d&w

ON THIRTY DAYS' TRIAL.

The VOLTAIC BELT Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above,—N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty day's trial is allowed.

"Twenty-four years experience," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the Generative organs is to repair the wasteby giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas. Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See adv't in another column

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "28 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 28, 1882.

"Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly, W. M. PHILLIPS."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the SARSAPARILLA in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1882.

Yours gratefully,
HIRAM PHILLIPS."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blotches, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

THE MODEL.

Dr. Talmage's Sermon Preached Last Sunday Morning, June 29.

"Now if any man have not the spirit of Christ, he is none of us."—ROM. 8: 9.

There is nothing more desirable than a pleasant disposition. Without it we cannot be happy ourselves, or make others happy. When we have lost our temper or become impatient under some light cross we suddenly awaken to new appreciation of proper equipose of nature. We wish we had been born with self-balance. We envy those people who bear themselves through life without any perturbation, and we flatter ourselves that however little self control we may now have the time will come under the process of years, when we will be mellowed and softened, and the things which are in us wrong now will then be all right forgetful of the fact that an evil habit in our nature will grow into larger proportions and that an iniquity not corrected will become the grandfather of a whole generation of iniquities. So that people without the grace of God in the struggle and amid the annoyances and exasperations of life are apt to become worse instead of better. Now, the trouble is that we have a theory abroad in the world that a man's disposition cannot be changed. A man says, 'I am irascible in temper and I can't help it.' Another man says, 'I am revengeful naturally, and I can't help it.' A man says, 'I am impulsive and I can't help it.' And he tells the truth. No man can correct his disposition. I never knew a man by force of resolution to change his temperament, but by His grace God can reconstruct us. He can take away that which is wrong and put in that which is right, and I know and you know people who, since their conversion are just the opposite of what they used to be. In other words, we may, by the Spirit of God, have the disposition of Jesus Christ implanted in our disposition and we must have this done or we will never see heaven. 'If any man have not the disposition of Jesus Christ he is none of His.' In the first place the Spirit of Christ was

A SPIRIT OF GENTLENESS,

Sometimes He made wrathful utterance against Pharisees and hypocrites, but the most of His words were kind, and gentle, and inoffensive, and attractive. When we consider the fact that He was omnipotent, and could have torn to pieces His assailants, the wonder is greater. We often bear the persecution and abuse of the world because we cannot help it. Christ endured it when He could have helped it. Little children who always shy off at rough man rushed in His presence and clambered on Him, until the people begged the mothers to take them away. Invalids so sore with wounds that they could not bear to have any one come near them, begged Christ just to put His hand upon the wound and sooth it. The mother with the sickest child was willing to put the little one in Christ's arms. Self-righteous people rushed into his presence with a woman of debased character, and said, 'Now annihilate her, blast her, kill her,' Jesus looked at her, and saw she was sorry and repentant and He looked at them, and He saw they were proud and arrogant and infernal, and He said, 'Let him that is without sin cast the first stone at her.' A blind man sat by the wayside making a great ado about his lack of vision. They told him to hush up and not bother the Master. Christ stooped to him and said, 'What wilt thou that I do unto thee?' Gentleness of voice, gentleness of manner, gentleness of life. How little we have of it! How little of patience in treating with enemies! We have so little of the gentleness of Christ we are not fit for Christian work half the time. We do not know how to comfort the bereft, or the encourage to disheartened, or to take care of the poor. Even our voice of sympathy is on the wrong pitch. Did you ever know any difficulty to be healed by acerbity or hypercriticism? Did you ever know a drunkard reclaimed by mimicry of his staggering step, his thick tongue, or his hiccough? No. You only madden his brain. But you go to him and you let him know you appreciate what an awful grapple he has with the evil habit, and you let him know that you have been acquainted with people who were down in the same depths and who by the grace of God, have been rescued. He hears your voice, he responds to that sympathy, and he is saved. You cannot scold the world into anything better. You may attract it into something better. The storm could not rouse the whole Atlantic: the moon lifted it. 'And I,' said Christ, 'if I be lifted up will draw all men unto me.' Christ's disposition was also one of

SELF SACRIFICE.

No young man ever started out with so bright a prospect as Christ started out with if He had been willing to follow a worldly ambition. In the time that he gave to the sick He might have gathered the vastest fortune of His time. With His power to popularize Himself and magnetize the people He could have gained any official position. No orator ever won such plaudits as he might have won from sanhedrim and synagogue and vast audiences by the seaside. No physician ever got such a reputation for healing power as He might have obtained if He had performed His wonderful cures before the Roman aristocracy. I say these things to let you know what Paul meant when he said, 'He pleased not Himself,' and to show something of the wonders of His self-sacrifice. All human power together could not have thrown Christ into the manger if He had not chosen to go there. All Santanic strength could not have lifted Christ upon the cross if He had not elected Himself to the torture. To save our race from sin and death and hell He faced all the sorrows of eternity. How much of that self-sacrifice have we?

WHAT IS SELF SACRIFICE?

It is my walking a long journey to save you from fatigue. It is my lifting a great number of pounds to save you from the awful strain. It is a subtraction from my comfort and prosperity so that there may be an addition to your comfort and prosperity. How much of that have we? Might not I rather say, 'How little have we?' Two children were passing down the road. They were both were destitute. They were brother and sister. The lad had hardly any garments at all. His sister had a coat that she had outgrown. It was a cold day. She said, 'Johnnie, come under this coat.' 'Oh,' he said, 'no, the coat isn't large enough.' 'Oh,' she said it will stretch.' He came under the coat, but the coat would not stretch. So she took off the coat and put it on him. Self-sacrifice pure and simple. The disposition of Jesus was also

A DISPOSITION OF HUMILITY.

The Lord of earth and heaven in the garb of a rustic. He who poured all the waters of the earth out of His right hand—the Amazon, and the Euphrates, and the Oregon, and the Ohio, and the Mississippi—bending over a well to ask a Samaritan woman for a drink. He who spread the canopy of the heavens and set the earth for a footstool, lodging with one Simon, a tanner. He whose chariots the clouds are walking with sore feet. Hushing the tempest on Genessaret and wiping the spray of the storm from His beard, then sitting down in the cabin beside His disciples, and though he had done no more than wipe the sweat from His brow in His Father's carpenter shop. Taking the foot of death off the heart of Lazarus and breaking the chain of the grave against the marble of the tomb, and then walking out with Mary and Martha without any more pretension than a plain citizen going out in the suburban village to spend the evening. Jostled as though He were a nobody. Pursued as though He were an outlaw, Nicknamed, spit on. Seated with publicans and with sinners. King of heaven and earth trailing his robes in the dust How much of that humanity have we? If we get a few more dollars than other people, or gain a little higher position, oh, how we trust? We go around wanting everybody to know their place, and say, 'Is not this great Babylon that I have built for the honor of my kingdom and for the might of my strength?' Who has anything of the humility of Christ. The disposition of Christ was also

THE SPIRIT OF PRAYER.

Prayer on the mountains, prayer on the sea, prayer among the sick, prayer everywhere. Prayer for little children;—'Father, I thank Thee that Thou hast hidden these things from the wise and the prudent and revealed them unto babes.' Prayer for His friends:—'Father, I will that they be with me where I am.' Prayer for His enemies:—'Father, forgive them, they know not what they do.' Prayer for all nations:—'Thy kingdom come.' How little of that spirit you and I have. How soon our knees get tired. Where is the vial full of odors which are the prayers of all the saints? Which of us can keep our mind ten minutes on a prayer without wandering. Not you, not I. Oh that we might have the spirit of prayer which was the Spirit of Christ. We want more prayer in the family, more prayer in the church, more prayer in the legislative hall, more prayer among the sick, more prayer among the aged, more prayer among the young. The great advancement of the church is to be in that direction yet. The Spirit of Christ, I remark lastly was a

SPIRIT OF HARD WORK

Not one lazy moment in all His life. Whether he was talking to the fishermen on the beach, or preaching to the sailors on the dock, or administering to the rustics amid the mountains, or spending an evening in Bethany, always busy for others With hands, heart, head busy for others. Hewing in his father's carpenter shop, teaching the lame how to walk without crutches, curing a child's fits, providing rations for the hungry host. Busy, busy, busy! The hardy men who pulled the net out of the sea filled with floundering treasures, the shepherds who hunted up grassy plots for their flocks to nibble at, the shipwrights pounding away in the dockyards, the wine-makers of Engedi dipping the juices from the vat and pouring them into the goat-skins were not more busy than Christ. Busy,

BUSY FOR OTHERS.

From the moment He went out of the caravansary of Bethlehem to the moment when the cross plunged into the socket on the bloody mount, busy for others. Does that remind you of yourself? It does not remind me of myself. Oh, if we lift a burden it must be light. If we do work it must be popular. If we sit in the pew it must be soft. If we move in a sphere of usefulness it must be brilliant. If we have to take hold of a load, give us the light end of the log. In this way to heaven fan us, rock us, sing us to sleep. Lift us up toward heaven on the tips of your fingers under a silken sunshade. Stand out of the way all you martyrs who breasted the fire; stand out of the way and let this colony of tender-footed modern christians come up and get their crowns. What has your Lord done for you, O Christian, that you should betray Him? Who gave you so much riches that you can afford to despise the awards of the faithful? At this moment, when all the armies of heaven and earth and hell are plunging into the conflict, how can you desert the standard? Oh backslidden christian, is it not time for you to start anew for God and anew for heaven? Now, I have shown you that the disposition of Christ was a spirit of gentleness, a spirit of self-sacrifice, a spirit of humility, a spirit of prayer, a spirit of hard work—five points. Will you remember them? Are you ready now for the tremendous announcement of the text? 'If any man have not the spirit of Christ he is none of His.' Are you ready for that statement? Can we stand up and say, 'Yes, we have the spirit of Christ?' Not one of us can make that answer to the full question, yet I am to declare to you there is no discouragement in this subject for christian people. You have the seeds of this character planted in your soul. 'It doth not yet appear what we shall be.' You might as well blame an acorn for not being an oak of a thousand years as to blame yourself if you are not equal to Christ. You have the implantation within you which will enlarge and develop into the grandest christian character, and there is no discouragement in this text for you to try and love and serve the Lord. Aim high. Sheathe not your sword until you have gained the last victory. Climb higher and higher until you reach the celestial hills. Crowns bright and radiant for all the victors, but death to every deserter. Let us pray.

Every one speaks highly of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters as a Stomach Liver and Kidney Medicine. The best family medicine we ever used,' say they all. Try a bottle this Spring as a blood purifier.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Winslow's Soothing Syrup For Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

POTASH.

Iodide of Potassium is one of the strongest of the minerals used in medicine, and has produced much suffering in the world. Taken for a long time in large doses, it dries up the gastric juices, impairs digestion, the stomach refuses food, and the patient declines in health and weight. Persons with Blood or Skin Diseases should be careful how they take those mineral poisons, as in most instances the effect of them is to almost permanently impair the constitution. To take the place of these poisons we offer you a safe, sure, prompt, and permanent relief from your troubles Shaker Blood Syrup is entirely a vegetable preparation, and easy to convince you of its merit.

I have cured permanently Blood Taint in the third generation by the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, after I had most signally failed with Mercury and Potash. Dr. Smith, Bangor, Pa.

A young man requests me to thank you for his cure of Blood Poison by the use of your Specific after all other treatment had failed.

J. E. Kennedy, Druggist, Cobourg, Ont.

For years I was afflicted with Dry Tetter of the most obstinate type. Was treated by many of the best physicians; took quantities of mercury, potash, and arsenic, which, instead of curing the Tetter crippled me up with mineral poison and rheumatism. The tetter continued to grow worse, and the itching almost made me crazy. In this condition I was induced to take Shaker Blood Syrup, and the result was as astonishing as Gratifying. In a few months the Tetter was entirely well, the Mercurial Poisoning all out of my system, and I was a well man—and due only to Shaker Blood Syrup. All like sufferers should take it.

C. H. Sargeant, Haverhill, Mass.

CALISAYA, THE PERUVIAN or Jesuits' Bark, is the best bitter tonic we have in all febrile conditions, and in neuralgic and rheumatic pains, from weak digestion and assimulation, and, as combined in Dr. Wheelers' Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya, forms a permanent strengthing nutritive in all used up conditions of the various causes which lead to nerve prostration. This combination is made by a process peculiar to the inventor, and there is no substitute that will do its work.

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficent. For sale by all Druggists.

CANADA'S CONSTITUTION.

The publication of a pamphlet on the constitutional powers of Parliament and the Local Legislature by Mr. J. Travis, is made the occasion by the Hamilton Spectator to advocate—well we do not know exactly what it sets out to prove, but at all events the writer very soon strikes oil when he says, in italics too, that the Provinces have their rights. This important admission is made in such a manner that one looks about expecting to see in a foot note the legal caution—"without prejudice." Still the admission, coming from a good Tory organ, is entitled to some weight, and the supporters of Sir John Macdonald and legislative union must make a note of it. The attitude, however, assumed by our contemporary towards the Provinces is just this. The Provinces have a few rights it is true, but they are subject at all times to the superior power of the Dominion Government. Here is where we join issue and against such a doctrine place the principle that in all matters relating purely to local affairs the Provinces are not inferior or subject to the Dominion; they are supreme. If, as our contemporary says, the doctrine of state rights gave rise to the American Civil War will it tell us how many wars the doctrine averted? The people of the Republic are more firmly wedded to State rights to day than ever before and the Federal bodies are more inclined to respect them. It is not an uncommon thing for the Federal Legislature to avoid even the appearance of trenching on the legislative perogative of the States.

If the sovereign powers of the Legislatures of the Canadian Provinces are not reserved in the B. N. A. Act why are they given the power to exclusively make laws on certain subjects? Will our contemporary say that they have not exclusive power to regulate and control the sale of intoxicating liquors? Yet the Government which it supports violated the constitution and sought to wrench this power from the Provinces. This trick of the Dominion Premier's to agree to the framing of the Act which gives the Provinces certain exclusive powers and then when in power to use the perogative of the Crown to thwart the purpose of the Act—giving the shadow and retaining the substance—this trick we say is too transparent, smacks too much of Cæsarism, is too flagrantly in derogation of the local rights for which Upper Canada so long fought to be successful. He will find this out and the Ontario organ which works to convince its readers that he is right has a hopeless task.

At Harriston the other day Mr. Blake referred to the question of Provincial rights proclaiming himself a federalist—one who believed in union on the only practicable basis—a union strictly limited to the consideration of general affairs, with practical self-government to the Provinces in their own concerns. Those were the ideas upon which the Confederation was based, and they must stand and abide by those ideas. The keystone of the whole system was our right finally to decide, what were to be our laws on all local questions. If we have not the final right to decide, better no right at all. Who cared for a sham Legislature sitting in Toronto to pass laws which thirteen men sitting in Ottawa with closed doors must say whether they were good or bad? These are the sentiments of all loyal Canadians.

THE DEMOCRATIC spirit of antagonism to titles doesn't appear to permeate the Republican ranks which are closing up solid for the Plumed Knight and the Black Eagle.

WE OFFER just one consolation to those visitors to Toronto's Semi-Centennial complaining of being over charged by hackmen—they might have had a bicycle and have been independent of four-wheeled extortion.

TORONTO'S Semi-Centennial was only fairly successful. It did not draw the immense crowds anticipated, though there were certainly large crowds. The secret of this is that there was nothing specially sensational, no big cards. The presence of some big "mugwump," a great sculling match or a prize fight between Mitchell and Sullivan would have drawn immensely. After Wednesday the celebration waned and the crowds thinned. Yet we say again it was fairly successful and quite creditable to the Queen City of the West. The program was pretty well carried out and if there were no "star" attractions the occasion was of that nature which prohibited them.

A GREAT DETECTIVE.

Some of Allan Pinkerton's Celebrated Exploits.

LANDING IN CANADA AN IMMIGRANT

As already announced in the ONTARIO, Allan Pinkerton, the founder of Pinkerton's Detective Agency, died the other day at his house in Chicago. He was born near Glasgow, Scotland, in August, 1819. He learned the trade of a cooper, and in early manhood was a boss cooper in Glasgow. During the Chartist excitement he attended public meetings and made some strong speeches on the Chartist side. He was charged with uttering seditious sentiments, and, learning that he was about to be arrested, embarked with his wife for Canada. The vessel was wrecked in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and all on board were landed on an island. He went first to Montreal, then to Toronto, and finally settled in Dundee, Ill., where he again took up his business as a cooper. He made barrels and tubs which he carried to Chicago and exchanged for goods. Allan Pinkerton's first exploit as a detective was in the discovery of

A GANG OF COUNTERFEITERS

on an island in the Fox River, a few miles above Dundee. He used to go to this island to gather hoop poles, and on one of his visits discovered in an abandoned camp the evidence that counterfeiters had been there. The country was sparsely settled and the place lonely. By following up clues, however, the gang of counterfeiters were discovered and punished. About this time he was frequently employed to aid the Sheriff in searching for horse thieves and other outlaws. He was always willing to drop his tools and join in such a chase. Removing to Chicago he soon became Deputy Sheriff of Cook county, and was noted as a brave and successful officer. At that time Chicago had no regular police, and the Sheriff and his deputies had much perilous work in the pursuit of counterfeiters, horse thieves and other criminals, to whom Allan Pinkerton soon became a terror. He was afterward appointed the first detective in Chicago. He was an early abolitionist and an associate of John Brown. He rendered important and enthusiastic service in the management of the Underground Railway for the escape of fugitive slaves. It was in 1852 that he founded the detective agency, which bears his name, and for more than thirty years he had been employed in ferretting out some of the most desperate crimes of the age. His services have been employed on many missions where the regular police were either destitute of the requisite skill, could not work to advantage or could not be trusted to resist temptation. Among the exploits was the extradition of the notorious Reno brothers from Canada, who were subsequently taken from the gaol at New Albany, Ind., and hanged by a mob. He was engaged in the pursuit of the notorious Jesse James and his brother, and the Younger brothers. Four of Pinkerton's men were killed by the James party, and Jesse once announced his determination

TO KILL ALLAN PINKERTON.

This was after Pinkerton made a raid on the James home, when mother James had her hand blown off and one of her sons was killed, Jesse remained four months in Chicago, looking for a chance to execute his threat under such circumstances that Allan should know who killed him, but he could not find the required opportunity. One of the most famous exploits of Pinkerton's men was the tracking and exposure of the Molly Maguire bands of murderers in the mining districts of Pennsylvania. The work was attended with great risk to the detectives who were engaged for months working in the mines, acting as members of the Mollies, and identifying the ringleaders. The result was that the Mollies were broken up and their principal leaders were hanged. Another noted piece of work was the detection of the robbers who took $40,000 from the office of the Adams Express Company in Montgomery and the recovery of nearly all the money. In working up this case Mr. Pinkerton had eleven assistants. One was a handsome gentleman who dressed elegantly, drove fine horses, flirted with the robber's wife, and got secrets out of her at champagne suppers. It was on this job that Allan Pinkerton first introduced female detectives. He had a dashing young woman with a female companion, who took board at a hotel and got at secrets that the male detectives could not reach. Mrs. Kate Warne was the chief female detective in this case and she subsequently assisted Mr. Pinkerton in other detective work. In the express robbery case, Maroney, the chief robber, was arrested and confessed and went to prison for ten years. Mr. Pinkerton was subsequently employed by the express company on other cases, and traced the perpetrators of several robberies.

A FAMOUS AGENCY.

The fame of the agency became extended, and its service was widely sought. Offices were established in New York and Philadelphia and about 125 men employed. One of Pinkerton's sons, Mr. Robert A. Pinkerton, is the general superintendent and Detective Bangs has charge of the New York office in Exchange place. Mr. R. J. Linden has charge of the Philadelphia office. There is scarcely any important case involving large amounts of money and requiring great detective skill in which the Pinkertons are not employed. When Abraham Lincoln was elected President Allan Pinkerton was engaged to see him safely to Washington. He became convinced that there had been a plot to assassinate Mr. Lincoln on his way through Baltimore. He convinced Mr. Lincoln and his immediate friends that the plot existed, and it was by his advice that Mr. Lincoln reached Washington privately by way of Harrisburgh. He wrote recently an extended account of the trip, and denied authoritatively the story that Mr. Lincoln disguised himself in a Scotch cap and military cloak. Pinkerton made it the work of his life to know all matters relating to the detection of crime. He had a theory that it is a law of nature that it is impossible for a criminal to keep a secret, and that in some way, to some one, he is SURE TO BETRAY HIMSELF.

He trained his men to work on this theory and by patient and tedious work, extending over months or years if necessary, often unravelling the most intricate crimes. It made no difference to him whether the criminal was in the dregs or the foam of society he knew how to surround him and reach him. He was stricken down with paralysis in 1869 and never fully recovered from it. A rule with him was never to work for a reward or to permit any employee to accept one. He never could be induced to operate in a divorce case or where family matters were in dispute.

The Pinkerton agencies were by his direction kept well supplied with disguises and each of them is equipped with quite a theatrical wardrobe. His men are his actors, each selected for the part he is best fitted to play. Mr. Pinkerton was the father of eight children and two of his boys have become noted in his business. Although in his 65th year his eyes were bright and unflinching to the last, his voice clear and manly. He carried in his body two bullets received in desperate encounters with criminals. His widow survives him.

BAD MONTREAL BOYS.

The Disreputable Doings of a "Respectable" Gang.

MONTREAL, July 5—The disreputable doings of a gang of five or six young men here belonging to respectable families has come to light, and probably everyone of them will soon be in the hands of justice for their criminal conduct. It appears these young scamps, whose morals have been exceedingly depraved, laid themselves out to entrap young girls employed in business houses in the city, in order to raise money to carry on their brutal orgies. They are stated to have induced their female acquaintances to steal their employers' goods and hand them over to the gang, which disposes of them for what ready cash they would bring. Three young shop girls have been already sent to gaol for pilfering as the victims of these scoundrels, the proceeds of the plunder having gone to the reckless scamps, who spend all they can lay their hands on in debasing associations. The chief of the gang is a son of an extensive manufacturer here, and he is said to be one of several others who attacked a gentleman on the street a night or two ago and committed highway robbery on him. The chief was seen and recognized while running away from the spot. The young hero has been already in the hands of police, and is likely if caught this time to be finally sent to the penitentiary, to the disgrace of the family.

Miss Sabra Phillips of Normood R. I., is a hundred years old. The Providence Journal says: "She lives alone, does all her own housework, saws wood for her own fire and brings it on her back from the woods. She is a constant reader of the Bible and religious books, reads without glasses, and is ready at any time to preach a sermon upon any passage of Scripture which she often does to those gathered around her. She is the last of her generation.

At a meeting of blind men in San Francisco the Chairman said that the late Legislature paid no heed to the petition of the two hundred blind persons in California for an institution in which they may earn a livlihood instead of begging in the streets. There is, he said, an asylum for the blind in the State but only persons under 21 years of age, natives of the State, are admitted. Deaf mutes are taken care of, and so are inebriates, but the blind man's only refuge is the hospital.

Robert Humphreys of Bartow county, Ky., jealous of his wife peering through his bedroom, and saw what he fancied the head of a man in bed. He fired and fled. It was his own child that he killed. He was sentenced to death; but before the day of the hanging he escaped. This was twelve years ago. Three months ago several Bartow county, men, prospecting in Catoosa county, found him working under an assumed name, within a day's walk of the scene of his crime. He was taken back to be resentenced. The Commission of Lunacy has just declared him hopelessly insane, and he has been sent to the State asylum.

The London Tablet says: The ordinary expenses of the Holy See may be put down at about 5,000,000 francs, and certain other expenses may bring the total up to 7,000,000. Formerly the Holy Father drew from the States of the Church an annual civil list of 3,210,000 francs, which employed in the maintenance of the court, of the Cardinals residing in Curia, of the personnel of the Nunciatures, the various congregations, &c. That is the reason why the Italian Government offered Pius IX. the annual state income of 3,200,000 francs. Since the seizure of the Papal States, many other expenses, which formerly were met by other means, have to be undertaken by the Pope's civil list. Leo XIII., moreover, spends about 500,000 francs in alms each year.

THE CHOLERA.

Thousands of Persons Fleeing from the Plague-Stricken Cities.

A MILLIONAIRE DIES FROM THE DISEASE.

TOULON, July 4.—The death of a well-known millionaire from cholera to-day day created intense excitement and consternation, and caused the immediate flight of 6,000 people from the city. Yesterday an entire family fled in such haste that they did not even close the doors of their residence, leaving all their possessions unguarded. Everything is in confusion and business is entirely suspended. The newspapers are unsaleable, nobody taking sufficient interest in them to read them, and the publishers are thinking of suspending their issue until the alarmed state of feeling subsides.

The United States Consul at Marseilles telegraphs: The situation is worse at Toulon than reported. The deaths average ten daily. There were thirteen yesterday which were conceded to be Asiatic cholera. The epidemic is stationary at Marseilles. There were six deaths on Friday, eight on Saturday, four on Sunday and five on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Some of these cases are apparently Asiatic, but the remainder are infantum or sporadic. There are twelve cases at the special hospital. Many thousands have left the interior. The steamer Burgundia sailed for New York on Sunday without passengers. No emigrants to the States are reported.

THE SPIROMETER GIVEN FREE.

The Above Offer Holds Good for this Visit Only.

TO THE MEDICAL PROFESSION AND SUFFERERS FROM CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, WEAK LUNGS AND CONSUMPTION.

My motive is not one of money only, but for science and the good of suffering humanity.

To convince the public and prove to the sceptical that the Spirometer is the best instrument ever invented for the treatment of diseases of the air passages, and that it is all I have ever claimed for it, anyone suffering from the above named diseases who call at the Dafoe House, Monday or Tuesday, July the 14th or 15th, 1884, and consult the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, will be given a spirometer free the medicines alone to be paid for. I do this to show the confidence I have in the treatment, and to convince the medical profession and others who are still sceptical (notwithstanding the thousands of people who have been cured by it) that the Spirometer I have invented and the medicines and treatment prescribed by the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute are curing and will cure a larger percentage of these diseases than any other treatment in the world.

If impossible to call upon the surgeons during their visit to your city, write for International News and List of Questions.

WHAT WOMAN CAN DO.

She can talk faster than a man can hear.

She can say 'No' and stick to it for all time.

She can also say 'No' in such a low, soft voice that it means 'Yes.'

She can sharpen a lead pencil if you give her plenty of time and plenty of pencils.

She can eat her breakfast in bed and enjoy it. This is something that no man can do.

She can see in a great, big, selfish hulk qualities which he does not and never did possess.

She can dance all night in a pair of shoes two sizes too small for her and enjoy every minute of the time.

She can pass a display window of a dry goods store without stopping—if she is running to catch a train.

She can appreciate a kiss from her husband seventy-five years after the marriage ceremony has taken place.

She can walk half the night with a colicky baby in her arms without once expressing a desire to murder the infant.

She can suffer neglect and abuse for years, which one touch of kindness of consideration will drive from her recollection.

She can go to church and afterwards tell you what every woman in the congregation had on, and in some rare instances can give a faint idea of what the text was.

She can look her husband square in the eye when he tells her some cock-and-bull story about being 'detained at the office,' without betraying in the least that she knows him to be a colossal liar.

This is what Haines & Lockett are continually hearing from their customers who bought their gent's fine hand made boots or low shoes. They are determinded to keep an article which will please in style and give satisfaction in the wear.

W. A. Duff, President of the Mutual Marriage Aid Association, who was arrested at Hamilton and taken to Brighton for trial on a charge of fraud, has been discharged. He has telegraphed instructions to enter a suit against Robert Symington, of Brighton, for $5,000 damages for false arrest. It was on the complaint of Symington that Duff was taken to Brighton.

The brigade camp at Trenton was inspected yesterday forenoon by Col. Villers, D. A. G., who expressed himself well pleased with the efficiency of the men. In the evening the officers of the camp were entertained by the local magnates at a dinner. Early this morning the battalions began making preparations for home, but before leaving the tents the soldiers got a drenching by the rain. No. 1 Company of the 49th Battalion returned to the city this afternoon.

STOCKS. — The Felt hat market in Belleville at present is in an excited state prices running low on account of the very large stocks on hand. Desirable styles are going off fast at Hyman's at 15 per cent. discounts, while those not quite so good are going off at very low rates. Should the demand so continue for a couple of weeks stocks will all be cleared out. The largest and best assorted stock we find is held by S. A. Hyman.

SPORTING NEWS.

A Canadian Rugby Foot Ball Union has been formed in Toronto.

The second twelve of the Okas will play a match here next Friday afternoon with the Trenton lacrosse club.

It is probable that a lacrosse match between the Peterboros and the Okas will be played here on Thursday the 10th. A good game may be expected. The Peterboro' club play the Metropolitans of Ottawa at Brockville on Wednesday.

At Oak Point yesterday the following started in the single-scull race, three miles: Jas. H. Riley, Saratoga; Jas. A. Ten Eyck, Peekskill; Geo. W. Lee, Newark, N. J.; W. W. Kanouth Brooklyn; Fred. W. Plaisted, Boston. Ten Eyck won in 24 12, Lee 2nd, Plaisted 3rd.

All arrangemements have been completed for the trip to New York of a Toronto Lacrosse Club, twelve, with the view mainly of playing the United States lacrosse team on their return from Europe. The meeting between the champion team of Canada and the representative twelve of the United States ought to be interesting.

To-Day's Probabilities.

ALWAYS PROMPT IN ACTION.

This is just what every sufferer wants—prompt action, and rapid relief from pain. The grandest discovery of the age, the great pain cure, is Polson's NERVALINE—prompt, powerful, pleasant to the taste, and yet so pure that it may be given to the youngest infant. Try a 10 cent sample bottle, which you can purchase at any drug store. Nervaline the great, sure, and prompt pain cure. The large bottles are only 25 cents.

A PAINFUL OCCURRENCE.

Some of the most painful sufferings that afflict mortals occur from rheumatism. Either the acute or chronic form may be eradicated from the blood by an early use of the grand purifying system renovator, Burdock Blood Bitters.

A BAD INFIRMITY.

The loss of the sense of hearing is both annoying and dangerous. Those suffering from deafness should try Hagyard's Yellow Oil according to directions. This invaluable household remedy cured John Clark, of Millbridge, Ontario, restoring his hearing in one week.

LOCAL.

At John Street Presbyterian Church to-morrow, Rev. D. Mitchell, pastor, will preach at 11 a.m., and Rev. Prof. Badgley at 7 p.m.

GENERAL.

Rev. R. A. Bilkey, of Toronto, has resigned the charge of Christ Church (Reformed Episcopal). Bishop Wilson will officiate till the pulpit is supplied.

The Pan-Presbyterian Council discussed "Danger to Protestantism from the revival of ritualism." The Council has concluded and adjourned to meet in London in 1888.

At the R. C. Cathedral in New York the other day Mgr. Quinn made an appeal for Catholic work in Japan. After two and a half centuries of total exclusion of missionaries, he said, 15,000 persons still professed the Catholic faith in that country.

While Rev. Mr. Weese was delivering an address in the M. E. Church, Wolfe Island, he struck the lamp on the desk and knocked it over. The oil ignited and a panic ensued, in which, fortunately, no one was injured. The flames were put out before much damage was done.

WEDDING BELLS.

The marriage of Rev. W. P. Ferguson, B. A., to Miss Addie, eldest daughter of Mr. Lewis Cruikshank, passed off very quietly at Trenton on Thursday. Only a few near relatives had been invited to witness the ceremony, which was performed at 3 p.m. by the Rev. D. W. Couch, pastor of Beekman Hill Church, New York, assisted by the Rev. John Ferguson, father of the groom. Miss Addie entered the parlor on her father's arm attended by the following bridesmaids; - Miss Maggie Cruikshank, Miss Annie Fralick and Miss Nellie Fralick. The bride was attired in dark colored satin with pink roses. The bridesmaids were dressed in dark colored satins, except Miss Cruikshank, who wore white with silver ornaments. After dinner the happy pair took the evening train for Toronto and intend taking an extensive trip. Both the groom and the bride have already attained an enviable reputation for their brilliant success. Mr. Ferguson is a gold medalist in classics of Albert University Belleville, a minister of the Methodist Episcopal church and under appointment as missionary to China for which country he intends starting in September. Miss Cruikshank is a graduate in music of Alexandra college and has achieved admirable success as a music teacher. The young couple have the best wishes for a happy and prosperous life.

THE STORM.

A thunderstorm broke over the city yesterday afternoon; one of the heaviest of the season. The lightning was vivid and the thunder very close. It cleared up in the evening, but poured again during the night and between ten and eleven to-day again the downpour was great, accompanied by thunder and lightning.

The lightning yesterday struck a large white brick tenement house owned by Messrs. Pitcesthly & Kelso, damaging it about $200. The house was occupied by Messrs. Fanning, Hinchey and Johnston. The lightning struck the chimney near the east end, and tearing down the brick, ran to the ground, the electric fluid descending through the conductor pipe on each side of the building. The sidewalk was torn up. In front of Mrs. Hinchey's a large portion of the verandah was destroyed and in the rear large holes were made in the yard. A young man named Enright, and a daughter of Mr. Joseph Johnston, who were sitting at the window at the time, were knocked to the floor by the shock but they soon recovered. In Mrs. Hinchey's apartment, and also in Mr. Walter Fanning's, the lightning tore off the lath and plaster in some of the rooms on the second story. The inmates of the whole dwelling had a very narrow escape.

SHE MEANT YES.

"O maiden fair, why so dejected?
Pray tell me why this deep distress.
"Pray do," sighed he.
"Why, you proposed so unexpected,
That I said 'no' when I meant 'yes'—
Boo-hoo!" cried she.

Disease Gathers Strength as it advances. Annihilate it at its birth. When the bowels become sluggish, digestion feeble, or the liver torpid, they should be aroused and stimulated with Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, a medicine foremost in usefulness among alteratives. It should not be abandoned if an immediate cure is not effected, but be used as it deserves systematically and with persistence. It will then prove that it is thorough.

CHARLIE ROSS AGAIN.

The painful romance of the lost Charlie Rross is kept alive from time to time by reported returns of the missing boy. The other morning a lad, thirteen years of age, called at the residence of Mr. Ross, in Germantown, Pa., and told a story which bore the appearance of truth, and has led many people to believe him to be the missing son. He described his kidnapping by gipsies some ten years ago and his recent escape from the gang in Austin, Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Ross, who at once saw that the lad was not their son, are nevertheless much affected by youngster's story.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

THE TABERNACLE PULPIT.

SIR:—Kindly allow me to say I do not believe Rev. Mr. McVety would assent to the statement Mr. Watson attributes to him regarding his health in connection with the Tabernacle, or that Conference so interpreted his case, else why did they offer him the fevers generally surrounding Madoc in exchange for the health of Belleville. A large portion of Mr. McVety's late congregation protests against the injustice done him and them by the change proposed by Conference, and in consequence an effort is to be made to retain our late pastor another year. It is hoped such action will be taken as is necessary to attain this end.

A HIGH PRICED DENTIST.

Ex-President Blanco Presented with a Bill for $7,000.

New York World.

When Gen. Guzman Blanco, the ex-President of the Venezuelan Republic, was a guest at the Windsor hotel during his recent visit to this city, his wife wished to have her teeth attended to. Dr. Atkinson, of No. 41 East Ninth street, was recommended to her and attended her for four days, after which he pronounced her teeth to be in as good condition as his art could make them. A week later the dentist sent Gen. Blanco his bill, which amounted to $7,000. The General, thinking that there was some mistake, wrote to Dr. Atkinson and received a reply that no mistake had been made, and demanded immediate payment. The General, after taking legal advice, offered, it is said, $1,000 in settlement of the bill, which was refused. Being obliged to leave for Venezuela he placed a large sum of money in the hands of a mercantile firm, with instructions to obtain an amicable settlement if possible, if not to resist payment of the bill in the courts.

A reporter called on Coulton, Bliss & Dallet, at No 135 Pearl street, which was the firm representing Gen. Blanco, Mr. Boulton, the senior member, said that the general was greatly annoyed at this matter occurring at the end of a visit which he had greatly enjoyed, and desired to have the affair amicably arranged. If that was impossible the courts would be appealed to, and then it would become public property.

Atkinson was seen at No. 41 East Ninth Street. The reporter said that he had come to obtain the dentist's version of the bill the latter had sent to Gen. Blanco.

'What has the papers to do with my business?' angrily replied the high-priced dentist, retreating to his operating-room.

'My father thinks it would be unprofessional to say anything about it,' said his son, who was present. 'He is a great stickler for professional etiquette, you know.'

TABLE DECORATION.

The attempts to introduce too much color into dinner table decorations are declining. The finest white demask still holds the preference, and the centre piece of plush or velvet under lace is little used now. Fewer flowers too are seen, and those in low forms. The latest fashion in ice cream plates is the Bohemian glass, in oval form with small handles. Menu cards, hand painted, hold the preference, but many are seen on tinted cardboard, with engraved vignette in one corner and the date in another.

FLUID LIGHTNING.

WIFE—What's the matter now John.

HUSBAND—Oh, that neuralgea and toothache near kill me.

WIFE—Why don't you go to A. L. Geen's Wholesale and Retail Drug Store and get a and get a bottle of Fluid Lightning, you know it cures all such things as tooth ache, neuralgea, headache, lumbago, earache, sore throat etc. It gives instant relief.

It removes wrinkles and softens the skin. The regular use of MURRAY & LANMAN'S FLORIDA WATER at the toilet tends to prevent and remove wrinkles, the softness of the skin produced by its taking away the natural inclination of the cuticle to form into ridges and furrows.

THE CONSULTING SURGEON

—OF THE—

Medical & Surgical Association of Canada

(MAIL BUILDING, TORONTO, ONT.)

Will be at the DAFOE HOUSE, Belleville,

On SATURDAY, SUNDAY and MONDAY, JULY 5th, 6th and 7th,

TO CONFER AND ADVISE WITH THOSE WHO MAY BE AFFLICTED WITH ANY FORM OF CHRONIC DISEASE OR DEFORMITY.

THIS IS A PURELY CANADIAN INSTITUTION

and is the only one of the kind in Canada. It employs a large staff of eminent Specialists, and is the most extensive Medical Institution in America. Besides their large establishment in Toronto, this Association now owns "Springbank," St. Catharines, the most complete Sanitarium on the Continent.

The Medical and Surgical Association of Canada has been established, with offices in the Mail building, Toronto, for the exclusive treatment of chronic diseases and deformities. It is connected with no other institution of a like character in the United States or other foreign country, but is established in Canada, by Canadians, to do business in Canada.

OUR STAFF OF SPECIALISTS.

The professional gentlemen employed by this Association are Canadians by birth and education, graduates of Canadian Medical Colleges of high standing, who have spent many years in the practice of their profession as "regulars," and who have perfected themselves in their various specialties in Europe and America. We have gathered together a staff of eminent specialists such as no other institution of a like character on this continent employs. Every case we treat is laid before this staff, discussed and the mode of treatment decided upon and thus the combined experience of these professional gentlemen is brought to bear upon individual cases, ensuring the patient such treatment as the family physician, acting by himself, cannot be expected to furnish.

OUR REMEDIES AND APPLIANCES.

In order that we may have the best and purest drugs to aid us in our work, and to avoid adulterated goods, we manufacture our special remedies in our own laboratory, where all our prescriptions are compounded under the directions of competent chemists, thus assuring absolute accuracy and certainty as to quality. we buy only the best and the purest and best medicines and chemicals from the most reputable manufacturing druggists and pharmacists. Another feature of our Association is the manufacturing of ARTIFICIAL LEGS AND ARMS, ELECTRIC INSTRUMENTS AND SURGICAL APPLIANCES, and everything necessary for the successful treatment of deformities of whatever nature. We manufacture the article ourselves in our own manufactory, which is supplied with all the necessary machinery, and experienced workmen to turn out the very best of work. We take all measurements (or instruct the patient to do it) and manufacture the article ourselves and guarrantee perfection in every respect.

WHAT KIND OF CASES WE TREAT.

We can successfully treat all kinds of chronic diseases and deformities. We are enabled to do this by employing a number of physicians who, by proper training and experience, have attained the highest degree of skill proficiency in their respective specialties. In addition to this advantage we have every facility that science affords and that money can buy in the way of instruments, appliances, remedies, etc. We are thus prepared to give relief to those who treat with us no matter what their disease may be or the nature of their deformity, or what doctors have failed to cure them. If you are afflicted with Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Nervous Debility, Heart Disease, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Dyspepsia, Disease of the Liver, Kidney's, Bladder or Stomach Rupture, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Deafness, Loss of Sight Cross Eyes, Crooked Limbs, Spinal Curvature, Hip Joint Disease, Club Foot, or any other kind of Chronic Disease, or deformity, call on or write us and we will give you an honest and and candid opinion free of charge. IF WE CAN DO NO GOOD WE WILL CANDIDLY SAY SO AS WE TREAT NO CASE UNLESS THERE IS A STRONG PROBABILITY OF A CURE OR PERMANENT BENEFIT.

WE CANNOT AFFORD TO DECEIVE.

any more than a merchant or manufacturer can hope to succeed by misrepresenting his wares. In all our dealings we will be candid, honest and straightforward, and in no way will we attempt to deceive the public and especially those who have trouble enough to bear without having deceit practiced upon them.

REMEMBER

This is a purely Canadian institution, located in the midst of the people it is dealing with, AND HAS COME TO STAY, and is not in Canada to-day and in the United States to-morrow. People will therefore have no trouble in finding us when they want us.

COST OF TREATMENT

The course of treatment of course varies according to the nature of the complaint, what surgical appliances may be required, etc., but in no case will it be placed beyond the patient's ability to pay. In this way as well as in other respects we shall endeavor to keep the scales of justice evenly balanced. Widows, orphans, working girls and the very poor in this world's goods will be treated at exceptionally low figures. If you cannot come to consult personally write to our home office in Toronto, giving full details of your case, and we will give you our honest and candid opinion, together with all information as to cost, etc. All information cheerfully furnished free of charge. Medical treatment can be furnished by correspondence and express.

If you are afflicted with any form of chronic disease or deformity call on our Consulting Surgeon at the Dafoe House on Saturday, Sunday or Monday, or write the head office at Toronto, and you will receive an honest and candid opinion.

CONSULTATION FREE.

GOLDEN THOUGHTS.

It is not death that makes the myrtyr, but the cause.

There is no power of genius that can do the work of toil.

True merit is like a river, the deeper it is the less noise it makes.

The secret of happiness is never allow your energies to stagnate.

We ought not to judge of men's merits by the use they make of them.

The truly valiant dare everything but doing any other body an injury.

The rays of happiness, like those of light, are colorless and unbroken.

He surely is in want of another's patience who has none of his own.

There is a majesty in simplicity which is far above the quaintness of wit.

Religion is not a thing of noise and spasm but of silent self-sacrifice and quiet growth.

There is always a few who believe in the quadrature of the circle and the perpetual motion.

Life consists of the alternative process of learning and unlearning; but it is often wiser to unlearn than to learn.

Never fear to bring the sumblimest motive to the smallest duty and infinite comfort to the smallest trouble.

Who is wise? he that learns from every one.
Who is powerful? he that governs his passions.
Who is rich? he that is content.

PERSONAL.

This paper makes a practice to examine closely and reject all matters of such a character as could be in any way objectionable to our readers, but the following, drawing as it does your notice the name of and article of sterling merit, known throughout the land as the only sure and non-poisonous remedy for corns, is welcome to a place in our columns. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor now finds its way to nearly every part of the world, which is itself a guarrantee of its merit. We advise our readers to buy it, and when purchasing to get Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Polson & Co., Kingston, propre.

HORSFORD'S ACID PHOSPHATE

A GOOD THING.

Dr. Adam Miller, Chicago Ill., says: "I have recommended Horsford's Acid Phosphate to my patients, and have received very favorable reports. It is one of the very few really valuable preparations now offered to the afflicted. In a practice of thirty-five years I have found a few good things and this is one of them.

AN END TO BONE SCRAPING.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctor told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used instead, 3 bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve and my leg is now sound and well.

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c per box by R. Templeton.

A WIDE RANGE OF USEFULNESS.

The great household remedy so popular with the people—Hagyard's Yellow Oil—is alike valuable for external and internal use, curing rheumatism, colds, sore throat, croop, frost bites, burns, bruises, and all lameness and soreness of the flesh.

SPRING CLEANING.

Every good housewife will renovate the entire house at least every Spring and Fall. Our systems often need renovating also, and there is nothing better to make pure blood and cleanse, and regulate all the secretations than Burdock Blood Bitters, preventing diseases incidental to the season's changes.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Invalids distracted by indigestion and discouraged in their search for its remedy should make a trial of this never-failing medicine. A lady long a martyr to dyspeptic tortures, writes that Holloway's Pills made her feel as if a burden had been taken off her. Her spirits formerly low, have greatly improved; her capricious appetite has given place to that of healthy hunger; her dull, sick headache has departed, and gradually so marvellous a change has been effected that she is altogether a new creature, and again fit for her duties. These pills may be administered with safety to the most delicate. They never act harshly, nor do they ever induce weakness; they rightly direct deranged, and control excessive action.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally and the Ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceeding efficacious. When influenza is epidemic this treatment is the easiest, safest, and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free, without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of saving suffering when any one is afflicted with cold, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints by which so many persons are seriously and permanently afflicted in most countries.

LOVE'S LOTTERY
OR,
THE RIVAL SISTERS.

Why did he say the latter words? They hardened all the softness that was in her.

Did she not hate and envy Pauline Beauchamp?

'I did,' she rejoined coolly; 'it was true.'

'What danger?' he inquired.

'It is a poor merchant,' she smiled, scornfully, who gives and does not sell his wares.'

'You mean you desire to sell. If there be truth in your words name your price.'

She paused, then replied a little tremulously.

'Your love.'

He looked at her surprised at her audacity, and with a glance of loathing, turned towards the door,

'Stop,' she said again staying him. 'If not your love at least your friendship.'

'Equally possible,' he remarked icily. 'Before there is friendship there must be respect. Let the danger if danger there be, come; I can not stop to buy the knowledge at such a price.'

Nellie Montmorency watched him until he reached the door, when her passion augmented by his scorn, his pity, and all hope of conquering him dying within her darting forward, she flung herself at his feet, clasped his knee in her arms, and raising her face, full of distress, and love to his Few men could have resisted such a lovely picture.

Eustace Belmore was among the few.

He loved more purely Pauline Beauchamp.

She was his shield in this moment of temptation.

'Rise, Jane Murdock,' he said mournfully; 'you disgrace yourself while you humiliate me.'

'Disgrace!' she exclaimed with a bitter laugh. 'Is that possible now? Listen and do not look upon me thus; only take my hand, only banish that glance of loathing, only press once—only once—your lips to mine, Eustace Belmore, and say you forgive the past, and what I know you shall.'

'Actress,' he ejaculated, scarcely fearful of her supposed arts and fascination, 'I tell you I understand the ruse of your letter; I divine your purpose, while—miserable girl—for your soul, I pity you, I think of your danger not mine—that is sadly real; I place no belief in the other. Farewell; may we never cross each other's path again.'

Abruptly, before she knew his intent, he had loosed her arms, opened the door and was gone.

'Come back,' shrieked the actress, 'come back and you shall know all, even to the name of your rival. Eustace Belmore despise, scorn, but only listen for your own sake, for hers, Pauline Beauchamp's. Beware of Stuart Loring.

He had not heard.

Before the sentence was finished the hall door banged.

As the sound reached the actress's ear, with a loud scream she fell insensible upon the carpet,

Ten minutes later the maid was summoned from the side of her mistress whom she had conveyed to bed and restored, to the door.

The visitor was Stuart Loring.

'My mistress has not yet risen, sir,' the maid demurely responded, to his desire to see Nellie.'

'Not risen?'

'No, sir; she had a supper last night, and was up late. Indeed, sir, I might almost say she's only just gone to bed. She's asleep, sir, and can't see no one.

The American quitted the house.

'Is that girl speaking the truth?' he reflected knitting his brows. 'Surely yes; yet I could have declared it was Belmore in that cab. If I was mistaken, then he has rejected the actress appointment; a brave man, and well for her he has. She really threatens to be dangerous; I must be on my guard,'

Every word that passed between the American and the maid had been overheard by Nellie Montmorency, standing on the landing above.

When he had gone she crept back to bed a hard vindictive expression on her face.

'I will give up love, I will give up everything, but my hate for that man,' she ejaculated; I will save Eustace Belmore, and even that girl, if only I can be revenged upon my enemy Stuart Loring.,

CHAPTER XIII.
GEUM REMOVES STUART LORING'S "SOLE OBSTACLE."

As may be imagined Eustace Belmore heard with no pleasurable feeling of his betrothed's intention to visit her native land.

He knew not why, but he feared being so far separated, and would have urged yet more strongly against it than he ever did but for a second telegram, which more emphatically urged the sisters' presence than had the first.

This, and the young girls' desire to look once again upon their father's estate before it went to strangers, prevented his objections having effect.

Indeed, there were three against him, for, after that second telegram, Lady Dudley herself was desirous her nieces should go.

Every one who walks the streets of a great city, and scans with an intelligent eye the colorless faces of more than fifty per cent of the people he meets, can easily agree with us in the statement, that this age which makes such drafts upon the working energies the greater part of men in the intense pursuit of business, has destroyed in a proportionate degree the animal health and robust condition. Nature in its stage of exhaustion, cannot be restored of its self but requires some stimulating tonic to strengthen and keep the system in regular order, such in Northrup and Lyman's Quinine Wine we have the exact remedy required. The peculiar operation of this medicine, in case of general debility and nervous prostration, has undergone long and close observation, and it is believed it will never of properly and judiciously administered. Prepared by Northrup & Lyman, Toronto, and sold by all druggists.

IMPORTANT TO RUPTURED PERSONS
The Excelsior Rupture Treatment was introduced to the American people several years ago in such a manner as to completely secure the confidence of the whole nation. The mode of introduction was by furnishing the remedy to those afflicted with Hernia in any of its various forms and collecting no pay until a permanent cure was effected. In this way the treatment gained world wide reputation on its own merits, never failing to cure any reducible Hernia. The Company has at the solicitation of thousands placed the remedy on sale by all druggists both wholesale and retail, in the United States, Canada and England. In this way bringing it within the reach of all classes at a trifling cost compared with the benefit which are derived from the use of the treatment. Ask your druggist for a free book on rupture or send 6 cts. for one to the Excelsior Rupture Cure M'f'g Co., Ogdensburg, N. Y.

SCIENCE.
To increase the weight of the body invigorate the system, revitalize the exhausted and depressed, is the true object sought by medical science. The digestive organs must be in a healthy condition if we wish to secure this desired result, and no remedy yet discovered has ever proved so effectual in accomplishing this as FLAX-SEED EMULSION COMP. It contains Phosphorus to build up the nervous system and all the fat producing properties of Flaxseed to enrich the blood and supply the animal economy with the elements for reconstruction.
Use the imperial Kidney and Liver Cure—price 50c.
The above remedies are sold in Belleville by James Clarke Co. and R. Carmichael druggists.

ROBLIN HOUSE,

Late Douglas House.

As the late proprietor of the Douglas House has removed to other premises and called it the New Douglas House, I beg to notify the public that I have reopened the Douglas House myself, under the name of the "ROBLIN HOUSE." As the house has always had the name of a First-Class Hotel, I shall spare no pains to make it as popular as it ever was. The above is pleasantly situated in the central part of the city, and is a very desirable place for Families and the Public generally. It has been thoroughly renovated and furnished with new furniture. A cordial invitation is given to all old patrons of the Douglas House, and all new ones who will favor me with a call.

Vital Questions.!

Ask the most eminent physician

Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?

And they will tell you unhesitatingly "Some form of Hops! ! !"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians: "What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, debetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—

"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu!"

Ask the same physicians

"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, billousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.," and they will tell you:

Mandrake! or Dandelion !"

Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable.

And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is

Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

CHAPTER II.

"Patients

"Almost dead or nearly dying"

For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.

Women have gone nearly crazy ! ! ! !

From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefullness, and various diseases peculiar to women.

People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic, or suffering from scrofula.

Erysipelas!

"Saltrheum, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact, almost all diseases frail"

Nature is heir to

Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY

is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co's. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "28 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 28, 1882.

"Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.
Yours truly, W. M. PHILLIPS."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the SARSAPARILLA in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt., Oct. [illegible]
Yours gratefully,

NO PASSES ON THAT LINE.

HOW SHERIDAN AND LINCOLN HAD TO PAY THEIR FARE.

"You know that Sheridan and Lincoln passed through the city a short time ago going West on a fishing excursion, don't you? Well, when Phil and Bob struck Pittsburg they boarded the limited on the Fort Wayne, bound West. Nothing happened till the conductor came around. Shortly after entering the ticket puncher reached the quarter of the two travellers and politely accosted them with "Tickets please" The little bullet headed, red faced gentleman, who seemed to be master of the ceremonies, produced his wallet, and handed the conductor an envelope. The conductor glanced at the paper he found inside, and quietly remarked:

"No passes are taken on this train."

"The passes are regular. They were signed by the president," replied the little fellow growing redder in the face.

"I have my orders, and I am compelled to obey them." calmly replied the conductor.

"Perhaps you don't know who I am. I am Gen. Sheridan."

"Well, Gen. Sheridan, I must obey orders. You and your friend must pay fare before we reach Rochester, or I will be compelled to stop the train and put you off there.'

"By this time the passengers within earshot of the train had became interested, and the word passed until all knew that the bearers of the pass were none other than Gen. Sheridan and Secretary of War Lincoln. The conductor passed on through the car, and the distinguished deadheads probably thought everything was settled. But for once in his life Little Phil met a man as stubborn as he is. In a short time the car slackened, and before it came to a dead stop the conductor re-entered the car, walked up to General Sheridan, gently tapped him on the shoulder and said:

"Well, General, we are at Rochester!"

"Sheridan was taken aback, and Lincoln looked annoyed. The General tried to argue the case with the conductor, but the official cut him short with the curt statement:

"We have no time for argument General this train is compelled to be on time. Please pay your fare or leave the car."

By this time Sheridan's face was crimsoned. He muttered something, but finally produced his wallet and paid the fare. After settling he asked the conductor for his name. The ticket puncher complied with the request and watched the angered warrior make the memorandum.

"I'll report the matter to the president, sir.'

'Very well, General' replied the train pilot as he gave the sign to go ahead and resumed the duties of his office.

'Did Sheridan report the affair?' asked the companion of the narrator of the above incident.

'Yes, indeed. A few days ago he received the money and probably an apoligy for the conductor's rudeness.'

'And what became of the conductor?'

'Oh, he's all right. He'll probably be promoted.'—Pittsburg Despatch.

WHAT WOMAN CAN DO.

She can in twenty minutes put three children to bed, bring her husband his dressing gown and slippers, seat him in the easiest chair in the house, after which she will wait patiently until 11 o'clock for a glance at the newspaper.

She can go into convulsions at the sight of a mouse, and five minutes later she can listen to her husband's story of his financial ruin with a loving smile on her face and with a courage in heart that come not with in the knowledge of men.

She can—but what's the use? A woman can do anything or everything and do it well. She can do more in a minute than a man can do in an hour, and do it better. She can make the alleged lords of creation bow down to her own sweet will, and they will never know it.

It removes wrinkles and softens the skin. The regular use of MURRAY & LANMAN'S FLORIDA WATER at the toilet tends to prevent and remove wrinkles, the softness of the skin produced by its taking away the natural inclination of the cuticle to form into ridges and furrows.

POTASH.

Iodide of Potassum is one of the strongest of the minerals used in medicine, and has produced much suffering in the world. Taken for a long time in large doses, it dries up the gastric juices, impairs digestion, the stomach refuses food, and the patient declines in health and weight. Persons with Blood or Skin Diseases should be careful how they take those mineral poisons, as in most instances the effect of them is to almost permanently impair the constitution. To take the place of these poisons we offer you a safe, sure' prompt, and permanent relief from your troubles Shaker Blood Syrup is entirely a vegetable preparation, and easy to convince you of its merit.

I have cured permanently Blood Taint in the third generation by the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, after I had most signally failed with Mercury and Potash. Dr. Smith, Bangor, Pa.

For years I was afflicted with Dry Tetter of the most obstinate type. Was treated by many of the best physicians; took quantities of mercury, potash, and arsenic, which, instead of curing the Tetter crippled me up with mineral poison and rheumatism. The tetter continued to grow worse, and the itching almost made me crazy. In this condition I was induced to take Shaker Blood Syrup, and the result was as astonishing as Gratifying. In a few months teh Tetter was entirely well, the Mercurial Poisoning all out of my system, and I was a well man—and due only to Shaker Blood Syrup. All like sufferers should take it.

THE DAILY ONTARIO.

THE POLICE MAGISTRACY.

No news will be more acceptable to the people of Belleville and Hastings than to be told that the office of Police Magistrate of Belleville is to be filled by such a man as Mr. John J. B. Flint. The late Mr Holden was noted for his even-handed justice and his successor will have this reputation to sustain. He receives the sword of justice bright and unstained, and trustful are we that he will wield it in a bold and impartial spirit. Mr. Flint accepts office with the confidence of the people of the city who once honored him by placing him in the Chief Magistrate's chair. He is a man possessed of those rare and attractive qualities which insure him the admiration and regard of all who know him. Integrity of character joined with acknowledged ability makes it certain that the responsible duties of a judge will be discharged faithfully and efficiently. We trust that Mr. Flint will be long spared to enjoy the office which we are sure he accepts with the good will of all reputable citizens.

Mr. Flint began to practice law in the Fall of 1862, and in 1866 went into partnership with Mr. D. B. Robertson, a connection which was dissolved in 1875. In 1878 he formed a partnership with the late Mr. Jellett, and with Mr. G.J. Sherry in 1882. He was appointed Solicitor for the Bank of Commerce. Mr. Flint was in the Town Council for a number of years and was elected to the Chief-Magistracy in 1872. A prominent member of the Reform party Mr. Flint has been President of the Reform Association for a number of years, and chairman of the Central Committee in all the elections for the past dozen years. He is at present President of the Hastings Reform Club, of the Legal and Literary Society, Vice-President of the Reform Association and of the Historical Society; a member of the Advisory Board of the Women's Christian Association and lecturer on Commercial law in the Ontario Commercial College.

HOW GRITS ARE DEFEATED.

The defeat of Sir Albert Smith in the general elections of 1882, for Westmoreland county, N. B., was considered a great victory and the triumph of one policy over another. But a little transaction is being brought to light in a law suit—Harris v. Harris—now being tried at St. John, which reveals some of the inwardness of the election. Sir Albert, Reform candidate was opposed by Mr. Josiah Wood, the Conservative standard bearer. The suit is a quarrel with the fold of the Tory camp. The defendant in an affidavit sets out :—

"That in the month of June, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and eight two, there was a General Election held of persons to serve in the Parliament of the Dominion of Canada, as representatives of the different constituencies of the said Dominion, that at such election two persons, that is to say, Sir Albert James Smith, Knight, and Josiah Wood, Esq., were respectively candidates for the representation in such Parliament of the County of Westmorland, and that the plaintiffs, before such election, as and being agents of, and for the said Josiah Wood, in consideration that the defendant would support and assist said Josiah Wood, in his said candidature, and would vote for him at such election and use his influence to procure other votes for him thereat, paid the said defendant four hundred dollars and upwards to enable the defendant to discharge and satisfy a debt owing from the defendant to the said Sir Albert James Smith, and then and there took from the defendant a certain promissory note made by the defendant for the amount so paid to the defendant as aforesaid, payable to the plaintiffs or order."

"I was distinctly assured by said John L. Harris, at the time the said money was paid to me to pay Sir Albert J. Smith, that I would not be asked for it at any time, but that it was a gift made to me for my vote and influence at the election, and on these terms only I took it."

And his wife in regard to the payment of the money swore in her affidavit as follows :—

That a short time previous to the polling day in such election, the said plaintiff, John L. Harris, came to my husband's house and asked me to use my influence with my husband to induce him to vote and work for Josiah Wood, one of the candidates at such election, and to canvass for him, and in order to procure my influence in this way, the said John L. Harris paid me a sum of money as a gift, and I did after receiving the said gift use my influence with said defendant, as requested. That it was distinctly stated by my said husband that he would not accept said money, or oppose Sir A. J. Smith, unless it was given him absolutely, as he had reason to believe said Smith would not press him for it.

These were some of the means used to defeat the Reform candidate. As usual the electorale was debauched and money was relied upon as the lever which was to raise Mr. Wood into Parliament.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure, and effectual.

James Cullan, Pool's Island, N. F., writes: I have been watching the progress of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil since its introduction to this place and with much pleasure state that my anticipations of its success have been fully realized, it having cured me of bronchitis and soreness of nose; while not a few of my rheumatic neighbors, (one old lady in particular) pronounce it to be the best article of its kind that has ever been brought before the public. Your medicine does not require any one to be a sponsor, but if you wish me to act as such, I shall be only too happy to have my name connected with your prosperous child.

The cholera out-break in France is of a serious nature and there is nothing to prevent it coming across the Atlantic though perhaps such a visitation may be unlikely. The town or city which keeps itself clean can least dread a scourge of this kind and well at all times for that municipality where the conditions are least favorable to the spread of contagious diseases. No warning however distant, which serves to make us more mindful of sanitary precautions should be neglected.

SCHOOLS IN NORTH HASTINGS

Inspector Mackintosh's Report to the County Council.

To the Warden and Members of the Municipal Council of Hastings.

GENTLEMEN :

I have the honor to present herewith for your consideration my report on the Public Schools of North Hastings, for the year 1883.

SCHOOLS.

The number of schools and departments in operation was 96, taught in 88 school houses, 13 of which were brick, 7 stone, 42 frame and 26 log.

QUALIFICATIONS OF TEACHERS.

In these schools there were employed 3 teachers who held Provincial First Class, 22 with Provincial Second Class, 38 with County Third Class, and 33 with Special Certificates.

SALARIES.

The average salaries paid were as follows:

	Male Teachers.	Female Teachers
Bangor, Wicklow and McClure	$300.00	$232 00
Carlow and Mayo	325.00	224.00
Dungannon and Faraday		223.60
Huntingdon	443 75	286.66
Madoc	356.25	279.60
Marmora and Lake	377.50	249.28
Monteagle and Herschel		240.85
Tudor, Limerick and Cashel	275.00	252,00
Rawdon	366.34	303.75
Wollaston		224.00
Madoc (village)	750.00	316.66
Stirling	500.00	257.50
The Inspectorate	406.88	260.67

As compared with 1881, this shows an average increase of $67.19 in the salaries of male teachers, and of $23 48 in the salaries of female teachers. During the past ten years the average salaries have been increased $116.25 and 44,04 respectively. In 1882, the averages for the Province were $385 and $248 respectively. In my last report to you, I expressed a regret at a decrease in the salaries paid to our teachers. That I can now report so marked an advance will' I feel assured, be a source of gratification to every intelligent friend of the public schools. No servant of the public deserves more liberal treatment than the well informed, cultured, intelligent, skilful, zealous and conscientious Public School teacher. On the proper discharge of his duties depend to a greater degree than the majority of us imagine, the future prosperity and national growth of our young country. Here the people rule. In the strife of parties, the final appeal is made to the ballot box. Whether our country is governed wisely or not depends upon the moral and intellectual status of its voters. That depends to a very large extent upon the character of the training received by them in their youth. That our children should be able to discharge properly the duties of citizenship in a free country, our teachers must be strong men and women—strong in the possession of thoroughly disciplined powers, ripe judgments and sensitive consciences.

Such teachers can be retained in the profession only by making their pecuniary remuneration approximately adequate to the work they have to do. The management of our schools is rapidly falling into the hands of very young men and women, for the most part earnest, industrious, educated and of good character, but with little of the experience and matured judgment required for such important work. The professional life of a teacher does not now, as a rule, last for more than four or five years. The number of male teachers is constantly and rapidly becoming less. The only effective remedy for these evils is the increased remuneration of good teachers. How is this to be obtained? In, perhaps, the majority of school sections of North Hastings, the rate of school taxation is as high as the people can reasonably be expected to bear. In some it is very burdensome. It is the matured opinion of many thoughtful friends of education that the time has come when the Legislative grant to public schools should be largely increased. In the great majority of cases it is now but a trifle in comparison with the cost of maintaining a school. When so much is being said about the endowment and increased endowment of institutions for the education of the few, it is a matter of surprise that so little is heard in favor of a more liberal treatment of the "people's colleges."

TIME FOR WHICH THE SCHOOLS WERE KEPT OPEN.

The year 1883 contained 222 teaching days. In Bangor, Wicklow and McClure the schools were open for 139 days; in Carlow and Mayo, for 158 days; in Dungannon and Faraday, for 149 days; in Elzevir, for 161 days; in Huntingdon, for 201 days; in Madoc, for 194; in Marmora and Lake, for 145 days; in Monteagle and Herschel, for 159 days; in Tudor, Limerick and Cashel, for 162 days; in Rawdon, for 208 days; in Wollaston, for 131 days; in Madoc village, for 222 days; and in Stirling, for 220 days. The average time for which they were open in the riding was about 172 days. In this important matter there has, since my last report, been retrogression in all the municipalities but Carlow and Mayo, Huntingdon, Stirling and Madoc. The greatest part of this is due to the great scarcity of teachers. Were the supply of teachers equal to the demand I feel certain the average would be very materially increased. No small amount of the backward movement is attributable, however, to the carelessness and false economy of the Trustees and people of some of our school sections.

SCHOOL POPULATION AND ATTENDANCE.

The number of persons, between the ages of 5 and 16 resident in the riding, was, on the authority of the assessment rolls, 5,574. Of these, 4,747 were reported as in attendance at school. This number is, probably correct. I hope, however, that the former is incorrect. That 627 children, from 5 to 16, should not attend a school during any part of the year, would not be creditable.

The attendance in each municipality is clearly shown in the following tabulated statement :

	Percentage of average attendance as compared with number enrolled.	Number who attended less than 20 days.	Number who attended more than 200 days.
Bangor et al	35	40	0
Carlow and Mayo	34	38	2
Dungannon and Faraday	32	47	2
Elzevir	33	39	2
Huntingdon	47	63	25
Madoc	43	126	30
Marmora and Lake	31	112	9
Monteagle and Herschel	24	61	0
Tudor et al	28	58	0
Rawdon	49	89	23
Wollaston	35	12	0
Madoc village	45	29	23
Stirling	47	24	12
The Riding	39	749	128

In 1882 the average attendance for the Province was 43 per cent. of the number enrolled. These statistics make it painfully evident that, as in former years, irregular attendance is the most formidable of the many hindrances to the progress of the schools. Much of it is, I have no doubt, unavoidable. Distance from the school, the inclemency of the weather, the poverty of parents, and the need (real or supposed) for the child's aid at home, are causes that will continue to exist. A great amount of the evil is, however, directly attributable to the culpable carelessness of parents and to the neglect of teachers and trustees to put forth, for the lessening of the evil, the strenuous and persistent efforts that its terribly injurious character demands. Its baneful effects, alike to the individual pupil and to the community, can hardly be exaggerated. To it is due much of the dislike to school manifested by many children. It retards the progress of the whole school, dampens the ardor of our best teachers, and affords our worst teachers an ever abiding excuse for their ill success. Owing mainly to it, the majority of the pupils of Canadian schools cease attendance at school while in the Junior Third class. This fact alone should be sufficient to arouse the most careless citizen from his apathy. What is required for the removal in part, at least, of the evil is the exhibition by every one of a live, personal interest in our schools. Of interest in the cause of education in the abstract there is no lack. What is needed however, is the manifestation on the part of each of an ever-active and intelligent interest in the prosperity of the school in his own neighborhood. Let it be visited more frequently. Let information be obtained by personal inquiry and observation of its actual state, intellectually, morally, and from a sanitary point of view. Let everything possible be done to encourage and aid the teacher in his work.

CLASSIFICATION.

of the 4926 pupils of all ages who attended the schools of North Hastings during 1883, 2397 were in the first class; 1300 in the second; 956 in the third; 214 in the fourth; 52 in the fifth; and 7 in the sixth.

Since June 1881 we have had a careful system of Uniform Promotion Examinations. Your liberal action in providing for the expenses connected with these has made them more effectual and useful. In the schools of the northern townships, it has not been thought prudent to urge the adoption of the system, but I am glad to be able to say that an increasing number of the teachers in these schools wish to have the examinations held in their schools. The system is not perfect, but it has already done much to stimulate the teachers and pupils to work more carefully, skilfully, and zealously, and has afforded the trustees and parents an additional means of information as to the actual progress of the schools.

As in former years, examinations for admission to High Schools have been held in Stirling and Madoc. For the convenience of the rear townships an additional examination will be held, as an experiment, at Bancroft, Dungannon and Faraday.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

The total amount of receipts for school purposes was $36,087 52. The amount of payments was $30,365.32. Of this $23,610.31 was paid to teachers.

Your liberal aid of $600 to the schools of the northern townships, was apportioned among all the schools in operation on the basis of the rates of school taxation, as certified to by the municipal clerks. This amount was supplemented by the Education Department.

For years, there has, among teachers and Inspectors, been a growing dissatisfaction with the method adopted in the apportionment of the Legislative School Grant. Since the establishment of our system of Education the grant has been distributed among the municipalities of the Province on the basis of the total population of each. To the school sections, the sum thus apportioned to each township has been apportioned on the basis of the average attendance at the schools. This plan has the real advantage of simplicity and the apparent advantage of lessening irregular attendance. Experience has taught that, in the great majority of cases, the latter advantage is only apparent. The objections made to the system are that it gives the most liberal aid to the populous, compact, long settled and rich sections, who need it least, and the least aid to the new, sparsely-settled localities, which need it most. It does not help those who help themselves. It does not encourage local liberality. Those reasons have induced teachers and Inspectors throughout the Province to press for a change. At the last session of the Legislature of Ontario, the member for N. Hastings directed the attention of the Government and the House to the subject. On his motion, returns from each School Section have been ordered, which will, I feel satisfied, convince our legislators of the necessity for the adoption of a new basis of apportionment.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATIONS.

During the year, an examination of candidates for a lower grade of certificate than the ordinary county third class was held under the authority of the school law and the Education Department. Those who were successful, and, in addition, some who had passed the intermediate examination, were, after receiving professional training in the Model School, awarded certificates valid in the northern townships and in a few of the poorer School Sections in the more southern townships. In July another such examination will be held.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

Few things have done more to elevate the professional status of the teachers than the Teachers' Association. During the year it has met regularly and the attendance of teachers was good. The best teachers are always present. Those who are absent or inattentive are invariably those who most need inspiration and instruction.

MODEL SCHOOL.

Twenty teachers received professional training in the Model School. Of these seventeen were successful and two received a certificate for one year. On the whole, the Board of Examiners were well satisfied with the result of the Model School Examinations.

SCARCITY OF TEACHERS.

The efforts of many Trustees to enhance the usefulness of their schools have been much hampered by the great scarcity of teachers. To keep the schools in operation, I have, with the full sanction of the Minister of Education, done everything that I could by the issue of special certificates and permits To meet the exigencies of the situation, this has been done in cases in which my own judgment would have led me to refuse to grant the permit.

A connection of more than ten years with the schools of North Hastings and an acquaintance with every school section in it, have convinced me that to increase the supply of teachers materially a High School should be established in the riding. Had we a thoroughly efficient High School many would enter the profession of teaching who now select other vocations. For lack of such an institution our young men and women have been compelled to go to Belleville, Campbellford, St. Catharines, Toronto, Brantford, Collingwood and Strathroy. Since the separation of Trenton from the county there has been no High School in your jurisdiction.

RELIGIOUS AND MORAL INSTRUCTION.

Since my last report there has been considerable agitation on this subject. In the course of the discussion, a great variety of opinions were enunciated. In one opinion all, or nearly all, appear, however, to have agreed—that a merely intellectual education is not likely to be a blessing. With those who wish to give religious instruction of a non-sectarian but thoroughly christian character a place in our school curriculum, I have a good deal of sympathy. Let us never, however, lose sight of the fact that the personal character of the teacher is his most important qualification. No dogmatic instruction in religion or morals can surpass in efficiency the practical teaching that flows from the life of a pure and noble man. It takes character to develop character : and a strong good character, wherever placed, will be a perennial source of good. No matter what daily tasks engage him and his pupils, the contagion of his spirit in the work will reach them. If he love the exact truth they will love it. If he take a satisfaction in thorough work, as a matter of duty, so will they. His conscience will be a standard for consciences. The amount and quality of moral force in our public education at any time is precisely that residing in the personal character of the teachers employed. Scholarship they must have, but in selecting a teacher his character should be the first and the last thing thought of.

The number of really efficient schools in North Hastings was in 1883 greater than in any previous year. The diligence, intelligence and zeal manifested by not a few of our teachers merit high praise. Many did good work, and on the whole the outlook is encouraging.

In connection with the working of our promotion examinations, and in other ways, I have received efficient and, in many cases, self-denying aid from teachers.

Thanking you for your courteous attention to a report which has, perhaps, occupied too much of your time, and for the kind support which I have always received from the County Council of Hastings,

I am, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
W. MACKINTOSH,
Inspector of Public Schools, N. Hastings.
MADOC, June 2nd, 1884. (advt.)

Mr. Alex. Robinson, of Exeter, in writing about one of the most popular articles, and one that has done more good to the afflicted than any other medicine has during the short time it has been in existence, says: "I have used four bottles of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, and have been cured of Dyspepsia that troubled me for over ten years. Part of that time I had it very bad, and was at considerable expense trying to get relief; but this excellent remedy was the first and only relief I received."

Messrs. Parker & Laird, of Hillsdale writes Our Mr. Laird having occasion to visit Scotland, and knowing the excellent qualities of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, concluded to take some with him and the result has been very astonishing. We may say that in several instances it has effected cures when ailments had often pronounced incurable by eminent practitioners

General Reduction in Wages Resisted by Compositors.

THE QUACK WHO KILLED A BOY.

MONTREAL, July 7.—A fire at Lachine Friday, which originated in Salaberry Hotel, destroyed about forty houses principally occupied by poor laborers. About sixty families are rendered homeless. The actual loss is estimated at about $50,000, only one quarter of which is covered by insurance. The homeless people—about three hundred in number—were housed in tents. A subscription list has been started for their relief.

THE QUACK'S VICTIM

LONDON, July 7.—The adjourned inquest regarding the death of Frederick Breden was resumed. It will be remembered that a travelling "doctor" named George Hall performed an operation on a youth to cure him for deafness. Several doctors disposed that the case was one of malpractice, and Dr. Moore pronounced it barbarous and brutal. The oil put into the punctures was shown to be croton oil. The jury remained out until 2 o'clock in the morning, one hour and three quarters from the time of retiring. The verdict was returned was as follows: "We the jurors sworn to inquire into the cause of the death of the child Frederick Breden, find that he came to his death by shock, at the hands of George Hall.' The prisoner is under remand will appear to answer the charge before the Police Magistrate.

A BIG TORONTO FAILURE.

TORONTO, July 7.—At a meeting of the creditors of Forbes & Lownsborough, brokers, their liabilities were stated at between $50,000 and $75,000. The assets consist mainly of stocks, and it depends entirely on the condition of the stock market whether they will yield a large or small return. The firm will liquidate and pay out its assets pro rata. The loan companies and banks are the heaviest interested.

PRINTERS STRIKE.

TORONTO, July 7.—Owing to a notification from the Globe, Mail, World, Guardian, Presbyterian, and all book and job offices of a reduction of ten per cent. the union printers are all out on strike. 116 struck last night and more to-day bringing the number up to about 300. The Mail this morning is a four page apology for a newspaper but promises to be all right in a few days. The Globe appears pretty much as usual. The World has given in.

Joe Martin, the trainer of Mr. Drennan's horse, issues another challenge to match his horse against the Campbellford horse for any sum over $100, the race to take place within a week either at Ogdensburg, Toronto or Belleville.

DEATH OF SENATOR SKEAD.

Hon. James Skead, Senator for the Rideau Division, died to-day at Ottawa, aged 67 years. He was born in Cumberland, England, and came to Ottawa many years ago, when he engaged in the lumbering and forwarding trade. He sat in the Legislative Council of Canada from 1862 to 1867 and was called to the Senate by Royal proclamation at Confederation. He was a Conservative in politics. Having been unfortunate in business in his latter years his name was frequently mentioned in connection with offices of emolument; among others for the postmastership of Ottawa, which was made vacant a few months ago by the death of Mr. Currier.

CATHEDRAL v. CUSTOMS

KINGSTON, July 7.—Half a dozen of the nineteen or twenty new stained-glass windows ordered from Newcastle, Eng., by Bishop Cleary, for St. Mary's Cathedral, have arrived, but they will not be taken out of the Custom House if the duty of 30 per cent demanded is exacted. The windows are each worth about £110, and if the Cathedral is compelled to pay a tax of nearly one-third the total value it would add enormously to the cost and is a thing not counted on, as the windows are claimed to be works of art not producible in this country. Payment of the duty will be resisted.

A STARTLING DISCOVERY.

Mr. Wm. Johnston, of Huron, Dak., writes that his wife had been troubled with acute Bronchitis for many years and that all remedies tried gave no permanent relief, until he procured a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, which has a magical effect, and produced a permanent cure. It is guaranteed to cure all Diseases of Throat, Lungs, or Bronchial Tubes.

OCEAN ACCIDENT.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 7. Word was received in this city at a late hour last night, that the Furness line steamer Lincoln City was ashore near Isaac Harbor, the information coming through the telegraph office at the latter place. The steamer is from Stockholm, bound to New York with large number of passengers and general cargo on board, Her commander Capt. William Harrison, telegraphs that she is not making water, but is working badly. Assistance will be sent from this city as soon as possible. The Lincoln City is a new steamer, having only been lately launched, and was on her first Atlantic passage.

CRITICISING THE QUEEN.

LONDON, July 7.—Royalty is again quiet, the queen having ordered the Prince of Wales to attend no theatres. Her Majesty gave an example of retiring from the vulgar gaze by keeping the railroad stations during her recent journey from Scotland as clear as if the Russian Czar was passing through a Nihilistic district. The people in Darmstadt are still complaining that when she was passing a station in Germany, where the people had prepared flags and boquets, she pulled down the blinds in their faces. She has surprised everybody by doing he handsome thing by her granddaughter on her recent mariage by paying for her trousseau, while the grand duke of Sergious delighted his bride with a parure of diamonds costing £20,000.

PRESIDENT CURTS' FIRST.

Explanations From the new Occupant of the Tabernacle Pulpit.

AN EFFICIENT AND HONORED PASTOR

Despite the bad weather and the threatening of worse, quite a large congregation greeted the new Tabernacle pastor, Rev. Jas. Curts, President of the Bay of Quinte Conference, yesterday morning. After the usual preliminary services the Rev. gentleman arose and stated that he had been requested to make a few explanations as to his present relation as pastor of the Tabernacle congregation. When he had been with them three weeks ago, their late pastor and his dear brother, Rev. T. W. McVety, told him that he expected to leave the city and asked him as to his probable destiny. He replied that he could not tell but suggested three places to which he might possibly be sent. These three Cobourg, Napanee and Madoc received. at that time, Mr. McVety's approval. When in committee Mr. Curts endeavored to have Mr. McVety stationed at Cobourg first, and then Napanee, but he was unable to control the committee, so thinking of his impaired health he choose for him Madoc with its free parsonage, grand people, and good income, (probably better than the Tabernacle). He personally had been accused of securing this appointment at the sacrifice of Mr. McVety. He had no desire to come here. The Tabernacle with its debts and difficulties was a cross to him. Providence had opened his way to a charge, much better in all respects, at Stirling, but when he was elected President of the Conference, the Stationing Committee unanimously (himself excepted) put him down for this church. 'And,' he continued, 'I believe at trial, as I have made this a subject of much prayer and your praying for me, that I am here in answer to prayer and in the order of God's good Providence. I trust also that God will bless Bro. McVety and open up his way.

The Rev. gentleman then preached an eloquent though brief sermon from Ezekiel chap 1 v. 1. He opened by saying that whenever God has an important work for any of his people to do, he subjects them first to great trial. He called Ezekiel to go to the Jews and in his induction to this office he received the remarkable vision told of in this chapter. These mysterious beings were the angels of God who have ever been solicitous for the welfare of humanity. On one side of these creatures was the face of a man signifying wisdom and intelligence. They could read the thoughts of men and thus minister to all their wants. On the second side was the face of a lion, representing strength. So all along the line angels were ever invested with wonderful power as well as intelligence. They are God's servants, our ministering spirits, our friends. Again on the the third side of the living creature was the face of an ox which implied laborious perseverance The ox is ever ready to do the will of his master, so the angels are ever ready to bow before the mandates of the great Jehovah. The fourth side presented the face of an eagle meaning high and sustained flight. Thus the angels came down from the hills of immortality, from the city of the Great King, down to the low lands where Lazarus was lying and carried him home to the bosom of the patriarchs. Beside the living creatures was a wheel within a wheel—one going forward, the other backward. Exalted today, debased to morrow, 'Hozanna' to-day, 'away with Him,' to-morrow. We ofttimes look upon the wrong side of affairs. Joseph's whole career seemed stepping backward, thrown into a pit, sold into Egypt, cast into prison. Yet while it seemed so degrading, he was mounting step by step to the Courts of Egypt. Under all perplexities and diversities, we should remember that the spirit of God is in the wheels.

Rev. James Curts, the new pastor, enjoys an enviable reputation. He has been invariably successful on the charges he has undertaken. At the foundation of the Ontario Conference of the late M. E. Church in 1862, he was elected Secretary and has secured the position at each annual election ever since. At the closing of the Conference on May 3rd, 1884, Mr. Curts was presented with a purse and complimentary address by the members of the now defunct body. The rev. gentleman has successfully occupied the position of Presiding Elder of the Colborne District for a large number of years, and in this capacity has won many warm friends in Belleville. At the organization of the new Methodist Church Mr. Curts was elected President of the Bay of Quinte Conference, which is especially noteworthy, as he is the only President of a Conference in the whole church, who was not, prior to the union, a member of the late C. M. Church. Thus Mr. Curts comes to the Tabernacle congregation wreathed with honor, and the members, together with all other citizens of Belleville, feel that they are receiving a true pastor and an honored citizen.

CRUELLY DECEIVED.

A Hastings Bride Discovers she is a Second Wife.

AND HER HUSBAND A BIGAMIST.

Claiming Police Protection Against his Threats.

Miss Wannamaker, a lass of eighteen summers, arrived in the city to-day from Madoc in search of protection against a man who married her some months ago. Her story is that last August a man named John Minnett called at her father's house, seven miles north of Madoc, and representing himself a single man she reciprocated the love he bestowed upon her, and after a brief courtship they were united in wedlock. Her husband was in the employ of the Central Ontario Railway putting up telegraph poles and for several months nothing occurred to mar their happiness, But one day recently John's wife, Miss Wannamaker, heard that her husband had another wife and two children living in Cornwall Eng. Wife No. 2 became very indignant over this discovery and insisted that her husband should divulge the truth, which he did, admitting that he had a wife living 'at home.' She at once left him, but John threatened that if she did not return to his domicile he would do her some injury, whereupon she came to the city, found employment in a hotel and applied to the police to protect her.

'CULLED' BY THE POLICE.

The police since Saturday have made an onslaught on the houses of ill-fame in the city, and this morning the cells were full of females who were charged with being keepers and inmates of such places. The officers first visited Mrs. Robinson alias Mrs. McDonald near Foster & Holton's mill between eleven and twelve o'clock Saturday night where they found beside the lady of the house Ella St. Charles and Maggie Mountney, inmates, and George Fazzone, frequenter. Sunday night the police kept a watch on the other places on the east side of the river with the following result. Mrs. Taylor was arrested at her own house Front Street, below the Prince Edward House, and a few doors below they found Mrs. Knight at her house. Mrs. Branscomb was also arrested next door. They passed the night in the cells, and this morning were brought up at the police court. Mrs. Knight did not appear, having pleaded guilty she was discharged on payment of $40. Mary H. Taylor was the first one called. She pleaded not guilty, but after a lapse of half an hour withdrew that plea and admitted the charge. She was mulcted in a fine of $40, payable forthwith in default six months in gaol. Mrs. Branscomb who appeared with a boy by her side denied the charge as also did Mrs. Robinson and the two girls found in her house. The woman Robinson was accompanied by her little girl and Maggie Mountney also bore an infant in her arms. Later on Mrs. Brinscomb pleaded guilty and was fined $40. The others were given until Friday to leave the city. Fazzone was discharged. Mayor Dunnet and Ald. Pope presided.

SENTENCING ST. LEONARDS.

GIVEN SEVEN WEEKS HE IS SET FREE TO-DAY.

LONDON, July 7.—At the Old Bailey Lord St. Leonards' was put foreward to receive sentence for having committed an assault upon the servant girl Emma Cole. The building was crowded long before the time for opening. Sir Robert Chambers delivered judgment which was that the prisoner should suffer an imprisonment of seven weeks, which term should include the time already spent in gaol. As Lord St. Leonards was convicted on May 19th and has been in gaol ever since, the sentence is a virtual discharge, as the term expires on Monday. Much surprise is manifested at the result of this case, and the lightness of the sentence is bitterly denounced.

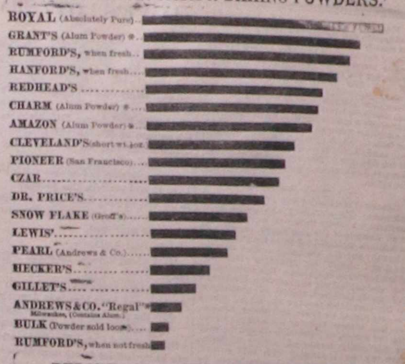
COMPARATIVE WORTH OF BAKING POWDERS.



REPORTS OF GOVERNMENT CHEMISTS
As to Purity and Wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder.

"I have tested a package of Royal Baking Powder, which I purchased in the open market, and find it composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of a high degree of merit, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substances. E. G. LOVE, Ph.D."

"It is a scientific fact that the Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure. "H. A. MOTT, Ph.D."

"I have examined a package of Royal Baking Powder, purchased by myself in the market. I find it entirely free from alum, terra alba, or any other injurious substance. HENRY MORTON, Ph.D., President of Stevens Institute of Technology."

"I have analyzed a package of Royal Baking Powder. The materials of which it is composed are pure and wholesome. S. DANA HAYES, State Assayer, Mass."

The Royal Baking Powder received the highest award over all competitors at the Vienna World's Exposition, 1873; at the Centennial, Philadelphia, 1876; at the American Institute, New York, and at State Fairs throughout the country.

No other article of human food has ever received such high, emphatic, and universal endorsement from eminent chemists, physicians, scientists, and Boards of Health all over the world.

NOTE—The above DIAGRAM illustrates the comparative worth of various Baking Powders, as shown by Chemical Analysis and experiments made by Prof. Schedler. A pound can of each powder was taken, the total leavening power or volume in each can calculated, the result being as indicated. This practical test for worth by Prof. Schedler only proves what every observant consumer of the Royal Baking Powder knows by practical experience, that, while it costs a few cents per pound more than ordinary kinds, it is far more economical, and, besides, affords the advantage of better work. A single trial of the Royal Baking Powder will convince any fair minded person of these facts.

* While the diagram shows some of the alum powders to be of a higher degree of strength than other powders ranked below them, it is not to be taken as indicating that they have any value. All alum powders, no matter how high their strength, are to be avoided as dangerous.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Invalids distracted by indigestion and discouraged in their search for its remedy should make a trial of this never-failing medicine. A lady long a martyr to dyspeptic tortures, writes that Holloway's Pills made her feel as if a burden had been taken off her. Her spirits formerly low, have greatly improved; her capricious appetite has given place to that of healthy hunger; her dull, sick headache has departed, and gradually so marvellous a change has been effected that she is altogether a new creature, and again fit for her duties. These pills may be administered with safety to the most delicate. They never act harshly, nor do they ever induce weakness; they rightly direct deranged, and control excessive action.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally and the Ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceeding efficacious. When influenza is epidemic this treatment is the easiest, safest, and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free, without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of saving suffering when any one is afflicted with cold, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints, by which so many persons are seriously and permanently afflicted in most countries.

LOVE'S LOTTERY
OR,
THE RIVAL SISTERS.

She scarcely dreaded some complication in the affair, and feared the sister's income being imperilled, hence, fully concurred in the opinion of Mr. Scladden who had kindly undertaken the matter upon the death of Mr. Freeland.

'Your ladyship, in that case really thinks they should perform this journey?' remarked the young man, much disappointed, as he concluded a tete-a-tete with her whom he addressed.

'I do most decidedly.'

'It is a long voyage,' he added suggestively.

'They have travelled it before, my dear Eustace, and have friends in America,'

'But the passage over, Lady Dudley?'

'They will be chaperoned by Keziah, in whom my nieces place implicit confidence she being faithful as are most of her race. I am quite at ease respecting them.'

The young man was silent.

The gloom on his handsome face proved he did not share his companion's feeling.

Finally he again spoke.

'Through our mutual affections and your kind approval of my suit, dear Lady Dudley,' he said, 'I regard Pauline in the eyes of Heaven, as already my wife, and I confess this journey—although she may be going to friends—creates in me considerable anxiety. I feel she ought to have better protection than Keziah's; consequently, I trust you will not refuse your consent, indeed, I do not see how you can, for me to accompany your nieces.'

Lady Dudley's arched brows rose.

'You! My dear Eustace, if the eyes of this world resemble those of Heaven, you might be right, but they are not. Gracious! What would Mrs. Grundy say? You cannot see how I can refuse? I cannot see how I could consent. Eustace,' she said smiling, 'don't be a baby. If thing go well, Pauline need not be absent more than two months, if that. I'll give you this piece of consolation. Pauline's journey shall not delay her marriage, for I shall give orders for her trosseau while she is away.'

Eustace Belmore knew Lady Dudley well enough to be aware that no power could turn her from the course she deemed right, therefore he wisely gave up the contest.

Nevertheless as he quitted her presence to seek Pauline's his mind was firmly resolved that he would accompany his betrothed, and that nothing should prevent him.

But man proposes and God disposes.

The sisters were together in the smaller drawing-room, but Juliette took an opportunity of retiring soon after his arrival.

She played her part well.

No one suspected it, but the terrible ordeal of seeing the two side by side, her own sister with the man she loved, and must love to her dying day, was one she avoided when she could.

Indeed, her chief readiness to start for America, lay really in the fact that for a while it would be the means of separating those two.

When one had gone, Eustace at once, after imposing strict secrecy, acquainted his beloved with his intention to accompany her,

Joy broke over Pauline's countenance.

'You will go, too, Eustace,' she cried; 'then I shall fear nothing. Leaving you was my sole trouble. Now the pleasure, the relief which my journey offers is complete.'

'Why, darling, do you desire to go?' he asked, a little piqued if not pained.

'First, because Longueville was the home of my father and mother, also, where my eyes first opened. Home is dear to me. Secondly——'

'Secondly. Well?' he interrupted as she stopped.

'Secondly,' she drew closer to him, and timidly looked into his eyes, 'Secondly, Eustace it will remove me for awhile from the vicinity of that man.'

'How? Does he yet trouble you?' remarked the lover, indignantly,

'Openly, no; his living likeness has not been here since, but every night he is with me in my dreams.'

'My darling,' he smiled fondly, 'for the first time you have made me feel something like pleasure at your approaching journey, for the change of scene will dispel this delusion from your mind.'

'I trust it may,' she rejoined. I would give much to have my thoughts diverted from this haunting subject. At any rate I shall not meet the living representative again, Mr. Stuart Loring. When I come back to England——'

'You will have something else to occupy you,' he smiled, 'The preparations for our marriage. After that you may take my word that Stuart Loring never places foot over my threshold.'

Pauline smiled and let the conversation drift into pleasanter channels.

It was on the evening of that day that Eustace Belmore had the interview with Nellie Montmorency.

On quitting her after the interview, he resolutely banished its remembrance, being assured he had been deceived, and instead occupied himself in preparing for the intended voyage.

Every [illegible] who walks the streets of a great city, a [illegible] scans with an intelligent eye the colorless faces of more than fifty per cent of the people he meets, can easily agree with us in the statement, that this age, which makes such drafts upon the working energies [illegible] the greater part of men in the intense pursuit of business, has destroyed in a proportionate degree the animal health and robust condition. Nature in its stage of exhaustion, cannot be restored of its self but requires some stimulating tonic to strengthen and keep the system in regular order, and in Northrup and Lyman's Quinine Wine we have the exact remedy required. The peculiar operation of this medicine, in case of general debility and nervous prostration, has undergone long and close observation, and it is believed it will never [illegible] of proply and judiciously administered. IMPORTANT TO RUPTURED PERSONS

The Excelsior Rupture Treatment was introduced to the American people several years ago in such a manner as to completely secure the confidence of the whole nation. The mode of introduction was by furnishing the remedy to those afflicted with Hernia in any of its various forms and collecting no pay until a permanent cure was effected. In this way he treatment gained world wide reputation on its own merits, never failing to cure any reducible Hernia. The Company has at the solicitation of thousands placed the remedy on sale by all druggists both wholesale and retail, in the United States, Canada and England. In [illegible] way bringing it within the reach of all classes at a trifling cost compared with the benefit which are derived from the use of the treatment. Ask your druggist for a free book on rupture or send 6 cts. for one to the Excelsior Rupture Cure M'f'g Co., Ogdensburg, N. Y.

SCIENCE.

To increase the weight of the body invigorate the system, revitalize the exhausted and depressed, is the true object sought by medical science. The digestive organs must be in a healthy condition if we wish to secure this desired result, and no remedy yet discovered has ever proved so effectual in accomplishing this as FLAX-SEED EMULSION COMP. It contains Phosphorus to build up the nervous system and all the fat producing properties of Flax-seed to enrich the blood and supply the animal economy with the elements for reconstruction.

Use the imperial Kidney and Liver Cure—price 50c.

The above remedies are sold in Belleville by James Clark Co. and R. Carmichael druggists.

ROBLIN HOUSE,

Late Douglas House.

As the late proprietor of the Douglas House has removed to other premises and called it the New Douglas House, I beg to notify the public that I have reopened the Douglas House myself, under the name of the "ROBLIN HOUSE." As the house has always had the name of a First-Class Hotel, I shall spare no pains to make it as popular as it ever was. The above is pleasantly situated in the central part of the city, and is a very desirable place for Families and the Public generally. It has been thoroughly renovated and furnished with new furniture. A cordial invitation is given to all old patrons of the Douglas House, and all new ones who will favor me with a call.

Vital Questions.!

Ask the most eminent physician
Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?
And they will tell you unhesitatingly
"Some form of Hops! ! !"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians: "What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, diabetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—

"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu! !"

Ask the same physicians

"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.," and they will tell you:

Mandrake! or Dandelion !"

Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable.

And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is

Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use

CHAPTER II.

"Patients

"Almost dead or nearly dying"

For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases, liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.

Women have gone nearly crazy ! ! ! !

From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.

People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic, or suffering from scrofula.

Erysipelas!

"Saltrheum, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact, almost all diseases frail"

Nature is heir to

Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.

None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile poisonous stuff with 'Hop' or 'Hops' in their name.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY

is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co's. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the error and indiscretion of youth, nervous weakness, early decay loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt, that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City. d&w

ON THIRTY DAYS' TRIAL.

The VOLTAIC BELT Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above,—N B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty day's trial is allowed.

"Twenty-four years experience," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the Generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box, 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas. Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their written guarantee to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See adv't in another column

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "28 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 28, 1882.

"Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly, W. M. PHILLIPS."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the SARSAPARILLA in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1882. Yours gratefully,
HIRAM PHILLIPS."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blotches, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Sold by all Druggists; $1, six bottles for $5.

A COMMON STORY.

A few stray folds of satin and lace
Fell lightly over your knee,
As she sat by your side, a marvel of grace,
That every one turned to see.

She graciously gave you her fan to hold,
She smiled on you when you spoke,
She listened to all the stories you told,
And laughed at your poorest joke.

She danced with you, flattered you every way
The men were all jealous that night;
You were only a card in my lady's play,
The tool of a woman's spite!

'Twas I she wanted to vex and tease;
You answered her purpose well,
But for her sake and mine (and yours, if you please,)
This isn't a story to tell.

SUICIDE TO AVOID MURDER.

EXTRAORDINARY END OF A MAN WITH A DESIRE TO KILL.

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y., July 6.—George Crocker, blacksmith, of Sharon Springs, tied an anchor to his leg and drowned himself at Otsego Lake yesterday. He leaves a wife and child, and whom he did not live with for years. He left letters saying his desire was so great to kill his father-in law, who had separated him and his wife, that he had concluded it was better to make away with himself. He spoke highly of his wife, and had his child's portrait in his hand when he jumped from the boat. The body has not been found. He had been drinking.

HUNTINGDON COUNCIL.

The Council met in Town Hall Moira members all present. On motion of Mr. Fox, seconded by Mr. Porter, Mr. Morton was appointed chairman. Bidwell Osborne was placed on the roll as tenant. The roll was carefully examined through the first eight concessions after which the court adjourned to meet on the 23rd June. Council business was then taken up, the reeve in the chair. Adam Rushnell asked to be permitted to perform the statute labor of the s. w. ¼ of lot 8, con. 2, on the road leading from said lot to the side road and also a part of H. C. Hagerman's labor on the same road.—Granted. Thomas Hollinger was permitted to do his statute labor from his house to the main road under the supervision of the pathmaster. Lewis Mitts was allowed to perform his statute labor on the side road adjoining his lot. An order was given J. B. Morton and Welson Sills for six dollars each for auditing the Treasurer's accounts for 1883. Council adjourned.

On the 23rd June the Court of Revision reopened. All the lots in the remaining six concessions were examined. The name of several applicants were placed on the roll and the court was finally closed.

Council business was next taken up. On motion of Mr. Fox, seconded by Mr. Morton, the side road between lots two and three was detached from Charles Mastin's beat and attached to John Wallace's beat. The Road Surveyor presented his report on the roads at John Parfits and Francis Elliott's, stating that he had staked out the road at Elliott's and given Mr. Elliott a written notice from the clerk to widen the road. The report was on motion received. On motion of Mr. Porter, seconded by Mr. Morton the following grants were made on roads:—On road between 13th and 14th con. at lot 2, $30; between 12 and 13 con. from lot 1 eastward, $30, on new road north of O. and Q. Railway, between lots 10 and 11, $40; on Thurlow boundary in front of lot 10, on condition that Thurlow council grant a like sum, $15; on Rr ..nel's h' , $15; on Hungerford boundary, con. 12 and 13, on condition that Hungerford council grant a like sum, $15; on road between cons. 11 and 12, at lot 17, $15; on road between cons. 5 and 6, west of W. J. Wilson's $20; at Chancey Reids, $5; at Samuel Roy's, $25; at McAvoy's bridge, $15; at Wm. Haggerty's, $25; on J. Snider's hill and E. Haight's culverts, $25; at Samuel Burnett's, $5. $2 commuted statute labor paid by John Morgan was paid to Chas. Martin, to be expended on his road beat. Resolved that Lewis March and Armstrong McMullen be refunded their commutation money on condition that they perform two days each in addition to this year's statute labor to the satisfaction of the pathmaster. An order was given the assessors for $78 for their work and two days attendance at Court of Revision. Council adjourned to meet on Monday, 1st of September.

DOMINION DAY IN BANCROFT.

BANCROFT, July 5—Bancroft held its first celebration of the 1st of July on Dominion Day. The day was ushered in by heavy explosions from some contrivance improvised for the occasion and whether caused by dynamite or something worse is not generally known. The festivities were maintained throughout the day by various games, foot and horse races, dinners and so on, with dancing in the evening for those who delight in the fantastic, all ending with a very good display of fireworks. Some effects of the bottle imp were visible but not general as this place so far has been firm against its introduction.

POTASH.

Iodide of Potassum is one of the strongest of the minerals used in medicine, and has produced much suffering in the world. Taken for a long time in large doses, it dries up the gastric juices, impairs digestion, the stomach refuses food, and the patient declines in health and weight. Persons with Blood or Skin Diseases should be careful how they take those mineral poisons, as in most instances the effect of them is to almost permanently impair the constitution. To take the place of these poisons we offer you a safe, sure, prompt, and permanent relief from your troubles. Shaker Blood Syrup is entirely a vegetable preparation, and easy to convince you of its merit.

I have cured permanently Blood Taint in the third generation by the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, after I had most signally failed with Mercury and Potash. Dr. Smith, Bangor, Pa.

A young man requests me to thank you for his cure of Blood Poison by the use of your Specific after all other treatment had failed.

J. E Kennedy, Druggist, Cobourg, Ont.

For years I was afflicted with Dry Tetter of the most obstinate type. Was treated by many of the best physicians; took quantities of mercury, potash, and arsenic, which, instead of curing the Tetter crippled me up with mineral poison and rheumatism. The tetter continued to grow worse, and the itching almost made me crazy. In this condition I was induced to take Shaker Blood Syrup, and the result was as astonishing as Gratifying. In a few months teh Tetter was entirely well. The Mercurial Poisoning all out of my system, and I was a well man—and due only to Shaker Blood Syrup. All like sufferers should take it.

C. H. Sargeant, Haverhill, Mass.

CONSUMPTION is curable in the early stages, not by stimulants nor poisons, which substitute one form of irritation for another, both of which nature must get rid of before rallying, but by food—the only remedy. The waste is the result of faulty nutrition, not limited to the lung but a systematic starvation. Here use Wheeler's Elixir Of Phosphates And Calisaya to secure digestion and assimilation, and if you have sense enough to persist until the balance of outcome and income is restored you may get well.

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all Druggists.

THE DAILY ONTARIO.

THE BRITISH FRANCHISE.

A letter from Lord Randolph Churchill, one of the leaders of the Conservative party of England, to Mr. H. H. Wainwright, President of the Blackpool Conservative Association, has been given to the public through the London Times. In this letter Lord Randolph describes his conversion from being an opponent of Mr. Gladstone's Franchise Bill to being its supporter. Briefly stated, the cause of his remarkable conversion was that he found the people in favor of it, particularly the Birminghams whose votes the young Tory is after, while as regards the position of the Conservative party in Parliament, "no unanimity of feeling on the subject of Parliamentary reform existed among our party, that many borough members, and particularly Lancashire members, were positively in favor of the change, and that direct opposition on principle was only to be expected from a highly influential but numerically small circle of members representing county and borough constituencies exclusively of a rural character." This graphic description of the demoralized condition of the Conservative party on the franchise question helps to an understanding of the large majorities which Mr. Gladstone received on various test votes. Lord Randolph points to the fact that Lord John Manners' motion, in the interest of the Conservatives, "if it means anything at all * * * meant that the Conservative party was prepared to deal with the extension of the franchise provided that the measure was accompanied by provisions for the redistribution of seats. Yet even this modified form of resistance did not secure the support of the entire Conservative party and was defeated by the overwhelming majority of 130. Finally, on the motion to go into Committee, Mr. Chaplin's proposal to exclude Ireland from the Bill met with so little favor from the leaders of our party that he wisely declined to press it to a division." Lord Randolph finds in these facts sufficient justification of his abandonment in December last, of a policy of resistance; he believes change of base was "not only pardonable, but incumbent on any practical politician."

OUR esteemed contemporary the Review keeps talking of the election of a Conservative in Cumberland, N. S. It knows, or ought to know, that Mr. Townsend was permitted by the Reformers to leave the local Government and House and succeed Sir Charles Tupper on condition that a Reformer should take Townsend's place in the Local Legislature. This was a clear gain to the Reformers.

VENUS, who has reigned with queenly majesty and grace as evening star for nearly two months, will desert the western sky on the 11th. The inferior conjunction of this planet occurs then when it passes between us and the sun, having reappeared as morning star. The present transit, unlike the famous one of December 1882, will be invisible. A transit of Venus cannot again be observed till the year 2004.

THE cynic, philosopher, and liberal are all reflected in the following recent pulpit utterances of Rev. Henry Ward Beecher :—

"Many men have followed Gradgrind's pragmatical idea of virtue, which consists in doing nothing wrong—and very little right. In the great theology of nothing men have thought to find the fulfilment of Scripture."

"Free trade between churches and ministers! I am a free trader in that if I am not in anything else. If a Roman Catholic is wanted by you, why shouldn't he stand here and preach his Catholicity to you."

"The church has been starved because ministers have had an idea that the dignity of the pulpit was so great that a man must use only the most sacred parts of his nature; not too much feeling; restrain that, but lay a solid foundation of thought and embellish it with austerity. These men starve themselves until they have hardly the substance of a mosquito, and than think they are sacred."

James Cullan, Pool's Island, N. F., writes: I have been watching the progress of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil since its introduction to this place and with much pleasure state that my anticipations of its success have been fully realized, it having cured me of bronchitis and soreness of nose; while not a few of my rheumatic neighbors, (one old lady in particular) pronounce it to be the best article of its kind that has ever been brought before the public. Your medicine does not require any longer a sponsor, but if you wish me to act as such, I shall be only too happy to have my name connected with your prosperous child.

In no other medicinal preparation have the results of the most intelligent study and scientific inquiry been so steadily and progressively utilized as in Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It leads the list as truly scientific preparation for all blood diseases.

A DESPERATE BURGLAR.

BRANTFORD, July 8.—W. J. McHaffie, bookseller, was awakened in his bedroom at three o'clock yesterday morning by a burglar who was at the time searching his clothes. McKaffie pulled a revolver from under his pillow and pulled on the man, the shot, however, missed fire. The burglar then sprung upon McKaffie and attempted to stab him with a knife. Fortunately the latter had a pillow in his hand with which he successfully warded off two blows. The thief finally broke his knife in the bed, when he levanted, Mr. McKaffie fired another shot at him as he leaped out of the window, but without effect.

CONTEMPORARY COMMENT.

NOT ALTOGETHER ADMIRABLE.

It is well to temper our admiration for the old U.E. Loyalists by a calm consideration of the actual facts connected with their conduct, both in the American colonies and in Canada; and while we give them all the praise they deserve, let us hesitate before we set them up as models of patriotism and good citizenship.—London Advertiser.

THE PEOPLE WANT IT.

The Tories and their friends and masters the monopolists, do not want Reciprocity. But the people of Canada do, and with the Republican President recommending the subject to the consideration of Congress, and a Democratic House of Representatives passing a resolution, and the British Government anxious to prevent a renewal of the fishery troubles, the negotiation of a satisfactory treaty should not be impossible or even very difficult.—Globe.

SUNDAY SCHOOL SONG BOOK.

[Song Worship, for Sunday Schools, by L. O. Emerson and W. F. Sherwin. Published by Oliver Ditson & Co, Boston. Price 25 cents.

The authors of this little work should, if any two people do, know what is needed and should be able to manufacture the right article. Mr. Sherwin who has had charge of the music at Chautauqua, and other prominent assemblages of religious and educational people, is in just the position to feel the pulse of the Sunday-school public. If he says a higher style of Sunday school music is needed, it is very likely to be so. Of Mr. Emerson's fine taste and ability there can be no question. Song Worship has 192 pages, of which three are devoted to the large Index, and another page to a convenient 'Index of Subjects.' The nearly 300 Songs and Hymns ought to satisfy most people with their plenty and variety.

THE DREAD SCOURGE.

The Cholera Spreading and Causing Great Panic.

MARSEILLES, July 7.—There were sixteen deaths from cholera last night. Twenty cases were taken to the hospital.

TOULON, July 7.—Dr. Koch reports that the cholera here is Asiatic from the extreme east. He found the same microbes here as in Egypt and India, the intestines being the seat of danger. Fumigation is useless. He says the cholera will reach Germany. It will go everywhere. Having a centre like Toulon it must spread. There were four deaths Sunday and there are one hundred and thirty cases in the hospitals. Their condition is not regarded as serious. The thermometer in Toulon registers and the city presents a most mournful appearance. Almost all the inhabitants whose circumstances will enable them to live elsewhere have left the city, and the number of these who have thus fled is estimated at three fourths of the entire population. The people who remain are of the poorer classes, who have no means to go elsewhere and their condition is pitable There is no employment for mechanics and trade for shop keepers. With the exception of the dealings in the actual necessities of life trade is at a standstill and many tradesmen have been ruined. Five of them committed suicide during the present week. Many officials have deserted their posts and the people demand their dismissal on the ground that their desertion tends still further to disorganize the community and invite anarchy and pillage. There were nine deaths Monday night. The cemetery is kept open all night to allow the speedy burial of victims. An English steamer from Marseilles has been signalled off Lisbon with two cases of cholera aboard.

NINETY-FIVE IN THE SHADE,

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

Cleveland's Managers Feel Sure of the Nomination.

CHICAGO, July 7.—The following were given as the final ballots taken for the preridental preferences in the New York delegation: Cleveland 50, Flower 22. The Cleveland managers are in high feather, and claim as a result of to-day's work that the fight has already been won, and that it only requires a sitting of the convention to seal the victory.

The Massachusetts delegation held a meeting this afternoon, which was addressed by Butler. He said: I will support the nominee of this convention no matter who he may be.

In an interview with a Times reporter immediately after the adjournment of the New York delegation, John Kelly said: The fact is we want a candidate who has been enough identified with national government and who has had experience enough to be called a statesman. Cleveland made a good mayor of Buffalo and a good sheriff there, but as governor of New York he had been a failure. Kelly instanced Bayard and McDonold as suitable candidates.

Tilden telegraphed Chairmon Barnum explicitly stating that he wouldn't accept the nomination.

OUTRAGED BY A TRAMP.

A Kingston despatch says:—A tramp named Wagner, who has been wandering about North Frontenac for two or three years yesterday met and outraged Miss. Clow, aged about 18 years. A passing farmer discovered the young woman, ascertained what had happened, and gave an alarm. It was at once responded to. A dozenmen with vengeance in their eyes and rifles in their hands set out in search of the wretch. They traced Wagner to the woods and are still looking for him. The young woman lies in a very precarious codition.

STANLEY COMING HOME.

It is reported in England that Henry M. Stanley has sailed from Africa for England. The commanders of the Portuguese war vessels have ascended the Congo and annulled the treaties that Stanley concluded with the natives, which granted to the African International association sovereignty over the territory.

No injurious effects can follow the use of Ayer's Ague Cure in the treatment of malarial diseases. THE CHEESE MARKET.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Last Saturday's market appears to be but a repetition of those preceding during the present week. Business is extremely slow on all grades, and thorough buyers, when they appear to find a bargain, are closing on maps lots, there is very little in the way of what may be called an actual natural demand, either open or restrained. Shippers themselves would really prefer to see a steadier, healthier market, as a partial protection to the supplies afloat, but obtain absolutely no direct support from abroad and lack the confidence to assume a position calculated to help receivers out. With a prospect of shipment from here of about 75,000 boxes, it is probable that 20,000 boxes will remain unsold, and this, with Canadian exports estimated at 70,000@75,000 boxes, of which 25,000 is said to be going on one ship to Bristol, tends to still further depress the tone. In fact without mincing matters at all, the feeling to-day is very tame even at the low rates reached, and it it evident that the market will require heroic treatment to bring it into shape again. It is expected that the producer will be inclined to check shipments, but holding back the make at this season is doubtful policy, and after all, much will depend upon the way the foreign markets acts after advices of this week's results on this side are received. The rates Saturday showed a possible 9c for gilt-edge stock with all the trimmings necessary to satisfy the few buyers who will pay a premium, but 8½c is practically the top, and 8½c has brought some fancy white stock. Sellers, too, appeared ready operators at these figures; and while they claimed not to be forcing matters, there was a great deal of looking around for buyers, who have a little time to spare and are apt to close quickly when quality suits them. Other grades have no quotation, and go at all sorts of prices whenever an opportunity to sell them is presented. Cable 48s 6d for American choice.

Mr. Alex. McAdam, of New York, referring to the once famous Herkimer cheese in that State, says that Canadian dairymen, accepting the counsels of experienced men to make fall cream cheese the whole season are "considerably outselling the once famous Herkimer county cheese in the markets of Great Britain."

UTICA, July 7.—Cheese sales 650 boxes, 8c; 600 boxes, 8½c; 1200 boxes, 8½c; 1300 boxes, 8½c; 370 boxes, 8½c; 840 boxes, 8½c; 330 boxes, 8½c; 1,450 boxes consigned.

AN ENGINEER'S NERVE.

SAVES THE LIVES OF SEVERAL HUNDRED BUSINESS MEN.

POKEEPSIE, July 7.—The summit steamboat express of the Ulster & Delaware road had a narrow escape from disaster. After leaving Kingston last night, on rounding the curve, the engineer saw a mass of rocks partly covering the track. He applied the air brakes and pulled the reverse lever over and opened the throttle wide, stopping the train in less than its length, but not before the rocks had stripped off all the steps from the left side of the train and broke every cast iron journal box away from every truck from the engine to the rear of the train. The trucks, however, were not dislodged. There were several hundred business men on the train, A vote of thanks was given to the engineer.

A MANIC IN CHURCH.

HE RUSHES ON THE ALTAR AND EXHIBITS A FINE FRENZY.

A cable London letter says.—Londonderry, Ireland, is excited over the most scandalous affair which has yet cropped out from the Orange national feuds. During vespers in one of the Catholic churches and when the priest was chanting the Magnificat, a man wild with excitment entered the church door and yelled at the top of his strong voice "Look out, you —— papists.', Then he ran with all his might down the centre aisle, howling and cursing as he went. He reached the sanctuary rail before any one of the frightened people could intercept him. With a bound he passed over the rail and ran up the steps to the altar. This he attacked and succeded in breaking to fragments the benediction pieces standing outside the tabernacle. He then leaped on the altar table and cursed the people and priests. Disrobing himself of his coat, vests, and pantaloons, he danced upon the altar, and then snatched up the Communion cloth and tore it to tatters with his teeth. The scene in the church was one of terrible excitement, and during the panic several women swooned. Finally the officiating priest and several of the men recovered their self-possession, and rushed upon the intruder. He was hurled from the altar, and would have been torn limb from limb but for the interference of the priest. The man made a desperate resistence, and was not overcome until some police arrived and he was handcuffed. He had taken such a firm hold upon the Communion cloth that it had to be cut away from his mouth. It is ascertained that he was of weak mind, and had became hopelessly demented during the exciting events in Derry. He was removed to an asylum.

Messrs. Parker & Laird, of Hillsdale writes: Our Mr. Laird having occasion to visit Scotland, and knowing the excellant qualities of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, concluded to take some with him and the result has been very astonishing. We may say that in several instances it has effected a cure when ailments had often pronounced incurable by eminent practitioners

Cicero was very spindle-shanked, and Demosthenes is said to have had a shuffling, stumbling gait, which meant that his legs were not wholly in gear.

THE SARNIA WRECKED

The Dominion S. S. Sarnia ran ashore off the coast of Ireland yesterday. As this is the steamer Mr. Watkins sailed on his many friends will be glad to know that he reached Liverpool in safety. Later reports from Montreal state that the Sarnia is not so much damaged as reported. She is expected to be got off this afternoon and will dock in Liverpool this week. Part of her cargo consisted of 24,000 boxes of cheese, of which 6,000 boxes were shipped from this district by Mr. J. C, Warrington. These are all fully insured in the British and Foreign Marine Insurance Company, and the Union Marine Co mpany.

KINGSTON PRESBYTERY

Rev. David Mitchell Granted Six Months Leave.

REV. MR GALLAGHER CENSURED.

The Kingston Presbytery met last night in John Street Presbyterian Church, and appointed Rev, Henry Gracey, of Gananoque, Moderator.

Letters were read stating that Rev. F. W. Archibald declined the call to St. Andrews Church, Kingston; and that the congregations of Seymour and Rylstown were united in this county.

Rev. Joshua Fraser's case at his own request was referred with all the documents to the next meeting of the Toronto and Kingston Synod at Cobourg next May.

The committee appointed in re minister stipends reported that the movement to augment the salaries of ministers in poor stations had succeeded admirably, and that only $800 for the first six months ending last April had been expended.

TO-DAY'S SESSION.

The Presbytery resumed this morning. The committee on Home Missions Rev, M. W. McLean, convener, reported that at present there were seventeen vacancies and mission fields in the Presbytery, with sixty preaching stations, all of which were supplied with missionaries. The finances were reported to be in a health condition. The committee recommended that $200 be granted to aid this work which was consented to. Appointments were made to dispense ordinances in the mission fields during the summer. Revds. McLean, Gallagher and Gracey were appointed a committee to visit the mission fields along the Kingston and Pembroke Railway and Revds. Cumberland, Craig and Wilkins to visit Hastings road missions. Rev. G. Shore, of Lansdowne, tendered his resignation as pastor of that congregation, he having accepted the appointment of Superintendent of Missions in St, John, N. B. The resignation will be formally accepted at a meeting of the Presbytery to be held in St. Andrews hall, Kingston, two weeks from to day at 2 p.m.

REV. MR. MITCHELL'S CASE.

Rev. David Mitchell, of John Street Presbyterian Church, on the strength of letters received from his medical advisers in New York, asked the Presbytery to grant him leave of absence for a few months in the hope that absolute cessation from work would restore him to his full vigor and strength The session unanimously favored the request and deeply sympathized with Mr. Mitchell in his affliction. Rev. Mr. Wishart moved, seconded by Principal Grant—"that the Presbytery expresses it entire sympathy with their brother, the pastor of John Street congregation in the serious affliction with which God in His good providence has afflicted him and learning from eminent medical authorities that a period of six months rest is required by Mr. Mitchell in order to ensure his probable recovery, we agree to give the needed leave of absence from this date; and the Presbytery at the same time expresses its full sympathy with the congregation in the case; and appoint Revds. McLean, Young and Grant as a Committee to call a meeting of the congregation and lay the matter before them and make such arrangements for the supply of the pulpit as may best service the welfare of the congregation. Carried."

Rev. Mr. McLean was appointed Moderator of the session during Mr. Mitchell's absence.

A memorial was read from the congregations of Camden and Newburg asking the Presbytery to ordain their pastor, Rev. P. M. Pollock. The matter on motion was referred to the Moderator to make enquiries and report.

The Presbytery by resolution expressed its disapproval of Rev. Mr. Gallagher's conduct in marrying a deceased wife sister as it was contrary to the law of the church.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEES.

The Home Mission Committee was appointed as follows:—Revds. M. W. McLean (convener) Gray, Gracey, Gallagher, and Young, and Messrs, Gillies, Craig and Campbell, elders.

Sabbath School Committee:—Revds. Young (convener) Wilkins, Colthard, and Messrs Ward and Hobal, elders.

A Committee was also appointed on examination of students, one on the State of Religion, and another on temperance, after which the Presbytery adjourned at 1:30 this afternoon to meet at Kingston in two weeks.

DONATION TO REV. H. I. ALLAN.

From our own Correspondent.

FOXBORO, July 8.—The friends of the Rev. H. I. Allan to the number of about 300 assembled from all parts of the circuit to enjoy a farewell social with one for whom they retain feelings of respect and admiration. The tables groaned under their load and presented a tempting appearance The Foxboro band formed in procession at the hall and marched to the grounds where they enlivened the multitude with strains of charming music during the entire evening. After a very enjoyable time had been spent, all assembled on the beautiful lawn in front of the parsonage. It was cosily seated and highly illumined with Chinese lanterns. Here the rev. gentleman and lady were seated, when Mr. L. W. Burke was called to read an address. Mr. Wm. Sills on behalf of Mr. Allan's friends presented him with a purse of some $70. Dr. D. W. Faulkiner donated his account of $60. The band played "For he's a Jolly Good Fellow" for Dr. Faulkiner, and Mr. Allan made a suitable reply. After addresses by Dr. Faulkiner, Mr. John Turner and others the audience dispersed.

Neglected Colds, Pain in the Chest and all cases of the lungs, are cured by using Allen's Lung Balsam. See Advertisement.

SPORTING NEWS.

The Bay of Quinte Yacht Club will meet to-night at Hambly's.

At Kingston Merlin won the third-class yacht race beating the Wideawake and Belladonna.

Ross and Plaisted won the double scull at Oak Point by a length and a half in 19 minutes and 5 seconds.

Jem Mace, with his new found antagonist for John L. Sullivan, Fred. L. Collier, will not arrive in America until September.

The Australian champion sculler, Edward Trickett, who rowed with Hanlan in England, is not doing well. His bronchial complaint has returned, and it is evident that his sculling days are over.

The Chicago Mirror of American Sports is a very complete weekly published for $2 per annum. The make up is excellent. The freshness of the news is a large recommendation. It's bicycle department is well edited.

The Aileen, Oriole, Cygnet and Coral were the standing keel yachts of seven tons that engaged in the races of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club Saturday afternoon The Aileen won the race, the Oriole taking second place.

The standing of the U. S. League is as follows:—Boston, 37 games won, 12 lost; Providence, 36, 13; New York, 32, 19; Buffalo, 24, 23; Chicago, 23, 26; Cleveland, 20, 28; Philadelphia, 16, 37; Detroit, 10 and 40.

Arrangements were concluded yesterday by telegraph by which the Peterboro' Lacrosse Club will stop over here on their return from playing the Metropolitans of Ottawa at Brockville, on Wednesday, and play a match with the Okas. This will be on Thursday, the 10th. The Okas must do their best as the Peterboros' are a champion team.

The following will compose the Toronto Lacrosse team which plays the American team just returned from Europe on the Staten Island and Polo grounds, New York to morrow and Thursday respectively:—Ross Mackenzie, W. H. Hubbell, J. S. Garvin, J. Drynan, W. C. Bonnell, F. W. Garvin, A. Blight, R. Macpherson. E. H. Gerry, C. A. McHenry, E. Smith and F. Dixon; spare man, Joseph Irving. Mr, R. B. Hamilton will captain the team.

Wasn't the owner of Jay-Eye-See, says the Mirror of American Sports, indulging in a little harmless and safe bluffing when he proposed matching his horse against Maud S for $10,000 a side? It looks that way, Mr. Case knows perfectly well that Maud S. is out of the list of possible match-makers, and that she is owned by Mr. Vanderbilt solely for the pleasure he derives in possessing and driving so exquisite a piece of horse-flesh

FOXBORO NOTES.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

FOXBORO, July 7.—Vacation!

THE PRINTER'S STRIKE.

TORONTO, July 8.—The strike extended early yesterday morning to the Mail job department, where 28 hands left work; to the Grip office, where the Ontario government printing is done and where 47 men left their work, to Copp, Clarke & Co's office, 14 men leaving off, and to the Canada Presbyterian, where 13 men quit. The proprietors of the Monetary Times and Christian Guardian caved in before the men were out two hours, and business was resumed in these offices by 9 o'clock. Last evening Copp, Clark & Co. informed their men that they had taken down the posted notice of a reduction, and the men will go to work to day. The Globe is issuing a good paper; the Mail is unable to do so.

Mr. T. C. Wells, Chemist and Druggist, Port Colborne, Ont, writes: "Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure sells well and gives the best of satisfaction for all diseases of the blood." It never fails to root out all diseases from the system, cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, etc., purifies the blood, and will make you look the picture of health and happiness.

GREAT NEGLIGENCE.

There is great neglect with most people to maintain a regular action of the bowels, which causes much disease. Burdock Blood Bitters cure constipation.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Winslow's Soothing Syrup For Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

ROBBERY OF $321.

Investigating a Serious Charge at the Police Court

A session of the police court was held yesterday afternoon at which Mr. A. L. Smith, Justice of the Peace went into the investigation of a complaint made by Mr. Felix Carpenter of Marmora charging Messrs. Carcallan and Gladney with having at the township of Marmora polluted the waters of the Moira by allowing saw dust and saw mill rubbish to be thrown into the river contrary to the statute in such cases. The further hearing of this matter was laid over till 3 o'clock this afternoon.

CHARGED WITH LARCENY.

Messrs. G. E. Bull and G. W. Faulkner Justices of the Peace, went into the merits of an information laid by Mr. H. G. Thrasher, of Stirling, accusing Mr. A. G. Scott, proprietor of the Scott Hotel, Stirling, with having stolen some $325 from him. From the evidence produced it appears that over three weeks ago Mr. Thrasher had been drinking, that he had in his pockets $221 in money belonging to Mr. David Morgan, his father-in-law and about $128 of his own, and in giving his testimony he says that he knows nothing about what transpired or took place between nine and 10 o'clock in the evening till between 8 and 9 o'clock the next morning when he awoke and found himself in bed at Scott's hotel. He got up and examined his pockets and found that the money was all gone with the exception of $21 in bills and about $3 in silver. Scott denied knowing anything about the money. He had put him (Mr. Thrasher) to bed about one o'clock that morning. Mr. Thrasher swore that he counted the money about five o'clock the previous evening and that it was all right then and that he rolled it up and put it in his inside vest pocket.

SAW HIM TAKE IT.

Mr. W. Gould, a young man a carter of Stirling testified to being in the barroom at the hotel between half past twelve and one o'clock. Mr. Scott, Mr. Thrasher and himself were the only persons present. That he saw Mr. Scott unbutton Mr. Thrasher's vest and take a roll about an inch thick from Mr. Thrasher's vest pocket, which looked to him like a roll of bills and soon after Mr. Scott started to go up stairs with Mr. Thrasher.

The further hearing of the case was enlarged till Thursday next at one o'clock p.m., bail being taken for Mr. Scott's appearance.

A BABY TAKES A DOSE OF LAUDANUM

ST. THOMAS, July 8.—Frank, the 2 year-old son of William Egglestone, narrowly escaped death by poisoning yesterday. The child's mother had been using laudanum, and left the bottle containing the narcotic on the table within reach of little Frank, who swallowed a mouthful before being discovered. Dr. Kains succeeded in saving the babe's life.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Invalids distracted by indigestion and discouraged in their search for its remedy should make a trial of this never-failing medicine. A lady long a martyr to dyspeptic tortures, writes that Holloway's Pills made her feel as if a burden had been taken off her. Her spirits formerly low, have greatly improved; her capricious appetite has given place to that of healthy hunger; her dull, sick headache has departed, and gradually so marvellous a change has been effected that she is altogether a new creature, and again fit for her duties. These pills may be administered with safety to the most delicate. They never act harshly, nor do they ever induce weakness; they rightly direct deranged, and control excessive action.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In in common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally and the Ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceeding efficacious. When influenza is epidemic this treatment is the earliest, safest, and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free, without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of saving suffering when any one is afflicted with cold, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints, by which so many persons are seriously and permanently afflicted in most countries.

AFTER USING.

Wonderful! Wonderful!

Thousands of young men are exclaiming the above every day, after using DR. LAMARTINE'S MOUSTACHE GROWER. Positively the only reliable preparation ever offered to the public. A trial will convince the most skeptical. Beware of bogus imitations. Sent postpaid, in plain wrapper, on receipt of price, $1.00 per box. C. ALLENE, Box 13, London, Ont., Sole Agent for U. S. and Canada.

HALL'S

Vegetable Sicilian

was the first preparation perfectly adapted to cure diseases of the scalp, and the first successful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth, and youthful beauty. It has had many imitators, but none have so fully met all the requirements needful for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor, and spread its fame and usefulness to every quarter of the globe. Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause: [illegible]

The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries, where they had never made an effort for its introduction.

The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER wonderfully improves the personal appearance. It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fever, and dryness, and thus prevents baldness. It stimulates the weakened glands, and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholic preparations, but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy.

LOVE'S LOTTERY

OR,

THE RIVAL SISTERS.

The eve of the sisters' departure arrived all too soon, and Eustace, hypocrite as he was mentally declaring all things to be fair in love and war, spent it at Portland Place to take farewell of his beloved.

It had been arranged that the young girls were to start for Liverpool by the express morning train, which would give them time to rest before going on board the Cunard steamer 'San Francisco.'

Upon which Eustace had secretly informed Pauline that he would leave London by the next train that would reach its destination just in time for the vessel's departure.

With a whispered assurance of their speedily again meeting, Eustace took his leave as the clock was chiming midnight.

During the day much rain had fallen, which was exuding from the earth in a veil of thick, grey mist, almost fog that rendered the ground slippery, and objects at a slight distance indistinct.

Eustace Belmore looked hopelessly round for a cab,

Not one visible.

There was nothing for it but to walk, and he bent his steps homewards.

Speedily lost in a reverie, of which Pauline formed the centre of the revolving scenes, he strode on at his usual pace, taking the proper turnings with the instinct of a blind horse traversing a familiar road.

The mist fell, darkening as he went up one street, down another, across the square and ignorant that as he went a cloaked figure with the noiseless tread of a cat tracked his every step darting into doorways, or recoiling further into the darkness when he who was being run down, either paused or glanced around.

Why was he followed?

Evidently for a purpose.

What purpose?

And why was it not accomplished?

When would it be?

The question was soon to be answered.

The mist was changing to drizzling rain when Eustace Belmore crossed Grosvenor Square

The figure yet followed undetected.

All was still, until abrupely the silence was broken by a low whistle.

A second, it was echoed by another closer still.

The singularity aroused the young man and suspiciously he wheeled around on his heel.

All was silent.

He was alone.

The mist apparently solely about him.

Once more, after a piercing darted into the gloom, he pursued his way.

Not for long.

Before he was warned by the slightest sound, the figure joined by another. was upon him.

His arms were clasped behind as in a vice.

A knee was pressed into his back, while a heavy blow descended with stunning force upon his head,

There was no time to cry.

No, not for the utterance of a syllable.

It had been the work of a second.

Eustace Belmore lay on the road bleeding, senseless, at the mercy of the two villains that now bent over him.

So noiseless had the foul deed been accomplished that a policeman, who at the time had turned into the square at the farther end, lounged along, and with a yawn quitted it at the other. without being in the least aware that murder had been nearly accomplished within only a few yards of him.

'He's quiet enough,' said one of the men whose voice the reader, had he been present would have recognized as Peter Grum's,

'Where is the cab?'

The one spoken to disappeared, and in a few seconds returned bringing the vehicle which seemed to roll on muffled wheels.

The two having placed their victim inside, Grum folowed after whispering three words to the other, who mounted the box.

'London bridge—quick!'

Rapidly the cab went, adopting bye ways instead of the thoroughfares, until it reached King William Street.

Here its pace slackened. and cautiously the driver peered through the mist,

The place was deserted.

There was even no echo of an instructive guardian of the night's boot heel.

The driver drew up, and alighting helped Grum lift out Eustace Belmore, still insensible.

Carrying the young fellow between them they descended the dark slippery steps.

The fog, which was here dense, hanging like a pall to within a foot or so of the turbid tide, totally concealed the group from all danger of detection.

Reaching the river's edge, they found the tide had turned,

'Let us cross over the barges,' whispered Grum, 'Here the mud might hold him, and he'll be discovered too soon.'

Nodding for answer, the two with difficulty crept over several barges which were lashed together, forming a species of bridge,

They reached the last.

Swinging, once or twice, the body between them to gain impetus, they launched it into the black muddy tide.

Every [illegible] ho walks the streets of a great city, a [illegible] scans with an intelligent eye the colorless faces of more than fifty per cent of the people he meets, can easily agree with us in the statement, that this age, which makes such dwarfs upon the working energies the greater part of men in the intense pursuit of business, has destroyed in a proportionate degree the animal health and robust condition. Nature in its stage of exhaustion, cannot be restored of its self but requires some stimulating tonic to strengthen and keep the system in regular order, and in Northrop and Lyman's Quinine Wine we have the exact remedy required. The peculiar operation of this medicine, in case of general debility and nervous prostration, has undergone long and close observation, and it is believed it will never of properly and judiciously administered. Prepared by Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, and sold by all drugists.

IMPORTANT TO RUPTURED PERSONS

The Excelsior Rupture Treatment was introduced to the American people several years ago in such a manner as to completely secure the confidence of the whole nation. The mode of introduction was by furnishing the remedy to those afflicted with Hernia in any of its various forms and collecting no pay until a permanent cure was effected. In this way the treatment gained a world wide reputation on its own merits, never failing to cure any reducible Hernia. The Company has at the solicitation of thousands placed the remedy on sale by all druggists both wholesale and retail, in the United States, Canada and England. In this way bringing it within the reach of all classes at a trifling cost compared with the benefit which are derived from the use of the treatment. Ask your druggist for a free book on rupture or send 6 cts. for one to the Excelsior Rupture Cure M'f'g Co., Ogdensburg, N. Y.

SCIENCE.

To increase the weight of the body invigorate the system, revitalize the exhausted and depressed, is the true object sought by medical science. The digestive organs must be in a healthy condition if we wish to secure this desired result, and no remedy yet discovered has ever proved so effectual in accomplishing this as FLAX-SEED EMULSION COMP. It contains Phosphorus to build up the nervous system and all the fat producing properties of Flaxseed to enrich the blood and supply the animal economy with the elements for reconstruction.

Use the imperial Kidney and Liver Cure—price 50c.

The above remedies are sold in Belleville by James Clarke Co. and R. Carmichae druggists.

ROBLIN HOUSE,

Late Douglas House.

As the late proprietor of the Douglas House has removed to other premises and called it the New Douglas House, I beg to notify the public that I have reopened the Douglas House myself, under the name of the "ROBLIN HOUSE." As the house has always had the name of a First-Class Hotel, I shall spare no pains to make it as popular as it ever was. The above is pleasantly situated in the central part of the city, and is a very desirable place for Families and the Public generally. It has been thoroughly renovated and furnished with new furniture. A cordial invitation is given to all old patrons of the Douglas House, and all new ones who will favor me with a call.

Vital Questions.!

Ask the most eminent physician
Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?

And they will tell you unhesitatingly
"Some form of Hops! ! !"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians:
"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, diabetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—

"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu!!"

Ask the same physicians
"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.," and they will tell you:
Mandrake! or Dandelion!"

Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable.

And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is

Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

CHAPTER II.

"Patients
"Almost dead or nearly dying"

For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.

Women have gone nearly crazy! !! !

From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.

People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic, or suffering from scrofula.

Erysipelas!

"Saltrheum, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact, almost all diseases frail"

Nature is heir to

Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.

None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile poisonous stuff with 'Hop' or 'Hops' in their name.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY

is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co,s. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the error and indiscretion of youth, nervous weakness, early decay loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt, that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self addressed envelope to the Rev Joseph T. Inman Station D, New York City. d&w

ON THIRTY DAYS' TRIAL.

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above,—N B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty day's trial is allowed.

"Twenty-four years experience, says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the Generative organs is to repair the wastby giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and that all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box, 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5,00, addressed to Jas, Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward he goods free by mail, and send their written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure See adv't in another column

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "25 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 28, 1882.

"Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly, W. M. Phillips."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the Sarsaparilla in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1882. Yours gratefully,

Hiram Phillips."

A BAD SPELL.

You have heard of the city of Sioux—
The lovliest every you knioux—
And the following tale,'
I am sure cannot fail
To be read with emotion by yioux.

To this hustling young city of Sioux
Came a scion of Albion triotux;
When the name was pronounced
In his hearing, he flounced,
And at once in a passion he flioux.

"Now tell me, O people of Sioux,"
He shouted, "What can a man dioux
As 'tis spelled, so we say it,
And that is the way it
Should be!" And he blustered and blioux.

And all through the City of Sioux
That man raised a hullabulloux
With madness enraged,
Like a tiger uncaged,
He fell upon Gentile and Jioux.

As over the City of Sioux
He rushed, still the madder he grioux,
Till he fell in a fit,
And his soul, promptly it
Left his body—sans further adioux.

Then the Coroner's jury of Sioux
Their verdict most solemnly drioux;
"By disease of the heart
Victim's life did depart"
You have heard the sad tale; I am thrioux.

LATE NORTHWEST NEWS.

In Brandon the measles prevail.

Good milch cows are selling at $75 at Calgary.

A Presbyterian church has been opened at Medicine Hat.

Harvest will be general in Medicine Hat district before 20th July.

Pine Portage mine is working night and day, crushing high grade ore, which is yielding beyond all expectations.

The Lake of the Woods Milling and Mining Company, who are working the old Argyle mine, expect to exhibit a $2,000 gold brick in a few days.

A Medicine Hat saloon keeper named Ritchie was fined $200 last week for selling intoxicating liquors. He was again fined $105 for selling beer, etc., on Sunday.

Mrs. Beresby, the widow of a Toronto conductor, for whose murder at Rat Portage she was acquited some time ago, has died in Winnipeg hospital from consumption.

In future fines in criminal cases in the Northwest Territories are to be paid over to the Lieut. Governor of the Northwest as agent of the Dominion, and similar fines in the district of Keewatin to the Lieut. Governor of Manitoba, who is also Governor of Keewatin.

A heavy thunder storm and hail on July 1st did some big damage at Moosejaw. Hail stones the size of large marbles beat down with terrific force from the north, every north window and pane of glass in town being broken. Forty panes of glass in the C.P.R. dinning hall and one hundred and thirty panes in the round house were broken.

Mrs, Johnston, of Broadview, formerly of London, Ontario, recently eloped with Chas. Emerson, a Canadian Pacific Railway engineer. They were discovered at a hotel in Winnipeg and arrested for stealing trunks and clothing belonging to the deserted husband. The woman says she left owing to ill treatment and refuses to return to him. Emerson, when arrested, was wearing a suit of Johnston's clothes.

STOPPING A CATTLE STAMPEDE.

'One of the smartest things I ever saw in my travels,' said a passenger from the West, to a newspaper reporter 'was a cowboy stopping a cattle stampede. A herd of about six or eight hundred got frightened at something and broke away pell mell with their tails in the air and the bulls leading the procession. But Mr. Cowboy didn't get excited at all when he saw the the herd going for a strait bluff, where they would certainly tumble down the the canyon and be killed

'You know that when a herd like that gets to going they can't stop no matter whether they rush to death or not. Those in the rear crowd those ahead, and away they go. I wouldn't have given a dollar a head for the herd; but the cowboy spurred up his mustang, made a little detour, came right in front of the herd, cut across their path at a right angle, and then galloped leisurely on the edge of that bluff; halted, and looked around at the wild mass of beef coming right towards him. He was cool as a cucumber, though I expected to see him killed, and I was so excited I could not speak.

'Well when the leader had got within a quarter of a mile of I saw them try to slack up, though they could not do it very quick. But the whole herd seemed to stop, and when the cows and steers in the rear got about where the cowboy had cut across their path, I was surprised to see them stop to nibble at the grass. Then the whole herd stopped, wheeled, straggled back, and and then went fighting for a chance to get where the rear guard was.

'You see, that the cowboy had opened a big bag of salt he had brought out from the ranch to give the cattle, galloped across the herd's course, and emptied the bag. Every critter sniffed that line of salt, and, of course that broke up the stampede. but I tell you it was a queer sight to see that man out on the edge of that bluff quietly rolling a cigarette, when it seemed as though he'd be lying under 200 tons of beef in about a minute and a half.'

Neglected Colds, Pain in the Chest and all cases of the lungs, are cured by using Allen's Lung Balsam. See Advertisement.

POTASH.

Iodide of Potassum is one of the strongest of the minerals used in medicine, and has produced much suffering in the world. Taken for a long time in large doses, it dries up the gastric juices, impairs digestion, the stomach refuses food, and the patient declines in health and weight. Persons with Blood or Skin Diseases should be careful how they take those mineral poisons, as in most instances the effect of them is to almost permanently impair the constitution. To take the place of these poisons we offer you a safe, sure' prompt, and permanent relief from your troubles Shaker Blood Syrup is entirely a vegetable preparation, and easy to convince you of its merit.

I have cured permanently Blood Taint in the third generation by the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, after I had most signally failed with Mercury and Potash. Dr. Smith, Bangor, Pa.

A young man requests me to thank you for his cure of Blood Poison by the use of your Specific after all other treatment had failed.

J. E. Kennedy, Druggist, Cobourg, Ont.

For years I was afflicted with Dry Tetter of the most obstinate type. Was treated by many of the best physicians; took quantities of mercury, potash, and arsenic, which, instead of curing the Tetter crippled me up with mineral poison and rheumatism. The tetter continued to grow worse, and the itching almost made me crazy. In this condition I was induced to take Shaker Blood Syrup, and the result was as astonishing as Gratifying. In a few months teh Tetter was entirely well, the Mercurial Poisoning all out of my system, and I was a well man—and due only to Shaker Blood Syrup. All like sufferers should take it

C. H. Sargeant, Haverhill, Mass.

CONSUMPTION is curable in the early stages, not by stimulants nor poisons, which substitute one form of irritation for another, both of which nature must get rid of before rallying, but by food—the only remedy. The waste is the result of faulty nutrition, not limited to the lung but a systematic starvation. Here use Wheeler's Elixir Of Phosphates And Calisaya to secure digestion and assimilation, and if you have sense enough to persist until the balance of outcome and income is restored you may get well.

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficent. For sale by all Druggists.

THE DAILY ONTARIO.

THE TARIFF AND RECIPROCITY.

Recently the Toronto Mail made the assertion that "the people of Canada want nothing so little as they want reciprocity." The Charlottetown, P.E.I., Herald (Conservative) declines to accept the Mail's ipse dixit as the sentiment of the people of Canada, more particularly of the Maritime Provinces. Our contemporary says :—

"We can tell the Mail that the National Policy was held out to the people of this Island as the lever whereby Reciprocity was to be obtained. What said Sir John Macdonald in the resolution which he moved during the last session of the Mackenzie Government but that 'the welfare of Canada required the adoption of a national Policy which will benefit and foster the agricultural, the mining, the manufacturing and other interests of the Dominion, and moving, as it ought to do, in the direction of a reciprocity of tariff with our neighbors, as far as the varied interests of Canada demand, will greatly tend to procure for this country, eventually, a reciprocity of trade.' What was that but the recommendation of the National Policy, in order to secure a reciprocity of trade ? Why was the Hon. J. C. Pope, the champion free-trader, as he was called, elected to support the National Policy, but that the people believed and expected that thereby they would eventually secure reciprocity ? Why did Sir Charles Tupper tell the meeting in the Drill Shed but that he expected within ten years to see reciprocity with the United States ?"

Sir Charles more likely said he expected reciprocity within three years, and in this he was backed up by Sir Leonard Tilley. But these were anti-election promises. In opposition the Conservatives say one thing and in office do as they please, and that is generally something hurtful to the country.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Cleveland Press makes a calculation to show that the Canadian vote in the United States is now sufficiently large to turn the presidential election should it go Democratic. It thinks that Blaine's anti-British views will cause the Canadians to vote for the Democrat.

THE ADVOCATES of a reform in the protective tariff of the United States demand that a test of their principles shall be made by freeing all crude and a sufficient number of raw materials from taxes in one or more of the leading industries. This is a challenge from men not afraid of the result.

THE latest eletric invention consists in the conception and successful developement of a combination of instruments capable of utilizing a single telegraph wire for the simultaneous transmission of almost numberless messages with at much ease and rapidity as if the distant points were connected by a multitude of lines. The invention is known as the synchronous multiplex telegraph.

LIEUT-COL. DENISON having expressed his views regarding British connection at the Toronto U. E. L. celebration the "Independent" press fall foul of him and soundly berate him for having belittled the independence movement. One journal says that the Colonel has always been considered a level-headed man, but, it adds, he made a most ridiculous speech. Level-headed men therefore, when they express a preference for continued British connection, become ridiculous. This is a strange doctrine seeing that Col. Denison is not exactly alone in his preference. These mouthings on the part of the Toronto News and Ottawa Sun will not injure Col. Denison in the estimation of those who know his character as a man possessed of much common sense and imbued with more real Canadian sentiment perhaps than the men whose pens are now busy in writing him down an ass.

OUR respected Tory contemporary of Hamilton states that all the "Grit" press chronicled the reported failure of the Hamilton Whip Company and insinuates that such a "calamity" would be welcome news to the 'Grit" press. The Spectator will be disappointed to know that the item never appeared in the ONTARIO though it was not because it wasn't seen. Does our contemporary never chronicle reported failures anyway ? And if not, why not ? If the report referring to the Whip Company was false it must relieve the Tory press which is doing its best to pass over the numerous business disasters of this badly governed country. Now, if it is untrue that the Nova Scotia Steel Works in the east and the Toronto Bolt Company in the west have not gone under in their battle with the tariff we will gladly chronicle it. Or if the sewing machine manufacturers of Hamilton say the tariff has given them a better market we will gladly publish that too. How is it Mr. Spectator.

James Cullan, Pool's Island, N. F., writes: I have been watching the progress of Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil since its introduction to this place and with much pleasure state that my anticipations of its success have been fully realized, it having cured me of bronchitis and soreness of nose; while not a few of my rheumatic neighbors, (one old lady in particular) pronounce it to be the best article of its kind that has ever been brought before the public. Your medicine does not require any longer a sponser, but if you wish me to act as such, I shall be only too happy to have my name connected with your prosperous child.

In no other medicinal preparation have the results of the most intelligent study and scientific inquiry been so steadily and progressively utilized as in Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It leads the list as truly scientific preparation for all blood diseases.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR

TORONTO, July 9.—The national Great Priory of Canada Knights Templar opened its annual concave yesterday. There was a large muster of Sir Knights from all parts of the Dominion. Shortly before the hour of opening a number of Knights in uniform proceeded to the Rossin House and escorted the Great Prior M. E. Sir Knight, Col. J. C. McLeod Moore, to the hall where he was fittingly receeived. He then delivered his a locution. He regretted the serverance of the tie binding the Order in Canada to the supreme body in England, and paid a tribute to H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, the Grand Master, for his ready acquiescence in granting the independance desired by Canadian Templars. The address concluded with a reference to the Pope's encyclical against Freemasonry, which he condemned as an exhibition of animus and ignorance.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Cleveland's Men Score One Against Tammany.

STATES WILL VOTE AS UNITS.

The Democratic National Convention, which organized yesterday in Chicago, like the Republican Convention of last month, consists of 820 delegates. Eighteen of these, however, represent the Territories and the District of Columbia, which in previous conventions of the party have had no voice in selecting the candidates. Under the rule which was adopted by the Baltimore Convention of 1836, and which has governed the action of all the Democratic National Conventions since that time, it will require a two-thirds vote to nominate. Two-thirds of 802 is 535.

CHICAGO, July 9.—The day opened auspiciously for the purposes of the great convention held in the heart of July save that there is mist in the air, which may grow into rain. The air is cool and bracing. Crowds began to gather in the vicinity of the great hall in which the Democratic National Convention is being held at an early hour. It was conceded that in picturesque effect the arrangement and dressing of the hall excels that of the Convention of four weeks ago. The decorations are not profuse, but are striking and pleasing to the eye, the national colors predominating. The only retarding feature is the main platform, which is dwarfed in comparison with the magnificent proportions of the hall. The delegates are seated in a square immediately fronting the speakers. Between the delegates and platform are quarters assigned for the press representatives who have been provided with tables in rising tiers, affording the most complete view imaginable of any incident likely to occur during the session. To the right and left of the delegates are seats for spectators sloping upwards easily to a point 80 feet from the floor level. The lighting of the hall is complete being flanked and crowned with great windows. At 11:30 the scarlet coated band of the First Illinois Regiment took a position above the Speaker's platform and burst forth with a martial air which also proved the signal for the arrival of the first of the delegates, the Tennesseeans leading. From that moment the crowd streamed in without ceasing until noon, when the hall had its complement of people.

THIS WORKING ARMY

CALLED TO ORDER.

At 12:50 p.m. the convention was called to order by ex Senator Barnum Chairman of the National Democratic committee. Prayers were offered by Rev. Dr. C. Marquis. Hubbard was unanimously elected temporary chairman.

THE TAMMANITES DEFEATED.

A resolution that the States cannot change there vote during roll-call was presented. Grady of New York presented an amendment that the chairmen of delegations shall when the roll is called give expression to individual vote. Fellows N. Y., speaking against the amendment, said the Convention had no right to change the instructions of the State convention of New York. Fellows read the instructions of the New York State Convention showing that the delegates were bound to vote as a unit with the wishes of the majority. The speech was received with mingled cheers and hisses. A long discussion ensued upon the question ; when the vote was taken Brady's amendment lost, New York casting a solid 72 against it. The secretary announced the correct state of the vote on the amendment, as follows :—Total votes cast 795 ; for the amendment 332 ; against 463 : not voting 7.

THE CHOLERA IN FRANCE.

PARIS, July 8.—The panic increases in Toulon. Out of 69,000 taxpayers 40,000 have fled, as many as 6,000 going in a single day. The laundresses having refused to wash the linen of the hospital patients the work is done by prisoners with promises of pardon. It is feared the exodus from Marseilles and Toulon will result in spreading the cholera. The migration from Paris to the seaside is unexampled, MARSEILLES, July 6.—Fourteen deaths rom cholera occurred last evening. The panic is increasing. All who can are leaving.

The total number of deaths from cholera at Toulon from its first appearance is 15. There were three deaths at Aix to day.

AFTER THE HONEYMOON.

Wife—My dear, to what did Matthew Arnold refer when he spoke of 'Sweetness and Light'?

Husband—Why, to the women, I suppose.

Wife—Isn't he perfectly lovely do you think I belong to that class?

Husband (yawning)—Oh, certainly.

Wife (eagerly)—What is the real significance of the expression?

Husband (sternly)—It means that some women are fond of taffy and have very little brains.

No injurious effects can follow the use of Ayer's Ague Cure in the treatment of malarial diseases. It contains besides specific and unfailing antidote for miasmatic poison other remedial agents which unite to expel the poisonous humors, purify the system, and leave it in a healthy reinvigorated condition.

HUSBAND—Oh, that neuralgea and toothache near kill me.

WIFE—Why don't you go to A. L. Geen's Wholesale and Retail Drug Store and get a and get a bottle of Fluid Lightning, you know it cures all such things as tooth ache, neuralgea, headache, lumbago, earache, sore throat, &c. It gives instant relief.

LABOR TROUBLES.

The Printer's Strike Continues In Toronto.

N. P. WAGES FOR MECHANICS.

The St. Louis Republican has decided to employ no more union printers ; 33 have been discharged.

Four hundred journeymen plasterers in Philadelphia have struck for an increase of wages.

TORONTO, July 9.—As was fully expected, all of the employers in the striking book and job offices yielded yesterday and by 1 o'clock in the afternoon all the men had returned to work. The strike, however continues in the composing rooms of the Mail and Globe. The former paper is still very much crippled, and to-day contains two editorials on the strike. The wages of some of the printers are given in June ranging from $15.23 to $23.30 and adds :—It will be observed that these are high wages. They are nearly double the wages earned by other machanics at this time," The printers think that the admission from the N.P. organ that other mechanics are earning only from $8 to $12 a week is an acknowledgment of the failure of the Government policy to keep wages up. It has it appears had a contrary effect and put them down. The Mail's article concludes :—"No such wages are paid in any trade. No business just now fully justifies such wages. The men got an increase to the very highest point when business was "booming." They are not either wise or fair when they refuse to submit to a reasonable reduction when the boom is over. Ten per cent. off the rates recently paid would still leave our printers the best paid mechanics in Canada."

SOMNAMBULISM AT LONDON.

A WOMAN WALKS OFF A BRIDGE WHILE ASLEEP.

LONDON, July 8.—While John Mustill was walking along Ridout street early yesterday (Sunday) morning he noticed the form of a woman protruding from the water in Hunt's mill race, and crossing over the small bridge, went down to the place and found it to be a woman apparently lifeless and half submerged in the water. He picked her up and carried her to the nearest house woke the inmates and then went for Drs. Fraser and Wilson. When the doctors arrived the lady was unconscious and it was some time before signs of returning life were observed, but she finally came round. Her face was much cut and she was otherwise seriously hurt. The unfortunate lady, whose name is Mrs. Carmie, is subject to fits of somnambulism, and it is supposed that in one of these fits she left her bed and walked into the water. Mrs Carmie is at present in a low condition from exposure and the effect of the fall and immersion in the water for so many hours. The doctors are doubtful if she will recover.

CORNWALL DISMISSED.

LONDON, July 8.—Fawcett stated in the Commons to-day that Cornwall had been dismissed from his position in Dublin postoffice and his case placed in the hands of law officers.

DUBLIN, July 8.—A number of persons have left the city to avoid the disclosure of acts in which they participated similar to those charged against Cornwall, post office Secretary. Cornwall has fled.

AS DEFIANT AS EVER.

At the London Ont. police court John Lingard, a young man, was charged with beating the salvation army drum.

'I am guilty,' he replied to the magistrate.

'Will you desist in future if I suspend judgment or impose a mere nominal sentence ?' asked the bench.

'No,' said the defendant, shaking his head. 'I will beat again when my turn cames. But I might state there are about 600 to beat the drum before my turn comes again.' (Laughter.)

The magistrate—Ten dollars or twenty days.

Judgment was to have been given yesterday in the case of Felix Carpenter against Cascallen & Gladney, of Marmora, charged with throwing sawdust in the river Moira but the Justice of the Peace who tried the case failed to put in an appearance. It is stated the case has been settled.

John Edgar was charged before Mayor Dunnet yesterday afternoon with assaulting William, a son of Joseph Bolyea, who resides near Flint & Holton's mill. Edgar is an employee of Gilmour & Co.'s and asserted that the plaintiff and other boys had been annoying his men engaged on the raft, besides stealing articles. Becoming vexed at the boys he struck Bolger with a board. The Moyor suspended sentence until Monday next.

EXCURSION.—The Bleecker Street Methodist Church Sunday School will have their annual excursion to Massassaga Point on Wednesday, July 9th. All interested are welcome to come. The boat leaves the wharf at 8 a.m. and returns at 4:00 p. m. Tickets 25 cents.

STOCKS. — The Felt hat market in Belleville at present is in an excited state prices running low on account of the very large stocks on hand. Desirable styles are going off fast at Hyman's at 15 per cent. discounts, while those not quite so good are going off at very low rates. Should the demand so continue for a couple of weeks stocks will all be cleared out. The largest and best assorted stock we find is held by S. A. Hyman.

Just received at Ford's art gallery a large stock of gold and plush mouldings, a beautiful line of new enamel mouldings will be opened this week. If you want your picture framed well and cheap send them in at once. J. H. Ford, Picture framer.

FATALITY AT GEORGETOWN.

THE EXPERIENCE OF THREE MEN IN A ROTARY BOILER.

GEORGETOWN, July 9.—At Barber Bros. paper mills yesterday it became necessary for a man to go down into the rotary boiler. Mr Alexander went in and and was almost immdiasely suffocated with poisonous gas. Patrick McGraw went in to get him out, and was soon succumbed to the same influence. Mr. Martin, the superintendent then went in but was also overpowered. Other men were let down by ropes who succeeded in getting the three men out. Dr. Webster and Todd were soon on the spot and succeeded in resuscitating Alexander and Martin, but McGraw who too far gone and died. He leaves a wife, two children and a widowed mother.

PUBLIC SCHOOL BOARD.

Tenders for Alterations to the High School Awarded.

A regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education was held last evening, Mr. Wm. Johnson in the chair.

The members present were,—Messrs. Davis Wensley, Diamond, Richards, Walker, Hayne, Martin, Moore, Macoun, Tennant, Vanallen, Tracy, Carmichael, Wills and Burke.

The resignation of Mr. Geo. A. Swayzie, writing master, was read, and letters asking reappointment were presented from all the other teachers except Mr. Francis

THE IRWIN CLAIM AGAIN.

The Finance Committee besides recommending the payment of several accounts reported that they had refused to grant any remuneration to Mr. John Irwin, late head master of the model school, a court of competent jurisdiction having decided that such a grant was not legal. A long discussion ensued on this report, in which Mr. Irwin took part by consent of the Board, but a majority of the members favored the adoption of the report. Mr. Carmichael moved that Mr. Irwin should receive $250 instead of the sum asked for, $1,000, but the Chairman ruled that this was out of order. If the grant was made he said the members would be personally responsible.

THE CENTRAL SCHOOL REPAIRS.

The Committee on Sites, Buildings and Repairs reported that they had received the following tenders for making the proposed alterations to the central and high schools:—E. Ling, $1,387.50; Walter Alford, $985; E. L. Palen, $1,125; and L. Grills, $845. They decided then that Mr. Grills' tender being the lowest, be accepted, but the Chairman said since the meeting of the committee, he had received a letter from Mr. Grills stating that he had made his tender $100 lower than he had intended. Mr. Tennant moved that the report be referred back in consequence of this, but the Board, on motion of Mr. Martin amended the report, accepting Mr. Alford's tender as the next lowest.

The Committee of Printing and Supplies reported the acceptance of Mr. C. F. Smith's tender for iron seats at $3.50 each. This report was adopted.

David Serviss, caretaker of Central and High School, asked the board for an increase of his salary. He now receives $250. The matter was referred to a committee.

A LETTER OF CONDOLENCE.

On motion of Mr. Macoun a committee was appointed to draft a resolution of condolence to the widow of the late Thomas Holden. The resolution was carried by a standing vote after which the Board adjourned.

RAMBLER'S WHEEL CLUB.

The Members Resolve to Join the Canadian Association.

At a meeting last evening of the bicycle club Mr. Stanley Warner was proposed and elected a member. Mr. Joe. Morgan, 1st Lieut., announced that owing to his leaving the city he was compelled to resign office and membership. Expressions of regret were general and on motion Mr. Morgan was unanimously elected an honorary member of the club by a standing vote accompanied by three cheers and "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." Mr. Morgan briefly acknowledged the honor done him. After discussion it was resolved to apply as a club to the Canadian Wheelmen's Association for admission. A vote of thanks was carried to Mr. Robb of the G. T. R., for kindness shown to the club. It being announced that the Ariel Touring Club of London would shortly pass through Belleville en route to Montreal, stopping over night, a committee, consisting of Messrs. Fenwick, Clarke, Way, Stinson and S. Thompson with power to add to their number, was appointed to take some action in the matter.

SPOKES

THE TIRED TEACHERS.

The public schools having closed for the warm weather the teachers or many of them are preparing to leave on a visit to friends or to spend their holidays at some summer resort. Mr. Narroway will visit his father in Nova Scotia, and Miss Sangster will go to Port Perry where her father, Dr. Sangster resides. Miss Carnie leaves shortly for her old home near Collingwood. Miss Bollard, Miss Urquhart and Miss Hunter will visit Kington and the Thousand Islands. Mr. Armstead purposes seeing something of the famous Muskoka district, and Miss Edmunds contemplates a pleasant vacation renewing old acquaintances near Barrie, her former home. The Secretary-Treasurer has been foolhardy enough to state that not one of them will get married "this time," but that that they will return to their duties on the 1st September.

A MOTHER'S LETTER

PROMPTS A YOUNG MAN TO STEAL FROM HIS EMPLOYER.

ST. THOMAS, July 9.—Hiram Harris, the eighteen-year old young man who stole $56 from his employer, David Gardiner, of Port Stanley, was arraigned at a session of the county judge's criminal court held by his honor Judge Hughes yesterday. Harris pleaded guilty, and said he had returned $18 of the stolen money to Mr. Gardiner. A letter which had been sent to him by his mother, dated Dresden, June 24, was handed to the judge. It was a pitiful epistle, and stated that her husband was drinking worse than ever; that her eldest son (prisoner's brother) had died the previous week, and that the little ones were starving for want of something to eat. The circumstances tended to show that young Harris, while his mind was filled with the contents of the letter, hrd been tempted by the sight of Gardiner's money, and had taken it intending to send it to his mother to buy food for her stricken family. The judge adminstered some sound advice to the prisoner, and sentenced him to two weeks' imprisonment in the county jail.

ALWAYS PROMPT IN ACTION.

This is just what every sufferer wants—prompt action, and rapid relief from pain. The grandest discovery of the age, the great pain cure, it is Polson's NERVILINE—prompt, powerful, pleasant to the taste, and yet so pure that it may be given to the youngest infant. Try a 10 cent sample bottle, which you can purchase at any drug store. Nerviline the great, sure, and prompt pain cure. The large bottles are only 25 cts.

THE YACHT RACES.

Details of the events fixed for the Summer Regatta.

The Bay of Quinte Yacht Club met last night to arrange for their summer regatta, and decided to hold it on August 6th. This club will therefore come third in order under the auspices of the Lake Yacht Racing Association, Oswego being first on July 30th, with Kingston next on August 2nd. The organization of this circuit has had a tendency to increase the interest in lake yachting and the regatta to be held here this season bids fair to eclipse any previous event in the history of this club. The purse, $450, is considered large enough to attract the best racers of Toronto and Oswego, as well as others from Cobourg and perhaps one or two from Kingston. The course will be the one which is usually sailed on Massassaga Bay, and will be properly measured and buoyed off by the Committee. The regatta is open to first and second class yachts; in the first an entrance fee of $10 will be charged and $7 in the second. The purse will be divided as follows: For first class yachts $265—$150 to 1st, $75 to 2nd, $30 to 3rd, and $10 to 4th. Second class, purse $185—$100 to 1st, $50 to 2nd, $25 to 3rd, and $10 to 4th. The club adjourned to Tuesday evening 22nd inst, when the regatta committee will report the final completion of arrangements.

SPORTING NOTES.

The Iolanthe went to Trenton to-day.

Charts will be furnished the yachtmen who sail in the ragetta on August 6th.

Jay-Eye-See was to try to-day in Chicago to beat his last year's record of 2:10¾.

The yachtsmen will make an effort to have a half holiday on the afternoon of the ragetta.

Beach and Laycock, of Australia, admit that Hanlan is too much for them, and will probably visit America to try second-rate men.

At a meeting of the Bay of Quinte Yacht Club last night a committee was appointed to arrange the conditions for a race for a prize to be offered by Commodore Biggar.

The final deposit of $500 for the glove fight for $1,000 a side between George Fulljames and Jack Dempsey has been made with Richard K. Fox. The fight is to take place on July 14, within 250 miles of New York. Only ten men on a side are to be present. Fulljames has been training at Oak Point. He will weigh about 133 pounds, and Dempsey will probably be of the same weight.

At the Woodbine, Toronto, yesterday, the trotting meeting under the auspices of the Canadian Trotting Circuit, attracted about 1,500 people. Tom Patchen won the 3 minute trot in 2:36. In the named race Little Sioux was first, Damille second, James Halfpenny third. Best time was 2.30½. Little Sioux came in first in the five heats, but was set back twice for running.

BELLEVILLE'S BUSINESS.

The following letter appears in the Peterboro Review, signed by H. T. Strickland:—

Sir,—I have had occasion to travel through the older townships of the County of North Hastings, and it would surprise your town readers if they knew, as I do, how little is there known of the size and business importance of the town of Peterborough (or city as it is, in fact if not in name). True, many have heard of Peterborough, but not one in twenty has seen it, and the general impression is that it is a good country village or a small town at most. The reason why they are not better informed is owing to their not having had direct railway communication with Peterborough in the past, and Belleville being nearer with good gravel roads (without tolls) leading from thence to the different townships in its rear has hitherto secured that trade. But now that the Ontario and Quebec Railway is completed, and running, as it does, directly through three of the most important townships in North Hastings, viz., Rawdon, Huntingdon and Hungerford, which is about as populous as any three of the townships in this county, there is no longer any reason why Peterborough should not get a large share, if not the greater part of their business, as well as from the townships north of them. But their people must first be induced to come to Peterborough, when I have no doubt it can be demonstrated to them by the business portion of the community in a practical way that it will be to their interests to come again and keep coming, to get them to come the first time will, I believe be the only trouble. But in my opinion all that is necessary is that all interested should join in having published a large number of pamphlets with a short description of Peterborough and its business facilities, together with the advertisement of every individual business firm, manufacture, trade and profession, for general circulation, particularly in the new territory both east and west which the O. and Q. R. has opened up to us; and that the C. P. R. Co. be requested to issue excursion tickets at low rates on Peterborough market days, and I doubt not the railway authorities will act liberally in the matter, as did the Midland Co. for a similar purpose, and I understand with advantage to both town and railway interest. If these suggestions should be favorably received, and acted on, it will excuse my having taken up so much of your valuable space to bring the matter before the public, and having done what I conceived to be my duty on the premises I leave it in their hands for consideration, and I hope, action.

Mr. T. C. Wells, Chemist and Druggist, Port Colborne, Ont, writes: "Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure sells well and gives the best of satisfaction for all diseases of the blood." It never fails to root out all diseases from the system, cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, etc., purifies the blood, and will make you look the picture of health and happiness.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Winslow's Soothing Syrup For Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrub for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists through out the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

MADOC NEWS.

Farewell Address and Presentation to Mr. S. F. Weaver.

BUDGET OF GENERAL GOSSIP.

From Our Own Correspondent.

MADOC, July 9.—Major Rawe visited the Brigade camp at Trenton last week.

Rev. Mr. McAmmond had two marriages to perform on Monday.

Mr. Peter Maybee, of Belleville, left here this morning for Bancroft.

Revs. Messrs. Baker and McAmmond bid farewell on Sunday—preaching very eloquent and soul-inspiring sermons, to crowded houses. Both gentlemen left yesterday for their new fields of labor.

A monster celebration of the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne is expected to take place at Eldorado on the 12th. the proceeds to be devoted towards the erection of a new lodge room.

Our "noble volunteers" returned from camp at noon on Saturday, some of them feeling well others complaining of the fare they got. It seems that the provision was all right but the cooks were too indolent to prepare it in a proper manner for eating.

The parting of friends must come sometime, and often we wish to show by some token our esteem for the departing one. To this end there was a small company assembled in the Review office on Monday evening to bid adieu to Mr. S. F. Weaver. An address was read by Mr. Halliwell, eulogizing the character and integrity of Mr. Weaver, which was presented to him along with a gold watch, chain and locket. The address was signed by representatives of the Alert Fire Company and Sioux Lacrosse Club, the recipient having been Secretary of both societies since their organization. Mr. Weaver was completely taken by surprise and in a few well-chosen words thanked his friends for their kindness.

THE CHEESE TRADE.

MONTREAL, July 8.—The steady decline in the market and the fear of still further shrinkage in values has had the effect of bringing holders into the city with a view of disposing of their stocks without delay, to the best advantage under the circumstances. Extra choice lots succeed in bringing a shade over the quotations, but in order to do so they must be tempting indeed. The prise for the week, however, depends upon to-morrow's news respecting the arrivals on the other side, which will have the effect of either strengthening or weakening the arrivals here. There is a considerable portion of the June production still unsold, and holders are now desirous of disposing of it. Until the tone of to-morrow's Liverpool markets is ascertained, I maintain my last quotation of 8 @8½c for choice. Beerholm's cable quotes choice cheese at 47s 6d in the Liverpool market to-day

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Invalids distracted by indigestion and discouraged in their search for its remedy should make a trial of this never-failing medicine. A lady long a martyr to dyspeptic tortures, writes that Holloway's Pills made her feel as if a burden had been taken off her. Her spirits formerly low, have greatly improved; her capricious appetite has given place to that of healthy hunger; her dull, sick headache has departed, and gradually so marvellous a change has been effected that she is altogether a new creature, and again fit for her duties. These pills may be administered with safety to the most delicate. They never act harshly, nor do they ever induce weakness; they rightly direct deranged, and control excessive action.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally and the Ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceeding efficacious. When influenza is epidemic this treatment is the easiest, safest, and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free, without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of saving suffering when any one is afflicted with cold, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints, by which so many persons are seriously and permanently afflicted in most countries.

HALL'S Vegetable Sicilian HAIR RENEWER

was the first preparation perfectly adapted to cure diseases of the scalp, and the first successful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth, and youthful beauty. It has had many imitators, but none have so fully met all the requirements needful for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor, and spread its fame and usefulness to every quarter of the globe. Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause: the entire fulfilment of its promises.

The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries, where they had never made an effort for its introduction.

The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER wonderfully improves the personal appearance. It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fever, and dryness, and thus prevents baldness. It stimulates the weakened glands, and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholic preparations, but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy.

LOVE'S LOTTERY
OR,
THE RIVAL SISTERS.

It fell with a dull heavy plunge.

The sound was instantaneously succeeded by a cry which issued from a long dark boat that suddenly darted from beneath one of the arches.

'It's the Thames police,' whispered Grum's companion. 'Quick, there is not a moment to be lost!'

Leaping from barge to barge, the cry of the police, and their signal of alarm following, they reached the stairs, springing up them.

Grum darted into the vehicle, the other climbed the box, and the cab vanished in the fog, while the officers of justice, by the aid of lanterns hung over the boat's side searched in vain for the victim of the crime which had been committed.

CHAPTER XIV.
ON THEIR TRACK.

In dressing-gown and slippers, in the same room that we have previously seen him, sits Stuart Loring.

His elbow rests on the table, his head on his hand, while the mellow light of the lamp falling on his features, shows that he is buried in meditation.

Meditation of no unpleasant nature, for the expression is one of joy, blended with triumph.

Not only has he played his game so far successfully, but the cards remaining in his hand are of so bright a hue, that victory unto the end appears assured.

He had spread his net and the bird had fluttered unconsciously into it.

The strings were in his grasp, and gently, when he choose, could he draw them together.

Lifting his head he gazed around the apartment, about which were visible numerous signs of packing, and smiled.

'To-morrow,' he murmured, 'they and I shall be at Liverpool; before night on the good ship 'San Francisco,' steaming for that land which when once they have landed, they are mine.'

He took from his breast-coat pocket a case which, opened, disclosed the likeness of the two sisters.

He gazed upon them with a rapturous triumph, then pressing his lips to those of the miniatures, reiterated—

'Mine—mine.'

A little over a year ago Stuart Loring had seen the half-sisters at New York.

Of a nature to adore feminine beauty to the extreme, he had become instantly enamoured of the younger, and scarcely much less so of the elder.

To desire with such a man as the American, was to possess.

Like Richilieu, he never admitted the word 'fail' into his mental dictionary.

The obstacles to his will might be as deep as the great ocean, as high as the Rocky Mountains.

He was ready, having no scruples as to the means, to dive to the depths of one and scale the heights of the other.

With no difficulty he had made himself speedily acquainted with Colonel Beauchamp's position, his menage in Louisiana and also the officer's antecedents.

His social status proved rather an incentive to the American than otherwise, and he at once regarded it as un fait accompli that Pauline should be his wife.

His first step was to procure an introduction into Longueville.

Upon this he was on the verge of succeeding, when business of utmost importance summoned him to San Francisco.

Feeling assured of his prey—the term is used advisedly—he departed and found his period of absence had of necessity to be prolonged.

When he did return, to his vexation—but not despair—another word he never admitted—he learned the death of Colonel Beauchamp and the departure of the half-sisters for England, the estate being left in the hands of an agent for sale.

On hearing this intelligence, Stuart Loring said quietly—

'Grum, when does the next vessel leave for England?'

'To-morrow morning.'

'Go and take three places.'

Grum nodding complied.

The American lighting a cigar rang for his valet'

'I start for England to-morrow,' he remarked, 'see my clothes are packed and taken on board to-night.'

'Do you go alone, monsieur?'

'No, Grum and yourself attend me. Bring lights directly I ring. I have letters and orders to give.'

He wrote until four in the morning, then throwing himself on his bed, he slept till five. He awoke at the first stroke, for he possessed the to be-envied faculty of sleeping and waking at his pleasure.

At six he was on the steamer.

Of his manœuvers in London the reader is already conversant.

Everything apparently went well, nevertheless he felt himself uncertain while on British soil, and had consequently planned to get his victim back to America.

In this he needed aid and readily found it in the person of Jabez Scladden, the partner of the agent Freeland, and a man between whom and Stuart Loring had already passed transactions which scarcely would have stood the broad light of day.

Every [illegible] who walks the streets of a great city, a [illegible] with an intelligent eye the colorless faces of more than fifty per cent of the people he meets, can easily agree with us in the statements, that this age, which makes such dwarfs upon the working energies the greater part of men in the intense pursuit of business, has destroyed in a proportionate pegree the animal health and robust condition. Nature in its stage of exhaustion, cannot be restored of its self but requires some stimulating tonic to strengthen and keep the system in regular order, and in Northrup and Lyman's Quinine Wine we have the exact remedy required. The peculiar operation of this medicine, in case of general debility and nervous prostration, has undergone long and close observation, and it is believed it will never of properly and judiciously administered. Prepared by Northrup & Lyman, Toronto, and sold by all drugists.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

KNOW THYSELF.
Great Medical Work on Manhood

Exhausted Vitality, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Errors of Youth, and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses. A book for every man, young, middle aged, and old. It contains 125 prescriptions for all acute and chronic diseases, each of which is invaluable. So found by the Author, whose experience for 23 years is such as probably never fell to the lot of any physician. 300 pages bound in beautiful French muslin, embossed covers, full gilt, guaranteed to be a finer work in every sense—mechanical, literary and professional—than any other work sold in this country for $2.50, or the money will be refunded in every instance. Price only $1 by mail post-paid. Illustrative sample 6 cents. Send now. Gold medal awarded the author by the National Medical Association, to the officers of which he refers.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE should be read by the young for instruction and the afflicted for relief. It will benefit all.—London Lancet.

There is no member of society to whom THE SCIENCE OF LIFE will not be useful, whether youth, parent, guardian, instructor, or clergyman.—Argonaut.

Address the Peabody Medical Institute, or Dr. W. H. Parker, No. 4 Bulfinch-street, Boston, Mass., who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Chronic and obstinate diseases that have baffled the skill of all other physicians a specialty. Such treated successfully without an instance of failure. Mention this paper.

IMPORTANT TO RUPTURED PERSONS

The Excelsior Rupture Treatment was introduced to the American people several years ago in such a manner as to completely secure the confidence of the whole nation. The mode of introduction was by furnishing the remedy to those afflicted with Hernia in any of its various forms and collecting no pay until a permanent cure was effected. In this way the treatment gained world wide reputation on its own merits, never failing to cure any reducible Hernia. The Company has at the solicitation of thousands placed the remedy on sale by all druggists both wholesale and retail, in the United States, Canada and England. In [illegible] way bringing it within the reach of all classes at a trifling cost compared with the benefits which are derived from the use of the treatment. Ask your druggist for a free book on rupture or send 6 cts. for one to the Excelsior Rupture Cure M'f'g Co., Ogdensburg, N. Y.

SCIENCE.

To increase the weight of the body invigorate the system, revitalize the exhausted and depressed, is the true object sought by medical science. The digestive organs must be in a healthy condition if we wish to secure this desired result, and no remedy yet discovered has ever proved so effectual in accomplishing this as FLAX-SEED EMULSION COMP. It contains Phosphorus to build up the nervous system and all the fat producing properties of FLAX-SEED to enrich the blood and supply the animal economy with the elements for reconstruction.

Use the imperial Kidney and Liver Cure—price 50c.

ROBLIN HOUSE,

Late Douglas House.

As the late proprietor of the Douglas House has removed to other premises and called it the New Douglas House, I beg to notify the public that I have reopened the Douglas House myself, under the name of the "ROBLIN HOUSE." As the house has always had the name of a First-Class Hotel, I shall spare no pains to make it as popular as it ever was. The above is pleasantly situated in the central part of the city, and is a very desirable place for Families and the Public generally. It has been thoroughly renovated and furnished with new furniture. A cordial invitation is given to all old patrons of the Douglas House, and all new ones who will favor me with a call.

Vital Questions.!

Ask the most eminent physician
Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?
And they will tell you unhesitatingly
"Some form of Hops! ! !"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians:
"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, diabetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—
"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu!!"
Ask the same physicians
"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation, indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.," and they will tell you:
Mandrake! or Dandelion!"
Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable.
And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is
Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

CHAPTER II.

"Patients
"Almost dead or nearly dying"
For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.
Women have gone nearly crazy ! ! ! !
From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.
People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic, or suffering from scrofula.
Erysipelas!
"Saltrheum, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact, almost all diseases frail"
Nature is heir to
Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY

is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co's. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the error and indiscretion of youth, nervous weakness, early decay loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt, that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self addressed envelope to the Rev. Joseph T. Inman Station D, New York City. d&w

"Twenty-four years experience," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the generative organs is to repair the wastby giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box, 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas. Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See adv't in another column

ON THIRTY DAYS' TRIAL.

The VOLTAIC BELT Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above,—N B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty day's trial is allowed.

AYER'S
Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs: none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.

"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me.
HORACE FAIRBROTHER."
Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute.

"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours,
MRS. EMMA GEDNEY."
159 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effectual remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried.
A. J. CRANE."
Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.
JOSEPH WALDEN."
Byhalia, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles.
E. BRAGDON."
Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.

PSALM OF MARRIED LIFE.

Man that is married is of many days and full of trouble.
In the morning he draws his salary, and in the evening
Behold, it is gone.
It is a tale that is told;
It vanisheth, and no one knows whether it goeth.
He riseth up clothed in the chilly garments
Of the night,
And seeketh the somnabulent paregoric
Wherein to soothe his infant posterity.
He becometh as a horse or ox
And draweth the chariot of his offspring.
He spendeth his shekels in the purchase of fine linen
To cover the bosom of his Family.
Yet himself is seen at the gate of the city with one suspender.
Yea! he is altogether wretched.

COWBOYS AND INDIANS.

A BLOODY ENCOUNTER WITH THE UTES IN WESTERN LA PLATTA.

DENVER, Col., July 9.—Wilson Carlisle and Johnson's cattle camp, in the western part of La Platta, was attacked by Ute Indians on July 3rd. Charles Cook and Adolphus Lusk, employees of the cattle company, were badly wounded. Five Indians were killed and a number wounded. The whites had eleven horses killed and one hundred stolen. The cowboys were driven off their camp, their outfits were burned and their provisions stolen. Two Wilson boys, eight and ten years old, rode 89 hours without food or rest, and arrived at Durango Saturday night, exhausted. The Utes for some have been causing trouble to the cattle men, killing cattle, and stealing horses. One of the Wilson men found several of their horses in possession of the Indians and overtook to secure the same. An Indian attacked him with a knife and was killed. This precipitated the fight. Seventeen thousand head of cattle are left at the mercy of the Indians. Commandant Lewis has despatched a company of cavalry to drive the Indians back on their reservation, but the Indians will probably reach the reservation well supplied with horses and cattle before the soldiers get within reach of them.

A TALK TO BUSINESS BOYS.

The first year of a boy's business life is a critical one. He comes, perhaps, from a country home, certainly from a school life well hedged and protected by careful parents and teachers. He has lived heretofore under conditions in which it is easier to go right than wrong, and it is indeed a change when he takes life into his own hands, and plunges into a great city's business current whose ramifications encircle the world, and becomes one little atom in its vast force. Then it is he gets his first practical experience of life, and gains his first real knowledge of men and things. Then, too, he begins to find out what mettle he himself is made of, and to shape his life's course, and as he gives it an upward or downward curve, so is it apt to continue.

A boy's first position in a commercial house is usually at the foot of the ladder; his duties are plain, his place is insignificant, and his salary is small. He is expected to familiarize himself with the business, and as he becomes more intelligent in regard to it he is advanced to a more responsible place. His first duty, then is to work. He must cultivate, day by day, habits of fidelity, accuracy, neatness and dispatch, and these qualities will tell in his favor as surely as the world revolves. Though he may work unnoticed and uncommended for months, such conduct always meets its reward.

BILL NYE'S APOLOGY FOR A PREACHER.

I write this in simple justice to an injured man. When I see an opportunity to deal out even handed justice, you will generally find me assisting the goddess with the bread-and-milk poultice over her eyes. I was always that way even as a child. Later on, as a justice of the peace, I was known all over the West as headquarters for substantial justice. I am that way yet.

There is an anecdote in the great list of American yarns, which runs something like this: A wicked unregenerate and profane man once journied through the South, in the land that has overheld against Mason and Dixon's line, and behold he met a multitude upon the way; and he said unto those whom he met 'Whither go ye?' And they answered him, 'Even unto baptism,' which is after the manner of that country. And he turned about and followed them even unto the rink whereat they did baptize.

Now, it so happened that when the preacher had washed away a slough of sins and was about through the profane man from the San Juan, who had stood by the shore, seeing that the preacher was a weary and that he approached the bank for to came out, put forth his hand to aid him; but behold, when he put forth his hand the preacher rallied, and jerked the worldly man from San Juan into the water and proceeded to baptize him with the usual extempore remarks. The profane man sought again and again to excuse himself, and even with tears set forth that he had not been regenerated, and owing to the panic he had failed to meet with a change of heart, but the preacher would not listen to it. He immersed the ungodly man from San Juan, and asked him how he felt. Forgetting for the moment, the peculiar circumstances by which he was surrounded, the profane man made answer that he felt O. K., but it would be a d—d long while before he attended another baptism.

Bishop Beckwith, of Florida is fond of telling the above story.

POTASH.

Iodide of Potassum is one of the strongest of the minerals used in medicine, and has produced much suffering in the world. Taken for a long time in large doses, it dries up the gastric juices, impairs digestion, the stomach refuses food, and the patient declines in health and weight. Persons with Blood or Skin Diseases should be careful how they take those mineral poisons, as in most instances the effect of them is to almost permanently impair the constitution. To take the place of these poisons we offer you a safe, sure, prompt, and permanent relief from your troubles Shaker Blood Syrup is entirely a vegetable preparation, and easy to convince you of its merit.

I have cured permanently Blood Taint in the third generation by the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, after I had most signally failed with Mercury and Potash. Dr. Smith, Bangor, Pa.
A young man requests me to thank you for his cure of Blood Poison by the use of your Specific after all other treatment had failed.
J. E. Kennedy, Druggist, Cobourg, Ont.

For years I was afflicted with Dry Tetter of the most obstinate type. Was treated by many of the best physicians; took quantities of mercury, potash, and arsenic, which, instead of curing the Tetter crippled me up with mineral poison and rheumatism. The tetter continued to grow worse, and the itching almost made me crazy. In this condition I was induced to take Shaker Blood Syrup, and the result was as astonishing as Gratifying. In a few months the Tetter was entirely well, the Mercurial Poisoning all out of my system, and I was a well man—and due only to Shaker Blood Syrup. All like sufferers should take it.
C. H. Sargeant, Haverhill, Mass.

CONSUMPTION is curable in the early stages, not by stimulants nor poisons, which substitute one form of irritation for another, both of which nature must get rid of before railying, but by food—the only remedy. The waste is the result of faulty nutrition, not limited to the lung but a systematic starvation. Here use Wheeler's Elixir Of Phosphates And Calisaya to secure digestion and assimilation, and if you have sense enough to persist until the balance of outcome and income is restored you may get well.

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all Druggists.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE tariff which aims at assisting a class which has invested $80,000,000 injures the farming community representing a capital of $900,000,000.

THE new prohibitory liquor law has taken effect in Iowa. One despatch states that no liquor is obtainable under any pretext, and another says that the law is not obeyed.

THE PETERBORO School Board should take some of its members in hand. A minority report of the Committee on Appointments presented on Tuesday reads :—

"We therefore recommend that Mr. Tassie, Esq., L.L.D., be engaged."

MONSIEUR MUNTZ has discovered that river, lake, sea and rain water, and even snow, contain alcohol. Spring water only, is, according to Mr. Muntz free from the taint. We will challenge Mon. Muntz to say what Belleville water contains.

THE question is being asked why eggs are not sold by weight in eastern America as they are in California. It would seem the more equitable way and conducive to more painstaking on the part of the farmer regarding his poultry and would too be some measure of reward to a first-class hen.

I HOLD that it is the duty of a Government to make the taxes as light as possible by pursuing a policy of economy to lay the burden of necessary taxation in such a way that the heaviest weight should fall on the heaviest shoulders, and to restrict the free and natural course of trade as little as possible.—Edward Blake.

THE HAMILTON Spectator is devoured by anxiety to know what will be the policy of the Grits when they get into office. We will tell you if you promise to keep it to yourself? The acts of the Grits will be directly the reverse of all the bad acts of the present Government and these are "too numerous to mention."

THE Peterboro' Review wonders that the Reformers have not spared—spared is the word used—the Dominion Land Regulations. We can tell our contemporary that the Opposition and the Reform press have done more to make those regulations favorable to the North west settler than the Government ever attempted to do. A stupid Department and a Canada Pacific Ministry between them made things so uncomfortable for the settler that hundreds of them went south into the United States. The regulations were changed every six months, by a vacillating Minister, the last and most valuable—the throwing open of the Mile Belt being the outcome of the protests of the Reformers.

IN THE course of vertebrate evolution there is, we are now told by the Lancet, a marked tendency for teeth to disappear. The lower vertebrates have four molars on each side in each jaw, the higher have three, while in man the number is reduced to two. The inference is, the teeth are being gradually evolved into brain matter, and as man increases in intellect his masticators become unnecessary. The future man will have a large brain, but no natural teeth. The old women of the Canadian Senate whose teeth are either gone or going will find an immense amount of comfort in this. The more teeth they lose the more brain they get. The question of how best to reform the Senate is thus answered. Enact that as soon as worn out and rejected politicians lose all their molars they shall be eligible for appointment to this home for incurables.

Small papers well filled are the correct thing.—St. Catharines News.

TIME'S REVENGE.

When the dynamite cartridges were found under the Parliament Buildings at Toronto the Tory organ affected to sneer at the circumstance, and to insinuate that they were placed there by members of the Government. Now a member of the Mail staff is in jail at Hamilton on a charge of being concerned in a plot to blow up the new custom house at Hamilton. A disquisition on the true inwardness of this affair from the organ of the brawling brood would be in order.—London 'Tiser.

ITS HIS BUSINESS.

Hon. Mr. Carling, allows the statement circulating in the press, that he has contributed one thousand dollars towards the fund for defeating the Scott Act, to go uncontradicted. On the rule that silence gives consent, we must therefore accept the statement as correct.—Ottawa Free Press.

EFFECT OF THE TARIFF.

What is the matter with the Hamilton Board of Trade? Are the members suffering from mental paralysis? Has their invention faculty been stretched until it will stretch no longer? Or have they joined the army of Micabers and made up their minds to wait patiently for something to turn up? The annual report of the Executive Committee, presented and adopted yesterday, informed the members that the whole country has been suffering from commercial and manufacturing depression that the depression was caused by speculative inflation; that there has been over production of manufactured goods; that capital has been locked up in manufactures and in premature land and railway schemes and at the end of the recital thanks were expressed for the prospect of an abundant harvest. The Board adopted the report and the members went home—Hamilton Times.

TORONTO, July 10.—The Court House Committee of the City Council met yesterday and decided to call for competitive plans for the new Court House, competition to be confined to Toronto; the cost of building not to exceed $200,000. The first prize, 4 per cent.; second, $500; third $300; fourth $200.

THE CHINESE QUESTION.

OTTAWA. July 10.—J. A. Chapleau, Secretary of State, left for Victoria, B. C., last night. He and Judge Gray, of that city, have been appointed a committee to inquire into the Chinese question in accordance with the statement made by the Government last session that during recess the question would receive attention. N. F. Davin has been appointed Secretary of the Commission. Chapleau wanted, as usual, a nominee of his own appointed and refused to accept Nicholas Flood, but to this the Premier would not accede, seeing that Davin dedicated "Eos, a Prairie Dream," to Lady Macdonald, and piled on the taffy thick. Davin's genius cannot be said to be misdirected.

A BLACK-THORN CANE.

CAUSES ONE MAN TO SHOOT ANOTHER THROUGH THE HEART.

ALBANY, July 10.—Michael Downey, aged 2[illegible], and Dennis Desmond, aged 65, quarrelled on South Ferry Street yesterday afternoon over the possession of a small black thorn cane, when Downey pulled out a pistol and shot Desmond through the heart The wounded man walked across the street to St. John's Roman Catholic Church and tried the door, but failed to get in. His object was to obtain absolution, and he must have realized that he was dying. He then walked or staggered to the parsonage in the rear of the church, and fell dead at the door. The murderer ran several blocks but was captured by citizens and turned over to officers who locked him up. He attempted to shoot one of his captors. The men had been drinking ale together. They had never quarrelled before.

MUTUAL MARRIAGE AID.

W. A. H. Duff and the Webbers Before a Napanee Magistrate.

NAPANEE, July 9.—W. A. H. Duff and the Webbers were brought here from Brighton last Friday night on a warrant issued at the instance of John W. Gordinier, of Morven, charging them with intent to defraud Gordinier and the wife whom he married about a year ago. They held certificates for $5,000 each in the Mutual Marriage Aid Association on which they have paid about $2,740 in assessments, but have not yet received anything in return, though claiming to be entitled to $2,500 besides the assessments paid. Others, to the amount of $696 are claimed, but have not been paid. Gordinier alleges that some of the assessments have not been applied to the purposes for which they were levied. The prisoners had a preliminary hearing before Chas. James, J. P., on Saturday, and were remanded for further evidence.

TOO MUCH ICE CREAM.

A POLICEMAN EATS TWELVE DISHES AND IS DYING.

Fifty-one members of the Church of the Covenant, Brooklyn, made up a picnic party at Prospect Park on Saturday. It was a very exclusive affair and included a number of well-known families. After a bountiful lunch of good things, 40 members of the party ate freely of ice cream and in less than 20 minutes after they were all writhing in agony on the grass, while the Park ambulance hurridly gathered up a a dozen physicians and took them to the sufferers. The policeman detailed as a guard to the party ate 12 dishes of the cream and is now dying in the Prospect Hospital.

MME PATTI AND HER HUSBAND.

LONDON, July 9.—It is now stated that Mme. Adelina Patti proposes to take advantage of the new divorce law, which has been enacted in France through the exertions of M. Naquet, by immediately applying for a divorce from her husband, the Marquis de Caux. The inharmonious couple have had no communication with each other except through their lawyers for the past seven years, and the Marquis is reported to have said recently that if divorce proceedings were instituted he would hasten to take advantage of them.

THE ODDFELLOW'S DEMONSTRATION

BROCKVILLE, July 10.—The International demonstration of the I. O. O. F., opened yesterday and so far has been a great success, This pretty town is crowded and over-crowded. Brass bands wake the echos on every street and the Belleville organization attracts a great deal of attention, One of the local papers says of it:—"The Belleville Oddfellows band is recognized as one of the most efficient musical organizations in the province." The fireworks last evening drew immense crowds. The uniformed encampments make a grand display their steady marching and drill exciting admiration. The weather is fine and not too hot.

THE PROPHET MOSES.

Moses Oates said yesterday that his impression is that a couple of warm days will be right on, and then after a couple of days slightly less warm. A real, genuine hot spell beginning in earnest somewhere between the 13th and 14th will throw the June warm spell completely into the shade, and last for about 9 or 10 days, disappearing in the 'acclaim of thunder and lightning. The mercury will rise to probably above 90° in Toronto and 98 to 102° in the shade in the Niagara district and Ottawa Valley, and parts of New York, Michigan, Ohio and Pensylvania. Sunstrokes will be numerous and the spell probably the hottest that this part of the continent has known in many years. Of the general development of unusual heat for July he is pretty well assured. That is a prediction. The statement about the duration and distribution of the heat are impressions, though he thinks he might almost venture to give them as predictions.

AFTER MANY YEARS.

St. Thomas Times.

Twelve years ago Dr. Jones, of Hagarsville, owned a fine young horse of good blood. He lost him, and always supposed that he was stolen, A short time ago he found him in the possession of a party in Thorold. The doctor at once instituted proceedings to secure the animal, which is about fifteen years of age. The horse was given him, he having established his claim to it. Thus after twelve years of separation a valued horse and a kind owner find one another again.

UNKNOWN TO SCIENCE

That preparation is undiscovered which can surpass Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry as a cure for Cholera Morbus, Dysentry, and Summer Complaints.

NERVE PAIN CURE.

Polson's Nervilline cures flatulence, chills and spasms. Nerviline cures vomiting, diarrhoea, cholera and dysentry. Nervilline cures headache, sea sickness summer complaint, Nervilline cures neuralgia, toothache, lumbago and sciatica. Nervilina cures sprains, bruises, cuts &c. Polson's Nerviline is the best remedy in the world and costs 10 and 25 cents to try it. Sample and large bottles, at any drug store. Try Polson's Nervilline.

CLEVELAND'S CHANCES.

He is First Favorite with Bayard to the Front.

TAMMANY PLAYING IT'S CARDS.

CHICAGO, July 9—It is thought now that the Convention will not get through before Friday. The Times says Cleveland's strength has reached its limit, and the opposition is centreing on Bayard. The Tribune gives the following estimate of the first ballot, having canvassed the delegates: Butler 29, Field 2, McDonald 72, Thurman 76, Bayard 135, Randall 80, Hendley 22, Carlisle 2, Cleveland 385, Hendricks 1, uncertain 1, absentees 14.

RANDALL'S HOPE.

The Randall men claim that Cleveland cannot be nominated, that Bayard will have to take a back seat and that Randall will come to the front with a jump. Pennsylvania delegates suggest Randall and Thurman as a ticket with the elements of great strength.

CLEVELAND SAID TO BE THE FAVORITE.

The Herald's Chicago special says: New York's bitter fight has kept New York's favorite in the van of candidates and the shades of night fall upon the probability that ere to morrow's sun sets the cannon of the party will announce to the nation that Cleveland is its standard bearer. Chicago is wild with excitement. The west was not prepared for so pronounced an expression in favor of Cleveland, and consultations are being held in scores of rooms concerning what shall be done to-morrow with the platform and Vice-Presidency. There is strength enough here to defeat New York's Governor, but it has no guide, philosopher and friend competent to the situation.

ABSENTEE LANDLORDISM.

Alexander Sullivan, President of the Irish National League; appeared before the Committee on Resolutions and delivered an eloquent address on the subject of "Absentee Landlordism in the United States." He said both the great political parties were responsible for the stealthy invasion of the anti-American absentee landlord system. We were confronted with absentee proprietary owning more than 20,000,000 acres of the soil, whence were exacted vast revenues to maintain the aristocracy in a foreign land. The danger to our institutions was actual and imminent. American citizenship, he said, should be made indispensable to ownership of land. Our soil should forever remain an inheritance of a free people. Sullivan was heartily applauded.

THE TARIFF.

The revenue reformers express more confidence of their ability to secure a plank in favor of reform. They claim a division will show 20 for and 18 against such a plank.

BUTLER WITHDRAWS.

It is claimed by the anti-Clevelanders this morning that they have reduced Cleveland's vote by 50. The opposition hold that any method that can stave off a ballot will be disastrous to Cleveland. Butler has withdrawn from the canvass. McDevitt and Palmer, two of his workers tacitly admitted the fact that his withdrawal was in pursuance of a compact with Kelly. The Bayard men loudly claim Butler's strength to be thrown to their man.

CLEVELAND VERY STRONG.

The Tribune's Chicago despatch says the vote on the unit rule shows that Cleveland is strong in New England and the middle States, and is able to hold his own against McDonald in the west, is rather weak in the south, and far behind in the Pacific States. Unless his opponents can hold their forces together for a terrible long siege, it seems likely that Cleveland will be nominated.

ILLINOIS FOR CLEVELAND.

Illinois deligation held a caucus last night and adjourned without reaching a final decision. The vote on presidential preferences stood: Cleveland 17, McDonald 12, Bayard 2.

THE CALL OF STATES.

A call of the States was made, and the various candidates were nominated with different degrees of enthusiasm. Massachusets did not name any candidate. New York was reached amid great cheering, many of the deligates rising on their feet. Lockwood of New York was taken to the platform to present the name of Cleveland which he did amidst renewed and prolonged cheering.

The candidates were presented to the convention in the following order:—Thos. F. Bayard, of Delaware, Joseph E. McDonald, of Indiana, A. G., Thurman of Ohio, Grover Cleveland of New York.

TAMMANY'S PROGRAM

The Tammany program has been carried out precisely in accordance with their plans as announced last week. The last resort was taken in the convention to-day when Grady and Cochrane, regardless of hoots and yells of disapprobation which filled the air, stood boldly before the throng and in elequent but not vindictive terms, stated the grounds upon which a portion of the New York delegation opposed the nomination of Grover Cleveland. It was a bold proceeding but both had the satisfaction of compelling the hostile audience to give them a fair and impartial hearing. Toward the end of the session the proceedings were more noisy than ever, and it was amidst a scene of absolute and indescribable disorder that an adjournment was effected until to-morrow morning.

ALWAYS PROMPT IN ACTION.

This is just what every sufferer wants—prompt action, and rapid relief from pain. The grandest discovery of the age, the great pain cure, it is Polson's NERVALINE—prompt, powerful, pleasant to the taste, and yet so pure that it may be given to the youngest infant. Try a 10 cent sample bottle, which you can purchase at any drug store. Nervaline the great, sure, and prompt pain cure The large bottles are only 25 cents.

Every one speaks highly of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters as a Stomach Liver and Kidney Medicine. The best family medicine we ever used,' say they all. Try a bottle this Spring as a blood purifier

DELIGHTING POOR CHILDREN.

A Nice Time Enjoyed at the City Mission Picnic

Mr. E. W. Rathbun having invited Rev. A. Schuster, and the children attending the Mission Sunday School and parents and others who take advantage of the preaching services on Sabbath and prayer meetings during the week, on an excursion to Trenton per steamer Quinte, a large number of persons took advantage of this kindness yesterday. With happy and laughing faces, parents, children and teachers were seen awaiting the start of the steamer. Rev. D. Mitchell, who has ever taken an active part in the mission, accompanied the excursion. The sail proved a most enjoyable one. Indeed every person felt how greatly blessed this city is with such natural resources as our bay presents for healthful recreation. Arrived at Trenton the party was marched to the Town Hall, where a number of kind ladies distributed gifts of biscuit, cheese and cake. Rev. Mr. Fish, Rev. A. Schuster, and Messrs. Parker and Ostrom spoke. Returned to the vessel and when fairly on the way it was announced that an abundance of cake and strawberries was supplied through the kindness of Mr. Rathbun. This proved a delightful surprise. Votes of thanks were heartily tendered the ladies of Trenton, Rev Mr. Fish and others who were so attentive to the party. The thanks of the entire company were given with much enthusiasm to Mr. Rathbun for the kindly interest he has taken in the city mission and the munificence he had shown on the present occasion. Rev. Mr. Schuster and Mrs. Schuster are to be heartily commended for their labors, and congratulated on the goodly results which have thus far attended them. All this work is done without regard to money. All that Mr. Schuster or Mr. Northrup as treasurer, may receive is credited to the Mission Funds and spent in strictly missionary work.

FELL THIRTY-TWO FEET.

A bad accident occurred on Front Street yesterday afternoon by the falling of the scaffold in front of Ritchie's dry goods store on which three men were at work. Several on the sidewalk saw the men fall and rushed to their assistance expecting to find the unfortunate workmen fatally injured. Mr. Geo. Twining, who fell first, lay on the sidewalk insensible, with a portion of the scaffolding on top of him. Mr. Charles Herring did not appear to be so badly injured at first, but later on it was found that of the three he suffered the greatest injury. The third man, Mr. George Weymark, by dropping on the awning broke the fall and thereby escaped injury. The men are members of the Sons of England, and in a short time several of their brothers were on hand to take charge of them. Twining and Herring were taken home in rigs and Drs. Murphy and Tracy dressed their wounds, which consisted principally of painful bruises. They passed a bad night, but this morning are much better and will probably be around all right again before long.

Pale Woebegone Invalids suffering from poverty of the blood, bilious sufferers and those whose circulation is depraved, should use without delay Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, the celebrated blood purifier, which stimulates digestion, increases the nutritive properties of the blood, and expels impurities from the system.

THE EDITOR AND THE MONGOLIAN.

Toronto World.

The Editor went into the laundry of Mr. Wo Kee, on Yonge street yesterday, produced a Chinese check and asked him for the little parcel of collars that it called for. Mr. Kee, who is an intimate friend of the Editor and often gives him a pointer on Asiatic politics and the tea question, was not at home. His place was taken by a young almond eye, not long in Toronto, and wanting in the geniality of his boss, for such he termed Mr. Kee to be.

Twenty-fo' cents said the Chinaman.

The editor fumbled in his pocket and laid 22c upon the counter, and then put up his finger in the traditional Bohemian way, meaning thereby it would be all right next time. The Mongolian saw the point, but said No, seized the collars, and looked as if some one was going to rob him.

The Editor's Keltic blood was suddenly infuriated and with difficulty he restrained himself from reaching for a pigtail. He left the store and down street he went, only to meet Mr. Wo Kee going towards his laundry arrayed in a silk coat and prosperity. The Editor in his most vigorous language went for the heathen Chinee—the one in shop.

Mr. Kee put up his hands and said too bad, vely much too bad, new man, new man, and asked the Editor to be good enough to come back with him. The Editor saw he was too busy.

In the evening the Editor called at the laundry again, and again Mr. Kee was out.

Give me my collars, and the Editor produced his check to the new man.

Twenty-fo' cents said the Mongolian.

The Editor planked a quarter on the table.

You'll have but one cen' bo'm out, said the Chinaman and a down-on-the-knees blush diffused itself over his olive face as he remembered his customer of the morning.

That's more than you would do for me this morning said the Editor as he took his departure and his collars full of the idea that he'd got even with the Mongolian.

WORTH SEEING.

To anyone interested in newspaper advertising, either as publisher or advertiser, an understanding of the way in which the large advertising agencies handle advertising way up into hundreds of thousands of dollars worth cannot fail to be beneficial as well as an interesting enlightment. The offices of Messrs. Savage & Farnum, general newspaper advertising agents, in the elegant new Campau building at Detroit, affords the visitor an opportunity to thoroughly post himself, and according to the recent published description in the dailies of that city they must be well worth seeing. This is one of the largest and most complete agencies in America, over 11,000 different newspapers and periodicals being on file, while the appointments of the establishment are uniformly elegant and in good taste. Visitors to Detroit are cordially invited to look through the different apartments, make themselves thoroughly at home and avail themselves of the conveniences of writing, reading and toilet rooms, if they so desire. Advertisers no matter where located, how large or small their yearly expenditures in newspaper advertising may be, or how limited the territory they wish to cover, are advised to call upon or correspond with this firm for estimates. They will receive prompt attention and save money by so doing.

HE IS A GOOD PRAYER TOSSER.

Boston Globe.

They have a new Baptist minister in a neighboring town who has just come in from a country parish. Some of the parish were talking about his country ways last night and saying he was a little fresh, when an old woman broke in:

"He may be a little off in city ways and perhaps people would not take him for a dude at first sight," she said; "but he can toss a prayer higher than any minister we've had for the past twenty years."

PERSONAL.

This paper makes a practice to examine closely and reject all matters of such a character as could be in any way objectionable to our readers, but the following, drawing as it does your notice the name of and article of sterling merit, known throughout the land as the only sure and non-poisonous remedy for corns, is welcome to a place in our columns. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor now finds its way to nearly every part of the world, which is itself a guarantee of its merit. We advise our readers to buy it, and when purchasing to get Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Polson & Co., Kingston, props.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Winslow's Soothing Syrup For Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

PRESENTATION TO A TEACHER.

The quarterly examination of the pupils of S.S. No. 20 was held on Friday, June 27th. The large number of visitors present, parents and others showed the interest taken by the people of the section in the education of the youth. The different classes were closely examined in all the subjects taught during the term, and the ready answers given to difficult questions showed that they had been made to thoroughly understand them. All the classes did remarkably well and it is hard to particularize, but the aptness and proficiency shown by some members of the junior classes was truly surprising. The teacher, Miss Toner, has had charge of the school only one year, which she found in rather a backward state and in leaving now, it might safely be said, it ranks second to none in the township. This shows what can be accomplished in a short time by an energetic, painstaking teacher who knows her duty and tries to perform it. As a fitting close to a highly creditable examination the pupils to show their appreciation of the work of their teacher in their behalf presented her with a beautiful photograph album and the following address:—

To Miss Lizzie Toner, Teacher S. S. No. 20 Read, Ont.

DEAR TEACHER.—We, the pupils of S. S. No. 20, Tyendinaga, learning that it is your intention to leave Monday, July 7th, for Ottawa, cannot allow you to depart without expressing the great regret we experience at your departure.

We have had very few, if any teachers who have taken such an interest in, or shown so much affection for her pupils, as yourself.

We shall miss your presence greatly in the school room, but it may be a satisfaction to you to know that there is not one pupil who will not miss your good advice. We trust, however, that whatever course you may in future pursue, prosperity and success will follow in your path. Had we but known earlier of your intended departure, we would have endeavored more formally to recognize your merit as a teacher, but owing to the limited time at our disposal, we trust you will accept this present, and also this address, and when in future you look upon it, we hope it will bring to your remembrance S. S. No. 20, and the many well wishes amongst the pupils you left behind.

Signed on behalf of the pupils of S.S. No. 20 Read, Ont.—EUPHEMIA SMITH, KATIE MACKEY, CHARLIE MEADE.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Invalids distracted by indigestion and discouraged in their search for its remedy should make a trial of this never-failing medicine. A lady long a martyr to dyspeptic tortures, writes that Holloway's Pills made her feel as if a burden had been taken off her. Her spirits formerly low, have greatly improved; her capricious appetite has given place to that of healthy hunger, her dull, sick headache has departed, and gradually so marvellous a change has been effected that she is altogether a new creature, and again fit for her duties. These pills may be administered with safety to the most delicate. They never act harshly, nor do they ever induce weakness; they rightly direct deranged, and control excessive action.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In in common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally and the Ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceeding efficacious. When influenza is epidemic this treatment is the easiest, safest, and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free, without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of saving suffering when any one is afflicted with cold, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints, by which so many persons are seriously and permanently afflicted in most countries.

AFTER USING.

WARREN LELAND,

whom everybody knows as the successful manager of the

Largest Hotel Enterprises

of America, says that while a passenger from New York on board a ship going around Cape Horn, in the early days of emigration to California, he learned that one of the officers of the vessel had cured himself, during the voyage, of an obstinate disease by the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Since then Mr. LELAND has recommended AYER'S SARSAPARILLA in many similar cases, and he has never yet heard of its failure to effect a radical cure.

Some years ago one of Mr. LELAND'S farm laborers bruised his leg. Owing to the bad state of his blood, an ugly scrofulous swelling or lump appeared on the injured limb. Horrible itching of the skin, with burning and darting pains through the lump, made life almost intolerable. The leg became enormously enlarged, and running ulcers formed, discharging great quantities of extremely offensive matter. No treatment was of any avail until the man, by Mr. LELAND'S direction, was supplied with AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, which allayed the pain and irritation, healed the sores, removed the swelling, and completely restored the limb to use.

Mr. LELAND has personally used

for Rheumatism, with entire success; and, after careful observation, declares that, in his belief, there is no medicine in the world equal to it for the cure of Liver Disorders, Gout, the effects of high living, Salt Rheum, Sores, Eruptions, and all the various forms of blood diseases.

We have Mr. LELAND'S permission to invite all who may desire further evidence in regard to the extraordinary curative powers of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to see him personally either at his mammoth Ocean Hotel, Long Branch, or at the popular Leland Hotel, Broadway, 27th and 28th Streets, New York.

Mr. LELAND'S extensive knowledge of the good done by this unequalled eradicator of blood poisons enables him to give inquirers much valuable information.

LOVE'S LOTTERY

OR,

THE RIVAL SISTERS.

Jabez Scladden, in the midst of his money getting, was possessed by two desires. The one was to become master of Longuevill at a cheap rate. The other, to make his own Juliette Beauchamp, whose queenly beauty had won his admiration, and wakened his passion. Cringing, snake like, raw-boned, and as hungry-looking as Cassius himself, he gloated over the Creole's charms, and in his impatience to possess them, did not hesitate to enter into an agreement with Stuart Loring.

Thus they had worked into each other's hands as yet without one hitch.

But if 'honor among thieves' be a true proverb—which, upon the assurance of Henry Fielding we beg to doubt, it certainly does not extend to rogues; for Stuart Loring, save the estate in which he took no interest, had, as it has been seen, determined Juliette should never fall to the lot of Jabez Scladden.

Now to return to the study and its occupant.

'Mine, both.' he repeated, yet regarding the portraits. Afterwards rising, he extended his hands in a certain direction, saying in a low, clear voice, deep, intense—

'Dream—dream of——'

Checking himself abruptly, his arms sank slowly to his side.

'No,' he murmured, 'not to-night. She will require all her strength for her journey to-morrow, dear child, and in a few hours only the slight walls of a ship's cabin will part us. Let her—let both rest to-night, both,' he added reflectively. 'Ah, my power over that superb Creole lessens daily, for her will is nearly as great as my own, and she resists me. What matter?' he added, breaking into a low, chuckling laugh. 'I hold by a yet stronger power. Love and jealousy. They make her mine. She loves Eustace Belmore; she is jealous of my gentle Pauline, and jealous with her means revenge, hate—deadly hate.'

He paused.

Then consulting the time-piece muttered—

'Two, I wonder how Grum has succeeded? The young fellow, I know spent his evening at Portland Place, and no doubt left late. If Grum has failed, for the first time he will learn what my anger really is. On no account must Eustace Belmore form one of our party on board the San Francisco, and that he intends to do so, I have taken care to ascertain. No better saying was ever fashioned than that every man has his price; with the wondrous golden key, there need be no secret in all this earth.'

He had hardly ended when a peculiar tap sounded on the door.

The American hurried forward, opened it, and admitted Grum.

'Well?' he asked eagerly, when the lock was again turned.

'It is well,' was the response. 'You need fear nothing.'

'Is he dead?'

'It is strange if he be not.'

'Are you certain?'

'No, I can't be that; but he must have a life as tough as all the cats in existence if he ever beholds the sun again.'

Whereupon, the speaker recounted what had transpired.

'We dare not stay, for the Thames police were upon us; but with the blow he had received, the darkness, the mud, and and succession of the barges, the body must have gone down like lead beyond all possibility of rescue on such a foggy night.'

'Good,' cried the American, exultingly; 'my excellent Grum, you are worth your weight in gold. Now take the rest you need, for to-morrow we start for Liverpool.'

The next morning, the half-sisters, under Keziah's escort, were travelling in a first-class carriage, specially engaged, to their fate—Stuart Loring being seated in the adjoining carriage.

On their arrival, Pauline, who had kept her secret as it had been arranged, from even Juliette, fearful that her prudence might have demurred to the plan, eagerly looked to catch a glimpse of Eustace Belmore.

But no; as yet he was not there.

'Perhaps it is as well,' she thought. 'He is wiser than I. He will not put in an appearance until we are on board and fairly off.'

Two hours after they went on board and took possession of their cabins.

Still no Eustace.

Pauline's heart sank.

Surely, had he been there do some sign he would have acquainted her with his presence?

Anxiously she waited.

In vain.

The moment for departure arrived.

'Surely he will come—surely he will?' she thought.

Sick at heart, her arm in Juliette's she stood on deck, watching the quay crowded with idlers.

Casting off the San Francisco began to steam down the Mersey.

'Surely—ah, surely not! No Eustace—no Eustace; Could an accident have happened to him?'

That idea was most terrible of all.

Pauline's brain drew dizzy.

As the land receded further and further from their view, hope receded with it.

It was just at this instant that an incident occurred which, for the time, banished Eustace from her mind.

Every [illegible] who walks the streets of a great city, [illegible] with an intelligent eye the colorless faces of more than fifty per cent of the people he meets, can easily agree with us in the statement, that this age, which makes such dwarfs upon the working energies the greater part of men in the intense pursuit of business, has destroyed in a proportionate degree the animal health and robust condition. Nature in its stage of exhaustion, cannot be restored of its self but requires some stimulating tonic to strengthen and keep the system in regular order, and in Northrop and Lyman's Quinine Wine we have the exact remedy required. The peculiar operation of this medicine, in case of general debility and nervous prostration, has undergone long and close observation, and it is believed it will never of properly and judiciously administered. IMPORTANT TO RUPTURED PERSONS

The Excelsior Rupture Treatment was introduced to the American people several years ago in such a manner as to completely secure the confidence of the whole nation. The mode of introduction was by furnishing the remedy to those afflicted with Hernia in any of its various forms and collecting no pay until a permanent cure was effected. In this way the treatment gained a world wide reputation on its own merits, never failing to cure any reducible Hernia. The Company has at the solicitation of thousands placed the remedy on sale by all druggists both wholesale and retail, in the United States, Canada and England. In this way bringing it within the reach of all classes at a trifling cost compared with the benefits which are derived from the use of the treatment. Ask your druggist for a free book on rupture or send 6 cts. for one to the Excelsior Rupture Cure M'f'g Co., Ogdensburg, N. Y.

SCIENCE.

To increase the weight of the body invigorate the system, revitalize the exhausted and depressed, is the true object sought by medical science. The digestive organs must be in a healthy condition if we wish to secure this desired result, and no remedy yet discovered has ever proved so effectual in accomplishing this as FLAX-SEED EMULSION COMP. It contains Phosphorus to build up the nervous system and all the fat producing properties of Flax-seed to enrich the blood and supply the animal economy with the elements for reconstruction.

Use the imperial Kidney and Liver Cure—price 50c.

The above remedies are sold in Belleville by James Clarke & Co. and R. Carmichael druggists.

ROBLIN HOUSE,

Late Douglas House.

As the late proprietor of the Douglas House has removed to other premises and called it the New Douglas House, I beg to notify the public that I have reopened the Douglas House myself, under the name of the "ROBLIN HOUSE." As the house has always had the name of a First-Class Hotel, I shall spare no pains to make it as popular as it ever was. The above is pleasantly situated in the central part of the city, and is a very desirable place for Families and the Public generally. It has been thoroughly renovated and furnished with new furniture. A cordial invitation is given to all old patrons of the Douglas House, and all new ones who will favor me with a call.

Vital Questions!

Ask the most eminent physician
Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?

And they will tell you unhesitatingly
"Some form of Hops! ! !"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians:
"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, diabetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—

"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu !!"

Ask the same physicians
"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.," and they will tell you:

Mandrake! or Dandelion !"

Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable.

And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is

Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

CHAPTER II.

"Patients
"Almost dead or nearly dying"

For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.

Women have gone nearly crazy ! ! ! !

From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.

People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic, or suffering from scrofula.

Erysipelas!

"Saltrheum, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact almost all diseases frail"

Nature is heir to

Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.

None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile poisonous stuff with 'Hop' or 'Hops' in their name.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co's. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the error and indiscretion of youth, nervous weakness, early decay loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt, that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN Station D, New York City. d&w

"Twenty-four years experience," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the Generative organs is to repair the wastby giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box, 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas, Clarke & Co. ON THIRTY DAYS' TRIAL

The VOLTAIC BELT Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above,—N B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty day's trial is allowed.

AYER'S
Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs: none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.

"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me.
HORACE FAIRBROTHER."
Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute.

"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours,
MRS. EMMA GEDNEY."
159 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effectual remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried.
A. J. CRANE."
Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.
JOSEPH WALDEN."
Byhalia, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles.
E. BRAGDON."
Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.

THE SHAKERS.

How the Disciples of Mother Ann Lee Live!

THEIR PARENT SETTLEMENT.

What are known as the Shaker settlements are situated seven miles northwest of Albany, in the town of Watervleit, says an Albany letter in the New York Herald. There are four villages clustered together, distant each from the other about half a mile. The principal settlement is called the 'Church' village. The other three villages are known as the 'North,' 'South' and 'West.' The names indicate their direction from the Church settlement. Each community holds its own property, and controls its own temporal affairs. In religious matters the four settlements are controlled by the pastor of the church, though each has one presiding elder. The land held by the four communities forms a total of 3,000 acres. Some of it is woodland and a small portion of it is [illegible]. There are no hills of prominence, and generally the land is level, fertile, and cultivated with extreme care. The land owned by the church village comprises 709 acres.

The term village is rather a misnomer here. Ordinarily it conveys the idea of a greater number of dwellings, streets, a tavern, and some signs of public business. The buildings which compose the Church settlement number twenty or thereabout. They form a sort of square or court. There is nothing which at all represents a traveled highway. Nor do these building appear like dwellings, as they serve various other and different purposes, The first, which stands nearest the public road, is a neat and substantial structure. This contains the office, the store and reception room. Here Samantha Bowie, Barbara Hooper, and Ella Benedict preside as hosts and receive the public gracefully and graciously. In the store various articles of home manufacture are exposed for sale. Basket work, needlework, mats, canes, etc., represent the patience and deft hand labor of these interesting people. The female costume, like that at the Oneida community, is peculiar to themselves. It consists of a dress with long kilted skirt of black alpaca and a cape of the same material. This with a white apron and a bonnet frame for the head covered with white goods, makes up a neat and effective indoor costume. The general appearance of the women here with the white apron omitted, is not unlike that of the Sisters of Charity. When the women folks go to Troy and Albany on business they wear the straw bonnet and cape which is known to the female creation everywhere as a 'shaker.' The men wear no peculiar or distinctive costume. Theirs is that of society at large.

The members of the Church family number about fifty. The total of the four villages is not more than 150. Two thirds of the whole number are females. All or the major portion of the Church family sleep or eat in one large building. The sleeping rooms are divided the male from the female by a long hall, The meals are taken at a long table in silence and with strict decorum. A bell on top of this building gets the members out of bed at 4.30 a.m, in the summer and at 5 a.m. in winter. It summons them to breakfast at 6 to dinner at 12 and to supper at 6. The male members do very little manual labor. They superintend the outdoor work, which is mostly performed by hired help. About twenty hired men are employed, at a salary of $200 with board. Although some Jersey and Holsteins are raised no effort is made to rear thorough-bred cattle. the women are engaged in tailoring, mending, making shirts and other garments for family wear. Brooms are also made here, and small pails. The buildings aside from the church, the office, the house, and the seed store, are devoted to factory or workshop purposes on a small scale.

Those familiar with the Oneida community cannot avoid making comparisons. Though the latter and the Shakers bear a general resemblance one to the other, yet they are unlike in some particulars, and in one point as dissimilar as the antipodes. Before the Oneida community resolved itself into a stock company and conformed to the the state marriage laws its members were "free lovers." Their peculiar and abhorrent practices were a part of their creed. The Shakers faith is based upon the plan of property in common, but also upon the practice of living a strictly virgin, celibate life.' The Oneida community contains more members and has immense trapshops, silk works, blooded stock, barns, and a canning factory. The Shaker settlements have none of these. They may lack the collective vigor and talent for business and manufacture which formerly characterized the Oneida community under the virile leadership of J. H. Noyes, the founder. There is no pretence here to landscape gardening, no handsome lawns, or flower-beds, or museums. The buildings are not unlike in general character those of the ordinary farm sort. There is much more evidence of simplicity and contentedness than an ambitious desire to pose before the world.

This is the parent Shaker settlement. Mother Ann Lee went from England to New England in 1794. She claimed to have received a revelation and a commission from Christ to form a kingdom of Christ on earth. In this kingdom the sexes were to dwell together in virgin purity. She had been the mother of four children, all of whom died in their infancy. Odd as her theory was, she brought with her from England seven converts In witchcraft New England she met no favor. Then, with a society numbering ten members' she wandered into the wilderness here in Albany county about the year 1780. The first church was built in New Lebannon, Columbia county, in 1785. In 1795 the society appeared under the name of 'The United Society of Believers in Christ's Second Appearing.' Now there are seventeen societies in the United States. There are none in any other part of the world. The common name 'Shakers' was applied to these people in derision and alike many another, stuck until it has ceased to be opprobrious as was at first intended. In their religious sevices the worshippers, when moved by the Spirit, shake or dance. They hold public services in the church on Sunday beginning at 10 A. M. The public services held last Sunday, were the first held this season. These occasions attract large numbers of sightseers from this city, from Troy, Cohoes, Waterford, Lansingburg, and West Troy. Some of the public who attend these services are scoffers and disturbers of the peace. They march about the aisles of the church and in circles with a step that is a sort of shuffle, accompanied by a rocking and a shaking of the body. The members, like the Quakers, speak when the Spirit moves them to do so. Ann Lee is buried in the Shaker cemetery here, in which rest the dead belonging to all the villages.

Gardening is the principal employment of the Shakers, though all sorts of farming are carried on.

POTASH.

Iodide of Potassium is one of the strongest of the minerals used in medicine, and has produced much suffering in the world. Taken for a long time in large doses, it dries up the gastric juices, impairs digestion, the stomach refuses food, and the patient declines in health and weight. Persons with Blood or Skin Diseases should be careful how they take those mineral poisons, as in most instances the effect of them is to almost permanently impair the constitution. To take the place of these poisons we offer you a safe, sure, prompt, and permanent relief from your troubles Shaker Blood Syrup is entirely a vegetable preparation, and easy to convince you of its merits.

I have cured permanently Blood Taint in the third generation by the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, after I had most signally failed with Mercury and Potash. Dr. Smith, Bangor, Pa.

A young man requests me to thank you for his cure of Blood Poison by the use of your Specific after all other treatment had failed.
J. E. Kennedy, Druggist, Cobourg, Ont.

For years I was afflicted with Dry Tetter of the most obstinate type. Was treated by many of the best physicians; took quantities of mercury, potash, and arsenic, which instead of curing the Tetter crippled me up with mineral poison and rheumatism. The ills I continued to grow worse, and the itching almost made me crazy. In this condition I was induced to take Shaker Blood Syrup, and the result was as astonishing as Gratifying. In a few months the Tetter was entirely well, the Mercurial Poisoning all out of my system, and I was a well man—and due only to Shaker Blood Syrup. All like sufferers should take it
C. H. Sargeant, Haverhill, Mass.

CONSUMPTION is curable in the early stages, not by stimulants nor poisons, which substitute one form of irritation for another, both of which nature must get rid of before rallying, but by food—the only remedy. The waste is the result of faulty nutrition, not limited to the lung but a systematic starvation. Here use Wheeler's Elixir Of Phosphates And Calisaya to secure digestion and assimilation, and if you have sense enough to persist until the balance of outcome and income is restored you may get well.

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all Druggists.

THE DAILY ONTARIO.

VOX POPULI, VOX DEI.

Mr. Herbert Spencer, who contributes an article to The Popular Science Monthly, on "The Great Political Superstition," employs these words in his introduction: "The great political superstition of the past was the divine right of kings. The great political superstition of the present is the divine right of parliaments. The oil of anointing seems unawares to have dropped from the head of the one on to the heads of the many, and given sacredness to them also and to their decrees." He regards the earlier of these beliefs as irrational, but he thinks it is more consistent than the later one. The first kings were gods, the descendants of a god, or were god-appointed. In process of time, kings ruled by the "grace of God." Their divine authority caused their subjects not only to obey them but to look upon them with veneration. When men came to elect their own rulers, they accorded to them the same attributes they acknowledged formerly inherent in kings. A parliament is regarded as omnipotent. The old king was a representative of God. The Parliament now stands in his place. It is taken for granted that it can do anything, and that whatever it does is right. A parliament or other legislative body is said to "create rights." The leading object of the paper of Mr. Spencer is to show the absurdity of this view. The majority in any legislative assembly rules. It has little respect for the minority. If it numbers one more than the minority, it acts in the same way it would if all the members were in harmony.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Having exhausted itself in discussing whether a man who owns a lot really has any title to it the Spectator now tackles the question 'what is money.' A man so unacquainted with coin is not called upon to advertise his condition, especially when he is the journalistic father of the N.P.

According to the figures furnished by Dun, Wiman & Co., the number of failures in Canada during the first half of 1884 was 793 against 371 in the corresponding period of 1883; while the amount for the past six months was $11,243,200 as compared with only $4,116,570 during the same period of 1883.

Yesterday was election day in Megantic Quebec for the Commons. J.S. Turgeon was the Conservative candidate, and Hon F. Langelier, Mayor of Quebec, the Liberal candidate. An exciting contest was expected. The Minister of Militia had marshalled all the forces of the Government and distributed them ere this. These forces are usually represented by one word—dollars. The result is the victorious return of Mr. Langelier.

The increase of leprosy in San Francisco is beginning to attract more that usual attention. There is a loud cry for some systematic method on the part of the authorities whereby the disease may be kept off, but up to this time the board of health, although devising the proper methods for preventing the landing of lepers, have not paid sufficient attention to the cases already there. A careful investigation shows that the cases already in that city may be numbered by the hundreds. At one hospital there are now twenty-two Asiatic lepers and one from Hawaii. Forty-eight cases have been shipped to China.

THE FIRST BALLOT

Cleveland Leads with Bayard Second on the List.

CONSTRUCTING A TARIFF PLANK.

At the Chicago Convention yesterday the nomination of candidates proceeded.

F. M. Rose, Arkansas, seconded the nomination of Cleveland. He said Arkansas would cast its entire vote for Cleveland certain he would be elected.

General Bragg (Wisconsin) took the platform to second Cleveland. (Renewed cheering.) Bragg said he voiced the choice of the young men of Wisconsin and the West in seconding the great Governor of New York. They loved him most for the enemies he has.

Grady (New York) sprang to his feet and said in behalf of his enemies he reciprocated that hate. (Great confusion.)

Bragg said such action on the part of the Senator was a disgrace. (Cheers, hisses and confusion.)

Bragg (pointing to Grady) said his labor had been on the crank of the machinery. (Renewed cheers and confusion.) Bragg closed amid renewed cheers.

Jones, of New Hampshire, asked consent to second the nomination of Cleveland.

General Kent of New Hampshire, took the platform and made an earnest appeal for the nomination of Cleveland, and said it meant certain success.

FOR BAYARD.

John W. Cummins, of Massachusetts, took the platform to second Bayard's nomination. Cummins said for sixty years Massachusetts has been lost to the Democrats. He felt assured that Bayard could redeem it. He alluded to Kelly and the minority as slaves, only allowed to speak as their master directed. (Applause) He said to thrust a New York candidate on them was to lose Massachusetts and the election.

Randall was nominated amid enthusiasm.

A NUT FOR SENATOR GRADY.

The following has been received from New York by Daniel Manning: "Reading to-day's proceedings and Grady's remarks concerning Governor Cleveland. I telegraph you that I was a representative Irishman before Grady was born, and, as such, believe I know the sentiments of my countrymen and co-religionists, and place my assertions against his. Nine tenths of the Irishmen I met are in favor of Cleveland's nomination, and the universal sentiment expressed in this city to-night is that Grady has uttered a vile calumny against the Irish and Catholics of America.—(Signed) Wm. E. Robinson."

The Cleveland men are strong in the belief that they can bring matters to a crisis at their option, and can afford to grant a few concessions.

PLATFORM OF THE CONVENTION.

New York, July 10—The Sun's Chicago special says: — The Sub-Committee on Platform, after a ten hours' session, unanimously agreed upon a tariff plank. It recites that the need of a change in the tariff laws is shown by the vast excess of revenue collected by the Government; that since the foundation of Government customs dues have been the main resource for revenue, and must continue to be so; that it must be recognized that under the systems of levying customs large industries have sprung up in the country, and that therefore changes in the tariff should not be precipitated, or of such a kind as to injure or destroy these industries. It asserts that enough revenue can be collected from spirits, malt liquors and fewer articles of importation to support the Government, pay pensions and wipe out the public debt. It claims that changes in the tariff can be made without reducing the wages of laborers; it denounces the present inequalities in the Republican tariff law, and declares that all taxation shall be exclusively for public purposes, and that no more taxes shall be collected than are needed for expenses of the Government, economically administered. The rest of the platform did not require so much time and, as finally adopted, it is an aggressive attack upon the Republican party. The sub-committee voted unanimously for Morrison as Chairman. There is no doubt the full committee will agree to the report and present it to the Convention as soon as nominations are completed. It is not likely that the report will cause any discussion.

The scenes around the hotels last night surpassed those of all other nights. Ten thousand people surrounded the Palmer House. The Randall, McDonald, Thurman, Cleveland and Bayard Clubs and the local political clubs paraded the streets with Bengal lights and glittering banners, rending the air with the music of their boom. Thurman had a reception all evening. Thousands of persons, many of them ladies, formed in line and shook him by the hand. John Kelly held a secret conclave to which delegates from various States were invited. An attempt to put Hendricks in the field if McDonald breaks down is being made.

GOSSIP AS TO POSSIBLE TICKETS.

The Times' despatch says: Whatever may have been the effect of the day's work upon the Cleveland movement, it did not appear that the supporters of the other candidates had made any progress toward a union of forces. It is rumored the Thurman movement will be headed off to-day by the placing of Hoadley in nomination.

THE FIRST BALLOT.

The first ballot taken resulted as follows:

Cleveland	386
Bayard	171
Thurman	89
Randal	80
McDonald	60
Carlisle	27
Total	802

The number requisite to a choice is 535.

No more ballots were taken to the close of the session.

A LIBERAL VICTORY.

The Dominion Government Defeated in Megantic.

A CONSTITUENCY WON OVER.

Quebec, July 10.—Megantic federal election came off to-day, and was one of the hardest fought in the annals of the country. It resulted in favor of the Hon. E. Langelier, Mayor of Quebec, Liberal, by 31 majority, Mr. Turgeon, the Conservative candidate, being defeated despite all Militia Minister Caron's eloquence, Sir Hector Langevin's intriguing, and Mr. John Henry Pope's wholesale corruption. Mayor Langelier was one of Mr. Pope's most marked and determined opponents of his little scheme to dispose of his International Railway to the Canada Pacific against Quebec's interests. Megantic is a partly French, partly Old Country constituency, the French element preponderating. At the last Dominion elections Mr. Freshette, the Conservative was returned by 119 majority. It is noteworthy, from the details of the polling, that in all the Conservative strongholds the Liberal candidate this time reduced his opponents majorities immensely, while largely increasing his own in such parishes and townships as had previously gone Liberal. There was great excitement here all night pending the arrival of returns from the county, and the telegraph and newspaper offices were literally besieged. It is very probable that the numerous friends of the Liberal member elect will give him an unparalleled reception when he returns. Mr. Caron and Sir Hector Langevin are in town.

SLEEPS IN HIS BOOTS.

AND TAKEN BEFORE A MAGISTRATE BY HIS LANDLORD.

'Is this the man you got the summons for?' asked Justice Gorman of Carl Doler. of No. 23 Essex Street, yesterday in the Essex Market Police Court, New York.

'Yes,' replied Doler, 'this is Otto Oldenburgh who s married and boards with me.'

'What charge do you make against him?'

'He sleeps with his boots on.'

'That's not a crime.'

'Well, I don't want a boarder who wears his boots to bed.'

The accused said he paid for his room and thought he had a right to do as he pleased it it. He admitted the charge.

'Why do you wear your boots to be?' inquired the court, 'It isn't nice. Don't your wife object?'

'Ab, Judge!' Oldenburgh replied, sadly. 'we both have to work very hard, and she sleeps to well too mind a little thing like that. I am so tired when I get home that after supper I go to bed, boots and all.'

'Will you promise to remove your boots in the future?'

'No, for I really don't have time to take them off.'

'Well, Mr. Doler,' said the justice, 'I cannot make him do so. Your remedy is in a civil suit. The case is dismissed.'

Lord Mandeville has failed to settle his racing losses at Long Branch, amounting to $1,500. There is talk of expelling him from the track.

The dates of the western racing circuit have been fixed as follows: Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 18 and 19, at St. Thomas; Thursday and Friday, Aug. 21 and 22, at London; Tuesday, Aug. 26, at St. Mary's; Thursday and Friday, Aug. 28 and 29, at Ailsa Craig; Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 2 and 3, at Petrolia. Purses to the amount of $5,000 will be hung up.

Almost every person has some form of scrofulous poison latent in his veins. When this develops in scrofulous sores, ulcers, or eruptions, or takes the form of rheumatism, or organic diseases, the suffering that ensues is terrible beyond description. Hence the gratitude of those who discover, as thousands yearly do, that Ayer's Sarsaparilla will thoroughly eradicate this evil from the system.

To most children the bare suggestion of a dose of castor oil is nauseating. Why not, then, when physic is necessary for the little ones, use Ayer's Cathartic Pills? They combine every essential and valuable principle of a cathartic medicine, and being sugar-coated, are easily taken.

LATEST CITY NEWS

The Executive Committee will meet tonight.

Sol Smith Russel, who played in Belleville about three months ago, is dead.

The Sunday School of St. Andrew's Church had their picnic at Massassaga Point today.

Major Milligan was in the city yesterday and paid H. M. pensioners their quarterly allowance.

Messrs. Twining and Herring who were injured by falling off the scaffold Wednesday, are progressing favorably.

The cells last night contained only fifteen prisoners and one tramp. One of them when arrested had $130 in his possession.

The Autumn Assizes will be held in Belleville by Mr. Justice Galt, on the 20th Oct.: Autumn Chancery Sittings, 6th Oct.

The Library Committee of the Mechanics Institute met last night and awarded the tender for printing 400 copies of the revised by-laws.

The plans and specifications for the new hospital have been submitted to Ald. Hanley, architect, for a careful modification, in order to lessen the cost of building.

Mayor Dannet has been instructed by the Ferry Committee to notify the Dominion Government that the dredge is not required here any longer this season. In the meantime the committee decided last night to have the dredge take of the east end off the bar near the light house.

Mr. R. C. Hulme, President of the Grand Lodge of the Sons of England, visited Trenton last evening to inspect the lodge of that town. He was accompanied by five members of the Oxford lodge who also paid a fraternal visit to the sister lodge. They returned to the city about one o'clock this morning.

Mr. F. R. Lingham while in the city yesterday denied the statement which appeared in the Provincial press to the effect that he had failed to fulfil his contract with the Allan Steamship Company for carrying cattle to Liverpool. No such contract was made by him recently, but there was by a Boston Company.

Detective Spencer, of the Grand Trunk service, assisted by Sergeant McCrudden and Constable Cook, last night arrested Thos. Penny, Lasher Penny, Lasher Penny, (a cousin,) Wesley Cummings, Nicholas Roderick, Miles Sweeney and Walter McGee, and lodged them in the cells. They are charged with stealing a "lorry," or hand car from the Grand Trunk yard on Sunday last, and taking a trip over the Midland to Canifton. The boys were brought before Mr. Thos. Wills, J.P., this morning and the case was enlarged for a week. The accused in the meantime were allowed their liberty on their parents becoming responsible for their appearance. The Grand Trunk have suffered serious loss and inconvenience lately by boys taking hand cars out on the road, and it is their intention if possible to put a stop to it.

STOCKS. — The Felt hat market in Belleville at present is in an excited state prices running low on account of the very large stocks on hand. Desirable styles are going off fast at Hyman's at 15 per cent. discounts, while those not quite so good are going off at very low rates. Should the demand so continue for a couple of weeks stocks will all be cleared out. The largest and best assorted stock we find is held by S. A. Hyman.

Just received at Ford's art gallery a large stock of gold and plush mouldings, a beautiful line of new enamel mouldings will be opened this week. If you want your picture framed well and cheap send them in at once. J. H. Ford, Picture framer.

BOARD OF WORKS.

At a meeting of the Board of Works last night Thomas Harris' salary was raised from $1.50 a day to $1.75 the same as received last year. Wm. Sutherland asked the committee to take what lumber (about 5,000 feet) he had on hand cut in four and eight feet lengths at the same rate they paid Mr. Job Lingham. Mr. Sutherland furnished the city with lumber last year, but, failing to get the contract this season, the amount of lumber he had on hand was of course no use for any other purpose except sidewalks. The Board agreed to take it off his hands. The pay sheet $390.20 was passed. Ald. Tickell forcibly objected to the chairman of the committee making improvements in the city without consulting the other members, and for a time there was a lively war of words, but the matter was dropped. Job Lingham presented an account which was endorsed, for 885 pieces of split cedar and 500 ft. of lumber, amounting in all to $226.25. J. W. Walker's account for nails $29.50, was passed.

Mr. T. C. Wells, Chemist and Druggist, Port Colborne, Ont, writes: "Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure sells well and gives the best of satisfaction for all diseases of the blood." It never fails to root out all diseases from the system, cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, etc., purifies the blood, and will make you look the picture of health and happiness.

SPOKES FROM THE WHEEL.

About 17 wheelmen turned out at the Ramblers tri-weekly club run last evening, headed by Capt. Ristallack, in his natty velveteen. They ran around the city east and west dismounting at the Dafoe to see what time it was. The bright new bannerets were much admired.

It removes wrinkles and softens the skin. The regular use of Murray & Lanman's Florida Water at the toilet tends to prevent and remove wrinkles, the softness of the skin produced by its taking away the natural inclination of the cuticle to form into ridges and furrows.

FLUID LIGHTNING.

WIFE—What's the matter now John.

HUSBAND—Oh, that neuralgia and toothache near me.

WIFE—Why don't you go to A. L. Geen's Wholesale and Retail Drug Store and get a bottle of Fluid Lightning, you know it cures all such things as toothache, neuralgia, headache, lumbago, earache, sore throat, etc. It gives instant relief. 25c.

THE THURBER ROBBERY.

After Further Evidence is Heard Scott is Discharged.

The adjourned case against Mr. A. G. Scott, hotel keeper of Stirling, charged with stealing $350 from H. B. Thurber, was concluded at the police court yesterday afternoon before Messrs. G. E. Bull and G. W. Faulkner, J.P.'s, resulting in the dismissal of the accused. Mr. Burdett, for the prosecution, submitted that sufficient evidence had been produced to commit the accused for trial, but the County Attorney wished to hear the statements of others who were present before asking for Scott's commitment. Counsel for the prosecution objected to this and left the room. A request was then made by the bench as well as by the bar for further evidence, and four or five of those who were at Scott's hotel on the 15th ult., were called. Their testimony went to show that W. Gould, who swore he saw Scott take the money, was drunk and not in the bar at the time he said. James Ketcheson and others from Belleville testified that Thurber was in the bar about 2 o'clock that morning very little the worse of liquor, while Freeman Ferguson swore that Scott and himself found Thurber shortly after that asleep and drunk in the road. Mr. Clute submitted that these witnesses had been called by the Crown and he asked for the discharge of the accused. The court decided that the evidence was insufficient to convict and discharged Scott.

POLICE COURT.

There was a large docket at the police court this morning, Mayor Dannet and Ald. Pope presiding.

DRUNKS.

John Marlow, drunk, was taxed $2 and costs. Patrick McCambridge appeared with a black eye on a charge of disorderly conduct; $2 and costs. Thomas Rush, from Deseronto, a pensioner, drew his allowance of Her Majesty's money yesterday and in the evening was rushed into the police station; discharged. Edward Pelan, drunk, $2.

FOUR MONTHS IN THE CENTRAL.

John Stanton, a robust looking fellow of about 24, was charged with vagrancy. The chief of police reported that he detected him begging money in front of the Dominion House, and said he had been pointed out to him as the man found begging through the wards. Ald. Pope pointed out that it was with such characters people had the greatest trouble. In the daytime they visit houses ostensibly for the purpose of getting something to eat but finding an unprotected lady, they become offensive and make an inspection of the premises in order to get the 'lay of the land' for another and more opportune visit at night. The court wisely decided to make an example of Stanton and sentence him to four months' in the Central. 'Make it hard labor, your honors,' he said 'for I would rather have work.' 'You will have plenty of that,' was the stern reply.

BELLEVILLE LODGE.

At a meeting of the Belleville Lodge of I.O.O.F., No 81 last night the following officers were installed for the ensuing term by Bro. F. M. Clarke, D.D.G.M., assisted by Past Grands Geen, Hudson, Worham and Pascoe of Belleville lodge and by Bro. Pringle and Cornelius of Mizpah Lodge:—J.P.G., Bro. L. C. Pascoe; N.G., T. Cook; V.G., R. M. Roy; R.S., E. G. Ponton; P.S., Wm. McGie; Treas., T. Duncan; I.G., A. Stratton; O.G., J. Coon; R.S.N.G., R. Warham; L.S.N.G., J.A. Barkley; R.S.S., E. Jones; L.S.S., A. Bird; R.S.V.G., John Newton; L.S.V.G., A.T.M.Roberts.

The report submitted of the finances of the lodge was very satisfactory, indeed the statement was a surprise to several visiting brethren present. The treasurer's report showed the amount of cash in the bank to the credit of the lodge to be about $4,000 with total assets over $6,000. The membership of the lodge is now 204. During last term the receipts amounted to nearly $1,000, while in sick benefits $115 was paid out, funeral benefits $20, and the Widow and Orphan's fund $15.

Pale Woebegone Invalids suffering from poverty of the blood, bilious sufferers and those whose circulation is depraved, should use without delay Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, the celebrated blood purifier, which stimulates digestion, increases the nutritive properties of the blood, and expels impurities from the system.

A BRUTAL ASSAULT.

Last evening a hard character named William Arthurs beat his wife in a brutal manner with a hammer and was arrested by Constable Cook. His wife returning home in the evening after working all day at washing began preparing the supper. About seven o'clock her husband arrived at the house drunk and dragged his wife out into the street by the hair of her head and at the same time, it is said, dealt her a merciless blow over the eye with a hammer, and when the officers arrived Arthurs was in the act of striking her again. He was arrested and this morning was remanded until Tuesday, Mrs. Arthurs being unable to attend court.

THREE STRAIGHTS.

But the Peterboros' Find it Hard Work to Get Them.

A GOOD GAME OF LACROSSE.

Some hundreds of admirers of the national game, including, of course a number of ladies, witnessed the lacrosse match yesterday between the Peterboros and Okas. Seats were provided for the ladies.

It is proposed here to speak specially of the home team as the visitors are acknowledged to be a club difficult to beat and they are in capital form. The Okas put the following team in the field:—

Laurance, goal; Kenny, point; Bardett, cover-point; Coleman Halliwell and Henderson, defence field; Wallbridge centrefield; Yeomans, Forin, Moore, homefield; Garratt, outside, and Whitelaw inside home.

The first game lasted only ten minutes when the ball, knocking around the Belleville flags, was put through by Rutkins of the Peterboros. In the second game the Okas got down to better work, and were playing well. The ball came close to the Belleville goal and Laurance ran out to it when Kenny, behind the goal, called for it and he attempted to tip it back to him but in doing so unfortunately put it through the flags. There was a little dispute over whether the ball went through or not but it was game fair enough. The Okas let up, and Gerow of the Peterboros again put it through thus settling the matter. The time was forty minutes including a wait occasioned by an accident to Garratt. The third game was exceedingly creditable to the Okas. It lasted about an hour and differed from the other two inasmuch as the Okas did not play nearly so much on the defensive. The Okas defence played beautifully, outplaying their opponents almost every time during the long game. The trouble was that the home was not strong enough to keep the ball around the Peterboro goals any length of time. The rush and vigor necessary to the taking of a game was lacking. Then Garratt early in the game received a sore cut on his lip and was compelled to retire. This, of course, weakened the home men considerable. The Peterboro defence were no mean men and the ball was always tossed quickly to the other end. After a very fine exhibition of the game the rubber was shot through the Belleville flags by Kelly.

Mr. S. Thompson was field captain for the Okas, Mr. Coughlin for the Peterboros; umpires, Messrs, W.A. Craven, Montreal, and P. McArthur, Belleville; Referee, Mr. M. E. Davis, Montreal.

Both players and spectators scarcely hoped that a club with the prestige of the Peterboros would lose a game to a club which had had very little and virtually no practice. Everyone was therefore agreeably surprised at the strength developed by the Okas and the excellent play they exhibited. It's of no use to point to individual play. With two or three exceptions every man on the team played extremely well. Reference might just be made however, to one of the substitutes, Moore, whose playing was a surprise to all. His pertinacity in sticking to his man and his determination to get the ball if possible are just the elements of a good player. The successful player will have his heart in his work and nil desperandum for a motto.

Why the Okas have not practised is incomprehensible. "It's a great pity to see such splendid material wasted for want of team practice," said a spectator yesterday, and this reproach should no longer exist. Let every man determine to practice for an object, and let that object be to uphold the former high reputation of the Oka Lacrosse Club and to do something which will redound to the credit of the City of the Bay. Yesterday's match shows that this can easily be done.

And let the citizens who admire the game—and who does not?—encourage the club in every way they can. There is nothing objectionable about such a sport as this; it is one patronized throughout the Dominion by the best people and supported enthusiastically by the masses. Yesterday's attendance was not at all what it should have been or what it would have been had the citizens known what they were losing. But first let the Okas perfect their form, then Belleville will exhibit a just pride in them.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure, and effectual.

A SCHOLARLY LUNATIC.

Boston has had in court the case of a gentleman of high social standing, the son of a great jurist, and an eminent lawyer and scholar, who had been imprisoned in insane asylum, but had regained his freedom. His relatives wished to make his confinement perpetual, and to obtain control of his property on the ground that he was a lunatic. The only delusion under which he labored was his belief that he heard voices of unseen speakers. Two men, he declared whom he had disobliged had conspired to annoy him in this way, and by means of electrical power conveyed the sounds to his ear. He conducted his own defence and made a plea so powerful and scholarly that it convinced his hearers of his sanity. He was dismissed a free man. But he persisted on his discharge that the voices still sounded in his ears.

GREAT NEGLIGENCE.

There is great neglect with most people to maintain a regular action of the bowels, which causes much disease. Burdock Blood Bitters cure constipation.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Winslow's Soothing Syrup For Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

THE DOG'S BARK,

Awakes Mrs. VanAllen and Frightens Away the Burglars.

An attempt was made last night to burglarize Mr. Thomas VanAllen's house on North Front Street but the thieves were frightened away by the noise made by the dog. Mrs. VanAllan heard the dog bark in the yard between 12 and 1 o'clock, and looking out of the window saw two men one of whom drew a pistol and fired at the dog. They then jumped over the fence and ran down the track. The alarm was immediately given and a messenger despatched for the police. The two thieves were joined by a third on the railway and pursued as far as the rifle butts, when Chief McKinnon and Sergeants McCrudden and Downs took up the chase and followed the men for some distance in the country but were unable to overtake them.

DANGEROUS TO BE AT LARGE.

Gentlemen—There is some mistake in this gas bill.

Gas Collector—No, sir, the bill is all right. It is according to the meter.

Gentlemen—It's very strange; I certainly burned more gas than that last month.

Gas Collector—Wh-what's that, sir?

Gentlemen (emphatically)—I say I certainly burned more gas than that last month.

Gas Collector (turning pale and edging toward the door)—Very well, sir, very well Don't get excited, sir; keep quiet; calm yourself. Everything will made all right, I assure you, sir.

The collector then bounced down the stairs and shouted for help. Four policemen responded and moving cautiously up the stairs they secured the maniac and got him safely to a lunatic asylum. But little hopes are entertained of his recovery.

PERSONAL.

This paper makes a practice to examine closely and reject all matters of such a character as could be in any way objectionable to our readers, but the following, drawing as it does your notice the name of and article of sterling merit, known throughout the land as the only sure and non-poisonous remedy for corns, is welcome to a place in our columns. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor now finds its way to nearly every part of the world, which is itself a guarantee of its merit. We advise our readers to buy it, and when purchasing to get Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Polson & Co., Kingston, props.

CHEESE MARKET.

BELLEVILLE, July 10.—The cheese by the Sarnia are being transhipped and forwarded to Liverpool. These will be sold for what they will fetch on account of the Insurance companies. This has already had a weakening effect on the English market. Cable 46 6 to-day. High colored cheese are selling at 8½cts., other colors and quality at about 8 cts. More money has been paid earlier, but these are the present quotations.

James Cullan, Pool's Island, N. F., writes: I have been watching the progress of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil since its introduction to this place and with much pleasure state that my anticipations of its success have been fully realized, it having cured me of bronchitis and soreness of nose; while not a few of my rheumatic neighbors, (one old lady in particular) pronounce it to be the best article of its kind that has ever been brought before the public. Your medicine does not require any longer a sponsor, but if you wish me to act as such, I shall be only too happy to have my name connected with your prosperous child.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Invalids distracted by indigestion and discouraged in their search for a remedy should make a trial of this never-failing medicine. A lady long a martyr to dyspeptic tortures, writes that Holloway's Pills made her feel as if a burden had been taken off her. Her spirits formerly low, have greatly improved; her capricious appetite has given place to that of healthy hunger; her dull, sick headache has departed, and gradually so marvellous a change has been effected that she is altogether a new creature, and again fit for her duties. These pills may be administered with safety to the most delicate. They never act harshly, nor do they ever induce weakness; they rightly direct deranged, and control excessive action.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In in common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally and the Ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceeding efficacious. When influenza is epidemic this treatment is the easiest, safest, and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the overgorged air tubes, and render respiration free without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of saving suffering when any one is afflicted with cold, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints by which so many persons are seriously and permanently afflicted in most countries.

Wonderful! Wonderful!

Thousands of young men are exclaiming the above every day, after using

DR. LAMARTINE'S MOUSTACHE GROWER.

Positively the only reliable preparation ever offered to the public. A trial will convince the most skeptical. Beware of bogus imitations. Sent postpaid, in plain wrapper, on receipt of price, $1.00 per box.

WARREN LELAND,

whom everybody knows as the successful manager of the

Largest Hotel Enterprises

of America, says that while a passenger from New York on board a ship going around Cape Horn, in the early days of emigration to California, he learned that one of the officers of the vessel had cured himself, during the voyage, of an obstinate disease by the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Since then Mr. LELAND has recommended AYER'S SARSAPARILLA in many similar cases, and he has never yet heard of its failure to effect a radical cure.

Some years ago one of Mr. LELAND'S farm laborers bruised his leg. Owing to the bad state of his blood, an ugly scrofulous swelling or lump appeared on the injured limb. Horrible itching of the skin, with burning and darting pains through the lump, made life almost intolerable. The leg became enormously enlarged, and running ulcers formed, discharging great quantities of extremely offensive matter. No treatment was of any avail until the man, by Mr. LELAND'S direction, was supplied with AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, which allayed the pain and irritation, healed the sores, removed the swelling, and completely restored the limb to use.

Mr. LELAND has personally used

for Rheumatism, with entire success; and, after careful observation, declares that, in his belief, there is no medicine in the world equal to it for the cure of Liver Disorders, Gout, the effects of high living, Salt Rheum, Sores, Eruptions, and all the various forms of blood diseases.

We have Mr. LELAND'S permission to invite all who may desire further evidence in regard to the extraordinary curative powers of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to see him personally either at his mammoth Ocean Hotel, Long Branch, or at the popular Leland Hotel, Broadway, 27th and 28th Streets, New York.

Mr. LELAND'S extensive knowledge of the good done by this unequalled eradicator of blood poisons enables him to give inquirers much valuable information.

CHAPTER XV.

RETURNS TO PETER GAUM'S VICTIM.

It is our duty, no painful one, to go back a while to our unfortunate hero, whom we left at the critical moment when the black, turgid waters of the Thames had closed around him.

Such nights as that upon which the event happened the river police kept strict watch by ear more than eyesight, the latter standing them of little avail.

Consequently, the heavy plunge of Eustace's body was easily detected by the crew of one of the boats, which fortunately was, at the time, creeping noiselessly through the nearest arch of London Bridge.

To pause on their oars, and wonder what it could be was not a practice with the Thames police.

Long experience told them something had been thrown in, which the throwers would not have cast in broad daylight, a something which possibly was human.

Like an arrow the boat shot to the spot, the police giving the cry of alarm.

On reaching the vicinity of the barges nothing could be discerned, though the lighted lantern dispelled the fog sufficiently for sight.

Nevertheless after two of the police had been set ashore in pursuit of the owners of the voices which had been heard the boat rowed here and there on the look-out.

'It's no good, mate,' finally remarked one. 'If it wur a body, it wur a dead un, and's gone to the bottom. If it's the plunder of some robbery it's sunk deep in the mud now.'

Apparently such was the case, and the officer in command was in the act of issuing the order to pull to the stairs, when within the radius of light thrown by the lanterns, a hand was seen to be raised from the dark waters, and make a feeble grasp at the gunwale of the boat.

In a second a policeman had grasped it while he exclaimed—

'I've got it! Here it is. It's a body, and a live one. Lend a hand mates.'

The aid was readily lent, and in a few moments after Eustace Belmore was dragged almost dead into the boat and laid at the bottom.

Contrary to the supposition of Gaum, the sudden shock of the cold water had the effect of after a while restoring their victim somewhat to his senses, and, a good swimmer, instinctively struck out for life.

Unluckily he had proceeded from instead of to the shore, his brain too dizzy for thought, acting as animals act, purely by instinct the common instinct—life.

Swerving from feebleness in his course, his dim eyes had opportunely caught the gleam of light in the boat, and turning he struck out with better spirit, endeavoring to utter a cry.

But all power of utterance was taken from him.

Despite the supporting hope of rescue, he grew feebler—feebler, and had sunk again beneath the tide, only strength being left for him to throw up his hand towards the boat.

Had the action passed unseen, Eustace Belmore would never from this world have gazed on human face again.

Fortunately it was seen, and the passing bell had not tolled for our hero yet.

Whether conscious of safety, and no longer need of exertion, after one glance around, with a long sigh, Eustace again lapsed into unconsciousness.

A little brandy forced between his lips, however, had a speedy effect, and again opening his eyes, he murmured—

'Where am I?'

'Safe, now, sir,' answered a rough, goodnatured voice; 'but how and why you came into the water, we just want to know ourselves, if you can tell us.'

Eustace Belmore raised himself on his arm, and supported by one of the policemen, pressed his hand to his forehead,

'How came I into the water?' he repeated, confusedly, 'how? I can't say—yet, stay—I—I begin to remember, Yes—I was garotted, and struck down by a blow that completely stunned me. After that. I recollect no more. How cold it is,' he added shivering violently. 'Pray, my good fellow, put me ashore, and let me get a cab home, for these wet clothes will be my death.'

The boat had already approached the stairs, and now stopped by them, when, supported by one of the officers—for on trying to walk, Eustace found himself awfully weak—our hero landed, and a cab having been procured, an officer yet accompaning him, to drove his chambers.

Eustace Belmore regarded the assault which had been made upon him as a simple case of garotte, and the immersion but a means of removing the traces of the crime.

His companion, however, appeared to throw a different light upon it, a light that considerably puzzled him.

Why had the garotters brought the body so far, even had they supposed it lifeless, when the river could have been reached so much nearer, and consequently, with more security!

Also, why had the victim's watch, purse and ring remain untouched?

As the policeman put these questions, he saw a good case before him, of which the papers would make much.

Every [illegible] who walks the streets of a great city, a [illegible] with an intelligent eye the colorless faces of more than fifty per cent of the people he meets, can easily agree with us in the statement, that this age, which makes such dwarfs upon the working energies [illegible] the greater part of men in the intense pursuit of business, has destroyed in a proportionate degree the animal health and robust condition. Nature in its stage of exhaustion, cannot be restored of its self but requires some stimulating tonic to strengthen and keep the system in regular order, and in Northrop and Lyman's Quinine Wine we have the exact remedy required. The peculiar operation of this medicine, in case of general debility and nervous prostration, has undergone long and close observation, and it is believed it will never of properly and judiciously administered. IMPORTANT TO RUPTURED PERSONS

The Excelsior Rupture Treatment was introduced to the American people several years ago in such a manner as to completely secure the confidence of the whole nation. The mode of introduction was by furnishing the remedy to those afflicted with Hernia in any of its various forms and collecting no pay until a permanent cure was effected. In this way the treatment gained a world wide reputation on its own merits, never failing to cure any reducible Hernia. The Company has at the solicitation of thousands placed the remedy on sale by all druggists both wholesale and retail, in the United States, Canada and England In [illegible] way bringing it within the reach of all classes at a trifling cost compared with the benefit which are derived from the use of the treatment. ROBLIN HOUSE,
Late Douglas House.

As the late proprietor of the Douglas House has removed to other premises and called it the New Douglas House, I beg to notify the public that I have reopened the Douglas House myself, under the name of the "ROBLIN HOUSE." As the house has always had the name of a First-Class Hotel, I shall spare no pains to make it as popular as it ever was. The above is pleasantly situated in the central part of the city, and is a very desirable place for Families and the Public generally. It has been thoroughly renovated and furnished with new furniture. A cordial invitation is given to all old patrons of the Douglas House, and all new ones who will favor me with a call.

Vital Questions.!

Ask the most eminent physician

Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?

And they will tell you unhesitatingly
"Some form of Hops ! ! !"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians:

"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, diabetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—

"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu !"

Ask the same physicians

"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.," and they will tell you :

Mandrake! or Dandelion !"

Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable.

And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is

Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use

CHAPTER II

"Patients
'Almost dead or nearly dying"

For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.

Women have gone nearly crazy ! ! ! !

From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.

People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic, or suffering from scrofula.

Erysipelas!

"Saltrheum, blood poisoning dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact almost all diseases frai."

Nature is heir to

Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.

None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile poisonous stuff with 'Hop' or 'Hops' in their name.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY

is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co's. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all Druggists.

"Twenty-four years experience," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the Generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas. Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See adv't in another column

ON THIRTY DAYS' TRIAL

The VOLTAIC BELT Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above.—N B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty day's trial is allowed.

AYER'S
Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs: none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.

"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me.
HORACE FAIRBROTHER."
Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute.

"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours,
MRS. EMMA GEDNEY."
159 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effectual remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried. A. J. CRANE."
Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. JOSEPH WALDEN."
Byhalia, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles. E. BRAGDON."
Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.

LOOKING BACK.

Some Joyous and Sad Reminiscences of Life.

SERMON BY REV. DR. TALMAGE.

"While I was musing the fire burned."—Psalms xxxix : iii.

Here is David, the psalmist, with the forefinger of his right hand against his temple, the door shut against the world, engaged in contemplation. And it would be well for us to take the same posture often, closing the door against the world, while we sit down in sweet solitude to contemplate. In a small island off the coast of Nova Scotia I once passed a Sabbath in delightful solitude, for I had resolved that I would have one day of entire quiet before I had entered upon autumnal work. I thought to have spent the day in laying out plans for Christian work; but instead of that it became a day of tender reminiscence. I reviewed my pastorate; I shook hands with an old departed friend, whom I shall greet again when the curtains of life are lifted. There was but one house on the island, and yet from Sabbath daybreak when the bird chant woke me, until the evening melted into the Bay of Fundy, from shore to shore there were

TEN THOUSAND MEMORIES,

and the groves were ahum with voices that had long ago ceased. Youth is apt too much to spend all its time in looking forward. Old age is apt too much to spend all its time in looking backward. People in mid life and on the apex look both ways. It would be well for us, I think, however, to spend more time in reminiscence. By the constitution of our nature we spend most of the time looking forward. And the vast majority of this audience live not so much in the present as in the future. I find that you mean to make a reputation, you mean to establish yourself, and the advantages that you expect to achieve absorb a great deal of your time. But I see no harm in this, if it does not make you discontented with the present, or disqualify you for existing duties. It is a useful thing sometimes to look back, and to see the dangers we have escaped, and to see the sorrows we have suffered, and the trials and wanderings of our earthly pilgrimage, and to sum up our enjoyments. I mean this morning, so far as God may help me, to stir up your memory of the past, so that in the review you may be encouraged, and humbled, and urged to pray. I want to bind in one sheaf all your past advantages, and I want to bind in another sheaf all your past adversities. It is a precious harvest, and I must be cautious how I swing the scythe. Among the greatest advantages of

YOUR PAST LIFE

was an early home and its surroundings. The bad men of the day, for the most part, dip their heated passions out of the boiling spring of an unhappy home. We are not surprised to find that Byron's heart was a concentration of sin, when we hear his mother was abandoned, and that she made sport of his infirmity, and often called him the 'lame brat.' He who has vicious parents has to fight every inch of his way if he would maintain his integrity, and at last reach the home of the good in heaven. Perhaps your early home was in the city. It may have been in the days when Canal Street, New York, was far up town, and the site of this present church was an excursion into the country. That old house in the city may have been demolished or changed into stores, and it seemed like sacrilege to you—for there was more meaning in that plain house, in that small house, than there is in a granite mansion or a turreted cathedral. Looking back this morning, you see it as though it were yesterday—the sitting room, where the loved one sat by the plain lamp-light, the mother at the evening stand, the brothers and sisters, perhaps long ago gathered into the skies, then plotting mischief on the floor or under the table, your father with firm voice commanding silence, that lasted half a minute. Oh, those were good days! If you had your foot hurt, your mother always had a soothing salve to heal it. If you were wronged in the street, your father was always ready to protect you. The year was one round of frolic and mirth. Your greatest trouble was an April shower, more sunshine than shower. The heart had not been ransacked by troubles, nor had sickness broken it, and no lamb had a warmer sheepfold than the home in which your childhood nested. Perhaps you were brought up

IN THE COUNTRY.

You stand now to-day in memory under the old tree. You clubbed it for fruit that was not quite ripe, because you couldn't wait any longer. You hear the brook rumbling along over the pebbles. You step again into the furrow where your father in his shirt sleeves shouted to the lazy oxen. You frighten the swallows from the rafters of the barn, and take just one egg, and silence your conscience by saying they won't miss it. You take a drink again out of the very bucket that the old well fetched up. You go for the cows at night, and find them wagging their heads through the bars. Ofttimes in the dusty and busy streets you wish you were home again on that cool grass, or in the wheat carpeted hall of the farmhouse, through which there was the breath of new-mown hay or the blossom of buckwheat. You may have in your windows now beautiful plants and flowers brought from across the seas, but not one of them stirs in your soul so much charm and memory as the old ivy and the yellow sunflower that stood sentinel along the garden walk, and the forget-me-nots playing hide and seek mid the long grass. The father who used to come in sunburnt from the fields, and sit down on the door sill and wipe the sweat from the brow, may have gone to his everlasting rest. The mother, who used to sit at the door a little bent over, cap and spectacles on, her face mellowing with the vicissitudes of many years may have have put down her gray head on the pillow in the valley, but forget that home you never will. Have you thanked God for it? Have you rehearsed all these blessed reminiscences? Oh, thank God for a Christian father; thank God for a Christian mother; thank God for an early Christian altar at which you were taught to kneel; thank God for an early Christian home. I bring to mind another passage in the history of your life. The day came when you set up

YOUR OWN HOUSEHOLD.

The days passed along in quiet blessedness. You twain sat at the table morning and night, and talked over your plans for the future. The most insignificant affair in your life became the [illegible] of mutual consultation and advertisement. You were so happy you felt you never could be any happier. One day a dark cloud hovered over your dwelling, and it got darker and darker; but out of that cloud the shining messenger of God descended to incarnate an immortal spirit. Two little feet started on an eternal journey, and you were to lead them, a gem to flash in heaven's coronet, and you to polish it; eternal ages of light and darkness watching the starting out of a newly created creature. You rejoiced and you trembled at the responsibility that in your possession an immortal treasure was placed. You prayed and rejoiced, and wept and wondered; you were earnest in supplication that you might lead it through life into the kingdom of God. Have you kept that vow? Have you neglected any of those duties? Is your home as much to you as it used to be? Have those anticipations been gratified? God help you to-day in your solemn reminiscence, and let His mercy fall upon your soul if your kindness has been ill requited. God have mercy on the parent, on the wrinkles of whose face is written the story of a child's sin. God have mercy on the mother who, in addition to her other pangs, has the pang of a child's iniquity. Oh, there are many, many sad sounds in this sad world, but the saddest sound that is ever heard is the breaking of a mother's heart. Are there any here who remember that in that home they were unfaithful? Are there those who wandered off from that early home, and left the mother to die with a broken heart? Oh, I stir that reminiscence to-day. Can it be that you so turned in that way? But I must not spend any more of my time in going over the advantages of your life. I just put them all in one great sheaf, and I top them up in your memory with one loud harvest song, such as the reapers sing. Praise the Lord, ye blood-bought immortals on earth! Praise the Lord, ye crowned spirits of heaven! But some of you have not always had a smooth life. Some of you are now

IN THE SHADOW.

Others had their troubles years ago, you are a mere wreck of what you once were. I must gather up the sorrows of your past life; but how shall I do it? You say that is impossible as you have had so many troubles and adversities. Then I will just take two, the first trouble and the last trouble. As when you are walking along the street, and there has been music in the distance you unconsciously find yourselves keeping step to the music, so when you started life your very life was a musical time beat. The air was full of joy and hilarity; with the bright clear oar you made the boat skip; you went on and life grew brighter, until after a while suddenly a voice from heaven said 'Halt!' and quick as the sunshine you halted; you grew pale, you confronted your first sorrow. You had no idea that the flush on your child's cheek was an unhealthy flush. You said it can't be any thing serious. Death in slippered feet walked round about the cradle. You did not hear the tread, but after a while the truth flashed on you. You walked the floor. Oh, if you could with your strong, stout hand, have wrenched that child from the destroyer. But one day there arose from the heavens a chill blast that swept over the bedroom, and instantly all the light went out and there was darkness—thick, murky, impenetrable, shuddering darkness. But God didn't leave you there Mercy spoke. As you took up the cup, the adder tongue, hovering, flashing, rushed over the brim, and you were about to put that cup to your lips. God said, 'Let it pass," and forthwith as by the hand of angels, was put into your hands: it was the cup of God's consolation. Ah, it is your first trouble. How did you get over it? God comforted you. You have been a better woman ever since. In the jar of the closing gate of the sepulchre you heard the clanging of the opening gate of heaven, and you felt an irresistible drawing heavenward You have been purer and stouter of mind ever since that night when the little one for the last time put its arms around your neck and said 'Good-night, papa; good-night, mamma. Meet me in heaven.' But I must come down to your later sorrow What was it? Perhaps it was sickness. The child's tread on the stair or the tick of the watch on the stand disturbed you. Through the long weary days you counted the figures in the carpet or the flowers in the wall paper. Oh, the weariness of exhaustion! Oh, the breaking pangs! Would God it were morning, would God it were night were your frequent cry. But you are better, or perhaps even well. Have you thanked God that to-day you can come up in the [illegible]; that you are in the place to hear God's name, and to sing God's praise, and to implore God's help, and to ask God's forgiveness? Perhaps your last sorrow was a FINANCIAL EMBARRASSMENT.

ANOTHER CUP.

I congratulate some of you on your lucrative profession or occupation, on ornate apparel, on a commodious residence—every thing you put your hands to seems to turn to gold. But there are others of you who are like the ship on which Paul sailed where two ships met, and you are broken by the violence of the waves. By an unadvised indorsement, or by an a conjunction of unforeseen events, or by fire or a senseless panic, you have been flung headlong, and where you once dispensed great charities, and now you have hard work to make the two ends meet. Have you forgotten to thank God for your days of prosperity, and that through your trials some of you have made investments which will continue after the last bank had exploded, and the silver and gold are molten in the fires of a burning world? Have you amid all your losses and discouragements, forgot that there was bread on your table this morning, and that there shall be shelter for your head from the storm, and there is air for your lungs, and light for your eye, and a glad and glorious and triumphant religion for your soul? Perhaps your last trouble was

A BEREAVEMENT.

That heart which is in childhood was your refuge, the parental heart, and which has been a source of the quickest sympathy ever since, and has suddenly become silent forever. And now, sometimes, whenever in sudden annoyance and without deliberation you say, 'I will go and tell mother.' Or the father, with a voice less tender, but as staunch and earnest and loving as ever—watchful of all your ways, exultant over your success without saying much, although the old people do talk it over by themselves, his jerky hand on that staff which you now keep as a family relic, his memory embalmed in grateful hearts—is taken away forever. Or there was your companion in life, sharer of your joys and sorrows, taken, leaving the heart an old ruin, where the ill winds blow over a wild wilderness of desolation, the sands of the desert driving across the place which once bloomed like the garden of God. And Abraham mourns for Sarah at the cave of Machpela. Going along your path in life, suddenly as you stepped on, right before you was an open grave. People look down, and they see it was only a few feet deep and a few feet wide, but to you it was a cavern down which went all your hopes and expectations.

But cheer up in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ the comforter. He is not going to forsake you. But these reminiscences reach only to this morning. There is one more point of and that is the last hour of life, when we have to look over our past existence. What a moment that will be! I place Napoleon's dying reminiscence on St. Helena beside Mrs. Judson's in the Harbor of St. Helena, the same island, twenty years after. Napoleon's dying reminis- was one of delirium—Tete d'armee—'Head of the Army.' Mrs. Judson's dying reminiscence, as she came home from her missionary toil and her life of self-sacrifice for God, dying in the cabin of the ship in the harbar of St. Helena, was, 'I always did love the Lord Jesus Christ.' And then the historian says, she fell into a sound sound sleep for an hour and woke amid the songs of angels. I place the dying reminiscence of Augustus Cœsar againt the dying reminiscence of the Apostle Paul. The dying reminiscence of Augustus Cœsar was, addressing his attendants, 'Have I played my part well on the stage of life?' And they answered in the affirmative, and he said, 'Why, then don't you applaud me?' The dying reminiscence of Paul the Apostle was, 'I have fought a good fight, and I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the lord the righteous Judge will give me on that day, and not to me only, but to all them that love His appearing.' Augustus Cœsar died amid pomp and great surroundings. Paul uttered his dying reminiscence looking up through the wall of his dungeon. God grant that our dying pillow may be the closing of a useful life, and the opening of a glorious eternity.

THE DAILY ONTARIO.

REFORM THE SENATE.

Mr. Blake's views on the Senate are those which must ultimately prevail. In a recent speech he gave these expression:—He said that their wishes should not be capable of being thwarted by anybody except a body which sprang from and was accountable to themselves As at present constituted the members of the Senate were there for life. They might lose their intellect,—they might be so infirm as to be unable to come to their seats more than one day in the session, but they were still Senators of Canada, entitled to a potential voice in making and unmaking the laws of Canada. They should abolish all that. He did not object to the principle upon which the constitution of the Senate was founded—the representations of the Provinces in a proportion different from population; he was willing that there should be a second legislative body and that the federal principle should be carried out, but this mode of nomination was destructive of that principle—the principle that Provincial rights might require to be guarded against encroachments by the House of Commons. He compared the idea of a Senate, appointed by the leader of the Commons, being supposed to guard Provincial rights against the Federal Parliament, to a wolf guarding the sheep pen, or a thief to guard the pantry. The Senate should be smaller than it was; it should be elective and we would then have a capable, useful, and sensible body, less expensive than the present one."

Mr. Patterson, of Brant, at a recent political demonstration in North Wellington, to show how arduous were the labors of the Canadian peers in the service of their country, read a tabulated statement of their sittings for one session. In the first sixteen days of the session they sat fourteen hours. Then they took two weeks of well-earned holidays, sat a few minutes each day for some time, spent seven hours in debating the Canadian Pacific Railway bill, which had occupied the house of Commons for six weeks, and in a session which lasted ninety-four days, including Sundays, sat in all—allowing twenty-four hours to the day—exactly four days, nineteen hours and forty minutes. The Senate cost the country $149,000 last session. Mr. Blake has formally declared himself to be in favor of an elective upper chambar.

MPORTANT TO MUNICIPALITES.

The effect of the judgment by Mr. Justice Ferguson in the suit of Kirkpatrick v. the City of Kingston is that the premiums received by Hon. G. A. Kirkpatrick as agent for an outside insurance company are personal property and as such liable to assessment in the municipality where they are collected. In this case the company was the Phœnix with its head office for Canada in Montreal. The circumstances were as follows, and if the judgment is a sound one it settles the question finally in favor of the municipalities. At the trial it was shown that Mr. Kirkpatrick's was the only office the company had in Kingston, that the premiums were sent to Montreal at the end of each month, that there was not on the 1st October, nor on the 1st of November any of the money in the agents hands, that the losses are paid in Montreal, that no money is retained by Mr. Kirkpatrick for payment of losses and that the premiums received are the primary fund out of which losses are paid; that the Company has no personal property in Kingston but the premiums; also that the commission constituted part of the income for which Mr. Kirkpatrick was personally assessed. The money received for premiums was, after deducting the commission, sent regularly every month to Montreal. The retort the fire companies are sure to make is this: we will raise our rates if you persist in assessing our premiums. This course is a very effective weapon in their hands.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Another county has declared for Blake.

The reaction against bad government emphasized in Lennox and West Middlesex is again manifested in Megantic.

The struggle to retain the Conservative complexion of Megantic being finished, defeated Minister of Militia Caron will now retire to the seclusion which a summer resort offers.

Replying to some remarks by an Ottawa paper on the remoteness of Regina N. W. T., Mr. Davin in the Regina Leader says:—"We can assure the Editor of the Citizen that in Regina no man of culture need repine. We have not the Chaudiere Falls, or the Laurentian Hills, but we have a rolling prairie enamelled with wild flowers, and vocal with the song of thousands of sweet-voiced beautiful birds hidden in fragrant grasses. We have sunrises such as would throw those which rise over Sandy Hill into shadow; and sunsets more grand than ever went down over the Ottawa. The air which sweeps over these prairies invigorates like the sea and stimulates like wine. Our soil is rich beyond comparison; our settlers are the flower of their class; and as to culture we have ladies fair and refined and according to Steele, knowing one such ought to be a liberal education."

A misstep will often make a cripple for life. A bottle of Henry & Johnson's Arnica and Oil Liniment at hand, will not prevent the misstep, but used immediately it will save being a cripple.

THE METHODIST CHURCH.

Transactions of the New Superannuation Board at Toronto.

The new Superannuation Board of the United Church met in Toronto on Tuesday. The Board comprises 32 members. Rev. Dr. Carman occupied the chair. The statement reporting $120,000 on hand was accepted by the Board. In the process of levelling up, it was laid down as a rule that the sum of $129 would be required from each of the ministers of the late M. E., the Primitive, and the Bible Christian Churches entering the Union.

The following committee was appointed to ascertain the number of ministers entering the Union from each of the contracting parties:—Revs. Dr. Bredin, J. Mavety, M. Griffith, and Messrs. J. Smith, M. Graham, J. Edmonson.

The following committee was appointed to apportion to the several districts the sums required for the supperannuation fund for the ensuing —said action to be taken prior to the meeting of the Financial Districts:—Dr. Carman, Dr. Williams, Dr. Sanderson, M. S. Smith, Wm. Berridge, J. N. Lake, J. Kenner, and the clerical treasurer.

Rev. Mr. Kenner submitted the report of the committee appointed to ascertain the number of ministers entering the Union as follows:—214 Methodist Episcopal, who shall pay into the superannuation fund $27,612; 82 Primitive Methodist, who shall pay $10,580; Bible Christian, who shall pay $8,258. The Canada Methodists bring 930 ministers into the Union, and have $120,000 invested, which, added to the sums paid in as "levelling up," shows a total of $166,450 invested for this fund.

It was resolved that the proper authorities of all the parties to the Union, furnish to the secretary of this Board, at as early a period, as possible, the date at which each minister was received into full connection and ordained, so that the claims on the fund may be fixed.

FOR THE LADIES.

LATEST ECHOES FROM THE WORLD OF FASHION AND FOLLY.

Chalk white lace is again in vogue.

Red vests are popularly worn in Paris.

White embroidered mull ties are revived.

Sleeves grows fuller and higher in the armhole.

White and black scarfs are revived for neck wear.

The horse-hair cushion is the latest form of the bustle.

High boots are relegated to street wear only for the summer.

Jerseys, in order to be stylish, must now be very gay and dashing.

All sorts of combination of colors are permitted in costume nowadays.

'Idealized strawberry,' or 'bloom color,' is the latest London craze.

Low shoes for outdoor wear and slippers for the house is the rule this summer.

The most becoming finish for a shirred white mull bonnet is to line the brim with green velvet.

There is a fancy for wearing a velvet basque fitted like a cuirass, with skirts of India silk or foulard.

Coarsely finished camel's hair buntings with striped borders are made up for summer traveling dresses.

A few crazy women in Paris are wearing straw hats with square corners. They are anything but pretty.

The Fedora front appears on redingotes and ulsters for summer wear, as well as on tea gowns in the princess.

The high-peaked crown and very broad brimmed hat is revived in rough straw for summer out-of-door wear.

A small scarf mantle is made to accompany lace and grenadine dresses and both materials are employed in this little wrap.

Wrappers of mull are made dressy with Fedora fronts, Watteau backs and a profusion of valenciennes or oriental lace.

Tight jackets, if made too tight at the waist, must make wrinkles in the back. Moral. Don't have your jacket too tight at the waist.

The embroidery on white neck scarfs consists of applique medalions, and small stars, cresents and clover leaf designs in drawn openwork.

Copotes and Fanchons of shirred white, gray and blue and rose tinted mull are becomingly finished with trimmings of velvet, black and colored.

For wedding or reception bonnets nothing is dainter than real duchesse or point lace, made over transparent frames or those covered with white surah.

The charity box of old or dead silver or gilt, attached by a small chain and catch to the corsage, is a very convenient nickel and dime holder for car fares.

Pretty and convenient are the lawn and muslin gowns in the Mother Hubbard shape, they can be used either for neglige morning wrappers or night robes.

Talma capes for summer mantles are made of loops of beads resting on chenille loops; these form the entire cape, to which is added a fringe of beads with chenille in it.

A leading pattern in the new brocaded silks which are exhibited is the passion flower. This is shown in evening tints one of the loveliest being a white ground with the design in gold satin.

For trimming dark gray or brown bison cloths and cashmeres, the mixed wool and metallic braids are used, partly of gilt or partly of silver, for striping the velvet vest and for heading the broad band of velvet that trims the skirt.

Young ladies are very partial to the "Pifferaro," a round hat with a narrow, flat brim, slightly turned up on one side and a cone-shaped crown. It is trimmed with a large rosette of mull embroidered in gold or with colored silk. It is very youthful and simple in appearance.

FATE.

A sunbeam kissed a river-ripple—"Nay,
Naught shall dissever thee and me!"
In night's wide darkness passed the beam away
The ripple mingled with the sea.

NO SUCH WORD AS FAIL.

A failure to relieve or cure summer complaints can never be truthfully applied to Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. All dealers sell it.

UNKNOWN TO SCIENCE.

That preparation is undiscovered which can surpass Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry as a cure for Cholera Morbus, Dysentry, and Summer Complaints.

CLEVELAND CHOSEN

As Democratic Candidate for the Presidency.

HENDRICKS FOR VICE-PRESIDENT.

Sketch of the Future President's Career.

Chicago, July 12.—At the National Democratic Convention yesterday after noon, on the second ballot the following was the result: Cleveland, 475, Hendrix, 124½; Bayard, 150½; Thurman, 60; Randall, 5; McDonald, 2; Tilden, 2. Illinois changes 1 from Cleveland to Bayard. Kansas changes giving Cleveland a gain of 1. North Carolina changes 22 from Bayard to Cleveland. Ohio is trying to change her vote, amidst great confusion, Cleveland's friends claim that there will be changes enough to give him the nomination on this ballot. Virginia changes giving Cleveland a gain of, 10. So far Cleveland has 507, and lacks 40 votes, Georgia changes to Cleveland a gain of 8. Cleveland's nomination is conceded. A number of delegations are struggling to be heard to change the vote.

CHANGING FOR CLEVELAND.

After the second ballot changes of State votes were so numerous and accompanied with so much uproar and excitement it was almost impossible to keep track of them. The Missouri delegation announced a change of its thirty two votes solid for Cleveland This set off the enthusiasm. An anchor of flowers was carried to the New York delegation, and a stuffed eagle was carried in procession. The band struck up more patriots airs, and flags and banners were waived, and the excitement gained the fever point because the Cleveland vote had nearly reached the necessary two-thirds. At this juncture when the success of Cleveland was certain, some of the minority delegates left the hall. Outside the artillery again boomed, and inside the uproar was tremendous. When Iowa transferred her vote to Cleveland an immense oil painting of Cleveland was carried on the platform waiting to be sent up when the vote should be announced. John Kelly, attended by some of his supporters, left the hall confused and disgusted at his thorough defeat.

The general result was announced as follows:

Whole number of votes cast	820
Necessary to a choice	547
Cleveland	683
Hendricks	45½
Bayard	81½
McDonald	2
Randall	4
Thurman	4

The question was then put on the previous motion to make the nomination unanimous, and it was carried triumphantly.

HENDRICKS SECOND.

The presentation of Hendricks' name was greeted with enthusiastic cheers and his nomination for the Vice Presidency was made unanimous.

CLEVELAND CONGRATULATED.

Albany, July 12.—A hundred guns were fired in honor of Cleveland's nomination the moment it was received. The governor was in the executive chamber at the capitol with a few friends. The booming cannon first announced the nomination to him. He received the congratulations of those present in a dignified manner.

SKETCH OF THE CANDIDATE.

Grover Cleveland was born at Caldwell, New Jersey, on March 18th, 1837. His great grandfather, uncle and father were all ministers of the gospel, but the laws of hereditity seemed to have no effect on his career. After graduating from Clinton Academy, Oneida, N.Y., he became a clerk in on of the charitable institutions in New York city. Tiring of his occupation he started for Buffalo, and at the age of 18 reached that city 'friendless, unknown poor,' to use his own expression. An uncle gave him a clerkship in his store, and his spare time he devoted to the study of law. Once, in the dull summer months he left the store, to teach a village school in Erie county. There he experienced his first lesson in love, and it ended in such a manner that Mr. Cleveland has ever since remained loyal to the romance of his youth, and while remaining a bachelor has been wedded to as memory. Having completed his studies he was admitted to the bar; receiving soon afterwards the appointment of Assistant District Attorney for Erie County. The next five years he spent in improving his practice. The office of Sheriff had been prostituted by corruption, and he was tendered the nomination for Sheriff by prominent citizens. was elected, and immediately commenced a thorough horse cleaning.

MAYOR OF BUFFALO.

A corrupt municipal ring had obtained control in Buffalo, and the time came for a supreme effort to be made to secure reform. Grover Cleveland was tendered the nomination for Mayor. After due deliberation he decided his obligations to his clients would not permit him to accept the proffered honor. The citizens looked elsewhere, but somehow every path led to Cleveland. A movement was then set on foot to force the Democrats to nominate him. Learning of this he did what he could to prevent it. At the moment when a ballot was being taken in the Convention on his name a Republican committee was in his law office urging him to accept. Again he declined, when a messenger burst in telling him of his unanimous nomination. A committee from the convention immediately waited on him to learn if he would accept. He agreed to accept providing the rest of the ticket was satisfactory to him, and under the impulse of the hour a reform ticket throughout was nominated. The ringsters worked like Trojans to defeat the nominations. It was useless. Superhuman efforts were made on both sides at the election and the cause of pure government triumphed.

GOVERNOR OF THE STATE.

In 1882 Cleveland was elected Governor of New York State by 192,000 majority. Since he has been in the executive office Gov. Cleveland has refused to pander to the politicians, and has kept himself strictly within the limits of the constitution.

A BEAUTY'S FATE.

THE SORROWFUL STORY OF A YOUNG LADY OF BALTIMORE.

A Baltimore despatch says: Over a newly made grave in the burying ground attached to Bay View asylum there stands a tombstone bearing the following inscription: "Annie Collins, aged 19 years." Under this assumed name there died at the asylum recently a young lady named Ada Aubrey, a member of a respectable family of this city, and the niece of ex-Mayor Stansbury of Baltimore, whose life ended in a tragedy. Some months ago an elderly lady, accompanied by a young girl, called upon one of the trustees of the asylum and asked that her companion be given shelter there. The elder lady said she was aunt to the girl, who was poor and orphaned. The girl was of the most beautiful burnette type.

Her story was briefly told to the gentleman from whom she sought aid, and it was but a repetition of the oft told tale of man's treachery and a woman's folly. Some two years ago she met a cousin. They were thrown much together at home and in public assemblages, and the young man, by his devoted attention, soon showed to all observers that he was deeply in love with his beautiful cousin. She reciprocated his affection, and when he proposed for her hand she accepted his offer. His financial condition not warranting an immediate marriage the engagement was kept secret, but the lovers still continued devoted, and he seemed never to weary of the society of his fair cousin. Matters went on thus for a long time, until the young lady, yielding to importunities and beguiled by the promise of her betrothed, was ruined. When her mother was told of it she refused to believe that her daughter had fallen so low, and thinking that her illness was of some other nature, sent her to visit relatives in the country. When her real condition could no longer be concealed, the girl left and returned to her mother, expecting to find the shelter and comfort which she could hope for nowhere else. Her faithless lover had fled when he learned the ruin his deceit had wrought. The mother, thinking only of the disgrace brought upon her name, refused to receive the girl. Persuaded by members of the family, she at length consented to use her influence to obtain her wayward child admission to the asylum at Bayview, but refused to acknowledge her as her daughter. Thus the girl was taken in under an assumed name, and with not one of all her relations and friends to cheer her in her sorrow. The beautiful face and winning manners won the hearts of the attendants at the asylum, and though they did not know her real name nor station in life, everything possible was done to smooth her path and comfort her. In a few weeks a child was born. The young mother, weakened and excited by the trouble through which she had passed, became very ill and in a few days died. A message was sent to the mother of the young woman, but she did not come to her daughter's bedside, and thus amid strangers and her identity wholly unknown, the girl whose future had seemed so bright with promise of happiness in time and the esteem of friends breathed her last. A plain wooden coffin was sent out to the asylum and the girl placed in it and driven off to a cemetery and buried. No priest or friend was in attendance.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Whitby, July 12.—During a heavy thunder storm, which passed over Whitby at 7 p. m. last night, the out-buildings on Henry Sonley's farm, were struck by lightning, and consumed by fire. Mr. Sonley's eldest son, Wesley who was in the stable at the time, was struck and instantly kiled.

SAD DROWNING CALAMITY.

Montreal, July 12.—At Valois, a watering place about fourteen miles from Montreal, two young ladies lost their lives while bathing. They were Miss Ross, daughter of P. S. Ross, accountant, and her cousin, Miss Barry, of Glasgow, Scotland.

VISIT TO BELLEVILLE

Fifty Thousand Dollars will be Given Away.

THE SPIROMETER GIVEN FREE.

The Above Offer Holds Good for this Visit Only.

TO THE MEDICAL PROFESSION AND SUFFERERS FROM CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, WEAK LUNGS AND CONSUMPTION.

My motive is not one of money only, but for science and the good of suffering humanity.

To convince the public and prove to the sceptical that the Spirometer is the best instrument ever invented for the treatment of diseases of the air passages, and that it is all I have ever claimed for it, anyone suffering from the above named diseases who call at the Dafoe House, Monday or Tuesday, July the 14th or 15th, 1884, and consult the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, will be given a spirometer free the medicines alone to be paid for. I do this to show the confidence I have in the treatment, and to convince the medical profession and others who are still sceptical (notwithstanding the thousands of people who have been cured by it) that the Spirometer I have invented and the medicines and treatment prescribed by the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute are curing and will cure a larger percentage of these diseases than any other treatment in the world.

If impossible to call upon the surgeons during their visit to your city, write for International News and List of Questions.

ALWAYS PROMPT IN ACTION.

This is just what every sufferer wants—prompt action, and rapid relief from pain. The grandest discovery of the age, the great pain cure, it is Polson's Nerviline—prompt, powerful, pleasant to the taste, and yet so pure that it may be given to the youngest infant. Try a 10 cent sample bottle, which you can purchase at any drug store. Nerviline the great, sure, and prompt pain cure. The large bottles are only 25 cents.

Every one speaks highly of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters as a Stomach Liver and Kidney Medicine. The best family medicine we ever used,' say they all. Try a bottle this Spring as a blood purifier.

ROYAL ARCH MASONS.

Toronto, July 12.—The election of officers, Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons, resulted as follows:—

Judge Macpherson, Owen Sound, Grand Y.; Thomas Sergeant, Toronto. Grand "Z.;" R. Hendry, Kingston, Grand J.; David McLellan, Grand Scribe E.; Otto Klotz, Preston, Grand Scribe N.; E. Mitchell, Grand Treasurer; E. Radcliff, Goderich, Grand Principal Sojourner; W. Waddington, Jr., Kingston, Grand Registrar.

Mr. Jas. Watters of Napanee was chosen District Supt. for Prince Edward.

POTASH.

Iodide of Potassum is one of the strongest of the minerals used in medicine, and has produced much suffering in the world. Taken for a long time in large doses, it dries up the gastric juices, impairs digestion, the stomach refuses food, and the patient declines in health and weight. Persons with Blood or Skin Diseases should be careful how they take those mineral poisons, as in most instances the effect of them is to almost permanently impair the constitution. To take the place of these poisons we offer you a safe, sure, prompt, and permanent relief from your troubles Shaker Blood Syrup is entirely a vegetable preparation, and easy to convince you of its merit.

I have cured permanently Blood Taint in the third generation by the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, after I had most signally failed with Mercury and Potash. Dr. Smith, Bangor, Pa.

A young man requests me to thank you for his cure of Blood Poison by the use of your Specific after all other treatment had failed.
J. E. Kennedy, Druggist, Cobourg, Ont.

For years I was afflicted with Dry Tetter of the most obstinate type. Was treated by many of the best physicians; took quantities of mercury, potash, and arsenic, which, instead of curing the Tetter crippled me up with mineral poison and rheumatism. The tetter continued to grow worse, and the itching almost made me crazy. In this condition I was induced to take Shaker Blood Syrup, and the result was as astonishing as Gratifying. In a few months teh Tetter was entirely well, the Mercurial Poisoning all out of my system, and I was a well man—and due only to Shaker Blood Syrup. All like sufferers should take it.

Mr. Harry Beasley, in the employ of the Canada Pacific at Portage La Prairie has come home for his holidays.

Mrs. C. W. Bell's birthday anniversary occurring yesterday a family re-union boarded the Annie Gilbert and enjoyed a very pleasant sail to the Murray Canal. At Trenton the party had tea and the sail home by moonlight was very much enjoyed.

A MISSING MAN'S WILL.

During the summer of the American Centennial in 1876, Mr. Wm. Daley left his home near Wilton, Lenox County and, up to the present has never been heard from. It is supposed that in his travels he has met with foul play in some quarter of the globe as he had a large amount of money in his possession. At the time of leaving home he settled up all his business affairs as he expected to be absent for some time, and his will was opened a few days ago. The real estate was left to Mr. Chas. Daley, of this city. who has been in Wilton this week looking after his interest a correspondent of the Napanee Express says. Messrs. Silver and Timmerman of Odessa and Miss Dorland of Adolphustown were remembered in a tangible manner in the will.

Almost every person has some form of scrofulous poison latent in his veins. When this develops in scrofulous sores, ulcers, or eruptions or takes the form of rheumatism, or organic diseases, the suffering that ensues is terrible beyond description. Hence the gratitude of those who discover, as thousands yearly do that Ayer's Sarsaparilla will thoroughly eradicate this evil from the system.

To most children the bare suggestion of a dose of castor oil is nauseating. Why not, then, when physic is necessary for the little ones, use Ayer's Cathartic Pills? They combine every essential and valuable principle of a cathartic medicine, and being sugar-coated are easily taken.

LITTLE GIRL TRAMPS

TWO PRECOCIOUS CHILDREN APPLY FOR POLICE PROTECTION.

"Please, will you tell us where the poorhouse is?"

The Sergeant in charge at the police station last night looked down at the little questioner and saw a little girl scarcely in her teens, accompanied by a younger companion. Katie and Lillie Davy, aged eleven and thirteen respectively, told the following story. Their father, Albert Daly, lived in Orilla and their mother in Campbellford. Their parents had sent them out to earn their own livelihood, and after doing Hastings, Lindsay, Peterboro' and Campbellford, they dead-headed their way to this city on Thursday. The little wanderers were quite talkative and not at all reticient about giving an account of their trip. They belong to the Salvation Army, the Saved Army and the Gospel Band, and with their poke bonnets the little tourists not only looked happy, but were as jolly as it was possible for them to be. "When we go home," Katie said, "our aunt tells us we are not going to trouble them any more, so we ain't." Sergeant McCrudden took them over to the Home for the Friendless for the night.

THREE HOUSES BURNED.

Almost Destroyed Before Water is Thrown.

LOSSES AND INSURANCE.

A few minutes after five o'clock yesterday afternoon an alarm of fire was rung, the cause of which was ascertained to be a disastrous blaze in some frame buildings on South John Street near Dundas. The firemen were promptly on hand but the engines were delayed for several minutes in throwing water, and in the meantime three dwellings and as many barns and sheds were rapidly burning. The trouble arose as usual, by the teams being at work a distance from the station, hence they lost several minutes valuable time which ought not to have been the case.

ORIGIN OF THE FIRE.

Those who saw the fire first stated that it occurred in Benson's shed caused by boys making a bon fire of straw against the outside of the building. A light wind soon carried the flames to Benson's frame house to the east and then to the barn, devouring them with such rapidity that none of the contents could be saved The fire spread to Mr. Milburn's roughcast residence on the north and to Mr. Sid Vandevoort's on the south, also to Mr. John Allen's barn and it was feared that the whole block would be lost before the engines got to work. This anxiety it will be seen was well founded for out of the properties mentioned, the only building saved was Mr. Vandevoort's, in a damaged condition. It was fully half an hour before any water was thrown by the engines. No. 1 steamer took the stand at the foot of Dundas Street and the hose was laid, but as it failed to reach farther than Church Street, they could not work until No. 2 arrived. A barrel was then produced and from this No. 2 forced the water through another stretch of hose to the fire. The firemen first turned the stream on Allen's barn to prevent the spread of the flames in that direction and followed by the Hooks the building was torn down. The roughcast house was left to its fate, the furniture having all been removed, and the officers of the department directed their men to check the spread of the flames on the south side. Accordingly, a stiff stream was turned on Vandevoort's house, and, assisted by the Hooks, the men, after a hard fight, saved this house in a badly damaged state. Mr. Milburn's house was a total loss. The small chemical engine was on hand and did good service. Several men with pails of water succeeded in preventing Martin's barn from burning.

LOSSES AND INSURANCE.

Mr. Edward Milburn had no insurance on his furniture, but the most of it was saved in a damaged condition. The house was owned by Mr. Robt. Wallace and was insured with Mr. P. R. Palmer for $600. He will lose at least $100, while Mr. Milburn's loss will not be less than $250. Mr. Joseph Benson only had an insurance of $150 on his house and nothing on the contents or on the barn. His loss will be the heaviest. In the house was a lot of new furniture and carpets, besides the ordinary household effects, none of which were saved. His son also lost three suits of clothes and $25 in money. The contents of the barn consisting of hay and grain, harness and several other articles were lost. Benson's loss will be in the the neighborhood of $800. Mr. Sid. Vandevoort had an insurance of $300 on his furniture with Ald. Vandusen, but the most of it was saved. The house was owned by Mr. Martin Macdonald and was insured for $100 with Ald. La Roch. Mr. John Allen's loss is fully covered by insurance.

SPARKS.

The engines did not quit work until half past eight.

Mr. James Richards will suffer a slight loss to his fence.

Large crowds of people visited the scene of the fire last evening.

Some person stole a valuable pipe during the fire from Mr. Milburn

Mr, Wm. Carter found a roll of bills in the street belonging to Mr. Milburn.

Mrs. Covenly's roughcast house on the corner was scorched and the furniture damaged by water,

Mr. Milburn has been in poor health for several days which renders his present condition all the worse.

"Sammy" Benson, barber at the Dafoe, was presented with a purse containing $35 by his friends in the house after the fire.

The opinion was expressed that there should be a water tank built on John street to avoid a repitition of yesterday's delay.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Invalids distracted by indigestion and discouraged in their search for its remedy should make a trial of this never-failing medicine. A lady long a martyr to dyspeptic tortures, writes that Holloway's Pills made her feel as if a burden had been taken off her. Her spirits formerly low, have greatly improved; her capricious appetite has given place to that of healthy hunger; her dull, sick headache has departed, and gradually so marvellous a change has been effected that she is altogether a new creature, and again fit for her duties. These pills may be administered with safety to the most delicate. They never act harshly, nor do they ever induce weakness; they rightly direct deranged, and control excessive action.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In in common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally and the Ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceeding efficacious. When influenza is epidemic this treatment is the easiest, safest, and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of saving suffering when any one is afflicted with cold, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints by which so many persons are seriously and permanently afflicted in most countries.

AFTER USING.

Wonderful! Wonderful!

Thousands of young men are exclaiming the above every day, after using DR. LAMARTINE'S MOUSTACHE GROWER. Positively the only reliable preparation ever offered to the public. A trial will convince the most skeptical. Beware of bogus imitations. Sent postpaid, in plain wrapper, on receipt of price, $1.00 per box.

WARREN LELAND,

whom everybody knows as the successful manager of the

Largest Hotel Enterprises

of America, says that while a passenger from New York on board a ship going around Cape Horn, in the early days of emigration to California, he learned that one of the officers of the vessel had cured himself, during the voyage, of an obstinate disease by the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Since then Mr. LELAND has recommended AYER'S SARSAPARILLA in many similar cases, and he has never yet heard of its failure to effect a radical cure.

Some years ago one of Mr. LELAND'S farm laborers bruised his leg. Owing to the bad state of his blood, an ugly scrofulous swelling or lump appeared on the injured limb. Horrible itching of the skin, with burning and darting pains through the lump, made life almost intolerable. The leg became enormously enlarged, and running ulcers formed, discharging great quantities of extremely offensive matter. No treatment was of any avail until the man, by Mr. LELAND'S direction, was supplied with AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, which allayed the pain and irritation, healed the sores, removed the swelling, and completely restored the limb to use.

Mr. LELAND has personally used

for Rheumatism, with entire success; and, after careful observation, declares that, in his belief, there is no medicine in the world equal to it for the cure of Liver Disorders, Gout, the effects of high living, Salt Rheum, Sores, Eruptions, and all the various forms of blood diseases.

We have Mr. LELAND'S permission to invite all who may desire further evidence in regard to the extraordinary curative powers of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to see him personally either at his mammoth Ocean Hotel, Long Branch, or at the popular Leland Hotel, Broadway, 27th and 28th Streets, New York.

Mr. LELAND'S extensive knowledge of the good done by this unequalled eradicator of blood poisons enables him to give inquirers much valuable information.

LOVE'S LOTTERY

OR,

THE RIVAL SISTERS.

Other reflections, however, soon chased any pondering on this subject out of Eustace's mind, when as he recollected his intended journey on the next day, no more grateful prayer ever went more sincerely up to the throne of Grace than his as he exclaimed mentally—

'Thank God that they did not kill me out-right. My darling Pauline, what would she have suffered. What must she have thought, when I did not appear as I promised?'

Nevertheless the blow and immersion might yet produce results that would hinder his starting on the morrow. Despite the lateness of the hour, our hero summoned medical aid, and he had hardly exchanged his clothes for the warm covering of his bed, before the doctor arrived.

The blow he pronounced a severe one, while he shook his head gravely over the immersion and ride in the saturated garments.

'Listen to me Doctor Thanet,' remarked Eustace eagerly; 'I am aware, that after what I have gone through, fever at times ensues, especially as I feel I am growing restless and excited under that fear. Now it is imperative that I leave London tomorrow. Mark me, sir, I pray, I say imperative. Therefore give me what you can—what you will, I care not how powerful the remedy nor the result, if it enables me to maintain my power of volition for the next forty eight hours.'

'The best assurance for that,' responded the doctor, 'is for me to dress your wound and give you a sedative, which by compelling sleep, will allay the perilous excitement that I find by your pulse, as you state, is decidedly growing upon you.'

A sleeping draught.

Eustace trembled.

Still he felt it was the least of two evils so he accepted it.

He drank the narcotic, laid down, and bidding his valet awaken him at at a certain hour upon pain of instant dismissal, fell into a deep slumber.

When the hour he had specified however arrived, in vain the servant strove to obey his master's command.

The sleep holding Eustace was too heavy to be cast off.

He turned and slumbered again and again, until the valet was bidden by the doctor to desist, as persistance might prove dangerous to his patient's recovery.

Slumber being usurped by delerium six hours later. Eustace of his own accord awoke, and starting up, demanded the time, though the bright sunlit room already told him.

His passion upon learning the truth need not be entered upon.

Tany man dressed quickly, he did.

If any valet moved quickly that one did.

The luggage was on the cab before even Eustace with all his rapidity was ready.

Seizing his hat, he had passed from his bed-chamber into the sitting-room, when the door of the latter opened, and to his astonishment and vexation, Nellie Montmorency stood barring his exit.

CHAPTER XVI.

THE ACTRESS FULFILS HER PURPOSE—EUSTACE STARTS.

Few persons could have stayed our hero at such a moment, most decidedly not the actress, and after that one glance of surprise he would have passed her had not Nellie Montmorency, who at this time was determined to fulfil her purpose, adopted a sure means of stopping him.

Swiftly she closed the door, locked it, and to Eustace's amazement, coolly placed the key in her pocket.

'Woman,' he cried, flushing with anger as he started forward, restore that key. What is the meaning of this audacity? Every moment is precious to me—too precious to be wasted upon——'

'Such a being as I am,' broke in the actress, bitterly; 'nevertheless it must be so. Eustace Belmore,' she proceeded, rapidly, "time is precious, listen to me quickly, for I will be heard. My love for you is unselfish, so absorbing, that despite your scorn, your cruel behavior, I cannot but be your friend still.'

Maddened by this delay he would have passed her.

She caught his arm.

'Aye,' she added; 'and even her friend—Miss Pauline Beauchamp's—for your sake.'

Eustace flushed again at his beloved name on the actress's lips.

'What you have to say,' he said, coolly, trying to throw off her grasp, 'must be said at another time. Restore that key.'

'Impossible, I repeat, until you have heard me.'

Abruptly Eustace Belmore swung round on his heel.

There was another means of exit through the dressing room.

He must take it.

It was no period for arguing.

Nellie Montmorency divined his intent.

Rapidly she overtook him, re-clasping the hands he had cast off about his arm.

'Eustace Belmore, you must—you shall hear me,' she exclaimed, earnestly. 'For her love you shall, or all the harm that befalls Pauline Beauchamp hereafter, shall rest on your head.'

IMPORTANT TO RUPTURED PERSONS

The Excelsior Rupture Treatment was introduced to the American people several years ago in such a manner as to completely secure the confidence of the whole nation. The mode of introduction was by furnishing the remedy to those afflicted with Hernia in any of its various forms and collecting no pay until a permanent cure was effected. In this way the treatment gained a world wide reputation on its own merits, never failing to cure any reducible Hernia. The Company has at the solicitation of thousands placed the remedy on sale by all druggists both wholesale and retail, in the United States, Canada and England. In this way bringing it within the reach of all classes at a trifling cost compared with the benefit which are derived from the use of the treatment. Ask your druggist for a free book on rupture or send 6 cts. for one to the Excelsior Rupture Cure M'f'g Co., Ogdensburg, N. Y.

ROBLIN HOUSE,
Late Douglas House.

The late proprietor of the Douglas House having removed to other premises and called it the New Douglas House, I beg to notify the public that I have reopened the Douglas House myself, under the name of the "ROBLIN HOUSE." As the house has always had the name of a First-Class Hotel, I shall spare no pains to make it as popular as it ever was. The above is pleasantly situated in the central part of the city, and is a very desirable place for Families and the Public generally. It has been thoroughly renovated and furnished with new furniture. A cordial invitation is given to all old patrons of the Douglas House, and all new ones who will favor me with a call.

Vital Questions!

Ask the most eminent physician
Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?
And they will tell you unhesitatingly
"Some form of Hops! ! !"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians:
"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, diabetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—
"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu !"
Ask the same physicians
"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, billiousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.." and they will tell you:
Mandrake! or Dandelion !"
Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable.
And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is
Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

CHAPTER II.

"Patients
"Almost dead or nearly dying"
For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs called consumption, have been cured.
Women have gone nearly crazy ! ! ! !
From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.
People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic, or suffering from scrofula.
Erysipelas!
"Saltrheum, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact, almost all diseases frail"
Nature is heir to
Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.
None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile poisonous stuff with 'Hop' or 'Hops' in their name.

ON THIRTY DAYS' TRIAL

THE VOLTAIC BELT Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above.—N B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty day's trial is allowed.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co.s. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

"Twenty-four years experience," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box 6 for $2.00, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas. Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See advt in another column

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all Druggists.

AYER'S
Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs: none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.

"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me.
HORACE FAIRBROTHER."
Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute.

"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours,
MRS. EMMA GEDNEY."
159 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effectual remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried. A. J. CRANE."
Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. JOSEPH WALDEN."
Byhalia, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles. E. BRAGDON."
Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.

HOT HEADED CHURCHILL.

MAKES A SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST THE PREMIER BUT WITHDRAWS IT.

LONDON, July 12.—In the commons Gladstone in reply to a question by Lord Randolph Churchil insisted upon the accuracy of his statement made at the meeting of liberals yesterday that the government proposed to compromise with the house of the lords of franchise. The proposal was made through Earl Granville, foreign secretary of state, to Earl Cairns but declined Gladstone admitted that the marquis of Salisbury had not used the words, "He declined to discuss the franchise bill with a rope around his neck.' He used the phrase as a concise summary of Salisbury's opinion.

Sir Stafford Northcote stated he had the authority of Lord Salisbury and Cairns to say that their communicatoins in relation to the compromise were private.

Gladstone denied they were of private matter.

Lord Churchill moved that the house adjourn, at the same time charging Gladstone with having used private communications with which to traduce his opponents.

Vernon Harcourt defended Gladstone. Lord Randolph's motion was then withdrawn.

Gladstone repelled the charge that he traduced his opponnents. It was a disgraceful imputation.

Churchill stated that he deeply regretted having spoken as he did. He had done so under the influence of vexation. He promised to co-operate with Gladstone to avoid a conflict with the house of lords in the event of the renewal of the offer of compromise.

Gladstone said he was satisfied with Churchill's explanation. The government, he said was still open to propositions for a compromise.

In the house of lords a scene similar to that in the commons took place between the Marquis of Salisbury and Lord Granville.

A meeting of the cabinet will be held immediately.

NORTH HASTINGS PROMOTION EXAMINATIONS.

The following are the names alphabetically arranged, of the pupils who were successful at the recent examinations for promotion to the fourth class.

The answers of the candidates were examined at Stirling on June 29th, by a committee composed of Miss McDermid and Miss Hawkins and Messrs. Mackintosh, Grimmett, Clark, Wallis, Newton, Moore, Jenkins, Stevenson, Minchin and Walker.

The results of the examinations are very satisfactory. One of the most pleasing features in connection with it is the marked success of pupils from some rural schools, and from remote parts of the Inspectorate.

The highest number of marks obtainable was 710. To pass 50 per cent of the aggregate number of marks and 25 per cent. of the marks assigned to each subject were required.

69 Lowry Nettie, 7 Elzevir.

For admission to High Schools, there were at Madoc, 39 candidates; at Stirling 32; and at Bancroft, 5. The results of these examinations cannot be published for some time.

POTASH.

Iodide of Potassium is one of the strongest of the minerals used in medicine, and has produced much suffering in the world. Taken for a long time in large doses, it dries up the gastric juices, impairs digestion, the stomach refuses food, and the patient declines in health and weight. Persons with Blood or Skin Diseases should be careful how they take those mineral poisons, as in most instances the effect of them is to almost permanently impair the constitution. To take the place of these poisons we offer you a safe, sure' prompt, and permanent relief from your troubles Shaker Blood Syrup is entirely a vegetable preparation, and easy to convince you of its merit.

I have cured permanently Blood Taint in the third generation by the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, after I had most signally failed with Mercury and Potash. Dr. Smith, Bangor, Pa.

A young man requests me to thank you for his cure of Blood Poison by the use of your Specific after all other treatment had failed.
J. E Kennedy, Druggist, Cobourg, Ont.

For years I was afflicted with Dry Tetter of the most obstinate type. Was treated by many of the best physicians; took quantities of mercury, potash, and arsenic, which, instead of curing the Tetter crippled me up with mineral poison and rheumatism. The tetter continued to grow worse, and the itching almost made me crazy. In this condition I was induced to take Shaker Blood Syrup, and the result was as astonishing as Gratifying. In a few months the Tetter was entirely well, the Mercurial Poisoning all out of my system, and I was a well man—and due only to Shaker Blood Syrup. All like sufferers should take it.
C. H. Sargeant, Haverhill, Mass.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Winslow's Soothing Syrup For Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrub for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists through out the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

KILLED BY DISALLOWANCE.

At a recent public meeting at Emerson, Man., the citizens of that place passed a resolution that, in view of the financial condition and prospects, it was impracticable and undesirable to attempt to carry on city government any longer, that the paid officials should be dismissed and the public schools closed. The city is in debt half a million and the population has decreased from three to one thousand, one third of the stores and houses being unoccupied. The city possessed every natural advantage to permit it to grow, but as a correspondent of the place, speaking of the people says:—"We are the victims of a government policy that deprives us of such railway connection with the country to the west and northwest of us as we would, but for that policy, be enabled to secure. Dead and buried, on our tombstone may be engraved 'killed by disallowance.'" "Quietly and uncomplainingly" he adds "for months past our citizens have been leaving their homes in Emerson, not driven out as in war time by the whizzing bullet or the screaming shell, but just as effectually by the policy that the people of the Eastern Provinces through the Dominion Government impose upon us. I think the time has come when you at the East should consider whether or not this policy is for the good of all concerned." The policy of the Government if continued will not only bankrupt Emerson but the Northwest. In conclusion the correspondent adds: "If an independent company would be allowed by the Dominion Government to buy and operate this line to the Pembina Mountain Junction and extend it to Portage la Prairie, a solution of our financial difficulties would be arrived at. Have your monied corporations no influence with the Dominion Government or do they decline to exercise what influence they have! It is said that at the end of two years we can build all the railways we choose to build; why not give us liberty now?"

HE DID IT.

We reproduce the following because we too fell into the error of attributing to the Opposition and the Liberal press the opening of the MileBelt involving as it did a complete change of Dominion Government policy:—

The Globe of June 25th says:—"This week we find the Tory Regina Leader stating that the liberal policy of the Government in opening up the Mile Belt has completely changed the outlook from the railway carriage. Before we looked out on a desert—now we see the snug farm house, the tilled field, evidences of kindly human existence." But of course it gives no credit to the Globe for having compelled the Government to make the change.

"Marry come up indeed! Give credit to the Globe for compelling the Government to make the change! The Globe had nothing to do with it. We can say with authority that the opening up of the Mile Belt—so far as it is due to any external cause—was due to the action which emanated from the office of the Leader. And the "Tory Leader" too! The Globe knows well that the Leader is a thoroughly independent paper."—Regina Leader.

Yes, the paper edited by the erstwhile, Secretary of the Pacific Railway Comission, and the Secretary of the Chinese Commission must feel blamed independent.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

UNITED STATES Secretary Frelinghuysen denies the truth of the report that a reciprocity treaty between Canada and the United States has been negotiated.

Now that the Hon. Mr. Lynch has gone out of the Quebec Government, the Halifax Grit organ has discovered that "he has the reputation of being an honest man." It seems a little strange that it should not have found this out before.—Mail.

Not more strange than our contemporary who discovered Hon. Mr. Young's worth and honesty after he left the Mowat Ministry.

MR. TASSE the well known Quebec journalist thus brilliantly forecasts the future of Canada. Deprecating any reference to the reverses of the French on the Heights of Abraham he goes on: "When shall we see all the people of the Dominion borne forward on the breast of one great thought! Ah when indeed! But whenever it comes, the sectionalists, the apostles of conflicting issues,government by better terms,political warfare conducted on the principle of cross-fishing, those foul birds of night political contractors, the whipper-snapping lying literary yelper for pay, the unclean vermin that crawl out of their secret places the moment a political contest begins will, for the time, disappear, like the wreck and spirits of chaos, and in youth, and beauty, and strength, starts into life—the Canadian nation!

CONTEMPORARY COMMENT.

ALL OWING TO THE TARIFF.

Those who are familiar with the extent of the manufacturing and business depression which now exists in Dundas cannot be deceived by the picture of prosperity drawn by our contemporary, and only wish the statements he makes were true. For party purposes, it may be orthodox him for to deliberately falsify the record, but it will take a very large amount of amount of such trash as he has produced in a vindication of the National Policy to convince the people of this town that the true state of affairs is not just what we stated. And it is now even worse than it was two weeks ago, for the cotton factory, which was prosperous in the highest degree before the inception of the N. P., is now closed up entirely, with very indefinite promises to the operatives as to when it will be open again.—[Dundas True Banner.]

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

WEST WINCHESTER, Ont., July 13.—Mr. Beecher's mills were totally destroyed by fire on Saturday. The loss of property is roughly estimated at $200,000, and no insurance. The mills were splendidly equipped with the most improved machinery, and doing a fine business. Some fifty hands are thrown out of employment.

THE DOUTRE CASE.

LONDON, July 14.—The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council has delivered judgment in favor of Joseph Doutre, in his suit against the Dominion Government. The suit was for $14,000, the costs claimed by Mr. Joseph Doutre, advocate, of Montreal, for his services as counsel for Canada before the Halifax Fishery Commission. The Government resisted payment.

OUR NEW MAJOR-GENERAL.

QUEBEC, July 14.—Gen. Middleton the new commander of militia in Canada, arrived in Quebec yesterday morning per steamship Polynesian. Upon disembarking a salute of thirteen guns was fired from the citadel.

NEW BOOKS.

A key to the Waverley novels (revised edition) is a neat volume compiled by Hy. Grey, author of "A Bird's eye View of English Literature." In these sketches an outline of the plot of each novel is given in concise form, with an index of the principal characters. [E. P. Dutton & Co., New York.]

"The Land Question" by Henry George is issued by the Lovell (New York) Press in cheap and convenient form. Price 10 cents.

LITERARY NOTES

The trustees of the British Museum have just purchased Milton's Bible. It contains, in the poet's handwriting, the dates of the birth of his children.

General Gordon's letters, papers and fragments, which Mr. W. H. Mallock is preparing for the next issue of the Fortnightly Review, are reported to be very interesting.

The memoirs of the late Robert Moffat, the African missionary and traveller, are being prepared by his only surviving son, Mr. John Smith Moffat, now presiding at Graham's Town, South Africa.

Blanche Willis Howard, [author of "Guenn" and "One Summer," has written for St. Nicholas a short story of child life in Germany, which will appear in the August number of the magazine. John Benton will contribute a poem entitled "The Curious House," for which Mrs. Celia Thaxter has prepared an illustration.

THE TWELTH OF JULY.

Monster Demonstration Peacably held in Newry.

THE CELEBRATION ELSEWHERE.

NEWRY, July 12.—A large body of Irishmen belonging to the Orange lodges left London last night for Newry to take part in the great demonstration organized here for to-day. When all the various lodges had been mustered the procession set forth at a brisk pace to the place of meeting to the vigorous strains of Orange airs discoursed by instruments of brass. Among the processionists in full regalia were Lord Arthur Hill, Sir Thomas Bateson, Col. King Harmon, Lord Castlereagh, M.P.'s, Mr. E. W. Vernon, and the Rev. R. R. Kane. The weather is fine and 30,000 persons are present at the meeting. The resolutions adopted by the meeting are particulary strong, and condemn in outspoken terms the policy of the Lord Lieutenant in suppressing the recent Loyalist meeting in Newry and protecting that of of the Nationalists. Several of the Orangemen carry arms plainly displayed. A party of Nationalists this afternoon began stoning a number of Orangemen. The latter retaliated by firing several shots into the crowd of Nationalists. A serious fight was only averted by the prompt interference of the police, who arrested the leaders, and quiet was restored. Only a few persons were wounded in the affair.

CELEBRATIONS ELSEWHERE.

The Orange demonstrations throughout England and Ireland were orderly.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The orangemen celebrated the 12th of July by an excursion to Excelsior park, where they engaged in games of different kinds.

BELFAST, July 13.—During the orange demonstration yesterday an orangemen shot a catholic. The police arrived and he was arrested, but rescued by friends. Fighting ensued, and at last accounts, although the mayor had interposed, the fighting still continued.

WHITEHAVEN, July 13.—The orange procession was yesterday returning to Cleator, when it was attacked by nationalists. Serious fighting took place, during which a telegraph boy was killed. Several persons were injured. Revolvers, swords and stones were used. Windows were smashed. The police dispersed the rioters.

The celebrations in Ottawa, Kingston, Toronto and Hamilton were extensive. Rev. Dr. Wild was the orator of the day in Ottawa.

AROUND ABOUT US.

The members of the Orange District No. 3, North Hastings, held a celebration at White Lake, 9th con. of Huntingdon, Saturday, at which Bro. F. M. Clarke of this city laid the corner stone of a new Methodist Church. About $500 was raised to supplement the building fund of the church.

THE AMERICAN PRESIDENCY.

NEW YORK, July 14.—John Kelly said yesterday: The orgaization to which I belong has taken no official action in regard to Cleveland, and therefore I am not at liberty to to say what it willor will not do.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 14.—Hendricks declines to answer positively whether he will accept or decline the nomination saying it would not be proper for him to discuss the matter until he is formally notified.

ONTARIO'S AGRICULTURE.

Annual Report of the Bureau of Statistics for 1883.

TORONTO, July 14.—The annual report of the Ontario Bureau of Industries is out. The reports on all the field and orchard crops; on live stock, the dairy, field culture, etc., reflect in brief touches and with full statistics, the condition of agriculture during the year. The tables on the weather are full and used with a discrimination which has not been equalled by any similar tables on in agricultural reports elsewhere. The differences in temperature, rainfall, and sunshine in different parts of the Province are very suggestive, and can be put to practical account by the agriculturist. An entirely new feature of the report is the tables and reports on wages and condition of the labor market, gathered from trade unions and other labor organizations. Returns are made from nearly 600 employers, and several interesting facts are brought out in regard to the condition, wages, and hours of the workingmen of several of our cities and towns. The tables show annual earnings averaging for different towns from $422 to $496.53, and savings per head ranging from $9.25 in one town to more than ten times as much in another. The figures are very suggestive. The tables of values and rents are fuller and more satisfactory than in the previous year, farmers being more ready to respond to requests for information. The value of the farms of Ontario is placed at $961,228,595—nearly one billion of dollars. The average price of farm lands in Ontario is $38.37 per acre, exclusive of buildings, which is higher than in Michigan, Indiana, or Illinois, and lower than in Ohio. It is interesting to note that the average value of live stock in the four States named, and in Ontario, is almost equal, with a slight advantage in favor of this Province. The value of the crops of Ontario in 1883 was $26,266,760 short of the value in 1882; nearly three fourths of the shortage being in the Huron, Erie, Georgian Bay, and west midland counties. A very large part of the report is occupied with extremely valuable compilations of statistics in relation to the educational, industrial and commercial expansion of the Province, the value of crops in different years and in different localities, the variations in population &c.

SUNSTROKE.

ITS SYMPTOMS AND ITS TREATMENT—PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES.

It is very important that every one should be able to make out a case of sunstroke when it occurs, and not mistake it for drunkenness or apoplexy.

When a person is "dead drunk" his countenance, breathing and pulse are very like those of a sunstroke case. Besides, the person sunstruck may have taken a glass of beer or a small amount of alcohol in some form just before the attack. His breath would, by this odor, be apt to cause what might be a fatal mistake. But the heat of the body ought to prevent any such error. In drunkenness, pure and simple, the heat of the body is never above ninety-eight and a half degrees, often a little less. In sunstroke it is always increased, sometimes from 106 to 108 degrees, or even more. Confinement in the vitiated air of a cell at the station house, or transportation a mile or more in an open wagon exposed to the direct rays of the sun, may not kill the intoxicated person, but would probably—nay, almost certainly—have that effect on the unfortunate victim of sunstroke.

SYMPTOMS.

In apoplexy, which has a superficial resemblance to one form of sun-stroke, the skin is never hot and excessively dry, but is often cold and moist; the pulse in apoplexy is low, sometimes intermittent, generally very full; in sun stroke it is full and sharp; in apoplexy there is paralysis on one side of the face and body; in sun stroke there is no difference between the two sides; the breathing in apoplexy is slow, snoring, and often interrupted or irregular; in sun stroke it is rapid and noisy, but not snoring; in sun stroke both pupils of the eye are contracted and the eyes look red and congested; in apoplexy one or both pupils are widely dilated, the eyes often turn upward and toward one side; the whites of the eyes are not reddened, at least not early in the attack. These distinctions are so plain that a mistake ought not to be made.

PRECAUTIONS.

Excesses of all kinds should be carefully guarded against. Everything that depresses the nervous system predisposing to sunstroke, excesses and loss of sleep, particularly, should be kept clear of during the heated term. Where the air is close, damp or vitiated by overcrowding or by reason of unhealthful exhalations should be carefully shunned. The skin should be kept clean and in good order by frequent bathing. The clothing should be light of texture and pervious to moisture. It should not hinder the free movements of the chest in breathing or constrict the neck. The food should be mostly of vegetable substances, in order to throw as little extra work upon the kidneys as possible. This is especially worthy of the attention of every one who has Bright's disease of or any disturbance of the functions of the kidneys.

TREATMENT.

The treatment of the attack is sufficiently simple. No time should be lost in removing the sufferer to a cool, shady, airy place. The outside clothing should be removed. When practicable all the coverings of the body should be taken off. The whole surface should be drenched with cool water. Ice is not necessary; and water which is cooler than the body will do. In fact, water at from 60 to 80 degrees Fahrenheit is more speedy in its refrigerating action than if it is ice-cold. Evaporation from the surface should be promoted by fanning or exposure to a natural current of air. If the pulse becomes very feeble, irregular, or more frequent than 120 per minute, stimulants should be given, such as ammonia or alchol, if the patient can swallow or either, coffee or brandy by injection under the skin. If convulsions occur early they are not so dangerous as when they come on after several hours, when they denote impending death. They may be controlled by giving chlorform carefully by inhalation. Of course ether, chloroform, or other powerful remedies should be given by or under the direction of a competent physician. The treatment of the after effects of sunstroke may require removal to a more temperate climate or the application of remedies which should be intrusted to those who have made a study of such matters.

ALWAYS PROMPT IN ACTION.

This is just what every sufferer wants—prompt action, and rapid relief from pain. The grandest discovery of the age, the great pain cure, it is Polson's NERVILINE—prompt, powerful, pleasant to the taste, and yet so pure that it may be given to the youngest infant. Try a 10 cent sample bottle, which you can purchase at any drug store. Nerviline the great, sure, and prompt pain cure. The large bottles are only 25 cents.

Every one speaks highly of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters as a Stomach Liver and Kidney Medicine. The best family medicine we ever used,' say they all. Try a bottle this Spring as a blood purifier.

To most children the bare suggestion of a dose of castor oil is nauseating. Why not, then, when phisic is necessary for the little ones, use Ayer's Cathartic Pills? They combine every essential and valuable principle of a cathartic medicine, and being sugar-coated are easily taken.

VISIT TO BELLEVILLE

Fifty Thousand Dollars will be Given Away.

THE SPIROMETER GIVEN FREE.

The Above Offer Holds Good for this Visit Only.

TO THE MEDICAL PROFESSION AND SUFFERERS FROM CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, WEAK LUNGS AND CONSUMPTION.

My motive is not one of money only, but for science and the good of suffering humanity. To convince the public and prove to the sceptical that the Spirometer is the best instrument ever invented for the treatment of diseases of the air passages, and that it is all I have ever claimed for it, anyone suffering from the above named diseases who call at the Dafoe House, Monday or Tuesday, July the 14th or 15th, 1884, and consult the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, will be given a spirometer free the medicines alone to be paid for. I do this to show the confidence I have in the treatment, and to convince the medical profession and others who are still sceptical (notwithstanding the thousands of people who have been cured by it) that the Spirometer I have invented and the medicines and treatment prescribed by the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute are curing and will cure a larger percentage of these diseases than any other treatment in the world.

If impossible to call upon the surgeons during their visit to your city, write for International News and List of Questions.

LABOR V. CAPITAL.

THE PRINTERS STRIKE CONTINUES AT TORONTO.

Toronto, July 14.—The Mail had twenty persons setting type last night. Four arrived from outside the city yesterday morning. They claimed that they would get out a fair paper this morning. Twelve of the Globe printers had deserted the union and returned to work up to last night. That paper is still crippled, but it claims to be out of the clutches of the strikers. Toronto typographical union held a special meeting Saturday night and discussed the situation. About seventy-five 'men were reported out on strike. It was decided to assess all members of the union who are at work 15 per cent. of their wages to sustain the strikers.

Which is old and new,
Wings away through the gray and blu
Of wintry skies between us two.

Both new and old
Is this love I fold
Deep and safe away from the cold.
Not old, you say,
Dear heart, each day,
Though skies be blue, though skies be gray,
Older it grows, yet new alway.

To-Day's Probabilities.

Fresh westerly to northwesterly winds, fair weather; not much change in temperature.

It removes wrinkles and softens the skin. The regular use of Murray & Lanman's Flor da Water at the toilet tends to prevent and remove wrinkles, the softness of the skin produced by its taking away the natural inclination of the cuticle to form into ridges and furrows.

OUTRAGE IN MAYO

An Obnoxious Resident has His House Pulled Down.

VISITED BY A COMMITTEE

From Our Own Correspondent.

Hermon, North Hastings, July 14.—When men in the country become incensed at the conduct of a neighbor they generally contrive some means of marking their disapprobation, lawful or unlawful. In this vicinity a resident, Mr. Dillon, has, it would appear, rendered himself objectionable to those living in the neighborhood in several ways and the neighbors determined to punish him. They accordingly banded together, and, the other night proceeded to Dillon's place, tore the house completely down, leaving no semblance of a habitation. Then, lest Dillon should have some poor place in which to lay his head the "committee" set fire to an adjoining shanty which consumed it, thus preventing the unfortunate fellow from finding shelter in it. The outrage was a calmly premeditated one and should be visited upon those who were base enough to participate in it. I will probably send you a further report with reference to it.

The management of the Oka Lacrosse Club announce that the members of the team will immediately commence systematic practice with a view of taking the cake in all future contests. Hereafter the regular practice of the club will be on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, when every member of the club, and especially the team, will be required to attend. At these practices the team will play against the other members of the club, together with the 1st 12 of the Young Okar. These regular practices will in no way affect practice on the other night, but attendance on the three regular practice nights will be compulsory. If this program is followed out faithfully, the club will in a short time be able to cope successfully with Peterboro' or Kingston. The boys will do their part and all that is wanting is the hearty support of the citizens and lovers of our national game to make the club first-class in every respect. Thursday's match showed that the material is there for a first-class lacrosse team and everyone would like to see it developed.

A BIG BLAZE.

Cooper's Mill Burned by an Incendiary.

THE DAFOE HOUSE THREATENED.

Two incendiary fires occurred early Sunday morning, one of which resulted in the destruction of Alderman Cooper's grist mill on the west side of the river. The first attempt was discovered by John Hinchey, porter at the Dafoe House, between twelve and one o'clock. As he was returning home by way of Bridge Street, he noticed a light in the frame outbuildings back of the Bridge Street Church, and hastening to the spot found that an attempt had been made to fire the shed with a view probably of burning the Dafoe House. The blaze which had only been burning for a short time was extinguished with a few pails of water. The pile of shavings on the floor was saturated with coal oil showing that the fire did not occur accidentally.

COOPER'S MILL BURNED.

Shortly after Ald Reuben B. Cooper's grist mill on the western bank of the river was discovered to be on fire and the alarm was promptly given. Mr. Cooper, who lives on the opposite side of the road was awakened, and he reached the fire in time to save his books. The flames were then confined to the office, where it originated, and in no other part of the mill was there then any sign of fire. The office being attached to the main building the flames soon ran up the side of the huge frame structure and in a short time had full control. In the meantime several bags of flour and a few other articles had been removed. No. 2 steamer was soon on hand and if it had been able to have got water at once it is probable the mill would have been saved. But on account of the low water and the saw dust in the bed of the mill-race prevented the steamers from working until the end of the suction hose was placed on a stone bottom. After this was done the engine worked splendidly and forced two powerful streams on the burning building, but it was too late to save the mill entirely. When No. 1 steamer reached the scene of the conflagration a few minutes later, Engineer Cunningham could not get water at all, and had to return to Front street by which route he reached the island in the river, and a line of hose was taken across to the fire. The firemen worked well with plenty of water, often risking their own lives by venturing into the burning building too far, with heavy machinery dangling over their heads, in their attempt to save as much of the mill and machinery as possible. There was a good breeze blowing at the time which fanned the flames into one solid mass of fire, oftentimes overhanging the river some distance, presenting a very pretty sight. It was nearly an hour before the fire-fighters had the flames under control, when by way of diversity they turned the stream on each other and went home thoroughly drenched.

THE SUCTION WAS BAD

A HEAVY LOSER.

Mr. Cooper suffers a terrible loss by the fire, which, in a very short time destroyed nearly all the earnings of a lifetime. If this was the object of the villian who fired the mill it can only be said he succeeded. The mill and contents were only insured for $1,500 in the Western, Mr. Cooper having only a short time previous dropped a risk for $5,000, thinking it unnecessary to carry such a policy on property so isolated as this. He bought the mill in 1879 from the Merchants Bank with his house and lot for $9,000 and up to the present time had expended $3,000 in improvements. A few weeks ago he began remodelling the mill and supplying new machinery, but fortunately part of this had not yet arrived. He estimates his loss at $8,000. There were 150 bushels of wheat burned, 40 bushels of oats and about 20 bags of flour. Part of the machinery was saved, including the smut machine, the duster, all the stones and some other [illegible].

IT WAS SULPHURIC ACID,

But Barney Conway Thought it Was Champagne.

A painful case of accidental poisoning occurred in the freight shed at the Grand Trunk depot between five and six o'clock Saturday evening. Barney Conway, carter was present when the men in the shed were moving a demijohn of sulphuric acid. The vessel broke spilling the liquid over the floor, and Barney thinking it contained champagne, hurriedly scooped up a quantity of it with his hands and drank it. He soon discovered his mistake, however, but it was too late. Medical aid was quickly procured. The acid burnt his hands, mouth and throat in a terrible manner, from the effects of which he will not recover for several days. The mode of drinking was so crude that one couldn't drink much in that way. Had it been otherwise Conway would probably have taken enough to deprive him of life.

SHOT AT A BEAR,

And Instantly Killed John Smith Instead.

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY IN NORTH HASTINGS.

From our own Correspondent.

Boulter, North Hastings, July 14—On the morning of the 9th a young man named John Smith, who had shot a deer at Sharlow Lake the night before, was engaged in making a raft to bring it home, when George Adams, who was hunting in the vicinity, seeing Smith's black cap through the bushes and mistaking it for the head of a bear fired, killing him instantly. As there was no doubt as to the accidental nature of the occurrence an inquest was not deemed necessary and he was buried on the 10th at Carlow. It is to be hoped, however, that this will be a lesson to amateur hunters, who are too apt to shoot without ascertaining definitely what they are firing at.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Invalids distracted by indigestion and discouraged in their search for a remedy should make a trial of this never-failing medicine. A lady long a martyr to dyspeptic tortures, writes that Holloway's Pills made her feel as if a burden had been taken off her. Her spirits formerly low, have greatly improved; her capricious appetite has given place to that of healthy hunger; her dull, sick headache has departed, and gradually so marvellous a change has been effected that she is altogether a new creature, and again fit for her duties. These pills may be administered with safety to the most delicate. They never act harshly, nor do they ever induce weakness; they rightly direct deranged, and control excessive action.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In in common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally and the Ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceeding efficacious. When influenza is epidemic this treatment is the easiest, safest, and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free, without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of saving suffering when any one is afflicted with cold, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints, by which so many persons are seriously and permanently afflicted in most countries.

AFTER USING.

WARREN LELAND,

whom everybody knows as the successful manager of the

Largest Hotel Enterprises

of America, says that while a passenger from New York on board a ship going around Cape Horn, in the early days of emigration to California, he learned that one of the officers of the vessel had cured himself, during the voyage, of an obstinate disease by the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Since then Mr. LELAND has recommended AYER'S SARSAPARILLA in many similar cases, and he has never yet heard of its failure to effect a radical cure.

Some years ago one of Mr. LELAND's farm laborers bruised his leg. Owing to the bad state of his blood, an ugly scrofulous swelling or lump appeared on the injured limb. Horrible itching of the skin, with burning and darting pains through the lump, made life almost intolerable. The leg became enormously enlarged, and running ulcers formed, discharging great quantities of extremely offensive matter. No treatment was of any avail until the man, by Mr. LELAND's direction, was supplied with AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, which allayed the pain and irritation, healed the sores, removed the swelling, and completely restored the limb to use.

Mr. LELAND has personally used

for Rheumatism, with entire success; and, after careful observation, declares that, in his belief, there is no medicine in the world equal to it for the cure of Liver Disorders, Gout, the effects of high living, Salt Rheum, Sores, Eruptions, and all the various forms of blood diseases.

We have Mr. LELAND's permission to invite all who may desire further evidence in regard to the extraordinary curative powers of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to see him personally either at his mammoth Ocean Hotel, Long Branch, or at the popular Leland Hotel, Broadway, 27th and 28th Streets, New York. Mr. LELAND's extensive knowledge of the good done by this unequalled eradicator of blood poisons enables him to give inquirers much valuable information.

LOVE'S LOTTERY

OR,

THE RIVAL SISTERS.

Her thrilling passionate tones startled, impressed him despite his eager haste.

For the moment he forgot it.

Turning, he looked fixedly into the pretty face, pearl powdered and rouged, gazing fervently into his

'Danger to Miss Beauchamp!' he ejaculated; 'Then—pshaw! if there were how could you—separated as are the poles—know it?'

'How little it signifies, if I can [illegible] that I do,' answered the actress, her heart pierced to the core by those stinging words. 'Listen; you yourself shall judge if I am correct.'

'I tell you,' he cried, almost angrily, 'I cannot, will not wait now.'

'Not to hear that you have a rival, a dangerous a cruel one.'

'A rival!' he repeated, then burst into a laugh.

'A rival,' went on Nellie, gravely, impressively. 'A rival of whom she is as ignorant as yourself.'

'His name?' interrogated Eustace Belmore, incredulously.

The actress paused.

Then in a low, concentrated tone said—'Stuart Loring!'

'Great Heaven!'

Yes she had aroused his interest at last.

'Stuart Loring,' she repeated with slow emphasis.

'That man again,' ejaculated Eustace Belmore, rather to himself than to his companion. Then louder—'How do you know this?'

'I cannot tell you. The source is a secret one, which, were I to reveal, would bring trouble to another. All I desire is to acquaint you with what I know. I leave you to decide whether I am right or wrong.'

'And what do you know?' he asked.

'That Stuart Loring, the fashionable mystery, who because he is a mystery has the entree to any drawing-room is a murderer, a thief, a forger, everything bad you please, who permitted his father to suffer an ignominious death for a crime for which his son, was guilty!'

'A murderer!' cried Eustace. 'A—a——'

'A villain,' proceeded the actress, decidedly. 'A man who follows but one governing rule in his life, the satisfying his own will, his every whim In America,' went on Nellie, her utterance increasing in rapidity, 'he saw Pauline Beauchamp. A sensualist, her beauty won him; he resolved to wed her. He followed her to England, and now tracks her way everywhere. Had you seen him as I did, in the park the other day, you would have needed no stronger confirmation of my words.'

'This may be,' yet persisted Eustace Belmore, 'still how could this man ever effect his desires without Miss Pauline Beauchamp's consent?'

'Heaven knows; but by some subtle, awful, power in this strange being,' the actress shuddered involuntarily, 'he appears to exert an influence over all whom he meets.'

Eustace Belmore started.

'What,' he ejaculated instinctively, 'have you felt this?'

'Yes; even I—I confess he has exerted it over me. Nevertheless, out of his presence I cast it off. Then he only arouses in my breast indignation, revenge; and that is my purpose, that is why—though contempt and humiliation are my reward—I am here.'

He stood paralysed.

Could he doubt the actress now?

Impossible.

Six words escaped him like a prayer of thanksgiving.

'Thank God she has escaped him.'

'Escaped him!' cried Nellie. 'Is she then dead? For, until she is your wife, that is the only chance she has to escape such a man as Stuart Loring.'

'You overrate his power,' said her companion, inwardly, however, considerably uneasy.

Time will show,' was the consise rejoiner; 'but how has she escaped in your idea?'

'She is about quitting London. A telegram has summoned the Misses Beauchamps back to America.'

Gracious Heaven! she has not gone?' shrieked the actress, grasping his arm.

'She starts this evening,' replied Eustace.

'Then she is lost,' ejaculated Nellie clasping her hands. 'Yes Eustace Belmore, it is that I would have told you, that I have come to tell you now. By the same source I learned of this man's antecedents, I learned that he had planned to get this young lady back to America, where his power is augmented. It is all a trap. If she goes he follows, and—I repeat—she is lost.'

A deadly sickness swept over Eustace Belmore's brain.

A veil appeared lifted from his eyes.

Like a flash, he began to see a reason for his assault.

It had been a trap, a plot.

This mysterious man had guessed his intent and he had been nearly murdered that Pauline might go unprotected.

Then his blood leaping hot through his veins, he remembered with horror the precious moments he was loosing.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

KNOW THYSELF.

Great Medical Work on Manhood

Exhausted Vitality, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Errors of Youth, and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses. A book for every man, young, middle aged, and old. It contains 125 prescriptions for all acute and chronic diseases, each of which is invaluable. So found by the Author, whose experience for 23 years is such as probably never fell to the lot of any physician. 300 p. bound in beautiful French muslin, embossed covers, full gilt, guarranteed to be a finer work in every sense—mechanical, literary and professional—than any other work sold in this country for $2 50, or the money will be refunded in every instance. Price only $1 by mail postpaid. Illustrative sample 6 cents. Send now. Gold medal awarded the author by the National Medical Association, to the officers of which he refers.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE should be read by the young for instruction and the afflicted for relief. It will benefit all.—London Lancet.

There is no member of society to whom THE SCIENCE OF LIFE will not be useful, whether youth, parent, guardian, instructor, or clergyman.—Argonaut.

Address the Peabody Medical Institute, or Dr. W. H. Parker, No. 4 Bulfinch-street, Boston, Mass., who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Chronic and obstinate diseases that have baffled the skill of all other physicians a specialty. Such treated successfully without an instance of failure. Mention this paper.

IMPORTANT TO RUPTURED PERSONS

The Excelsior Rupture Treatment was introduced to the American people several years ago in such a manner as to completely secure the confidence of the whole nation. The mode of introduction was by furnishing the remedy to those afflicted with Hernia in any of its various forms and collecting no pay until a permanent cure was effected. In this way the treatment gained world wide reputation on its own merits, never failing to cure any reducible Hernia. The Company has at the solicitation of thousands placed the remedy on sale by all druggists both wholesale and retail, in the United States, Canada and England In this way bringing it within the reach of all classes at a trifling cost compared with the benefit which are derived from the use of the treatment. Ask your druggist for a free book on rupture or send 6 cts. for one to the Excelsior Rupture Cure M'f'g Co., Ogdensburg, N. Y.

SCIENCE.

To increase the weight of the body invigorate the system, revitalize the exhausted and depressed, is the true object sought by medical science. The digestive organs must be in a healthy condition if we wish to secure this desired result, and no remedy yet discovered has ever proved so effectual in accomplishing this as FLAX-SEED EMULSION COMP. It contains Phosphorus to build up the nervous system and all the fat producing properties of Flax-seed to enrich the blood and supply the animal economy with the elements for reconstruction.

ROBLIN HOUSE,

Late Douglas House.

As the late proprietor of the Douglas House has removed to other premises and called it the New Douglas House, I beg to notify the public that I have reopened the Douglas House myself, under the name of the "ROBLIN HOUSE." As the house has always had the name of a First-Class Hotel, I shall spare no pains to make it as popular as it ever was. The above is pleasantly situated in the central part of the city, and is a very desirable place for Families and the Public generally. It has been thoroughly renovated and furnished with new furniture. A cordial invitation is given to all old patrons of the Douglas House, and all new ones who will favor me with a call.

Vital Questions.!

Ask the most eminent physician

Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?

And they will tell you unhesitatingly "Some form of Hope! ! !"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians: "What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, debetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—

"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu !"

Ask the same physicians

"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.," and they will tell you:

Mandrake! or Dandelion !"

Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable.

And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is

Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

CHAPTER II.

"Patients

'Almost dead or nearly dying"

For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.

Women have gone nearly crazy ! ! ! !

From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.

People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic, or suffering from scrofula.

Erysipelas!

"Saltrheum, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact, almost all diseases frail"

Nature is heir to

Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.

None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile poisonous stuff with 'Hop' or 'Hops' in their name.

ON THIRTY DAYS' TRIAL.

The VOLTAIC BELT Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above,—N B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty day's trial is allowed.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co's. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

"Twenty-four years experience," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the Generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas. Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See adv't in another column

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all Druggists.

WARREN LELAND,

whom everybody knows as the successful manager of the

Largest Hotel Enterprises

of America, says that while a passenger from New York on board a ship going around Cape Horn, in the early days of emigration to California, he learned that one of the officers of the vessel had cured himself, during the voyage, of an obstinate disease by the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Since then Mr. LELAND has recommended AYER'S SARSAPARILLA in many similar cases, and he has never yet heard of its failure to effect a radical cure.

Some years ago one of Mr. LELAND's farm laborers bruised his leg. Owing to the bad state of his blood, an ugly scrofulous swelling or lump appeared on the injured limb. Horrible itching of the skin, with burning and darting pains through the lump, made life almost intolerable. The leg became enormously enlarged, and running ulcers formed, discharging great quantities of extremely offensive matter. No treatment was of any avail until the man, by Mr. LELAND's direction, was supplied with AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, which allayed the pain and irritation, healed the sores, removed the swelling, and completely restored the limb to use.

Mr. LELAND has personally used

for Rheumatism, with entire success; and, after careful observation, declares that, in his belief, there is no medicine in the world equal to it for the cure of Liver Disorders, Gout, the effects of high living, Salt Rheum, Sores, Eruptions, and all the various forms of blood diseases.

We have Mr. LELAND's permission to invite all who may desire further evidence in regard to the extraordinary curative powers of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to see him personally either at his mammoth Ocean Hotel, Long Branch, or at the popular Leland Hotel, Broadway, 27th and 28th Streets, New York.

Mr. LELAND's extensive knowledge of the good done by this unequalled eradicator of blood poisons enables him to give inquirers much valuable information.

IN THE SUNLIGHT.

A bare white arm in the sunshine,
A gesture that came and went,
And heliotropes set in the window,
That burdened the air with scent.

A fair, fresh face in the sunlight,
Just under the cage of the bird,
And a voice that was full of music,
The sweetest that ever was heard.

Her hand, as she lovingly gestured,
Was whiter than driven snow,
And shone in the sun as she waved it,
While gladly I watched from below.

"Come up to me! Come, O my darling!"
Again she entreated, "Come up!"
I picked up the bundle of sweetness,
And brought her that terrier pup.

TORONTO'S LITERARY TASTE.

During the month of June, 15,634 books were circulated from the public library, nearly 11,000, or over two-thirds of the total number, were works of fiction, clearly showing that fiction is the favorite fabric with the reading public, even in an intelligent city like Toronto. It is interesting to note the proportion of other classes of books. General literature comes next at 541, geography and topography 417, biography 382, periodicals 332, reference books 352, history 315, arts 176, natural science and mathematics 198, political, social and medical science 146, theology 146, poetry and drama 109, etc. Three-fourths of the lady patrons select works of fiction.

TRYING THE WHIRLPOOL.

All fools die hard. Webb's fate at Niagara Falls has stirred up an ambitious imitator. Marquis Bibbero, the English natator, will soon make an attempt to swim the rapids. Bibbero intends to make several attempts before entrusting himself to the whirlpool. First, he will send an oblong, coffin shaped box, air-tight, and covered with wax the consistency of flesh. If this wax is torn when the box is recovered, he will desist. If the wax is intact the professor will make soundings for depth of water. The final experiment will be an India-rubber dummy with inflated bladders for lungs. Should these bladders burst the danger of asphyxia will be apparent. If the result of these preliminaries are satisfactory Bibbero will do the next act himself.

THE QUEEN AT CHURCH.

The Queen attended service in Crathie Church on Sunday week for the first time since October, 1882. The inhabitants were well pleased to see the Balmoral gallery again occupied, as it was feared that Her Majesty had given up her attendance at "public worship." During the tourist season there was a great rush from Ballater and Braemer on 'Sabbath' when the Court is at Balmoral, as the church is recognized as being the only place at which a really good look at the royal party can be obtained; and when the Queen is present there is the additional attraction of a sermon from a crack preacher, who not only preaches his best, but makes his discourse as short as compatable with Scottish ideas of propriety.—London World.

A CAUTIOUS PURCHASER.

'I was recommended here by a friend,' said a seedy-looking man, as he entered a drug store, 'who told me that you did a very large business, and that any purchase I might want to make could be effected on reasonable terms.'

'Yes, sir; certainly, sir. We have built up a very large trade by faithful attention to business, and by honest efforts to please our numerous customers.'

'Such a line of policy, I take it,' said the seedy-looking man gazing at the proprietor with an air of great confidence. 'Contains the essential elements of commercial success. A conscientous consideration for for the wants of one's customers, while at the same time a proper observance of what is due one's self, will win in the long run. I am a professional man myself, but I take considerable pride in stating that I am nevertheless a practical man possessed of practical ideas.'

'Undoubtedly, sir, undoubtedly,' responded the druggist rubbing his hands expectedly; and now what can I do for you sir.'

'You may give me a two-cent postage stamp if you please.

It removes wrinkles and softens the skin. The regular use of MURRAY & LANMAN'S FLORIDA WATER at the toilet tends to prevent and remove wrinkles, the softness of the skin produced by its taking away the natural inclination of the cuticle to form into ridges and furrows.

IN IRRITABILITY, RESTLESSNESS want of sleep, invalids will profit by contrasting the physiological nutritive method of furnishing the nervous system elements of repair as in Dr. Wheeler's Elixir of Phosphates and Calisya, with the practice of exhausting stimulants and anodynes to spur up the tired nerves. The nutritive method is restorative and permanent, while stimulants and anodynes are temporary in effect, contribute nothing to build up, and are mischievous in inducing a train of habits that may wreck the general health.

SAVED FROM A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Up to May I had spent at least five hundred dollars in treatment by many of the best medical men without benefit. My mouth became badly ulcerated, sores breaking out on my neck and legs. I also suffered excruciatingly with Rheumatism, grew very despondent, and my best friends advised me that the icy hand of death was fast approaching. I caught at Shaker Blood Syrup like drowning man catches at a straw. After taking two bottles I could feel the change for the better. The sores began to discharge freely, and Rheumatism to abate. When I had taken six bottles every sore had healed and my skin began to assume a natural appearance. I persisted until I had taken twelve, and there is not a symptom of the disease remaining, and I feel as well as I ever did. I have gained twenty-one pounds in flesh, and my friends wonder at my improved condition. I have recommended it to many, and in every instance with complete success. I believe that Shaker Blood Syrup has saved me from a horrible death.

T. S. Cannon, South Boston Mass.

In 1878 I was the victim of terrible Blood Poison, and after being treated by three physicians was confined to my bed, not able to raise my hand to my head, spiting up clots of blood and reduced in weight from one hundred and eighty-five to one hundred and thirty pounds. I then began the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, and in less than three months I was entirely well, weighing one hundred and ninety-six pounds, and have never had a symptom of the disease since. If it had not been for Shaker Syrup I believe I would have been in my grave.

THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

No nomination ever pleased everybody, but there has probably been no Democratic presidential nomination which has given more satisfaction to the party at large than that of Grover Cleveland. There is not wanting in his own State members of his own party who denounce him as an unfit man, but it is conceded that the party never had a candidate against whose personal character so little could be truly said. Unfortunately in the United States a change of Administration means a transfer of the spoils of office, and in these contests the fitness of the candidate is less an element of strength than party equipment and organization. Those in offices will make a desperate fight to retain them, and those waiting for offices will fight as desperately to get them. A President, therefore, when elected, owes everything to his party and is expected to acknowlege it. If an ambitious man he will spend the entire four years intriguing for a second term by pandering to the worst elements in the political sphere. Cleveland's friends have started out well by refusing to be controlled by Tammany, whose opposition to the Governor is easily explained. John Kelly's first lieutenot is Senator Grady, of New York. When Grady was running for the State Senate, and while Boss Kelly was professing to be a friend to Cleveland, the last named wrote to Kelly a private note suggesting that the Tammany chief should oppose Grady, as his dishonesty and unscrupulousness as a politician were certain to injure the Democratic cause. Kelly never replied to his letter, but gave it to the newspapers, and cast in his lot with Grady, who secured his election, and has ever since had it in for the Governor. The significance of Kelly's opposition is not small as the Boss controls probably 30,000 votes. The subserviency of the Democrats to Tammany has been the bane of the party in the past, and if recent proceedings alienate Kelly the party will, perhaps, not be the loser.

As many think the platform as important as the candidate it is important to note that the tariff plank of the platform is substantially for a tariff for revenue only, with the demand that no more shall be collected than is necessary for the proper administration of government. While one would like to see a more pronounced reference to the evils of the protective system than is contained in the document adopted by the Convention it is nevertheless sufficiently antagonistic to the existing tariff to make it a prime issue in the struggle, provided it is not burked. The Democrats are sanguine of winning and have the independent support of such prominent Republicans as Geo. Wm. Curtis, and Carl Schurtz. The opinion that the Republicans have been in office too long and have become very corrupt will do much to defeat Blaine.

THE TARIFF.

The Hamilton Spectator is devoured by anxiety to know what will be the policy of the Grits when they get into office. We will tell you if you promise to keep it to yourself? The acts of the Grits will be directly the reverse of all the bad acts of the present Government and these are too numerous to mention.—Belleville Ontario.

Thanks, many thanks. And now, perhaps, our obliging contemporary will be good enough to tell us if the protective tariff is one of the numerous "bad acts" of the present Government. It is anxiety on this particular point that is consuming us.—Hamilton Spectator.

Unhesitatingly yes. And while no administration could suddenly reverse the tariff policy of the country it is quite certain that the tariff under a Liberal Ministry would undergo a decided modification and such a revision as would benefit not only the consumer but the producer. We will tell our contemporary what we would like to see done to the conglomerate piece of injustice called the Tilley tariff. We would like to see the luxuries bear the highest tax and the necessities the lowest. We would wish to have the raw material of manufacturers admitted free, including coal. We should so readjust the tariff as to bring the heaviest burdens on the rich and the lightest on the poor. It should be a tariff for revenue, not pandering to the protectionist heresy in any way. Nevertheless it would be a tariff by which our indigenous industries would naturally be protected; exotic industries cost more than they are worth, and the public money should not be taken and applied to sustain their transient existence.

These are a few of the principles whose application would reverse much that is bad in the tariff policy. We are not now classifying our industries, nor pointing out the gross evils and mistakes of the tariff. But if our esteemed contemporary imagines that the Liberal party is afraid of attacking the Tilley tariff it never made a greater mistake. We must have a tariff of some kind; the practical question is what kind of a tariff? We say that the Tilley tariff contains many bad features to be eliminated with advantage to the country, and lacks many of the features of a good tariff which, were they added, would conduce to a healthier and more permanent trade.

CONTEMPORARY COMMENT.

A FACT RECOGNISED.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The tugs Sir John and Edward Blake lay side by side one night last week.—Welland Tribune. Blake will have the old man in tow before long.

Our esteemed local contemporary explains why the Londonderry Steel Works, Toronto Bolt Works, St. Croix Cotton Works, Montreal Silk Works, and other industries have failed and closed up. It makes it clear that the fault is not with the tariff or the protective system. Perhaps our contemporary will also tell us what caused the decline of the Belleville Axe Works, which paraded the N. P. as the cause of its prosperity in 1882?

At the recent quarterly meeting of the Montreal Board of Trade the President referred to the defectiveness of the law regarding the equitable distribution of insolvents' estates, and said that the council had received letters from the chambers of commerce of London and Glasgow representing the urgent necessity that existed for such amendments or new legislation as would prevent undue and fradulent preference in dealing with bankrupt estates, and declaring that in present circumstances foreign creditors suffer grievous wrong, while the credit of Canada was injured. Mr. Thos. White, M. P., expressed the opinion that the Dominion Government would not be found willing to intoduce any legislation bearing on the subject such was the hostility of the rural constituencies!

THE NEW COMMANDER.

Major General Middleton Arrives at the Capital.

SKETCH OF HIS MILITARY CAREER.

(Special to the Ontario)

Ottawa, July 15.—Major General Middleton, the new commander-in-chief of the Canadian militia, arrived in the city last evening. The General is a rather short and stoutly built a gentleman, with a heavy white moustache and looks a thorough soldier. His title of Major General is new, having been bestowed since his appointment.

Col. Fred Middleton, C. B. appointed in the place of Gen Luard, is an officer who has seen much service in the field, besides having filled an important position on the staff of the Royal Military College, at Sandhurst. The subjoined extract from the Army and Navy Gazette of 28th May, 1881, bears testimony to the character of the man selected by the Government for the difficult post he is about to fill:—"We are glad to find that in the list of birthday honors occurs the name of Col. Fred. Middleton, well-known as a most efficient officer as well as popular commandant of the Royal Military College, Sandhurst, as C.B. Col. Middleton has a record of service of which any one might be proud. His field services are as follows;—Operations in New Zealand, 1846-7 (mentioned in despatches and medal); served as a volunteer in the the Sonthall rebellion in in India, 1855, (received thanks of the Indian Government); Indian mutiny, 1857-8, as orderly officer at Sultanpore, and subsequent appears on the advance to Lucknow, by the force under General Franks (three times mentioned in despatches); as aide-de-camp at seige and capture of Lucknow (mentioned in despatches) received brevet of major; as deputy judge advocate and aide-de-camp at relief of Azimghur and Jagdispore (mentioned in despatches) and as brigade-major of the Soroon field force at the taking of forts Tirhal and Dehayon, and the surrender of Amothie.

THE CHEESE TRADE.

(N. Y. Bulletin.)

Cheese has made quite a decided reaction during the week, and the selling interest at last secures a strong advantage for the time being. There was a great deal of hesitation at the outset, and not a few looking for a still further shrinkage on cost, but after the test of Monday's and Tuesday's market the tendency of affairs became more pronounced, and there has since been a steady addition of cost of all really useful lots offering. Comparatively moderate arrivals and fine weather throughout as natural factors have helped the market, but the greatest stimulant was the sharpness of the demand. Some of the trade appear to think that buyers, by over anxiety in bidding, have paid ½c more than was really necessary, but it is a fact that even at the extreme rates named all wants were not satisfied, and special factories have been engaged in the country against next week's shipment at prices in proportion to those ruling here. Indeed, there has really been very little chance to negotiate on perfect quality cheese, as while others were hesitating one or two shippers bought up all the country offering, and thus virtually removed the stock until bids for it ranged high enough to make the sale here appear more profitable than forwarding. The buyers willing to submit were few, but, as a large proportion of their demand was to meet contracts maturing abroad during the present month, the call took decided form. In the absence of superiative quality, the general run of buyers were compelled to take what they could find, and shutting their eyes to any but the glaring faults, they have paid ¼@½c, and in some cases equal to about 1c per lb over rates of last week, and pretty well cleaned up all cheese likely to prove in any way useful. Common and inferior goods have not been in favor and remain at low value. At the close the feeling is very firm, with supplies closely held up and a few factories are already under engagement for next week. While the gain in tone as above noted is naturally more or less cheering, it is only a small portion of at the trade who express themselves as convinced of the stability of the improvement. There has been something of a speculative strain in the support, the advance has been a pretty sharp one at a rather bad season of the year, and private advices from some of the most trustworthy corresrondents abroad are even down to this evening retaining a very cautionary form and insisting that there is no safety in investment at ruling rates. Receipts on saturday were 20,493 pkgs. The arrivals, as they came to hand were found to be under engagements in the great majority of cases, and the most willing buyers had no opportunity to negotiate except on a few odd parcels, and over these the competition was sharp enough to bring out bids at 9¼@9½c and even a fraction more is said to have been made for specials, while aproximating qualities have participated in the improved tone, and no receiver of anything at all useful has any thing to carry over.

FROM THE MARATIME PROVINCES

Comes a host of testimonials as to the Magic Corn and Wart cure—Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. We select from the list of names before us that of Henry Taylor, Esq., Halifax, probably the most widely known druggist in the lower provinces. Mr Taylor has no hesitation in saying "that in an experience of twenty years he has handled nothing that has given the universal satisfaction that Putnam's Corn Extractor invariably does." It never fails, it is painless, prompt and produces no discomfort. Beware of imitations and substitutes. Polson & Co., Kingston, props.

LAYING A CORNER STONE.

Orange Gathering at the Lodge-Room Appointment Church.

THE MINISTER OF CUSTOMS PRESENT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Tweed, July 14.—The great gathering of orangemen on the 11th concession of Hungerford, on the 12th had all the elements and conditions of a grand demonstration had the weather proved favorable. The bretbren here have united with the Methodist Church, at what is known as the Lodge Room Appointment on the Tweed circuit, to put up a handsome edifice that shall answer the double purpose of a church and a lodge room—the orangemen to occupy the basement and the congregation the upper storey. The corner stone was laid on Saturday by the Hon. Mackenie Bowell, M. P., assisted by other prominent members of the Order. As might be supposed there was a large gathering—not only orangemen, who would honor the day, but also of Methodists interested in the erection of their beautiful church. The two parties combined had generously provided tables, spread in Mr. Elliott's grove, for fifteen hundred people, but about eleven o'clock, just as the first tables were about to be served, the clouds which had been lowering and threatening all morning, burst in teeming and abundant rain. Notwithstanding the ladies and committee generally bravely stood to their post, and some hundreds partook of the dinner, while hundreds had to leave for the adjoining villages of Tweed and Thomasburg, for shelter and refreshment. Shortly after noon, however, the weather cleared, and about two o'clock a large assemblage gathered to witness the ceremony of laying the corner stone. The Minister of Customs was accompanied to the stand by Mr. Wm. White, of Tweed, Grand Director of Ceremonies, Rev. J. C. Ash, of Shannonville, P. G. C., Mr. Wills, of Belleville, County Treasurer, and other prominent members of the order. Mr. R. Gordon who has taken a very active interest in the enterprise, read the document which was deposited under the corner stone, setting forth the prominent facts of the movement and the names of those who were its active promoters. Honorable mention was very properly made of the names of those on the ladies committee who had worked so nobly for that day. A beautiful silver trowel was presented to Mr. Bowell, with the following inscription:—"Presented to Hon. M. Bowell, P.M. P.; M. W.G.M., by the building committee of the Lodge Room, and the Methodist Church, on the occasion of his laying the corner stone of the same." Hungerford, July 12th, 1884.

After the stone was laid addresses were given by Messrs. Young, Wills, Ash, Hudson, Martin, Brandon, Bowell and Andrews. The weather was very favorable for the afternoon's proceedings, and everything passed off with great enthusiasm.

AT ELDORADO AND HUNTINGDON.

Our Madoc correspondent says:—The orange demonstrations at both Eldorado and Huntingdon were a success, financially. Something like $900 were realized on the gold watch contested for by Misses Phillips and Empey. There was a large crowd at both places, notwithstanding the heavy rain which prevailed during the forenoon.

ALWAYS PROMPT IN ACTION.

This is just what every sufferer wants—prompt action, and rapid relief from pain. The grandest discovery of the age, the great pain cure, it is Polson's Nervaline—prompt, powerful, pleasant to the taste, and yet so pure that it may be given to the youngest infant. Try a 10 cent sample bottle, which you can purchase at any drug store. Nervaline the great, sure, and prompt pain cure. The large bottles are only 25 cents.

AN END TO BONE SCRAPING.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctor told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used instead, 3 bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve and my leg is now sound and well.

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c per box by B. Templeton.

Belleville, July 15.—The cheese market here has responded promptly to the advance and to-pay 8½c. has been bid for fine cheese and a fraction more for perfection in quality and high colored cheese. The cable stands at 49s., keeping quite stationary since the advance. The future is very uncertain and as yet there are no clear evidences as to which way the market will go.

Every one speaks highly of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters as a Stomach Liver and Kidney Medicine. The best family medicine we ever used,' say they all. Try a bottle this Spring as a blood purifier.

A STARTLING DISCOVERY.

Mr. Wm. Johnston, of Huron, Dak., writes that his wife had been troubled with acute Bronchitis for many years, and that all remedies tried gave no permanent relief, until he procured a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, which has a magical effect, and produced a permanent cure. It is guarranteed to cure all Diseases of Throat, Lungs, or Bronchial Tubes.

THE CITY'S FINANCES.

Draft of the Estimates laid Before the Council Last Night.

At the meeting of the City Council last night Ald. Diamond submitted a rough draft of the estimates for the year so far as it is possible to prepare them until after the sitting of the Judges Court when the assessment of the city will be confirmed.

LAST YEAR'S ACCOUNTS.

The unpaid accounts from last year were shown to be $10,723.25, of which $5,-899.18 was overdrawn bank account. The receipts for 1883 were $28,552.13, of which $27,810 are unpaid taxes. The estimated receipts were fixed at $14,224 88, and the expenditure as follows.

UNCONTROLLABLE,

Interest	$25,710
County of Hastings	2,000
Police Commission	3,675
Public and High Schools	14,378
Police Magistrate	1,400
Separate Schools	2,180
	$47,163

CONTROLLABLE.

Public Works	$10,000
Fire	5,300
Water and Gas	5,300
Harbor and Ferry	4,000
Market and City Property	750
Board of Health (Inspector)	100
Indigent, W. C. A.	1,200
Printing and Stationery	1,000
Salaries	3,950
Mechanics Institute	200
Auditors	150
Election expenses	250
Contingent	1,000
Hospital grant	1,000
College road grant	100
	$34,300

The total assessment of the city is $3,-776,541 as reported by the Court of Revision, but appeals amounting to about $18,000 are yet to be finally considered at the Judge's Court.

A CARD.—To all who are suffering from errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send self-addressed envelope to Rev. Joseph T. Inman, Station D, New York City. d&w

To most children the large suggestion of a dose of castor oil is nauseating. Why not, then, when physic is necessary for the little ones, use Ayer's Cathartic Pills? They combine every essential and valuable principle of a cathartic medicine, and being sugar-coated are easily taken.

LATEST CITY NEWS

Civic holiday Monday, Aug. 18.

A vagrant in the cells last night.

The Public School Board will probably meet on Friday to appoint teachers.

Mr. Barney Conway says that it was not he who scooped up the sulphuric acid at the G. T. R. Station.

Mayor Dunnet this morning fined William Arthurs $2 and costs for beating his wife. He was given a week to pay the fine.

The police this afternoon were notified of a gang of men and women who were begging in the vicinity of Albert College this morning.

Mr. Johnston, P. S. Inspector, will leave for Toronto at the end of this week, where he acts as a member of a sub-committee in examining the intermediate papers.

Ald. Diamond having advised it the Assessor will appeal to the Judge on Thursday against the decision of the Court of Revision striking out the $13,000 assessed against the opera house.

Messrs. A. Davis and J. S. Tice have purchased the livery stable at the corner of the lower bridge formerly owned by Herrington & Trumpour where they will constantly keep on hand the best turnouts in the city.

At this season of the year, when all are liable to an attack of cholera, every family should be protected by having in the house a good reliable remedy. Such a remedy will be found in Holden's Cholera Drops, for sale at Geen's drug store.

At the meeting of the Council last night Ald. Biggar referred to a matter which it is to be hoped will not be lost sight of, i. e., the classification of the wards by numbers when a fire alarm is given. If this was done there might perhaps be less delays at times in reaching the fire.

The company which played "Silver King" here last winter will appear in the Opera House next Monday evening in Bartley Campbell's popular play, "Galley Slave." It is the intention of the troupe to return to Belleville in September and play "The World" and "Silver King."

C. A. Neide, writing in Outing of the meet of the American Canoe Association at Peterboro' last year, queries—"How strange it seems that nearly all the Americans who came home via Belleville happened to stop at the Queen's restaurant! Possibly that sweet face and those bright eyes had something to do with it."

Three tramps were reported to the police to be begging last night near the Grand Trunk depot, and Constable Hayes went up to arrest them. Before the arrival of the officer the gang caught hold of a man passing on the sidewalk, and demanded money, but as it was yet light no violence was offered. One of the party, John D. Lynch, a young man with one arm, was arrested and locked up in the cells. The other two ran over the hill and escaped. One of them, Lynch said, had a revolver. It is possible that they are the same parties seen around Mr. VanAllen's house a few nights ago. At the police court this morning Mayor Dunnet gave Lynch fifteen minutes to get out of the city.

A well-selected stock of wall paper, the cheapest in the city, and we are bound to clear out the entire stock.—T. Donnelly & Co.

Just received at Ford's art gallery a large stock of gold and plush mouldings, a beautiful line of new enamel mouldings will be opened this week. If you want your picture framed well and cheap send them in at once. J. H. Ford, Picture framer.

THE CITY COUNCIL

Moving to Divide the City into four Wards.

GIVING BOARD OF WORKS $10,000.

At a regular meeting of the City Council last night, His Worship Mayor Dunnet in the chair there were present: Ald. Petrie, Clarke, Tickell, Baker, L. Johnson, Pringle, Davis, McIninch, Diamond, LaRoche, Macoun, Vandusen, Biggar and Hanley.

The Secretary Treasurer of the School Board called the attention of the council to the vacancy caused by the death of the late Thomas Holden, High School trustee. Mr. J.H. Simpson was appointed to fill the vacancy.

The Women's Christian Association reported the expenditure for June, showing a balance on hand of $53.38.

Mr. C. V. Bogart objected to the sidewalk laid near his house back of the Central School and asked for its removal father out into the street.

A petition was read from the Relief Committee of Port Perry asking for aid.

S. Woods and others asked for a sidewalk on the north side of Dundas street extending east to George street.

CIVIC HOLIDAY, 18TH AUGUST,

The Knights of Labor petitioned to have a civic holiday on Aug 18, which on motion of Ald. Diamond, seconded by Ald Macoun, was granted.

A petition was read from Capt. Farrington of the schooner Belle of Hamilton, signed by several other citizens asking the city to grant him the use of one of the fire steamers to pump the water out of the vessel aground in the harbor, agreeing at the same time to pay all the expenses of the work. Ald Macoun said the Fire Committee had already refused to grant this request and he left it to the council to assume the responsibility. Ald Diamond moved that the prayer of the petition be not granted, but that Capt. Farrington be allowed the use of the hand engine on the same conditions. This was carried.

The Workingmen's Temperance Association memorialized the Council to remit the taxes paid on their hall for the last three years, amounting to $61.20, and also the taxes for this year.

Several residents in Foster Ward asked for a well on John Street near the residence of John Artis.

THE POLICE CELLS.

The reports of the Committees were read presenting nothing new, except that the Market Committee asked for tenders showing the cost of fitting up the old meat market for police purposes, for erecting a building south of the present station and for fitting up the basement of the main city building. Ald. Diamond submitted an amendment referring back the report to the Committee with instructions to carry out the recommendations of the Board of Health, i e—to place an escape air pipe from the cells to the roof. This was carried.

BOARD OF WORKS APPROPRIATION.

Ald. Diamond opposed the request of the Board of Works for an appropriation of $10,000, which, he said, with the $2,000 already expended would make a total of $12,000. He did not believe the city could afford to make such an expenditure this year, but proposed granting the Board $9,000. Ald. Tickell thought the streets of the city and the sidewalks compared favorably with those of any city in the Province, but Ald. Hanley, Vandusen, Pringle and Pope was in favor of the larger sum, for as they said, the taxpayers agree that the only value they receive for their money is the improvements on the streets. The Committee decided in favor of $10,000 by a large majority. Ald. Macoun, Diamond, Biggar, Clarke, Petrie and Tickell supporting $9,000.

The appropriation for the Fire Committee was fixed by the Executive at $5,800, but Ald. Macoun moved for an increase of $400 as he had just discovered that the salaries of the Chief Engineer and his assistant were charged to the Fire Committee instead of to salaries account. The sum of $1,000 was set aside for printing but the other appropriation were allowed to stand as reported.

THE JOHN STREET FIRE.

Ald. Pope wanted to know the cause of the delay by No. 1 steamer in getting up steam Friday night at the John street fire. He said complaints had been made to him that there was an unnecessary delay on this occasion and he promised to inquire into the cause. Ald. Macoun, chairman of the department replied that he had heard similar complaints made and from Mechanical Engineer Cunningham the cause of this was alleged to be that on account of the short run to the fire from the station the fire in the engine had not got a fair start. He said the fire was lighted as soon as the alarm rang. To avoid a repitition of this annoyance he said an attachment had been placed alongside the boiler by which the water would be kept boiling constantly as at No. 2.

CUTTING OFF THE REVENUE

A by-law was passed exempting harbor dues on the Varuna and Quinte which were classed as market boats.

Ald. Petrie moved and Ald. Clarke seconded that $1,000 be appropriated for the purpose of sinking an artesian well. By consent this was allowed to stand for two weeks.

The Chairman of the Board of Work failing to supply the council with the cost of building board walks, Ald. Hanley moved that the Street Inspector be instructed to visit some western towns to gain the required knowledge. An objection being taken to this the resolution was allowed to stand as a notice.

THE GRAND JUNCTION AND THE COUNCIL.

Ald. Biggar moved that the Mayor be asked to attend the meetings of the Board of Directors of the Midland Railway.

Ald. Diamond intimated that there was something behind this.

Ald. Biggar—That insinuation I will treat with the contempt it deserves, but this motion is brought forward in the interests of the city, and by one who wishes solely to represent the ratepayers of Ketcheson Ward.

The Solicitor stated that if the city intended to attempt to recover any part of their bonus to the company, it would be as well for the Mayor to continue his absence from the meetings of the Board.

The resolution was withdrawn.

A CLOSING SCENE.

Ald. Biggar submitted his motion reducing the number of wards in the city from seven to four, which was seconded by Ald. Davis.

Ald. Hanly rose to make an amendment when Ald. Diamond shouted out "The best way to get rid of it is to vote it down."

Ald. Biggar to Ald. Diamond—Do you represent the Council?

Ald. Petrie—I would certainly like to hear that amendment.

The amendment proposed to unite Foster and Sampson Ward, and divide Murney into two wards.

Ald, Petrie—That settles it. I must oppose that as Foster Ward shall paddle his own canoe.

The motion was lost.

Ald. Biggar—I don't think this resolution received the consideration it deserved especially from one of the members, who will find before the end of next January that the people think such matters worthy of notice.

Ald. Diamond—I am not at all afraid of that. I never was. When you get through as far as I have you will have more experience.

The Mayor—"Order."

And the council immediately broke up.

PERSONAL.

Hendricks is a master of the English language.

Mr. W. Conger, of the Picton Gazette, was in the city to-day.

Mr. S. A. Hyman and Mrs. Hyman left this morning for the Sandbanks.

Ex-Ald. Taylor and Mrs. Taylor returned home from Davy's Island last night.

General Grant is at Long Branch for the summer. He has discarded his crutches and is able to walk with a stout cane.

Mr. P. R. Daly left for Ingersoll last night, to attend the funeral of his brother's wife, Mrs. A. Daly which took place today.

Superintendent Mathison was elected Vice President of the conference of principals of institutions for deaf mutes held at Fairmount, Minn., on Aug. 10,

Almost every person has some form of scrofulous poison latent in his veins. When this develops in scrofulous sores, ulcers, or eruptions or takes the form of rheumatism, or organic disease, the suffering that ensues is terrible beyond description. Hence the gratitude of those who discover, as thousands yearly do, that Ayer's Sarsaparilla will thoroughly eradicate this evil from the system.

THE CITY SCHOOLS.

Complete List of the Summer Promotion Examinations.

The semi-annual promotion examinations were held in all the divisions of the city schools on Thursday and Friday, July 3rd and 4th.

The questions were prepared by the Inspector and printed, and were the same as those used in the rural schools, Trenton and Deseronto.

Each candidate to pass had to obtain 50 per cent. of the aggregate number of marks and 33⅓ per cent of the maximum in each subject, being the same percentage as required in all rural schools. By applying to the Inspector at his residence or office full information will be given to parents and candidates in reference to the examinations. Below is a list of the successful candidates arranged in order of merit, with the teacher who trained them and the marks obtained by each.

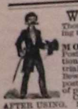
HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Invalids distracted by indigestion and discouraged in their search for its remedy should make a trial of this never-failing medicine. A lady long a martyr to dyspeptic tortures, writes that Holloway's Pills made her feel as if a burden had been taken off her. Her spirits formerly low, have greatly improved; her capricious appetite has given place to that of healthy hunger; her dull, sick headache has departed, and gradually so marvellous a change has been effected that she is altogether a new creature, and again fit for her duties. These pills may be administered with safety to the most delicate. They never act harshly, nor do they ever induce weakness; they rightly direct deranged, and control excessive action.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally and the Ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceeding efficacious. When influenza is epidemic this treatment is the easiest, safest, and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of saving suffering when any one is afflicted with cold, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints by which so many persons are seriously and permanently afflicted in most countries.



AFTER USING.

Wonderful! Wonderful!
Thousands of young men are exclaiming the above every day, after using DR. LAMARTINE'S MOUSTACHE GROWER. Positively the only reliable preparation ever offered to the public. A trial will convince the most skeptical. Beware of bogus imitations. Sent postpaid, in plain wrapper, on receipt of price, $1.00 per box.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs: none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.

"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me.
HORACE FAIRBROTHER."
Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute.

"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours,
MRS. EMMA GEDNEY."
159 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effectual remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried.
A. J. CRANE."
Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.
JOSEPH WALDEN."
Byhalia, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles.
E. BRAGDON."
Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.

LOVE'S LOTTERY

OR,

THE RIVAL SISTERS.

'Give me the key,' he said, tremulously. 'Miss Beauchamp has already started for Liverpool. I must follow. For the love of heaven, do not delay me longer.'

'Gone!' repeated Nellie in despair. Then placing the key in his hand she added meekly—'It is your own fault Eustace, that I am too late. Still I have done my best.'

She paused, before timidly extending her hand, she murmured softly—

'Please remember, that when the world's opinion robbed the actress of all other things Heaven—more generous—let her still retain a heart.'

At that moment, Nellie speaking from that heart—looked and was as modest and natural as any woman could look and be.

Notwithstanding his hurry, Eustace stopped, touched by the sad, penitent face.

For the first time he recognized the greatest sacrifice a woman in love can make, the rendering a service to the saving her rival.

Yes he had cruelly wronged her at the first interview.

Striding back he took Nellie's hand and ferventiy pressed it to his lips.

'May Heaven bless you for what you have done,' he exclaimed fervently. 'I thank you, from my soul.'

A bright happy expression swept over Nellie's face.

It was not triumph it was innocent joy.

'I am repaid, more than repaid,' she murmured gratefully. Thank you, thank you very much. Now go; please do not loose a moment. Hasten, do anything only save her from that man whom I fear while I hate. Do not on any account, discredit what I have said; for the love, of heaven do not. Be sure, Stuart Loring will follow Miss Pauline Beauchamp as sure as you stand here now. You don't know what he is capable of doing to satisfy his desires be they great or small.'

Eustace Belmore's complexion was deadly pale, save a heroic flash on his cheek.

While his hands were hot with fever, his brain was strangely clear.

'Heaven bless you,' he repeated. 'I'll never forget you, never!'

The last words were uttered at the door.

The moment after he was bounding down the stairs, while Nellie Montmorency sinking upon a chair, wept she scarcely knew why; but she felt certain it was joy for she felt better, that she ever had since her flight from her country home.

At the hall door Eustace Belmore nearly overthrew a gentleman entering.

It was the doctor.

'Gracious, Mr. Belmore!' exclaimed the latter, 'you surely are not going in your present state of fever? It is madness,'

'Do not seek to stay me, sir,' answered Eustace rapidly; 'were it death, I still must go.'

Leaping into the cab, he banged the doors, and the driver drove off like a man who feels that every moment saved represented golden gain.

Haste, however, was useless.

The station reached, Eustace found the last train that possibly could arrive at Liverpool before the San Francisco sailed had gone.

There was but one way.

Only one chance left—to charter a carriage express.

The amount was heavy, but at that moment money was of small regard to Eustace, and as rapidly as it could be arranged the telegrams of information sent to the several intermediate stations, he was at last on his way to Liverpool.

Would he be in time?

To describe our hero's fearful anxiety and impatience is impossible.

All ideas clear, fearfully clear; still in his brain, objects, trifles, frightfully clear to his sight, yet all—all agony.

On the train rushing into the terminous leaving the valet to follow with the luggage or to be left behind, Eustace proceeded as rapidly as he could to the quay.

Was he in time?

The port was unusually crowded and eagerly Eustace scanned the net work with a hungry longing that he knew wich belonged to the ship he needed.

Joining a group of sailors lounging near there eyes directed seaward, with lips that now trembled a little as his heart did with fear, he demanded—

'Can you tell me which ship is the San Francisco?'

'The San Francisky? answered one of the party, 'why, she's sailed this twenty minite and more.'

'Sailed!' gasped Eustace reeling, and all the daylight seemed to fall from his eyes, his heart.

Pauline had gone then—alone.

'Sailed; yes. There she be. Were you booked on board of her, sir?'

I wish to sail on her,' responded Eustace in a stunned tone. 'I'd give a hundred pounds to any one who would put me on board.'

'It aint possible for two hundred, sir. The wind's in her favor, and she's one of the fastest crafts of even the Cunard line.'

'Oh, Haven! do you mean this—that there is no possibility?' he interrogated in accents of despair.

'Judge, sir, for yourself; you can just see her deck and no more.'

The sailor handed our hero a telescope as he spoke.

IMPORTANT TO RUPTURED PERSONS

The Excelsior Rupture Treatment was introduced to the American people several years ago in such a manner as to completely secure the confidence of the whole nation. The mode of introduction was by furnishing the remedy to those afflicted with Hernia in any of its various forms and collecting no pay until a permanent cure was effected. In this way the treatment gained a world wide reputation on its own merits, never failing to cure any reducible Hernia. The Company has at the solicitation of thousands placed the remedy on sale by all druggists both wholesale and retail, in the United States, Canada and England, In this way bringing it within the reach of all classes at a trifling cost compared with the benefit which are derived from the use of the treatment. Ask your druggist for a free book on rupture or send 6 cts. for one to the Excelsior Rupture Cure M'f'g Co., Ogdensburg, N. Y.

SCIENCE.

To increase the weight of the body invigorate the system, revitalize the exhausted and depressed, is the true object sought by medical science. The digestive organs must be in a healthy condition if we wish to secure this desired result, and no remedy yet discovered has ever proved so effectual in accomplishing this as FLAX-SEED EMULSION COMP. It contains Phosphorus to build up the nervous system and all the fat producing properties of Flaxseed to enrich the blood and supply the animal economy with the elements for reconstruction.

Use the Imperial Kidney and Liver Cure—price 50c.

The above remedies are sold in Belleville by James Clarke & Co. and R. Carmichael druggists.

Vital Questions.!

Ask the most eminent physician
Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?
And they will tell you unhesitatingly
"Some form of Hops! ! !"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians:
"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, debetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—
"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu !"
Ask the same physicians
"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.," and they will tell you:
Mandrake! or Dandelion !"
Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable.
And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is
Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use

CHAPTER II.

"Patients
'Almost dead or nearly dying'"
For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.
Women have gone nearly crazy ! ! ! !
From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefullness, and various diseases peculiar to women.
People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic, or suffering from scrofula.
Erysipelas!
"Saltrheum, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact, almost all diseases frail"
Nature is heir to
Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.
None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile poisonous stuff with 'Hop' or 'Hops' in their name.

ON THIRTY DAYS' TRIAL.

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above,—N B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty day's trial is allowed.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co's. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

"Twenty-four years experience," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the Generative organs is to repair the wastby giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes. accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas, Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward he goods free by mail, and send their written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See adv't in nother column

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in th market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficent.—For sale by all Druggists.

WARREN LELAND,

whom everybody knows as the successful manager of the

Largest Hotel Enterprises

of America, says that while a passenger from New York on board a ship going around Cape Horn, in the early days of emigration to California, he learned that one of the officers of the vessel had cured himself, during the voyage, of an obstinate disease by the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Since then Mr. LELAND has recommended AYER'S SARSAPARILLA in many similar cases, and he has never yet heard of its failure to effect a radical cure.
Some years ago one of Mr. LELAND's farm laborers bruised his leg. Owing to the bad state of his blood, an ugly scrofulous swelling or lump appeared on the injured limb. Horrible itching of the skin, with burning and darting pains through the lump, made life almost intolerable. The leg became enormously enlarged, and running ulcers formed, discharging great quantities of extremely offensive matter. No treatment was of any avail until the man, by Mr. LELAND's direction, was supplied with AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, which allayed the pain and irritation, healed the sores, removed the swelling, and completely restored the limb to use.
Mr. LELAND has personally used

for Rheumatism, with entire success; and, after careful observation, declares that, in his belief, there is no medicine in the world equal to it for the cure of Liver Disorders, Gout, the effects of high living, Salt Rheum, Sores, Eruptions, and all the various forms of blood diseases.
We have Mr. LELAND's permission to invite all who may desire further evidence in regard to the extraordinary curative powers of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to see him personally either at his mammoth Ocean Hotel, Long Branch, or at the popular Leland Hotel, Broadway, 27th and 28th Streets, New York.
Mr. LELAND's extensive knowledge of the good done by this unequalled eradicator of blood poisons enables him to give inquirers much valuable information.

POETRY IN CHICAGO.

Chicago Tribune.

'I've got a poem. Do you print poetry?' 'This is a bad season for poetry,' said the horse reporter, 'We've got half a dozen humpbacked old sonnets that were carried over from last season. Does yours rhyme and make kind of half way sense, or is it one of the fall-down and get-up-the-best-way you-can kind?' 'Oh, its all right,' said the young lady. 'This is the way it goes:

"The moonbeams fall with silv'ry glint upon the bosky dell,
The kissing winds of summer bear the sound of tinkling bell,
And from afar there gleams a star that seems fore'er to keep
A watch and ward, and ever guard the lives of those who sleep.
A maiden stands beside the one she loveth best of all;
The world to her is bright and fair, and life hath ne'er a pall.
'I love you well—ah need I tell?' she said in accent low—
Across her face the blushes trace each other as they go.

'Don't you think that is nice?' 'Pretty fair,' said the horse reporter. 'But things don't always go as smoothly as that. I think your verses would read better if they were modernized, so to speak.' 'How would they read then?' 'Well, about like this:

"The sunbeams strike with mighty force upon the blue wash-tub,
The kissing wings of summer make the farmer want his grub,
And from the vale there comes a wail of mortal sore distressed;
Some little boy—his mother's joy—has struck a bumble nest.
A maiden stands beside the tub she hateth worst of all;
The world to her is full of soap and bitterness and gall;
An angry flirt she gives the shirt, and says in accents low:
'Gosh darned the dog-goned washing day, I wish 'twould ever go!'"

HONEY BEES.

"F. W." writes from Tyendinaga as follows:—Being interested in bees, I paid a visit to the noted bee-keeper of Thurlow, Mr. Wells. I was well repaid for the time I spent with him. He has the finest located yard I have ever yet seen His apiary is situated on an abrupt slope at the foot of which is a fine spring creek. A few of the lines of hives are placed in terraces. He has a hundred lines, all of which contain straight combs and will breed Italians in excellent and well made hives. Last year he confined himself to extracted honey and received from his bees 9,800 lbs, and realized from them twelve hundred dollars. Now, Mr. Editor, all this was not brought about without hard set and close attention, losses, vexations and disappointments, running through a series of many years. Mr. Wells deserves great credit for his perseverance, and his history is much the same as that of all successful bee-keepers. A profitable knowledge of bees, practical, I do not believe can be obtained in any other way than that by which a profession or a knowledge of farming, or a knowledge of a trade is obtained, and let those who contemplate bee-keeping as a business remember this, that they must take hold of the handle and learn for themselves what no man can tell them. Mr. Wells has with great patience completed a flat foundation machine which gives good satisfaction to his numerous customers, When I visited him he had just commenced queen raising. I purchased a full colony of Italians in a complete hive with a young tested queen, to be delivered in July and I have every confidence that it will be all that he recommended it to be. The foundation I received from him is excellent. The brood are perhaps a shade or two heavy. There are a great many details worthy of mention but I will defer them.

Trusting, Mr. Editor, that you are interested in promoting and encouraging this industry, I send you the above note. My own bees have made comb honey thus far this season at a rate that I never before could believe possible.

THE MAN WITOUT A FACE.

There is to be seen at Landrecies in the department of the north, an invalid artillery soldier, who was wounded in the late Franco-German war, when he was horribly mutilated by the bursting of a Prussian shell. The man's face was literally blown off, including both eyes, there being left behind some scanty remnants of the osseous and musculer systems. The skull, which is well covered with hair, was left intact, so that the man has a most hideous and ghastly appearance. This disfigurement has been completely concealed by a mask, which was made for him under the direction of the principal medical officer of Val de Grace in Paris, whither he had been transferred from field ambulance. The mask was constructed by a surgeon dentist named Delalsin It includes a false palate and a complete set of false teeth; and is so perfect that the functions of respiration and mastication, which were necessarily imperfectly performed, are almost completely restored to their normal condition, and his voice which was rather husky, has resumed its natural tone. The man speaks distinctly, the sense of smell, which had entirely dissapeared, has returned, and he can even play the flute He wears two false eyes, simply to fill the cavities of the orbits, for the parts representing the eyes are closed. In fact, the mask is so well adapted to what remains of the real face, as to be considered one of the finest specimens of the prothetic art that could be devised.

"It serves him right; he ought to have kept away", is what Mrs. Smiley of Rochester is reported to have said when told that her son George had been drowned.

SAVED FROM A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Unto May I had spent at least five hundred dollars in treatment by many of the best medical men without benefit. My mouth became badly ulcerated, sores breaking out on my neck and legs. I also suffered excruciatingly with Rheumatism, grew very despondent, and my best friends advised me that the icy hand of death was fast approaching, I caught at Shaker Blood Syrup like drowning man catches at a straw. After taking two bottles I could feel the change for the better. The sores began to discharge freely, and Rheumatism to abate. When I had taken six bottles every sore had healed and my skin began to assume a natural appearance. I persisted until I had taken twelve, and there is not a symptom of the disease remaining, and I feel as well as I ever did. I have gained twenty-one pounds in flesh, and my friends wonder at my improved condition. I have recommended it to many, and in every instance with complete success. I believe that Shaker Blood Syrup has saved me from a horrib'e death.
T. S. Cannon South Boston Mass.

In 1878 I was the victim of terrible Blood Poison, and after being treated by three physicians was confined to my bed, not able to raise my hand to my head, spiting up clots of blood and reduced in weight from one hundred and eighty-five to one hundred and thirty pounds. I then began the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, and in less than three months I was entirely well, weighing one hundred and ninety-six pounds, and have never had a symptom of the disease since. If it had not been for Shaker Syrup I believe I would have been in my grave.

THE DAILY ONTARIO.

THE INTERESTS OF LABOR.

The mechanic and working man ought by this time to thoroughly understand that their labor is subject to world-wide competition while their employers are made rich by protection against legitimate competition. During the campaigns of 1878, and 1882 we heard nothing but that a high tariff would greatly benefit the workingman and enhance the value of his labor. What do we read now? The Hamilton Spectator which did its part in deceiving the laboring population, now comments in this way on the printers' strike in Toronto :—

> Of course the compositors are right in refusing to sell their labor for less than its fair value. And they must be the judges of its value. If they judge unwisely—if they refuse to sell their labor at its fair value, they know that economic conditions will inevitably impose the stern penalty. Labor cannot for any considerable time be artificially lifted above the level, And that level is created under the law of supply and demand.

These sound laws of political economy did not apparently exist in 1878, because they were to be ignored in the great scheme for the amelioration of the condition of the workingmen brought about by the bad Grit Government of Mr. Mackenzie. The N. P. was to take note of no economic conditions but guaranteed peace, prosperity and high wages. Now we are told that there is a level for wages above which they cannot get. If the mechanics are dissatisfied with that level and want better remuneration they must beware—"Economic conditions will inevitably impose the stern penalty."

We suppose, in the view of the Spectator the gratuitous assistance by the Dominion Government of European mechanics to a plethoric market in Canada constitutes one of those "economic conditions" against which mechanics are warned not to kick. Let us see how the protective government which lets the workingmen shift for themselves while it exercises a paternal care over hot-house industries, treats the representations of labor. The Government has been told by deputation and through the press that there are more mechanics in the country than can find work or wages, that this has been the case for a number of years. The only response the Government has made to these representations is found in the following advertisement in British papers. This extract is from a letter written by Sir Alex. Galt, the Canadian Government's representative in England, and published in Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper of April 18th 1883, a journal circulating nearly 700,000 copies among the working classes of Britain :—

> "For the satisfaction of those of your readers who come under the designation of mechanics and general laborers, I quote a cable message I have this day received from the Government of Canada :—
> "'General Laborers and Mechanics urgently required in old Provinces of Canada as well as Manitoba and British Columbia. Agents must exert themselves to supply this demand.'
> "The railway and other public works that are being constructed in every part of the country, the rapid developement of the great North-West, the increase of the manufacturing industries will, it is believed, prevent any dearth of employment for some time to come.
> "Your obedient servant,
> A. T. GALT."

Our Hamilton contemporary of a later date says :—

> The Spectator and its party did not represent that it (the N. P.) would give constant work. The Spectator has never preached any doctrine it does not preach now. Labor cannot for any considerable length of time be artificially lifted above its level. But it may very easily be depressed below its level.

The reason why labor is now depressed below its level the advocate of a high tariff does not state. Perhaps it would even wish to say that labor at present is not depressed. But alas, the fact is too evident and its big brother in Toronto argues that it is. Quoting the average wages earned in its office by the printers, about $9.50 a week, the Mail boasted that the wages were double those earned by other mechanics. Will N.P. organs say that $9.50 a week represent average wages for a mechanic? The compositors on the Mail were receiving from $15 to $23 a week, and in the words of the Mail "these are NEARLY DOUBLE the wages earned by other mechanics at this time." In the face of this testimony from the Mail what use for the Spectator to declare that the N. P. "has not failed." The whole policy of the Government has failed and the Government itself will before long be compelled to assign for the benefit of the country.

CANADIAN NOTES.

Nomination for Muskoka to-day.

It has been decided to submit the Scott Act in Bruce.

A scheme as passed by the Toronto City Council, will add 3,000 acres to the city limits.

The British residents at Aden with two gunboats have gone to annex Berbera, a seaport of East Africa.

More than the required one-fourth of electors have signed a petition to submit the Scott Act in Perth county.

It is said the Oddfellows will come out behind in their finances in connection with the demonstration at Brockville.

The trunk-line passenger pool will expire with this month, and the Chicago and Grand Trunk road refuses to sign a new agreement.

Mr. Pipes, Premier of Nova Scotia, has resigned, and Mr. W. S. Fielding has been called to form a Government. Both gentlemen are Liberals.

One of the Ottawa cabmen, who was driving Hon. J. H. Pope from the Canada Atlantic station the other evening dropped dead from the cab to the ground. Heart disease.

At Napanee yesterday the magistrates after hearing counsel and considering the evidence in the case against Duff, concluded to commit him for trial, and he was committed accordingly. The case against the Webbers will probably be taken up this afternoon.

SPEAKING at the Democratic Convention Henry Watterson, the veteran free-trader of Kentucky, followed Gen. Butler in his protest against the tariff plank in the platform and regretted that Gen. Butler and the rest of the party must part ; but they would try to get along under the protection of God, to whom Mr. Butler had commended them.

AN APPLICATION will be made to parliament on behalf of George Louis Emil Hatzfield of Hamilton, accountant, for a bill of divorce from Anna Maria Hatzfield. He was formerly of Dundas and is now of Owensborough, in the State of Kentucky. This is the fifth application of the kind of which notice has been given for next session, and suggests the question why not establish a competent court of law and equity through which to dispose of these cases? New Brunswick possesses a Divorce Court. The old women of the Senate are doubtless anxious to distinguish themselves in some way, but such a farce as that recently enacted before the divorce committee should not be repeated.

THE BRIBERY COMMISSION.

Mr. Meredith Wants to get away to the Muskoka Election.

TORONTO, July 16.—Inspector Ward was the first witness called when the Bribery Commission resumed its sitting yesterday. His evidence relates to documents taken from Kirkland and Wilkinson on the night of their arrest.

Balfour and Graham, M.P.P's., were then examined. The evidence was much the same as that given at previous investigations. Photographs of Stimson, the Northwest cattle rancher, who, in company with John Shields, drew a thousand dollars from the Toronto Bank of Commerce, were recognized by Balfour as those of the mysterious Lynch.

Mr. Meredith, M.P.P., appeared and asked that Messrs. Creighton, Carnegie, Ermatinger, M.P.P.'s, and himself be not called till after the Muskoka election, as they wished to take part in the contest. After a discussion the court decided not to call them before the 25th inst.

Mr. Balfour, M.P.P, deposed that Kirkland asked witness how much he wanted to vote against the Government, and he replied that there was not money enough in Toronto to buy him.

During the cross examination Meek used the word "conspiracy" as referring in the interviews between McKim and Pardee. When the Court ordered him to withdraw the word, subsequently witness said McKim told him that he was trying to catch the conspirators, and gave him to understand that he was leading them on.

CLEVELAND'S RECEPTION.

Independent Republicans Repudiate Blaine and Support Him.

The New York Times was out on Saturday last with an article strongly supporting the Democratic nominee, 'Cleveland for President.' It closes with this declaration:—

The Times will heartily support Gov. Cleveland. In opposing Mr. Blaine it finds itself upon impregnable ground and in excellent company. It has closely watched the career of the candidate nominated at Chicago yesterday, and it has entire confidence in his probity, in his intelligence, and in his administrative ability. He ought to be the next President of the United States as we believe he will be.

The New York Herald, which has hitherto supported chiefly the nominees of the Republican party, puts at the heads of its columns the Democratic ticket for President and Vice-President of the United States. It congratulates the Democratic party on the nominations which will give the people of the United States a chance 'to redeem the country from the disgrace 'and peril to which the Republican party 'has plotted to expose it by the thoroughly 'bad nominations of Blaine and Logan.'

It closes with the same declaration of confidence in the success of the ticket which the New York Times does. With 'an intuitive perception,' says the Herald, 'of the first need of a vigorous party, it has chosen the right sort of a standard bearer, 'and on election day the people will be with it.' These papers have no doubt but that the Independent party, which meets to-day, will declare in favor of Cleveland. It also declares that 'Republicans will give 'Cleveland ten times as many votes as 'Kelly can steal from him.' It believes that 'John Kelly the Tammany chief, was 'killed' by the convention.'

ROBBED OF $2,000.

Mr. William Henry, of Windsor, Ont., reported at New York police headquarters on Friday evening that he had been robbed of $2,000 while on his way to that city. Mr. Henry is a landowner. He carried his money in a small hand-satchel. Having occasion to leave his seat for a moment he left the bag hanging to a hook at the side of the car. On returning to his seat he missed the bag. He lost all his valuables except a watch, and a detective had to take him to a Broadway hotel and secure credit for him until he received a remittance.

THE FRANCHISE BILL.

The Conservative Peers to Again Reject the Measure.

THE LORDS' EXISTENCE THREATENED

LONDON, July 16.—A meeting of Conservative Peers was held yester-day, presided over by the Marquis of Salisbury. He held that there should be no Franchaise bill without a measure having in view the distribution of seats,

GLADSTONE'S THREATS.

The Marquis urged the Lords to ignore all threats and to firmly refuse to permit the bill to pass a second reading until the Government explained its plans for the redistribution of seats in the house of Commons,

DECISION OF THE PEERS.

The meeting almost unanimously resolved to refuse to pass the bill until the Government's plan on the question referred to was submitted.

"PALL MALL GAZETTE" ON THE LORDS.

The Pall Mall Gazette says if the compromise on the Franchise bill is rejected the Liberals will not sheathe the sword until they exterminate the power which is incompatible with the Government of modern England.

Mr. Gladstone has written to the Liberal Association of Leeds that he still hopes to avert the loss of the Franchise bill.

THE BOUNDARY AWARD.

Argument Before Judicial Committee, Privy Council.

DECIDED NOT LEGALLY BINDING.

Globe Special Cable.

LONDON, July 15.—The Ontario Boundary question came before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council this morning and was argued during the whole day. The Committee was specially composed of Earl Cairns, Lord Chancellor, Lord Carlingford, Sir Barnes Peacock, Sir Montague Smith, and Sir Robt. Collier. Counsel for Ontario occupied the whole day in stating their case. Their Lordships decided on the first question submitted, that the award is not legally binding, and are proceeding with the enquiry into the question of the true boundaries of Ontario.

[The reason for this decision doubtless lies in the fact that the Award lacks confirmatory legislation by the Dominion Parliament. It was never contended by Mr. Mowat that the Award was legally, but morally binding without Parliamentary recognition.

CHAMPIONS OF THE WORLD.

The Torontos Defeat the Americans in Brilliant Style.

(New York Sun, July 12.)

The finest exhibition of lacrosse playing yet seen in this city at the hands of Canadian exemplars of the game was that which marked the second victory of the Canadian champions from Toronto over the picked lacrosse team of the United States yesterday at the Polo grounds. There was a large and fashionable assemblage. In the match on Staten Island on Wednesday the home team, which had just returned triumphant over the strongest picked teams of all England, scarcely did themselves justice, but yesterday both sides went earnestly to work for the championship of the world, the Canadians having defeated everything on their side of the border, while the Americans had polished off all of their English adversaries handsomely across the Atlantic.

The contest of yesterday had not proceeded far before it become plainly apparent that the visitors were going in to win in this match, and not to play any exhibition game as at Staten Island ; and their earnestness seemed to be imparted to the home team, for they played a far better game as a whole than on Wednesday. Play as they might, however, they were as unpractised amateurs in the hands of the admirably trained Toronto team, who gave an exhibition of the beauties of the Canadian national game never before equalled in this country. Within twenty-five minutes from the start the Torontos had secured three goals, Dickson scoring the first two in six and two minutes respectively, and Irving the third in twelve. It now began to look as if the home team would fail to score a single goal, so finely were the visitors playing every point of the game. By a lucky turn, however, Ritchie, after a struggle with Ross McKenzie, got that noted goal keeper away from his post, and in the interim Simson obtained a chance at the partially defended Toronto goal, and in four minutes from the face off the Americans scored their first and only goal. Blight of Toronto followed with a goal in a minute and a half, and then, after the best struggle of the match, Irving made his second goal in sixteen minutes, Dickson taking the sixth goal for Toronto just before time was called. This gave the match to Toronto by six to one, and the visitors return home the champion lacrosse twelve of the world.

In consequence of the signal defeat of the American team, Capt. Balch has cancelled his proposed trip to Toronto and Montreal, and all his men who reside out of town last night departed for their respective homes. These victories will make interesting reading for the English lacrosse clubs.

FROM THE MARATIME PROVINCES Comes a host of testimonials as to the Magic Corn and Wart cure—Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. We select from the list of names before us that of Henry Taylor, Esq., Halifax, probably the most widely known druggist in the lower provinces. Mr Taylor has no hesitation in saying "that in an experience of twenty years he has handled nothing that has given the universal satisfaction that Putnam's Corn Extractor invariably does." It never fails, it is painless, prompt and produces no discomfort Beware of imitations and substitutes. Polson & Co., Kingston, proprs.

NO SUCH WORD AS FAIL.

A failure to relieve or cure summer complaints can never be truthfully applied to Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. All dealers sell it.

ALWAYS PROMPT IN ACTION.

This is just what every sufferer wants—prompt action, and rapid relief from pain. The grandest discovery of the age, the great pain cure, it is Polson's NERVALINE—prompt, powerful, pleasant to the taste, and yet so pure that it may be given to the youngest infant. Try a 10 cent sample bottle, which you can purchase at any drug store. Nervaline the great, sure, and prompt pain cure. The large bottles are only 25 cents.

Every one speaks highly of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters as a Stomach Liver and Kidney Medicine. The best family medicine we ever used,' say they all. Try a bottle this season as a blood purifier.

THE GEORGIA WONDER.

Strong Men Helpless in the Hands of a Young Girl.

MISS HURST'S MAGNETIC POWER

Miss Lulu Hurst, a young girl from the South, called the Georgia Wonder, is attracting large audiences at Wallack's Theatre, New York. It is claimed that she is possessed of some magnetic power which gives her phenomenal strength, and, in proof, she throws strong men about the stage with the greatest ease. The following is from a description of one of her performances. It will be borne in mind that there are some twenty men on the stage who have gone from the audience to test Miss Hurst's wonderful powers. Miss Hurst again advanced to the footlights. The round-headed thick-necked man, who had his head cut with the umbrella at the opening of the show was holding a chair in his arms waiting for her. She turned him so that the audience could see the chair plainly. Then, in the view of all, she laid the palm of her right hand on the front of the middle slat in the back of the chair. Her fingers were held clear of the slat. Her left hand was placed in a similar manner on the top of the cane seat. With a hysterical laugh, she drew the man forward, shoved him back and threw him from side to side in spite of his utmost exertions. Her hands slid about on the smooth wood but did not leave it for some time. When they did the motions ceased. Like results followed the attempts of several other muscular men, including Harry Hill. While Miss Hurst stood bent over, with her feet together, and the men were braced with their feet well apart, it was noticed that the strongest men were thrown about less than the others. Those who tried holding the chair when the Wonder placed her hands over theirs said that she did not press their hands when the motions were strongest.

The most peculiar feature of each test was the jerky character of the motions. At times there was a slow, even movement, but it was generally otherwise. Several men, including the thick-necked man, made speeches, saying that they did ther best to conquer her, but they were convinced that the power was not that of muscle. The speeches were in all cases drowned under such cries as "Dude!" "Shut up!" "Come off!"

Then the wonder emptied men from a chair by placing her open palms against the sides of the chair back. One young man faced her sitting astride of the chair. She raised the chair clear off the floor the minute her hands touched it; and the young man limped off the stage in a way that made the audience laugh and cheer for five minutes.

Dr. Taylor, of the Bellevue Hospital, sat in the chair with his feet on the rounds, and was lifted up and tilted out as easily as the others had been. He said to the audience 'I weigh 250 pounds. I don't think many men in this audience can lift me.' After the entertainment a private exhibition was given to a small party of ladies and gentlemen. The gentlemen exerted themselves to their own satisfaction in holding a chair while the Wonder placed her hand loosely on the slats or on their hands, but in each case they were thrown violently across the room. They panted and tugged but the Wonder did not draw an extra breath, nor did her pulse quicken.

HIGH SCHOOL ENTRANCE

The Successful Candidates at the Late Examinations.

The results of the High School entrance examination given below show an increase in the percentage obtained and in the number passed as compared with last July. At that examination 44 passed including rural sections and the highest, Jennie McFarlane of Melrose, scored 458 out of 560 marks. At the examination just held 64 passed from the city and rural sections, Miss Helen Emberson leading the list with 494 marks out of 560, and James Ross Allen following (heading the list from rural schools) with 489 out of 560. The name of the pupil in the list is followed by the name of the teacher.

HONOR CLASS.

The head master of the city high school has made the experiment of taking from the list of passed candidates the names of all those who have made at least 400 marks in the aggregate and who in addition have obtained at least 60 per cent of the marks allotted to arithmetic and grammar, and classifying these as having passed with honors. Pupils whose names appear in the Honor Class will be permitted to enter the second form in the high school without passing through the first form. Of course the masters of the high school reserve the right of qualifying this privilege in the case of very young pupils. The following is the Honor Class of July, 1884:—Helen Emberson, Jas. Ross Allen, Francis Oliver, Harry Harte, Joseph Frappy, Losealie Latta, Harvey B. Chisholm, Geo. Arthur, Charles Hopkins, Wilbur Sherry, Maggie Allen, Jessie Bryson, Mary Baker.

A NEW ANNIVERSARY.

On the 12th of July, the wife of Mr. Wm. Johnson, of a daughter.

Mr. Wm. Johnson, of Belleville Grand Master for Ontario East, attended the celebration at Cobourg, and delivered a stirring address.—Exchange,

'Tis said that June's the brightest month of all the glowing year,
But to my mind the bright July is far beyond compare
It is in it I love to tell the stirring deeds of old,
To hear the quick response of men whose hearts are strong and bold;
I love the music in the air—to hear the fife and drum,
They all suggest a future race, an empire yet to come.
But yester'night my wayward thoughts turned homeward in their course,
Although the crowds sent cheer on cheer till throat and voice were hoarse,
For while the band in sweet discourse played up the "Boyne Water,"
Came Nature's sweet and latest gift, my own my youngest daughter.

A FAMILY RESEMBLANCE.

Chicago News.

'Hello, Robbery, old boy,' said a Handcuff. 'Whom are you addressing, sir,?' 'Oh, come, you can't guy me. I know you if you are dressed up.' 'But I am not Robbery, sir.' 'Well, then, I'd like to know you are?' 'My name is Assignment, sir.' Well maybe it was your brother I used to know. You look mighty alike, anyway,' No, sir, I have but two brothers, and their names are Suspension and Failure.' Ah, yes, I remember now. Robbery was the father of the whole batch of you I remember.

KILLED IN A MILL.

Fatal and Terrible Accident in Gilmour's, Trenton.

AN ARM TORN FROM THE SHOULDER.

Trenton, July 16,—Boulton, an employee of Gilmour's lath mill on the east side of the river met with a terrible accident between three and four o'clock yesterday afternoon which resulted in his death four minutes afterwards. He went to change the belt to the loose pulley with a crowbar, which caught in the wheel and he was taken up to the shaft. The left arm was instantly torn off at the shoulder and the poor fellow fell shrieking to the floor. The crowbar struck him under the left arm and broke several of his ribs besides severing the limb from the body. When dashed down again on the floor one of his legs was broken and he was otherwise frightfully bruised.

He presented a ghastly sight as he lay on the boards, the blood oozing from the mangled shoulder while the lifeless arm lay but a few feet away. His sufferings were great but he bore them with great patience, until at the expiration of four minutes after the accident, the vital spark left his body, despite the efforts made to save his life. His fellow-workmen placed the body on a stretcher and carried it to his house on the west side of the river.

Boulton was a lad about 15 years of age, and with another brother was the sole support of his widowed mother. His father died a few weeks ago of consumption. Boulton met his death in exactly the same spot as Connelly two years ago, when in stepping over the pulley his apron got caught and he was instantly dashed into eternity. But immediately after this the pulley was covered over with boards to prevent a second accident from this cause. Boulton, however, met his death in another way—by carelessly using a crowbar to throw off the belt, it got caught in the wheel.

SPORTING NEWS.

The yachts Aileen, Oriole, Cygnet and Verve, of Toronto, will make the round of the association regattas.

The third-class yacht "Minnie A." was not disposed of last night, but several tickets were sold for another date—29th inst.

The Young Oaks will go to Trenton on Friday to play the return match with the junior lacrosse club of that place.

The match between the Oaks and the Napanee Club on Friday of this week is now a fixture, and those wishing to accompany the club should notify the Secretary so that arrangements may be made. A large party is expected to go down.

The Turf, Field, and Farm says:—'One of the officers of the New York Driving Park said to us a few days ago that he was in favor of offering a purse of $10,000—$7,500 to the first and $2,500 to the second—for a race between Maud S. and Jay Eye-See in September.'

MADOC NEWS

(From Own Correspondent.)

Madoc, July 15,—Miss Jennie Sinclair left on Monday morning for a visit to some friends at L'Amable.

Several weddings are on the tapis

We are to have a circus in town next week.

New potatoes have made their appearance on the market.

Section men on the C. P. R. are obliged to work on Sabbath.

When is newly-married John going to occupy his little house in the village?

Berry-pickers swarm the woods every day in search of berries, and report an abundance this year.

The wheelmen stick to their work with pertinacity, and the majority are able to exhibit considerable speed and some fancy riding.

Several of our I.O.O.F.'s attended the international demonstration at Brockville last week, and express themselves as highly pleased with their visit to that place.

Bachelors Weir, Jenkins and Sargeant will rusticate for a week or so shortly. The boys will, no doubt, spend a very pleasant time and return much invigorated by their outing.

Our friend Mr. S. F. Weaver, still holds forth in the Review office. The new printer skipped out on Saturday morning, and Mr. W. was induced to remain another week. He leaves, however, on Monday next.

Rev Messrs Stratton and Beer occupied the pulpit in the Methodist church Sabbath morning and evening last, and delivered their introductory addresses to large congregations. They left favorable impressions on the minds of their hearers and, no doubt, will receive a hearty support from the adherents of the church.

There is a wonderful chance for improvement in the running arrangments of the Madoc branch of the Midland Railway. Making a passenger train also a freight train compelling its passengers to be delayed at every station while freight is being put off and taken on, is not at all satisfactory to the general public.

CANIFTON NOTES.

Canifton, July 15.—A grand reception was given to Rev. H. I. Allen and Mrs. Allen on Wednesday evening. About sixty persons were present all sitting down to a well spread table provided by the guests. Among the guests were the Revs. S. McCauly, J. Ferguson, H. F. Ostrom W.G. Hudgins. Many expressions were offered hoping the year would be a pleasant and a prosperous one. Rev. Messrs. Allen and McCauly have commenced work in good earnest. Rev. Mr. McCauly preached here last Sabbath evening, Rev. Mr. Allen will preach next Sabbath evening, 20th inst., at 6.30 p.m.

It removes wrinkles and softens the skin. The regular use of Murray & Lanman's Florida Water at the toilet tends to prevent and remove wrinkles, the softness of the skin produced by its taking away the natural inclination of the cuticle to form into ridges and furrows.

Almost every person has some form of scrofulous poison latent in his veins. When this develops in scrofulous sores, ulcers, or eruptions or takes the form of rheumatism, or organic diseases, the suffering that ensues is terrible beyond description. Hence the gratitude of those who discover, as thousands yearly do that Ayer's Sarsaparilla will thoroughly eradicate this evil from the system.

DOWN IN DIXIE.

The wife of Mr. J. Kennedy, dealer in drugs in Dixie, was cured of a chronic cough by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. The best throat and lung healer known.

"It serves him right; he ought to have kept away", is what Mrs. Smiley of Rochester is reported to have said when told that her son George had been drowned.

BY FALSE PRETENCE.

HOW HILLIARD ALLISON ATTEMPTED TO OBTAIN A HORSE.

Hilliard Allison, a man well on in years once lived in this county, but the lapse of a quarter of a century, very nearly erased him from the memory of the present inhabitants of Hastings, and better would it have been had this pleasant state of affairs existed to the end. However, an evil conscience prompted the revival of old acquaintances, and Allison a few days ago returned to his former neighbors a millionaire—in his mind. He bought a bay horse from Mr. D. M. Hagerman, 6th con. of Rawdon, for $140, giving his note for three months, on the representation that he had bought the Bird farm in Sidney, for $3,500, and besides had an account with the Montreal Bank. As security for the horse he also gave Mr. Hagerman a chattel mortgage on four cows belonging to somebody else. Allison rode to town yesterday morning. The Chief of Police soon sized him up and concluded that there was something crooked. He heard of the transaction with Hagerman and learned during the afternoon that Allison had not bought the Bird property, nor had he any funds in the bank or anywhere else—in short it was proved that he obtained the horse at least under false pretences. Allison was arrested and Hagerman notified. Hagerman therfore came and took the animal home. Allison was then discharged, thinking, no doubt, that the little game didn't work very well in this section.

The Boss Show Coming.

The various dead walls and bill boards of the town and vicinity are ablaze with the pictorial paper, announcing the coming on Friday August 1st of King, Burke & Co's Great American Allied Shows, Museum and Trained Animal Exposition. That the people may be assured that this show is well worthy of patronage, the following from the Pittsburg Dispatch is quoted:

'King, Burk & Co.'s Show has come and gone, and has left behind, an impression that is more than usually favorable. It makes no pretentious display on the public streets and only parades with a single band chariot previous to the performances, consequently our citizens were but little prepared for the agreeable surprise that awaited them under the canvasses. The performances were one continuous round of pleasurable enjoyment from the commencement to the close, and we have never seen the many feats and specialities equalled in any other exhibition. The museum department contains a perfect wealth of wonders, and the three headed songstress, the electric lady, the four long haired sisters and other attractions excited the approbation of the thousands of visitors both day and evening.'

IN IRRITABILITY, RESTLESSNESS want of sleep, invalids will profit by contrasting the physiological nutritive method of furnishing the nervous system elements of repair as in Dr. Wheeler's Elixir of Phosphates and Calisya, with the practice of exhibiting stimulants and anodynes to spur up the tired nerves. The nutritive method is restorative and permanent, while stimulants and anodynes are temporary in effect, contribute nothing to build up, and are mischievous in inducing a train of habits that may wreck the general health.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Invalids distracted by indigestion and discouraged in their search for its remedy should make a trial of this never-failing medicine. A lady long a martyr to dyspeptic tortures, writes that Holloway's Pills made her feel as if a burden had been taken off her. Her spirits formerly low, have greatly improved; her capricious appetite has given place to that of healthy hunger; her dull, sick headache has departed, and gradually so marvellous a change has been effected that she is altogether a new creature, and again fit for her duties. These pills may be administered with safety to the most delicate. They never act harshly, nor do they ever induce weakness; they rightly direct deranged, and control excessive action.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally and the Ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceeding efficacious. When influenza is epidemic this treatment is the easiest, safest, and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of saving suffering when any one is afflicted with cold, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints by which so many persons are seriously and permanently afflicted in most countries.

AFTER USING.

Wonderful! Wonderful!

Thousands of young men are exclaiming the above every day, after using DR. LAMARTINE'S MOUSTACHE GROWER. Positively the only reliable preparation ever offered to the public. A trial will convince the most skeptical. Beware of bogus imitations. Sent postpaid, in plain wrapper, on receipt of price, $1.00 per box. C. ALLENE, Box 13, London, Ont., Sole Agent for U. S. and Canada.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs: none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.

"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me. HORACE FAIRBROTHER."

Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute.

"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours, MRS. EMMA GEDNEY."

159 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effectual remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried. A. J. CRANE."

Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. JOSEPH WALDEN."

Byhalia, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles. E. BRAGDON."

Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.

LOVE'S LOTTERY

OR,

THE RIVAL SISTERS.

Eagerly Eustace Belmore's seized it, and with shaking hands focussed it to suit his sight.

A exclamation burst from his lips.

The first object he beheld was the half-sisters standing arm clasped in arm, looking landward.

He stood riveted, unable to remove his gaze.

Suddenly he beheld a man approach the sisters from behind.

The distance was great, but he perceived Pauline turn, and also remarking their fellow passenger, fall as if in terror upon Juliette's neck.

Though he could not hear, he guessed the cry that escaped her lips.

The man was Stuart Loring.

The cry uttered by Pauline was echoed bp Eustace Belmore.

A cry!

Nay, it was rather a shriek of horror, of agony at his impotency

She was not alone.

The man, his rival, was there.

A plot—yes, a plot.

Flinging forth his arms, he staggered wildly forward, then fell to the ground in a fit.

At the same moment, one of the men, who at the offer of a hundred pounds had slipped from the group, came running back to say if the gentleman could show any just cause the San Francisco might be signalled to stop.

Would the gentleman wish it?

But the gentleman was beyond all power of wishing.

Senseless he was carried to an hotel, where the fit speedily gave place to fever and delirium.

CHAPTER XVII.

ON BOARD THE SAN FRANCISCO—STUART LORING PLAYS WINNING CARDS WITH JULIETTE.

Pauline's horror at discovering close to side the man she most dreaded on earth, and whom she believed they had left far away in London, is impossible to describe.

So overwhelmed was she by his abrupt appearance, that losing self control, uttering a cry of alarm, she sank on her sister's shoulder clinging to the Creole as for protection.

Juliette's amazement almost equalled her companion's

Not to her horror.

Her self-reliant, proud nature, was incapable of feeling that of anyone, even Stuart Loring, upon such slight foundations; besides after the conversation at her aunt's reception, her feelings regarding the American were variable, and changed with her thoughts; nevertheless, she was startled by his being on board.

Why, and how did it happen, that he should be quitting England at the same time they were doing so?

All about this man—what she had heard, what she had seen, was mysterious.

The glance of her dark eyes as she inclined her head rather distantly to Stuart Loring, formed the interrogation her lips held by politeness, would not have put.

The American understood and led up to answer it.

'I fear Miss Beauchamp,' he remarked, stepping a little back, and speaking in a tone singularly musical and full of respectful contrition, that my unexpected appearance has startled your sister. Will you ask her to accept my sincere apologies?'

His bearing was so gentlemanly, so really pained, that Juliette could not help feeling annoyed at Pauline, and quickly having fully recovered her presence of mind she said—

'Rather, Mr. Loring, permit me to offer my sister's excuse. Pardon her, she is of a nervous temperament; and certainly you are the last person whom she would have expected to see here.'

'As I am also the last person who, himself expected to be, Miss Beauchamp,' he smiled. 'Yesterday morning, I had no intention of quitting England. About noon, a telegram reached me demanding my presence in America upon business of so important a nature that my future welfare depends upon it. I started at once never dreaming of the happiness in store for me,' and he bowed gracefully, 'in my fellow passengers. But forgive me,' he added, with mock restraint; 'the happiness I perceive is not reciprocal. My presence apparently annoyes your sister. I will withdraw, deeply regretting that where I would do so much to create a pleasanter, a more flittering sensation, I produce but,' he paused, then concluded a little haughtily 'aversion—nay, terror.'

Juliette felt the blood rush to her cheek at the American's most just remark.

She threw greater civility into her accents than she otherwise would, as she replied, after one glance at Pauline, who having glided from her, was leaning over the ship's side, gazing still landward—

'Do not commit an act of injustice, I pray you Mr. Loring, by calling the nervous timidity of a sensitive nature by such hard words. As one who has been Lady Dudley's guest, I ask you to excuse my sister, who is far from well to day.'

'For Miss Beauchamp to ask is at once to be obeyed,' responded the American, bowing, to hide the fierce light that gleamed in his piercing eyes.

IMPORTANT TO RUPTURED PERSONS

The Excelsior Rupture Treatment was introduced to the American people several years ago in such a manner as to completely secure the confidence of the whole nation. The mode of introduction was by furnishing the remedy to those afflicted with Hernia in any of its various forms and collecting no pay until a permanent cure was effected. In this way the treatment gained a world wide reputation on its own merits, never failing to cure any reducible Hernia. The Company has at the solicitation of thousands placed the remedy on sale by all druggists both wholesale and retail, in the United States, Canada and England. In this way bringing it within the reach of all classes at a trifling cost compared with the benefit which are derived from the use of the treatment. Ask your druggist for a free book on rupture or send 6 cts. for one to the Excelsior Rupture Cure M'f'g Co., Ogdensburg, N. Y.

Vital Questions.!

Ask the most eminent physician
Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?
And they will tell you unhesitatingly
"Some form of Hops! ! !"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians:
"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, diabetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—
"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu !"
Ask the same physicians
"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.." and they will tell you :
Mandrake! or Dandelion !"
Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable,
And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is Harmless to the most frail wom n, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

CHAPTER II.

"Patients
"Almost dead or nearly dying"
For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.
Women have gone nearly crazy ! ! ! !
From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.
People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic, or suffering from scrofula.
Erysipelas!
"Saltrheum, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact, almost all diseases frail"
Nature is heir to
Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.

☞None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile poisonous stuff with 'Hop' or 'Hops' in their name.

ON THIRTY DAYS' TRIAL.

The VOLTAIC BELT Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous de ty, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above,—N B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty day's tria is allowed.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY

is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk ; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co's, own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

"Twenty-four years experience, says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the Generative organs is to repair the wasted by giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box, 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas, Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward he goods free by mail, and send their written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See adv't in nother column

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in th market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all Druggists.

WARREN LELAND,

whom everybody knows as the successful manager of the

Largest Hotel Enterprises

of America, says that while a passenger from New York on board a ship going around Cape Horn, in the early days of emigration to California, he learned that one of the officers of the vessel had cured himself, during the voyage, of an obstinate disease by the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Since then Mr. LELAND has recommended AYER'S SARSAPARILLA in many similar cases, and he has never yet heard of its failure to effect a radical cure.

Some years ago one of Mr. LELAND's farm laborers bruised his leg. Owing to the bad state of his blood, an ugly scrofulous swelling or lump appeared on the injured limb. Horrible itching of the skin, with burning and darting pains through the lump, made life almost intolerable. The leg became enormously enlarged, and running ulcers formed, discharging great quantities of extremely offensive matter. No treatment was of any avail until the man, by Mr. LELAND's direction, was supplied with AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, which allayed the pain and irritation, healed the sores, removed the swelling, and completely restored the limb to use.

Mr. LELAND has personally used

for Rheumatism, with entire success; and, after careful observation, declares that, in his belief, there is no medicine in the world equal to it for the cure of Liver Disorders, Gout, the effects of high living, Salt Rheum, Sores, Eruptions, and all the various forms of blood diseases.

We have Mr. LELAND's permission to invite all who may desire further evidence in regard to the extraordinary curative powers of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to see him personally either at his mammoth Ocean Hotel, Long Branch, or at the popular Leland Hotel, Broadway, 27th and 28th Streets, New York.

Mr. LELAND's extensive knowledge of the good done by this unequalled eradicator of blood poisons enables him to give inquirers much valuable information.

TO THE WHITE ELEPHANT.

(Washington Hatchet.)

The sarate mumped through the pallymygan,
And the jucaluc sat in the ting,
And the justimycarty just got up and ran,
When it heard the megiticoy sing.

Oh, the ellyfasoo and the kastymaf
Played mumblepeg down on the green;
And the zemotinastisus set up a laugh
At the tricks of the buddlgbazeen.

The astortrenoti went down to the knuck
In the jimmy with ubbledezo
To play mezztyma, and had such great luck
That it won many dompledo.

The little black elephant came in the night
To play with the furyseemo,
When sly Tody Hamilton painted in white
For the equescurriculum show.

BEECHER'S BOOKS.

HOW THE POPULAR PREACHER SPENDS HIS MONEY.

Mr. Beecher has directed his manager, Mr. Pond, to book an extensive lecturing tour for next year. Mr. Beecher's salary is $20,000 per annum. He annually receives double the sum from his lectures and a large additional sum from his pen. He is not rich, however. He keeps open house (with his son, with whom he resides), and gives, loans, and indorses and does other unbusiness-like things constantly at a heavy loss to his treasury. It is said that beyond his farm at Peekskill, the house and stock thereon, and his library and bric-a-brac there and at Brooklyn, the great word painter has nothing to show for his large income for each of very many years. His library is so large that it is now being catalogued with a view of making a sale therefrom. He has expended, it is estimated, $130,000 in books, and as many more given him by publishers. His house at Peekskill, built not long since Mr. Beecher says has cost him $40,000. Others who watch business matters closer and are familiar with its growth, say that $70,000 would be nearer the correct sum.

His cows are all Alderneys, and the herd is believed to be worth $15,000 or 18,000. His farm and its manner of running and even hospitality is enough to itself to absorb a large income. It is yet somewhat encumbered. His collection of bric-a-brac would make a large and fashionable museum. The paints, bronzes, printing, statuary, anything beautiful in shape or color, find a worshipper in Mr. Beecher, and it is said that he cannot go through the streets of New York or Brooklyn without becoming a purchaser, heroically as he may labor to resist and avert his eyes from the tempting show window. —[Itarca Journal.

A TOUCHING STORY.

Chicago Tribune.

'No, I won't drink with you to-day, said a drummer to several companions as they settled down in a smoking car and passed the bottle. 'The fact is, boys, I have quit drinking, I've sworn off.' 'What is the matter with you, old boy?' sang out one. 'If you've quit drinking something's up. What is it?' 'Well, boys, I will tell you. Yesterday I was in Chicago. Down on South Clark Street a customer of mine keeps a pawnshop in connection with his other business. I called on him, and while I was there a young man of not more than 25, wearing threadbare clothes, and looking as hard as if he hadn't seen a sober day for a month, came in with a little package in his hand. He unwrapped it and handed the article to the pawnbroker, saying, 'Give me ten cents.' And, boys, what do you suppose it was? A pair of baby shoes ; little things with the bottoms only a trifle soiled, as if they had been worn only once or twice. 'Where did you get those?' asked the pawnbroker. 'Got 'em at home,' replied the man, who had had an intelligent face and the manner of a gentleman, despite his sad condition. 'My wife bought them for our baby. Give me ten cents for 'em—I want a drink.' 'You had better take the shoes back to your wife ; the baby will need them, said the pawnbroker. 'No, she won't, because she's dead. She's lying at home now—died last night.' As he said this the poor fellow broke down, bowed his head on the show case and cried like a child. Boys,' said the drummer, 'you my laugh it you please ; but I—I have a baby at home, and I swear I'll never drink another drop.'

SUPERANNUATION OF TEACHERS.

The Globe.

From correspondence that reached this office it appears that the impression was derived from our former article on this subject that the abolition of the Superannuation Fund for teachers would deprive those already on the Fund of the support they now receive. We may as well state that we never advocated the sacrifice of what may be called their vested right—that is the right already admitted by the Legislature for providing for the superannuated teacher. Indeed we believe no one ever entertained such an idea. All that has ever been stated is that no further contributions will be asked, but the reservation was always made that the fund should be continued so long as those already retired had any claim upon it.

The only conditions on which we think the Superannuation Fund for Teachers could be fairly abolished are the following :

1. That all those already superannuated would be permitted to receive their present allowance so long as they were entitled to do so under the law as it now stands.

2. That those who have continued in the profession in the expectation of retiring on a pension should be allowed at their own option to make such payments into the fund as the Education Department might require.

3. That those who were obliged by law to contribute to the fund should have their contributions returned if they so desire.

4. That no contribution be received from any person after due notice that the fund was to be abolished.

SAVED FROM A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Unto May I had spent at least five hundred dollars in treatment by many of the best medical men without benefit. My mouth became badly ulcerated, sores breaking out on my neck and legs. I also suffered excruciatingly with Rheumatism, grew very despondent, and my best friends advised me that the icy hand of death was fast approaching. I caught at Shaker Blood Syrup like drowning man catches at a straw. After taking two bottles I could feel the change for the better. The sores began to discharge freely, and Rheumatism to abate. When I had taken six bottles every sore had healed and my skin began to assume a natural appearance. I persisted until I had taken twelve, and there is not a symptom of the disease remaining, and I feel as well as I ever did. I have gained twenty-one pounds in flesh, and my friends wonder at my improved condition. I have recommended it to many, and in every instance with complete success. I believe that Shaker Blood Syrup has saved me from a horrible death.

T. S. Cannon South Boston Mass.

In 1878 I was the victim of terrible Blood Poison, and after being treated by three physicians was confined to my bed, not able to raise my hand to my head, spiting up clots of blood and reduced in weight from one hundred and eighty-five to one hundred and thirty pounds. I then began the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, and in less than three months I was entirely well, weighing one hundred and ninety-six pounds, and have never had a symptom of the disease since. If it had not been for Shaker Syrup I believe I would have been in my grave.

THE MUSKOKA ELECTION.

Special despatches received here from Toronto say that Dill, the Reform candidate, has been elected for Muskoka by acclamation The nomination took place yesterday.

Later despatches say that the hour for receiving nominations having expired the returning officer declared Mr. Dill duly elected. Immediately thereafter Mr. McEachern, the Conservative nominee, was nominated, and great excitement followed. The returning-officer at Mr. Dill's request decided to accept the nomination of Mr. McEachern, who was not present. His absence is inexplicable.

Jacob W. Dill, is a prominent merchant at Bracebridge, of which place he has been a resident for about fifteen years. By strict integrity sound judgment, and close attention to business during that period of time, he has achieved business success. On settling in Muskoka, Mr. Dill at once took a lively interest in all that affected the welfare of the district, A place in the school board and municipal council was given him, and for the last seven years he has been Reeve. The position gave him a seat in the Victoria County Council, and so highly was his worth and ability valued therein, that in 1882 he was elected Warden of the County of Victoria. For several years he has been Treasurer and Director of the District Agricultural Society. Of all the friends that the pioneer settlers have had, none are respected more highly or more richly deserve respect than is Jacob W. Dill, the coming M. P. P., for Muskoka and Parry Sound.

It will be fresh in the minds of readers of the public prints how Muskoka was induced to give Fauquier, the Tory nominee, an apparent majority. How Shields, the shameless, went into the constituency with his little trunk and his stock of frozen whiskey with the deliberate intention of debauching the electorate. Fauquier himself acted so corruptly that upon being petitioned against he was in August last unseated and disqualified from exercising the franchise for seven years and this judgment was approved on appeal by the Court of Appeal. The vote in that election was:—

Fauquier - -	2278
Bettes - - -	2078
Majority for Fauquier	200

THE CHINESE AND THE WORKINGMEN.

We wish to point out the position of the Tory party towards the Chinese question and the workingmen, intending to show that the Dominion Government on every question and on every occasion is antagonistic to the workingmen whose votes gave them power in 1878. The attitude of the Government is very well set forth by the Tory organ at Brockville, which starts out with the following sentence:—

A great deal has been said and written about the ruinous influence of Chinese labor upon the wage earning white classes, but, upon analyzation, one cannot but be struck with the flimsy nature of the arguments which are used against the importation of Chinamen.

After glossing over the admittedly filthy customs and immoral habits of the Chinese the organ impudently asserts:—

The enemies of cheap Chinese labor are invariably the improvident and lazy whites. The chief objection to the Celestials is that they are models of industry and sobriety.

The writer in trying to excuse the conduct of the Dominion Government thus insults every workingman in Canada. Are the members of the Trades Council of the City of Toronto improvident and lazy! Yet never within the walls of that assembly, was a policy denounced in more scathing language than that admitting the importation of Chinese. "Models of industry and sobriety!" Has industry one meaning in election time and another when a wrong policy is to be defended! How many such industrious and sober opium-eaters would the organ wish to have in Brockville, and how much patronage or how many subscriptions would it expect from these gentle inoffending models! Perhaps it would run a Chinese column for their edification through which they might be taught that the great and good John A. was in power at Ottawa and not King Kalakua. Then the Tory organ proceeds to contrast these opium-eaters with Canadian workmen, adjudging the palm to the filthy interlopers in this wise:—

Their tastes are simple, and they consider themselves affluent when receiving pay that would barely purchase whiskey and tobacco for the unprotected (?) white laborers.

It is splendid form just now for the supporters of Sir John Macdonald to deride and jeer insolently at the Canadian workman, placing him beneath the unspeakably Woo Chin Foo, but when votes are wanted such sentiments are suppressed and an unlimited stock of "taffy" is drawn on.

This journal is also discovering that the N. P. has no good effect on the wages of the manual laborers:—

Like every other market, the law of supply and demand regulates the prices in the labor market. It is a violation of the principles of sound political economy to restrict the labor market, and prevent the same competition which exists in every other feature of buying and selling.

So at length the policy of the Dominion Government on the Chinese question necessitates the study of political economy, but the inconsistent heretics apply one rule to labor and another and unjust one to capital.

It is sufficient to quote the conclusion of this article. Comment is needless.

It is often said, with some show of truth, that a government which has adopted for its guidance the motto "Canada for the Canadians" is bound to protect Canadian laborers against imported labor from China. The weakness of the arguments which are used in support of this demand for protection must be apparent to everyone. With as much reason might we demand the restriction of Irish, Scotch or English immigration. The laborers who cross the Atlantic, by every steamship, in search of Canadian employment, interfere with our home labor market, proportionally, as much as these who cross the Pacific.

The policy of the Dominion Government has been to decline to discourage Chinese immigration, and in fact to encourage it by sanctioning the employment of the Chinese on the great national railway. The British Columbia Legislature recognizing that the best interests of the Province were imperilled by this influx passed an act excluding the Chinese, but the Dominion Government vetoed it and said, "you must allow the Chinese to come in," and the vermin are coming in by the thousand. They haven't reached Brockville yet, but may shortly. Sir John Macdonald has no sympathy with this Chinese competition with white labor. The Premier said last year that he understood the cry against Chinese immigration to come from "a few workingmen in Victoria who want to keep the labor market to themselves." And these very workingmen were the hon. gentleman's own constituents in the last Parliament. Verily ingratitude could go no further.

By assisting mechanics to enter the country from the east and encouraging the entrance of the obnoxious Chinese in the west Sir John Macdonald is showing the workingmen of Canada how sincere is his friendship.

CANADIAN NOTES.

In the Levis contested election yesterday, the sitting member, Mr. J. N. Belleau tendered his resignation, having admitted charges of bribery by agents.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Booth of Hamilton have been plunged into the deepest grief by the sad death by drowning of their only son Joseph, a bright little lad of 7 years and a half old.

Thomas Wansbrough, a farmer living two miles from the village of Erin, Ont., committed suicide by cutting his throat with a pocket knife, on Tuesday evening. Business reverses are supposed to have led to the insane act,

John Graham, a Salvation Army soldier of St. Thomas, stole $67 from a fellow boarder's trunk the other night. Graham was one of the fellows who attended the barracks nightly and during the services kept crying out:—"Bless the Lord I'm saved."

TO BE TRIED.

TORONTO, July 17.—Thompson and Reid the two boys charged with causing the death of Martin, at a lacrosse match, and discharged by the coroner's jury, were arrested yesterday on a warrant issued at the request of County Crown Attorney Fenton, who will make them stand their trial before a jury for the killing. Thompson about a year ago accidentally killed a boy named Ross.

SENTENCED TO DEATH.

SLIGO, July 17—Michael Muldowney, an ex-constable, has been sentenced to death for assisting in the murder of Doherty, a farmer, in '81, while the latter was guarding the residence of the Under-Secretary for Ireland, and having joined secret societies. Muldowney protested his innocence and charged the Crown with attempting to suborn witnesses from America.

GORDON REPORTED SAFE.

LONDON July 17,—The Mudir of Massala reports that Gen. Gordon was safe on April 27, when he repulsed the rebel attacks. The Khedive has intrusted Col. Mason with the task of evacuating East Soudan.

SHOT THROUGH THE HEART.

TWO YOUNG MEN FIGHT A DUEL IN THEIR ROOM.

DALLAS, Tex., July 15.—Last night W. H. Beale and Bowie Strange, prominent young men of Dallas, were lying dead in a room in the third storey of the National Hotel in this city. Strange was partly dressed, and Beale was stripped except his undergarments, showing that they fought as they were about to retire for the night. The pistol of each was by his side. Both were shot through the head. The dead is shrouded in mystery. The young men were devoted friends, but are said to have hard words a few minutes before the tragedy.

THE SONG OF A SHIRT.

NEW YORK, July 16.—John Logan of 28 South Fifth avenue asked his wife to give him a clean shirt last night. She did so, and he then suggested that she should go out and get a can of beer to celebrate the putting on of the shirt. Mrs. Logan declined to do so in vigorous language. When policeman McDermott was called he found Mr. and Mrs. Logan in a state of chaos. They were arrested for disorderly conduct and he and his wife were taxed $10.

PROHIBITION EXCITEMENT.

MARSHALTOWN, Iowa, July 16.—There is great excitement here over the arrest of a woman for the violation of the prohibition law. The mob threatened to demolish the jail, when the woman was released an bail. Dire threats are made against the lives and property of informers.

Neglected Colds, Pain in the Chest and all cases of the lungs, are cured by using Allen's Lung Balsam. See Advertisement.

FROM THE MARATIME PROVINCES Comes a host of testimonials as to the Magic Corn and Wart cure—Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. We select from the list of names before us that of Henry Taylor, Esq., Halifax, probably the most widely known druggist in the lower provinces. Mr Taylor has no hesitation in saying "that in an experience of twenty years he has handled nothing that has given the universal satisfaction that Putnam's Corn Extractor invariably does." It never fails, it is painless, prompt and produces no discomfort Beware of imitations and substitutes. Polson & Co., Kingston, propra.

CONSPIRACY REVELATIONS.

Meredith and the Bribers at one on the Timber Policy.

INCRIMINATORY TELEGRAMS GONE.

TORONTO, July 17—When the Royal Commission opened yesterday, W. P. Hudson, M.P.P. for East Hastings, stated that he attended three Conservative caucuses at the Mail office last session. He knew nothing about the timber question, and never heard the bribery conspiracy mentioned at a caucus.

H. P. Dwight, of the G.N.W. Telegraph Company, stated that the messages asked for by the Government had been destroyed months ago.

A. P. Ross, member for Cornwall, had attended three caucuses while the session was in progress. The witness was afflicted with a remarkably slender memory, which enabled him to reply with a 'can't recollect' to Mr. Blake's most searching questions. He, however, half believed that the timber question had been up in the second caucus. He did not know 'Big Push' Wilkinson, but was acquainted with C. W. Bunting.

John Broder, the member for Dundas, was next questioned about the caucuses. All he could remember was that the first caucus resulted in the election of Mr. Monk, of Carleton, as Opposition 'whip.' He believed the members had 'counted noses' and considered whether Messrs. Neelon and Hart would go with the Conservatives' and after the caucus, Lees, the Tory Independent from Lanark, remarked that he had heard some of the Reform lumbermen were dissatisfied with the Government's timber policy. Mr. Broder took no stock in this assertion. He had met Wilkinson in the first part of the session. At the last caucus after the bribery revelations, Mr. Meredith produced a resolution which he had previously prepared, condemning the Government's timber policy. The caucus thought that after the revelations it would be unwise to follow out the line indicated by Kirkland.

P. Baskervile, the Conservative member for Ottawa possessed a memory which was a complete blank as regards the transactions in the caucus. With Wilkinson he was not acquainted but knew Bunting.

Monk, the Conservative whip, had a perfect wreck of a memory. All the queries touching the caucus transactions were obscured in a hazy cloud of forgetfulness.

Dauid H. Winera, Cobourg, a friend of Wilkinson, was examined as to the ex-missionary's present location. He would not say where he was now, but believed he was at Calgary.

Lachlain McCallum, Dominion member for Monk, had visited Toronto while the Assembly was sitting last winter. In conversation he asked Mr. Harcourt, M.P.P. for Monk, if there was and chance for a Coalition Government being formed. Harcourt laughed at the idea, and McCallum assured him that if he thought of entering a Coalition Ministry he was sure Monk would reelect him by acclamation.

DEATH FROM LOCKJAW.

A LITTLE BOY DIES FROM STUBBING HIS TOE.

HAMILTON, July 17.—Some two weeks ago a little 6-year-old boy named Jeremiah Leonard, laborer residing at 67 Walnut street, struck his toe while barefoot, as he was entering the house from the back yard. The hurt was right between the big and second toes of the of his right foot. His mother polticed the part from time to time, thinking it was getting all right. On Saturday she bought him a new pair of boots, but he could not wear them, and took them off again. On Sunday evening and Monday morning he got considerably worse, and Dr. Griffin was sent for. By this time the boy was unable to open his mouth, tetanus or lockjaw, having set in. Drs. Wilson and Shaw were then called in also, but the boy was past medical aid, and yesterday he died.

A STARTLING DISCOVERY.

Mr. Wm. Johnston, of Huron, Dak., writes that his wife had been troubled with acute Bronchitis for many years, and that all remedies tried gave no permanent relief, until he procured a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, which has a magical effect, and produced a permanent cure. It is guaranteed to cure all Diseases of Throat, Lungs, or Bronchial Tubes.

IN IRRITABILITY, RESTLESSNESS, want of sleep, invalids will profit by contrasting the physiological nutritive method of furnishing the nervous system elements of repair as in Dr. Wheeler's Elixir of Phosphates and Calisya, with the practice of exhibiting stimulants and anodynes to spur up the tired nerves. The nutritive method is restorative and permanent, while stimulants and anodynes are temporary in effect, contribute nothing to build up, and are mischievous in inducing a train of habits that may wreck the general health.

BITTEN BY A RATTLESNAKE.

James Riley Doses Himself Copiously With Whiskey.

BUT FAILS TO SAVE HIS LIFE.

NEW YORK, July 15.—James Riley had a show under canvas in the eastern part of the city. At 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon twenty exhibitions had been given, and in order to stimulate the curiosity of the crowd and to prove to them that the things were alive took one of his rattlesnakes in his hand and went out to exhibit it to the crowd Mr. Reilly is a muscular man of medium height. His friends say that he is a man of dauntless nerve and that he never drinks. The snakes were kept altogether in a large square box with a glass cover. Mr. Reilly has owned them little more than a year, and during that time they have been fed but once. Mr Clark, the manager, said they only needed to when each of them swallowed a live rabbit or pigeon whole, having first charmed it. The smallest of the three rattlers had recently shed his skin and was getting hungry. During morning he had showed signs of ugliness, and when Reilly took him out of the box to exhibit him outside the tent, the snake made an attempt to bite him, which it had never done before. Clark called Reilly's attention to it and told him to be careful, but the latter grasped it firmly by the neck and laughingly remarked. 'I can squeeze worse than he can bite.' Then he went outside the tent with the snake wrapped around his neck, holding it firmly with his right hand just below the head. In a short time several hundred people gathered around as the snake charmer played with his dangerous pet. Among the spectators were three young fellows somewhat elevated with the beer they had drunk. They guyed the snake charmer, asked him who pulled the snake's teeth out, and whether it was not to old to eat hay. Reilly became irritated, and replied angrily. He was holding the snake over a large table with both hands. To emphasise his remarks, he let go with one hand, dropping the body of the snake on the table. As he did so the grip of his right hand which was about the snake's neck, was loosened.

EAT ONCE A YEAR

QUICK AS A FLASH.

the snake's head darted out. His half closed eyes flashed fire. His jaws opened wide, and, before Reilly was aware of his danger, the snake's fangs were buried in the back of his right hand, between the thumb and forefinger. The crowd yelled and fell back, thinking that the snake would be dropped among them, but Reilly was not that kind of a man. With his left hand he pulled the snake back into his former position, and, renewing the firm hold of his wounded hand, carried him into the tent and replaced him among his brothers. Fully 200 persons crowded in after him, while Clarke ran for assistance. Reilly had told Clark that a bite from the snakes was sure death, and he repeated this to the crowd around him. After he had succeeded in emptying the tent he went over to the hotel and drank glass after glass of strong whiskey. Meanwhile Clark had been vainly searching for a physician. He returned in half an hour accompanied by six policemen, carrying a stretcher. Reilly encouraged and advised by all around him, had been steadily drinking whiskey, and when his partner arrived the bar keeper said he had taken more than half a pint, He was placed on the stretcher and taken to the police station. While he was waiting for an ambulance there Dr. Case was called in. He approved of and administered as much more as could be forced down, at the same time making deep incisions in the man's hand in the neighborhood of the wound. Dr. Case said that the depression of the action of the heart was amazing. The man was almost pulseless. Reilly, who was semi-unconscious when he was not drinking whiskey, mechanically sucked his wound. He had been doing so ever since the snake bit him. The physicians at the Ninety-ninth Street Hospital, where he arrived at 6 o'clock, said that the only thing which could have assured his recovery would have been prompt amputation of the right hand. The wound was very deep. Nothing could then be done for him but to continue the treatment of stimulants already begun. Whiskey was poured steadily down his throat, and frequent injections of the liquor were made under the skin in order that the alcohol might the more rapidly mingle with the blood.

THE WHISKEY TREATMENT

At 11 o'clock Reilly was very low. A puffy, dropsical-like swelling had risen to a height of several inches over the wound and was gradually extending up the forearm as the poison penetrated more and more into the system. The unfortunate showman died last night. The body presented a horrible appearance.

A BARBER'S BARGAIN.

George Wilson of Gananoque Elopes with Mary Lyons.

AIDED BY A STOLEN HORSE.

HAMILTON, July 17.—Constable Greeniser of Gannoque, arrived here yesterday to take George Wilson, the barber who ran away from that town with a horse and buggy and a girl named Maggie Lyons. Wilson hired a horse and buggy from Levi Williams, of Gananoque, on Wednesday night of last week saying he was going up the road to be married to Miss Mary Lyons. He drove straight through, and at some place near Toronto traded the horse for another. The Gananoque horse was worth $124, and Wilson got a little cash in the trade. The horse he sold to Mr. Taylor here was the one he got for the horse he had stolen. Mr. Greenisor recognized the buggy. The girl is 21 years old and Wilson is 40. They are not married yet. Wilson is said to have been in Penitentiary in 1877 under the name of Baker. The constable took him back to Gananoque last night and the girl's father will probably send for her.

ASSESSMENT APPEALS.

Judge Fralick this morning heard four appeals against the assessment of the city of Belleville as confirmed by the Court of Revision, which he decided with one exception, when judgment was reserved until Monday. Rev. Mgr. Farrelly appealed against the assessment of $4,600 on the old hospital lot on the ground that it was bought for church property and should not be assessed at all. The deed was produced in the rev. gentleman's own name but the court decided that as the property was not now used for church purposes the lot should be assessed and the assessment was confirmed. S. J. White's appeal against the assessment of $300 on his income was dismissed, and a reduction of $50 was made on three of W. P. Taylor's lots. The others were allowed to stand. City Solicitor Henderson, under chap. 180 R.S.O. sec. 59 to 67, appealed against the decision of the Court of Revision in exempting the opera house assessment of $13,000. Mr. W. N. Ponton, Secretary for the company dissented. Judgment was reserved until Monday.

MR. FLINT SWORN IN

As Police Magistrate of the City of Belleville.

CONGRATULATED BY THE BAR.

John James Bleecker Flint, Esq., the new Police Magistrate, received his commission yesterday from Toronto, and was sworn in by Wm. H. Ponton, Commissioner per dedimus potestatem. Mr. Flint's appointment dates 8th July. This morning he occupied the bench for the first time.

Ald. W. J. Diamond, on behalf of the bar, congratulated Mr. Flint on his appointment, which was not only a good one but one every member of the bar was delighted to see. He hoped the incumbent would live long to enjoy the position and trusted that there would never be any occasion to mar the good feeling which now existed between the Magistrate and the bar.

The Magistrate—I thank you very much for the kind sentiments you have expressed. My desire will be in the future to preserve that good feeling which I know exists between myself and the members of the Bar, and in accepting this position I am sure I do so with the best wishes of my old confreres. As I am only a novice in this position I will have to rely to a certain extent on the members of the Bar and my friends, but I have no fear of filling it in any but a satisfactory manner. If I can only fill the position as my predecessor, the late Mr. Holden did, I will be satisfied, and I am sure the citizens of this city will be pleased likewise. In the administration of justice it is my intention to follow as closely in his footsteps as possible.

The court then proceeded to business.

SWIFTLY WE FLY.

Gliding, gleaming, speeding along,
Waking the echoes with shout and song,
Swiftly we fly,
Cycle and I
Making the woodlands ring, hurrah!
With the gladsome joy that we bring, hurrah!
Even the birds pause in their flight,
Watching us speed, so swift from sight.

Away from the struggle and strife and sin,
Out of the city's war and din,
Cycle and I
Swiftly fly,
Leaving behind all care, hurrah!
Booyant and free as the air, hurrah!
Racing with squirrels at break of day,
Like a sunbeam out on a runaway.

Swift as a bird, on pinions fleet,
Under the trees where the branches meet,
Swiftly we fly
Cycle and I,
Happy at noon or night, hurrah!
With a reckless, mad delight, hurrah!
Born of the shining steed of steel,
The pride and joy of the knights of the wheel.

DEATH OF THE FATHER OF PRESBYTERIANISM IN CANADA.

Montreal, July 17.—The death of the Rev. Mr. Fraser which took place Tuesday night at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. John Caldwell, removes one who will be missed. Mr. Fraser may be said to have been the father of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. He was ordained in 1819 in connection with the Relief Church of Scotland, and was for some time minister in Dalkeith. In 1827 he came to Canada, and became pastor of the Presbyterian congregation in connection with the Church of Scotland, in the town of Niagara

A FATAL FIRE.

A Toronto Fireman Meets Death at the Post of Duty.

SIX OTHERS PAINFULLY INJURED.

Toronto, July 17.—At a fire last night fireman Albert Gilbert was killed amid falling ruins and half a dozen of his comrades injured. A fire had broken out in the hay-loft of the stable behind T. Hall's grocery and butcher shop, at the southeast corner of Parliament and Sydenham Streets. The stable adjoins the store on the latter street. Four or five streams were got promptly to work, and in less than half an hour all prospect of the fire spreading outside the stable proper was past. A roughcast dwelling adjoining the stable was singed pretty badly about the edge of the side roof. At 11 o'clock Assistant Chief Graham, Foreman Wm. Villiers of the Court Street reel, Foreman Frank Smith of the Court Street hooks, Charlie Ardagh (Chief Ardagh's son) of the same wagon, J. Smith of Berkeley Street, John Thompson of Wilton avenue, the unfortunate Gilbert and a couple of others were on the ground floor of the stable, doing good work. No danger was apprehended from above. The street outside was jammed full of people, and a loud cry went up from the mass when the floor and beams of the left fell on top of the men on the ground floor. There was not a very loud crash, but no sooner had it died out than there was from the ruins. First Foreman Villiers staggered out on to Sydenham street. He was followed by Foreman Smith and Chief Graham. Then Thompson and and John Smith crept out. The groans of some unfortunate could still be heard in the rubbish. After half an hour's hard work, Charlie Ardagh was rescued. He was pinned to the floor by a large beam. A shout of joy went up from the crowd as Charlie was carried into the store, apparently unhurt. His father was soon at his side. Charlie spoke to those around him, and complained of pains in his thigh, chest and back, but it was found that no bones were broken. The chief at once removed him to his home the ambulance having been sent for.

A CRY FOR HELP

ONE MISSING

By this time the fire was completely out, and the different foremen began to call the roll for their men. Foreman Smith soon found that Albert Gilbert was missing, Chief Graham, who was sitting in the store moaning from a pain in the back, said he was sure Gilbert was standing close to him when the floor fell. Others said he had returned to his hall. A dilligent search was at once begun. There were large quantities of smoked hay, made heavy and sticky with water lying around. The beam under which Charlie Ardagh was found was raised. Willing hands pulled the hay rapidly away in tufts, and at exactly 12.30 this morning the lifeless body of poor Gilbert was found on the bottom of the floor. In his hand was one of the hooks with the heavy handle broken about the middle. The heavy beam had struck him in the head breaking his neck. His hat was all stove in on one side. His death must of course been instantaneous. The remains were removed to the Court street hall.

In the destroyed stable were two valuable horses, both of which were burned to death.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Invalids distracted by indigestion and discouraged in their search for its remedy should make a trial of this never-failing medicine. A lady long a martyr to dyspeptic tortures, writes that Holloway's Pills made her feel as if a burden had been taken off her. Her spirits formerly low, have greatly improved; her capricious appetite has given place to that of healthy hunger; her dull, sick headache has departed, and gradually so marvellous a change has been effected that she is altogether a new creature, and again fit for her duties. These pills may be administered with safety to the most delicate. They never act harshly, nor do they ever induce weakness; they rightly direct deranged, and control excessive action.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally and the Ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceeding efficacious. When influenza is epidemic this treatment is the easiest, safest, and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of saving suffering when any one is afflicted with cold, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints by which so many persons are seriously and permanently afflicted in most countries.

AFTER USING.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs: none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.

"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me.

HORACE FAIRBROTHER."

Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute.

"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours,

MRS. EMMA GEDNEY."

159 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effectual remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried.

A. J. CRANE."

Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

JOSEPH WALDEN."

Byhalia, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles.

E. BRAGDON."

Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.

LOVE'S LOTTERY

OR,

THE RIVAL SISTERS.

The Creole inclined her queenly head; then, to put on the final touch to this amende honorable, and also as a sign she desired their converse to terminate, she extended her hand, saying—'I thank you, Mr. Loring.'

Stuart Loring taking her hand with the air of a courtier, slightly raised it to his lips.

Allow me to say before I leave,' he remarked,'that should you at any time stand in need of any service small or great, I shall not feel too honored if you would remember me. Until then I will not intrude on your, or your sister's presence.'

Saying which he withdrew.

Whereupon Juliette, puzzled by this man and her own sensations regarding him, vaguely conscious of darker hidden depths beneath that polite gentlemanly surface, yet in a measure, admiring him, rejoined her sister.

'Pauline,' she exclaimed in an accent that possessed more asperity than she had ever before used to her whom she addressed, 'how can you act so foolishly? You not only render both of us ridiculous, but place me in a most embarrassing position.'

'I am very sorry, dearest Juliette,' said the younger, raising her violet eyes with sweet contrition, 'but I could not help it. I cannot like that man.'

'In society there are many we meet who do not please us; nevertheless, politeness, and our own self-respect cause us to treat them at least with civility.'

'Ah, yes; but here it is more than dislike, it is fear. In his presence my frame thrills, my whole being seems to become weak, and helpless; even as in those dreams which at sight of him come thronging to my brain.'

'Hence the cause of those nervous thrills!' laughed Juliette, with an intonation of ridicule. 'Show to a child the forceps with which it's tooth was drawn, and shrieking it will experience all the pain again by recollection. Pray, how many words have you exchanged with Mr. Loring?'

'Not half-a-dozen.'

'Yet you judge him, and insult him, because of a chance resemblance to a brain creation.'

'Chance, It is marvelous,' shuddered the girl. 'It must be more than chance. Did you not yourself see it—own it at first?'

'Owned the resemblance, but it did not deprive me, I am glad to own, of all my reason. I had the sense to conquer the sensation, to force myself to learn more of Mr. Loring, and I find in time more to attract than to repel.'

'To me he cannot be ever different than he is now,' murmured the other plantively; 'a man to dread.'

'Pauline,' replied the other with sudden gravity, 'this is pure insanity; at least if not checked, it will end in it. Tell me. is this behavior to continue or so cease? If not the latter, we had better during our voyage keep our cabins. I will not again be a party to insulting one who has done us no harm.'

Why is he here Juliette? persisted Pauline; 'in the same vessel as ourselves?'

'Because, as ourselves he has been summoned by telegram back to America; a coincidence.'

Pauline shook her herd.

She was not to be convinced.

She however added—

'What would you have me do, Juliette?'

'Treat him with civility, no more. Firstly, because our aunt received him as a guest; secondly, because for some days we are compelled to be fellow passengers; For our own comfort as well as his, let this be so.'

'You would not have me talk to him? I could not, Juliette.'

'There is no necessity, you timid child,' laughed the Creole. 'If talking has to be done, I will do it. I do not fear him,' and the erection of her tall, graceful figure and the flash of her dark eyes showed that she did not.

With reluctance, Pauline finally agreed to her sister's desire, and twilight falling she took it as an excuse for repairing to her cabin, where in secret she wept over her fears for Eustace, imagining all earthly evils that could have occurred to have prevented his coming.

When next morning Pauline speared on deck, faithful to her promise she returned Stuart Loring's rather distant inclination, by a responsive bow.

Encouraged, he addressed her merely making some commonplace inquiry about her health.

Which question being answered, he instantly withdrew, wise not to press the advantage gained.

By Juliette's unconscious instrumentality, the thin edge of the wedge had been inserted, and no thin edge was so capable of resisting pressure, or so perilous.

Thus the good ship San Francisco sped like a white-winged bird over the ocean, and apparently all went merrily as a marriage bell.

By a subtle art possessed by few, and, keeping the power of will he owned in cautious abeyance, Stuart Loring so formed his manner as by degrees to gain almost a victory over Pauline's terror.

IMPORTANT TO RUPTURED PERSONS

The Excelsior Rupture Treatment was introduced to the American people several years ago in such a manner as to completely secure the confidence of the whole nation. The mode of introduction was by furnishing the remedy to those afflicted with Hernia in any of its various forms and collecting no pay until a permanent cure was effected. In this way the treatment gained a world wide reputation on its own merits, never failing to cure any reducible Hernia. The Company has at the solicitation of thousands placed the remedy on sale by all druggists both wholesale and retail, in the United States, Canada and England In this way bringing it within the reach of all classes at a trifling cost compared with the benefit which are derived from the use of the treatment. Ask your druggist for a free book on rupture or send 6 cts. for one to the Excelsior Rupture Cure M'f'g Co., Ogdensburg, N. Y.

Vital Questions.!

Ask the most eminent physician
Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?

And they will tell you unhesitatingly
"Some form of Hops! ! !"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians:
"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, debetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—

"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu !"

Ask the same physicians
"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.." and they will tell you :
Mandrake! or Dandelion !"

Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable.

And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is

Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

CHAPTER II.
"Patients
"Almost dead or nearly dying"

For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.

Women have gone nearly crazy ! ! ! !

From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.

People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic, or suffering from scrofula.

Erysipelas!

"Saltrheum, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact, almost all diseases frail"

Nature is heir to

Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.

None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile poisonous stuff with 'Hop' or 'Hops' in their name.

ON THIRTY DAYS' TRIAL.

The VOLTAIC BELT Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above,—N B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty day's trial is allowed.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk ; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co's. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

"Twenty-four years experience," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the Generative organs is to repair the wasteby giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes. accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas, Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward be goods free by mail, and send their written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See adv't in nother column

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, it is the cheapest in th market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all Druggists.

KING'S EVIL

Was the name formerly given to Scrofula because of a superstition that it could be cured by a king's touch. The world is wiser now, and knows that can only be cured by a thorough purification of the blood. If this is neglected, the disease perpetuates its taint through generation after generation. Among its earlier symptomatic developments are Eczema, Cutaneous Eruptions, Tumors, Boils, Carbuncles, Erysipelas, Purulent Ulcers, Nervous and Physical Collapse, etc. If allowed to continue, Rheumatism, Scrofulous Catarrh, Kidney and Liver Diseases, Tubercular Consumption, and various other dangerous or fatal maladies, are produced by it.

SCROFULA

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is the only powerful and always reliable blood-purifying medicine. It is so effectual an alterative that it eradicates from the system Hereditary Scrofula, and the kindred poisons of contagious diseases and mercury. At the same time it enriches and vitalizes the blood, restoring healthful action to the vital organs and rejuvenating the entire system. This great

Regenerative Medicine

Is composed of the genuine Honduras Sarsaparilla, with Yellow Dock, Stillingia, the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and other ingredients of great potency, carefully and scientifically compounded. Its formula is generally known to the medical profession, and the best physicians constantly prescribe AYER'S SARSAPARILLA as an

Absolute Cure

For all diseases caused by the vitiation of the blood. It is concentrated to the highest practicable degree, far beyond any other preparation for which like effects are claimed, and is therefore the cheapest, as well as the best blood purifying medicine, in the world.

EDICATION'S A WONDERFUL THING.

"So, John, you've done with the college,
And are back on the farm once more,
With your head as full of l'arning
As a knarly apple of core.
It's cost a heap to learn you all—
To cipher and figure and speak,
And it's different work a-hoeing corn
From digging in Latin and Greek.
So it is law, or is it pills
You choose for your occupation ?
Or, better still ! come settle down,
And accept a D. D.'s station."

"Well, dad, I've thought of the law,
But they say its all overdone ;
As for pills, why every one knows
It's the hardest work under the sun.
A parson's robe would never fit
On a man that is built like me ;
For how would it look on the best short-stop
That plays in the B. B. C?
So I'm engaged at two thousand a year,
And signed the paper, too,
To stand behind the bat and catch
For the club from Kalamazoo."

"Two thousand a year !" The old man starts,
It makes his head to sing,
And he just has sense to mutter aloud ;
"Edication's a wonderful thing !"

A NOVEL CRECHE.

HOW BRITISH MANUFACTURERS TREAT THEIR EMPLOYEES.

An encouraging account of the efforts which have been made by certain manufacturers to benefit their workpeople appears in the last report of the chief inspector of factories and workshops. At a large clothing factory in Staffordshire the operatives, some seven hundred in number, are provided with dining, tea and club rooms, a kitchen, a savings bank and a surgery. A creche, or nursery department, has also been established. The creche consists of two apartments, one for a play room, the other a cot room, the latter being fitted with cradles, which are gently rocked by steam machinery. This, perhaps, is a use of steam never before contemplated in this country, but it is one that answers remarkably well. The mothers are charged one shilling a week for each baby left in the creche, and a matron has charge of the department and attends to the little ones during the day. The mothers are allowed to visit the creche for ten minutes in the middle of the morning and of the afternoon. The owner of the establishment has also provided perambulators, which he hires out to the mothers at a moderate rate to prevent the arm aching and tiring business of carrying the babies to and from the mill.—British Medical Journal.

THEY LEAVE NO STING.

She was only a baby, but she held her sweet red lips, tipped back her blessed little head, shut the bright eyes, and went the rounds from one member of the family to the other, repeating the phrase she had just heard from her young mother's lips,

'Three kisses and one to grow on.'

They caught her up the darling, and kissed and kissed her fair baby face, pulled the soft curls, squeezed the dimpled shoulders and followed her every movement with wistful worshipful eyes, until she came to the sour disappointed member of the family, whose worlds are all hollow and dolls stuffed with sawdust. She tiptoed up to the stern, bearded face and put a fat chubby little hand on each yielding knee,

'Three kisses and one to grow on.'

'What does all this tomfoolery mean?' inquired the grump, gruffy voice.

'Baby's three years old to-day,' said the young mother, feeling how hard it is to explain a simple foolish question, that has no particular meaning; 'and so we give her a kiss for each year and one to grow on. But you needn't kiss her, Uncle Ben if you don't want to.'

What was it the old man saw in the limpid eyes lifted to his?—a vision of the green fields and still waters of Paradise ? or did some prescient knowledge possess him, that he caught her up in his arms as he had never done before, and kissed her again and again?

Not want to kiss her?' he said in a broken voice. Why, I should as soon think of refusing to kiss an angel from heaven. There! pet; there! and there! Now you may grow on this one even to the heights of heaven.—never short of their standard, little one. That is the old man's prayer.

Her age I cannot tell,
For they reckon not by months and years
Where she has gone to dwell.

But I often wonder if we would not all reach nearer the gates of Paradise if we had more kisses to grow on.

To the light of shining angels
The little one has grown.

Oh, the great family of humanity, still your weary wandering ones up the divine heights by kisses. They are stronger than blows; they leave no sting like bitter words; they are blessed memories that blossom in our crown of thorns when those whom we kissed have gone from us a little way beyond tears or kisses; grown on the precious nourishment into the higher life, in the city whose builder and maker is God.—Detroit Free Press.

FROM THE MARITIME PROVINCES Comes a host of testimonials as to the Magic Corn and Wart cure —Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. We select from the list of names before us that of Henry Taylor, Esq., Halifax, probably the most widely known druggist in the lower provinces. Mr Taylor has no hesitation in saying "that in an experience of twenty years he has handled nothing that has given the universal satisfaction that Putnam's Corn Extractor invariably does" It never fails, it is painless, prompt and produces no discomfort. Beware of imitations and substitutes. Polson & Co., Kingston, props.

SAVED FROM A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Unto May I had spent at least five hundred dollars in treatment by many of the best medical men without benefit. My mouth became badly ulcerated, sores breaking out on my neck and legs. I also suffered excruciatingly with Rheumatism, grew very despondent, and my best friends advised me that the icy hand of death was fast approaching. I caught at Shaker Blood Syrup like drowning man catches at a straw. After taking two bottles I could feel the change for the better. The sores began to discharge freely, and Rheumatism to abate. When I had taken six bottles every sore had healed and my skin began to assume a natural appearance. I persisted until I had taken twelve, and there is not a symptom of the disease remaining, and I feel as well as I ever did. I have gained twenty-one pounds in flesh, and my friends wonder at my improved condition. I have recommended it to many, and in every instance with complete success. I believe that Shaker Blood Syrup has saved me from a horrible death.

T. S. Cannon, South Boston Mass.

In 1878 I was the victim of terrible Blood Poison, and after being treated by three physicians was confined to my bed, not able to raise my hand to my head, spiting up clots of blood and reduced in weight from one hundred and eighty-five to one hundred and thirty pounds. I then began the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, and in less than three months I was entirely well, weighing one hundred and ninety-six pounds, and have never had a symptom of the disease since. If it had not been for Shaker Syrup I believe I would have been in my grave.

NORTHWEST AFFAIRS.

Early this month Lieut-Governor Dewdney opened the Northwest Council in a speech of considerable length. Much of it is taken up with references to the liquor permit system, a privilege which has been so much abused of late that it has assumed the proportions of a scandal. The Governor's claim that little abuse has arisen does not accord with published reports of actual occurrences. We will, however, let Mr. Dewdney speak for himself. He says:—

The fee for Liquor Permits, which we imposed after consultation with you last year, has not, as was expected, lessened the number of applications to an appreciable extent; but I am glad to be able to inform you that, as far as I have been able to gather information, very little abuse has been made of the liquor imported on permits; but I am sorry to say that a large amount of liquor is being constantly smuggled into the country, in the face of every exertion made by myself in conjunction with the North West Mounted Police to prevent it; and I am informed the inducements are so great and the profits so large that illicit stills are now in operation in several parts of the Territories.

Your resolution recommending the establishment of breweries in the Territories has been forwarded to the Federal Government, and I have lately reported on this subject myself advocating the same in thickly settled districts. This I think would be the means of putting a stop to smuggling to a great extent and close up illicit distilling.

Settlement, the crops, immigration and the outlook are then severally referred to:—

The rapidity with which our Territories have progressed, and the short time our settlers have had as yet to form a correct opinion of the value or otherwise of the different districts in the Northwest naturally caused much anxiety and doubt as to whether the exceptionally dry weather had for some eighteen months previous to the late rains was not usual, and many were disheartened at the outlook. The refreshing rains which from the best authorities almost invariably visit us early in June rapidly changed this feeling of despondency, and now as you are aware good reports of the crops are reaching us from all quarters.

Assiniboia has obtained a large share of the new immigration this spring, and in this district some valuable and wealthy settlers have established themselves. From them I have heard that they are perfectly satisfied with the country, and assure me that all the representations made to them by the Government and the Canadian Pacific Railway Agents in England are fully borne out.

I shall ask your attention during the session to the consideration of a measure for the encouragement of tree planting. Experiments already made have demonstrated the rapidity with which certain classes of trees will grow, and there is no reason why in a few years the aspect of the settled section of our rich treeless prairies might not be completely changed. A large portion of the States of Illinois and Iowa, some fifteen or twenty years ago, were as bare of trees as any portion of these Territories and are now fairly well timbered.

Encouragement to Agricultural Societies is also most desirable. The establishment of these will enable reliable statistics to be made which will be difficult to obtain by any other means. The initiative has already been taken by the Assiniboia Agricultural Society and I think we cannot grant assistance to a more worthy object or one which will lead to better results.

INCREDIBLE IGNORANCE.

La Verite, speaking of the British Association for the advancement of Science, states that the Pope's recent encyclical has torn the fine mask from the scientists, who really assemble to propagate Masonic errors. 'And,' our contemporary wakes up to find, 'there are French Canadians to be seen displaying the greatest zeal, taking part in committees of reception, mingling with Freemasons and renegades to prepare an ovation for these scientists, who play the part of friends of literature and philosophy with the object of a Masonic propaganda! It is incredible.'

MARSEILLES, July 17.—At 8 p. m. there had been fifteen deaths since 11 a. m.

PARIS, July 17.—The Academy of Medicine has unanimously decided that the land quarantine in France is impracticable. It also declares that the disinfection process is inefficacious and illusionary, and urges the establishment of cholera hospitals at all the large railway stations.

PHILADELPHIA, July 17.—The Medical News says the progress of the cholera in Europe during the week has been such as warrant the belief that it will spread throughout the continent during the next thirty days and may reach our shores any time. Its progress can be arrested only by the most watchful care on the part of our quarantine officers.

PARIS, July 17.—Advices from Marseilles state the situation is becoming more grave. The heat is unbearable. The epidemic is spreading and mortality increasing.

AN INSANE MOTHER'S CRIME.

THROWS HER CHILDREN INTO THE WELL AND COMMITS SUICIDE.

ST. CATHARINES, July 17—News reached the police office about 11 this morning of a woman being drowned near lock No. 2. Mrs. G. Roszel, wife of Constable Roszel, residing on Welland avenue, with her three children, went down near lock No. 2 this morning, and after looking about for some time, threw the children into the canal below the lock and plunged in herself. The children are all of tender years. The mad act, however, was seen, and assistance was speedily on the scene. The children were rescued alive, but the woman was drowned. The body was soon afterwards recovered. Mrs. Roszel is known to have for some years back been occasionally insane, but in other respects was a good and harmless woman. She was a daughter of Daniel Huntsman of Smithville and about 35 years of age.

SUDDEN DEATH AT GUELPH.

GUELPH, July 17.—On Saturday evening a man arrived by the 5 o'clock train at the Wellington hotel and registered his name as James Lee Clark, Providence, R.I. He gave out that he was an advertising agent, his plan of doing work being to secure a certain number of advertisements from business men to be printed on paper wrappers for storekeepers to do up parcels. He was a genial, affable young man about 30 or 33 years of age, of fine physique, light complexion, and standing 5 feet 8 inches high. On Tuesday morning while at breakfast he fell over at the table and was carried up to his bedroom by Alex. White, one of the clerks, and Beadles the bell boy, assisted by Mr. Wilcox, a boarder. He was laid on his bed and left there with the supposition that he was drunk and was discovered dead about 2 o'clock. The coroner's jury said Clark died of apoplexy, brought on by excessive drinking.

The future competition the Grand Trunk has to expect from the Canadian Pacific and the other roads in the through passenger traffic to the East and West has induced that company to consider the advisability of carrying out an extensive scheme. It is nothing less than a project to construct a tunnel under the St. Clair river, about one and a half miles below Sarnia, thus forming direct communication with the United States. An expert named William Ward has been engaged to make the preliminary tests. He proposes to experiment by drilling from a flat boat anchored in the river, and if the rock is practicable for tunnelling it is stated that the work will commence at an early date.

Neglected Colds, Pain in the Chest and all cases of the lungs, are cured by using Allen's Lung Balsam. See Advertisement.

IN IRRITABILITY, RESTLESSNESS, want of sleep, invalids will profit by contrasting the physiological nutritive method of furnishing the nervous system elements of repair as in Dr. Wheeler's Elixir of Phosphates and Calisya, with the practice of exhibiting stimulants and anodynes to spur up the tired nerves. The nutritive method is restorative and permanent, while stimulants and anodynes are temporary in effect, contribute nothing to build up, and are mischievous in inducing a train of habits that may wreck the general health.

ARCTIC PRIVATIONS.

The Survivors of Lieut. Greely's Party Discovered.

THEIR TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE

17 out of 25 Perish Through Sheer Starvation.

A DIET OF BOILED SEALSKIN.

ST. JOHN, Nfld., July 17.—The Thetis, Bear and Loch Garry arrived here to-day from West Greenland, all well. They separated from the Alert 150 miles north. During the gale at 9 p. m. on June 22nd, five miles of Cape Sabine, in Smith's Sound the Thetis and Bear rescued alive: Lieut. A. W. Greely, Sergt. Brainaird Sergt. Fredericks, Sergt. Long, Hospital Steward Beiderback, Private Bouncil and Sergt. Ellison, the only survivors of the Lady Franklin bay expedition. Sergeant Ellison had lost both hands and feet by frost bite, and died July 6th, at Godhaven, three days after amputation, which had become imperative. Seventeen of twenty-five persons composing the expedition perished by starvation at the very point where found. One was drowned while sealing to procure food. Twelve bodies of the dead were rescued and are now on board the Thetis and Bear. One Eskimo (Turnevik) was buried at Disco in accordance with the desire of Inspector Western, of Greenland. The Commander makes the following report:—Five bodies buried in an ice fort near the camp, were swept away to sea by the winds and currents before my arrival and could not be recovered. The names of the dead recovered; with date of death, are as follows:—Sergt. Cross, January 1st, 1884; Wederick Eskimo, April 5th 1884; Sergt. Linn, April 6th, 1884; Lieut. Lockwood, April 9th, 1884; Sergt. Jewell, April 12th, 1884; Private E. Ellis, May 19th, 1884; Sergt. Ralston, May 23rd, 1884; Private Whistler, May 24, 24. 1884; Sergt. Israel, May 27th; Lieut. Kingsbury, June 1st; Private Henry, June 6th; Private Schneider. June 18th. The names of the dead buried with the date of their death, where the bodies were not recovered, are as follows: Sergt. Rice, April 9th, 1884; Corporal Salem, June 3rd; Private Bender, June 16th; Acting-Assistant Sergt. Pavy, June 6th; Sergt. Gardner, June 12th. Drowned while breaking through newly formed ice while sealing, Jans Edwards, Eskimo, April 24th. I would urgently suggest that the bodies now on board be placed in metallic cases here for safer and better transportation in a seaway. This appears to me imperative. Greely abandoned Fort Conger on August 9th, 1883, and reached Baird Inlet on 29th of September following with the entire party well. He abandoned all his boats, and was adrift thirty days on an ice floe in Smith's Sound. His permanent camp was established October 21st, 1883, at a point where it was found. During nine months his party had to live upon a scant allowance of food brought from Fort Conger; that cached at Payer Harbor and Cape Isabella by Sir George Wares in 1875, but found much damage by lapse of time; that cached by Beebe at Cape Sabine in 1882, and the small amount saved from the wreck of the Proteus in 1883 and landed by Lieuts. Garlington and Colwell on the beach where Greely's party were found camped. When these provisions were consumed the party was forced to live upon boiled sealskin stripped from their sealskin clothing. Lichens and shrimps were preserved in good weather when they were strong enough to make the exertion. As 1,300 shrimps were required to fill a gallon measure the labor was too exhausting to depend on them to sustain life entirely. The channel between Cape Sabine and Littleton Island did not close, on account of violent gales all winter, so that 240 rations at the latter point could not be reached. All Greely's records and instruments, brought by him from Fort Conger, are recovered and on board. From Hare Island to Smith's Sound I had a constant and furious struggle with the ice in impassable floes, and were overcome by watchfullness and patience. No opportunity to advance a mile escaped me, and for several hundred miles the ships were forced to ram their way from lead to lead through ice varying in thickness from three to six feet, and when rafted much greater. The Thetis and Bear reached Cape York June 18th after a passage of 21 days in Melville Bay, with the two advance ships of the Dundee whaling fleet and continued to Sabine Cape. Returning seven days later they fell in with seven others of this fleet off Westenholm Island; and we announced Greeley's rescue to them that they might not be delayed from their fishing ground nor be tempted into the dangers of Smith's Sound in view of the reward of $25,000 offered by Congress. Returning across Melville Bay they fell in with the Alert and Loch Garry off Devil's Thumb struggling through heavy ice. Commander Coffin did admirably to get along so far with the transport so early in the season before an opening had occurred. Lieut. Emory, with the Bear, has supported me throughout with great skilfulness, and unflinching readiness in accomplishing the great duty of relieving Greely. I would ask instructions about the Loch Garry as the charter party held by her master differs in several respects from mine. The Greely party were very much improved since the rescue, but were critical in the extreme when found for several days after. Forty eight hours' delay in reaching them would have been fatal to all now living. The season north is late and the closest for years. Smith's Sound was not open when I left Cape Sabine. The winter about Melville Bay was the most severe for twenty years. This great result is entirely due to the unwearied energy of yourself and the Secretary of War in fitting out this expedition for the work it has had the honor to accomplish.—(Signed) W. S. SCHLEY, Commander.

IN THE ICE FORT,

SOLID BARRIERS OF ICE

FUEL IN THE NORTHWEST.

The Northwest people have not yet solved the fuel riddle. Operations have been suspended at the Medicine Hat Mine, and may not be again resumed, so poor is the quality of coal discovered. Major Walsh finds the coal on the South Saskatchewan fairly good, but it cannot be marketed with profit, owing to the lowness of the water in the river, and the absence of railway facilities. The coal obtained in Cascade Mine, Rocky mountains, is of the very superior quality. Though inferior to Pennsylvania coal it is semi-anthracite, and besides being good for steam purposes is adapted to heating and cooking stoves in a greater degree than South Saskatchewan coal. Unfortunately it is at too great a distance from Manitoba to be of any use to the settlers in that Province, because it it cannot be carried east to compete with Pennsylvania coal, on which Manitoba has yet to depend for a fuel supply.

At a meeting of the School Management Committee last evening, the old teachers were re-engaged with very few exceptions. Miss Hannah Richards was engaged to replace Miss Carney in one of the primary divisions of the Central school at $250 a year and it was decided not to re-engage Miss Bollard. Miss Harold's salary was raised to $300, and Miss Urquhart and Miss Jessie Jack each got an increase of $25, making $475. The other teachers were re-employed at their old salaries.

SCENES OF ENCHANTING GRANDEUR

A Thunderstorm on Whiteface Mountain Described.

St. Andrews, N.B. July 14.

I have just reached the seaside at this beautiful little town, after an extended and delightful tour through the Adirondacks and also through the White Mountains. To me there is a strange fascination to see God in the grandeur of the awe inspiring mountains; to hear His voice in the thundering of the cataract; to listen to His praises chanted in the music of the leaping cascade; and to behold His glory reflected in the crystal and saphire of the placid lakes. For variety of scenery—the diversified commingling of grandeur and beauty, strength and delicacy, in the most primeval wilderness, I believe the Adirondacks to be unsurpassed. They possess not the appalling grandeur of the Alps, nor the picturesque brightness of the mountains of dear old Wales; but they present an ever varying scene of indescribable loveliness blended with the sublime. I ascended Mt. Marcey, the highest peak, 5,344 feet above the sea. As we proceed up its steep sides the trees of the valley glide away from us, then come the dark spruce and pines, the silver birch and the sturdy balsam, tall and graceful at first, but growing smaller as they rise, losing all symmetry, they become gnarled and twisted, and scarcely above the surface. They now send their branches out close along the ground, their white tops torn, blanched and ghastly—blasted by the driving storms and piercing frosts. Still higher we pass the timber limit and reach the hardy lichens. Then come naked rock of glittering granite; small alpine lakes like silver sheets or bits of fallen sky; large banks of snow, imperishable before the fierce winds and smiting heat, and we of the monarch of the Adirondacks—"Tahaures," the cloud splitter of the Indians. Around their chief cluster the other peaks; east, west, north and south, limitless, numberless, a confused mass of peaks and ridges, crowding close up to the base of the one on which we stand, and receding in waves of green all down the scale of color to its blue and purple edge. Nestling among the mountains the gentle lakes gleam like sheets of polished glass; the towering heights looking down tenderly upon them like mighty victors standing sentinel over their darlings. Far as the eye can reach the scene is most sublime. The soul becomes submerged by the presence of the Infinite and the mind is lost in amazement. Pen cannot convey any idea of such sublimity, the pencil fails even to suggest the blended strength and delicacy of the scene. The rude laugh is hushed, the boisterous shout dies out on reverential lips, the body shrinks down into littleness, while the soul expands, and, rising above this world, claims kinship with its Creator.

A few days later I visited the superb region of Lake Placid. We rowed six miles on the peaceful bosom of this lake of perfect solitude and captivating gracefulness. We strike the sandy shore and lightly leap from our frail canoe at the foot of Old Whiteface mountain. We stood for a moment overawed by the towering height before us, its base clothed in inky spruce and balsams, its naked granite head among the clouds. The ascent is most difficult on this side, but the inimitable view repays a thousandfold the extra effort. A word to our trusty guide to lead the way and we set out. We travelled along a mere trail which, in many places we could scarcely distinguish and follow through the dense forest and thick undergrowth. For a great part of the time the path leads along the precipitous bank of a rushing mountain torrent that finds its source in a gorge far up the mountain side. Here it is rushing wildly in white foam two hundred feet beneath us, and in other places leaping over the cliffs, or breaking into a roaring cataract among the jagged rocks. Its sound was grateful and musical on that sultry afternoon cheering and refreshing us during our arduous climbing. In many places the track is very steep, almost perpendicular, so that we were compelled to assist ourselves by grasping the roots of the trees or clinging to the branches of of the drawfed evergreens, or by inserting our fingers in the crevices of the scraggy rocks to steady our steps. When approaching the summit suddenly, as a tiger leaping upon its prey, without the slightest warning, a terrific thunderstorm rushed upon us. It swept upwards as if it had leaped into life from one of the gorges at our very feet. What cared I if we were drenched by the pouring torrents of rain, when we were permitted to witness a sight so grand, so terrible. The roar of the thunder was ceaseless, reverberating among the riven rocks in harsh, metalic, rifle-like reports, and resounding in loud, booming echoes from the surrounding peaks. All the mountain around and beneath us was quickly enveloped in robes of dark clouds. The lightning glanced and darted in continuous and insufferable vividness, forming a maze of indefinable lines and angles. The eyes were dazzled and the ears stunned. The most fearless felt oppressed and overpowered. The sound resembled the concurrent crashing of the belching artillery of contending hosts, and the rattling of ten thousand iron chariots hurrying hither and thither over the hard rocks, drawn with supernatural force by horses of fire. I thought of Him who 'clothes the heavens with darkness and makes sackcloth their covering.' 'God thundereth marvellously with His voice, great things doeth He, which we cannot comprehend.' 'Dost thou know the balancing of the clouds?' 'Canst thou send lightning that they may go and say unto thee, Here we are!' I was impelled to exclaim over and over again: 'Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty.' As suddenly as it had appeared the storm disappeared. The words again were uttered as in the beginning; 'Let there be light.' The vagrant clouds that loitered among the pine tops were swept swiftly over the shoulders of the mountains and along the winding passes, in thin and broken ranks, like the remnants of defeated battalions in full retreat; or like the frightened denizens of a phantom world hastening to find repose in some deep chasm, or in some more remote solitude far from the eye of man. The heavens were arched in pure blue. The sunlight streamed in unusual brilliancy flooding all the earth with waves of brightness. Quickly we climb to the summit, and soon stand on the granite top. The atmosphere, purified by the recent storm, was singularly clear, so that the vision could traverse a vast expanse. Oh lofty throne! Oh limitless view! Oh indescribable grandeur and unmatched splendors! A whole world of mountains, valleys, lakes and streams spread out before me! My first emotion was a feeling of my utter nothingness in the presence of the overwhelming sublimity of God's works. Involuntarily my lips gave utterance expressive of God's infinity and majesty. My soul seemed inspired to praise Him in self composed Te Deum and Psalm. My posture, my mind and my spirit were controlled by a deep sense of holy adoration. For fifty miles in every direction, rise cliff upon cliff, mountain beside mountain, range beyond range. Low green valleys intervene, reflected in brighter hue; and among them in basins of emerald, glistening in the gold of the sunlight like polished shields, sweetly repose numerous little lakes, surrounded and securely guarded by the lofty mountain towers. Here and there silvery threads traced on the mountains sides, now lost amid the dark green foliage of the trees and again streaming in the light, reveal the swift courses of the wild torrents. To the east, Lake Champlain is spread out, bright as burnished steel, and the green mountains of Vermont forming its background; while far to the north I could trace the bright tide of the mighty St. Lawrence, now reduced to

IN GRACEFUL CASCADES

A GOLDEN LINE.

I look and in gratitude exclaim 'Thank God for the mountains." If a person would know how sensitive his nature is, how readily it responds to every scene of beauty and power, how thoroughly adapted it is in all its faculties to religious impressions, he must withdraw from the haunts of men—where every sight and sound distracts his attention, and checks the free exercises of his soul—and, amid the solemn silence of the wood, or before the magestic grandeur of the mountains, hold communion with his Maker. The heart needs neither hymn nor prayer to express its emotions. You seem to have entered into that land where written revelation is no longer necessary. The word of God lies unopened at your side. You feel as if the air was God, as if the zephyr was the 'still small voice,' and the sunlight the robes of His glory. You see the eternal as eye to eye, and feel Him in you, and above you, and on every side. God alone reigns in nature. Man only, as at first brings sin into the world. Thus have I spent my time, while absent from you amid scenes and in thoughts sublime.

AMONG ENCHANTING SCENERY.

Some days we rode on the top of a stage coach, of unique style, drawn by six horses, all of which occasionally found it difficult to draw the load up the steep and rugged road. From this elevated position I viewed the imposing scenes surrounding us, which constantly changed as we reached new points, Kaleidoscopic in diversity; or conversed with the characteristic and interesting driver concerning some local celebrity, thrilling adventure or historic spot. Several days I spent in rowing with my faithful guide along a chain of most picturesque and pellucid lakes, luxuriating in the enchanting scenery. The rowing was occasionally diversified by running the perilous rapids of some connecting stream, or in crossing the 'carries' from one water system to another. Other days I was obliged to resort to the most primitive, though by no means the least interesting mode of travelling—trudging on foot. My home, the forest, the mountain or the lake; my bed, the fragrant boughs of the pine, the hemlock or the cedar; and my food, in great part, the choicest of the finny tribes that numerously glide through the limpid waters of these mountain brooks. We also secured a plentiful supply of the sweetest venison and fowl of gamiest flavor.

From the Adirondacks we crossed Lake Champlain and the States of Vermont and New Hampshire to the White Mountains. We ascended Mount Washington by the Inclined Railway—a marvelous achievement of human skill and engineering—remained at the Summit House to see the sun set and rise, and descended by stage along the serpentine road on the other side of the mountain. I would require a volume to relate the particulars. We hurried down to Portland, and from thence by steamer to St. Andrews. Here I am absolutely resting and breathing the invigorating sea breeze. I am also delighted to find in this place, a number of friends from Toronto and Ottawa, with whom we spend many happy hours.

KNIGHTS OF THE WHEEL.

Arrival of the Chicago Touring Club Party.

Over the hill to-day at noon came 60 touring wheelmen, nearly all the number our cousins from across the border, 48 members of the Chicago Bicycle Club, and bicyclists from Cleveland, Detroit, Beloit, Wis., and other points, the remainder a Canadian contigent. They presented a pretty sight as they pedalled in from Trenton, gliding swiftly and noiselessly on their silent steeds, the silver spokes throwing back the glancing sunbeams; the varied costumes lending the requisite color and life to the whole.

Between here and Trenton the party was met by Capt. Retallack and a delegation of the local wheelmen who escorted them into the city. As the Americans reached the brow of Murney Hill their eyes were greeted with the familiar Stars and Stripes hanging out from Col. Prince's residence. They reached Front Street at 12.15 having ridden the last 12 miles in an hour, the best time yet made. Dinner was had at Dafoe and at two o'clock the yachts Atlanta and Dauntless were taken for a cruise round the bay. The party reaching Belleville numbered sixty—all a jolly, gentlemanly lot of fellows as wheelmen usually are. West of here the party was larger. At 3.30 the road was again taken for Napanee, a number of the wheelmen accompanying the party to Shannonville.

THE ROUTE.

At 9 o'clock Wednesday morning the tourists left Toronto reaching Newcastle, forty six miles, that evening. They took dinner at the Royal. On Thursday they made Brighton, forty five miles from Newcastle, and there remained over night. This evening Napanee, forty seven miles from Brighton, will be reached, and the night will be passed at the Campbell House. Saturday, Kingston, twenty two miles from Napanee, will be made where a steamer will be boarded for the Thousand Islands and Montreal, arriving at the Windsor Hotel on Sunday. Leaving Montreal Monday morning by train, the party will go to Plattsburg, N. Y., and proceed by rail, boat and on their 'cycles via Caldwell, N. Y., Saratoga, Mechanicsville, Gardner, Mass., Northboro, Framingham, etc., to Boston, arriving there on Saturday, July 26.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

Sheriff Hope's deputy yesterday afternoon under a writ of fieri facias sold a quantity of axes, bar iron and steel, which property at one time was held by the Dominion Bank under a warehouse receipt from John W. Campion, but which was afterwards successfully claimed by the executors of the late E. Burrell. Mr. R. T. Wilson, of Dundas, bought the 440 boxes of axes at $3.90 a box, the 100 tons of bar iron at $1.01 a hundred, three tons of steel at 4c. a lb., and a quantity of scrap iron at 1c. a pound. Mr. T. B. Pierce purchased the 50 dozen broad axes at $10.87 a dozen. On the whole the prices paid were low.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Invalids distracted by indigestion and discouraged in their search for its remedy should make a trial of this never-failing medicine. A lady long a martyr to dyspeptic tortures, writes that Holloway's Pills made her feel as if a burden had been taken off her. Her spirits formerly low, have greatly improved; her capricious appetite has given place to that of healthy hunger; her dull, sick headache has departed, and gradually so marvellous a change has been effected that she is altogether a new creature, and again fit for her duties. These pills may be administered with safety to the most delicate. They never act harshly, nor do they ever induce weakness; they rightly direct deranged, and control excessive action.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well-worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In in common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally and the Ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceeding efficacious. When influenza is epidemic this treatment is the easiest, safest, and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of saving suffering when any one is afflicted with cold, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints by which so many persons are seriously and permanently afflicted in most countries.

LOVE'S LOTTERY

OR,

THE RIVAL SISTERS.

Though that singular dread, the fear, the aversion, yet considerably swayed her she began—being no longer troubled with those frightful dreams—to blush a little at the past.

How could she feel dread of one who never on any occasion forced himself into her presence—whose bearing was very gentlemanly and respectful in the extreme—who surrounded her and Juliette with those little attentions ever so grateful to ladies travelling alone, and doing all with such quiet unobtrusiveness as to rob it of any feeling of obligation?

No.

She felt as the Creole had said, she had given too easy way to her terrors. When seated apart on the moon-lighted deck, the brilliant stars above, the ocean around one glitter of molten silver, Pauline wrapped in her warm burnous, would awaken from some reverie in which Eustace bore a prominent part, and hear the soft murmur of Stuart Loring's musical voice, as seated or standing near, he conversed with Juliette, who, whether she liked or disliked his presence, certainly did not avoid it.

More than once, on such occasions, she had repeated her first saying—

'He is a man who can talk intellectually without boring you.'

'Juliette was right; I was absurd,' Pauline would then reflect. 'What harm is there in this man? None. He is all a gentleman by nature as well as birth could be. I was wrong. Still'—the white forehead sank upon her hand—'I cannot like him; I feel I never shall. An undefined fear still at times seizes me, though I am wiser not to show it. Nevertheless, I shall be glad when America is reached, and we part, I hope, for ever. 'Ah Eustace, my beloved, would you were with me. I should dread nothing then.'

One night when all the passengers on board the San Francisco had retired to rest, creeping up the companion came a female figure.

As her head rose above the level of the deck, she looked cautiously around.

Perceiving it deserted, except by the man at the wheel, and the look-out she stepped forth and drew quickly into the shadow cast by the funnel.

She had hardly been there five minutes, when another figure glided up the companion.

This time it was a man's.

After the same play of cautious inspection, he stepped onto the deck and approached the shadow.

Apparently he expected the woman.

Probably this had not been their first meeting.

'I am late; I see you are here before me,' he whispered.

'Yes, come closer in the shade; the man on the out-look may turn,' was the low answer.

'He would only think it a bit of love making,' grimly responded the man, adding, sotto voice—

'There is no accounting for taste.'

He obeyed her, however.

The two stood side by side.

They were the half-sister's maid Keziah and Peter Grum.

'Have you any news yet?' asked the latter.

'Yes, as last; they talked to night as I was doing their hair before retiring to rest.'

'Ah, you have intelligence of their plans?'

'I have.'

'What? Be explicit; my master waits.'

'On arriving at New Orleans, they stay a few days at the house of friends—a Mr. and Mrs. Folmebee; then they leave for Longueville, to visit the estate for the last time, Jabez Scladden having himself offered to become its purchaser. There all papers will be signed,'

'Excellent, nothing could be better. Our master now can form his plans. And you Keziah; are you still faithful?'

'To the death,' was the quick, decisive response. Do you think my shoulders have forgotton or ever will forget, the lash that was laid upon them by her orders—hers, Pauline Beauchamp's mother? I was young and gay; I was in love—for we black can love even as the white people—when or a trifle, she had me whipped. —whipped. The colonel permitted her As each lash fell it found an echo in my heart. Revenge! I swore it, waited, for it, and will have it. Do not fear that I shall prove faithless. I would degrade this girl as I am degraded.

Keziah's tone was fearfully harsh.

The ebony face was distorted with sudden fury.

The negress's frame was convulsed with a passion beyond control.

Grum placed his hand quickly upon her arm.

'Hush!' he whispered; 'moderate your anger, Those who would be revenged keep mute tongues. Have you more to say to my master?'

'No, but I shall still watch with eyes and ears. To-morrow night, at the same hour, I shall be here.'

'It is well. You will find Stuart Loring grateful. He repeats his promise—freedom for you and your son.'

'Tell him,' said the negress, 'he may trust me.'

Great Medical Work on Manhood

Exhausted Vitality, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Errors of Youth, and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses. A book for every man, young, middle aged, and old. It contains 125 prescriptions for all acute and chronic diseases, each of which is invaluable. So found by the Author, whose experience for 23 years is such as probably never fell to the lot of any physician. 300 pages bound in beautiful French muslin, embossed covers, full gilt, guaranteed to be a finer work in every sense—mechanical, literary and professional—than any other work sold in this country for $2.50, or the money will be refunded in every instance. Price only $1 by mail postpaid. Illustrative sample 6 cents. Send now. Gold medal awarded the author by the National Medical Association, to the officers of which he refers.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE should be read by the young for instruction and the afflicted for relief. It will benefit all.—London Lancet.

There is no member of society to whom THE SCIENCE OF LIFE will not be useful, whether youth, parent, guardian, instructor, or clergyman.—Argonaut.

Address the Peabody Medical Institute, or Dr W. H. Parker, No. 4 Bulfinch-street, Boston, Mass, who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Chronic and obstinate diseases that have baffled the skill of all other physicians Such treated successfully without an instance of failure. Mention this paper.

IMPORTANT TO RUPTURED PERSONS

The Excelsior Rupture Treatment was introduced to the American people several years ago in such a manner as to completely secure the confidence of the whole nation. The mode of introduction was by furnishing the remedy to those afflicted with Hernia in any of its various forms and collecting no pay until a permanent cure was effected. In this way the treatment gained a world wide reputation on its own merits, never failing to cure any reducible Hernia. The Company has at the solicitation of thousands placed the remedy on sale by all druggists both wholesale and retail, in the United States, Canada and England. In this way bringing it within the reach of all classes at a trifling cost compared with the benefits which are derived from the use of the treatment. Ask your druggist for a free book on rupture or send 6 cts. for one to the Excelsior Rupture Cure M'f'g Co., Ogdensburg, N. Y.

SCIENCE.

To increase the weight of the body invigorate the system, revitalize the exhausted and depressed, is the true object sought by medical science. The digestive organs must be in a healthy condition if we wish to secure this desired result, and no remedy yet discovered has ever proved so effectual in acomplishing this as FLAX-SEED EMULSION COMP. It contains Phosphorus to build up the nervous system and all the fat producing properties of Flaxseed to enrich the blood and supply the animal economy with the elements for reconstruction.

Vital Questions.!

Ask the most eminent physician
Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?
And they will tell you unhesitatingly
"Some form of Hops! ! !"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians:
"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, diabetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—
"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu !"
Ask the same physicians
"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.," and they will tell you:
Mandrake! or Dandelion !"
Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable.
And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is
Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

CHAPTER II

"Patients
'Almost dead or nearly dying"
For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.
Women have gone nearly crazy ! ! ! !
From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.
People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic, or suffering from scrofula.
Erysipelas!
"Saltrheum, blood poisoning dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact, almost all diseases frail"
Nature is heir to
Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.
None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile poisonous stuff with 'Hop' or 'Hops' in their name.

ON THIRTY DAYS' TRIAL.

The VOLTAIC BELT Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above,—N B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty day's trial is allowed.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co's. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

"Twenty-four years experience, says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the Generative organs is to repair the wastby giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas. Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their written guarantee" to refend the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See adv't in another column

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficent.—For sale by all Druggists.

KING'S EVIL.

Was the name formerly given to Scrofula because of a superstition that it could be cured by a king's touch. The world is wiser now, and knows that can only be cured by a thorough purification of the blood. If this is neglected, the disease perpetuates its taint through generation after generation. Among its earlier symptomatic developments are Eczema, Cutaneous Eruptions, Tumors, Boils, Carbuncles, Erysipelas, Purulent Ulcers, Nervous and Physical Collapse, etc. If allowed to continue, Rheumatism, Scrofulous Catarrh, Kidney and Liver Diseases, Tubercular Consumption, and various other dangerous or fatal maladies, are produced by it.

SCROFULA

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is the only powerful and always reliable blood-purifying medicine. It is so effectual an alterative that it eradicates from the system Hereditary Scrofula, and the kindred poisons of contagious diseases and mercury. At the same time it enriches and vitalizes the blood, restoring healthful action to the vital organs and rejuvenating the entire system. This great

Regenerative Medicine

Is composed of the genuine Honduras Sarsaparilla, with Yellow Dock, Stillingia, the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and other ingredients of great potency, carefully and scientifically compounded. Its formula is generally known to the medical profession, and the best physicians constantly prescribe AYER'S SARSAPARILLA as an

Absolute Cure

For all diseases caused by the vitiation of the blood. It is concentrated to the highest practicable degree, far beyond any other preparation for which like effects are claimed, and is therefore the cheapest, as well as the best blood purifying medicine, in the world.

BALM FOR WOUNDS.

Comfort for God's People in Distress.

SERMON BY REV. DR. TALMAGE.

Text—Matt. xiv, 12: "And His Disciples went and told Jesus."

An outrageous assassination had just taken place. To appease a revengeful woman, King Herod ordered the death of that noble, self-sacrificing Christian, John the Baptist. The group of Disciples were thrown into grief and dismay. They felt felt themselves utterly defenceless, there was no authority to which they could appeal, and yet grief must always find expression. If there be no human ear to hear it, then the agonized soul will cry it aloud to the winds, and the woods, and the waters. But there was an ear that was willing to listen. There is a tender pathos and at the same time a most admirable picture in the words of my text: 'They went and told Jesus.' He could understand all their grief, and he immediately soothed it. Our burdens are not more than half so heavy to carry if another shoulder is thrust under the other end of them. Here we find Christ, his brow shadowed with grief, standing amid the group of Disciples, who with tears and violent gesticulations and wringing of hands and outcry of bereavement are expressing their woe. Raphael with his skilful brush, putting upon the wall of a palace some sacred story, gave not so skilful a stroke as when the plain hand of the evangelist writes: 'They went and told Jesus.'

In the first place I commend the behavior of these Disciples to all those who are sinful and unpardoned. There comes a time in almost every man's history when he feels from some source that he has an erring nature. The thought may not have such helts as to fell him. It may be only like the flash in an evening cloud just after a very hot summer day. One man to get rid of that impression will go to prayer; another will stimulate himself by ardent spirits, and another man will dive deeper into secularities. But sometimes a man can not get rid of these impressions The fact is, when a man finds out that his eternity is poisoned upon a perfect uncertaintd and that the next moment his foot may slip, he must do something violent to make himself forget where he stands or else fly for refuge. If there are any who have resolved that they would rather die of this awful cancer of sin than to have the heavenly surgeon cut it out, let me say, my dear brothers, you mingle for yourself a bitter cup. You fly in the face of your everlasting interests. You crouch under a yoke, and you bite the dust when you might rise up a crowned conqueror. Driven and perplexed and harrassed as you have been by sin go and tell Jesus to relax the grip of death from your soul and plant your unshackled feet up the golden throne. Christ let the tortures of the bloody mount transfix him. With the beam of His own cross He will break down the door of your dungeon. From the thorns of His own crown He will pick enough gems to make your crown blaze with eternal victory. In every tear on his wet cheek, in every gash of His side, in every long blackening mark of laceration from shoulder to shoulder, in the grave shattering, heaven storming, death groan I hear him say,—'Him that cometh unto Me I will in no wise cast out.' 'Oh,' but you say, 'instead of curing my wound you want to make another wound, namely: that of conviction.' Have you never known a surgeon to come and find a chronic disease, and then, with sharp caustic, burn it all out? So the grace of God comes to the old sore of sin. It has long been rankling there, but by Divine grace it is burned out through these fires of conviction, 'the flesh coming again as the flesh of a little child;' 'where sin abounded, grace much more aboundeth.' With the ten thousand unpardoned sins of your life go and tell Jesus. You will never get rid of your sins in any other way; and remember that the broad invitation which I extend to you will not always be extended. I was reading of King Alfred, who, in the days long before the modern time pieces were invented, used to divide the day into three parts, eight hours each, and then had

THREE WAX CANDLES.

By the time the first candle had burned to the socket eight hours had gone, and when the second candle had burned to the socket another eight hours had gone, and when all three candles had gone out then the day had passed. Oh, that some of us, instead of calculating our days and nights and years by any earthly time piece, might calculate them by the numbers of opportunities and mercies which are burning down and burning out, never to be relighted, lest at last we be amid the foolish virgins who cry 'Our lamps have gone out.'

Again, I commend the behavior of the Disciples to all those who are abused and slandered and persecuted. When Herod put John to death the Disciples knew that their own heads were not safe. And do you know that every John has a Herod? There are persons in life who do not wish you very well. Your misfortune are honeycombs to them. Through their teeth they hiss at you, misinterpret your motives, and would be glad to see you having a prumneling. Some slanderer come after you horned and tusked and hoofed to gore and trample you; and what are you to do I'll tell you plainly that all who serve Christ, however, eminent have been maltreated and at some stage must suffer persecution. It is the worst sign in the world for you to be able to say 'I haven't an enemy in the world.' A woe is pronounced in the Bible against the one of whom everybody speaks well. If you are at peace with all the world and everybody likes you and approves your work it is because you are an idler in the Lord's vineyard, and are not doing your duty. All those who have been maltreated at some stage of their experience. It was so in the time of George Whitfield, when he stood and invited men into the kingdom of God. What did the learned Dr. Johnson say of him? He pronounced him a miserable montebank. How was it when Robert Hall stood and spoke as no uninspired man ever did speak of the glories of heaven? And as he stood Sabbath after Sabbath preaching on these themes his face kindled with the glory. John Foster, a Christian man, said of him: 'Robert Hall is only acting and the smile on his face is the reflection of his own vanity.' John Wesley turned all England up side down with Christian reform, and yet the punsters were after him, and the meanest jokes in England were perpetrated about John Wesley. What is true of the pulpit is true of the pew; it is true of the street; it is true of shop and the store. All who will live godly in Jesus Christ must suffer persecution. And I set it down as the very worst sign in all your Christian experience if you are at peace with all the world.

THE RELIGION OF CHRIST IS WAR.

It is a challenge to the world, the flesh, and the devil, and if you will buckle on the whole armor of God, you will find a great host disputing your path between this and heaven. But what are you to do when you are assaulted and slandered and abused as I suppose nearly all of you have been in your life? Go out and hunt up the slanderer? Oh, no; silly man! While you are explaining away a falsehood in one place, fifty people will have heard it in other places. I counsel you to another course. While you are not to omit an opportunity of setting yourselves right, I want to tell you of One who had the hardest things said about Him, whose sobriety was disputed, whose mission was scouted, whose championship was denounced, who was pursued as a babe and spit upon as a man, who was howled at after he was dead. I will have you go to him with your bruised soul in some humble, childlike prayer, saying, 'I see Thy wounds, wounds of head, wounds of feet, wounds of heart. Now look at my wounds and see what I have suffered, and through what battles I am going, and by those wounds of Thine sympathize with these.' And He will help. Go and tell Jesus.

Again I commended the behavior of the disciples to all who may have been bereaved. How many in the garb of mourning! God has his own way of taking apart a family. We must get out of the way for coming generations. We must get off the stage that others might come on, and for this reason there is a long procession reaching down all the time into the little valley of shadows. This matter of emigration from time to time into eternity is so vast an enterprise that we cannot understand it. Every hour we hear the clang of the sepulchral gate. The sod must be broken. The ground must be plowed for resurrection harvest. Eternity must be peopled. The dust must press our eyelids. 'It is appointed unto all men once to die.' This emigration from time unto eternity keeps three-fourths of the families of the earth in desolation. The air is rent with farewell's, and the black-tasseled vehicles of death rumble through every street. The body of the child that was folded so closely to the mother's heart is put away in the cold and darkness.

THE LAUGHTER FREEZES to the girl's lips and the rose scatters. The boy in the harvest field of Shunam says; 'My head! my head!' and they carry him home to die on the lap of his mother. Widowhood stands with tragedies of woe struck upon the pallor of the cheek. Orphanage cries in vain for father and mother. Oh! the grave is cruel Between the closing gates of the sepulchre our hearts are mangled and crushed. Is there any earthly solace? None. We came the obsequies. We sit with the grief-stricken. We talk pathetically to their soul. But soon the obsequies have passed, and the carriages have us again at the door, the friends who have stayed with us for a few days are gone. and the heart sits in desolation listening for the little feet that will never again patter through the hall, or looking for the entrance of those who will never come again, sighing into the darkness. Long days and nights of suffering that wear out the spirit and expurge the bright lines of life, and the grief is wearing grinding, accumulating exhausting. Now, now what are such to do? Are they merely to look up to a brazen and unpitying heaven? Has God turned us out on a barren commons to die? Oh, no, no! He has not. He comes with sympathy, and kindness, and love. He understands all our grief. He is the only one that can fully sympathize. Go and tell Jesus. Sometimes when we have trouble we go to our friends, and they try to sympathize. But Christ sees all over it. He not only counts the tears and records the groans, but before the tears started' before the groans began, Christ saw the inmost hiding place of our sorrow and He takes it and He weighs it. and He measures it, and He pities it with an absorbing pity. Bone of our bone, flesh of our flesh, heart of our heart, sorrow of our sorrow. As long as he remembers Lazarus' grave He will stand by you in the cemetery. As long as he remembers His own heart break He will stand by you in the laceration of your affections. When he forgets the footsore way, the sleepless nights, the weary body, the awful cross he will forget you but not till then

Often when we sent for our friends they were far away we wrote to them, or telegraphed, 'Take the next train.' They came at last, yet were a great while in coming. But Christ is always near—before you behind you within you. No mother ever threw her arms around her child with such warm and ecstasy of affection as Christ has shown towards you. Close at hand, nearer than the staff upon which you lean, nearer than the handkerchief with which you wipe away your tears. I preach Him an ever-present, all sympathizing, compassionate Jesus. How can you stay away one moment from Him with your griefs? Go no! Go and tell Jesus.

'COME RIGHT AWAY,'

It is often that our friends have no power to relieve us. They would very much like to do it, but they cannot disentangle our finances; they cannot cure our sickness and raise our dead. But He to whom the Disciples went has all power in heaven and on earth. At our call He will balk our calamities, and at just the right time, in the presence of an applauding earth and a resounding heaven will raise our dead. He will do it He is mightier than Herod. He is swifter than the storm. He is vaster than eternity. And every sword of God's omnipotence will leap from its scabbard, and all the resources of infinity be exhausted, rather than that God's child shall not be delivered when He cries to Him for rescue. Suppose your child was in trouble. How much would you endure to get liniment? Do you think God is not so good a father as you? Seeing you are in trouble, and having all power, will He not stretch out His arm and deliver you? He will. He is mighty to save. He can level the mountain and divide the sea, and extinguish the fire and save the soul. Go and tell Jesus, will you? Yet whose cheeks are wet with the nightdew of the grave; ye whose hearts are dried with the breath of sirocco, in the name of the religion of Jesus Christ, which lifts every burden and wipes away every tear and lightens every darkness, I implore you go and tell Jesus. O, ye who are tossed and driven in this world and at your wits' end, I want you to know the Lord God is guiding the ship. He will bring you through the darkness into the harbor. Trust in the Lord. Let me say that if you do not you will have no comfort here, and you will forever be an outcast and a wanderer; your life will be a failure; your death will be a sorrow; your eternity will be a disaster. But if you go to him for pardon and sympathy all is well. Everything will brighten up and joy will come to the heart and sorrow will depart: your sins will be forgiven and your foot will touch the upward paths if now, with contrition and ful trustfulness of soul, you will only go tell Jesus. But I am oppressed when I think that some may not take this counsel. Xerxes looked off on his army of two million men and burst into tears. They asked him why he wept. 'Ah,' said he, 'I weep weep at the thought that so soon all this host will be gone.' So I realize the fact that soon the places which knew you once will know you no more, and you will be gone—whither, whither?

SAVED FROM A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Unto May I had spent at least five hundred dollars in treatment by many of the best medical men without benefit. My mouth became badly ulcerated, sores breaking out on my neck and legs. I also suffered excruciatingly with Rheumatism, grew very despondent, and my best friends advised me that the icy hand of death was fast approaching. I caught at Shaker Blood Syrup like drowning man catches at a straw. After taking two bottles I could feel the change for the better. The sores began to discharge freely, and Rheumatism to abate. When I had taken six bottles every sore had healed and my skin began to assume a natural appearance. I persisted until I had taken twelve, and there is not a symptom of the disease remaining, and I feel as well as I ever did. I have gained twenty-one pounds in flesh, and my friends wonder at my improved condition. I have recommended it to many, and in every instance with complete success. I believe that Shaker Blood Syrup has saved me from a horrible death.

T. S. Cannon South Boston Mass.

In 1878 I was the victim of terrible Blood Poison, and after being treated by three physicians was confined to my bed, not able to raise my hand to my head, spiting up clots of blood and reduced in weight from one hundred and eighty-five to one hundred and thirty pounds. I then began the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, and in less than three months I was entirely well, weighing one hundred and ninety-five pounds, and have never had a symptom of the disease since. If it had not been for Shaker Syrup I believe I would have been in my grave.

THE DAILY ONTARIO

THE FRENCH IN CANADA.

In any consideration of the future of this country the French element in our midst must not be overlooked. Notwithstanding Sir Hector Langevin's loyal utterances—and as a Minister of the Crown he could speak no other sentiment—the French Canadians would to-morrow be a unit in favor of Canadian Independence. As an important section of our people, differing from us in language, laws, and customs it is profitable as well as interesting to note the growth and aspirations of the French in Canada. In 1653 the number of French colonists in Canada was estimated at about 3,000. One hundred and ten years later they had increased to 60,000. In the Dominion the number of inhabitants of French origin, with the last census as a basis, is at the present time nearly 1,300,000, and close observers agree that a million more French Canadians and descendants of French Canadians scattered over the neighboring republic, which gives a total of 1,800,000 sprung from the little colony settled on the banks of the St. Lawrence. These figures probably led Le Monde to publish the following :—

The last Canadian census shows 1,300,000 French Canadians, and only 881,000 of English origin, giving us a majority of about 400,000. The French Canadian population increases much more rapidly than that of any other origin. We must also count the Scotch, who number themselves among the English. They are 700,000. The united population of the two races give them only a majority of about 200,000 over us, and if we calculate the rapid increase of our population at the same rate as in the past, we have reason to believe that in twenty years we shall have outstripped both English and Scotch, and probably have doubled the number of the former.

The notorious fecundity of the French Canadian race is in favor of rapid growth but the bare figures given by our Quebec contemporary are somewhat misleading, and require to be supplemented by others. The following table is given by the Montreal Herald to prove that the French in Canada are not increasing faster than the English and Scotch :—

	1871	1881	Increase
English........	706,369	881,301	174,932
Scotch..........	509,946	699,863	149,917
French........	1,082,940	1 298,929	212,989

The percentage of increase shown by the above is about : French 20 ; English, 25 ; Scotch, 38. In 1881 the English and Scotch combined numbered 1,590,000 against 1,300,000 French, a difference of 290,000. At the above rate of increase in twenty years the English will number 1,350,000 the Scotch 1,120,000 or both united 2,470,000, while the number of French will be 1,820,000, or 650,000 less than the English and Scotch. These calculations overlook the Irish who in 1881 numbered 960,000, and the Germans 254,000. The total white population of Canada, exclusive of French, was in 1885, 2,900,000, the French numbering as before stated nearly 1,300,000.

To have this favorable showing for the British races, however, the entire Dominion is laid under contribution. In the Province of Quebec the French seem to outgrow their British fellow citizens, and perhaps this is proved by the increase in one religion over the other as well as by other ways. In 1851 the Protestants of Quebec formed 16 per cent. of the population ; in 1861, 15 per cent ; in 1871, 14 4 per cent ; and in 1881, 13.8 per cent. In Montreal the percentage in 1851 was 28, while in 1881 it was 26 5.

The Hon. Mr. Loranger, in his St. Jean Baptiste Jubilee oration, predicted that a hundred years hence people speaking the French language would predominate on this continent, and he believed that in a hundred years this continent would be Canadian, thanks to its religion and language. The day before the Hon. Mr. Langevin, indulging in the same strain of prophesying, predicted that at the same rate of increase as in the past, the French population of the Dominion would in the next fifty years amount to five millions. And, supposing the rest of the French population on this continent increased at the same rate, we would have in fifty years about seven millions of French-speaking people, and in fifty years more about twenty-five million.

The ambitions of the Quebec French to-day seem to point to a continuance of separate nationality, and the cultivation of a distinctively French Canadian national sentiment. We can discern no desire among them to coalesce with their fellow citizens of other origins, and efforts to foster a pride in old France as the mother country are not wanting. It is then scarcely to be wondered at that into some active minds has entered the idea of an independent French nation on the banks of the St. Lawrence.

THE GREAT CONSPIRACY.

Dr. McMahon of Wentworth to be Called in Evidence.

ADJOURNED TILL SEPT. THE 1ST.

TORONTO, July 19.—R. A. Lyon, M P.P. for Algoma, continued his evidence at yesterday's session of the Royal Commission. He added nothing of importance to his statement made the day before.

Thomas Marks, Mayor of Port Arthur, gave evidence which threw light on Mr. Meredith's connection with Kirkland. When in Toronto last winter Marks met Mr. Meredith, who questioned him regarding the changes in the timber policy which Kirkland advocated. The witness approved of Kirkland's proposals, but told Merdith that he believed the American was paying members for making speeches favorable to his views. Meredith says, "I guess we will get that policy changed," and the interview closed.

At this stage Justice Proudfoot submitted a letter which he had received yesterday advising the Commissioners to call Dr. Jas. McMahon, M.P.P., for North Wentworth, who, it stated could give some interesting evidence. The letter was signed "Veritas." The Chairman thought such a communication should not be unheeded, Mr. Blake promised to summon Dr. McMahon.

After Mr. Blake had read affidavits showing the efforts that have been made to serve Wilkinson, Stimson and other members of the gang, the Commissioners decided to adjourn until September 1st.

A telegram read by Mr. Blake conveyed the intelligence that Mr. "Big Push" Wilkinson had been served with a summons to the inquiry in Winnipeg last night.

THE NORTHWEST MILITIA.

OTTAWA, July 17.—Sir John Macdonald has been greatly excited over the apprehension that serious trouble might arise during the present season in the Northwest and Manitoba, and consequently he has got the Minister of Militia to send Colonel Houghton Acting D. A. G. in that district to capture all the fire-arms he possibly could from the companies and troops throughout the territories. The colonel has been very successful, and under the pretext that companies or troops were disorganized or failed to turn out to drill regularly, managed to send in clothing and arms to the Governmet. Serious complaint comes from a Prince Albert company, which thinks it has been treated like a Fenian organization.

THE WIMBLDON TEAM.

Distinguished Visitors to the Canadian Quarters

LONDON, July 18.—The very pleasant time which the Canadian team has so far enjoyed at Wimbledon was increased by the unexpected arrival of Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise and the Marquis of Lorne. The men were drawn up in a line in front of of the Commandent's tent where your late Governor-General and the Princess were received with a royal salute.

THE MARQUIS OF LORNE'S ADDRESS.

Lord Lorne warmly complimented the team on their excellent appearance and the fairly good success which had attended their efforts against British marksmen so far. He hoped they would be fortunate enough to secure full representation in the Queen's sixty, and it might be that in time Canada would claim the honor of producing the Queen's prizemen from among her sons. He referred with pleasure to his residence in the Dominion, and expressed on behalf of the Princess and himself their unabated interest in the country's welfare.

LIEUT. COL. WHITE'S REPLY.

Lieut. Col. White acknowledged these complimentary observations on behalf of the team, and thanked Lord Lorne for the unstinted patronage he had bestowed on volunteers and shooting matters while Governor-General. At the conclusion of the proceedings each member of the team was presented to Her Royal Highness, who spent some time with them, chatting over her Canadian experience.

CANADIAN NOTES.

The Scott Act has been carried by 1,200 majority in the county of Arthabaska.

The decrease in the traffic receipts of the Grand Trunk last week was $35,000 in comparison with the same week last year.

Shortly after supper time Thursday night, while playing on the crib-work in the Don, Toronto, a little fellow named Bolsen fell in and was drowned.

A deputation representative temperance men from Halton is to visit Ottawa in a few days to urge the government to refuse the prayer asking for the taking of a repeal vote on the Scott Act.

Maggie Lyons, the Gananoque girl who eloped with Wilson the horse thief, started from Hamilton for home yesterday morning. Her father did not come for her, but sent the required money.

PASSING THE PLATE.

The Courier des Etats Unis.

M. Lybeau, the sexton of the Catholic Church at St. Laurient, in Montreal, had an old grudge against Mr. Turcotte, a prominent member of the congregation. He wished to insult him, and he took a novel way of doing it. On Sunday while he was taking up a collection he omitted to present his enemy with the plate, although the latter had his money in his hand. The sexton passed him by with a contemptuous glance, and Mr. Turcotte was obliged to put his money into his pocket. However he determined to get even with the sexton.

For having thus 'wickedly and deliberately' omited to present him with the plate, he sued him, and laid his damages at $190. The case was tried before the Supreme Court of Montreal, and resulted in a judgment against the wicked sexton, who was compelled to pay over to Mr. Turcotte the sum of five dollars to indemnify him for the injury he had caused.

APPEARANCES ARE DECEIPTFUL.

A very tall girl wearing a mother Hubbard dress, stepped on a platform scales at Coney Island and informed the proprietor that he wished to be weighed

He placed a 200-pound weight on the hook, and with the suddenness with which it came down frightened him. Then he tried a 150-pound weight with the same result.

'Strange,' he muttered, with a perplexed look at the girl ; something must be wrong with the scales.'

Finally, after repeated attempts, he informed the girl that she weighed eighty-nine pounds.

'Thank you,' she said, handing him the nickle ; 'I seem to be gaining,' and she tripped away.

Then the amazed scaleman looked after her, and remarked :

THE ARCTIC SUFFERERS.

"For God's Sake Let Me Die in Peace."

DYING ON THE ICE.

ST. JOHNS, Nfd., July 19.—Sergeant Long of the Greely party says he and Brainerd were the first to hear the whistles of the rescuing steamers. They helped each other to crawl out of the tent. When Long got clear of the entanglement of the tent, which had been swept to the ground, he rose with great difficulty and succeeded in clambering up to a rock. Long recognized the approach of the rescuers. He came down, went towards the the camp, raised a flag pole and flag which had been blown down during the gale and held it for about two minutes, until his strength gave out, and it was blown once more to the ground. He then advanced, tottering in the direction of the little steamer, and in a few minutes the hand of Captain Ash had grasped his. Maurice Connell, who is still exceedingly weak, stated that for some days after his rescue he had no recollection of anything that occurred. He did not hear the awakening scream of the whistle. When his comrades shook him up from his prostrate position in the cave and told him succour was at hand, he exclaimed, "For God's sake let me die in peace." A teaspoonful of brandy called back the fleeting life spark for Connell could not have survived more than a few hours.

SELECTED AND CONDENSED.

An advertiser in the London Morning Post offers for sale 'ten dozen of port, the property of a widow, full bodied and seven years in cellar.'

Who wrote the most, Dickens, Warren or Bulwer ? Warren wrote 'Now and Then;' Bulwer wrote 'Night and Morning,'' and Dickens wrote 'All the Year Round.'

A man was tried in Dublin for polygammy. He was the possessor of five wives. The verdict returned was 'insane with regard to his matrimonial engagements,' and he was consigned to an asylum.

From the will of a Quakeress, Miss Haughton, who recently died in Dublin :'I bequeath the sum of $5,000 to the national cause of the independence of Ireland—liberty for my country to rule herself.'

'Just to think,' said a Vassar graduate, 'here is an account of a train being thrown from the track by a misplaced switch. How utterly careless some women are about leaving their hair around.' And she went on reading and eating caramels.

'Don't you think you have a good mamma,' to spread such nice large slices of bread and jam for you ?' said an old lady to a little boy, who was enjoying his tea: 'Yes,' was the reply, 'but she would be still better if she'd let me spread on the jam my self.'

When shooting at a cat do not hit your wife. At Droylsden, in England, Mrs. Egerton kept tame linnets in her bath room, and observing a cat on the window sill of the room, called her husbands attention to it. He took out his gun into the garden. Just as his wife moved to the window he pulled the trigger and she fell dead.

At an Unitarian Conference in Bernardston, Mass., an address by a clergyman made excitement. He thinks that there is nothing managed in such utter disregard of true business principles as the religious interest of the country. He holds that every minister should have at least 250 families in his congregation ; that a church with that number of families can be run for about $2,500 a year,

Immediately after the body had been removed from the scaffold, in Naples, the people swarmed over the place, tearing into pieces the cord which had bound the criminal and breaking into fragments the stool on which he had sat. Each took away a portion, in obedience to the superstition that any part of the cord or the chair of a prisoner who has suffered death will bring good fortune to the possessor.

A LIVELY COSTUME.

One of the costumes at the Caledonian ball must have excited some amazement, if the following description (from the Queen) is to be relied upon:

'Miss Gellibrand, bottle of champagne Bodice and short skirt of bottle green satin; square of white satin arranged across the skirt, with 'Veuve Cliquot' in gold letters; gold hood representing a cork; green silk gloves.

A hypercritical expert might indeed complain that the brand chosen by Miss Gelibrand is distinguished by its silver not gold, foil. However, the costume was in any case, sufficiently suggestive of popping—London World.

OUTRAGED AND MURDERED.

CITIZENS PUT FIFTEEN SHOTS IN THE BRUTE BUT HE ESCAPES,

RICHMOND, Texas, July 18.—Yesterday as Hanneh Burton, aged 12, was returning from school she was outraged and killed by Web Hetten, an ex-convict. He was soon captured by infuriated citizens who tied him to a tree and shot at him fifteen times. When he fell apparently dead the citizens took the ropes off and left him for dead. After the party left Hetten got up went home, pressed the wounds and disappeared. When the coroner went to hold an inquest he found the remains of the girl had also disappeared. Officers are hunting for the corpse.

MRS RIDING FINDS A MISSING HUSBAND WHILE ON AN EXCURSION.

BRANTFORD, July 18.—Mrs Riding, of Hamilton, came to Brantford on an excursion a few days since, and dropped upon Mr. Riding, who had deserted her over eighteen months before. Mrs. R. had been looking for her missing spouse for some time, and immediately had a warrant issued for his appearance at the police court. On Wednesday the case came up and was adjourned until next week to allow of witnesses being brought from Hamilton.

THE MARRIAGE AID.

TORONTO, July 19.—Writs of habeas corpus and certiorari were granted at Osgoode hall yesterday by Mr. Justice Rose for the purpose of obtaining the release of Mr. Duff from the Napanee gaol. Duff was President of the Marriage Aid Association, and has been committed to gaol for instigating an article in the Marriage Aid newspaper to the effect that the company was solvent, whereas soon afterwards a receiver had to be appointed. The motion will be argued next week.

DEMONSTRATION AGAINST THE LORDS.

LONDON, July 18.—The trades' procession on Monday will form on the Thames embankment, and march six abreast to Hyde park. Eight sections will represent the political clubs. There will be speaking from seven platforms. Resolutions favoring the Franchise bill will be announced simultaneously from the different stands by a bugle call, and it is expected that they will be adopted unanimously.

A CARD.—To all who are suffering from errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send self-addressed envelope to Rev JOSEPH T. INMAN Station D, New York City. d&w

THE TRADES DEMONSTRATION.

At the meeting of the Trades Demonstration Committee last night sub-committees were struck. Invitations are being sent to Napanee, Oshawa and other places asking the trades to participate in the demonstration here. Arrangements are to be made with the various railways and steamboat lines for reduced fares. The firemen will likely join in the procession in the morning, and an invitation will be extended to the wheelmen to join in line. From the energetic way in which the conductors of the demonstration are going to work great results may be looked for Everyone had better stand clear of the 18th of August, for it will be dedicated to the interests of labor in this section, and the public will be sure to look with favor on such a demonstration.

A PLEASANT TIME.

The excursion of Bridge Street Sunday School yesterday proved one of great pleasure to all who participated in it. From the moment the boat left until she returned the time was occupied in such a way as to interest, amuse and profit all. The orchestra of the school added much to the pleasures of the trip, and they and the large numbers who united with them, seemed never to tire of singing. After lunch some on the grounds adjoining the wharf, others on the boat, and a greater number at the beautiful grove at the point, all assembled to witness a lacrosse match and then a series of games lasting for three hours, and at six o'clock the happy party left for home after giving three rousing cheers for Mr. and Mrs. Mallory, who had so kindly placed their beautiful property at the disposal of the school and who were unremitting in their attention to the party. The opinion of all on board the Quinte was that she is one of the best boats ever put on the bay for excursion parties, and that the Rathbun Company have in Captain Reeves one of the most obliging, as also one of the most unostentatious of commanders, indeed to all the crew as well as the Captain, are the thanks of the party accorded

ADVICE TO MOTHERS

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Winslow's Soothing Syrup For Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. [Price 25 cents a bottle.]

THE WESTERN WHEELMEN.

Some Additional Incidents of their Belleville Visit.

When the 50 or 60 members of the Chicago Bi. Club Boston tour reached the city yesterday Capt. Retallack, who piloted them in, took them up Front Street, across Hotel and down Foster avenue to Bridge Street before he showed them where the hotel was. When the tired, thirty and hungry tourists discovered this they were wrath indeed, but the Captain was bound to show them to the citizens when he had a chance. The local club, however, mollified the visitors and did a graceful act by throwing open the bar of the hotel when they arrived there. They took wheeling drinks—"lemmo," soda, and ginger ale.

The trip on the yacht Atalanta after dinner was a huge enjoyment to the travel-stained and dusty pedallers, and before disembarking they moved and enthusiastically carried votes of thanks to the acting Captain, Mr. D. B. Robertson and the yacht club; to the Ramblers Wheel Club, and to the citizens generally for the hearty and generous reception extended to them. Perry Doolittle, the genial artist-wheelman, took several photographic views from the yacht, and when the party started for Napanee Perry was busy at Boyce's getting his plates prepared. He caught up with the crowd about four miles down.

EN ROUTE TO NAPANEE.

(From our own Correspondent.)

NAPANEE, July 19.—After leaving Belleville the leaders made the pace moderate and we went comfortably down the pretty lake-shore avenue, the handsome residences and pretty situation extracting much admiration from the visitors. The even smoothness of the road was a positive delight; it excelled what the bicyclists thought possible anywhere.

THE RED-HEADED BOY.

When near Mr. Leavens' residence there approached from the east a team drawing a heavy load of brick on the top of which was seated a red-headed boy. In fact he looked as if he had been whirled on his head in the brick yard and then set upright on the load. He was surprised at seeing such a procession and with saucer-like eyes watched us till we shouted to him to get out of the middle of the road and give us half. This he tried to do but the horses reared up a bit and broke the pole of the waggon. Then the red-headed boy let the reins drop and glowered at us as we shoved our wheels past him over the by-path and greeted the head of the procession with an outburst of feeling expressed in slow, sullen words:—"Yeh lot of big fools." Shortly after this nearly all the local wheelmen dropped out and returned to the city so that when Shannonville was reached, fifty minutes after leaving Belleville, Messrs. Retallack, Fenwick and Magurn, only were left. Here the dismount was whistled and wheels stacked in front of the Lorne House. The three or four divinity students with the party attacked the adjoining pump, and others called for lemonade at the bar. Suddenly there was a great yell as Sawyer of Minnesota rode up five minutes behind. He left Belleville about fifteen minutes after the party and thought he came down in 27 minutes, but he scarcely believed this himself and certainly no one else did. Now sound the clarion tones of the bugle and we bid good-bye to the two Belleville wheelmen, Mr. Fenwick coming on to Napanee. The 16 mile spin was quickly made, and when Napanee was reached we were fairly startled by being met by a brass band whose music resounded over the hill. We were escorted in by some of the local wheelmen and passed through two lines of solid humanity, the whole town apparently being in the main street. The Campbell House was reached at seven and our days ride of 47 miles over the best roads I venture to say in America, was ended.

NOTES.

Those members of the Yacht Club who arranged the outing on the water are entitled to much credit for the handsome way they treated the visitors who were loud in their appreciation of the courtesy.

The ambulance furnished by Mr. Herrington of this city, passed Shannonville an hour and a half after the party. In it three disabled or lazy wheelmen quietly reposed, wishing that the conveyance would go a little faster,

Mr. Geo. Orr, of Toronto, is the Canadian Convoy of the party and is voted by the entire crowd a hail fellow well met.

GUILTY OF COMMON ASSAULT.

Wm. Roblin, aged 48, was charged before Judge Fralick last night with committing an unnatural offence. The accused is a widower, his wife having died three years ago, leaving to his care five children. For several years he has lived within a few miles of Bancroft in the township of Herschel, where he took up a section of free grant land. Not long ago his daughter Almira, aged 21, gave birth to a child. Roblin is addicted to drink, and when under the influence of liquor, it was claimed he committed the unnatural offence. The particular offence mentioned in the indictment was on the 2nd inst., when the daughter, after struggling with her father for a time escaped through the window and sought protection in a neighbor's house. Her statement was corroborated by a younger sister who was present part of the time, During the trial the accused sat in the dock with his head dropped on the railing, nervously twisting a black slouch hat. His full beard is tinged with grey also his hair. He is a man about 5 feet 6 inches in height. His Honor said that he could not find Roblin guilty of the charge without giving undue weight to his previous conduct which, of course, could not be taken as evidence on this charge. He therefore found him guilty of common assault. It was too horrible a crime he said to think it possible, therefore in passing sentence he would try and forget that such a grave charge had been laid, He sentenced Roblin to two months in gaol at hard labor. When the gaoler was leading him from the room, his eldest daughter, sobbing and moaning piteously, cried out to the court, "You won't let him go back to the two girls will you, when he gets out? It don't matter so much about the boys." She was hushed up and taken into the Sheriff's office where her witness fees were paid.

THREE STRAIGHTS.

The Record of the Okas at Napanee Yesterday.

The match between the Okas of this city and the Napanee lacrosse club which took place yesterday at Napanee was witnessed by a goodly number. The ball was faced about 2:30 and the first game lasted 45 minutes during which time the Napanee men were continually on the defence. At length Worham got a drop shot on the flags, and Whitelaw put it through.

The second game lasted less than ten minutes the game being taken by a beautiful underhand shot from Whitelaw.

The third game lasted two minutes and a half. The ball was faced in the centre-field, thrown by Beasley to Garrat who ran up the field and threw on the flags. It was well stopped by Low, who distinguished himself for the Napanee club, and sent down to the Belleville goal where it was caught by Henderson who ran up to the Napanee flags and passed the ball right under the surprised goal-keeper's stick. The Napanee boys seemed paralyzed by this run of Henderson's, and when his check was twitted about it said, "Why that man can beat Jay Eye See."

The trip home on the Ometa was very much enjoyed, the city being reached at ten o'clock.

THE OKAS TEAM.

Coleman, goal; Kenny, point; Burdett, c. point; Henderson, Thomas Boulter, defence field; Beasley, centre; Schultz, Garratt, Wallbridge, home field; Warham, outside home; Whitelaw, inside home.

NOTES.

The treatment received from the Napanee boys was all that could be desired.

The program now is to pratice for a match with the Maple Leafs of Kingston and then for the Peterboros!

Warham, Schultz and Thomas who are not generally on the first twelve surprised everybody by their good play.

Before separating the club passed a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Pope for his kindness in connection with the trip. The boys will not forget it.

As it is absolutely necessary that the Maple Leafs of Kingston, with whom a match is on the tapis, be beaten, the Okas will no doubt practice hard. Let there be a good turn out Monday evening.

In the first game Garratt with his usual ill-luck received a swipe over the right eye which makes him look as if he had just emerged from an encounter with the Hon. John Lawrence Sullivan. And with his usual pluck he again engaged in play and rendered valuable assistance.

'THE GALLEY SLAVE.'

On Monday evening Lytell's Dramatic Company will present Bartley Campbell's powerful play 'The Galley Slave" at the Opera House. The writer saw this company in Toronto in "The World" a few weeks ago and there can be no question of the ability of the leading actors. Mr. J. H. Gilmore is a typical hero, tall, handsome, and manly. Mr. W.H. Lytell is an exceedingly clever character actor. Miss Mortimer ably sustains the leading lady parts.

FOR THE LADIES.

LATEST ECHOES FROM THE WORLD OF FASHION AND FOLLY.

Loose waistcoats adorn even wash dresses

White linen cuffs are becoming more fashionable for street wear.

Jersey seem to have an established position and are as popular as ever.

Skirts grow fuller, and plaited designs are more frequently seen.

The long, slender hat ornaments are bent into all sorts of fantastic shapes, holding folds of velvet or silk.

Very wide brimmed hats are worn exclusively in the country, and these are generally in rough straw.

Heavy, long scarfs of black Escurial lace are prettily worn about the shoulders with dresses of pale colors,

Silk gloves are fashionable for summer wear, and are found in all the new and desirable shades, both light and dark.

Clasps of gold, silver, steel and pearl grow more popular let into the fronts of dresses, at the throat and at the waist.

With the advancement of the summer the hair is worn higher on the head, in loose knots and coils, almost meeting the "bang"

Several new and stylish street dresses are seen of navy blue embroidered with bright red one of the oddest showing a ground of blue, from which are raised small fluffy balls of red wool.

A pretty design for a white handkerchief embroidered in colors shows a half closed umbrella in one corner, with the tip pointing toward the centre and a cord and tassel caught round the handle,

Satin ribbon an inch wide is most fashionably used on lawn dresses. If the lawn combines two or three colors, ribbon to match should be used, and occasionally as many as four or five different shades are seen in one dress, caught in loops and floating ends, in bunches, or made into innumerable cascades that often resemble tumbled rainbows.

Parasols made of two squares of striped brocaded or plain material are seen in endless numbers at all the fashionable establishments, but few of them have yet appeared in the street. Plain red parasols are still in vogue, and are as much liked as ever, but those of changeable silk, showing red and blue, red and green, blue and yellow and various other pretty combinations, are newer, and promise to become more fashionable and popular.

Speaking of ornate sermons the Montreal Witness concludes:—There are very few on whom a quiet fatherly talk by a pastor who knew the hearts of all his children would not fall more refreshingly, and this is perhaps especially true with regard to the hard-headed men of business and men of literature whose criticism is the cause of so much of the minister's waste of effort.

A meeting of the members of St. Andrews Church congregation, Kingston was held Thursday night, but as no answer has been received from the Rev. Mr. Archibald concerning the request made for him to reconsider his decision not to accept the call to that church, the meeting adjourned for a week, awaiting the arrival of an answer.

The rectors of the parishes of Hamilton R. C. diocese have resolved that a new and worthy residence should be at once provided for the bishop, and for that purpose pledge themselves in their own name, and in that of their respective parishes, to contribute the sum of $8,000. The city pastors expect that this sum will be supplemented by $6,000 from the generous catholics of Hamilton.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Invalids distracted by indigestion and discouraged in their search for a remedy should make a trial of this never-failing medicine. A lady long a martyr to dyspeptic tortures, writes that Holloway's Pills made her feel as if a burden had been taken off her. Her spirits formerly low, have greatly improved; her capricious appetite has given place to that of healthy hunger; her dull, sick headache has departed, and gradually so marvellous a change has been effected that she is altogether a new creature, and again fit for her duties. These pills may be administered with safety to the most delicate. They never act harshly, nor do they ever induce weakness; they rightly direct deranged, and control excessive action.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally and the Ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceeding efficacious. When influenza is epidemic this treatment is the easiest, safest, and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of saving suffering when any one is afflicted with cold, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints by which so many persons are seriously and permanently afflicted in most countries.

AFTER USING.

LOVE'S LOTTERY

OR,

THE RIVAL SISTERS.

Having waited until the officer on watch who was now pacing backwards and forwards had gone to the far end of the vessel, Peter Grum, unperceived slipped down the companion.

A few seconds later, Keziah having stayed for a similar opportunity, followed.

Grum giving the peculiar knock at Stuart Loring's cabin door, was bidden to enter.

Doing so, as he expected, he found the American yet up.

Concisely he related what he had just heard.

'Mr. and Mrs. Folmsbee,' repeated the other, musingly.

'Yes; I know the name. It is an English family; they live in—— Street opposite Washington Hotel.'

He paused meditating, then proceeded—

'Directly the San Francisco reaches New Orleans, Grum, go on shore—leave Louis to look after the luggage, Then take rooms at the Washington; stay there for me, I shall not arrive after night falls as I have no desire it should be discovered we are such close neighbors. Still, I must not loose sight of them. Do you understand?'

'Perfectly.'

'Enough. I shall need you no more this evening.'

Grum bowing, departed in silence.

Three days later, the San Francisco had anchored at New Orleans, and the half-sisters, under the escort of Mr. Flomsbee, stepped gladly ashore, having parted with Stuart Loring, Juliette believed, and Pauline secretly prayed, for ever.

CHAPTER XVIII.

STUART LORING BEGINS TO DRAW THE STRINGS.

Mr. and Mrs. Flomsbee were the only friends whom the sisters knew intimately in New Orleans.

They were good natured, chirpy people, who had the agreeable faculty of extracting an enormous amount of pleasure out of mere trifles.

If not intellectually gifted they were happy.

Surely such a cheery, smiling apple face as Mr. Flomsbee's could have no other natural land than dear old Britain.

Juliette, as well as Pauline, greeted it most warmly as it came beaming along the deck towards them.

What courtesies had to be exchanged with their fellow passengers had already been gone through, so, like birds released from captivity, the sisters each took possession of an arm of Jacob Flomsbee, and leaving the footman to see after the portmanteau, hurried to the carriage waiting to carry them to their friend's residence, a large, handsome dwelling, replete with every comfort, for the owners held a good position in society, owing to a large fund of generous hospitality and a very heavy account at the banker's.

By telegram they had requested the half-sisters to give them a few days on their arrival before leaving New Orleans for Longueville, and the sisters had accepted, though anxious to be at their estate and have matters settled.

Pauline the more rejoiced at this invitation as, since their departure from Liverpool, and Eustace Belmore's non-appearance, there had possessed her, increasing every league they neared America, an undefined presentment of danger.

What form it would take she was utterly incapable of saying.

She tried to attribute it to her anxiety about Eustace; but though that uncertainty depressed her, she felt that it was not altogether the cause.

The evil whatever it was, seemed to threaten in the new world, not the old.

This feeling, however, she kept to herself for lately she had stood in a little fear of Juliette's stronger mind, and also, Juliette's ridicule, which the Creole could not or would not, control now that barrier of which she alone was aware—rivalry—had risen up between them.

Mrs. Flomsbee met the sisters with a hearty welcome, than to Pauline's delight and Juliette's wonder, placed in the former's hands a telegram that had arrived a few days previously.

The young girl instantly guessed it came from Eustace.

She clasped it in her trembling fingers, and gladly taking the opportunity of having to change her travelling dress, hastened to her bedchamber, where rapidly she tore open the envelope.

The mystery of his non-appearance was about to be explained.

It was, though rather indefinite.

Nevertheless it brought the receiver a fund of consolation.

It ran—

'An accident caused me to miss the train. I arrived in time to see the San Francisco in the distance. I follow by next boat. Avoid S. L.'

Avoid him?

Not a word of Stuart Loring, more than that.

What more could he say without terrifying her.

No, he dared not.

Telegrams cannot be very fond or eloquent; yet these words 'I follow by next boat,' were as sweet as the longest love letter could have been to Pauline.

(To be continued.)

IMPORTANT TO RUPTURED PERSONS

The Excelsior Rupture Treatment was introduced to the American people several years ago in such a manner as to completely secure the confidence of the whole nation. The mode of introduction was by furnishing the remedy to those afflicted with Hernia in any of its various forms and collecting no pay until a permanent cure was effected. In this way the treatment gained world wide reputation on its own merits, never failing to cure any reducible Hernia. The Company has at the solicitation of thousands placed the remedy on sale by all druggists both wholesale and retail, in the United States, Canada and England. In this way bringing it within the reach of all classes at a trifling cost compared with the benefit which are derived from the use of the treatment. Ask your druggist for a free book on rupture or send 6 cts. for one to the Excelsior Rupture Cure M'f'g Co., Ogdensburg, N. Y.

SCIENCE.

To increase the weight of the body invigorate the system, revitalize the exhausted and depressed, is the true object sought by medical science. The digestive organs must be in a healthy condition if we wish to secure this desired result, and no remedy yet discovered has ever proved so effectual in accomplishing this as FLAX-SEED EMULSION COMP. It contains Phosphorus to build up the nervous system and all the fat producing properties of Flax-seed to enrich the blood and supply the animal economy with the elements for reconstruction.

Use the imperial Kidney and Liver Cure—price 50c.

The above remedies are sold in Belleville by James Clarke & Co. and B. Carmichael druggists.

Vital Questions!

Ask the most eminent physician
Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?
And they will tell you unhesitatingly
"Some form of Hops!!!"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians:
"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, diabetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—
"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu!"
Ask the same physicians
"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.," and they will tell you:
Mandrake! or Dandelion!"
Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable.
And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is
Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

CHAPTER II.

"Patients
"Almost dead or nearly dying"
For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.
Women have gone nearly crazy!!!!
From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.
People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic, or suffering from scrofula.
Erysipelas!
"Saltrheum, blood poisoning dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact, almost all diseases frail"
Nature is heir to
Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.

☞None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile poisonous stuff with "Hop" or "Hops" in their name.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co's. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

"Twenty-four years experience," says an eminent Physician, "convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the Generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box, 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas, Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See adv't in another column

ON THIRTY DAYS' TRIAL.

The VOLTAIC BELT Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above,—N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty day's trial is allowed.

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in th market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all Druggists.

KING'S EVIL

Was the name formerly given to Scrofula because of a superstition that it could be cured by a king's touch. The world is wiser now, and knows that can only be cured by a thorough purification of the blood. If this is neglected, the disease perpetuates its taint through generation after generation. Among its earlier symptomatic developments are Eczema, Cutaneous Eruptions, Tumors, Boils, Carbuncles, Erysipelas, Purulent Ulcers, Nervous and Physical Collapse, etc. If allowed to continue, Rheumatism, Scrofulous Catarrh, Kidney and Liver Diseases, Tubercular Consumption, and various other dangerous or fatal maladies, are produced by it.

SCROFULA

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is the only powerful and always reliable blood-purifying medicine. It is so effectual an alterative that it eradicates from the system Hereditary Scrofula, and the kindred poisons of contagious diseases and mercury. At the same time it enriches and vitalizes the blood, restoring healthful action to the vital organs and rejuvenating the entire system. This great

Regenerative Medicine

Is composed of the genuine Honduras Sarsaparilla, with Yellow Dock, Stillingia, the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and other ingredients of great potency, carefully and scientifically compounded. Its formula is generally known to the medical profession, and the best physicians constantly prescribe AYER'S SARSAPARILLA as an

Absolute Cure

For all diseases caused by the vitiation of the blood. It is concentrated to the highest practicable degree, far beyond any other preparation for which like effects are claimed, and is therefore the cheapest, as well as the best blood purifying medicine, in the world.

MY LITTLE GIRL.

BY SAMUEL MINTURN PECK.

My little girl is nestled
Within her tiny bed,
With amber ringlets crested
Around her dainty head;
She lies so calm and stilly,
She breathes so soft and lovely
She calls to mind a lily
Half hidden in the snow.

A weary little mortal
Has gone to Slumberland;
The Pixies at the portal
Has caught her by the hand.
She dreams her broken Dolly
Will soon be mended there,
That looks so melancholy
Upon the rocking chair.

I kiss your wayward tresses,
My drowsy little queen,
I know you have caresses
From floating form unseen.
O, Angels, let me keep her
To kiss away my cares,
This darling little sleeper
Who has my love and prayers!

AN OLD TIMER.

OLD TIME SPORTS—SIR JOHN STILL A SURVIVOR.

Ald W. Wilson has received from Adolphustown the copy of an old bill which announced the horse races in Kingston in 1840. The President of the Racing Association was John B. Marks; Vice-President Dr. Sampson, and the Secetary J. M. Prior. The Stewards were The Sheriff, John R. Forsythe, H. Sadlier, Wm. Wilson, J. Watkins, R. A. Armstrong, Thos. A. Corbett J. A. Macdonald, H. Smith, Esq., Treasurer Capt. Otway, R. A., Capt. Arthur, A. D. C., Hon. G. T. Devereux, R. A., Dr. Macintosh, R. A., Capt. Matthews, 85th Regiment, Lieut. Kelly, 34th Regiment Lieut. Menzies, R. E., Lieut. Wo[illegible], 24th Regiment, G. Atkinson, Esq., Commissariat. Ald. Wilson says he thinks the only gentleman of those who is now alive is Sir John Macdonald. The races were as follows:—'The Town Plate' of £25, open to all horses bred in the provinces of Upper and Lower Canada:—'The Merchants Plate' of £30, open to all horses; and the Ladies' Purse of £15 with £10 added by the Governor-General. It is thought that an old resident had in his possession one of the old bills, printed in 1849, and that he got more struck off and sent some on to Kingston.—Kingston News.

JURIES AND JURYMEN.

It is a current notion that the reason why so few first class men are to be found upon our juries is that they are excused by the courts. The returns show that such men rarely get upon the jury lists. In the exceptional cases where such men are returned to serve, it is no doubt one of the most important duties of a judge to brace himself up against yielding to any but the best of excuses. Boards of Trade would do well not only to inculcate it as a point of honor that none of their members should seek to shirk this grave public duty, but to see to it that their class be properly represented. And here let me add that the general hardship of jury duty is over estimated. I have repeatedly had business men at the end of the term confess to me not only the satisfaction they have felt in performing this function, and the interest they have felt in their work but their surprise that it was so little onerous. Connected with the elevation of the character of the jury is the question of their better treatment. The two reforms go hand in hand. It is, no doubt, essential to preserve the strict control of the presiding judge over the conduct of the jury; but it is now the aim of thoughtful judges to exercise this control with the utmost courtesy that circumstances allow. The jurors are in truth a part of the court, sitting under the same solemn obligation and engaged in the same serious duty. Respect from others tends to increase their self-respect. I cannot but feel that the more they are treated as gentlemen, the better will they respond to the call upon them to act as such. I particularly object to the uncomfortable and unsanitary arrangements of most of our jury rooms. This constitutes so many persons of delicate health, or refined tastes the most serious objection to jury service; while to those in good health and who are less fastidious, it is still an annoying discomfort, which disturbs the considerate and calm judgment so important in reaching impartial and accurate verdicts. In this suggestion of better accomodation for jurors, I am sure that I shall carry the assent of all reasonable men.—Judge R. C. Pitman, in the North American Review.

LIQUID MANURE.

The Boston Farmer says:—Probably there is no one leak so generally neglected on the average New England farm as all the waste of liquid manure. In spite of all that chemists tells us of its value, and in spite of the experience of practical men who have put its to the test of trial upon their crops, the waste go on. The drainage with the express purpose of getting rid of the troublesome wet cellar, and the very life's blood of the farm allowed to leack away to pollute the nearest spring or water course. Chemists tell us, and practical men confirm their statements, that the liquid excrements are worth more than double the average solid excrements of ordinary farm animals; especially is this the case with horses.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the most effective blood-purifier ever devised. It is recommended by the best physicians.

SAVED FROM A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Unto May I had spent at least five hundred dollars in treatment by many of the best medical men without benefit. My mouth became badly ulcerated, sores breaking out on my neck and legs. I also suffered excruciatingly with Rheumatism, grew very despondent, and my best friends advised me that the icy hand of death was fast approaching. I caught at Shaker Blood Syrup like drowning man catches at a straw. After taking two bottles I could feel the change for the better. The sores began to discharge freely, and Rheumatism to abate. When I had taken six bottles every sore had healed and my skin began to assume a natural appearance. I persisted until I had taken twelve, and there is not a symptom of the disease remaining, and I feel as well as I ever did. I have gained twenty-one pounds in flesh, and my friends wonder at my improved condition. I have recommended it to many, and in every instance with complete success. I believe that Shaker Blood Syrup has saved me from a horrible death.
T. S. Cannon South Boston Mass.

In 1878 I was the victim of terrible Blood Poison, and after being treated by three physicians was confined to my bed, not able to raise my hand to my head, spiting up clots of blood and reduced in weight from one hundred and eighty-five to one hundred and thirty pounds. I then began the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, and in less than three months I was entirely well, weighing one hundred and ninety-six pounds, and have never had a symptom of the disease since. If it had not been for Shaker Syrup I believe I would have been in my grave.

THE DAILY ONTARIO

MR. TUPPER AS A PROPHET

At a recent public meeting at Emerson, Man., the citizens of that place passed a resolution that, in view of the financial condition and prospects, it was impracticable and undesirable to attempt to carry on city government any longer, that the paid officials should be dismissed and the public schools closed. The city is in debt half a million and the population has decreased from three to one thousand, one third of the stores and houses being unoccupied. The city possessed every natural advantage to permit it to grow, but as a correspondent of the place, speaking of the people says:—"We are the victims of a government policy that deprives us of such railway connection with the country to the west and northwest of us as we would, but for that policy, be enabled to secure."

"Are the interests of Manitoba and the Northwest to be sacrificed to the railway policy of Canada? I say, if it is necessary, YES!"—Sir Charles Tupper in the Commons, May 4, 1883.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The re-count in Megantic commenced on Saturday. The Liberal majority was 31.

* * *

Competent school teachers are very scarce in Ontario. Saturday's Globe contained advertisements for twenty-five.

* * *

The statement that an arrangement had been entered into for the joint control of the North Shore road is denied by both the G. T. R. and C. P. R. officials.

* * *

The sum of $500 will be voted by Toronto to entertain the members of the Association for the advancement of Science by a drive throughout the city.

* * *

It is pleasing to note that the journalistic and not the legal profession has been drawn on for a leader to the new Nova Scotian Government, Mr. Fielding, editor of the Halifax Chronicle a Liberal journal.

* * *

The Globe is well edited, but what excuse can Canada's model paper offer for such slang as that, it is a frigid afternoon when Tammany gets left in the procession, when they merely want to say it is unusual for Tammany to be outgeneralled in politics.

* * *

In the experience of the Greely party it became necessary to choose between dragging a sick companion and some meat. The meat was left behind. Ill-fated as are these Artic expeditions they bring out an amount of heroism, pure and unselfish in its character.

* * *

Toronto has grave doubts as to the value of her waterworks system and the Globe would utilize some of the eminent hydraulic engineers who will visit the city with the British Association for the Advancement of Science next month by asking their opinion of the matter. The suggestion is worthy a Baconian philosophy.

* * *

It is noted that in his speech at Clinton on July 12, Mr. John White, censured only the Liberal opponents of the Orange Bill. It is refreshing to notice that Capt. Gaskin of Kingston, a prominent Orangemen, held the Orange leader up to scorn by saying that he sat quietly in Parliament on his—unmentionable—while the Bill was being defeated.

* * *

The Liberal members of the Mousseau investigation commission have left it in disgust. By persistently upholding Charlebois' objection to tell what moneys he had paid during the last two years on Mousseau's election account the Bleu majority on the Committee of Enquiry have succeeded in making the investigation a farce.

THE BRIBERY COMMISSION.

Mr. Thomas Mark, of Port Arthur, was placed in the box. He said Mr. Kirkland had solicited him to sound Conservative members of the House in reference to their views on the timber question, and he understood Mr. Kirkland was offering payment to Reform members to induce them to speak against the Government's timber policy. Mr. Meredith had asked the witness if Mr. Kirkland was a respectable man and had expressed the opinion that the timber policy could be changed. The witness was evidently regarded as dangerous, and was eyed with intense interest during his examination by Mr. Kirkland, while neither Mr. Meek nor Mr. Caswell made an attempt to cross-examine.

Mr. Blake here announced that no further witnesses could be called at present on behalf of the Crown, owing to the impossibility of having them present. Hon. D. L. Macpherson is in England suffering from severe ill-health. J. A. Wilkinson was only served with a subpena at Winnipeg on Wednespay night. Stimson has not been served, and John Shields has failed to respond to the call of the Commission. These are all witnesses of importance, and have manifested substantial evidence of their reluctance to be examined. They no doubt hope to be able to keep out of the hands of the Commission, and rely on the ingenuity of their counsel to block the case in the courts. Messrs. Meek and Caswell did not feel disposed to submit any evidence until the case for the prosecution was concluded, and it was, after consultation, decided to adjourn the Commission until September 1st, Mr. Caswell first lodging on behalf of Mr. Kirkland a protest against the legality of the whole proceedings, based on arguments previously set aside by the Commission.

A STARTLING DISCOVERY.

Mr. Wm. Johnston, of Huron, Dak., writes that his wife had been troubled with acute Bronchitis for many years, and that all remedies tried gave no permanent relief, until he procured a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, which has a magical effect, and produced a permanent cure. It is guaranteed to cure all Diseases of Throat, Lungs, or Bronchial Tubes.

THE GREAT CONSPIRACY.

Who Should have the Credit of Overthrowing the Government.

MR. MEEK CROSS-EXAMINES MR. LYON.

The meeting between Messrs. Meek, McKim and Lyon, (the latter two supporters of the Government) at the Walker House, when Meek was trying to seduce Mr. Lyon from his allegiance by promising to have the petition against his return withdrawn, was thus described by Mr. Lyon before the Royal Commission on Friday under cross-examination by Meek, who is a lawyer:—

Mr. Meek—Do you recollect asking me to get a written guarantee endorsed by Mr. Bunting or Mr. Creighton?

Witness—Or Mr. Meredith?

Mr. Meek—You are mistaken about that it was Mr. Creighton.

Witness—I think Mr. Meredith was mentioned.

Mr. Meek—Did I say I would have nothing to do with it?

Witness—You said that Bunting would have to give his consent.

Mr. Meek—Be careful.

Witness—I think I am careful; you or Wilkinson asked me to go to see Bunting.

Mr. Meek—If you put it in that way I don't mind accepting your statement. Didn't I speak to you indignantly about it?

Witness—You said you had expended more of your private funds than any other member of the party, and—

Mr. Meek (interrupting)—Did I say I would be the party to withdraw it and nobody else? Don't you remember me saying it was an unreasonable thing, and that if you were a man of common sense there would be no necessity for you to ask me such a thing?

Witness—No. What would be the use of us going there at all in that case?

Mr. Meek—Mr. McKim's object was to get a written guarantee, so as to catch somebody. Don't you recollect my saying that if you were a supporter of ours it would be idiotic to maintain the petition?

Witness—I insisted on a guarantee.

Mr. Meek—You didn't get one?

Witness—I got one—yes.

Mr. Meek—No, you didn't. (Laughter.)

After a few questions respecting a second meeting, the examination proceeded respecting the second.

Mr. Meek—Did I not refuse to withdraw the petition?

Witness—You said if it was withdrawn it must be withdrawn through you.

Some question arose as to distinguishing what took place at the several interviews, In answer to a question,

Witness said—What impressed it so strongly on my mind was that at the first you were indignant. At the next you and Wilkinson were agreed upon it. You recollect you and Wilkinson having some trouble about who should have the credit of overthrowing the Ontario Government. (Loud laughter.)

Mr. Meek—That never happened. (Renewed laughter.)

Witness (warmly)—Do you stand there on the veracity of a man and say that never occurred? (Renewed laughter.)

Mr. Meek (firmly)—Yes.

Witness—You said you had spent your private funds for the party. Wilkinson said he had done more of that than any other member of the party and he received the credit. (Loud laughter.)

Mr. Meek I can't help that.

Witness—He was willing the credit should go to Mr. Bunting. (Loud laughter.) But you thought you should have the credit, you had spent so much money. (Renewed laughter.)

Mr. Meek—That is news to me. You must be mistaken about that.

Witness—It is not new to the others. They were there. Mr. McKim was there.

Mr. Meek—Mr. McKim didn't tell anything about that. He was closely cross-examined, and this is the first we have heard of it.

Witness (warmly)—Don't you remember you said we were giving away too much of the timber to our friends, and you wanted some for your friends? You said you didn't want any of the timber but you wanted to be made solicitor of the timber business. Don't you remember? (Loud laughter.)

Mr. Meek—I am afraid the two drinks you had had something to do with what you remember of this.

Witness—I was perfectly sober.

A number of questions were asked by Mr. Meek respecting the number of drinks the witness had had before this meeting, but they did no elicit more than that he had had only one drink during the day up to the time of meeting. The Chairman interposed, however and said that after what the witness had said there was no object in pursuing the matter further than had been done.

CONTEMPORARY COMMENT.

COMPLIMENTORY ATTACKS

The persistant and virulent attacks of the Mail and other organs upon Mr. Edgar is evidence enough that he has dealt the Tory party some hard blows. A Tory never strikes at any man unless he finds that he is rendering the Liberal party marked assistance. The fact alone should indicate to the Liberals of West Ontario that in Mr. Edgar they will have a member who will always occupy a leading position in the party.—Port Perry Standard.

DEATH OF SENATOR POSER.

News of the death of Senator Poser has reached Quebec by a member of the Quebec bar returning from Court in Beauce, and caused a painful sensation. Nothing more than the mere fact of the death was learned. The deceased Senator was one of the few Liberal representatives from that Province in the Senate, to which he was called under the Makenzie Administration, having prieviously represented Beauce in the commons and Quebec Legislature. He was still a compartively yaung man, having been born in 1835. The deceased Senator was a Protestant.

RAILWAY TRAIN WRECKED.

A Thousand People Down an Embankment.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT IN OHIO.

Canton, O., July 20.—A point on the Valey railroad, two miles east of here, last night was the scene of a terrible wreck, in which 1000 excurtionists from this city miraculously escaped with injuries, so far as is known, but it is thought that half a dozen or more persons are under the wreck dead. The employees of Aultman & Co's machine works had their annual picnic at Cuyahoga's falls yesterday and oyer 2000 people went on the excursion, made up of two trains of fifteen cars each. The first section arrived at 7:20 p. m., and while hundreds of fathers, mothers, brothers and sisters were at the station waiting for their friends and relatives on the second section, a hatless messengar came running down the track crying that the train had been wrecked and many killed and injured."

The scene that followed was of the wildest description and when the wreck was reached men, women, and children ran around wringing their hands and looking for their loved ones. Nine cars were off the track and in water four feet deep. The cries of the injured were heartrendering. Hundreds of willing hands immediately set to work and soon found that not more than twenty-five were injured, but it was impossible to say how many or who were killed. About a dozen or more are missing and may be under the cars, and nothing definite can be known until a wrecking train arrives which is now on the way to the scene. A telegraph office has been opened at the scene and everything is being done to alleviate the suffering of the injured.

The engineer says the wreck was caused by the track spreading. The engine went over all right but the first car jumped the track and eight others followed alongside the track for two hundred feet, throwing the occupants from one side to another and finally jumped a small embankment and landed in three feet of water. The doors were cut open and the people got out. Three doctors are on the grounds attending the wounded, several of whom they say will probably die.

A DUEL WITH RAPIERS

A LOUISIANA PLANTER AND A STEAMBOAT MAN FIGHT.

New Orleans, July 21.—The first duel reported this season was fought this morning on the right bank of the river, just opposite New Orleans, between two Creoles, Mr. Evariste Poche, a prominent planter and politician of St. James Parish and a brother of Judge Felix Poche of the Supreme Court, and Capt. J. E. Brou, a well-known steamboat man. The duel was the result of a personal encounter on Monday, in which Mr. Poche was worsted. He sent a challenge, which was accepted and a meeting appointed, the weapons chosen being rapiers. Mr. Poche was wounded, his antagonist's sword passing through his left leg. Honor was then declared satisfied and the affair was brought to an end. Mr. Poche left at once for home. His wound is not serious.

DEPOSED FROM THE MINISTRY.

Beverley, July 19.—At a council of Baptist Churches held in the church in Beverley to consider charges made against the moral character of their late pastor, Rev. J. D. McCall, the following preamble and resolutions were passed unanimously: Whereas the council having heard the evidence in support of the grave charges brought against the Rev. J. D. McColl, and being convinced that the said chages have been well sustained by the evidence and that his conduct has been both wicked and a disgrace to the Christian ministry, Resolved, That we withdraw from him the right hand of friendship, and depose him from the Christian ministry, and that he is hereby deposed." There was a woman in the case.

A CLERGYMAN ROTTEN EGGED.

Walkerton, July 19.—A widow lady named Mrs. Martin created a sensation here to-day by publicly rotten egging Rev. Wm. Smyth, Methodist minister, in the market place before a large crowd. She was brought before the mayor and a bench of magistrates this afternoon and fined $10 and costs.

Mrs. Martin was a Sunday school teacher in the Methodist church, and the assault arose out of a scandalous report affecting her character, which she blamed on Mr. Smyth.

THE CHEESE MARKET.

New York, July 19.—Receipts to day, 29,281 pkgs. The market to-day has been quiet and shows considerable irregularity, but evidently lacking in the strength claimed for it in a few, a very few instances. There is a certain small quantity of fancy quality here on which there is a strong effort being made to work out with a profit, but buyers do not come up to the rates asked, and appear to have about all the stock wanted on the purchases of yesterday, and for Friday the inquiry has more than the usual indifference indifference and all hands appear to be somewhat doubtful. It may be called apparently a 9½ c market if quality is perfect and somebody happens to want the stock, with not over 9⅝c likely on an effort to sell and business done at 9½c for what the buyer call'ed fancy. Other grades are more or less unsettled but afford opportunities for picking up an apparent bargain now and then as holders are not very anxious to carry over stock, and offer readily when an opportunity for negotiation is offered. The home trade is slow and irregular, with actual wants the principal basis of demand.

THE HOP MARKET.

New York, Bulletin, July 19.—Business, demand and offerings are all on a very moderate scale. In fact there is no feature beyond positive dullness. All hands seem to be awaiting news from Europe that can be relied upon, and evidently will do nothing meanwhile, in view of past experience in acting hastily upon European crop reports. Prices are greatly nominal and appearance somewhat the reverse of latter for holders obtaining the figures quoted.

GREAT ENGLISH SCANDAL.

London, July 31.—A scandalous disclosure was made Saturday at the inquest on Judgde Watkyn Williams. He was at Nottingham in the performance of his regular duties. He was in the apparent enjoyment of good health, and died suddenly Thursday night. It was given out that he had died from a sudden attack of heart disease. At the inquest, however, the coroner, in pushing his inquiries as to the circumstances attending the learned judge's death, brought out the fact that it occurred in a Nottingham house of ill repute After transacting his day's business on the bench Judge Williams repaired to the brothel and there dined with one of its women. After the dinner the judge and his companion spent the night together in an orgie, in the course of which he suddenly expired in the house. The coroner made every attempt to hush up these disclosures, and the friends of the faimily vainly attempted to bribe the inmates of the brothel and the reporters to conceal the scandal, but their efforts were ineffectual.

HOW MANY BUTTONS?

A novel method of advertising was adopted by Jamieson, the clothier, of Toronto. He offered as a prize for the one who should guess nearest to the number of buttons exhibited in a bottle a Shetland pony, christened "Oscar Wilde." The drawing took place Friday evening at a concert. Ald. Piper then announced that the number of buttons in the bottle was 4,593 and that the nearest guess was 4,599, the next nearest being 4,600, and the third nearest 4,585, and that the number of the winning ticket was 464. The guesses ranged from 279 to 350,000. Mr. Jamieson then referred to his list of names and found that the lucky ticket was held by Bertie Jaffray, 496 Church street, to correspond to the lucky number. It was at first supposed that the winner was a little girl, but a lad about 12 years of age marched modestly up from the back of the hall, presented his receipt, and was declared the winner. Each lady present received a pretty fan from Mr. Jamieson.

A BALTIMORE TRAGEDY.

Toronto, July 21.—Not a little excitement was caused in certain circles on Saturday night on receipt of a telegram from Baltimore, Md., stating that two women of the town belonging to Toronto had been shot in the Monumental city in an irregular house. One of them, Frankie Robinson, was shot dead and the other, May White, who keeps a resort of easy virtue at No. 11 Nelson street, was reported to be wounded seriously. Subsequent events proved the rumor to be correct.

POST OFFICE BURGLARS.

Probably $3,000 Stolen from the Peterboro' Branch.

Peterboro, July 21.—Early Saturday morning burglars entered the general post office by forcing the door in the rear with a "jimmy," and took, in money and stamps, it is estimated $3,000. The lock of the safe was blown off with explosives. The tools used were stolen from Messrs. Porter Bros'. carriage factory. The safe contained $562. There had been received on Friday $1,000 worth of stamps, and besides there was between $300 and $400 worth of stamps in the office. One registered letter from Lakefield contained $436 which was addressed to the Bank of Montreal. There is no clue to the burglars.

Price Baking Powder Co., Chicago, Ill:

Gentlemen—All examinations which I have made of DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER have had but one result, to wit: That it is scientifically compounded from pure materials, and yields the largest amount of Carbonic Acid Gas that can possibly be produced by such compounds. It requires, therefore, NOT ONLY no addition of any material like AMMONIA to increase its qualities as a Baking Powder, but such addition would actually ENDANGER ITS EXCELLENCE. Respectfully, H. W. A team of horses driven by John Gauthire on Saturday night near Albert College ran away, and then Mr. Gauthire jumped out, but was not injured. The horses jumped over a barb wire fence along the Coleman estate taking the buggy with them, which rebounded with such force over the wire that it went also over the horses heads and stopped them.

Saturday night a painful accident occurred to Lillie, a six year old daughter of Mr. J. S. Crothers, while taking a ride in the delivery wagon. The driver was approaching the overhead bridge on North Front street, when the horse becoming frightened at a train turned suddenly around, upset the wagon and broke the little girl's collar bone. No other damage was done. The injured child was taken into Mr. VanAllen's house, and afterwards driven home, where with the kindest treatment she will soon recover.

John Donoghue was before Magistrate Flint last week on a charge of vagrancy, and on promising to leave the city he was discharged, but John failed to be as good as his word. On Saturday he walked into widow Smith's grocery near the corner of the lower bridge, took up a piece of bologna and ordered a little girl to cook him some sausage. Constable Cook appeared on the spot and arrested the cheeky tramp before he had an opportunity to execute his threats. This morning he was sentenced to six months in the central prison. This is a solemn warning to tramps who are too lazy to earn an honest living.

THE OPERA HOUSE ASSESSMENT.

Judge Fralick this morning gave his decision in the appeal from the City Council against the remission of the assessment of $13,000 on the Opera House by the Court of Revision, sustaining the appeal. He ruled that the decision of the Court of Revision was entitled to be appealed against the same as in a summary conviction, and expressed the opinion that the Court of Revision instead of ignoring the Council should have reported the result of their deliberations to the Council. In conclusion he said he was inclined to follow Chief Justice Draper's decision in re Justices of York and Peel, 13 U.C.C.P. 159, and added: "I am disposed to extend rather than narrow Lord Denman's remark that the Court of Quarter Sessions should rather lean to the hearing of appeals than to dismissing them on technical grounds."

THEIR ANNUAL PICNIC.

The G. T. R. Employees Have a good Time.

RESULT OF RACES — BABY SHOW.

Mayor Dunnet and about two thousand people attended the Grand Trunk employee's excursion to Port Hope Saturday, which was successfully managed by a committee of level-headed railroaders. The weather was fine—not too warm for pleasure, and the arrangements made for the excursionists met with general favor. There were thirty five passenger cars, a few first class coaches, divided in two trains.

The engines were gaily decorated with minature flags and evergreens, and as the trains moved out of the yard, the last one at a quarter to nine, almost every car was filled with people young and old, all with buoyant spirits in anticipation of spending a jolly day with the railwaymen—and few were disappointed. The Oddfellows band was on board and during the run up played some popular airs at intervals. At almost every station the number on the train was augmented by others who joined the excursion until it was impossible to obtain a seat on the first train, and few were vacant in the second.

AT PORT HOPE,

The party reached the picnic grounds at twelve o'clock. The major portion of them left the train and walked to the grove, quite a long distance, while a few remained on the cars and rode into the town where they took dinner at the hotels, but the accommodation was limited and many fared poorly. At the grounds Mr. B. McMahon, of the Edinburgh House furnished dinner and refreshments for a large number, while a few were fortunate enough to be supplied with their own baskets well filled with edibles. The pic-nic ground was the old race course kindly placed at the disposal of the committee by Mr. A. V. Hugel, Mayor of Port Hope, but it was entirely unfit for the purpose, and too far from the railway. The small clump of pines which constituted the grove was on the side of a steep incline. Here swings were erected, refreshment booths and a dancing platform but the greensward being almost perpendicular few could extract much pleasure in climbing the hill and sliding down again. But as it was doubtless the best spot available, the excursionists made the best of it and here the afternoon was spent.

THE PROGRAM OF SPORTS.

The bicycle race and the long list of games attracted the greatest attention and aroused considerable interest. The program began at 12:30 in charge of a competent committee and was not finished until after six. The first event was a bicycle race, two mile dash, for a handsome gold and silver medal, presented by Mr. B. McMahon. Walter Northcott and Thomas West were the two competitors. The former led the first mile closely followed by West, who in trying to pass Northcott "dished" his machine. Both were thrown off, but Northcott remounted and finished, winning the prize. In the second bicycle race West and Northcott of Belleville, Barret of Port Hope, and Mills, of Newcastle; responded to the call. Barret, a strong, muscular fellow, led at the start, with Northcott and West running together. At the mile and half post West passed the others and won easily, Northcott a poor second, with Barret the same distance behind him.

The games were open for competition among the employees of the road and their families and each separate event brought forward numerous competitors. Wm. Mayo won the foot race for young men between the ages of sixteen and twenty, B. B. Ivers second, W. Northcott third. Mayo and Northcott also captured the three-legged race, with D. Corrigan and R. Anderson second. Andrew McAdoo was first, J. McKnight second and Ferguson third in the fat man's race. B. Ivers handled the eggs the liveliest, and a Port Hope delegate carried off the prize in the race for men over forty years of age.

THE BABY SHOW

however, was the feature of the day—to the mothers. The entries of course were numerous, and the judges were never before in such a keen contest. The ages of the youngsters ran from three to eighteen months. Some were pretty and some were not, but each of the parents thought their child the best and entitled to the prize. The prize, however, was for the baby in the best condition. Had it been for the best looking child it is probable there would have been a row between the anxious mothers on the platform. After a time the first prize was awarded to R. Fairbairn's boy baby and the second to Joseph Taylor's.

After the games were finished the party prepared for the journey home. The first train left the grounds at six o'clock, but the second one was kept in the yard until eight, and Belleville was reached about eleven. There was no accident during the day and the excursionists were unanimous in awarding the palm for a successful picnic to the boys of the Grand Trunk.

DISAPPOINTED KINGSTONIANS.

It appears that a large number of Kingston people bought tickets and made up their minds to attend the picnic but at the depot they were told that the tickets were only valued from Belleville. The first intention was altered on Friday by telegram, too late to notify intending excursionists.

BLOWN FROM A WELL.

Charles Hill Lifted Nine Feet By a Blast.

A serious blasting accident occurred on Saturday in a well near McGinnis' corner, the victim being Charles Hill. He had been at work in the well blasting the rock with Barney Hodgins, and after preparing a charge they ascended the ladder to await its discharge. The report was not heard, and thinking the fuse had not been properly adjusted, Hill went to the bottom of the well and lit a match to ascertain the cause of the delay. Immediately the fire ignited the powder and Hill was thrown up out of the hole a distance of nine feet when he was caught by Hodgins, who had him at once properly cared for. Hill's shoulders, hands, hips and face were burnt in a terrible manner, but no bones were broken. His escape was a miraculous one.

ORANGE BLOSSOMS

On Saturday afternoon were married in St. Thomas' Church by the Rector, Rev. J. W. Burke, Mr. Charles Lincoln, of St. Paul, Minnesota, to Miss Lydia Palmer youngest daughter of Mr. Wilson Palmer, Murray, and niece of Mr. F. R. Palmer of this city. The wedding was a quiet one, the bashful bridegroom, who had come so far for his bride, being desirous of avoiding the criticism of a curious crowd. The happy couple left for the west by the six o'clock express.

Mr. Keene will not pay the duties amounting to several hundred dollars. He is informed that his creditors intended to attack the cup if he takes it out of the custom house.

The Oxas are apparently going to play themselves into good championship form. They have challenged the Citizens Club of Kingston, for July the 30th, and will play the Maple Leafs of the same place on Aug. 8, for the cup, arranging the return match so that it will be played in Belleville on Aug. 18, the civic holiday. Good advice to the Oxas is to practice, practice, practice.

The championship lacrosse flag went to the Montreal club in the match in Toronto on Saturday afternoon. this being the first time in seven years that fortune has smiled upon Captain McIndoe's team. The match closely contested, was full of hard and fast play, and brought out in a marked degree the weak points of the Toronto club. The Montrealers play a very different game from the Shamrocks or the Torontos. They have a number of new dodges and ways of throwing the ball, and it was partly owing to these that the Toronto team was defeated, but the principal reason was the weakness of play in the centre field. The Torontos took the 1st and 4th games in 10 and 18 minutes, and the Montrealers the other three in 16, 48 and 1 min.

A woman out West is mistress of four tongues. She is more blessed than most women, but the less we say about her husband the better.

A GOOD TIME.

When is the best time to take a blood purifier? When ever the blood is foul and humors appear, or when the system is debilitated take Burdock Blood Bitters.

The latest story is "A Perilous Secret." One of the characters tries to conceal something from his wife.

A SUDDEN ATTACK.

All people, especially travellers' are liable to a sudden attack of Cholera Morbus, Colic, Diarrhœa and Dysentery. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is the most prompt and reliable remedy known.

Talk about your lovely things; there's nothing so lovely as a lovely wife—if she doesn't talk too much.

Baxter's Mandrake Bitters cure indigestion, Heart Burn, Costiveness and all malarial diseases. Twenty-five cents per bottle.

If you are troubled with a "hacking cough," Downs' Elixir will give you relief at once. Warranted as recommended or money refunded.

It is a sir-prize the girls are after this year. But the men are growing cautious and are not to be miss-taken thus easily.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS—Coughs Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally and the Ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceeding efficacious. When influenza is epidemic this treatment is the easiest, safest, and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free, without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of saving suffering when any one is afflicted with cold, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints by which so many persons are seriously and permanently afflicted in most countries.

A FEW HINTS

FOR THE USE OF

AYER'S PILLS

DOSE.—To move the bowels gently, 2 to 4 Pills; thoroughly, 4 to 6 Pills. Experience will decide the proper dose in each case.

For Constipation, or Costiveness, no remedy is so effective as AYER'S PILLS. They insure regular daily action, and restore the bowels to a healthy condition.

For Indigestion, or Dyspepsia, AYER'S PILLS are invaluable, and a sure cure.

Heart-burn, Loss of Appetite, Foul Stomach, Flatulency, Dizziness, Headache, Numbness, Nausea, are all relieved and cured by AYER'S PILLS.

In Liver Complaint, Billious Disorders, and Jaundice, AYER'S PILLS should be given in doses large enough to excite the liver and bowels, and remove constipation. As a cleansing medicine in the Spring, these PILLS are unequalled.

Worms, caused by a morbid condition of the bowels, are expelled by these PILLS.

Eruptions, Skin Diseases, and Piles, the result of Indigestion or Constipation, are cured by the use of AYER'S PILLS.

For Colds, take AYER'S PILLS to open the pores, remove inflammatory secretions, and allay the fever.

For Diarrhœa and Dysentery, caused by sudden colds, indigestible food, etc., AYER'S PILLS are the true remedy.

Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, and Sciatica, often result from digestive derangement, or colds, and disappear on removing the cause by the use of AYER'S PILLS.

Tumors, Dropsy, Kidney Complaints, and other disorders caused by debility or obstruction, are cured by AYER'S PILLS.

Suppression, and Painful Menstruation, have a safe and ready remedy in

AYER'S PILLS.

Full directions, in various languages, accompany each package.

LOVE'S LOTTERY

OR,

THE RIVAL SISTERS.

So sweet that the part in reference to the American lost half the effect it otherwise would have had.

'Avoid him,' murmured Pauline. 'Then my darling knew he was on board.'

Adding with a smile—

'Well, if danger there was, thank Heaven it is past. We have, I hope seen the last of that man.

Then another trouble usurped her thoughts.

How was she to explain the telegram to Juliette, who had seen it delivered with surprise?

She would be sure to ask from whom it had come.

Pauline speedily arranged it.

With a slight blush, she determined to practise a little falsehood.

Going to her sister's room, with a bright smile, and a frankness tolerably well assumed, she informed her that the telegram was from Eustace Belmore, containing only a few words stating his inability to exist while so long a distance was between them; therefore, that he intended to follow by the next steamer, that he might, at least, have the pleasure of escorting the sisters back.

On hearing this intelligence, the Creole hastily averted her face.

Her clear, olive brow was darkly contracted.

It was no pleasure to hear of Eustace Belmore's arrival.

Were then these two not to be parted?

Controlling herself, she exclaimed, with slight, but apparently justifyable displeasure—

'Mr. Belmore going to follow? Pauline this is not right. I heard he had asked our aunt's permission, but she had refused it.'

'Perhaps she has changed her mind,' remarked Pauline, averting her eyes, with a guilty rising color, 'or Eustace is coming without it; at any rate dear Juliette,' and there was evident satisfaction in his in her accent, it is too late to stop him now; he must have started.'

'Which,' smiled the Creole, once more assuming her role, 'you much regret.'

Pauline laughed at first constrainedly, then gaily as she threw her arms around the other's neck; 'I deserve your jest, dearest Juliette,' she said. 'No, of course I do not regret it; on the contrary, the prospect of his coming, has made me more happy than I can express. I am of a foolish, nervous temperament, and confess I feel safer, and more at ease with Eustace for a protector than Keziah, faithful as she is, Own yourself, Juliette, you are not sorry; say you are glad he is coming, You like Eustace, Don't you?'

'He is well enough,' smiled Juliette.

'Well enough!' repeated Juliette with a charming pout.

'You would not surely have me more enthusiastic, else I should make you jealous.'

'Jealous,' retorted Pauline, merrily; 'absurd. Hush, here is Keziah. Are you ready, dear? Let us go down to the drawing room. Please, good Keziah,' she added, 'see to the portmanteau I have opened; I fear I have made it a sad tumble.'

Saying which she passed from the apartment as the negress entered.

Silently Keziah gazed after them.

She had heard the contents of the telegram, that is how Pauline had stated it, for the keyhole practice is not only known to white people.

'So he is going to folllow is he?' she muttered; 'is now on the ocean? Great news this.'

Closing the door securely, she approached the window, grasped the muslin, curtain, waved it three times as if it had been swayed by the breeze.

She paused, then repeated the action, her eyes fixed on a certain window of the hotel opposite.

Four times she did it, and finally the signal, for such it was, received an answer.

The muslin curtain of the window she watched was waved three times in return.

'Good, good,' muttered the negress, he's there and knows I must see him to-night—that I have news,' and exultingly she repaired to the task of tidying the portmanteau.

Three hours later, Peter Grum, seeking the American's presence, recounted Keziah's intelligence.

'In that case,' was Stuart Loring's calm rejoinder, each steamer must be watched on it's arrival. You see Grum, you did your work but clumsily.'

'The fault lies with the confounded Thames police,' retorted the other savagely.

'Well, perhaps his coming or staying is now of little consequence. It will all depend upon the time he arrives. I again place the affair in your hands, be more careful this time.'

'He shall not escape me on another occasion, take my word,' exclaimed Grum through his teeth.

'Ah, you misunderstand me. On this occasion there must be no violence, at least until you have further orders from me. He may arrive too late, then let him do what, or go where he pleases. Let me know the instant he lands, if we chance to be still in New Orleans; now have you any other intelligence respecting the Misses Beauchamp's movements?'

IMPORTANT TO RUPTURED PERSONS

The Excelsior Rupture Treatment was introduced to the American people several years ago in such a manner as to completely secure the confidence of the whole nation. The mode of introduction was by furnishing the remedy to those afflicted with Hernia in any of its various forms and collecting no pay until a permanent cure was effected. In this way he treatment gained world wide reputation on its own merits, never failing to cure any reducible Hernia. The Company has at the solicitation of thousands placed the remedy on sale by all druggists both wholesale and retail, in the United States, Canada and England. In this way bringing it within the reach of all classes at a trifling cost compared with the benefit which are derived from the use of the treatment. Ask your druggist for a free book on rupture or send 6 cts. for one to the Excelsior Rupture Cure M'f'g Co., Ogdensburg, N. Y.

SCIENCE.

Vital Questions!

Ask the most eminent physician
Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?
And they will tell you unhesitatingly
"Some form of Hops! ! !"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians:
"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, debetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—
"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu !"
Ask the same physicians
"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.," and they will tell you :
Mandrake! or Dandelion !"
Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable,
And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is
Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

CHAPTER II.

"Patients
"Almost dead or nearly dying"
For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.
Women have gone nearly crazy ! ! ! !
From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.
People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic, or suffering from scrofula.
Erysipelas!
"Saltrheum, blood poisoning dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact, almost all diseases frail"
Nature is heir to
Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.

None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile poisonous stuff with 'Hop' or 'Hops' in their name.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk ; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co.s. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

"Twenty-four years experience," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the generative organs is to repair the wastby giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box, 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes. accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas. Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their written guarantee to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure See adv't in another column

ON THIRTY DAYS' TRIAL.

The VOLTAIC BELT Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above.—N B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty day's trial is allowed.

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in th market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficent. For sale by all Druggists.

KING'S EVIL.

Was the name formerly given to Scrofula because of a superstition that it could be cured by a king's touch. The world is wiser now, and knows that can only be cured by a thorough purification of the blood. If this is neglected, the disease perpetuates its taint through generation after generation. Among its earlier symptomatic developments are Eczema, Cutaneous Eruptions, Tumors, Boils, Carbuncles, Erysipelas, Purulent Ulcers, Nervous and Physical Collapse, etc. If allowed to continue, Rheumatism, Scrofulous Catarrh, Kidney and Liver Diseases, Tubercular Consumption, and various other dangerous or fatal maladies, are produced by it.

SCROFULA

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is the only powerful and always reliable blood-purifying medicine. It is so effectual an alterative that it eradicates from the system Hereditary Scrofula, and the kindred poisons of contagious diseases and mercury. At the same time it enriches and vitalizes the blood, restoring healthful action to the vital organs and rejuvenating the entire system. This great

Regenerative Medicine

Is composed of the genuine Honduras Sarsaparilla, with Yellow Dock, Stillingia, the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and other ingredients of great potency, carefully and scientifically compounded. Its formula is generally known to the medical profession, and the best physicians constantly prescribe AYER'S SARSAPARILLA as an

Absolute Cure

For all diseases caused by the vitiation of the blood. It is concentrated to the highest practicable degree, far beyond any other preparation for which like effects are claimed, and is therefore the cheapest, as well as the best blood purifying medicine, in the world.

GREAT LUMBER MILLS.

DESCRIPTION OF GILMOUR'S, THE LARGEST ON THE CONTINENT.

Trenton Advocate.

During the past year Messrs. Gilmour & Co. have made many improvements and additions to their mills, thereby increasing their cutting capacity to about 500,000 feet of lumber per day. To those who have not had an opportunity of visiting those mills, perhaps a short description of them, and the work done in them may be interesting, as they are the largest lumber mills on the continent. There are

FOUR MILLS IN ALL,

viz. :—shingle mill, timber mill, plaining mill and the large lumber mill. The first and second named mills are built side by side, facing the bay and are nearest the town. The shingle mill is filled up with two double cutting and one single cutting machines, together with bolting and log saws, and is capable of turning out 150,000 shingles per day. The power is furnished by six tubular boilers and an engine of 90 horse power. The timber mill contains a large circular saw for cutting lumber of any length up to 70 feet, also a slabber, gang and stock for cutting lumber. This mill has a capacity of over 100,000 feet per day, and is driven by a 75 horse power engine and four tubular boilers. The planing mill's and machinery repair shops are in the same buildings. There are two large double planing machines here which are run day and night to supply the great demand for dressed lumber, also a planing machine for dressing large timber. In the repair shops are the various iron planers, turning lathes and boring machines required when heavy iron work is done. This mill is driven by another 90 horse power engine. In this building is also

THE ELECTRIC LIGHT.

apparatus, driven by a separate engine, with which the mills are lighted. Leaving this mill and passing the private office of Mr. L. Paquette, the manager, we approach the big mill. The engine room and boiler house are built of brick with corrugated iron roofs and are flanked on each side by two large chimneys over 120 feet high, Steam is generated here in sixteen monster tubular boilers which drive a twin engine of 1,500 horse power. The cutting capacity of this mill is over 400,000 feet of lumber per day, exceeding by one third the quantity cut by any other mil lon the continent. The lumber is cut by two sets of span or twin circulars, one large double circular and three large stock gangs, each of which can cut nine ordinary saw logs into Inch lumber in less than two minutes time. The arrangements of machinery are so commplete that hardly aboard has to be handled by hand before it reaches the piling grounds. In this mill are also the various saws and machines for cutting lath, shingles, pickets, barrel heading' etc also for edging and butting lumber to proper lengths for the market. The work in this mill is all done in the second story, the logs being drawn up on endless chains from the water ; and the lumber, after properly graded and sorted for the market, is tken from mill on elevated trram ways to the piling and [illegible] grounds

BURNING THE SAWDUST

The refuse saw-dust and wood, is carried after supplying the boiler furnaces with their fuel, by a large chain carrier and emptied into a huge iron burner or 'gehenna' which is bottleshaped and over 120 feet in height, and there consumed ; probably 200 cords of refuse is thus disposed of. The company employ about 600 men in sawing, piling and shipping their manufactories. The lumber is transferred from the mill to the piling grounds, and from thence to the vessels for shipment with two locomotives, and about 100 cars. The company have purchased another locomotive which is expected to arrive in a few days, and to be also used in this service. Probably the most notable changes that have lately been made are these in connection with their system of and appliances for extinguishing the same in case of need. Thoroughout the main building a network of pipes have been placed which a few feet apart have been put over 700 patent sealed taps which open themselves when the air becomes heated to 140 degrees, and each one becomes a a fountain throwing the water in a circle around them about thirty feet. There has also been placed thro' the yards large iron mains upon which, at convenient points are hydrants, with hosealways attached. These mains and pipes alike in all the mills are supplied from a large Worthigton pump capable of throwing 1,500 gallons per minute. The company have also in their new brick fire hall a very powerful steam engine, manufactured by the Amoskeg Co., of Manchester, Mass., said to be the largest they ever built. This engine throws over seven hundred gallons per minute. Steam is always kept on the engine and pumped from the boilers of the mill so that they always ready to work at a minute's notice. The mill and all points in the yard are connected by an electric fire alarm. These appliances in the hands of a well drilled and efficient fire company form a system of protection which hardly can be equalled by any city or corporation in America.

PROTECTION FROM FIRE

SAVED FROM A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Unto May I had spent at least five hundred dollars in treatment by many of the best medical men without benefit. My mouth became badly ulcerated, sores breaking out on my neck and legs. I also suffered excruciatingly with Rheumatism, grew very despondent, and my best friends advised me that the icy hand of death was fast approaching, I caught at Shaker Blood Syrup like drowning man catches at a straw. After taking two bottles I could feel the change for the better. The sores began to discharge freely, and Rheumatism to abate. When I had taken six bottles every sore had healed and my skin began to assume a natural appearance. I persisted until I had taken twelve, and there is not a symptom of the disease remaining, and I feel as well as I ever did. I have gained twenty-one pounds in flesh, and my friends wonder at my improved condition. I have recommended it to many, and in every instance with complete success. I believe that Shaker Blood Syrup has saved me from a horrible death.
T. S. Cannon, South Boston Mass.

In 1878 I was the victim of terrible Blood Poison, and after being treated by three physicians was confined to my bed, not able to raise my hand to my head, spiting up clots of blood and reduced in weight from one hundred and eighty-five to one hundred and thirty pounds. I then began the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, and in less than three months I was entirely well, weighing one hundred and ninety-six pounds, and have never had a symptom of the disease since. If it had not been for Shaker Syrup I believe I would have been in my grave.
Chas. Barger, Hoboken, N. J.

THE HON J. LYMAN BULKLEY, M.D. of New York, says: "I have used Dr. WHEELER'S Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisya largely in my practice for two years, and in my judgement there is no preparation can compare with it. With feeble anemic women, of whom we have so many, and in cases convalescing from prostrating diseases I should hardly know how to get along without it. In DYSPEPSIA it acts like a charm—in fact in any of the long list of diseases it is THE remedy.

THE DAILY ONTARIO.

THE ONTARIO BOUNDARY.

If the matter of the Boundary Award cannot be discussed in a fairer, honester manner than the Hamilton Spectator presents it the conclusion is forced that the brief held by the advocate is too weak in facts to carry him through the case. Our esteemed western contemporary occupies a column and a half in speaking of the case in a lofty, superior way, at the same time making all sorts of errors and misstatements. It starts out with the declaration:—"What is desired for Ontario is that she shall have all the territory to which she is justly entitled, and no more." And mark you, no more. The words are uttered by this new Portia, who evidently regards Ontario as a Shylock, a grasping Jew whose greed must be restrained.

> If the case were carried before the Privy Council there was not a doubt that it would be decided justly and by competent judges. Mr. Mowat refused to permit it to go to the Privy Council, and so put Ontario in a false position.

The above sentence is the product of an ignorant or a designing mind. It is true that the Privy Council was mentioned in 1871 or '72 by Sir John Macdonald but he had no particular objection to the method of settlement proposed by Mr. Mackenzie, and approved of the composition of the Board of Arbitration. What we here wish to point out particularly, however, is that since 1873 when the Board of Arbitration was named and sanctioned by Parliament the Privy Council was never mentioned by Sir John Macdonald as an arbiter in the matter, and the first man to suggest that the case arbitrated on should be taken to that distinguished body was Hon. Oliver Mowat. He it was who made the suggestion to Sir John Macdonald in Toronto.

Our contemporary says: "We all wanted our own, but we wanted our title to be perfect." Who are "we?" Does it include the leader of the Conservative party? Surely not, for he declared in the Amphitheatre in Toronto that not one stick of timber and so forth on the disputed territory should Ontario have even if she got the land. Would the timber and minerals not be part of "our own?" Now the Spectator believes that all the territory for which Mr. Mowat is now fighting belongs justly to Ontario. Will it then approve the declaration just quoted from the leader of its party?

> And now we have it on the authority of the highest judicial tribunal in the realm that the award was not legal. This places Mr. Mowat in a most unfortunate position.

Not at all, though it seemingly delights this calm, judicial writer to place Mr. Mowat in an unfortunate position. He would like to see the Province get the territory but takes a pleasure in snarling at the man who is working so hard to get it for the Province. The Award is not legal. Well, Mr. Mowat never said it was. What was the burden of Mr. Mowat's complaint against the Dominion Government? Was it not that said Government refused to ratify and confirm the Award thus making it legal? No one will say if an Act of the Dominion Parliament had been passed confirming the Award that aught else would be required. Such a simple Act would have made the Award legal, and the point is that Sir John Macdonald was prevented by Mr. Mousseau, and by his own antagonism to Ontario's Premier, from doing this justice to Ontario. These being the facts the decision of the Judicial Committee places Mr. Mowat in no unfortunate position. Mr. Mowat stuck up loyally for the Award because he believed it did the greatest measure of justice to Ontario albeit it gave us only a thirteenth part of the territory originally claimed for this Province. Now that the case has been heard by the Judicial Committee and it is decided that the true boundary was not found and the award is therefore illegal, it still places Mr. Mowat in no uncomfortable position for we have the assertion of Sir Francis Hincks, himself one of the arbitrators that the true boundary was sought for and steadily kept in view.

Our contemporary finds the boundary mentioned in Mr. Mowat's oath of office. "It was," it says, "Mr. Mowat's duty—his sworn duty—to carry the case to the Privy Council. He refused. He must bear the penalty." Be merciful, judge! We know not what terrible penalty Mr. Mowat by his dreadful course has incurred but the punishment is within reach. Sentence him to read all the editorials in the Mail including the funny notes! If that doesn't make him sorry for what he has done nothing will.

The course pursued by the Dominion Premier—ignoring all the official communications on the subject sent by the Ontario Government—is severely censured by our contemporary in the following admission:—

> The property itself has necessarily lost in value on account of the incertitude resting upon it. Forest fires have destroyed immense quantities of timber which might and should have been cared for or sold to lumbermen.

The Award says our contemporary is not worth the paper it is written on. Why? Because of the inaction of Sir John Macdonald who should have ratified the Award and thus have settled the whole question for ever. "The arbitration is of no account." All Sir John Macdonald's fault. He has put the Dominion and this Province to an enormous expense unnecessarily. He has acted unjustly and unpatriotically in the whole business and will be held to strict account. He has tried his best to humiliate this Province because he knew it was and always will be a Liberal Province wedded to good Government.

Our hypocritical and inconsistent contemporary concludes:—

> The more Mr. Mowat can secure for this Province the better we shall be pleased; for we have no doubt the territory is valuable. But we have no doubt the Judical Committee will give Ontario all the territory that rightfully belongs to her; and that is all the people of this Province desire.

Yes, the Spectator will be pleased if it can make out that the Reformers have been wrong and the Conservatives right, but the people of this Province look at the question in a large light and see the base political motives underlying and governing Sir John Macdonald's course in the matter of Ontario's Boundary.

The editor being away from home the greater part of this week accounts for our inability to reply to the absurd and nonsensical article contained in last week's Stirling News Argus relative to the Trenton and Stirling bands. Attention will be given to the matter next issue.—Trent Valley Advocate.

SOME OF THE RESULTS.

It is not very hard to show that the Tilley tariff has done harm to the manufacturing interests of the Dominion. It has caused so large an investment of capital in certain lines that the manufacturers are squeezing one another to death. The St. John cotton factory that closed this week was established before Confederation and it would be doing a good business yet if so many other factories had not been built under the stimulus of the N. P.—Hamilton Times.

THE CHOLERA IN FRANCE.

THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE FLEEING FROM THEIR HOMES.

PARIS, July 21.—The spread of the cholera and the increase in the number of deaths have caused a panic among the people in the south of France. Every train bound north bring hundreds of men, women and children who are abandoning their homes and all their possessions.

The deaths at Arles are averaging nine daily. The panic there is increasing.

Deaths at Toulon from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. twelve.

Two deaths from Asiatic cholera occurred at Madrid to-day. At Toulon and Marseilles typhoid has followed in a number of choleraic cases. The doctors pronounce the disease typhoid cholera.

Sixty deaths at Marseilles during the day ending 9 p.m. Total number there since the epidemic 874.

DEATH OF REV. DEMETRIUS LEVESQUE.

MONTREAL, July 22.—Rev. Demetrius Levesque, who died yesterday at Riviere Ouelle, was perhaps the most eloquent and learned Catholic clergymen in this Province. He was a distinguished member of the Suelician Seminary, Chaplain of Notre Dame Hospital, a director of L'Union des Commis Marchands, and formerly Professor of Philosophy at the Montreal College. He was born and educated in Quebec

ANOTHER FATAL FIRE.

TORONTO, July 22.—At 12:30 this morning a fire broke out at 396½ Younge Street, and the family, Jeffries, living over the store were with difficulty rescued in their night clothes. Shortly afterwards Ald. Farly who was standing in front of the smoking building told Chief Ardagh that he was sure he heard a groan inside. Two firemen entered the front window and soon returned bearing the prostrate form of a woman between them. They were loudly cheered as the lady was lowered down to the sidewalk. She was carried to a residence opposite and proved to be Mrs. Jane Jeffries, great-aunt of Mr. Jeffries. She was found lying on the floor and was just about suffocated. The lady is aged 50 and is deaf. In the excitement during the escape of the family, it was thought she got out also. She died at 1:40 from suffocation.

BIG STRIKE AT NEW YORK.

"DOWN WITH THE PEERS."

Great Trades Demonstration Against the House of Lords

IN FAVOR OF THE FRANCHISE BILL

LONDON, July 21.—At noon the trades' union ons assembled at Sloan Square, Paddington Green, Eustie Square, Islington green, Clerkenwell green, Finsburg circus, the Obelisk, Black Friars and Grosvernor gardens and proceeded to the embankment. The political delegates wore colors. The streets along the line of march, and bridges across the Thames are packed. Traffic is greatly impeded. Several thousand agricultural laborerers from Kent and Sussex were marshalled at the Black Friar bridge. A salute at Whitehall, in honor of the birth of a son, by the Duchess of Albany, caused a scare. It was thought to be an explosion of dynamite. Resolutions were passed censuring the Lords and approving of Gladstone's course.

EXTENT OF THE PROCESSION.

A tombstone was carried in the procession inscribed, "To the memory of the House of Lords—1884." The dense masses of spectators interfered with the progress of the procession. It took an hour and a half to clear the embankment and the end of the procession had not left Parliament street when the head had entered the park. There were 750,000 in the procession. Jos. Chamberlin, President of the Board of Trade, and other Ministers witnessed the procession. They were loudly cheered. Some of the bands played "The Dead March in Saul."

TORY LEADERS HISSED.

The Duke of Cambridge, Commander in Chief the Marquis of Hartington, and Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt viewed the procession as it passed the War Office. They were cheered by members of the procession. People of prominence and note were stationed at various places throughout the route, and watched the procession. Lord Randolph Churchill and other well-known Tories were at the windows of the Carlton Club rooms, and were vigorously hissed. The Marquis of Salisbury's residence in Arlington street was guarded by police. A slight commotion was created there before the arrival of the procession by a man crying 'Down with the Peers!' Order was quickly restored, and no disturbance occurred while the procession was passing.

A SUDDEN DEATH

QUEBEC, July 22.—An awful sudden death occurred here yesterday. A strong hearty farmer named Burke, of Bourg Louis, who had come to town on business by the early morning train complained on arrival to a friend of feeling unwell and together they went into a hotel at the Palais and partook of some brandy. They then proceeded to the Upper Town together walking pretty smartly when Burke again complained of feeling badly and it was decided to repeat the dose. Accordingly, another hotel was reached when Burk fell over dead in the act of raising the glass to his lips. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause. An inquest is to be held. The deceased was aged about sixty.

IRVING DESCRIBES BEECHER

It is not every member of the clergy; perhaps, who enjoy being described as 'a great comedian,' but this is the actor Irving's designation of Mr. Beecher:

Mr. Beecher is a great comedian. After the service Mr. Beecher came to us and offered his arm to Miss Terry. She took one arm, his wife the other. I followed with his son and several other relations. A few members of the congregation joined the little procession. Following Mr. Beecher with the ladies, we walked down the aisle and into the street to his house. Mrs. Beecher is 71 years of age, a perfect gentlewoman Quaker-like in her dress and manners, gentle of speech, but with a certain suggestion of firmness of purpose. Beecher struck me as a strong, robust, genial, human man—a broad, big fellow. We had dinner—the early dinner that was in vogue when I was a boy. It was I I should say a regular solid New England meal—rich soup, plenty of fish, a joint of beef, and some generous port was on the table. The host was most pleasant and simple; the hostess most unsophisticated and kindly. She took greatly to Miss Terry, who also took greatly to her.

It was touching to see the two women together, so different in their stations, their years, their occupations. Miss Terry was the first actress Mrs. Beecher had ever known. To begin with, she was very courteous; her greeting was hospitable, but not cordial. The suggestion of coldness in her demeanor gradually thawed, and at close of the visit she took Miss Terry into her arms and the two women cried.

Ruddock, the Boston boat-builder, says the shell he is now turning out for Teemer will be the finest in America. It will have planking one-twentieth of an inch in thickness, the lightest yet used in the construction of a shell.

Yachting no doubt says the Times, is looking up in Hamilton, and it is hoped that before long she will be able to place herself at the head of the list for fast yachts, as she used to be in the the days of the old Cuthbert, Restless and Brunette.

Hosmer is to have a new boat from Ruddock before he rows Teemer. The shell will be equally as valuable and as well made as the one which that celebrated builder is at present at work upon for Teemer. When the men come together blood will tell. The race between Ross and Teemer will come off at Oak Point, N.Y., Aug. 2nd, for $2,000, the deposit having been made.

The Narraganset Driving Association have arranged with W. H. Crawford, Mr. Case's manager, to trot Jay-eye-see and Phallas to beat their records on Wednesday, July 30. The Narragansett track is certainly one of the fastest in the country, and if the two are in good condition on the day of the trial, we can reasonably look for the records to be beaten. It was on this course that Jay-eye-see made his five year old record of 2.10¾.

When Edward Hanlan returns to America he will find among the ranks of professional oarsmen one whose performances render him a fit contestant for the title of champion. John Teemer, the youthful sculler, of whom Hanlan said to the writer in the summer of 1883, "that boy will yet make me row," has developed wonderful strength and perfection of stroke. Upon the 7th of this month Teemer defeated P. H. Conley, of Portland, Me., in a five mile with turn, single scull race, in 34.10, the fastest on record for a race, and upon Tuesday of this week, the young oarsman bounded further to the front by a record of 20.05 for a three mile with a turn at the Conneaut Lake regatta. When Ned Hanlan comes home, let him look to his laurels.—Mirror of American Sports.

DICKENS' DRESS.

When, in 1836, Dickens was called for (as the author of the libretto) on the first night of John Hullah's opera he wore a swallow-tail coat with gilt buttons, crimson velvet waistcoat, black satin stock, two breast pins conjoined by a little gold chain a large gold chain meandering over his waistcoat, black kerseymere pantaloons, silk stockings and pumps, and yellow kid gloves. His taste in dress was appalling. Howard Paul relates that, Dickens having called, but left no name, he asked the servant: 'What sort of looking person was he?' The reply was: 'I should say, sir, a respectable sort of gasman.'

PERSONAL.

Col. and Mrs. Lazier went over to the Sandbanks yesterday.

Mr. Jno. McKeown, County Crown Attorney, of Lincoln, is in the city.

Lord Randolph Churchill is considering the question of taking an American tour during the recess of parliament.

The Bishop of Peterboro, now that Gambetta is no more, is said to be the only peer of Gladstone in the torrent-like flow of oratory.

Mr. Thomas Woodyatt, of Brantford, is spending a few days in the city, the guest of Mr. Mathison, of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb.

Ven. Dean Boomer, while pronouncing the benediction at the service at Chapter House, London, Sunday, fell in a fit and had to be removed home in a carriage. He was affected with paralysis of the side and is reported very low.

Mr. E. W. Ashley, who arrived at Grenfall, Man., from Aussippi, last Saturday, writes:—Wheat is looking very fine in the Shell River district and all along the trail to this place also, and if nothing happens it will turn out a very large yield. Potatoes were injured with the frost the first of this month in some localities but settlers think they will come on again. The weather has been quite cool the last two weeks with plenty of rain. It is getting warmer now, but good growing weather.

SPOKES FROM THE WHEEL.

This is club run night for the Ramblers. Messrs. Davis, Thompson, and West wheeled to Belleville from Port Hope.

Mr. Perry Doolittle, of Toronto, who passed through on Friday with the American wheelmen returned to the city last evening and left after supper for Toronto.

THE VOICE of the People. No family Dyes were ever so popular as the Diamond Dyes. They never fail. The Black is far superior to logwood. The other colors are brilliant. Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt.

SHANNONVILLE NOTES.

R. P. Lazier has taken Mr Sagar's lease of the mill here, and will push the business with increased vigor. As a grain buyer it will afford him increased facilities for storing grain in the fall.

Mr. H. Holden the oldest merchant and one of the oldest residents of the village, who recently resigned his position as clerk of the court has held the office for 37 years, and during that time has only missed a single court, and then his place was filled by his only son —the late Police Magistrate of Belleville, lately deceased. This is a record which few public officers can show, both as it regards the vigorous health of the incumbent and his fidelity to his office. Mr. Holden also held the position of postmaster here for a like number of 37 years, and has the satisfaction of passing into retirement of life's closing days with the warmest sympathy and good will of all classes of his fellow citizens.

A CARD.—To all who are suffering from errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send self-addressed envelope to Rev. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City. d&w

YOUNG MEN!—READ THIS.

THE VOLTAIC BELT Co., of Marshall, Mich., offer to send their celebrated ELECTRIC APPLIANCES on trial for thirty days, to men (young or old) afflicted with nervous debility, loss of vitality and manhood, and all kindred troubles. Also for rheumatism, neuralgia, paralysis and many other diseases. Complete restoration to health, vigor and manhood guaranteed. Write them at once for illustrated pamphlet free.

A FIRM OPINION.

The firm of Ormand & Walsh, druggists of Peterboro, say Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is one of the best Standard Medicines for Summer Complaints.

We learn that many have the impression that Albert College will hereafter be little more than a first-class High School. To correct such a false impression, it is necessary merely to say that for the year beginning Sept 9, there will be no less than nine courses of study—a majority of them being collegiate courses.

Mr. Alf. Dulmage has returned from Port Perry, where he has been on a visit to his sister, who lost heavily in the late fire, as well as her daughter, engaged in mercantile business in the centre of the town. At present he says the place bears a desolate appearance, but the work of rebuilding, will, he thinks begin shortly.

At a meeting of the Knights of Labor last night the most encouraging reports were received from the committee in charge of the demonstration on the civic holiday. A subscription has been taken up among the merchants to defray the expenses of the games in the afternoon, and the only thing that is lacking now is a vigorous and united effort on the part of local manufacturers and others to make the trades possession in the morning one worthy of such a thriving city as this. It is to be hoped they will see the necessity of assisting in this way to make the celebration a grand success, which it certainly will if they respond with a will to the request. The general committee will meet to-night at Mr. Crawford's store.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.

Bartley Campbell's well known play the "Galley Slave" was played at the Opera House last night before a good audience. The drama was produced in a manner pleasing on the whole but there were many weak members in the company. Miss Edith Crolius' Francesca Remini, was the only feminine character worthy of praise, Miss Blanche Mortimer, the lady who assumes the leading role being absent in Toronto attending the funeral of her mother. Mr. W. H. Lytell as Franklin Fitts, was good and his impersonation of such a difficult character was worthy of the liberal applause he received. Mr. W. S. Hawkins, the hero of the piece, also did well and his acting found favor with the audience. The company will return again in September producing a piece for which they are better cast, "The World," and in which Mr. Lytell, as the Jew, excels.

MARINE.

The sloop Two Brothers which passed here on Saturday, bound for Rathbun, & Co., with bunch wool from Trenton, was struck by a gale opposite Snake Island Sunday. Her rails and deck load were carried away. The water continued to wash over her filled her in a short time, leaving only her cabin and masts visible. The crew took to the rigging, to which they clung all afternoon unable to obtain assistance. The mail boat bound up the lake in the evening, was signalled but it is said that no notice was taken of the vessel or its men. The crew was rescued several hours later, and the sloop towed to Wolfe Island.

To-Day's Probabilities.

Moderate winds, mostly southwest and south; fair, very warm weather.

HONEST AND TRUE.

This is eminently the case with Polson's NERVILINE, the great pain cure. It is an honest remedy, for it contains the most powerful, the purest, and most certain pain subduing remedies known to medical science. It is honest, for it does all it claims to do. It is honest because it is the best in the world. It only costs 10 or 15 cents to try it, and you can buy a bottle at any drug store. Nerviline cures toothache, neuralgia, pain in the back and side. All pains are promptly relieved by Polson's Nerviline.

35 MILES ON A WHEEL.

The Experience of Seven Rambling Ramblers.

BY ONE OF THEM.

Seven members of the bicycle club determined to wheel to Frankford on Sunday attend church there in the afternoon, returning to the city in time to allow of those desirous of attending evening service to do so. It was a thirty mile trip. The wheeling names, or noms des guerre of the little party were as follows;—Nedloh, Sillaw, Tarrag, Rugam, Nosnits, Yaw and Irtarg. Belleville was left at 10.15, though a high wind and sprinkles of rain warned us that it was not the most favorable weather in the world for wheeling. Having started however we were determined to go on. When we reached Yeoman's hill it became painfully evident that we were in for a high old time if the wind had anything to say about it. At the turn going to Corby's track Irtarg, Nedloh and Sillaw being ahead went to the right into the third concession, but the rest turned to the left and kept to the gravel road. Here we experienced the full force of the wind right in our teeth. Going down hill against it was harder than going up hill on a calm day. After struggling along at the rate of about four miles an hour for some time. Yaw, who was third man in the procession, called a halt and dismounting said:—"Boys, I don't see how we can gaze on the face of Nature and commune in the spirit, with such an infernal wind as this. I came out to listen to the song of the merry robin, and the hum of the blythe and frolicsome bee.' We argued that the whistle of the wind among the spokes was music, when he got used to it. Mounting again with Rugam in the van we pressed along and soon came to a turn which placed a long dark wood windward of us and here it was all plain sailing. At the school house we were joined by the others who had arrived a few minutes before. Proceeding on we went up one of the hills for which this road is justly famous and immediately commenced the descent of another. It was a steep, long and stony hill. Rugam tailed the procession and says he thought the hill was an easy one and he put on no brake. When he rode up a few minutes later to a spot where we had dismounted his dusty appearance and bent handle-bar spoke volumes. He had run against a rock as big as his head—and he has a great head; useful as a stone-crusher—and took a 'header.' The strong shoulder of Sillaw was generously applied to the handle-bar, which had a hang-dog air, and it was almost straightened.

The fourth concession was soon reached and a shower caused a dismount of five, Nedloh and Sillaw having pushed on ahead and were out of sight. They missed the lacteal treat of good sweet milk, received from Mr. Mills to whom Yaw gave his blessing. Here again, and from this to Frankford, we encountered the gale in all its unsparing fury. We began to grow hungry and if there had been good accommodation at Sidney Town Hall which was reached at almost one o'clock, we would have stayed to dinner. Only 5 miles to Frankford, was the cry, and once more our steeds were headed northwest. How the wind whistled and howled! With bent head and strained muscles the rider got down to hard work—which Yaw said was not lawful on the Sabbath—and, the wind notwithstanding, we managed to make headway. Presently we dismounted at the rise of a steep hill and behold ripe raspberry bushes at the road side. The fates were kind and never so sweet were raspberries as these. We calculated that Sillaw and Nedloh were in Frankford by this time so we pushed on and soon had the satisfaction of greeting them at the red brick hotel in the village. O, sweet haven of rest, welcome harbor of refuge! Here we were to have roast beef and new potatoes! Dusted off we sat down to these delicacies which, hungry as we were, we refrained from touching until Yaw had asked a blessing.

After church-time, and after permitting some of the natives to see how soon they could experience the rise and fall of the human race, we again got into the saddle and vowing to avoid any more hills we determined to reach Belleville by way of Trenton. It was 8 miles to Trenton over tolerably good roads and calm and peaceful was our ride. The sun came out and we grew somewhat warmer, but Karl Kron's advice to drink anything and everything while riding had to be ignored seeing that it was a non dies. Coming to Gordon's mills, Yaw's desire to commune with the infinite majesty of Nature was gratified. To the left, sloping down to the river were tall stately trees clothed in rich dark green foliage. The little purling brook as it murmured its Sabbath hymn, sparkled in the sunshine and danced merrily its tortuous way to the river. It was so clean, and healthy, and vigorous; so suggestive of purity. So Yaw, all unconscious of impending disaster meditated and communed, as his good and trusted wheel bore him gently, silently along. But, alas! Not a mile beyond, part of the gearing of Yaw's little wheel broke, and examination decided the fact that it was irreparable outside of a machine shop. As this fact dawned upon the communer a dull muttering of imprecations, not loud but deep, grew stronger and more distinct, till at length nature—human nature—found vent in language that made the tree tops bend and sigh, but with no effect on the wheel. There was no help for it, Yaw said at length, he would foot it to Trenton, some two miles farther. He had not gone two hundred yards before he was struck with an idea which halted him and us before a humble cottage wherein dwelt an old Irishman, whose kind heart did not refuse Yaw a piece of stovepipe wire, "Hev yez come all the way from Belleville on thim masheens?" Being informed that it was even so, he exclaimed, "Well, well," and queried, "D'yez niver fall off?" "Be gobs," he concluded, "I don't see how yez lairn it." The mission being fixed the old man refused the proferred quarter but explained that he had a proprietary interest in an infallible medicine and "as yez might tumble, warse luck" he would sell us a bottle of the stuff for the money. This bargain concluded we pedalled on, Yaw astride of his mended machine believing more than ever that where there's a will there's a way. It was so in this case. Trenton now loomed up and shortly after five we were on the road home, which was reached without further incident in good time, most of the party feeling inclined to boast that they had taken a thirty-five mile ride against such a wind.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

SOME REFLECTIONS.

DEAR SIR.—I do not pose as a lecturer, but I would beg to offer a few reflections which I think many of the young men of Belleville might study to their advantage. I have often thought when I saw a multitude of young men standing around the corners of the streets, or lazily striding up and down, or aimlessly wandering to and fro, carelessly squirting tobacco juice or indulging in idle gossip, how much better it would be for themselves and for the world at large if they were at home studying or doing something that would be useful to them in after life. It is not given to all of us to enjoy the sweet satisfaction and advantages of a college education, but even without it men can make themselves useful members of society by a little effort of their own. The great men of this and every other age, whether statesmen, jurists, artists, or journalists, became great only by hard work and close application. Many of the young men whom we see spending their evenings as above described are serving an apprenticeship to some trade or another and they foolishly imagine that what little practice they had during the day is quite sufficient for them without any further effort. This is a sad delusion which any young man would do well to shake off at once. In this age of brisk competition, it is only the man who excels in his profession will mount the ladder of fame. And while there is no man more honored than the mechanic who is a thorough master of his business, there is none more heartily despised then he who only half knows his business and makes no effort to learn the other half. This is an age of progress and enlightenment, and every man no matter what his pursuit in life may be can find within his reach books and papers to educate him in his business if he will only give his leisure time to their study. Then to the young man who is learning a trade I would say, give the money you spend in tobacco or "drinks" for some papers or books specially adapted to your calling, and spend your evenings at home studying; apply the hints you will get in them to your practice during the day, and in this way you will rapidly advance and depend upon it your employer will not fail to reward your industry. On the contrary, if you persist in wasting your time and strength in foolish gossip and late hours on the streets, or worse places, and come to your work with a muddled brain and clouded intellect, with a capacity for nothing in particular, except a fervent prayer or the speedy termination of the day and that the Lord would deliver you from further labor, and act throughout as if you were determined that your employer should just make enough out of the contract to pay you and no more, depend upon it, your employer takes a note of it all and when the dull times come you will be the first to hear the ominous "go". It is your own interest, as well as the interests of your employer, that you should make yourself indispensible to him. Honesty of purpose and a laudable ambition to excel, should be the young man's motto, and with honor, truth and uprightness in all his dealings, he need not fear to face the battle of life, in this grand and free country.

Yours truly,
T. H.

TIME IS MONEY.

Time and money will be saved by keeping Kidney-Wort in the house. It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases arising from obstructions of these organs. It has cured many obstinate cases after hundreds of dollars had been paid to physicians without obtaining relief. It cures Constipation, Piles, Biliousness and all kindred disorders. Keep it by you.

CONNECTION WITH CALLANDAR.

The tenders sent in for construction of the piece of railroad between Gravenhurst and Callandar, connecting the N. & N. W. R. R. with the Canadian Pacific system, have been passed upon, and the contract awarded to a strong combination of capitalists and experienced railroad builders. The name of the successful contractors is Symmes, Dawson, Hendrie, & Co., Their sureties are Mr. Wm. Hendrie of Hamilton, and Dr. Ferguson, of St. Catherines. Their contract is to grade, ballast, and construct the road in a thorough manner, and to provide and lay the rails thereon—in short to complete the whole except the equipment, before May 1886.

The length of the whole line is 113 miles. The surveys for the whole are complete, and the route is settled as far as Huntsville beyond which point a line as short as possible will be run. It is expected that fifteen or twenty miles of the road will be completed this season.

BUTTER BUYERS

everywhere are refusing to take white, lardy looking butter except at "greasy" prices. Consumers want nothing but gilt-edged butter, and buyers therefore recommend their their patrons to keep a uniform colour throughout the year by using the Improved Butter Color made by Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt. It is the only color that can be relied on to always give the perfect color. Sold by druggists and merchants.

FROM THE MARATIME PROVINCES

Comes a host of testimonials as to the Magic Corn and Wart cure—Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. We select from the list of names before us that of Henry Taylor, Esq., Halifax, probably the most widely known druggist in the lower provinces. Mr Taylor has no hesitation in saying "that in an experience of twenty years he has handled nothing that has given the universal satisfaction that Putnam's Corn Extractor invariably does." It never fails, it is painless, prompt and produces no discomfort. Beware of imitations and substitutes. Polson & Co., Kingston, proprs.

PUBLIC SCHOOL BOARD.

The High School — Salaries — the Late Thos. Holden.

The Board of Education met last night when Mr. J. H. Simpson took his seat for the first time as a High School trustee. The Committee on School Management presented their report stating that they had found Dr. McLellan's report of the High School more satisfactory than any for the past few years, and the committee expressed the hope that the school would continue to flourish until it stood second to no high school in the Province. The recommendation to purchase Chambers' Encyclopedia and Webster's Unabridged Dictionary for the use of this school was adopted. In reference to the re-engagement of the teachers the Board made a few changes besides those already reported. Miss M. A. Northcott's salary was increased from $375 to $400 and Miss Kittie Emmons was engaged for the Station School to succeed Miss Bollard. Miss Richards' salary was fixed at $300. The Secretary-Treasurer was authorized to advertise for a new mathematical teacher for the High School, and Mr. Hugh Walker was appointed chairman of the Finance Committee. In moving a resolution of condolence to the widow of the late Thos. Holden, Rev. M. W. McLean and Rev. J. W. Burke spoke feelingly of the worth of the deceased member, whom they referred to as a God fearing man, possessed of those qualities so essential to the true worth of a citizen. The resolution was unanimously carried by a standing vote.

UNLAWFUL GAMES.

'Unlawful games,' said Mr. Justice Hawkins in delivering judgment in the famous Park Club case, in London, 'are ace of hearts, faro, bassett, hazard, passage, roulette, every game with dice except backgammon, and every game of cards that is not a game of mere skill, and he was inclined to add any other game that was a mere game of chance.'

AN END TO BONE SCRAPING.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctor told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used instead, 3 bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve and my leg is now sound and well.

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c per box by R. Templeton.

LOVE'S LOTTERY

OR,

THE RIVAL SISTERS.

'None as yet; save that to-morrow night escorted by Mr. Flomsbee, they visit the theatre.'

'The theatre!' cried Stuart Loring with sudden earnestness; 'are you sure of that?'

'Certain; Keliah heard Mr. Flomsbee tell them it was to be a grand night and he had already engaged a box.'

The American broke into a loud, exulting laugh.

'Excellent!' he exclaimed rubbing his hands one over the other. 'Excellent,' he added sotto voto, 'nothing could be better; all seems to work into my hands. I may begin to pull the strings. The first is to arouse the devil—to arouse all the worst passions of the Creole's nature. Yes, the proud, beautiful head must be bowed—bowed by degrees to the dust, and all the good left in her heart turned to bitterest gall by shame and humiliation. Ah, to-morrow—to-morrow the work must commence. Any thing else, Grum?'

'They start the following day to Longueville.'

'Good again. Anything else?'

'Not of them.'

'Of whom then?'

'Jabez Seladden.'

'Have you seen him?'

'Yes he will be here a quarter of an hour from this.'

'Right. All future plans, as far as he is concerned, may be settled to-night. Now my dear Grum you may go.

Peter Grum departed, and shortly after Stuart Loring and Jabez Seladden sat together, with locked doors, in low, earnest converse.

Two villains.

Each dark enough, Heaven knows, yet for all that, the hawk and the dove, or more applicable simile, the monkey the cat and the fabled chestnuts.

CHAPTER XIX.

THE THEATRE—STUART LORING TO THE RESCUE.

Though anxious to get to Longueville, the sisters found it impossible to shorten their stay with the Flombees, who were the very essence of hospitality.

Neither could they refuse the evening's entertainment prepared for them, though while in England they had witnessed almost the best dramatic talent Europe could produce.

So having dressed, they descended to the drawing room, where chirrapy Mr. Flomsbee was waiting to receive them.

Never had Mr. Flomsbee felt more proud, more happy than when he saw himself the cavalier seul of two such beautiful women.

He skipped, and chatted, and flattered until his better half, declaring she would be downright jealous, and recall her refusal to accompany them, pushed him to the door, where the carriage was in attendance.

On their arrival they found the house already crowded, it being the first night of a certain English actress, whose attractions it must be confessed, rested more in her beauty or character (or want of it) than histrionic ability.

For this reason the house did not present so brilliant an aspect as it might have done had a Nilsson or a Patti, those queens of song, been advertised to appear the parterre being principally filled by the masculine gender, who lounged with their backs to the stage, or on their seats, discussing the points of the actress, as with lorgnettes of all sizes they examined and commented upon the different parties as they entered in the principal tier.

'Not a great show of beauty to-night, Sep,' drawled one exquisite, gazing around.

'It fears comparison no doubt, with Miss ——' was the equally drawled answer; 'the house is not filled yet though. Here comes another party.'

He turned his glass toward a private box as he spoke.

The box-keeper had advanced to the front after placing two programs on the velvet cushion.

Then drawing back the lace curtains with a sharp metalic ring along the rod, retired for the party to take their places.

As they did so a murmur of admiration ran through the house.

Every lorgnette was turned in their direction, with a simultaneousness which might have been embarrassing had not Juliette and Pauline—for it was they—already run the gauntlet of a London season.

'What a glorious pair; night and morning personified,' drawled the exquisite. 'What complexion! What eyes! Who in the world are they?'

The question was repeated rapidly around.

Who are they?

While with persistence the glasses remained riveted on the box, the sole object of attraction.

'What a very pretty house,' remarked Pauline, leaning forward to address her sister, and thus displaying the graceful curve of her snowy throat and shoulders.

She had never felt in such gay spirits since she left London owing to her lovers telegram.

'I wonder why papa always refused to bring us here.'

'Really, I cannot tell, dear. If you recollect, he never took us to any place of public amusement.'

'True; it's singular, for he was not averse to them, I am sure.'

(To be continued.)

ADVICE TO MOTHERS

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Winslow's Soothing Syrup For Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. IMPORTANT TO RUPTURED PERSONS

The Excelsior Rupture Treatment was introduced to the American people several years ago in such a manner as to completely secure the confidence of the whole nation. The mode of introduction was by furnishing the remedy to those afflicted with Hernia in any of its various forms and collecting no pay until a permanent cure was effected. In this way the treatment gained world wide reputation on its own merits, never failing to cure any reducible Hernia. The Company has at the solicitation of thousands placed the remedy on sale by all druggists both wholesale and retail, in the United States, Canada and England. In this way bringing it within the reach of all classes at a trifling cost compared with the benefit which are derived from the use of the treatment. Ask your druggist for a free book on rupture or send 6 cts. for one to the Excelsior Rupture Cure M'f'g Co., Ogdensburg, N. Y.

SCIENCE.

To increase the weight of the body invigorate the system, revitalize the exhausted and depressed, is the true object sought by medical science. The digestive organs must be in a healthy condition if we wish to secure this desired result, and no remedy yet discovered has ever proved so effectual in accomplishing this as FLAX-SEED EMULSION COMP. It contains Phosphorus to build up the nervous system and all the fat producing properties of Flax-seed to enrich the blood and supply the animal economy with the elements for reconstruction.

Use the imperial kidney and Liver Cure—price 50c.

The above remedies are sold in Belleville by James Clarke Co. and R. Carmichael druggists.

Vital Questions!!

Ask the most eminent physician Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?

And they will tell you unhesitatingly "Some form of Hops! ! !"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians: "What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, diabetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—

"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu !"

Ask the same physicians

"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.," and they will tell you:

Mandrake! or Dandelion !"

Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable,

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co's. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

"Twenty-four years experience, says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the Generative organs is to repair the wasted by giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box, 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas. Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See adv't in another column

ON THIRTY DAYS' TRIAL.

The VOLTAIC BELT Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above,—N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty day's trial is allowed.

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient.—For sale by all Druggists.

KING'S EVIL

Was the name formerly given to Scrofula because of a superstition that it could be cured by a king's touch. The world is wiser now, and knows that can only be cured by a thorough purification of the blood. If this is neglected, the disease perpetuates its taint through generation after generation. Among its earlier symptomatic developments are Eczema, Cutaneous Eruptions, Tumors, Boils, Carbuncles, Erysipelas, Purulent Ulcers, Nervous and Physical Collapse, etc. If allowed to continue, Rheumatism, Scrofulous Catarrh, Kidney and Liver Diseases, Tubercular Consumption, and various other dangerous or fatal maladies, are produced by it.

SCROFULA

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is the only powerful and always reliable blood-purifying medicine. It is so effectual an alterative that it eradicates from the system Hereditary Scrofula, and the kindred poisons of contagious diseases and mercury. At the same time it enriches and vitalizes the blood, restoring healthful action to the vital organs and rejuvenating the entire system. This great

Regenerative Medicine

Is composed of the genuine Honduras Sarsaparilla, with Yellow Dock, Stillingia, the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and other ingredients of great potency, carefully and scientifically compounded. Its formula is generally known to the medical profession, and the best physicians constantly prescribe AYER'S SARSAPARILLA as an

Absolute Cure

For all diseases caused by the vitiation of the blood. It is concentrated to the highest practicable degree, far beyond any other preparation for which like effects are claimed, and is therefore the cheapest, as well as the best blood purifying medicine, in the world.

PERILS OF THE SEA.

How the "Warwick" Went on the Rocks at Fox Cove.

THE PASSENGERS AND THEIR STORY

It will be recollected that the Warwick belonging to the Great Western Line, was wrecked at Fox Cove on Sunday evening week, happily, however, without any loss of life accompanying the disaster.

Learning that the Bonavista with twenty-one rescued passengers on board had arrived at this port, a Montreal reporter went on board yesterday morning and had an interview with the unfortunate people. Three weeks ago the Warwick sailed from Bristol, with a cargo of iron and 21 steerage and intermediate passengers. She encountered dense fogs most of the way, and had twice to heave to owing to their impenetrable character. The weather, too, was exceedingly rough, and terrific seas repeatedly swept over the vessel, rendering her position one of considerable peril. The passengers were very much alarmed on several occasions, dreading the terrible eventuality of shipwreck. The steerage passengers bitterly complained. The sea continually beat in upon them drenching them to the skin. On Friday evening week they were nearly suffering shipwreck against the rocks surrounding a lighthouse the name of which the passengers do not know. The lighthouse people fired signals warning the vessel of her danger; she stood out again to sea and danger was on this occasion averted. On Sunday evening week, in a dense fog, she

STRUCK UPON THE ROCK

at Fox Cove. The passengers heard the crash and felt the vessel shivering in every limb; and, with one common impulse of safety, rushed on deck in a state of alarm anticipating the worst, and losing all self control in the supreme agony of the conviction that they were about to be plunged into a watery grave. Finding, however, that no immediate danger was apprehended by the officers they became reassured and suffered themselves to be sent below again. But here they had to endure a terrible night. The water came pouring into the steerage, and continued to do so with more or less volume all night. The passengers were drenched to the skin, and their complaints were loud. They say that no attention was paid them till the following morning, when stiff and dripping with wet, they were brought on deck. In the meantime communication had been made with the shore and the passengers were attached to ropes. They were brought twelve miles inland to a place called Griffin's Cove, where, in the sort of hotel which the place boasts, they were kindly treated till last Thursday, when the 'Bonavista,' which had been advised at Quebec took them off, and brought them to Montreal. The passengers state that it is their strong belief that the captain did not know his whereabouts for the last week of the voyage, and they further own that at the time of the disaster none of the officers were on the bridge. We give these statements for what they are worth. They state that they were kindly treated on the Bonavista. They have lost most of their clothing. Of the twenty-one passengers six were women. The latter have suffered very severely. They have lost nearly everything they possessed. The passengers are unanimous in stating that if they had known the accommodation on the 'Warwick' was so inferior they would never have come by her. A married woman named Mrs. Bryan complains that her child was taken ill on board. For want of medical attention the child was nearly dying. All the passengers were bound for Montreal. Four of the girls Sara Lewis, Sarah Bond, Caroline Bond, and Ellen Burns, are emigrants, and have no place to go to. They are

LANDED IN BASKETS

WITHOUT MONEY OR FRIENDS, and do not know what to do. The rest paid their passage out and either expected to meet friends or had hopes of employment upon arrival. When the 'Bonavista' passed the 'Warwick' she was very much out of water, but had evidently sustained little damage. It is expected that not only will the cargo be saved, but that the vessel itself may be got off. The general feeling among the parties rescued is that very attached somewhere. It is openly stated that the second officer who should have been on bridge had, at the time of the accident, gone down below to get something to eat, and that the lookout who saw the danger, had thus no means of communicating with the engineer in order to have the engines stopped. It is further said that at this period the captain was in his chart room; but it has been pertinently asked if, as has been contended, the officers had lost their bearings what could he have done better than go below to consult maps believing that it was all right on the bridge and at the look out? Captain Anderson, of the 'Bonavista,' on being questioned as to what business the 'Warwick' had in the place where she was wrecked since she had taken the Straits of Belle Isle, admitted that he could not tell; but added my advice to all is to wait the arrival of the captain. He may be able to explain matters and it is only a matter of justice to hear both sides of the story.' He desired particularly to emphasize the fact that he had not seen the officers of the 'Warwick,' having taken her people on board at Grape.

SERIOUS BLAME

SAVED FROM A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Unto May I had spent at Least five hundred dollars in treatment by many of the best medical men without benefit. My mouth became badly ulcerated, sores breaking out on my neck and legs. I also suffered excruciatingly with Rheumatism, grew very despondent, and my best friends advised me that the icy hand of death was fast approaching. I caught at Shaker Blood Syrup like drowning man catches at a straw. After taking two bottles I could feel the change for the better. The sores began to discharge freely, and Rheumatism to abate. When I had taken six bottles every sore had healed and my skin began to assume a natural appearance. I persisted until I had taken twelve, and there is not a symptom of the disease remaining, and I feel as well as I ever did. I have gained twenty-one pounds in flesh, and my friends wonder at my improved condition. I have recommended it to many, and in every instance with complete success. I believe that Shaker Blood Syrup has saved me from a horrible death.

T. S. Cannon South Boston Mass.

In 1878 I was the victim of terrible Blood Poison, and after being treated by three physicians was confined to my bed, not able to raise my hand to my head, spiting up clots of blood and reduced in weight from one hundred and eighty-five to one hundred and thirty pounds. I then began the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, and in less than three months I was entirely well, weighing one hundred and ninety-six pounds, and have never had a symptom of the disease since. If it had not been for Shaker Syrup I believe I would have been in my grave.

Chas. Berger, Hoboken, N J,

THE HON J. LYMAN BULKLEY, M.D. of New York, says: "I have used Dr. WHEELER'S Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisya largely in my practice for two years and in my judgement there is no preparation can compare with it. With feeble anæmic women, of whom we have so many, and in cases convalescing from prostrating diseases I should hardly know how to get along without it. In DYSPEPSIA it acts like a charm—in fact in any of the long list of diseases it is THE remedy.

THE DAILY ONTARIO.

MR. GLADSTONE AND THE LORDS.

The third reading of the British Franchise Bill having been passed through the Commons without a dissenting voice, Mr. Gladstone is going to see that it becomes law or know a good reason. It is now announced that if the House of Lords does not pass the measure there will be an autumn campaign in which the Liberal leader will himself take the stump. That he will not submit to the Lords is evident from the following extract from the great speech which he delivered immediately before the Bill passed the Commons. He said :—

> The House is aware that many ominous declarations have been made or indications given as to the future fate of this bill in the House and outside of the House, sometimes by persons of great importance. I have refrained advisedly, and so have my colleagues, from referring to those declarations. Our opinion is that with regard to quarrels and collisions, if they they are to arise, the proper rules applicable to the case are contained in those few and well known words of Shakespeare :
> Beware
> Of entrance to a quarrel ; but being in,
> Bear't that the opposed may beware of thee.
> (Loud Ministerial cheers and counter Opposition cheers.) I should have wished to preserve this silence to the end ("Oh, oh,") but some declarations made in this House have been so explicit that I do not feel authorized to preserve it. I wish principally to point out that we have acted suitably to those words of Shakespeare, 'Beware of entrance to a quarrel.' If there was anything suggested to us not incompatible with the objects we had in view, we did not refuse it, for the sake of avoiding such a quarrel, which I should regard as a calamity grievous to the country, bringing into question the Parliamentary institutions under which we have lived so long (cheers and counter cheers) a conflict which, if there are in the country men in whose opinion such a conflict may be a good thing, it was our solemn duty to take every reasonable means of avoiding. For that reason we have considered every question in what we considered the way most likely to avoid resistance and most likely to avoid conflict between the Houses of the Legislature.

Monday's demonstration by the mechanics and agricultural laborers will strengthen Mr. Gladstone's hands.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THIS is election day in Muskoka for the Local House. Mr. Dill is the Ministerial candidate, and Mr. McEachern the Opposition.

WE asked the Times a few days ago to explain why the import of sewing machines had increased under the N.P. It replies by saying that the export has also increased. This is an evasion of the question.—Brockville Recorder.

No, it isn't. It is a recklessly ignorant assertion utterly devoid of truth. The exports of sewing machines have decreased as rapidly as the imports have increased. In 1877 we exported 26,686 sewing machines; in 1883 the number exported had fallen to 9,157, according to the Trade and Navigation Returns.

THE Privy Council has not yet decided that the Ontario Liquor Act is constitutional, but probably it will yet have to give judgment on the point.

So says our esteemed contemporary the Peterboro Review commenting on a brief note in the ONTARIO. Everyone at all acquainted with the case of the Queen v. Hodge knows that the questions raised before the Judicial Committee by Mr. J. K. Kerr, Q. C., were, among others, these: Has the Ontario Legislature power to pass such an act as the Crooks Act ; and secondly, if so, have they power to delegate such powers to their Commissioners as were exercised by the Toronto Board in forbidding the sale of liquors to minors, and ordering that all billiard tables connected with licensed houses should be closed at certain hours. As the decision was flatly against Mr. Hodge it will be seen that in deciding the first of these issues in the affirmative the Privy Council declared that the Ontario Liquor Act or any similar act, was constitutional. Our contemporary will therefore see how rash it's assertion is and how little information it betrays.

CONTEMPORARY COMMENT.

THIS ACCOUNTS FOR IT.

I drink to thee!—The guests have gone ;
The revelry is o'er,
The chaplets, that were late upon
Their brows are on the floor ;

A LEFT-HANDED COMPLIMENT.

If it be true that Mr. Carling has contributed $1,000 to help Mr. E. King Dodds to defeat the Scott Act, he has done a most unbecoming thing. Mr. Carling should not forget that while he is an eminent brewer he is an indifferent sort of Cabinet Minister.—Winnipeg Times (Tory.)

19,000 THEN.

At Wimbledon Lord Lorne is reported to have said that the visit of the Canadian rifle team to England was an indication that Canada would if necessary, put 20,000 men in the field in support of the Empire. Speaking strictly on the quiet, we believe Lord Lorne was talking unmitigated rot. —London Advertiser.

POOR PAY.

Fifty-nine laborers on the Woodside refinery struck yesterday. They had been paid $1.10 per day steadily since March. Yesterday a notice was posted that hereafter only $1 per day would be paid. Thereupon the men quitted work. A gang of 30 men were secured from Cunard's and the work continued. It is said the new hands are paid at the rate of 25 cents per hour. The old hands are willing and anxious to go back at $1.10 per day.—Halifax paper.

TRIUMPH FOR ONTARIO.

The Boundary Award Upheld by the Privy Council.

OUR TERRITORIAL RIGHTS,

At Length Secured by Hon. Oliver Mowat.

TORONTO, July 23.—A special London cable yesterday to the Globe says :—At the opening of the Ontario Boundary case before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council to-day Hon. O. Mowat proceeded with his argument in reply to Messrs. McCarthy and Robinson, counsel for Manitoba. At the conclusion of his address, the Judicial Committee stated they would present a report to the Queen-in-Council on the whole case, but intimated they would recommend a boundary practically the same as that awarded by the Canadian arbitrators.

There is great rejoicing here over the news.

CABLE FROM MR. MOWAT.

Hon. A. S. Hardy received the following cable message from London :

Argument concluded. Judgment on question submitted to be in our favor. Huzzah.

MOWAT.

This means, said Mr. Pardee, that the Judicial Committee intimated before rising that their decision would be in favor of Ontario and that a formal judgment to this effect will be written out and delivered at a future day.

The Mail says editorially :—"As to the westerly boundary of Ontario we may assume that the decision substantiates the Award, and makes Rat Portage, for instance, a part of Ontario's territory."

THE NEWS IN BELLEVILLE.

The news that the Privy Council had decided in favor of Mr. Mowat and Ontario in the matter of the westerly and northerly boundaries of the Province caused great rejoicing among the friends of good government in this city. It was considered the greatest piece of news and the most important to Ontario since the finding of the arbitrators in 1878. The hot-headed partisans of Sir John Macdonald who see in this decision of the highest court of appeal in the Empire a severe snub to the Dominion Premier, who obstinately refused to accept the Award, do not feel elated over the intelligence. It gives Ontario an additional 100,000 square miles of territory.

PERIODICAL PUBLICATIONS.

As usual with the 'Midsummer Holiday Number,' the August Century is uncommonly attractive in pictures, fiction and anecdotal papers. An outdoor quality, appropriate to the season, is noticeable in John Burrough's fresh woodland and field paper, 'A Glance at British Wild Flowers,' which Alfred Parsons, the English artist, has illustrated in a lively decorative style. It is a very readable contribution. In the matter of stories the most inveterate reader of fiction will find an abundance in this number. The serious side of this number includes an important paper by Isaac L. Rice, who lays out 'Work for a Constitutional Convention'; he would have cabinet members sit in Congress and be responsible to the country for the inception of legislative work and the execution of the law of the land—a superior system which obtains in Canada—and a striking paper by the Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden, on 'Three Dangers' to Society, meaning Intemperance, Divorce, and Business Gambling.

St. Nicholas for August is out and is a profusely illustrated and seasonable midsummer number.

The contents of the August Manhattan present a wide variety of topics. The leading article is on the Yellowstone National Park, by Ashley W. Cole, who has evidently thoroughly explored the park, and writes about it graphically. The illustrations are profuse and excellent. 'Poe in Paris,' 'Emerson as an American,' by Julian Hawthorne, and 'Retrospections of the American Stage are very interesting contributions. 'Trojan' the novel, is growing in interest.

The North American Review for August contains an article by Justice James V. Campbell on 'The Encroachments of Capital' which will command the serious attention of all readers. Richard A. Proctor treats of 'The Origin of Comets,' and succeeds in presenting that difficult subject in [illegible] so clear that persons who have little or no acquaintance with astronomy can follow his argument. 'Are we a Nation of Rascals?' is the startling title of an article by John F. Hume, who shows that states, counties and municipalities in the United States have already formally repudiated, or defaulted in the payment of interest on an amount of bonds and other obligations equal to the sum of the national debt. Judge Edward C. Loring finds a 'Drift toward Centralization' in the recent Judgment of the United States Supreme Court on the power of the Federal Government to issue paper money, and in the opinion of the minority of the same court rendered in the suit for the Arlington property. Julian Hawthorne writes of 'The American Element in Fiction,' and there is a symposium on 'Prohibition and Persuasion,' by Neal Dow and Dr. Dio Lewis.

THE DOG SURVIVED.

Burying Itself in Mud When Bitten by Rattlesnakes.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., July 21.—John Davis and George Miller drove from Collonsville to this city on Monday. When they were crossing the mountain at a place known as the Old Hermit's, a valuable coach dog which accompanied them ran off into the woods. Soon afterward they heard him yelping in a peculiar manner. Both men jumped from the waggon and hurried in the direction of the cries. They came within sight of the dog in a small hollow, and found him in a fight with rattlesnakes, which surrounded him on a large flat rock, and struck him from every side. Miller and Davis each seized a long club and went to the dog's assistance. They killed eleven rattlesnakes and many others escaped among the rocks. The largest one was four feet long, and had seventeen rattles.

While the men were busy cutting off the rattles of the snakes they had slain Miller was overcome by the peculiarly offensive odor that characterizes rattlesnakes, and Davis was obliged to help him away from the spot. It was several minutes before he recovered from the effects of the poisoned air. The dog was nowhere to be seen. Davis went back into the woods to look for him. In passing by the spot where the snakes had been killed, he saw a number of live ones, which had come out of their holes among the rocks, gliding around their dead companions, springing their rattles and every motion denoting fury. Davis beat a retreat and went off in another direction, calling his dog. Suddenly he came upon the dog, with its body embedded in a mire hole in a swampy spot. Its head alone was above the surface. Dogs bitten by rattlesnakes instinctively seek such places and bury themselves in the mud. Old snake hunters say that if a dog is able to find swamp mud and covers himself with it, it will invariably draw out the poison. Davis left his dog in the swamp, and drove on to this city with Miller. Last evening the dog arrived home apparently none the worse for its encounter with the venomous reptiles, although it must have been bitten by them many times.

POSTAL CHANGES.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—An understanding between the United States Postoffice Department and the Canadian Postoffice Department has been reached whereby printed matter, lithographs, chromos, etc., sent by United States publishers as premiums to subscribers in Canada, and which heretofore have been excluded from the mails for the Dominion because of their dutiable character, may hereafter be admitted to said mails subject to such regulations and liabilities to the customs laws of Canada may impose.

CANADIAN NOTES.

A number of female operatives in the Hamilton cotton mills are on the strike.

The Neptune, fitted out by the Dominion Government to explore Hudson Bay and Straits sailed from Halifax yesterday.

For pointing a loaded and cocked gun at his son, aged 28, J. P. Baker, aged 50, was brought before the police Magistrate at Kingston, and sentenced to gaol with hard labor for 6 months.

The appeal against the conviction of a member of the Salvation Army for beating a drum on the streets by the Police Magistrate of London was argued at Osgoode Hall yesterday.

Daniel McCabe, a boy about thirteen years of age, son of Mr. J. McCabe, who resides on Lake Street, Ashburnham, met with a terrible accident in Mr. Hazlitt's saw mill Monday morning, through which he was deprived of one arm.

CABLE BREVITIES.

A panic was caused at Toulon yesterday by the arrival of a hundred coffins.

THE QUEEN'S PRIZE.

LONDON, July 23.—At Wimbledon yesterday the contest for the Queen's prize, the most coveted in the rifle contests there, was won by Private Gallant, of the 8th Middlesex Regiment with the remarkable score of 110 points.

DIOCESAN APPOINTMENTS.

The Bishop of Ontario has made the following appointments :—The Rev. Arthur Jarvis, B. A., to Carleton Place ; Rev. J. Fidler, B. A., the mission of Lombardy ; Rev. Algernon Brown, B. A., to Marysburgh ; Rev. Arthur Conway Jones, to Archville ; and Rev. Cornelius Scudamore, to Huntley.

RIGHTS OF FISHERMEN.

KINGSTON, July 22.—Yesterday morning at a meeting of fishermen and others a protest against the way in which the Americans abused the privileges granted to them while trolling and sporting in Canadian waters, was made to Hon. G. A. Kirkpatrick who promised to lay the matter before the Department at Ottawa.

GREAT FATALITY.
The ravages of Cholera Infantum and Summer Complaint among children is truly alarming. The most reliable cure is Dr Fowler's Wild Strawberry. Every bottle guaranteed to give satisfaction.

It removes wrinkles and softens the skin. The regular use of MURRAY & LANMAN'S FLORIDA WATER at the toilet tends to prevent and remove wrinkles, the softness of the skin produced by the taking away the natural inclination of the cuticle to form into ridges and furrows.

The Weather Prophet looks for Spring this month. The wise man looks for a blood purifier that will not injure his system. He can find what he wants in Dr Carson's Stomach Bitters, the greatest of all blood purifiers. In large bottles at 50 cents.

Mrs. Adelaide O'Brien, N. Y., was given up to die by her physicians, as incurable with Consumption. It proved Liver Complaint and was cured with Burdock Blood Bitters.

HE WAS SO WEAK

That He Determined to Put an End to Himself.

TRAGIC SCENE ON THE MOUNTAIN.

MONTREAL, July 23.—Monday evening upon Mount Royal a most determined attempt at suicide was made by a man named Thomas J. Alder. The spot chosen for the deed was one of the most exquisite upon the entire mountain. Shut in by a thick interweaving of trees, and covered with a fragrant undergrowth, which invites repose, it is of all places in the world the least likely to be the scene of tragedy. With revolver, 95 cartridges, and tender farewell letters in his pocket, Alder chose the spot to put an end to his life. He fired two shots point blank at his head, then fell forward upon a jagged stone, which inflicted a terrible wound upon his temples. He appears to have crawled a few yards nearer the little walk which runs like a thin thread through the silent glade, and then he fired again, this time at his heart. Mr. McGibbon's men were returning home from their work. They heard the shots, rushed forward, and saw the man lying prone upon the earth, the pistol at some distance from him. Horrified by what they saw, they lost their presence of mind, and instead of rendering any assistance, they rushed to Mr. McGibbon's residence. Fortunately he was at home and immediately proceeded to the spot, which was quite at hand. Here they found Alden livid as death, his teeth tightly clenched, and his hands spasmodically clutching the grass. They saw the two bullet holes in his forehead and one in his left breast. The latter wound was bleeding profusely, and his shirt was saturated with oozing blood. The pistol was lying a few yards from him, and the box of cartridges still farther distant. Mr. McGibbon asked him did he inflict the wounds. He faintly murmured "Yes." He was further asked why he did so, but he shook his head. He and frantically pressed his hands to his breast. He was carried to the nearest drinking trough where his face, hands and breast were laved with water, but he appeared to have lapsed into insensibility. Mr. McGibbon then sent one of his men for a cab, in which, after being searched, he was conveyed to the General Hospital. Among the effects found on his person were some letters. Upon the cover of one was the following :—

WRITHED IN AGONY,

'Please care for my dear wife, Mrs. Jemima Alder, Britonsville, Morin, County Argentieul. Lord have mercy on my soul. The pencil and knife—(these were found in his pockets also)—are for poor Bob.' The letters, and memomoranda, were as follows :—"Oh, that my dear Saviour would plead to my Father for me to give me strength, for without it I am not able to live much longer. Kiss Lizzie and Bob and George, and Albert and baby, and let it be a last farewell kiss. J. Alder." Again, "I am so weak and so desponding I do not know what to do, and not able to work for my family. Good-bye, and God bless you all is my sincere desire from my whole heart, pray for me, dearest, and as long as you have breath praise the Lord while you are young." On another page—"I am so melancholy I WISH I WAS DEAD.

and in heaven, I am so weak and nervous I hardly know what I am doing. My poor, dear wife and children, I am not long for this world Lord have mercy upon you all, and may the Lord provide for you all.—Your loving husband, T. Alder." Then follow several verses of hymns. Then to his wife he writes :

"MY DEAR JEMIMA :—Please send me a few dollars, for I want a little money, if you have any. I suppose the Windsor Hotel will give you some money. I hope you are quite well; and all the children. Give my love to them all. I remain your affectionate husband, T. G. Alder, Montreal."

Although in this letter he asks for money, it contained $7. Mr. McGibbon said he had all the appearance of a man who had been half-starved. He had a pinched cadaverous appearance with thin face and hands. The unfortunate man appeared to have been already a patient of the General Hospital, in which he had been treated for dyspepsia.

Dr. Gray states that the unfortunate man, though somewhat improved is still in a precarious condition.

BRITISH POLITICS.

THE DEADLOCK LIKELY TO BE SOLVED AT THE POLLS.

LONDON, July. 22.—The Telegraph says the demonstration yesterday was the most remarkable and impressive that has ever been witnessed during Victoria's reign. Over 100,000 men marched in procession with decorum rising to dignity. It will not do for the Peers to mock or undervalue its peaceful, simple methods, or decry it as a paid show.

The Standard says the behavior of the people was admirable, but the demonstration has not changed the political situation in the slightest.

Sir Stafford Northcote in an address today at King's Lynn, said an early appeal to the electors was imperative to solve the difficulty between the Lords and Commons.

The Marquis of Salisbury addressing the Conservative demonstration at Sheffield to-day said it was absurd to suppose the members the Lords who were mostly landlords, had any cause to dread agricultural labourers. He insisted on the necessity of appealing to the electors before the Franchise Bill was passed.

A GAMBLER'S CRIME.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 22.—Joseph Stultz gambler, attempted to take his divorced wife and child from the residence of his mother-in-law last night. While the hack was waiting at the door Stultz handed a revolver to the hackman, John Nagle. The weapon was discharged and Nagle killed. Stultz mounted the box, and with one arm around the corpse drove to police headquarters and surrendered himself. The wife and child accompanied him, weeping bitterly.

CHOLERA
—IS—
COMING!
The countries where Cholera prevails, as in India, China and Africa, Pain-Killer is considered the surest and safest of all known remedies, and the natives place the most perfect reliance in it.
Read the following extract from a the letter of a missionary in China:—
DEAR SIRS—I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain-Killer you had the goodness to send me last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. The Cholera appeared here soon after we received it. We resorted at once to the PAIN-KILLER, using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain-Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered.
Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours, J. M. JOHNSON, Missionary to Swatow, China.
Beware of Counterfeits and Imitations. Ask for the genuine 'Perry Davis' Pain-Killer and take no other. jy 2md&w

GENTLEMEN—All examinations which I have made of DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER have had but one result, to wit: That it is scientifically compounded from pure materials, and yields the largest amount of Carbonic Acid Gas that can possibly be produced by such compounds. It requires, therefore, NOT ONLY no addition of any material like AMMONIA to increase its qualities as a Baking Powder, but such addition would actually ENDANGER ITS EXCELLENCE. Respectfully, H. W. WHIPPING A SALVATION LIEUTENANT.

A row occurred on Campbell street about eight o'clock last evening which will probably be settled in the police court. As the Salvation Army was marching into their hall the music of the band frightened a horse driven by John Palmer, son of Mr. P. P. Palmer, and he drove the animal through the procession but fortunately did not injure any person. The new lieutenant fearing there would be trouble caught the horse by the head when Palmer struck him two or three times over the arm with the whip, leaving its effects on the flesh. A large crowd soon gathered around, but the trouble ended at this.

POLICE COURT.

William Brickman and James Ryan were charged before Police Magistrate Flint this morning with acting in a disorderly manner on the west side of the river last night. The evidence went to show that Brickman called at Ryan's house and insulted his sister, whereupon he attacked Brickman on the street and a fight ensued. Ryan was taxed $2, and his antagonist $3 and costs. Philip Champlain drunk, was fined $3, Lewis Wannamaker, on a similar charge, was sent up for sixty days in default of a fine of $5 and costs. George Love was arraigned on a charge of horse stealing and acquitted. It appears in trading horses Love got left and the next morning he went to Bolyea and recovered his former horse. As there is no law for horse trading the court dismissed the case.

A SUDDEN DEATH.

Mrs. Sarah M. Keller died suddenly this morning at the residence of her son, Mr. T. W. Casey, Napanee. Mr. Casey was in this city on Government business at the time and got word about noon. Mrs. Keller was a native of Sidney, a sister of Messrs. J. J. and S. D. Farley, and aunt to Dr. Farley of this city, and is well known to many of the older residents of this vicinity. She was 74 years of age. The funeral takes place at Napanee on Friday morning.

HONEST AND TRUE.

This is eminently the case with Polson's NERVILINE, the great pain cure. It is an honest remedy, for it contains the most powerful, the purest, and most certain pain subduing remedies known to medical science. It is honest, for it does all it claims to do. It is honest because it is the best in the world. It only costs 10 or 25 cents to try it, and you can buy a bottle at any drug store. Nerviline cures toothache, neuralgia, pain in the back and side. All pains are promptly relieved by Polson's Nerviline.

THE YACHT RACES.

Club Meeting at Which Arrangements are Made.

THE BARBER AND LESLIE CUP.

The Bay of Quinte Yacht Club met last night evening to make final arrangements for the big regatta on 6th August, Commodore Biggar in the chair. There was a large attendance and a warm interest was manifested in the races which will probably bring together the best sailing yachts on the lakes. A letter was read from the Secretary of the Kingston Yacht Club asking the club to change the date of their regatta, on the ground that the Oswego races being on 30th inst., and Kingston on 2nd August, it would not give the boats time to cross the lake. The meeting decided not to entertain the request. The report of the Reggatta Committee which was adopted, made several recommendations. Messrs. C. J. Starling H. Corby and R. S. Bell were appointed judges; Mr. E. Force, starter, and Messrs. S. A. Spangenberg and J. D. Clarke time keepers. The yachts will assemble at Massassaga Point for a flying start at noon, the time to be taken as the line is crossed. The first class yachts will start about half past twelve. The first gun will be fired at 12.20 to make ready, and the second or starting gun will be fired ten minutes later—five minutes being allowed for all boats to cross the line, yachts crossing later will be timed as having started within that time. The second class boats will be sent off fifteen minutes later in a similiar manner. Charts will be furnished the sailing masters. The Regatta Committee reserved the right to start the yachts according to the wind, but the start and finish will be made between the buoy off Massassaga and the point. The first-class yachts will sail the course three times around, the second class twice, the course to be sailed within six hours or no race. The matter of securing steam boat accommodation was left to the Committee, who will probably engage the steamer Quinte for the day. Mr. John Williams, barrister, was made a member of the club, after which the meeting adjourned until Monday evening, 4th August.

YACHTING NOTES.

Mr. John Addison has been instructed to lay the buoys for the regatta.

The Gracie was out yesterday with her new mainsail, which is an improvement Mr. Roy says on the old one.

The yachts from here sailing in the Oswego regatta have been requested to furnish a certificate of their measurement.

If the Kingston regatta is not held on the 2nd prox., it is probable a postponement will be made until the Friday after the Belleville meeting.

The Bay of Quinte Yacht Club champion flag, now held by the yacht Cygnet of Cobourg, will be given into the custody of the yacht taking taking the first prize in the first class race here.

A yacht club has been formed in Gananoque with the following officers:—C. E. Britton, Commodore; Jas. Moore, Vice-Commodore, Wm. Funnel, Captain; T. R. Brough, Secretary; C. L. Parmenter, Treasurer. Arrangements are being perfected for a grand regatta before the season ends.

Commodore Biggar and Messrs. E Force, R. M. Roy, S. Balkwill, Geo. Hope, Jas. Jenkins, W. Campbell, C. Munson, E. Corby, Wm. Drewery, R. Curlett, John Harlett—King, John Addison and W. Harlett will attend the Oswego and Kingston Regattas as delegates from the Bay of Quinte Yacht Club.

It has been definitely decided to have the Gracie-Iolanthe yacht race on Friday afternoon next, being the second competition for the Barber & Leslie cup. The race will be sailed on a course opposite the city from a buoy opposite the Grand Junction dock to one off Campmeeting Cove thence along the southern shore to Morden's bar, twice around, a distance of 20 miles. The start will be made at two o'clock. Mr. E. Force has been chosen as judge and time-keeper. This cup was won last season by the Iolanthe in a close contest, and it is expected the race on Friday will be even more interesting.

A BIG REWARD.

The following description has been sent to the chief of police here, with a notification that a reward of $2,000 is offered for the arrest of one Geo. C. Lewis, the absconding treasurer of Palo, Pinto County, Texas, who left with some $6,000 of county money on July 2nd, 1884. He is about five feet four inches high, weighs about 130 pounds, thirty-six years old; light but rather sallow complexion; has blue eyes, light hair, moustache and chin whiskers; is stoop shouldered, has a scrofulous scar under his right jaw and has a cupped scar on his temple; is of a restless disposition and mercurial temperment, and as seldom still as a chained bear. He is very talkative and speaks rather loud, and frequently prelades his remarks with a dry, hacking laugh.

TIME IS MONEY.

Time and money will be saved by keeping Kidney-Wort in the house. It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases arising from obstructions of these organs. It has cured many obstinate cases after hundreds of dollars had been paid to physicians without obtaining relief. It cures Constipation, Piles, Biliousness and all kindred disorders. Keep it by you.

KINGSTON PRESBYTERY.

The only safe, sure and painless Corn cure is Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Beware of imitations. P[illegible] Co., proprietors' Kingston.

MUCH-USED OFFICES.

Enlarged Telegraph, Express, Ticket and Exchange Facilities.

MESS. THOMPSONS' IMPROVEMENTS.

This morning the doors of the new telegraph office on Bridge Street were thrown open to the public, and those who ought to know say it is one of the best offices in the Dominion. It was built by the Messrs. Thompson, who have of late years found the old premises too small to accommodate their increasing business, hence their removal to a larger and more stylish place. The building is an ornament to the business part of the city and the proprietors are entitled to no small word of praise for furnishing the public with such first-class and handsome premises in which nearly every citizen, having occasion to transact business, must feel a personal pride.

The main building is 23 x 65, three stories high, built with brick and cut stone corners. The front of the office is made entirely of plate glass, and with several windows on the side, and a large skylight over the instruments furnish an abundance of light to the operators. The floor is made of maple strips two and a half inches wide, and the counters and tables of cherry, designed and built by Messrs. Harris & Walton. This part of the work cannot be surpassed in America for style and finish, and Mr. Thompson has no hesitation in giving the manufacturers the credit they deserve. The business counter is thirty five feet long, surmounted by a brass screen made by Mr. James McCurdy, with four wickets, for the transaction of the four branches of business which will be carried on, i e exchange, tickets, express, and telegraph. The name of each department is designed in gold letters on a black background, and placed over its proper section. On the right of the main entrance is the manager's private office and within the counter is a vault measuring 3x7 ft. in the interior. Every inch of space in the office is utilized to good advantage, being at the same time convenient and in place.

The telegraph department will be in the rear, where accommodation can be had for fifteen operators. There are two large tables and one half table, made of birch and cherry. Each of the large desks are devided into six separate compartments. The wires are brought into the office on a grooved board to a switch and from here they can be distributed to any desk required. This part of the building has also been carefully looked after as regards its interior economy and stands second to none in the Province, as regards size and convenience. The wires were put up by Mr. Townsend, of Toronto, mechanical inspector for the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, Mr. Joseph Lang did the brick work, Mr. J. H. Gardner the plastering and Mr. Wm. Brenton the carpenter work. The office will be heated by hot water pipes put in by Garth & Co'y, of Montreal. The new premises were visited to-day by large numbers of people who expressed their surprise at seeing such a handsome office, and many of them warmly congratulated the owners on their good taste.

A WRETCHED OUTCOME.

TORONTO, July 23.—At 7 o'clock yesterday morning Lizzie Smith an unmarried woman boarding at 48 Edward street, gave birth to a child in the closet in rear of the house, and immediately smothered it in the cesspool. She only arrived at the place the night previous; and although she was observed to be enciente by the keeper of the house, Mrs. Baily, she was taken in for the night out of charity. The wretched mother, whose condition rendered her removal out of the question, was placed in custody, and a policeman will take up his quarters temporarily in the house. An inquest will be held.

BUTTER BUYERS

everywhere are refusing to take white, lardy looking butter except at "greasy" prices. Consumers want nothing but gilt-edged butter, and buyers therefore recommend their patrons to keep a uniform color throughout the year by using the Improved Butter Color made by Wells, Richardson & Co, Burlington, Vt. It is the only color that can be relied on to always give the perfect color. Sold by druggists and merchants.

AN OCEAN RACE

A Montreal despatch says:—A good deal of interest is displayed in the race across the [illegible] of the Allan Royal Mail steamship 'Sardinian' and the Dominion Company's new steamship 'Vancouver' and not a little amusement has been caused by the result. It seems that the race across the sea was a close one, being nip and tuck all the way over. The steamship 'Vancouver's' thirty furnaces were kept hot enough in order to supply the means of speed, while the twenty furnaces of the 'Sardinian' were kept well filled. When the 'Sardinian' reached the Irish coast she had to turn in to Moville and land the mails, while the 'Vancouver' forged ahead to Liverpool without stopping. It appears however that the 'Vancouver' had to wait for the tide to rise at the mouth of the Mersey, and while she was waiting there the 'Sardinian' came up and whether by intention or not reached the bar at a time when the water was high enough and without losing time she steamed over and arrived at Liverpool at eight o'clock last evening. The 'Vancouver' which had in the meantime been waiting outside the bar, then followed and steamed in arriving at docks just 10 minutes later.

SENSATION IN PEMBROKE.

CLANDESTINELY MARRIED AND AFTERWARDS ELOPED.

PEMBROKE, July 21.—A few days ago considerable excitement was caused by the discovery that two well known young people of this place, Hy. Guilboult and Mary Learans were clandestinely married and subsequently eloped. The father of the young lady was strongly opposed to the union, but for what particular reason no one could understand, as the lover was always considered as highly respectable. The father has since been reconciled, and he will look favorably upon the union provided the young couple will be re-married in their own church as it seems they had the knot tied in a church to which they did not belong.

LOVE'S LOTTERY

OR,

THE RIVAL SISTERS.

'Perhaps,' broke in Mr. Folmsbee, seated between the sisters, his chair a little back, and a lavender-gloved hand resting on each knee of his black-dress oh-no-we-never-mention-theme; 'perhaps,' and he beamed from one charming face to the other, 'he feared by exposing his rare jewels to view, people would grow envious and deprive him of them.'

'Why, what a flatterer you are. Mr. Folmsbee,' laughed Pauline gaily. 'I am certain dear papa had no such thought nor fear.'

'No flattery at all, Miss Pauline. If you doubt, look for yourself,' and he slightly motioned his lavender glove towards the house. 'When ladies are so lovely as to attract such universal admiration, it will not be my sex's fault if lace veils and orange blossoms do not speedily follow.'

Smiling the sisters involuntarily bent their eyes a second upon the parterre.

The volley of glasses caused the transient color to mount to their cheeks, enhansing their charms.

Rarely had Pauline looked more delicately beautiful, and Juliette more superb

The warm lights, the style of dress, the shadowing of the box curtains all suited her complexion.

Her shoulders were dazzling, her throat a sculptor's model.

Her eyes outshone the diamond cross resting upon her bosom, full and perfect of form in the beauty of early womanhood.

She appeared a queen receiving the adulation of her subjects.

Appeared—nay, she almost felt one.

As the sisters averted their gaze, both, unconsciously to the other, became aware of a tall man far back near the pit, whose singular expression, as he regarded them, arrested their notice.

They remarked him, as their glances met, bend eagerly forward and address another by his side, point directly to their box.

Offended at such rudeness, the sisters drew a little back, and gave all their attention to the stage, for at the same time the overture ceased, the curtain rose and the play commenced.

So peculiar, however, had been the tall man's observation, that neither Pauline nor Juliette could banish it from their minds.

It did not seem admiration.

No.

It rather expressed surprise, blended with indignation.

Did he know them, or imagine so?

Had he really pointed at them or a neighboring box?

To ascertain this furtively, both sisters at different times glanced in the tall man's direction.

He, as they, was not regarding the stage.

He was whispering angrily to those around him, and as he whispered, each one who heard turned toward their box.

What could it mean?

The evident rudeness rendered the sisters uneasy, and Pauline was in the act of remarking upon it to Mr. Folmsbee, and requesting to exchange seats, when that gentleman, leaning forward, whispered—

'What's going on up there among the gods? They are unaccountably restless to-night. It's singular; they are generally the most attentive and appreciative portion of the audience.'

His companions' gaze followed his.

With amazement they beheld the same pantomime going on there as in the parterre, themselves evidently being the cause.

What did it mean?

There appeared no possibility of solving the riddle, so drawing rather farther into the box, Pauline and Juliette permitted the lace curtains to fall more over them.

The first act was but a prologue, and the curtain was soon rung down.

Scarcely had it descended when through the entire house ran a sullen, crescendo murmur, like the warning roll of thunder presaging a storm.

Again it sounded, and now gallery, pit, and stalls were on their feet, while every face was turned toward Mr. Folmsbee's box, no longer with admiration, but fierce anger.

There were even threats in those faces.

Pauline, in alarm, quitting her seat retreated to the back of the box.

Juliette sat quietly where she was.

She was too courageous to retreat whatever the meaning of the singular scene.

What was the meaning?

The answer was close at hand.

The murmur, as yet, had only swelled into an angry roar.

Now, here and there, from different parts of the house, it found a voice.

'Out—out! How dare she sit queening it there! A Creole—a woman of color. Out—out!'

The hot blood leaped to Juliette's neck and brow, her eyes flashed with fire.

A violent treamor convulsed her frame.

It was she then they meant.

She was the cause of their fury.

A woman of color—she.

It was the greatest, the most humiliating insult that could be cast upon anyone in that land of freedom.

True, she was a Creole.

But she was legitimately born.

Poor Juliette!

So she believed.

IMPORTANT TO RUPTURED PERSONS

The Excelsior Rupture Treatment was introduced to the American people several years ago in such a manner as to completely secure the confidence of the whole nation. The mode of introduction was by furnishing the remedy to those afflicted with Hernia in any of its various forms and collecting no pay until a permanent cure was effected. In this way the treatment gained world wide reputation on its own merits, never failing to cure any reducible Hernia. The Company has at the solicitation of thousands placed the remedy on sale by all druggists both wholesale and retail, in the United States, Canada and England. In this way bringing it within the reach of all classes at a trifling cost compared with the benefit which are derived from the use of the treatment. Ask your druggist for a free book on rupture or send 6 cts. for one to the Excelsior Rupture Cure M'f'g Co., Ogdensburg, N. Y.

SCIENCE.

To increase the weight of the body invigorate the system, revitalize the exhausted and depressed, is the true object sought by medical science. The digestive organs must be in a healthy condition if we wish to secure this desired result, and no remedy yet discovered has ever proved so effectual in accomplishing this as FLAX-SEED EMULSION COMP. It contains Phosphorus to build up the nervous system and all the fat producing properties of Flax-seed to enrich the blood and supply the animal economy with the elements for reconstruction.

Use the Imperial Kidney and Liver Cure—price 50c.

The above remedies are sold in Belleville by James Clarke Co. and R. Carmichael druggists.

Vital Questions!

Ask the most eminent physician
Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?
And they will tell you unhesitatingly
"Some form of Hops! ! !"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians:
"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, diabetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—
"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu !"
Ask the same physicians
"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.," and they will tell you:
Mandrake! or Dandelion !"
Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable,
And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is
Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

CHAPTER II.

"Patients
"Almost dead or nearly dying"
For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.
Women have gone nearly crazy ! ! ! !
From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.
People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic, or suffering from scrofula.
Erysipelas!
"Saltrheum, blood poisoning dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact almost all diseases frai."
Nature is heir to
Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.
None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile poisonous stuff with "Hop" or "Hops" in their name.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co's. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

"Twenty-four years experience," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that, the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the Generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box, 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas, Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See adv't in another column

ON THIRTY DAYS' TRIAL.

The VOLTAIC BELT Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above,—N B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty day's trial is allowed.

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in th market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficent. For sale by all Druggists.

AYER'S
Hair Vigor

restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray hair to a natural, rich brown color, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use light or red hair may be darkened, thin hair thickened, and baldness often, though not always, cured.

It checks falling of the hair, and stimulates a weak and sickly growth to vigor. It prevents and cures scurf and dandruff, and heals nearly every disease peculiar to the scalp. As a Ladies' Hair Dressing, the VIGOR is unequalled; it contains neither oil nor dye, renders the hair soft, glossy, and silken in appearance, and imparts a delicate, agreeable, and lasting perfume.

MR. C. P. BRICHER writes from Kirby, O., July 3, 1882: "Last fall my hair commenced falling out, and in a short time I became nearly bald. I used part of a bottle of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, which stopped the falling of the hair, and started a new growth. I have now a full head of hair growing vigorously, and am convinced that but for the use of your preparation I should have been entirely bald."

J. W. BOWEN, proprietor of the McArthur (Ohio) Enquirer, says: "AYER'S HAIR VIGOR is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from my own experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair, and makes it glossy and soft. The VIGOR is also a sure cure for dandruff. Not within my knowledge has the preparation ever failed to give entire satisfaction."

MR. ANGUS FAIRBAIRN, leader of the celebrated "Fairbairn Family" of Scottish Vocalists, writes from Boston, Mass., Feb. 6, 1880: "Ever since my hair began to give silvery evidence of the change which fleeting time procureth, I have used AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, and so have been able to maintain an appearance of youthfulness—a matter of considerable consequence to ministers, orators, actors, and in fact every one who lives in the eyes of the public."

MRS. O. A. PRESCOTT, writing from 18 Elm St., Charlestown, Mass., April 14, 1882, says: "Two years ago about two-thirds of my hair came off. It thinned very rapidly, and I was fast growing bald. On using AYER'S HAIR VIGOR the falling stopped and a new growth commenced, and in about a month my head was completely covered with short hair. It has continued to grow, and is now as good as before it fell. I regularly used but one bottle of the VIGOR, but now use it occasionally as a dressing."

We have hundreds of similar testimonials to the efficacy of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR. It needs but a trial to convince the most skeptical of its value.

SUNSHINE AND SHADOW.

He came—the day was dull and dead,
The skies were cold and gray;
The slanting rain beat on the pane
And blurred the tossing bay.
But oh, so dear his tender tone,
His smile so sweet to see,
That in my heart the sunlight shone,
And all was fair to me.

He's gone—the day is fresh and fair,
The skies are warm and bright,
The robin sings; the blithe bee wings
O'er fragrant fields his flight;
But dim and blurred through tearful eyes
The sunlit bay I see;
For on my heart a shadow lies
And all is dark to me.

—Walter Lenerad, in The Manhattan for August.

THE FARMER IN AUGUST.

Act.
Think.
Consult.
Experiment.
Make repairs.
Carry a note book.
Watch the market.
Favor the seed-corn hills.
Manure the back fields.
Keep up the flow of milk.
Make repairs in spare hours.
Superior work pays us the best.
Above all things avoid foul seed.
Gas lime should not be used fresh.
Idle land is the weeds' opportunity.
Fowls profit by a run in the stubble.
Wheat after oats is a faulty practice.
Whitewash will cleanse and sweeten.
August pigs make holiday small pork.
Do not let your insurance policy expire.
The damage by rats exceed that by fire.
Sow white turnip seed for fine fall fodder,
Wash the horses feet and legs every night

Success is largely a matter of small details.

Roll the ground before and not after seeding.

Good seed and good soil is a good beginning.

Farm animals well summered are half wintered.

Help out the dried up pastures with green fodder.

Thinning the root crops means more tons to the acre.

Clean, oil and store all the implements not in use.

Get out the year's supply of muck while the beds are dry.

Build temporary pasture shelter in airy parts of the fields.

Weeds when they go to seed curse the land that grow them.

The general purpose animal is superior only in its versatility.

Let the bumblebee live and thus increase the yield of clover seed.

A drain to be a profitable investment must be a permanent improvement.

Fall fallowing cleans the land and brings it into a fine condition for spring crops.

Neglected fence rows are like a laden weight upon the clean neck of field culture.

A farmer's account may grow at the the expense of his manure heap and grain crops.

A clean, cool, ventilated stable free from flies, is a sutable lodging for a tired work horse.

The possibilities of a farm are measured by the quantity and quality of brains which run it.

Amid all the toil of midsummer, do not forget to do a little careful work for the coming county fair.

Superior pork made from freshly fallen wormy apples is very cleansing to an insect-infested orchard.

A root crop is very humble, but as a foundation for a judicious rotation it will support the symmetrical superstructure of profitable mixed farming. —American Agriculturist.

CANADA'S CULTURE.

Lord Ronald Gower was asked the usual question as to the common English notion of America. 'Well,' he answered, 'while it is true that intelligent tourists have carried back to England corrected ideas of your country, and have considerably desseminated them, our popular belief is that you are wild and uncouth. You see, we estimate America and Australia as just about alike. Both have been countries for our fortune hunters to seek gold and silver in, to raise cattle in, and to rough in. That is the reason for the belief quite general in my country, 'the States' are pretty much all wilderness.' He thought too, that the novelists and dramatists had so widely misrepresented the refined classes of Americans that readers and auditors received the impression that ladies and gentlemen were scarce on this continent. He had frequently met persons at home who thought that Canada contained nearly all the culture of the New World. 'The funniest thing I ever heard lately,' he remarked, 'was the utterance of a woman on a Long Branch boat. It was evident that she had heard the French pronounciation of the name Pierre; and so, when she spoke of the landing of the vessel at the iron pier, she called it the 'peair.'

JUST THE SAME

Every time. Everybody who has used or sell Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor reports that it is the only sure pop Corn Cure extant. C. Thompson, Tilsonburgh, writes. "In every case Putnam's Corn Extractor has given entire satisfaction." Can you doubt the certified testimony offered by those who have used it. Try it today. The only safe, sure and painless Corn cure is Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Beware of imitations. Polson & Co., proprietors' Kingston.

SAVED FROM A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Unto May I had spent at least five hundred dollars in treatment by many of the best medical men without benefit. My mouth became badly ulcerated, sores breaking out on my neck and legs. I also suffered excruciatingly with Rheumatism, grew very despondent, and my best friends advised me that the icy hand of death was fast approaching. I caught at Shaker Blood Syrup like drowning man catches at a straw. After taking two bottles I could feel the change for the better. The sores began to discharge freely, and Rheumatism to abate. When I had taken six bottles every sore had healed and my skin began to assume a natural appearance. I persisted until I had taken twelve, and there is not a symptom of the disease remaining, and I feel as well as I ever did. I have gained twenty-one pounds in flesh, and my friends wonder at my improved condition. I have recommended it to many, and in every instance with complete success. I believe that Shaker Blood Syrup has saved me from a horrible death.
T. S. Cannon South Boston Mass.

In 1878 I was the victim of terrible Blood Poison, and after being treated by three physicians was confined to my bed, not able to raise my hand to my head, spiting up clots of blood and reduced in weight from one hundred and eighty-five to one hundred and thirty pounds. I then began the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, and in less than three months I was entirely well, weighing one hundred and ninety-six pounds, and have never had a symptom of the disease since. If it had not been for Shaker Syrup I believe I would have been in my grave.

THE HON J. LYMAN BULKLEY, M.D. of New York, says: "I have used Dr. WHEELER'S Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisya largely in my practice for two years and in my judgement there is no preparation can compare with it. With feeble anæmic women, of whom we have so many, and in cases convalescing from prostrating diseases I should hardly know how to get along without it. In DYSPEPSIA it acts like a charm—in fact in any of the long list of diseases it is THE remedy.

THE DAILY ONTARIO.

THE BOUNDARY SETTLED.

The disputed boundaries of the Province of Ontario are at length settled after being an open question for over forty years. And the question is finally settled in favor of Ontario. This is as it ought to be, and as we anticipated.

Mr. Mowat has made strenuous efforts to get the matter settled, and the territory properly governed. But during the first and second Parliaments Sir John Macdonald could not be got to agree to anything and it was left to Mr. Mackenzie in 1873 to agree on the part of the Dominion to a referance of the whole question to a Board of Arbitration consisting of Sir Edward Thornton, Chief Justice Harrison, and Sir Frances Hincks They made a unanimous Award in August 1878, just six years ago, under which the north west angle of the Lake of the Woods was fixed as the westerly boundary. Before he could pass an Act ratifying this finding Mr. Mackenzie left office. We have his assurance that had he remained to lead another Parliament he would have accepted the decision and bound the Dominion to it. Sir John Macdonald let the matter slide from year to year, and paid no attention to the remonstrances addressed to his Government from Toronto. Sometime toward the end of 1881 the Dominion Government came out flatly against abiding by the decision of the arbitrators and precipitated the conflict impending between this Province and the Federal authorities. At length in 1882 Mr. Mowat suggested a reference of the matter to the Privy Council provided certain possible rights of Ontario to the territory were acknowledged in the meantime. Sir John would not agree—Mr. Mousseau has told us he would not permit him—and the matter dragged along till Mr. Mowat's vigorous policy of taking possession of the territory forced the Dominion to agree to a reference almost upon the conditions named by Mr. Mowat, though he submitted to a compromise in order to have a question of such vital importance to the Province finally adjudicated upon by a body in which Mr. Mowat had every confidence. Sir John said the Dominion, Quebec and Manitoba would all abide by the decision.

Mr. Mowat himself crossed the ocean and presented Ontario's case to the Judicial Committee and has succeeded in showing them that the Award was a just and equitable one, and that the awarded boundaries were substantially the true boundaries. The law lords agree that the Award as it was made is the best one that could be made. This is the Award which Mr. Mowat has stood by and his satisfaction at its endorsement by the highest tribunal must be shared by all good citizens of this Province, irrespective of political creed.

The Mail says:—

> The Judicial Committee has decided that the north-westerly angle of the Lake of the Woods is the beginning of the south westerly boundary of the Province of Ontario. That is the only point decided. It is not decided how the line runs north, nor how far.

It matters little how far the line runs north, and our contemporary need not be anxious about the northerly limit to our boundaries. The western boundary is the great point, and the decision places in Ontario all the wooded riches of this vast territory, all its great mineral resources, and the gold-bedded shores of the Lake of the Woods.

Mr. Meredith and his followers who have done their best to thwart Mr. Mowat in his efforts to secure this land for Ontario must feel chagrined at the empty echo of their cry, repeated parrot-like after the Dominion Premier:—The Award is not worth the paper it is printed on. The absence of an Act of Parliament from Ottawa made this literally true so far as the validity of the Award was concerned, but the Privy Council have given it such force that, if it is required, the Dominion Government will have to pass the Act asked from them for six years. The Award is probably not now rendered "legal" though its binding force must be recognized, an act of justice to which Ontario has urged Sir John Macdonald and urged in vain. Mr. Meredith will perhaps now have more respect for the 'piece of paper' and he may cease his efforts to strengthen the hands of the Federal Government against his own Province. As the Toronto World truly says Mr. Meredith will have to eat humble pie without sauce. The grand result reflects the highest honor on Mr. Mowat as a statesman, a constitutional lawyer, and as a pleader. The triumph is a personal one for him as he has given his personal attention to this matter from the day he took office twelve years ago. Ontario could have had no more trustworthy or trusted counsel.

We mistake the temper of the people of this Province and the magnitude of the victory achieved by Mr. Mowat if he does not upon his return receive such an ovation as is seldom accorded to a public man.

FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT.

At Quebec Jude Caron, whose ruling against the Tory sitting member in the Levis contested election case was made the subject of a violently abusive article in Le Nouvelliste, a Tory ocal sheet, charging the judge with gross dishonesty and partizanship, ordered a rul nisi to issue yesterday against the editor and publisher, requiring them to show cause on Friday why they should not be punished for contempt.

Not a particle of calomel or any other deliterious substance enters into the composition of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. On the contrary they prove of special service to those who have used calomel and other mineral poisons as medicines, and feel their injurious effects. In such cases Ayer's Pills are invaluable.

CONTEMPORARY COMMENT.

THE FIRST OF JULY.

Seventeen years have elapsed since these provinces gave up their seperate existences and were confederated under one general government. No one will, we think, question the correctness of the assertion that if New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island were out of the union they would not with the experience they have had again enter into union with the other Canadian Provinces. Their object in joining with what was, in 1867, Canada, was to give an impetus for their development. They have not secured it. The population of New Brunswick, at least, has not increased since Confederation as rapidly as it increased before; and there is good reason to believe that had we consented to submit to such heavy taxation under our seperate existences as we have submitted to since we were confederated, we could have opened up and developed our Provincial resources far more extensively than they have been developed. But we have been heavily taxed in the general interests for the benefit of all Canada, while, in the meantime, out of our Provincial funds, we have been compelled to carry on works which have since been declared for the general interest of Canada. It was supposed that by entering Confederation we should be able to keep our people at home but there has been a more active emigration since than before. Indeed, in no direction has Confederation assisted in our material development.—St. John (N.B.) Globe.

THE REASON WHY.

We had been wondering of late why the editorial column of the Tory organs contained so much matter of that hard, dry, encyclopædiac kind that could be readily sawed off and used for block pavements. An Ottawa correspondent whom we would not suspect of sarcasm, furnishes the reason:

It is understood that before departing for his summer holidays the Premier furnished to his various organs a list of subjects which they should not discuss until further instructions. The list includes: The benefits the country is now reaping from the N. P., the high rate of wages, the Syndicate's 20 per cent dividend, the state of public feeling in the Northwest, the Charlebois-Mousseau scandal, the real causes of Sir Charles Tupper's removal from the Cabinet, the Langevin testimonial, the Macdonell law fees, the balance of trade question, the decrease in savings bank deposits, the state of the cotton iron, lumber industries, the route of the Short Line Railway, Mr. Pope's payments to his own railroad, Ministerial nepotism, and a number of other important topics of general public interest.—London Advertiser.

TERRIBLE DEATH.

A NEW YORK BELLE FATALLY BURNED WHILE DRESSING.

A Newburg (N. Y.) despatch says: Miss Lura Delano, the youngest daughter of Warren Delano, died on Monday in terrible agony. She was dressing for church on Sunday, and using a fluid lamp to heat her crimping pins. Suddenly the lamp exploded and her clothing enveloped in flames. She ran through the house screaming, to the lawn, where her father met her and wrapped a rug around her, but she was then in a dying condition. from head to foot Miss Delano was terribly burnd, weith the exception of that portion of her pody prrtected by corsets. She was 19 years old, and very beautiful, a belle in New York society in the circle of her sister, Mrs. Jas. R. Rosevelt.

SALISBURY AT SHEFFIELD.

LONDON, July 24.—Lord Salisbury, in an address at Sheffield last night, taunting the Government with fearing to dissolve Parliament because they knew they had deluded the hopes of their countrymen, by by broken promices. Oceans of blood, he said had been shed unnecessarily and the course of the Government had weakened their prestige at home and England's power abroad. They naturally feared an appeal to their constituents when discontent in Ireland and destruction throughout the Empire could be brought as arguments against them and an account demanded.

The Rev. Henry Cosgrave has been appointed Catholic Bishop of the See of Davenport, Indiana.

A Brooklyn minister said yesterday that a physician in the Charity Hospital on Blackwell's Island had told him that nine young girls in the employ of a large establishment in New York City, being driven to desperation by starvation wages, deliberately began a life of shame. Within three months they were all patients in the hospital.

THE HOUSE OF PEERS.

The total muster of the House of Lords is 518. Of these five are members of the royal family, who, in accordance with usual practice abstain from divisions on a political question. Of the remainder, 288 rank as Tories, and 218 are usually classified as Liberals. But many nominal Liberals, like Lord Brabourne and Lord Dunraven, usually vote against the Government on party questions.

MUSKOKA REDEEMED.

Another Liberal Victory—Mr. Dill Elected.

BRACEBRIDGE, July 23, 12 p.m.—Forty-two polling sub-divisions heard from, giving Mr. Dill one hundred and fifteen majority. The same places gave Fanquier one hundred and eighty-two majority at the last election. The places yet to be heard from it is believed will increase Dill's majority, but of that, of course, there is no absolute certainty. During the afternoon the Tory bribery brigade became desperate, and some of them were seen paying voters money in the most open manner. It was only by the operations of the bribery gang that Dill's majority was kept down to six in Bracebridge.

Mr. Fanquier's majority at the general election was 200, but this time Mr. Shields' frozen whiskey, and "Big Push" Wilkinson are absent.

QUEEN CITY NOTES.

The Executive of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance have issued an urgent appeal for contributions to the Scott Act Fund.

CANADIAN NOTES.

Hon. Mr. Lynch will not retire from the Quebec Government.

The Quebec City Council proposes to tax electrical and Government property.

The Eastern Marine Insurance Company of New Brunswick, is being wound up.

Liquidators have been appointed for the Peter's Lock Company, of Moncton, N. B.

Thos. Alder, who attempted suicide in Montreal on Monday, is very low. His recovery is now considered doubtful.

There are now seventy-five telephone instruments in use in Peterborough, an increase of fifteen since the first of the year.

Mr. J. D. Edgar was unanimously nominated by a convention of West Ontario Liberals yesterday, to contest the constituency for the Commons.

A water tap carelessly left open while the water was turned on, admitted enough water into a Montreal warehouse to seriously damage $20,000 worth of goods.

TORONTO UNIVERSITY.

TORONTO, July 23.—The results of the recent matriculation examination of the University of Toronto have been issued. The following are the names of the winners of scholarship: In arts, M. Mulock; classical scholarship, A. W. Minland, Hamilton, Collegiate Institute; modern languages, M. McLea, Woodstock, College; mathematics, J. J. Whitton, Hamilton; professors (1) T. A. Gibson, Toronto, C. I. professors (2) F.J. Steen, Toronto, C. I.; professors (3), C. B. Carveth, Port Hope High School, professors (4) J. A. Sparling, St. Mary, C.I., and Stratford H. S.; Prince of Wales Scholarship, J. E. Jones, Upper Canada college.

At the meeting of the Senate of Toronto University 175 candidates for matriculation in arts and six in medicine were passed. The former number took about fiteen girls some of whom took a high stand. Besides these about sixty girls were accepted as having passed the local examinations for women. Their success will hasten the opening of the doors of University College to women.

A SUNDAY MOVEMENT.

NEW YORK, July 23.—The Adelphi Labor Club has passed these resolutions:—Whereas, The Park Commissioners have changed concerts previously given every Saturday afternoon to Sunday afternoon, which change has shown itself a great success, and offers to the workingman an opportunity to listen to excellent music, as well as affording a means of recreation for himself and family and Whereas, A movement has been set on foot to force the Park Commissioners to return to the Saturday afternoon program. Resolved, That we, the Adelphi Labor Club, request the Central Labor Union to take appropriate steps to counteract the movement, and to use its influence to have the doors of the museums and art exhibitions thrown open to the public on Sunday.

SALVATIONISTS IN JAIL.

DETROIT, July 24.—The entire salvation army of Grand Rapids numbers twenty-four persons. Twelve of them were arrested and locked up Tuesday night, and a crowd of 1000 followed them to the station and applauded the action of the police. They have continually disturbed the peace by beating tambourines and drums and shouting: The mayor read the riot act to their captain Monday and requested that they would stop such actions. He replied that he would do as he pleased.

THE HOPE OF THE NATION.

A LUNANTIC'S FREAK.

AN INSANE YOUTH DRIVES A NAIL INTO HIS FATHER'S HEAD.

A Baltimore despatch says:—Valentine Fritz, aged 67 years, residing at No. 9 Montgomery Street, is lying in a critical condition, in consequence of injuries received at the hands of his idiotic son, aged 20. Fritz was prostrated by the heat on Wednesday. The boy was noticed to enter his father's room with a hammer and several large nails in his hands. Shortly after a piercing cry was heard, and when the members of the family entered the bed-room they discovered Fritz unconscious and the son standing near his father's bed side with the hammer still in his hand. Fritz continued to grow worse. While bathing his head his wife noticed something protruding, and an examination developed the head of a nail. While his aged father was asleep the weakminded boy drove the nail into h's father's head. The nail was more than three inches long. The doctor had to cut around it with a knife before he could get hold of it with nippers. It is a miracle that Fritz has lived so long as he has. The cause of Fritz's suffering was unknown until the nail was found.

WANTED TO MARRY FRITZ.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Annie Seidel, a stout German woman, living at 170 Allen St., requested the attention of Justice White for a few moments yesterday. The Justice granted his attention and she said:—"My husband, Obed, Obed Seidel, left me seven years ago. I heard that he had gone to Europe, and then I heard that he was living in Union Hill, N. J. I have never since heard of him, and I do not know whether he is living. In my house is a border, Fritz Matcheit, who is a cotton weaver, and gets $18 a week. He is in love with me. I love him a little now. He asked me to marry him. I would do so, but I am afraid some day my husband will turn up, and, if he is angry, prosecute me for bigamy." She wanted to know if he could do so.

Justice White said to her that such a thing was possible. He would advise her to advertise in the newspapers for the husband to return. "Keep the advertisements to show that you tried to find him." Justice White said "in case you marry Fritz. Your husband could not then make so much trouble as otherwise."

CHOLERA IN AMERICA.

PHILADELPHIA, July 23.—The coroner's physician reports that Addison B. Zeigler grocer, died on Monday night of Asiatic cholera. The autopsy shows that deceased died of cholera morbus.

Professor Wigins, the weather prophet says that an infusion of common tansy, taken both as a drink and as a clyster, will effectually prevent the spread of cholera. He has tried it on different mirobes and it killed them instantaneously. He says its general use will wipe the cholera from Europe in twenty-four hours.

AN IDYL OF PARTING.

'Good bye, mamma!'

'Good bye, my darling; take care of yourself.'

'Don't worry about me, mamma. I will be home in a month. Good bye, the cars are going.'

The young girl stepped on the train and it glided from the depot, leaving the mother standing alone with her eyes full of unshed tears, while back on the wind came the sweet girlish voice:

'Good bye, mamma. I'll soon be home again.'

What was there to cry about? Other mothers had sent their children away from them for a happy visit, aye! and never had them back again. The mother knew all the chances of fate held in reserve, and as she watched the cars glide away all the bright and morning sunshine seemed turned to rain, and she reached out her arms with a frantic gesture as if she would snatch her traveller away from them. A rough work man was eying her curiously.

'Excuse me, ma'am,' he said, respectfully. 'but if you want your gal to hev good luck you don't want to watch the cars go out. I've seen many things in my experience an' I never knowed no good come to them as were watched out of sight.'

The mother smiled and turned away.

'I dare say that you are right,' she said. 'At least it does not make the parting any easier.

'It does harm,' said the man solemnly. 'I had a gal once, a pretty leetle thing as I set a heap by, an' I watched her out o' sight, an' it givs me a pain I ain't ever got over, an' she never come back.'

'I did not watch my traveller out of sight,' thought the mother with a strange glad belief in the virtue of the old superstition.—Ex.

A FIRM OPINION.
The firm of Ormand & Walsh, druggists' of Peterboro, say Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is one of the best Standard Medicines for Summer Complaints.

HONEST AND TRUE.
This is eminently the case with Polson's NERVILINE, the great pain cure. It is an honest remedy, for it contains the most powerful, the purest, and most certain pain subducing remedies known to medical science. It is honest, for it does all it claims to do. It is honest because it is the best in the world. It only costs 10 or 25 cents to try it, and you can buy a bottle at any drug store. Nerviline cures toothache, neuralgia, pain in the back and side. All pains are promptly relieved by Polson's Nerviline.

The Pope has given 20,000 francs and President Grevy, of France, 10,000 francs for the relief of the cholera sufferers.

COMING!
The countries where Cholera prevails, as in India, China and Africa. Pain-Killer is considered the surest and safest of all known remedies, and the natives place the most perfect reliance in it.
Read the following extract from the letter of a missionary in China:—
DEAR SIRS—I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain-Killer you had the goodness to send me last year. It's coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. The Cholera appeared here soon after we received it. We resorted at once to the PAIN-KILLER, using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain-Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered.
Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours,
J. M. JOHNSON,
Missionary to Swaton, China.
Beware of Counterfeits and Imitations. Ask for the genuine Perry Davis' Pain-Killer and take no other. jy 2md&w

The Duke of Edinburgh is an enthusiastic stamp collector. The collection was only commenced last year, and already numbers 3,000, which His Royal Highness in his spare moments is busily engaged in transfering from their present abode to the latest arrangement in stamp albums.

FLINT'S FINDINGS.

Fred. Wohan is a young man scarcely out of his teens, but his checkered career thus far in life is better known to the police than to the general public. After serving a term of five years in the Reformatory he returned to this city and joined the Salvation Army a few months since, but the police were after him on a charge of larceny and he left town. During his absence another charge of stealing some clothing from Peter Stickles, of Gordon's Mill, was laid against him, and yesterday Constable Hayes, on his return to town, arrested him. At the police court this morning he pleaded guilty. The magistrate reserved sentence until to-morrow.

William Norman Crook, referred to in THE ONTARIO yesterday, was sentenced to a year in the Central Prison for indecently exposing his person. Bouncer Brown, drunk, $5 and costs or 60 days. Committed.

MARINE.

A despatch from Port Hope last night states:—Captain A Eccles of the schooner L. D. Bullock, has just arrived reports that at at four o'clock this morning, after a terrific squall he saw a disabled schooner, both masts gone painted white, loaded. apparently about 12, 000 bus. capacity, fifteen miles south east by south off Port Hope.

The change in the regulation in American ports relating to clearances, which is now in force is as follows:—Vessels reporting in will now pay ten cents instead of of fifty as before, and those taking out clearances will pay thirty cents instead of seventy cents.

It is reported that it will cost $10,000 to thoroughly repair the Oneida which sank in the St. Lawrence last fall. She is now in the dry dock at Buffalo.

To-Day's Probabilities.

Light to moderate winds; fine, very warm weather.

A CARD.—To all who are suffering from errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send self-addressed envelope to Rev. Joseph T. Inman, Station D, New York City.

It removes wrinkles and softens the skin. The regular use of MURRAY & LANMAN'S FLORIDA WATER at the toilet tends to prevent and remove wrinkles, the softness of the skin produced by its taking away the natural inclination of the cuticle to form into ridges and furrows.

Rev. G. H. Johnston, of Arkona, Ohio, who was married a short time ago to Miss Meadie Post, of this city, a very handsome and estimable young lady, writes as follows:—"It is with tears and an almost broken heart that I ask you to publish the death of my beloved wife." There are many in Belleville who will deeply regret to learn the death of one so well and favorably known as Mrs Johnston.

Dr. Bryce, Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, says:—"The call upon individuals, municipal councils, provincial and State authorities, is equally imperative with that upon the Dominion and the United States Governments to take every means to fight this dread cholera not after but before its introduction. All have health boards; let these be active." Is the Belleville Board taking steps to so purify the city that cholera could not get a hold?

We are pleased to state that 200 more tickets for the excursion to the Murray Canal to-morrow had to be struck off, for sale at the boat, as those first printed are all sold.

Street cars will be in full force on Friday morning for the pic-nic.

RAN AWAY TO BUFFALO.

Maud Diamond Leaves Home Unceremoniously.

Maud Diamond, aged 15, daughter of John W. Diamond, Hillside street, joined the Salvation Army last winter much against the wishes of her mother, but the request of her parental advisers was unheeded when in the midst of the lively rattle of a score of tambourines and the beating of drums. She continued to attend the meetings regularly and the thought soon struck her that she ought to be promoted to a lieutenancy or even to a higher position. But the country was overrun with such applicants and the blood and fire lass found little encouragement. Nothing daunted, however, she concluded to run away, and for several days her parents have been nearly distracted at the loss of their daughter. The suspense was partially broken this morning on receiving a letter from her postmarked Buffalo, where she said she had become identified with the Army, and the only thing she wanted now to complete her happiness was her underclothing. He mother will of course refuse to comply with the request, in the hope that her erring daughter will return home.

A NEW PLAY.

EFFECTIVE DRAMATIZATION OF OUIDA'S LATEST NOVEL.

On Friday and Saturday evenings the great Pauline Markham Company will appear at the Opera House, and produce the latest London success, Moths, now in the second year at the Court Theatre, London. The story follows rather closely the novel as written by Ouida, and is deeply interesting throughout, growing in strength and force as the action proceeds. The story is that of Vere Herbert, a young woman of excellent qualities, who is introduced by her mother into a social clique governed wholly by the most selfish of passions and instincts. Vere has two admirers, Lord Jura, a frank and open-hearted Englishman, whom she respects and admires, and Raphael DeConeze, a poet and singer, whom she loves. Lady Dolly Vandrideckden, the mother of Vere, conceives the idea of marrying Vere to Prince Zuroff a Russian roue of wealth and title, but brutal in his nature and instinct. Vere, shocked by the proposal, indignantly repels his advances and her mother's schemes, and pledges her love to Coneze. The mother, reckless of the means she uses to secure her end, works on the daughter's feelings by confessing that the Prince holds her in his power through a former liason, and threatens to expose her, and the daughter to shield her mother from disgrace, consents to wed the Russian. Vere is finally installed in the Prince's palace at St. Petersburg, subjected to every species of insult and ignominy and ultimately banished to Poland. Thither Coneze has already gone, and they met at the castle of Szarisla. The Prince hears of Coneze's presence at Szaris'a and hastens thither to get a pretext for divorcing his wife. The cowardly Russian, in his disappointment strikes her, Lord Jura happens upon the scene, and hearing of the indignity placed upon Vere, forces a quarrel upon the Prince, who is killed, and Jura receives his death wound. In his dying moment he sees Vere and Coneze reunited. This company is well spoken of by the press and public everywhere. Miss Markham will appear as Vere. Mr. Murray as Prince Zuroff, Chas. Barten as Lord Jura and Miss Helen Adell as Lady Dolly.

THE GOSPEL ON WHEELS.

Rev. R. E. Macduffy, a Cleveland clergyman, was recently arrested in that city for riding a bicycle on the sidewalk. He pleaded guilty, but explained that the street was in bad order, compelling him to take to the walk, and said in extenuation of his offence:

"My parish is a very large one. I am often called to the bedside of a sick or a dying person and must get there as fast as I can. I hope I am a law abiding citizen but when I receive a call of this kind I am going to respond at all hazards. I consider that in following my calling as a minister I am obeying the law of humanity, a higher law, even though I violate the law made by man."

In fining the reverend gentleman, the Justice said: "When the laws of humanity or higher laws, as you call them, conflict with the laws of this State and city, the higher laws are going to come off second best. I respect your calling—as it is a noble one; but the laws to enforce which I am placed here are applicable to everybody without distinction as to person or occupation. For the present I'll stand by the ordinance. My advice to you is to 'keep in the middle of the road.' If you take to the sidewalk you must go afoot.'

TIME IS MONEY.

Time and money will be saved by keeping Kidney-Wort in the house. It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases arising from obstructions of these organs. It has cured many obstinate cases after hundreds of dollars had been paid to physicians without obtaining relief. It cures Constipation, Piles, Biliousness and all kindred disorders. Keep it by you.

KILLED ON THE TRACK

STRATHROY, July 24.—Mr. John Lloyd, father of the late Dr. Lloyd, was killed on the G. T. R. last evening by the Chicago fast express. He was killed about 300 yards from the spot where James Beenell was killed by the same train about a month ago.

A STARTLING DISCOVERY.

Mr. Wm. Johnston, of Huron, Dak, writes that his wife had been troubled with acute Bronchitis for many years and that all remedies tried gave no permanent relief, until he procured a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, which has a magical effect, and produced a permanent cure. It is guaranteed to cure all Diseases of Throat, Lungs, or Bronchial Tubes. Trial Bottles Free at R. Templeton's Drug Store. Large Size $1.00.

Every one speaks highly of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters as a Stomach Liver and Kidney Medicine. The best family medicine we ever used,' say they all. Try a bottle this Spring as a blood purifier.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

VOTERS' LIST.

DEAR SIR:—I desire to call the attention of the different municipal authorities through your columns to a suggestion I made at the various voters' list courts held by me last year. I recommended that allowance be made to the clerks of each municipality for attending and revising the proof sheets of the voters lists, while the same are in the printer's hands. My reasons for doing so are these: a large number of appeals which come before the County Judge, at a voters' list court, are for correction of names improperly spelled, wrong initials, wrong description of property, etc., these are either typographical errors or of such a nature as would be corrected by the clerk revising the proof. If this suggestion was carried out it would lessen the number of appeals and, of course, lessen the expenses for the municipality and in many cases avoid the necessity of appeals altogether.

Yours etc.,
E. B. FRALICK.

It is hoped the owners of the Atalanta will consent to her sailing in the Oswego regatta. She would honorably represent the city of the bay in the first class contest.

Yesterday Mr. Whiteley's famous trotting stallion, Clear Grit, broke one of his fore legs. Every effort will be made to save him.

The articles of agreement in the sculling match for the championship of the world between Hanlan and Wm. Beach for £500 a side, have been signed. The race is fixed for August 16th, on the Parramatta River, over a straightway course of about three miles and 300 yards.

A meeting of the Bay of Quinte Yacht Club has been called for to-morrow evening to consider a postponement of the regatta here until August 8th, in consequence of the change made in the date of the Kingston races. It is probable that Friday the 8th, will be named as the day.

The Kingston regatta will be held on Monday, 4th August. The prizes are:—For first class yachts—$120 to first, $60 to second. $30 to third. Second class—$80 to first, $40 to second, $20 to third. Third class—$40 to first, $20 to second, $10 to third. The yachts that sail in this regatta will have scarce time to reach Belleville for the races on the 6th of August.

SIDNEY NOTES.

From our own Correspondent.

A very pleasant meeting took place at the residence of Mr. Wm. H. Bonisteel in the 3rd con. of Sidney on Thursday afternoon, the 17th inst. This was the occasion of a musical concert held by his daughter Miss Minnie Bonisteel, assisted by the members of her large music class, at the close of which Miss Bonisteel was the recipient of a number of valuable presents from various members of her class. As regards the musical acquirements of the scholars it would be hard to praise too much, and great credit is due their excellent and painstaking preceptress. The company, which numbered about forty, broke up at 9 p.m. after having spent a most enjoyable afternoon.

ENCOURAGING AN EXPERIMENT.

He was a bashful wooer, but there was a certain manliness about him which indicated that he only needed a little encouragement to let himself out. She saw this and resolved on a policy of encouragement.

"Do you believe these stories in the funny papers," she asked, "about the willingness of young ladies to be kissed?"

"I—I reallly can't say," he repied. "They may be true." Then gathering courage, he added, "I hope they are true," and he drew closer to her.

"It seems to me," she said, "that there is only one way in which a young man can discover whether they are true or not."

"And what way is that?" he asked.

There was a brief pause. Then, with a far away look in her eye, she answered:

"By experimenting when he has an opportunity."

NO. 2 FIRE HALL.

Engineer McCurdy's New System of Alarm.

Mr. James McCurdy, mechanical engineer for No. 2 fire steamer has just completed several important changes at his station which it would be well for Engineer Cunningham to take pattern after. By the new system now in vogue at this shed the engine and hose carts are ready to leave the building from four to five seconds after an alarm is given, which in the absence of any electric system is marvellously quick time. This system, though simple, is without doubt the most perfect and complete one extant, and property holders generally in Belleville will read with pleasure the success of this new invention. The whole apparatus works like a flash in response to the gong which is regulated by a wire cord on the side of the partition close by the engine. When this is sounded both the stable doors fly open, the horses are untied, and immediately they dash out through the engine shed to their places on the steamer or hose cart. Over the latter the harness is suspended, and as soon as the horse is in the shafts the straps drop and by one clasp of the improved hame which Mr. McCurdy received a patent for the other day the horse is ready to start. An exhibition is given every night at 8 o'clock for those who wish to witness it, and one who has seen the horses turn out cannot but feel well repaid for their visit.

Assistant Chief Engineer Cummins and several ladies attended the exhibition given last night at the fire hall and afterwards visited the handsome parlor up stairs. They were very much pleased at what they saw at the Independent's headquarters.

The reason why "Nonesuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all Druggists.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills—Coughs Influenza.—The soothing proerties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In in common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally and the Ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceeding efficacious. When influenza is epidemic this treatment is the easiest, safest, and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free, without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of saving suffering when any one is afflicted with cold, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints by which so many persons are seriously and permanently afflicted in most countries.

NERVOUS DEBILITY And PREMATURE DECAY RADICALLY CURED without stomach medication by the Marston Treatment, effective, cleanly, pleasant, cheap. Send for sealed treatise. MARSTON REMEDY CO., 75 Yonge St., Toronto, Ont.

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "28 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 28, 1882.

"Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly, W. M. Phillips."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the Sarsaparilla in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. [illegible] [illegible] all healed, and I feel perfectly well [illegible]

LOVE'S LOTTERY

OR,

THE RIVAL SISTERS.

For one moment her gaze wavered, the next all her pride came back, and with cold disdain, with contempt she bent her eyes upon the agitated, shouting audience.

Pauline pale and trembling slid her hand into her sister's, as she whispered imploringly—

'Oh, Juliette, dear, do come away—please do. It is all a mistake. Mr. Flomsbee, pray,—pray let us go?'

Amazed, bewildered, unaware how to act, being of by no means a strong-minded temperament, chirrupy Mr. Flomsbee lost all presence of mind, and murmuring in a stunned helpless fashion—

'I can't make it out. I don't know what it means; so very singular.'

He would have been delighted to have complied with Pauline's request.

But in a firm clear tone, Juliette calmly rejoined—

'Go; retreat before such an insult as that? Retreat, and, as it were, mutually acknowledge the base lie? Never! go yourself, dear—yes, I wish it. Mr. Flomsbee can take you; I shall remain here until he returns. I will not leave!'

Though not a word she uttered could be heard by the infuriated, indignant crowd, nevertheless, the haughty movement of her head, the proud defiance of her eyes, and the composure with which she retained her seat, were sufficiently eloquent to incense the beholders, until the turmoil rose to a pitch beyond description, added to by several in the parterre taking seperate sides.

'Out—out!' yelled fifty voices, 'Let her take her proper place among her kind in the gallery. Shame—shame! Out out! Up with the seats. Where's the manager?'

The confusion increased every second.

Quarrels arose, the roar was deafening, the orchestra ceased, finding it impossible to continue.

It was a riot; a riot which threatened to end in bloodshed for revolvers were making their appearance in several parts of the house, when the door of Mr Folmsbee's box opened, and pale and agitated the manager entered.

Hurriedly stumbling over apologies, he requested the party to take their departure, to prevent mischief, if not bloodshed.

His house he declared would be distroyed if they did not go, and he would not hold himself answerable for any peril that might arrive to them,

'Where are the police authorities?'

'They have been sent for,' answered the manager, 'but the evil may be done before they arrive. Look at the house. I entreat; I order you to go.'

'Sir!' exclaimed Juliette rising and drawing herself to her full height, 'are you aware of what you ask? I am the daughter of Colonel Beauchamp of Longueville; these people have cruelly, publicly insulted me by the utterance of a base lie. Would you then have me retreat as if I were guilty? 'No, let them murder me rather, if they choose.'

'Madam, there may be justice in what you say,' responded the manager, 'but when a tiger is infuriated, it is not the time to cut his claws: it would be as pure a piece of insanity to try to argue with yonder howling crowd. Go, I implore—I command, or I will not answer for the consequences. I cannot have my house destroyed.'

The noise was now beyond description while it was evident from words of invective flying about, that the portion of the audience termed rough, were on the eve of taking expulsion in their own hands, incensed by Juliette's dauntless bearing.

Even she trembled for a moment as she regarded the tossing sea of human faces, and her lips shook slightly, though her voice was firm as she repeated—

'Never—I will not fly!'

'You must. In a minute it will be impossible,' cried the manager, seizing her arm. 'Are you mad? Listen, the gallery people are coming down into the lobby, do you not hear them? They will force you to go.'

'Oh, Juliette, Juliette!' implored Pauline. 'Would you have us all murdered?'

'My dear Miss Beauchamp, began Mr. Flomsbee, when the door was thrown open; and at it appeared the tall, herculean form of Stuart Loring.

With a hasty inclination, accompanied by as hasty a request that they would fear nothing, he strode to the front of the box, and with a leonine glance, regarded the surging crowd.

His sudden appearance, his singular expression of command, not only attracted instant attention, but produced a momentary lull in the tempest.

Seizing this opportunity, Stuart Loring spoke, his full, resonant tones reaching clear and distant to every corner of the theatre.

'Gentlemen!' he exclaimed; 'if I may so degrade the name by applying it to you——'

An angry murmur arose at such a beginning.

'Silence!' exclaimed the American, in a voice of thunder, with a look that awed the angry crowd.

IMPORTANT TO RUPTURED PERSONS

The Excelsior Rupture Treatment was introduced to the American people several years ago in such a manner as to completely secure the confidence of the whole nation. The mode of introduction was by furnishing the remedy to those afflicted with Hernia in any of its various forms and collecting no pay until a a permanent cure was effected. In this way he treatment gained world wide reputation on its own merits, never failing to cure any reducible Hernia. The Company has at the solicitation of thousands placed the remedy on sale by all druggists both wholesale and retail, in the United States, Canada and England. In way bringing it within the reach of all classes at a trifling cost compared with the benefit which are derived from the use of the treatment. Ask your druggist for a free book on rupture or send 6 cts. for one to the Excelsior Rupture Cure M'f'g Co., Ogdensburg, N. Y.

Vital Questions.!

Ask the most eminent physician

Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?

And they will tell you unhesitatingly "Some form of Hops! ! !"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians: "What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, debetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—

"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu !"

Ask the same physicians

"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.," and they will tell you:

Mandrake! or Dandelion !"

Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable.

And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is

Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

CHAPTER II.

"Patients

"Almost dead or nearly dying"

For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.

Women have gone nearly crazy ! ! ! !

From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.

People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic, or suffering from scrofula.

Erysipelas!

"Saltrheum, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact almost all diseases frai."

Nature is heir to

Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.

None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile poisonous stuff with "Hop" or "Hops" in their name.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly bear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co.s, own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

"Twenty-four years experience, says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the Generative organs is to repair the wastby giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and t all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box, 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas, Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward the goods free by mail, and, send their written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See adv't in another column

ON THIRTY DAYS' TRIAL.

The VOLTAIC BELT Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above,—N B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in th market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficent. For sale by all Druggists.

AYER'S
Hair Vigor

restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray hair to a natural, rich brown color, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use light or red hair may be darkened, thin hair thickened, and baldness often, though not always, cured.

It checks falling of the hair, and stimulates a weak and sickly growth to vigor. It prevents and cures scurf and dandruff, and heals nearly every disease peculiar to the scalp. As a Ladies' Hair Dressing, the VIGOR is unequalled; it contains neither oil nor dye, renders the hair soft, glossy, and silken in appearance, and imparts a delicate, agreeable, and lasting perfume.

MR. C. P. BRICHER writes from Kirby, O., July 3, 1882: "Last fall my hair commenced falling out, and in a short time I became nearly bald. I used part of a bottle of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, which stopped the falling of the hair, and started a new growth. I have now a full head of hair growing vigorously, and am convinced that but for the use of your preparation I should have been entirely bald."

J. W. BOWEN, proprietor of the McArthur (Ohio) Enquirer, says: "AYER'S HAIR VIGOR is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from my own experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair, and makes it glossy and soft. The VIGOR is also a sure cure for dandruff. Not within my knowledge has the preparation ever failed to give entire satisfaction."

MR. ANGUS FAIRBAIRN, leader of the celebrated "Fairbairn Family" of Scottish Vocalists, writes from Boston, Mass., Feb. 6, 1880: "Ever since my hair began to give silvery evidence of the change which fleeting time procureth, I have used AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, and so have been able to maintain an appearance of youthfulness—a matter of considerable consequence to ministers, orators, actors, and in fact every one who lives in the eyes of the public."

MRS. O. A. PRESCOTT, writing from 18 Elm St., Charlestown, Mass., April 14, 1882, says: "Two years ago about two-thirds of my hair came off. It thinned very rapidly, and I was fast growing bald. On using AYER'S HAIR VIGOR the falling stopped and a new growth commenced, and in about a month my head was completely covered with short hair. It has continued to grow, and is now as good as before it fell. I regularly used but one bottle of the VIGOR, but now use it occasionally as a dressing."

We have hundreds of similar testimonials to the efficacy of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR. It needs but a trial to convince the most skeptical of its value.

LOVE IN BOSTON.

A pretty Boston schoolma'am and a youth of mien sedate
Were parting in the evening beside the garden gate;
His hand and heart he offered in a kind and sober way.
And she with quiet dignity had named the happy day.
He lingered at the door with her, and said, in accents low:
"There is a little favor I would ask before I go,
A favor never asked before; sweet maiden, it is this,
A lover's privilege, that is all, a sweet betrothal kiss."
"If you wait," the maiden whispered, with her color rising high,
"Till I remove my spectacles I'll willingly comply."

MARRIED FIVE WOMEN.

All Are Alive and None of Them Divorced.

HE IS DECLARED INSANE.

An interesting polygamy case was heard by the Dublin Commission court a few days ago. The accused was an Irishman about 45 years old and a member of respectable family His name is Brien Dennis Malloy and his occupation was that of 'gentleman.' He was accused of marrying five women, all of whom were alive and none of them divorced. They all belong to good families and three of them possessed considerable fortunes in their own right. They were all present at the trial and manifested considerable regard for the prisoner and great hatred for each other. The prisoner greeted each of them with smiles which were returned. The marriage of the prisoner with each of the women was clearly proved. In fact it was acknowledged by the prisoner's counsel. The plea of not guilty was entered to the indictment. The lower who represented the accused stated that the defence was simply insanity. His client had been regarded as an imbecile or lunatic since boyhood. His lunacy had been of harmless character, and he had been permitted to travel considerably without a companion He had, however, been at different times under treatment in four lunatic asylums in his own country and on the continent. When out of an asylum he would travel about and make acquaintances. It appeared that he could make love successfully. It was only recently known to his relatives that he was married to even one woman. The family physician was examined, and testified that the accused had been regarded since childhood as a person of weak and unsound mind. Men who were nor physicians recognized the fact. The doctot had treated the accused for many yeasr, and recommended placing him in private lunatic asylums. The prosecution accepted the plea, and the judge directed to find the prisoner insane which they did, It was ordered that he be confined in an insane asylum during the will of the lord lieutenant.

During the examination the various wives showed great interest in the prisoner and each desired to take an affectionate farewell of him as he was led away. Each claimed him as her 'husband,' and two of them had a very lively set-to outside of the court-room. The case furnishes a curious comentary on the susceptiblity of woman's nature. Five women of good families and presumably of fair intelligence had married a person whom men not physicians had recognized as an imbecile and a lunatic. None of them appeared to have discovered, in the time that they had lived with him that he was of unsound mind. This goes to show that love is not only blind, but destitute of all other senses that aid in developing reason. That they loved him is shown by their hatred of their rivals. Each wife hated the four other wives for no other cause than they loved their husband. An educated Irishman is generally a very agreeable person, and may account for the ability of this one to win and hold so many hearts. Sergeant O'Brien, who represented the government at the trial, explained that, 'when men are afflicted, women are always ministering angels.' The women all smiled at the statement, but their smiles all turned to frowns as they looked at each others faces. If a man who is regarded as an imbecile and a lunatic by persons of his own sex is able to marry five women within a short time, it is difficult to estimate how many a person of sound mind, ready wit, and agreeable manners might captivate in the same period.

NO EARS AND LISTENED WITH HIS MOUTH.

ATHENS, N. Y., July 25.—Ezekiel Eads, who died recently in this county, aged 65 years, was born without ears, and had no apertures where his ears should have been. He was able, however, to gather sound through his mouth. When addressed he opened his mouth and could hear conversation that was carried on in an ordinary tone. His hair was black at birth, but was interspersed with oddly-shaped gray spots, some of them resembling diminutive human hands and ears. These singular markings never changed, and his black hair never became gray. Eads left fourteen living children. The eldest, 45 years old, has hair as black as jet, and not a gray hair in his head. The youngest, aged 13, is as gray as a man of 70.

"ROUGH ON PAIN."

Cures colic, cramps, diarrhœa; externally for aches, pains, sprains, headache, neuralgia, and rheumatism. For man or beast. 20 and 50s.

SAVED FROM A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Unto May I had spent at least five hundred dollars in treatment by many of the best medical men without benefit. My mouth became badly ulcerated, sores breaking out on my neck and legs. I also suffered excruciatingly with Rheumatism, grew very despondent, and my best friends advised me that the icy hand of death was fast approaching. I caught at Shaker Blood Syrup like drowning man catches at a straw. After taking two bottles I could feel the change for the better. The sores began to discharge freely, and Rheumatism to abate. When I had taken six bottles every sore had healed and my skin began to assume a natural appearance. I persisted until I had taken twelve, and there is not a symptom of the disease remaining, and I feel as well as I ever did. I have gained twenty-one pounds in flesh, and my friends wonder at my improved condition. I have recommended it to many, and in every instance with complete success. I believe that Shaker Blood Syrup has saved me from a horrible death.

T. S. Cannon, South Boston Mass.

In 1878 I was the victim of terrible Blood Poison, and after being treated by three physicians was confined to my bed, not able to raise my hand to my head, spiting up clots of blood and reduced in weight from one hundred and eighty-five to one hundred and thirty pounds. I then began the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, and in less than three months I was entirely well, weighing one hundred and ninety-six pounds, and have never had a symptom of the disease since. If it had not been for Shaker Syrup I believe I would have been in my grave.

Chas, Berger, Hoboken, N.J,

THE HON J. LYMAN BULKLEY, M.D. of New York, says: "I have used Dr. WHEELER'S Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisya largely in my practice for two years and in my judgement there is no preparation can compare with it, With feeble anæmic women, of whom we have so many, and in cases convalesing from prostrating diseases I should hardly know how to get along without it. In DYSPEPSIA it acts like a charm—in fact in any of the long list of diseases it is THE remedy.

THE DAILY ONTARIO.

WEST ONTARIO.

Notwithstanding the efforts of our enemies to create divisions in the ranks of the Reformers of West Ontario, Mr. J. D. Edgar, ex-M.P., has received the unanimous nomination of a full convention. Mr. Blake, as leader of the party has an interest in every constituency in the country, and the following letter written by him speaks for itself. The result shows the loyalty of the party to their chief and their confidence in his judgment.

Toronto, July 2nd, 1884.

Dear Sir,—I have the pleasure of acknowledging the receipt of your letter of 30th June. The vacancy in West Ontario has been occasioned by the acceptance of Mr. Wheler of an office of emolument which renders it necessary for him to resign his seat. It will be for the Reformers of West Ontario to choose the candidate. I have not the right to dictate to them, and my only anxiety is that the best choice may be made in the interest of the whole Liberal party in Canada. To those who have done me the honor of consulting me on the subject. I have replied that I have no hesitation in saying that they can render to the party and its unworthy standard bearer, great and signal service by electing to Parliament Mr. J. D. Edgar, of whose service we are urgently in need during the period between this time and the next election, in order to complete the party organization and parliamentary arrangements which are essential to a vigorous and I hope successful struggle at the polls. Trusting that this suggestion will be received in the spirit in which it is made, and with every good wish for the cause and yourself personally,

I am, faithfully yours,
Edward Blake.

Joseph Gould, Esq., Uxbridge.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. Blaine like our own Sir John does not believe in Civil Service Reform.

The courts proved that Mr. Fauquier obtained his seat in Muskoka by fraud, and not only unseated him but disqualified him for seven years. Now, when the Tory bribery brigade has been disorganized, the two chiefs keeping out of the way of the Royal Commission, the electors of Muskoka are left free to vote for the best men and best party. Not that efforts at bribery in behalf of the Tory candidate ceased altogether, but the evil effects were minimized. The consequence was seen on Wednesday in the return of Mr. Dill, the Reform candidate, as member for Muskoka. Both Algoma and Muskoka are reform constituences.

BLOWN UP WITH POWDER.

FORCIBLE WAY OF SUPPRESSING THE SOCIAL EVIL IN OHIO.

Buffalo, July 25.—A Salina, Ohio, despatch says:—About one o'clock yesterday morning a tremendous explosion startled the sleeping inhabitants of this town, and in less than five minutes the streets were full of people enquiring into the cause. It was soon ascertained that one of the two houses of ill fame in the town had been blown up. A committee of masked law-abiding citizens had emptied the house of its inmates, and had blown it up with giant powder. From there they proceeded to the house of a notorious woman named Daisy Williams, whom they called out. In spite of her cries, curses, and entreaties, they tarred and feathered her and gave her four hours to leave town. She followed their advice promptly. David West the owner of the demolished house, identified some of the masked regulators and threatened to prosecute all connected with the affair. The citizens will not be deterred, however, in their efforts to cleanse the town of disorderly places.

SIR LEONARD TILLEY.

Toronto, July 25.—To-day's Globe has the following:—It is again rumored that Sir L. Tilley, who prolonged his stay in Europe porbably for the benefit of his health, which we are sorry to believe is impaired, intends to retire from Parliamentary life as soon as the Lieutenant-Governorship of New Brunswick becomes vacant. His friends must regret that he did not retire when the so-called National Policy seemed to be a success because the times were good.

KILLED BY HER BOARDER.

Port Chester, July 25.—Margaretta Blond, aged 46 years, formerly of Denmark, who keeps a boarding house in East Port Chester, was accidentally shot and instantly killed to-day by Sam Peterson, a boarder. The gun with which the deed was done was got only a few minutes before by her son, a lad aged 13 years, to scare away some boys who were stealing apples from the yard. The lad took the gun into the room where his mother was and laid it on a table. A few minutes later Peterson came in, and seeing the gun picked it up, being warned, however, that it was loaded. An instant later the gun was discharged, and Mrs. Blond lay a corpse on the floor. Constable Lolz, who lives near by, immediately arrested Peterson.

STORY OF CHARLEY ROSS.

History of the Great Abduction and the Search.

A FATHER'S TERRIBLE ORDEAL.

The Sacrifice which Purchased Childhood's Safety.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Philadelphia, July 19.—I stood for a long time before a picture yesterday, the life sized portrait of a lovely, laughing child. The face was that of a boy of four years, fair and dimpled with a little rosy mouth just made for kissing, large, clear brown eyes, through which a happy little soul shone brightly, and soft, flaxen curls shading a broad white brow, and falling about a round, white neck.

'That is Charley, my little Charley,' said the master of the house sadly, and, looking from his careworn nervous face to the cherub vision on the wall. For the first time an understanding of the tragedy of Charley Ross dawned upon me, and for the benefit of the new generation and those to whom the tiny hero of a mournful tale has been but a newspaper myth, I am going to take up the freshest threads of a well worn story, as related to me by Mr. Ross in view of the green lane where his little son was stolen from him.

The house itself is situated at the end of a broad and beautiful thoroughfare in Germantown, called East Washington lane. On both sides of it are handsome, substantial mansions of grey granite, such as Pennsylvanians love, and built far back from the road in the midst of spreading lawns, shaded by fine trees and sprinkled with beds of gay flowers. More peaceful and beautiful surroundings one could hardly find.

THE TWO MEN.

Sitting on the front veranda, I remarked how thoroughly the great hedge of fir trees at the foot of the lawn cut off the view of the street.

'Yes,' said Mr. Ross, 'too thoroughly, for it helped the wretches who stole my children to escape with them. Ten years ago the first of July,' he continued, 'my little Charley, just four years old, and still in petticoats, was playing in the road with his brother Walter, two years older than himself. While they were frolicking about two men came along in a wagon drawn by one horse. It seems they had seen the children before and given them candy. That day they invited the boys to get in for a little ride, promising them firecrackers and candy. They, fearing nothing, complied and were seen, as we found later, by some of the neighbors.

'When I got home at 6 o'clock to tea, Mrs. Ross and my eldest daughter being at Atlantic City for their health, the children had not returned. The neighborhood was scoured in vain, and at 8 o'clock on my way to the Central Offices to telegraph the police stations, we met Walter returning home with Mr. Peacock, a friend of the family, who had found him crying bitterly on a street corner in the northern part of Philadelphia, just seven miles from home.

'The boy was nearly paralyzed with fright, but managed to relate how these men promised to take them to 'Aunt Susie's' to buy sweets and firecrackers; that they had lifted him out of the wagon and sent him into a shop to get them, and when he came out they had disappeared with Charley. The police thought the men were on a drunken frolic, and when sobered would be alarmed at what they had done and turn him adrift.

'The theory proved false. On the 3rd of July we advertised for him with a reward and next day we received an annoymous letter in disguised writing, the first of a series of twenty-three, which said the child was safe but that no living power could discover him, and his father would have to pay a big cent to get him back. The next letter demanded a ransom of $20,000, from which sum the kidnappers never abated a jot, with the alternative of putting the child to death.'

It is impossible in a letter to describe the methods used for the recovery of the child and the capture of his jailers, who demanded that the money should be paid in advance of the return of the boy. While negotiations were pending 70,000 photographs of little Charley were distributed throughout the land, and tons of posters, handbills and lithographs were sown broadcast. The citizens of Philadelphia offered a reward of $20,000 for the kidnappers, of which reward the police volunteered to claim no part and other large sums were offered from public and private sources, while the pressure put on Mr. Ross not to jeopardize the safety of every child in the land by paying the ransom was tremendous.

The police force and detective bureaus of the whole country engaged in the search and in Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey every river boat and sloop, every outhouse, stable and place of ill repute, every hotel and lodging house, tramp quarter, burglar's haunt, barn, mill, ferry, and deserted hut, was searched and every building, private and public in Philadelphia gone through. The Post Office and all the letter boxes were watched; detectives watched every train that left or entered the city. Human ingenuity wore itself threadbare in attempts to recover the stolen boy.

Fraud, too, found a festival in this new form of domestic calamity, and Mr. Ross received thousands of letters from spiritualists, clairvoyants and mediums, and even from blackmailers of all sorts, including convicts in gaol and murderers awaiting their doom, professing knowledge of the abductors.

ANONYMOUS LETTERS.

Then came a host of these vile creations called anonymous letters, always the work, as Superintendent Walling says, 'of creatures who have all the willingness but not the courage to commit murder.' These letters were to the police, suggesting that Mr Ross stole his own child; that if his fine gardens were dug up its bones would be discovered; that the child was not Mrs. Ross', &c. One newspaper boldly printed an article embodying these suggestions, was sued for libel, severely reprimanded by the Court and obliged to pay heavy damages.

The uproar the country was in over this case, and the way man, woman and child turned detective, thoroughly alarmed the kidnappers, and they deserted plan after plan proposed to Mr. Ross for the exchange, so afraid were they of being entrapped. In the history of civilization there has never been a crime like this, nor one that that as thoroughly, baffled detectives.

One plan proposed by the abductors, and which involved almost fatal consequences to Mr. Ross, was that he should put the money in a valise, start from Philadelphia at night, go on to New York and thence to Albany, riding the entire distance on the platform of the rear car, and the instant he saw a torch held by a man waving a handkerchief he was to throw the valise on the track, with the warning that if the train was stopped the child's throat would be cut.

Mr. Ross went through this frightful ordeal standing on his feet the entire distance, every nerve on an intense strain, with the fear of missing the signal, which was looked for in vain. His own discription of this heart rending journey is thrilling but, coming after months of mental agony and over fatigue, it terminated in a severe illness, which decided his wife and family to run the risk of paying the ransom in advance, on the faint hope that the boy would be returned; but although all their directions were followed, the child thieves, on whose track the police now were, failed to appear, and a lull ensued for several weeks.

Then the public were electrified at hearing that two burglars had been killed while robbing a house at Bag Ridge, that one, Mosher, died instantly, and that his comrade, Douglass, lived only long enough to confess the stealing of Charley Ross, and to solemnly swear that no one but the dead man knew his whereabouts, and so it is to-day that the fate of that little sunny faced, golden haired boy is still wrapped in a dark mystery. The safety of

has been purchased, it seems too sadly true, by the life of one, though the parents of that one still fondly cling to the hope that their son will some day appear among them. 'The hue and cry that rang through this great republic,' said Mr. Ross, 'strangled this species of crime in its birth. No one dreamed before what a hold a child of four years had on the heart of a nation, and though at the time my child was stolen there was no law by which his kidnappers could be punished. This and a number of other States have since then made the crime of child stealing, for the purpose of extortion, punishable by twenty five years of solitary imprisonment, with hard labor and a fine of $15,000.

'I have,' continued Mr. Ross 'examined personally into over seven hundred cases of boys supposed to be my son since his disappearance; have travelled thousands of miles in pursuit of him, and spent over $60,000 in trying to trace him in vain. In the first two years alone over three hundred children, scattered from Maine to San Francisco, and even in England, Scotland, Cuba, Nova Scotia and Canada were supposed to be my child from the resemblance to his pictures or the mystery surrounding them. I have often thought of the extraordinary number, if girls are included, of children about whose existence and surroundings there is something suspicious.'

'Has this hunt for Charlie ever resulted in the return of any lost children to their parents?'

'Yes, of a number; for, though mine was the first case on which a ransom had been put, other children have been stolen by tramps to beg for them, and even in some cases taken for persona revenge.'

LITTLE FRAUDS.

'Yes,' continued Mr. Ross in reply to a question, 'dozens of children have looked me in the face and said their name was Charley Ross. In fact, the name has become the synonyme of a lost child, and it is frequently given to children in poorhouses and asylums. Hardly a week passes without a letter or a clue of some sort being sent to me now, and, of course, the claimants are frequent. Why, a fortnight ago a little tramp calling himself Charley Ross looked me right in the eye and said he remembered me singing him to sleep with Moody & Sankey hymns. I never sang a tune in my life.'

'Do you believe your son is living now.'

'I do not know what to believe any more than you do; but until I know he is dead his mother and I shall watch for his coming,' concluded Mr. Ross, with emotion.

Six other lovely children played about the Ross homestead, one of them a fairy girl bearing a striking likeliness of her lost brother, but as I walked back through the shady lanes to the station I was struck by the fact that though ten summers had fled since the cruel robbery, not a child could be seen frolicking on the highways.

A SEARCH WARRANT.

If there is any lurking taint of scrofula in the system, Burdock Blood Bitters are warranted to search it out.

HONEST AND TRUE.

This is eminently the case with Polson's Nerviline, the great pain cure. It is an honest remedy, for it contains the most powerful, the purest, and most certain pain subduing remedies known to medical science. It is honest, for it does all it claims to do. It is honest because it is the best in the world. It only costs 10 or 25 cents to try it, and you can buy a bottle at any drug store. Nerviline cures toothache, neuralgia, pain in the back and side. All pains are promptly relieved by Polson's Nerviline.

A misstep will often make a cripple for life. A bottle of Henry & Johnson's Arnica and Oil Liniment at hand, will not prevent the misstep, but used immediately it will save being a cripple.

CHOLERA
—IS—
COMING!

The countries where Cholera prevails, as in India, China and Africa, Pain-Killer is considered the surest and safest of all known remedies, and natives place the most perfect reliance in it

Read the following extract from the letter of a missionary in China:—

Dear Sirs—I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain-Killer you had the goodness to send me last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. The Cholera appeared here soon after we received it. We resorted at once to the PAIN-KILLER, using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain-Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered.

Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours, J. M. JOHNSON,
Missionary to Swatow, China.

Beware of Counterfeits and Imitations. Ask for the genuine Perry Davis' Pain-Killer and take no other.

THE CHOLERA.

PARIS, July 24.—The official report gives the number of deaths from cholera at Marseilles during the past 24 hours as 44 and at Toulon as 32. An official report places the number of deaths in Marseilles at 71. The convent at Marseilles has been compelled to close its doors, and the nuns to the number of 80 have fled. The Lady Superior has issued an appeal for prayers in their behalf that they be preserved from the worldly tempter. Twenty thousand persons have fled from Arles. There is difficulty in procuring enough coffins in which to promptly inter the dead.

It is officially announced that the cholera epidemic in Marseilles and Toulon is decreasing.

THE FIRE BRIGADE.

Ald. Cooper Makes Serious Complaints Regarding it.

The Fire Committee met last night, Ald. Mason, Chairman. An account of $3.50 from Hannah & Reeves for some leather straps for No. 2, was passed, also an item of $1 75 from Fuller Bros. J. Valequette's account for wool, $42, was presented and endorsed. The chairman reported that the chief engineer and himself had examined the western bank of the river to ascertain suitable points for fire stands. He proposed to place one in the excavation below Ald. Pringle's mill, another one near Mr. James Cumming's new brick house, one at Flint & Holton's mill, and in his opinion a bridge could be built over the mill-race at Cooper's mill to afford a better stand for the steamers than they had at the late fire there. The committee deferred taking any action, awaiting the report of chief engineer Campbell. Ald. Cooper complained to the committee that an injustice was done him on the night of his fire, and he asked for an investigation. He said No. 2 steamer was on hand several minutes before the fire began burning the main building and with proper activity on the part of the firemen he was sure the property could have been saved. Had the citizens present anticipated the annoying delay which occurred Mr. Cooper thought they could have put out the fire with pails of water, but in waiting for the firemen the fire got possession of the mill and he was a loser to the tune of about $10,000. He felt warm on this subject because he had been a heavy sufferer, but there was no telling who would be the next. After the hose was full of water he said it was found that the nozzle was stopped up with gravel and this caused a further delay. It was to him a strange coincidence that this nozzle should be unfit for service when it had just been brought from the station. But the facts were as he reported them, and he offered to bring at least twenty witnesses who would corroborate his testimony. As for the saw dust which was reported to be lying in the bottom of the mill race, on the night of the fire, he said it could not be found there, but on the contrary that night there were two feet of water for a suction.

The Chairman said he had requested the Chief Engineer to furnish him with a bona fide list of the members of each company, and until this was done he thought it would be well to allow Ald. Cooper's motion to stand. This was agreed to.

The Chairman promised to obtain an estimate of the cost of building a water tank on Church Street in front of the central school.

EXCITING RUNAWAY.

Fanning's Trotter Dashes into a Fish Shop.

Walter Fanning's chestnut trotting horse ran away on Front Street this morning, causing quite an excitement for a time, but very little damage was done. The horse became frightened at a milk wagon, and Fanning standing on the ground, endeavored to drive the gelding up to the rig, but the horse stubbornly refused, and turning swiftly two or three times threw the driver off his feet and darted into Levi Taylor's fish store. An elderly lady on the sidewalk had a very narrow escape from being killed. The skeleton wagon remained at the door but the horse dashed through the shop where Mrs. Geo Sherry was standing and Mr. Taylor. The lady luckily escaped any injury by jumping on to a box in the corner before the horse reached her. The animal was led out again.

AN EQUINE EVENT.

A Horse Trade and a Policeman's Timely Interference.

Patrick O'Hara, carter, and a yeoman named Davis, from Ameliasburg, traded horses yesterday afternoon the west side of the river. Davis' horse was in the stable but he represented him to be a good, sound animal and on the strength of this O'Hara traded receiving $1.50 to boot. Davis, with his new horse drove off, but O'Hara soon discovered he had been bitten. The horse in the stable was brought out and was found too lame to walk. O'Hara started up street for his man and overtook him at Campbell Street, where a lively scene ensued over the disputed equine, each party claiming the animal. A large crowd gathered around and at one time there was every prospect of a serious row, but Sergt. Downs appeared on the spot in the nick of time and took the horse to the stables at the Queen's Hotel, leaving the men to settle the ownership of the animal by litigation. Later in the evening O'Hara recovered his horse but Davis is determined to "law it out."

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "[illegible] Cedar St., New York, Oct. 28, 1882. "Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly, W. M. PHILLIPS."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the SARSAPARILLA in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1882. Yours gratefully,

HIRAM PHILLIPS."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blotches, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

LOVE'S LOTTERY

OR,

THE RIVAL SISTERS.

All was still, and Loring again spoke, saying—'Hear me. The lady whom you have so cowardly insulted is the daughter of an Englishman, who has long honored our country by residing among us who has died among us, whose bones now rest in our land. To some here he can be no stranger. I refer to the late Colonel Beauchamp of Longueville. Even,' he continued, his tone rising, 'were this lady what you have dared to suppose your conduct is equally as inexcusable, as brutal. Before God all are alike! Why is it otherwise with man?—are they better wiser than God? I command respect for this lady, whose champion I here constitute myself. Any man who again insults me, Stuart Loring. I take this affair upon myself, and am ready to answer one and all, There is my address.'

Concluding, he drew from his pocket some dozen visiting cards and flung them broad cast into the arena beneath, as a knight of old might have cast down his gauntlet.

There was silence.

How would the tide turn?

For, or against them?

For.

The pause was broken by a deafening roar of applause.

The quick ear' however, of the American detected murmurs of dissatisfaction blended with it.

The retreat must, he saw, be made at once.

If certainly he had created the turmoil, he felt he had no power to stem it,

'Miss Beauchamp,' he said quietly, 'you have behaved like a heroine; like a brave woman. To remain longer would be a foolish exaggeration of courage; it would be bravado. Pray take my arm and let me conduct you to your carriage.'

There was that in the calm demeanor of the speaker, which dominated even the Creole.

She bowed to his will—h's to whom she felt she owed so much.

Taking his arm they quitted the box, Mr. Flombee following with Pauline.

'How can I thank you, Mr. Loring,' murmured Juliette, 'for the noble and generous service you have rendered me this night.'

'I have only acted, as I trust any man with a speck of gentlemanly feeling in his nature would have acted, Miss Beauchamp,' he rejoined, politely, a smile hovering over his lips. 'Still if you hold me entitled to your gratitude, I ask, merely as a reward, your friendship, and kind opinion. Ah,' he added, quickly, 'how pale you are; this has been too much for you this canaille's insult, You are ill.'

He had hardly time to extend his hand before the Creole sank insensible upon his shoulder.

'Perhaps it is better so,' he reflected, a thrill of exquisit rapture passing through him, as arising her with ease, holding her clasped to his heart, having made a sign to Mr. Folmsbee to follow quickly, he hurried from the theatre.

As he had expected, a large crowd was waiting, and joining those pressing upon him, he would have found it difficult to have penetrated it, had not the police authorities, summoned by the terrified manager instantly opportunely arrived.

By their aid he placed Juliette in the carriage waiting, and saw Mr. Flomsbee and Pauline join her.

'Will you not come with us, sir? There is plenty of room. Pray do,' asked the no longer chirrupy old gentleman.

'Thanks, no, my hotel is close by; I would prefer to walk, and not inconvenience the ladies. You had better not delay, Good night.'

He was about to close the door, when Pauline making a great effort extended her little hand,

'Thank you, thank you very much, Mr. Loring,' she murmured tremulously; 'you have saved my sister—have saved us.'

'In those words I am more than rewarded,' he murmured as he touched his to the gloved fingers.

The young girl shuddered, and drew back.

The American closed the door and the carriage rolled off.

Making his way, on its disappearance, to to the other side of the street, Stuart Loring waited in the shadow.

In less than three minutes a man joined him.

It was Peter Grum.

'You have done your work excellently to-night,' said the American; 'nothing could have gone better.'

'Yes, it was easy enough to raise the storm, but not so easy to allay it. Didn't you hear the revolvers?'

'I fancied I heard the report of one or two,' was the cool rejoinder; 'it does not signify. Now come with me to the hotel. The Misses Beauchamp, after the scene of to-night, will not delay their departure from New Orleans to-morrow, and I must make suitable arrangements.'

'And you think this evening has advanced your plans?'

IMPORTANT TO RUPTURED PERSONS

The Excelsior Rupture Treatment was introduced to the American people several years ago in such a manner as to completely secure the confidence of the whole nation. The mode of introduction was by furnishing the remedy to those afflicted with Hernia in any of its various forms and collecting no pay until a permanent cure was effected. In this way the treatment gained world wide reputation on its own merits, never failing to cure any reducible Hernia. The Company has at the solicitation of thousands placed the remedy on sale by all druggists both wholesale and retail, in the United States, Canada and England. In [this] way bringing it within the reach of all classes at a trifling cost compared with the benefit which are derived from the use of the treatment. Ask your druggist for a free book on rupture or send 6 cts. for one to the Excelsior Rupture Cure M'f'g Co., Ogdensburg, N. Y.

Vital Questions.!

Ask the most eminent physician

Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural childlike refreshing sleep always?

And they will tell you unhesitatingly
"Some form of Hop ! ! !"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians:
"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, debetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—

And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu !"

Ask the same physicians

"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.." and they will tell you:

Mandrake! or Dandelion !"

Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable.

And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is

Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use

CHAPTER II.

"Patients
'Almost dead or nearly dying"

For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs called consumption, have been cured.

Women have gone nearly crazy ! ! ! !

From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.

People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic or suffering from scrofula.

Erysipelas!

"Saltrheum, blood poisoning dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact almost all diseases frail"

Nature is heir to

Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.

None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile poisonous stuff with 'Hop,' or 'Hops' in their name.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co's. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

"Twenty-four years experience," says an eminent Physician, convinces me] that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the Generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box, 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas. Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See adv't in another column

MUSIC IN WORSHIP.

Characteristics of Church Singing—Should be Devotional.

Dr. Talmage's text last Sunday was:—"And they had two hundred, forty and five singing men and singing women."—Neh. 7; 67.

The best music has been rendered under trouble. The first that I know anything of was given by Paul and Silas when they sang praises to God and the prisoners heard them. The Scotch Covenanters, hounded by the dogs of persecution, sang the psalms of David with more spirit than they have ever since been rendered. The captives in the text had music left to them, and I declare that if they could find, amid all their trials, two hundred and forty and five singing men and singing women, then in this day of Gospel sunlight and free from all persecution there ought to be a great multitude of men and women willing to sing the praises of God. All our churches need arousal on this subject. Those who can sing must throw their souls into the exercise, and those who cannot sing must learn how, and it shall be heart to heart, voice to voice, hymn to hymn, anthem to anthem and the music shall swell jubilant with thanksgiving and tremulous with pardon. Have you ever noticed the construction of the human throat as indicative of what God means us to do with it? In only an ordinary throat and lungs there are fourteen direct muscles that can produce a very great variety of sounds. What does that mean? It means that you should sing! Do you suppose that God, who gives us such a musical instrument as that intends us to keep it shut? Suppose some great tyrant should get possession of the musical instruments of the world—you would call such a man as that a monster; and yet you are more wicked, if, with the human voice, a musical instrument of more wonderful adaptation than all the musical instruments that man ever created, you shut in against the praise of God.

NATURE'S MUSIC.

Music seems to have been born in the soul of the natural world. The omnipotent voice with which God commanded the world into being seems to linger yet with its majesty and sweetness, and you hear it in the grainfield, in the swoop of the wind amid the mountain fastnesses, in the canary's warble and the thunder shock, in the brook's tinkle and the ocean's psalm. There are soft cadences in nature, and loud notes, some of which we cannot bear at all and others that are so terrific that we cannot appreciate them. My chief interest is in

THE MUSIC OF THE BIBLE.

The Bible, like a harp with innumerable strings, swept by the fingers of inspiration trembles with it. So far back as the fourth chapter of Genesis you find the first organist and harper—Jubal. So far back as the thirty first chapter of Genesis you find the first choir. All up and down the Bible you find sacred music music—at weddings at inaugurations, at the treading of the winepress. The Hebrews understood how to make musical signs above the musical text. When the Jews came from their distant home to the great festals at Jerusalem they brought harp and timbrel, and trumpet and poured along the great Judaean highways a river of harmony, until in and around the temple the wealth of a nation's song and gladness had accumulated. In our day day we have a division of labor in music, and we have one man to make the hymn, another man to make the tune, another man to play it on the piano, and another man to sing it. Not so in Bible times. Miram, the sister of Moses, after the passage of the Red Sea, composed a doxology, set it to music, clapped it on the cymbal, and then sang it. David the psalmist was at the same time poet, musical composer, harpist and singer and the majority of his rythm goes tingling through all ages. There were in Bible time stringed instruments—a harp of three strings played by fret and bow; a harp of ten strings responding only to the fingers of the performer. Then there was the crooked trumpet, fashioned out of the horn of the ox or the ram. Then there were the sistrom and cymbals, clapped in the dance or beaten in the march. There were four thousand Levites, the best men of the country, whose only business it was to look after the music of the temple. These four thousand Levites were divided into two classes and officiated on different days. Can you imagine the harmony when these white robed Levites, before the symbols of God's presence, and by the smoking altars and the candlesticks that sprang upward and branched out like trees of gold and under the wings of the cherubim, chanted the one hundred and thirty-six psalm of David? You know how it was done. You know how it was done. One part of that great choir stood up and chanted, 'Oh! give thanks unto the Lord for He is good! Then the other part of the choir standin in some other part of the temple, would come in with the response: 'For His mercy endureth forever.' Then the first part would take up the song again, and say: 'Unto him who only doeth great wonders.' the other part of the choir would say with overwhelming response, 'For his mercy endureth forever.' until in the latter part of the song, the music floating backward and forward, harmony grappling with harmony. every trumpet sounding, every bosom heaving, one part of this great white robed choir would leave the athem, 'Oh, I give thanks unto the God of heaven,' and the other part of the Levite choir would would come in with the response: 'for his mercy induretb forever.' But I am glad to know that all through the ages there has been great attention paid to sacred music. Ambrosius, Augustine, Gregory the Great, Charlemagne, gave it their mighty influence, and in our day is throwing itself on the altars of God. Handel, and Mozart, and Bach, and Durante, and Wolfe, and scores of other men and women have given the best part of their genius to Church music. A truth in words is not half so mighty as a truth in song. Luther's sermons have been forgotten, but the 'Judgement Hymn' he composed is yet resounding through Christendom. I congratulate the world and the Church on the advancement made in this art—the Edinborough societies for the improvement of music the Swiss singing societies, the Exeter Hall concerts, the triennial musical convocation at Dusseldorf Germany, and Birmingham, England, the conservatories of music at Munich, and the Mozart societies of this country; and Lipsic, the Mandlessohn [illegible] the Harmonic society of this country, the seasons of music in New York, Brooklyn, Boston, Charlestown, New Orleans, Chicago, and every city which has any enterprise. Now, my friends, how are we to decide what is appropriate, especially for church music? There may be a great many differences of opinion. In some of the churches they prefer a trained choir; in others, the old style precentor. In some places they prefer the melodeon, the harp, the cornet, the organ; in other places they think these things are the invention of the devil. Some would have a musical instrument played so loud you cannot stand it, and others would played so soft that you cannot hear it. Some think a musical instrument should be played only in the interestics of worship, and then with indescribable softness; while others are not satisfied unless there be startling contrasts and stattaco passages that make the audience jump, with great eyes and hair on end, as from a vision of the Witch of Endor. But while there may be great varieties of opinion in regard to music, it seems to me that the general spirit of the Word of God indicates what ought to be the great

THE BEST MUSICAL GENIUS

CHARACTERISTICS OF CHURCH MUSIC.

And I remark, in the first place, a prominent characteristic ought to be adaptiveness to devotion. Music that may be appropriate for a concert hall, or the opera house, or the drawing room may be shocking in church. Glees, madrigals, ballads, may be as innocent as psalms in their places. But Church music has only one design, and that is devotion, and that which comes with the toss, the song, and the display of an opera house is a hindrance to the worship. From such performances we go away saying, 'What splendid execution! Did you ever hear such a soprano? Which of those solos did you like the better?' When, if we had been rightly wrought upon, we would have gone away saying, 'Oh! how my soul was lifted up in the presence of God while they were singing that first hymn! I never had such rapturous views of Jesus Christ as my Saviour as when they were singing that last doxology.' My friends, there is an everlasting distinction between music as an art and music as a help to devotion. Though a Schumann composed it, though a Mozart played it, though a Sontag sang it, away with it if it does not make the [illegible] and honor Christ. Why should we rob the programs of worldly gayety when we have so many appropriate songs and tunes composed in our own day, as well as that magnificent inheritance of Church psalmody which has come down fragrant with the devotions of other generations—tunes no more worn out than they were when our great grandfathers climbed up on them from the church pew to glory? I remark also that correctness ought to be a characteristic of Church music. While we all ought to take part in this service, with perhaps a few exceptions, we ought at the same time to culture ourselves in this sacred art. God loves harmony, and we ought to love it. There is no devotion in a howl or yelp. In this day, when there are so many opportunities of high culture in this sacred art, I declare that [illegible] are guilty of neglect who let their sons and daughters grow up knowing nothing about music. In some of the European cathedrals the choir assembles every morning and every afternoon of every day the whole year to perfect themselves in this art, and shall we begrudge the half hour we spend Friday nights the rehearsal of sacred song for the Sabbath? Another characteristic must be spirit and life. Music ought to rush from the audience like the water from a rock—clear, bright, sparkling. If all the other part of the church service is dull, do not have the music dull. With so many thrilling things to sing about, away with all drawling and stupidity. There is nothing that makes me so nervous as to sit in a pulpit and look off on an audience with their eyes three fourths closed, and their lips almost shut, mumbling the praise of God. During my recent absence I preached to an audience of two or three thousand people, and all the music they made together did not equal one skylight! People do not sleep at a coronation; do not let us sleep when we come to a Saviour's coronation. Again I remark Church music

MUST BE CONGREGATIONAL.

This opportunity must be brought down within the range of the whole audience. A song that the worshippers cannot sing is of no more use to them than a sermon in Choctaw. What an easy kind of a church it must be where the minister does all the preaching, and the elders all the praying, and the choir all the singing! There are but very few churches where there are 'two hundred and forty and five singing men and singing women.' In some churches it is almost considered a disturbance if a man let out his voice to full compass, and the people get up on tiptoe and look over between the spring hats, and what that man is making all the noise about. I want to rouse you to a unanimity in Christian song that has never yet been exhibited. Come, now! clear your throats and get ready for this duty, or you will never hear the end of this. I never shall forget hearing a Frenchman sing the 'Marseillaise' on the Champs Elysees, Paris, just before the battle of Sedan in 1870. I never saw such enthusiasm before or since. As he sang that national air, oh! how the Frenchman shouted! Have you ever in an English assemblage heard a band play 'God Save the Queen?' If you have, you know something about the enthusiasm of a national air. Now, I tell you that these songs we sing Sabbath by Sabbath are the national airs of Jesus Christ and of the kingdom of heaven, and if you do not learn to sing them here, how do you ever expect to sing the song of Moses and the Lamb? I should not be surprised at all if some of the best were made up of some of the best songs of earth. May God increase our reverence for Christian psalmondy and keep us from disgracing it by our indifference and frivolity. When Cromwell's army went into battle he stood at the head of them one day and gave out the long metre doxology to the tune of the 'Old Hundredth,' and that great host company by company, regiment by regiment, battalion by battalion, joined in the doxology:

ANTHEMS OF HEAVEN

> "Praise God from whom all blessings flow,
> Praise Him, all creatures here below;
> Praise Him above, ye heavenly host,
> Praise Father. Son and Holy Ghost."

And while they sang they marched, and while they marched they fought, and while they fought they got the victory. O men and women of Jesus Christ, let us go into all our conflicts singing the praises of God, and then, instead of falling back, as we often do, from defeat to defeat, we will be marching on from victory to victory.

'GLORIA IN EXCELSIS' is written over this organ, written over many organs. Would that in our appreciation of the goodness of God, and the mercy of Christ, and the grandeur of Heaven, we could have 'Gloria in Excelsis' written over all our souls. 'Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost; as it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen!'

SAVED FROM A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Unto May I had spent at least five hundred dollars in treatment by many of the best medical men without benefit. My mouth became badly ulcerated, sores breaking out on my neck and legs. I also suffered excruciatingly with Rheumatism, grew very despondent, and my best friends advised me that the icy hand of death was fast approaching. I caught at Shaker Blood Syrup like drowning man catches at a straw. After taking two bottles I could feel the change for the better. The sores began to discharge freely, and Rheumatism to abate. When I had taken six bottles every sore had healed and my skin began to assume a natural appearance. I persisted until I had taken twelve, and there is not a symptom of the disease remaining, and I feel as well as I ever did. I have gained twenty-one pounds in flesh, and my friends wonder at my improved condition. I have recommended it to many, and in every instance with complete success. I believe that Shaker Blood Syrup has saved me from a horrible death.

T. S. Cannon, South Boston Mass.

In 1878 I was the victim of terrible Blood Poison, and after being treated by three physicians was confined to my bed, not able to raise my hand to my head, spiting up clots of blood and reduced in weight from one hundred and eighty-five to one hundred and thirty pound. I then began the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, and in less than three months I was entirely well, weighing one hundred and ninety-six pounds, and have never had a symptom of the disease since. If it had not been for Shaker Syrup I believe I would have been in my grave.

Chas. Barger, Hoboken, N J,

THE HON J. LYMAN BULKLEY, M.D. of New York, says: "I have used Dr. WHEELER'S Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisya largely in my practice for two years and in my judgement there is no preparation can compare with it. With feeble anaemic women, of whom we have so many, and in cases convalescing from prostrating diseases, I should hardly know how to get along without it. In DYSPEPSIA it acts like a charm—in fact in any of the long list of diseases it is THE remedy.

THE DAILY ONTARIO.

OUR TERRITORIAL EXTENT.

If Sir John Macdonald had had his own way Ontario in area would have been smaller than Quebec or Manitoba, though in point of population alone this Province is nearly three quarters of a million ahead of Quebec. Now that Mr. Mowat has won for us our natural limits the Premier Province surpasses all the older Provinces in extent, and all the new ones except British Columbia.

The area of the Provinces and territories are now as follows:—

Province	sq miles	Population
Ontario	220 000	1 923 228
Quebec	188 000	1 359 027
New Brunswick	27 000	321 233
Nova Scotia	20 000	440 572
Manitoba	115 000	65 954
British Columbia	341 000	49 459
Prince Edward Island	2 000	108 891
Assiniboia	95 000
Saskatchewan	114 000
Alberta	100 000
Athabasca	122 000
Keewatin	260 000

The Province of Ontario has been laid under an everlasting debt of gratitude to the Mowat Ministry for their patriotic efforts to secure for the Province her territorial rights so that as regards area and resources, as in population, Ontario will be second to none in the Confederation.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

MR. MOWAT will get a great reception when he returns as the conquering hero. He has won the biggest case ever brought before a judicial tribunal.

* *

WITH a largely increased assessment, and no extraordinary expenditure estimated there is no reason why the rate of taxation in Belleville should be higher than 14 mills on the dollar.

* *

MR. J. GORDON MOWAT, of Toronto, has issued a pamphlet of 23 pages entitled "A Few Canadian Climates," which appears to be a paper read before the Canadian Institute last winter. What Mr. Mowat, alias Moses Oates, doesn't know about the climate isn't worth knowing.

* *

THOSE who are able to postpone their holiday taking till August are likely to get warm, fine weather. The evenings of July have been extremely cool just as they were last year. Even in Montreal, usually so hot, the thermometer is often in the sixties and even lower, and rain has fallen almost every day for a month back.

* *

THE introduction to the platform of the Independent Republicans applies with much force to Canada, governed as it has been for six years by force of gerrymander, bribery and intrigue. The introduction reads as follows:—

> The paramount issue of the Presidental election of this year is moral rather than political. It concerns the national honor and character and honesty of administration.

* *

LIEUT. GOVERNORS in embryo are beginning to pull the wires. Quebec's official head has, it is said, been given three months more at Spencerwood. Lieut. Governor Robinson's term expires next year. The name of Speaker Kirkpatrick is mentioned in connection with Government House, Toronto. He and his beautiful wife would make brilliant social leaders in Ontario's gay capital, but what would then become of Mr. Speaker's ambition to become Minister of Militia? Col. Kirkpatrick fancies he looks well in his scarlet uniform—and so he does.

* *

A LITERARY weekly journal published in Toronto ought, judging by the attention it always bestows on anything concerning the Maritime Provinces, to be published in Halifax. Mr. Stewart's articles in the new volume of the Encyclopædia Britannica on New Brunswick and Nova Scotia are lauded to the skies to the extent of a quarter of a column. The third Canadian article in the volume and its writer are contemptuously noticed by these literati of Ontario's capital in this fashion:—"The other article above indicated is 'Ontario,' the writer being Dr. Daniel Wilson, of Toronto. It occupies rather less than two pages, and might very well have been longer." So might the notice, Mr Critic.

OPPOSITION TO BLAINE.

The meeting of Independents opposed to Mr. Blaine and Gen. Logan was announced on Tuesday at the University Club Theatre, New York. An hour before the time fixed consultation was busily carried on. Among the prominent faces noticeable were those of Mr. Geo. William Curtis and Mr. Carl Schurz. The secretary's list showed that Massachusetts was more numerously represented than any other State except New York. There were a few from New Jersey and Connecticut, and some from more distant states. The hall was filled when the meeting was called to order. The National Temperance Society circulated a memorial to the conference asking it to take cognizance of the alcoholic liquor traffic, and requested that it would not endorse the saloon plank of the Democratic platform. Mr. Curtis called the conference to order and welcomed the delegates. He read the call for the conference, and when he reached that portion which related to Republicans "who will not vote for Blaine and Logan, he was interrupted by hearty applause. The secretary made a statement regarding letters received by the committee from various States, showing an extraordinary number of signers to the new declaration of independence, and said that to save the Republican party Mr. Blaine must be beaten. Mr. Claflin, of Illinois, said there was a strong Cleveland element among the Republicans in the West. Prof. Seeyle, of Amherst College, said he was not prepared to join the Democrats and favored a separate candidate. Mr. Carl Schurz said there was no intention to make a platform of the new party, but only to appeal for honest Government. Mr. Curtis read an address and was frequently interrupted by applause. When he finished the resolutions were adopted without a dissenting vote. Mr. Wm. Everett, of Massachusetts offered a resolution naming Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Hendricks, as the nominees of the conference, which was laid on the table and the meeting adjourned.

CHURCH SERVICES.

The only antidote (to dull sermons) so far as the church of England is concerned, is to make the services interesting and hearty. This ritualism does in its own way; and the progress of the movement may probably be ascribed quite as much to the desire of a more interesting and hearty service as to any belief in sacerdotal and sacramental doctrines. There is no reason why the English act of uniformity should be allowed, as it practically is, to govern the worship of the anglican church of Canada. Let the prayer book be retained, by all means; but why should not Canadian congregations be at liberty to use its treasures in the way in which each of them finds best suited to its needs? A short and well-selected service, with music, and singing would, in all probability attract large congregations. The Roman catholic church has an advantage in the moderate lenth of the ordinary mass and the separation of the sermon from the service, which another church might emulate without embracing any of her doctrines.—Prof. Goldwin Smith in the Week.

CHRISTINE NILSSON.

LONDON, July 24.—Christine Nilsson sang at a concert in the Royal Albert Hall yesterday evening. She was in brilliant voice, and the perfection of her singing created a furore among the large audience, which was a notable one in point of quality as well as of numbers. The Prince and Princess of Wales and the greater part of the leaders of society were there. The Prince presented the cantatrice with a superb bouquet in token of his satisfaction with her performance.

THE MUSKOKA ELECTION.

A special despatch to the ONTARIO yesterday, too late for publication that day, was as follows:—"Dills majority 117, with one place having forty voters to hear from."

A WOMAN SETS HERSELF ON FIRE.

NEW YORK July 26.—Ida Hunt, aged 30, who resided with a broker named Nomes in a boarding house on Clinton place, attempted to burn herself to death early yesterday morning. She bolted the door and set her clothing afire. The smoke awakened the inmates and the fire was extinguished.

BURGLARS BAG $30.

AMELIASBURG, July 26—Mr. Levi Peters living near Stafford's bridge was visited by burglars last night, and $6 in cash, a gold ring, and a silver watch were stolen. His total loss is about $30. Mr. Peters was not alarmed until after the thieves had left.

ARRIVAL OF ORPHANS.

The first detachment of children for the Hazel Brae Branch of Dr. Barnardo's home has arrived safely in Peterboro'. They numbered 130—all girls. Mr. and Mrs. Duff, Superintendent, and Miss Minnie Sanderson, Corresponding Secretary of the Home, accompanied the party.

HONEST AND TRUE.

This is eminently the case with Polson's NERVILINE, the great pain cure. It is an honest remedy, for it contains the most powerful, the purest, and most certain pain subduing remedies known to medical science. It is honest, for it does all it claims to do. It is honest because it is the best in the world. It only costs 10 or 25 cents to try it, and you can buy a bottle at any drug store. Nerviline cures toothache, neuralgia, pain in the back and side. All pains are promptly relieved by Polson's Nerviline.

A misstep will often make a cripple for life. A bottle of Henry & Johnson's Arnica and Oil Liniment at hand, will not prevent the misstep but used immediately it will save being a cripple.

The reason why, "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in th market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficent. For sale by all Druggists.

YOUNG LOVERS IN COURT.

A Father then Learns that his Daughter is Married.

CHARGED WITH ABDUCTION.

TORONTO, July 26.—Mr. W. N. Geare, mineral water manufacturer, of Adelaide street, was much distressed at the continued absence of his 18-year-old daughter, and his suspicions being aroused, he visited the police station and employed the sleuth hounds of the law. At a late hour she was discovered at the house of Frederick Rutland, near Seaton village, in company with his son, St. Claire Rutland, a man of 19, and who she claimed was her husband. A search warrant being produced the two Rutlands and the young woman were brought before a magistrate, who bound the men over in $300 each to appear before him last night on a charge of abduction. Miss Geare point-blank refused to return with her father, and reasserted that young Rutland was her lawful husband. Rev. Mr. McCollum was called and proved the marriage. This at once knocked the charge of abduction into a cocked hat, and the magistrate dismissed the case.

Geare was very much excited and several times did the magistrate threaten to commit him for contempt of court. Then Geare would turn around and tell the magistrate that he had done an illegal thing in letting his children go. 'I have lost a child this night,' he cried at the top of his voice. He next threatened to invoke the power of all the bishops and courts in the land to free his child from the villians, as he called them. After this he burst out: 'Did I not see the elder Rutland kiss my daughter three times in my own house.' 'That was only a father-in-law's kiss,' put in Mr. Bigelow.

SELECTED AND CONDENSED.

The gift of the Grand Duke of Sergius to his bride was a parure of daisies costing $100,000.

The dog, says the Boston Journal, is the only animal able to follow man as far and as high as he can go, but the finer breed of dogs cannot endure the conditions of a height of more than 12,500 feet.

An enormous ranch in Mexico has just been purchased for £200,000 by a syndicate of English and Scotch speculators, of whom Lord Tweedmouth is one. It extends over sixteen hundred square miles.

CHARGED WITH STABBING.

Samuel Mayze appeared at the police court this morning with a gash across his proboscis which he claimed was made by George Vanmeer with a knife. Both parties live in Tyendinaga. They attended a "bee" at Mr. Todd's and before night enraged in a quarrel, Mayze says Vanmeer stabbed him, but the latter repudiates this by stating that Mayze had a knife in his hand, and caused the cut on his own nose. The plaintiff was not ready to go one with the case, and it was enlarged until Monday, 4th August.

FOR THE LADIES.

LATEST ECHOES FROM THE WORLD OF FASHION AND FOLLY.

Owl feather fans are fashionable.

Marabouts, trim many visite mantlets.

Feather fans take precedence of all others.

Little girls' dresses are ungracefully short.

Glace silks are effectively trimmed with velvet.

Visite mantlets are worn by ladies of all ages.

Capes and pelerines are excessively fashionable.

Velvet is the leading material for millinery trimming at this time.

Cords and tassels again form parts of the decorations of dressy costumes.

Bustles as big as a small baloon deform the female form divine this spring.

Few flowers and many feathers are again worn on the same hat or bonnet.

Beige, white and black, are the colors most in demand in straw goods at present.

The Egyptian Fanchon has a flat top and flat sides, forming square corners at the back.

Pompons and aigrettes are seen on most hats and bonnets along with other trimmings.

Large moths, dragon flies and butterflies are the favorite motifs with Parisian women.

Bonnet strings are very wide and short forming a large bow with short ends under the chin.

Stiff and angular hats have also t entirely superseded the picturesque pokes and Danichefs.

The fashionable colors for ostrich feather fans are pale pink, shaded grey, buttercup yellow and white.

There is a revival in taste for black Chantilly lace, even entire dresses of it being worn on the other side.

Lace parasols, lined with colored surah, and decorated with flowers and bows of ribbon, appear on umbrella counters.

Feather borders and feather fringes appear on dressy silk and satin parasols. Guipure d'art and crochet are the laces for velvet and velveteen garments, when white or cream lace is used.

NIGHTMARE OF A GIRL'S EXISTENCE.

Strange what a horror girls have of becoming old maids. I have known of intelligent, refined young girls accept their first proposal, though they did not care an atom for their suitors, simply because they were afraid they would not obtain another chance.

WHITE AND BLACK FOR WEAR.

This combination is more than ever in favor. Black dresses of silk or wool material have almost invariably some white in the trimming. Either white lace (preferably Valenciennes) is used, or some relief of satin, moire, cashmere or pique, gives the required suggestion of freshness. Silks in figures, checks and blocks of black and white, are also in request for portions of dresses. Among materials for overdresses is a lovely cream-white soft ottoman silk with little powdery dots of white velvet.

SUMMER WRAPS.

Extreme diminutiveness is of one of the chief features of summer wraps, fashioned after the latest models. Various materials are used, the most elegant of which is the heavy real lace, with trimmings of ruffles to correspond. These lace garments are generally made with adjustable linings of silks so that the same wrap may be worn over different colors and serve for two suits. Grenadine with heavy velvet flowers in relief is another favorite material for summer wraps, and is scarcely less rich in effect than the lace. Bead fringes and passementeries, together with lace, are the preferred trimmings. Some of the richest grenadines show tiny jets outlining the velvet blossoms, and also forming the centre. A very pretty and graceful style of garment is made with a short pelerine back and high gathered shoulder seams. Here the pelerine form ends and the front of the wrap is made in two long tabs, knotted with the ends falling half way down the skirt. Another pretty style is a short mantle bunched up at the waist in panniers in the back, with the sleeves made full and the fronts plain and narrow, with either square or rounded corners.

REFORM IN THE CORSAGE.

I really do not see why the staymaker should not suppress Worth altogether. Were I a member of her corporation I should aim at nothing less and launch a manifesto thus worded: 'Plus de corsages! Faites mesdames, que vos corsets soient visibles." The visible corset with an elegantly made undergarment serving as a chemisette, or, as the French would more elegantly say, une modestie would obviate a double squeezing of the vital organs, be to the eye more decent, bring out elegant contours more clearly, and enable ladies going on visits and to hotel quarters at watering and wintering places to do without those cumbersome trunks which are the plague of all who travel with them, and of railway porters cabmen. The visible corsets would be like the nominative case in grammar and govern the rest of the toilet. It would enforce the absence of surplusage and be the death of all the various expedients for improving figures by means of horsehair and wadding. I do not see why there might not be an inner garment of foulard or some other light material which would rise to the throat and cover the arms like the muslin guimps of the Swiss dairymaid. In winter there might be a short, loose tunic, such as the Chinese or Japanese ladies wear. Why the laces of a corset could not be in view any more than the laces of a corsage I do not well understand I am equally puzzled to make out why pictorial 'advantages' (to use a French idiom), or, indeed, disadvantages, may be kept in view, provided a corsage is worn, and yet why good people will be shocked when they are modestly shrouded by a well gathered chemisette, if the corset be visible. It is not the stave which produce those peculiarities in the upper portion of stout ladies busts, but the corsage, which must be a tighter fit in the plastic region than the corset. I humbly submit the above remarks and reflections to leaders of fashion and promoters of reform in dress.—Paris Letter to London Truth.

TIME IS MONEY.

Time and money will be saved by keeping Kidney-Wort in the house. It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases arising from obstructions of these organs. It has cured many obstinate cases after hundreds of dollars had been paid to physicians without obtaining relief. It cures Constipation, Piles, Biliousness and all kindred disorders. Keep it by you.

A YOUNG GIRL'S HEROISM.

"I would like to ask you to take some ice-cream, Gertrude dear," he said, looking hesitatingly in the windows of Dickens & Sanderson's as they sauntered up Front St., "but after that disastrous affair in Brooklyn a few days ago I am afraid to," and he made an attempt to forge ahead.

"What affair was that, George," she asked, holding him back with both hands.

"Why, over one hundred and fifty people poisoned from a single freezer."

"It must have been terrible. Still, George, dear, there is a possibility of our escaping with our lives, and if we do die"—here the heroic girl gave him a look of love unutterable—"we will die together."

On Wednesday at Providence Jay Eye See will trot to lower the Maud S. record. It was on the Providence track in September last that Jay Eye See made his 2:10¾ record.

A match race was made to-day between Capt. Powers' colt and Mr. Fred. Gauthier's colt to take place at the driving park on Monday at two p. m., for a handsome stake.

The Caughnawagas played a picked American lacrosse team yesterday in New York even lending two of their men, White Eagle and Cross the River. The Caughnawagas won four goals out of seven, and White Eagle won two out of three American goals.

The Okas are steadily practising for the match with the Kingston lacrosse club on Wednesday. The visitors have a good record and reputation, and are going to bring up lots of their friends on the Maud to see them win. The Okas are determined that they shall go home beaten and consequently a good game may be looked for.

At a meeting of the Bay of Quinte Yacht Club last night a resolution passed protesting against the conduct of the Kingston Club in fixing the date for their regatta to conflict with the Belleville races, after the latter had been advertised, and in order to allow yachts from other parts to attend, the club agreed to postpone the regatta here until Friday, August 8th. As Mr. H. Corby will be unable to act, Mr. S. S. Lazier was appointed one of the judges. The next meeting of the club will be held on Wednesday evening, August 6th, to complete the final arrangements for the regatta. It is probable that the merchants will agree to close their stores the afternoon of the race.

SERIOUS ILLNESS.

Mr. R. C. Hulme Suddenly Attacked with Effusion of the Brain.

Mr. R. C. Hulme was taken seriously ill at his residence on Hotel street last evening, and his condition since has been alarming. He was attacked while engaged singing in his parlor, with a few friends, and it was thought at the time that the case would prove fatal Mr. Bardett was hurriedly called in, and pronounced the attack to be a slight effusion of the brain, Mr. Hulme has for some time suffered from a blow on the head and two weeks ago while on the Annie Gilbert, he struck his head again against the door, the effects of which he has felt ever since. He was very low last night and was not much improved to-day. The doctor thinks he may recover, but at present he is not very hopeful.

"MOTHS" AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

An undeservedly small audience witnessed the presentation of "Moths" by the Pauline Markham Company at the Opera House last evening. The piece is not remarkably strong, dramatically, but is undoubtedly what the bill describes it, "a charming drama." The plot has been given in these columns already. The cast of characters is on the whole strong. Pauline Markham by her talented assumption of the character of Vere Herbert excited unbounded admiration. She is an accomplished actress of great power, whose every movement is appropriate and graceful. She is moreover, a painstaking and conscientious artiste, the character of the attendance not apparently lessening her efforts. Helen Adell, as Lady Dolly, acted the part of a crafty, heartless, and designing member of the aristocracy in a manner to win the hearty applause of the auditors. Edith Bird, as the American girl was good. Mr. Barton, as Lord Jura, showed himself to be an actor of ability and proved the hero of the piece. If Mr. Murray had less of the swagger of a slugger when on the stage he would the better impersonate a Russian Prince. The applause was frequent, and the members of the audience as they dispersed said, "I rawther like this sort of thing, don't you know." "Moths" was repeated at the matinee this afternoon, and this evening "Led Astray" will be presented, it is hoped, to a full house.

The company go from here to Toronto.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

THE FIRE AT COOPER'S MILL.

Dear Sir,—Ald. Cooper's remarks reported in the ONTARIO of yesterday are something new to me, and in justice to No. 2 steamer, I think require an explanation, or in other words to let the public have both sides of the question. It is true that No. 2 steamer arrived in good time, and had over 50 lbs. of steam, but might as well have arrived without the boiler, as there was no water in reach. The draft was stopped so as not to have too much steam. I then had the engine drawn partly over the bank, sent a man in the water and held the torch myself. The man said the suction did not go under the water. He also said it was all sawdust. I, with assistance, removed some of the stone wall which gave us a more direct line to the water. The "basket" then was covered. I at once began to pump and never stopped but for an instant until ordered by the Assistant Chief to go home. There was a piece of stone in one nozzle, but the engine did not stop but turned the water on the other branch. The only way a stone could get in the nozzle is by coupling the branch to hose on the ground, which was done that night. As to the sawdust which Ald. Cooper could not find there. I did not expect to find as much after throwing two streams of water on the fire for over two hours. However, there was enough to entirely stop my feed pump during the whole fire and enough to fill five of the circulating tubes inside the boiler so as to take myself and Mr. Burn, of Walker's foundry, a half day to get it out, and still enough remained for Mr. Cooper to see and tell me a few days after in the engine station, that there was sawdust in near the wall. Now, he must know that when we could not reach the water in the middle of the stream, we must reach it where we could and that, it was plain for him to see, was by the wall. Now then, I sympathize with Mr. Cooper. He is a heavy looser, no doubt, but from the circumstances connected with his fire, and the way the brigade and engines worked at it, he should be ashamed to speak as he does. I cannot believe that he would tell me at one time that there was sawdust and then in Committee say there was not. I would also say that with all the delay in getting water I will leave the public to judge how much the delay was, when I say that I was pumping water on the fire before Ald, Cooper arrived and his house is opposite the mill, I wish the public to know the above are facts from my own knowledge, and not what others tell while passing along.

Mr. Editor if you will insert the above in your paper you will oblige all connected with No. 2 steamer. This is the first time I have ever attempted to answer through your columns, and do this knowing that the remarks reported do a great injustice to No. 2 steamer.

Yours etc.,
JAMES McCURDY,
Mechanical Engineer.

P. S. It is my opinion that Ald. Cooper's mill burnt simply through his own neglect in not having a fire stand at hand; he too being on the Fire Committee.

LABOR'S GALA DAY.

Some of the Features of the Civic Holiday Demonstration.

The labor demonstration in Belleville on the 18th of August, Civic Holiday, will, weather permitting, be the biggest celebration Belleville has witnessed since the inauguration of the city. The Knights of Labor have taken the initiative in a sound, business-like manner, and no stone will be left unturned to make the affair popular with all classes and of such a character as to draw large crowds from surrounding towns and villages. Mr. Thomas Lockerty and other merchants are lending valuable assistance to the committee. The General Committee met last night in the rooms of the hook and ladder company with a full attendance. A letter was received from the Grand Trunk Company stating that they would issue tickets on that day at a fare and a third between Toronto and Brockville and on the Midland Division of the road. Invitations will be sent to Toronto, Oshawa, Port Hope, Cobourg, Peterboro, Bowmanville, Trenton, Deseronto, Napanee, Kingston and Brockville, and to other branches of the Knights of Labor. A letter was addressed to Chief Engineer Campbell asking him to call the fire brigade together as early as possible in order to [illegible] their permission to take part in the celebration. At least $500 will be given for a program of sports and games in the afternoon in Bleecker's grove which is close to the business part of the city. The committee in charge of the subscription list have collected over $300 already besides receiving several valuable articles for prizes. It is the intention in the evening to have a grand torch-light procession and a display of fire works by Prof. Hand, of Hamilton, as well as a ball in the city hall with which to conclude the day's festivities.

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "23 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 28, 1882. Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly, W. M. PHILLIPS."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the SARSAPARILLA in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1882. Yours gratefully,

HIRAM PHILLIPS."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blotches, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

CHOLERA

—IS—

COMING!

The countries where Cholera prevails, as in India, China and Africa, Pain-Killer is considered the surest and safest of all known remedies, and natives place the most perfect reliance in it

Read the following extract from the letter of a missionary in China:—

DEAR SIRS—I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain-Killer you had the goodness to send me last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. The Cholera appeared here soon after we received it. We resorted at once to the PAIN-KILLER, using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain-Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered.

Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours, J. M. JOHNSON,
Missionary to Swatow, China.

LOVE'S LOTTERY

OR,

THE RIVAL SISTERS.

'Think; I am certain. Not only have I won their gratitude, but perhaps their confidence; most decidedly that of the elder, while I have created a fiend of wounded pride and anger within her that it will be difficult to exorcise. My sole obstacle was Eustace Belmore; but if we can only get to Longueville, and have all matters arranged before he arrives, he is harmless.'

'If he arrive, too soon?'

'Then, my dear Grum,' smiled the American meaningly, 'I leave him. to your tender mercies.'

Peter Grum smiled also, but there was a fierce vindictiveness in his accents as he muttered—

'Good. Be sure I won't fall a second time. There are no Thames police here.'

CHAPTER XX.

JABEZ SCLADDEN REJOICES.

Stuart Loring's remark that the sisters would not delay their departure from New Orleans was perfectly correct.

Though she hid it under a calm, silent demeanor, Juliette had been wounded to the very soul from the occurrence at the theatre.

Beneath the composed mask lurked the aroused fiend the American had mentioned, and she hated all and every thing around her.

Pauline, according to her nature, experienced hardly less pain, and to both, New Orleans had become an abhorred place, upon which they could only feel happy when they had turned their backs.

To remain in town where they had been so grievously insulted was impossible, and and their kind host and hostess, amazed, indignant, scared, as weak simple natures are accustomed to be, could not bid them stay.

'My dear Jacob,' remarked Mrs. Folmsbee when she and her husband were en tete a tete, 'how could it happen? What did it all mean?'

'Just this, my love that splendid girl Juliette Beauchamp, has, I have little doubt, dark blood in her veins,' replied the gentleman, 'which the people found out; and Jane, you know their antipathies; they attribute it worse that it is, and hence the row, my dear. I believe, we should have been downright murdered, but for that fine fellow, Mr. Loring. A capital chap. He told the people all the truth and silenced them.'

The truth.

Mr. and Mrs. Folmsbee, even as the sisters, were unaware that the audience at the theatre had right on their side, unless there was really a law for the poor and another for the rich.

* * *

Thus the portmantaux, which had been partially emptied was again packed by Keziah, and the carriage arrived to take them away from the town, which the Creole could never henceforth hear mentioned without a shudder, and a heightened color of shame, of hate deep and revengeful.

From the hotel opposite, Stuart Loring watched the preparations with a secret satisfaction.

To him time was everything, and he had planned well.

When the Folmsbee carriage stopped before the Folmsbee's door, the American again approached the window to discover if the sisters went alone.

No.

Keziah's information had been correct Mr. Folmsbee accompanied them.

'It does not matter much,' reflected the watcher; 'he is a weak fool whom, if he interferes; one may terrify easily out of the few wits he possesses. Ah, how calm and magnificent she looks,' he reflected, as the Creole followed by Pauline took her place in the vehicle. 'How brave how noble. what a proud glance! Even the light light covering of a veil she scorns to wear before her imagined maligners; she faces them fearlessly. But for that other one, how my soul would leap towards her. Ah, they are off at last,' he added as the carriage drove beneath the window, 'now is my turn.'

Crossing the room, he rang the bell.

In less than two minutes it was answered by Grum ushering into his masters presence Jabez Scladden.

This gentleman has been often mentioned.

It is now our duty to describe him.

Mr. Jabez Scladden was over forty years of age, tall, and of a long angular figure (in which the joints were painfully prominent) that stooped in the shoulders, with a snakelike twist, carried out in a slinking undulation of the body when in motion.

From ill-made trousers emerged two large flat feet, and from an equally ill fitting coat, two large splay pony hands.

Certainly not an agreeable object to contemplate.

But Jabez Scladden's countenance was still less so.

The complexion was sallow, the skin parchment, thin, yet with a tendency to bagginess.

Vital Questions.!

Ask the most eminent physician
Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?
And they will tell you unhesitatingly
"Some form of Hops! ! !"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians:
"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, diabetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—
"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu !"
Ask the same physicians
"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.," and they will tell you:
Mandrake! or Dandelion !"
Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable.
And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is
Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use

CHAPTER II.

"Patients
"Almost dead or nearly dying"
For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.
Women have gone nearly crazy ! ! ! !
From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.
People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic or suffering from scrofula.
Erysipelas!
"Salt rheum, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact almost all diseases frail"
Nature is heir to
Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.
None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile poisonous stuff with "Hop" or "Hops" in their name.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silk. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co.'s own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

"Twenty-four years experience," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the Generative organs is to repair the wasteby giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box, 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas. Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See adv't in another column

A DINNER AND A KISS.

'I have brought you dinner father,'
The blacksmith's daughter said,
And she took from her arms a kettle
And lifted its shining lid.
'There's not any pie or pudding,
So I will give you this,
And upon his toil-worn forehead
She left a childish kiss.

The blacksmith took off his apron,
And dined in happy mood,
Wondering much at the savor
Hid in his humble food.
While playing about him were visions
Full of prophetic bliss;
But he never thought of the magic
In his little daughter's kiss.

While she, with her kettle swinging,
Merrily trudged away.
Stopping at sight of a squirrel,
Catching some wild bird's lay,
And I thought how many a shadow
Of life and fate we would miss,
If always our frugal dinners
Were seasoned with such a kiss.

—The Caterer.

TWO BIG EATERS.

THE EXTRAORDINARY ORDERS GIVEN AT A PHILADELPHIA RESTURANT.

Philadelphia Press.

Two well-dressed gentlemanly-looking men entered Dooner's hotel yesterday and said they would like to have some dinner, One of the men about five feet six inches in height, and weighed probably 150 pounds. He said his name was Stevenson and that he was a druggist, doing business in Bridgeport, Conn. the other man was evidently a German. He was a tall, healthy-looking fellow, slightly inclined to adiposity, but by no means to be called a fat man.

'I wish,' said Mr. Stevenson to Mr. Dooner, 'that you would see personally about this serving our meal. We had a hearty breakfast six hours ago, but are very hungry now. Send me,'he continued very calmly,'five pounds of cold roast beef, rare; let it be all solidmeat, without bones or fat, Give me a double order of peas, a double order of corn, a double order of potatoes and a double order of macaroni.'

'All right,' said Mr. Dooner, smilingly, who thought his guests were joking, 'but will you not have something to wash that meal down with.?'

'Yes,' replied the Bridgeport druggist, 'it would be well. Let me have two bottles of Bass's ale, and while you are giving the order send me another of what-vegetables you have in the house.'

Mr. Stevenson sand back in his chair, and his friend spoke. 'Send me' said the' German gentleman, ,two large sirlion steaks, and duplicate the vegetables ordered by my friend. Instead of Bass's ale give me Yonger's.'

'Are you really serious?' asked the proprietor.

'Never more serious in my life, said Mr. Stevenson. Please hurry up the order.'

Mr Dooner went to the kitchen and nearly took the chef's breath away when he told what was wanted. Both orders promptly supplied. however, and in thirty-five minutes after being placed on the table there was not a vestage left to tell the tale. Mr. Stevenson very cheerfully paid seventy-five cents a pound for his rare beef, which had to be cut from four joints and regular rates for the rest of his meal and that of his friend. This was at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. At 7 o'clock in the evening the extraordinary eaters returned and devoured a hearty supper. 'When turkeys are in season,' said Mr. Stevenson,'I frequently eat a fifteen pound gobbler at one meal.'

HANDLING AND QUIETING BEES.

A Lanarkshire beekeeper in a London journal, gives the following on handling and quieting bees, the remedies when they are irritated, and the best treatment of stings. When bees are accustomed to people and domesticated animals near the apiary, they seldom offer an attack unless through some provocation, which they are sure to resent. Incautious manipulation, turning the soil, and pulling weeds or vegetables; certain odors, such as musk and other scents; vinegar and smoke, and allowing bees to have access to the honey comb or robbing other hives, are a few of the many things that irritate them, all of which should be guarded against. One bee irritated and using its sting may set the whole apiary in a frantic and vicious state, which may last for weeks ere they can be calmed down. It is possible that bees possess a sense that we are ignorant of. One thing is certain when people of a nervous temperment manipulate bees there is something that excites them. We can avoid irritating bees in many ways, such as by leaving the apiary for a time when they are inclined to sting, or disturbing them as mentioned above; but there are times when all danger has to be faced, and caution with firmness is necessary, and very's,it stings are dreaded. When manipulating,I seldom use either a veil or smoke. Carbolic acid being so much superior to the latter that it enables me to manipulated with safety, having the bees in a passive state after it, The hive also is the better able to resist foul brood,while moths do not harbor where it has been used, neither is the honey tainted nor the ... affected by its use, as is in the case when smoke is used. Carbolic acid is useful to prevent robbers attacking another colony. The robbing hive is well smeared at the entrance; this diverts the bees from making further inroads on its weaker neighbors. When commencing to manipulate, if the bees are vicious, or suspected to be so, I smear the alighting board with some acid, then uncover the hive. I then smear the tops of the frames with the acid, and having a wing or feather also saturated so that I may dislodge the bees from any part by its use, placing it near the bees, causing them to retreat to or from any other part I may choose. When this is done the bees remain quiet, and do not attempt to sting as they do when smoke is used. There are many applications and nostrums recommended for stings, none of them being effectual as a cure, for the very simple reason that the poison has impregnated the system before the alkali can be applied and reach the acid to neutralize it. The best remedy I ever found was to apply heat by steam or water to the patient to cause a free perspiration, and to give a little sal volatile; but this latter ought to be prescribed by the medical man. Not a moment should be lost to bring on a free perspiration, and every means resorted to that will accomplish that end.

SAVED FROM A HORRIBLE DEATH.
Until May I had spent at least five hundred dollars in treatment by many of the best medical men without benefit. My mouth became badly ulcerated sores breaking out on my neck and legs. I also suffered excruciatingly with Rheumatism, grew very despondent, and my best friends advised me that the icy hand of death was fast approaching, I caught at Shaker Blood Syrup like drowning man catches at a straw. After taking two bottles I could feel the change for the better. The sores began to discharge freely,and Rheumatism to abate. When I had taken six bottles every sore had healed and my skin began to assume a natural appearance. I persisted until I had taken twelve, and there is not a symptom of the disease remaining, and I feel as well as I ever did. I have gained twenty-one pounds in flesh, and my friends wonder at my improved condition. I have recommended it to many,and in every instance with complete success. I believe that Shaker Blood Syrup has saved me from a horrible death.
T. S. Cannon,South Boston Mass.

In 1878 I was the victim of terrible Blood Poison, and after being treated by three physicians was confined to my bed, not able to raise my hand to my head, spiting up clots of blood and reduced in weight from one hundred and eighty-five to one hundred and thirty pounds. I then began the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, and in less than three months I was entirely well, weighing one hundred and ninety-six pounds, and have never had a symptom of the disease since. If it had not been for Shaker Syrup I believe I would have been in my grave.
Chas. Berger, Hoboken, N.J,

THE HON J. LYMAN BULKLEY, M.D. of New York, says: "I have used Dr. WHEELER'S Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya largely in my practice for two years and in my judgement there is no preparation can compare with it. With feeble anæmic women, of whom we have so many, and in convalescence from exhausting diseases I would not be without it. In DYSPEPSIA it acts like a charm—in fact in any of the long list of diseases it is THE remedy.

THE DAILY ONTARIO.

PROHIBITION PLATFORM.

Now that the two great political parties in the Republic have laid down their platform the prohibitionists bring out Gov. St. John of Kansas as their candidate, and formulate a platform. It declares that the importation, manufacture, supply and sale of alcoholic beverages created and maintained by the laws of national and state governments during the entire history of such laws is everywhere shown to be promoting the cause of intemperance with resulting crime and pauperism. It calls upon the people to aid to repeal these laws and in the legal suppression of the baneful liquor traffic. It favors a reform in the administration of government, declares that the collection of revenues from alcoholic liquors and tobacco should be abolished, and that revenues from customs duties should be levied for the support of government economically administered; that the public lands should be held for homes for the people; that all money should be issued by the general government and be legally tender for all debts, and that grateful care and support should be given to soldiers and sailors.

It repudiates the doctrine that any person or people shall be excluded from residence or citizenship of the United States. It descants at length on the evils of intemperance, and insists that congress should exercise its power and prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating beverages in the district of Columbia, in the territories and in all places over which the government has exclusive control, and that hereafter no state shall be admitted into the union until its constitution expressly prohibits polygamy and the manufacture and sale of intoxicating beverages. Earnestness, zeal, intelligence and the devotion of the women's christian temperance union is recognized, and it is declared that the ballot in the hand of woman is right for her protection, and would prove a powerful ally for the abolition of the drink saloon, the execution of law and the promotion of reform.

THE CIVIC HOLIDAY.

It is frequently remarked that Belleville seldom manages to bring crowds to the city and keep them in it. Crowds pass through it. On holidays outside attractions are sought and the city emptied of the people who spend their dollars for the benefit of some neighboring place. This is not as it should be. A city so accessable by rail and water as this should frequently hold such celebrations as would attract visitors who would spend their money in the city. On our last holiday, July 1, Belleville had not a single attraction either to keep its citizens at home, or attract strangers from abroad.

The approaching Civic Holiday will, we are glad to learn, be of a totally different character. The grand trades demonstration, under the auspices of the Knights of Labor, with its parade, games, fireworks, and other festivities will be participated in by, and draw crowds from surrounding municipalities and distant towns. Besides this we understand that there will be a bicycle tournament participated in by visiting wheelmen from different places, and last but by no means least, a first rate lacrosse match. These attractions are calculated to bring many to the city, the beauty of which will be seen by some for the first time, and the hospitality of its citizens enjoyed.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

IF THERE is any project which should commend itself to the Council it is that for erecting a General Hospital. The city can afford to emulate the generosity of the county in this matter.

OF COURSE it's none of our funeral but for the sake of Canadian journalism we would like to see the editors of the two Bowmanville papers cease writing of each other with the ignorance of a school boy and the abuse of a fishwife.

SMALL FAVORS are always thankfully received, and if Canada cannot emulate her southern neighbor in the two cent postage line surely she can at least have the standard weight for letters increased from half an ounce to a whole ounce. The revenue would not be perceptibly affected.

JOHN BRIGHT.

The English Orator Makes a Fiery Speech.

LONDON, July 28. — Demonstrations against the action of the House of Lords in reference to the franchise bill were held Saturday at Manchester and Nottingham. At Manchester John Bright presided and made a fiery speech, which was wildly applauded. He said that unless English freedom was a fraud and a sham, the people would know how to deal with an aristocratic chamber which was ever hostile to popular rights and national interests. The marquis of Hartington, who occupied a prominent position on the platform, evidently could not forget that he was the heir to the great dukedom of Devonshire, and perceptibly winced as the radical leader continued to excoriate the aristocracy. When his turn came to speak Lord Hartington deprecated the use of language intended to injure the peers, but he was listened to with manifest inpatience by the audience.

THE MOWAT DEMONSTRATION.

PROVINCIAL LIBERALS TO UNITE IN A GRAND RECEPTION.

TORONTO, July, 28—The Executive of the Toronto Reform Association have outlined a program for the demonstration in honor of Hon. Oliver Mowat, on his return from England. The Premier will reach the city in September. It is proposed that a deputation of prominent Liberals meest him at Niagara or Lewiston in a specially chartered steamer. On reaching Toronto he will be triumphantly escorted to Queen's Park by a procession composed of Liberals from all parts of the province. Here an address of welcome will be presented to the lion of the day. After a reply Mr. Mowat will be accompanied to his residence. A grand banquet at the Horticultural Pavilion in the evening will wind up the festivities.

The current issue of Grip illustrates by the main cartoon the peculiar conduct of the three innocents, Shields, Wilkinson and Lynch, in keeping out of the way of the Royal Commission re the bribery case. An announcement is made that next week they will commence a series of Caricature Portrait Supplements to Grip, leading off with a telling likeness of Sir John A. Macdonald, printed in four tints on heavy plate paper, and accompanied by an appropriate biographical notice. It is the intention to publish these unique supplements monthly with the regular issue of Grip, and to embrace in the series the representative men of each of the Provinces. The portraits are given gratis with Grip. No. 2, for August the 30th will consist of a portrait and sketch of the Hon. Edward Blake.

WHY HE CAN'T GO.

Mr. Stewart, of the Bobcaygeon Independent, will not be able to enjoy the Press excursion this year and sends his excuse:—"I am sorry to say that very reluctantly I have to give up all idea of joining you on the Press Excursion this year. What with journalism, and Crown Lands, and a summer resort here, and a thorough bred Hereford calf, and eleven children, and an acre of potatoes to hoe, and two special literary jobs, and a conveyancing business, and a meteorological station, and a new scene to paint for our dramatic company, my hands are too full to get away."

HONEST AND TRUE.
This is eminently the case with Polson's NERVILINE, the great pain cure. It is an honest remedy, for it contains the most powerful, the purest, and most certain pain subduing remedies known to medical science. It is honest, for it does all it claims to do. It is honest because it is the best in the world. It only costs 10 or 25 cents to try it, and you can buy a bottle at any drug store. Nerviline cures toothache, neuralgia, pain in the back and side. All pains are promptly relieved by Polson's Nerviline.

LENNOX LIBERALS

A Convention Nominates a Candidate for the Local.

MR. G. D. HAWLEY CHOSEN.

NAPANEE, July 26.—The largest and most representative convention of Reformers ever held in this county, assembled in the Opera House here to-day for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the Ontario Legislature, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late A. H. Roe, M.P.P. Every division of the riding was represented, and the gathering numbered 400. The names of three gentlemen were mentioned in connection with the nomination. G. D. Hawley, ex-M.P.P., and H. M. Deroche, ex-M.P.P., and Mr. W. F. Hall, any one of whom would make a most creditable representative, but only one name was brought before the convention that of G. D. Hawley, Mr. Deroche and Mr. Hall being his mover and seconder. His nomination was

MADE UNANIMOUS

amidst the greatest enthusiasm. Mr. Hawley accepted it in an able speech, in the course of which he paid a high tribute to the mover and seconder for waiving their strong claims to the position in his favor. Also speeches were made by Mr. Deroche, Mr. W. F. Hall, Mr. W. T. R. Preston and D. W. Allison, M.P., eulogizing Hon. Mr. Mowat for the great success attending his efforts in the Boundary and other matters. Mr. C. J. Curlette was was unanimously elected Secretary of the County Association in place of Mr. A. H. Allison, resigned, to whom a vote of thanks was tendered. Mr. Wm. Miller moved, seconded by Mr. Geo. Lott, a motion of congratulation and for his manly defence of and success in maintaining Provincial rights. The hall was crowded, and the wildest enthusiasm prevailed. The meeting closed with a stirring address by the President, Mr. S. Gibson urging the delegates to use all lawful and honorable means to secure Mr. Hawley's election. Mr. Hawley has already commenced his canvass and will push a vigorous and energetic campaign.

THANKS TO HON. MR. MOWAT

CHOKED IN A PICKET FENCE.

TORONTO, July 28.—James Woods, caretaker of the Police Court, who has been in bad health lately, left for the neighborhood of Hog's Hollow the other day to recuperate. Saturday morning as a country woman was passing a house in the vicinity she observed a man lying across a picket fence and on examination it proved to be Woods, who, it is supposed, was trying to cross it and fell, his neck being wedged between two of the rails so tightly that he had choked to death.

D. B. CHISHOLM IN AUSTRALIA.

HAMILTON, July 28.—A gentleman in this city has received a letter from D. B. Chisholm, stating that he is now residing in Melbourne, Australia. He says that he is doing well and has sent for Mrs. Chisholm (who is now living in Ottawa) to join him. The letter contains nothing calculated to bring comfort to the hearts of Mr. Chisholm's creditors.

A HUSBAND'S FATAL MISTAKE.

LYNCHBURG, Va., July 28.—William Cambey of Giles county, shot and killed his wife last night. He mistook her for a burglar.

KILLED HIMSELF BEFORE A MULTITUDE.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Pedestrians on Chatham street saw a man climb out on the sill of the third story windows of Flannery's lodging house, at the corner of Mott street at 9 o'clock last night, and stop there as if uncertain what to do next. A number of persons cried up to him to go inside, and a crowd gathered on the sidewalk underneath the elevated tracks and on the opposite walk. The man swung himself free of the window and fell on the walk. He was killed instantly. He was Michael Hayes, a labourer, 70 years old, who worked on the east side pier. It is supposed that he was drunk.

A HUSBAND'S CRIME.

NEW YORK, July 26—Julia Burns was found dead yesterday morning in a rear room on the third floor of the tenement 476 Adelphi street, Brooklyn, where she lived with her husband John Burns. The body was covered with bruises and abrasions from head to foot. Her throat looked as if she had been choked. She was lying on a bed covered with a sheet. She was 36 years old. Her husband was arrested.

ELOPING WITH A NEGRO.

A Beautiful White Girl Runs Away With her Coachmen.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., July 28.—Dr. Henry Richardson is one of the wealthiest and most successful physicians of this country. He has a handsome country residence in the lower portion of Arnie Arundel, and his family has for years been prominent in the State. The Doctor is a widower, and his mansion was presided over by a sister-in-law, Miss Helen Owens, 22 years old, highly educated, and very popular: She has a tall and graceful form, large black eyes with arched brows, and a great mass of raven black hair. Her personal attractions were famous throughout the county, and she had many suitors, to all of whom she appeared wholly indifferent. Her great passion appeared to be horseback riding, and she could often be seen mounted on a white mare, dashing recklessly across fields, and jumping fences at all hours of the day, year in and year out. When it became known Saturday that this lady was suspected of having eloped with a negro farm hand employed by her brother, very few people would believe it, To day the astonishing report proved to be true.

The colored farm hand, whose name is Jesse Plater, is a muscular man of fine physique, 28 years old, and nearly white, He was known to have the greatest contempt for girls of his own race, and was never seen in company with them, He was always the groom or coachman accompanying Miss Owens.

On Monday night Miss Owens and Plater were both missing. They were seen walking quietly down the railroad track late at night, and took a train on the Pope Creek Railroad to Bowie Station, where they changed cars for Washington. The man would readily pass for white with those not knowing him. A telegram has been sent to Washington asking that they be arrested. The girl's friends and family claim that she is certainly demented, and refer to the fact that she has an aunt in an insane asylum. The feeling against the negro is intense, and the young men in the neighborhood are talking ominously of lynching him.

A STATUE TO BURNS

LONDON, July 27.—Lord Roseberry yesterday officially unveiled the statue to Robert Burns, the poet, which was recently presented to the city of London by Mr Crawford, the Scotch Croesus. The statue occupies a prominent site on the Thames embankment, where the ceremonies took place. An enormous crowd assembled.

GARROTED AND ROBBED.

MONTREAL, July 28.—E. A. Cass, 74 years of age, of Cornville, Maine, was robbed of $170 while on the boat for Rutbec awaiting her departure. He was skilfully detached from his three daughters by confidence men, who then tried to swindle him by the bogus cheque trick. Failing they chloroformed him, robbed him, and escaped before he came to his senses.

A BIGAMIST CORN DOCTOR.

RICHMOND, Va., July 26.—Jones Edwards a corn doctor and local politican of this city, was arrested yesterday at Atlanta, charged with bigamy and attempting to murder his second wife. A few weeks ago Edwards married a charming and rich widow of Hanover named Mrs. Sarina Woldridge. After the marriage he endeavoured to get all of her property. Not succeeding in it it is alleged he attempted to make away with his bride. He fled to Atlanta where it had been discovered that he had another wife.

SELECTED AND CONDENSED.

Southey records in his "Commonplace Book" that a physician who had seen more than 40.000 cases of small-pox said he had never met with the disease in a person of red or light flaxen hair.

Burdette has evidently worked upon a farm. He remarks:—"Where the zephyrs dimple the fields of golden rye, I hear the song the harvesters are singing clear and high. I hear a note that rises above the reaper's hum. I know the driver's tried to clear the cog-wheel with his thumb.'

The courts in London have decided that a man may not keep in his back yard a dog which barks and howls. The Judge stated that the best protection was a small dog inside the house, which would quickly alarm the inmates, and was more feared by the fraternity. Neither was it lawful for hand organs to play when forbidden, nor for parties to keep cocks which crowed at early morning or parrots suspended out of windows, or anthing which acted as a disturbance to those living near.

A SPECIAL INVITATION.
We especially invite a trial by all those sufferers from Kidney and Liver complaints who have failed to obtain relief from other remedies and from doctors. Nature's great remedy, Kidney-Wort, has effected cures in many obstinate cases. It acts at once on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleansing the system of all poisonous humors and restoring a healthy condition of these important organs. Don't be discouraged but try it.

FATHER OF THIRTY CHILDREN.

A Mill [illegible] Pa., despatch says:—Jacob Strobl, of [illegible] village, who died a few days ago, was the father of thirty children. He was married three times. His third wife, nineteen children, 142 grand children, 116 great grand children, and 8 great great grand children survive him.

HE WILL HEED THE WARNING.

NEW YORK, July 28.—Edward G. Westleton was found dead yesterday in a hotel here. In his hand was a letter from Marlboro, Mass., from his sister, urging him to let drinking alone.

FLUID LIGHTNING.
WIFE—What's the matter now John
HUSBAND—Oh, that neuralgia and toothache near me.
WIFE—Why don't you go to A. L. Geen's Wholesale and Retail Drug Store and get a and get a bottle of Fluid Lightning, you know it cures all such things as toothache, neuralgia, headache, lumbago, earache, sore throat etc. It gives instant relief.

WHEN MOWAT COMES MARCHING HOME.

That boundary award is now settled up slick,
And Oliver has played the last trump on the trick,
John A. and the Tories will feel pretty sick,
When Mowat comes marching home.

Won't Meredith kick himself over the street?
Won't Norquay be anxious to beat a retreat?
And won't Hardy hasten his hero to greet?
When Mowat comes marching home.

Frozen whiskies in quantities large I'm afraid,
Will be drank by the erst-while Muskoka brigade,
They'll retire to Algoma to hold their parade,
When Mowat comes marching home.

Jim Edgar and Widdifield both will be there,
And Peter de Ryan the bold auctionaire
And The World will be present I'm free to declare,
When Mowat comes marching home.

THE BEAUTY OF TRUTH,

From the Arkansas Traveller.

'So you struck the man because he called you a liar?' said the police Judge. 'Yes, sir,' 'From which I am to infer that you were not a liar?' Oh! no; I was a liar and am one yet. If I had not been a liar I should have paid no attention to the fellow's remark. Truth is so scarce, Judge, that when I hear it I can't keep down my enthusiasm.

SPOKES FROM THE WHEEL.

Lord Bury, who was in America last year, is a great cyclist.

N. H. Corsellies has the one mile tricycling record, 3:02 3 5.

Mr. J. Eaton Fearn, in Cassell's Magazine, has the following to say on behalf of the tricycle:

15 miles were covered in one hour six min. 25 sec. by G. S Low, of Montreal, in the annual road race.

H. L. Cortis, amateur champion of the world for four years, won all his races on a sixty or sixty-two inch wheel.

Messrs. T. Renton and T. Tillinghast two Kingston wheelmen who had come from Toronto reached here at six o'clock Saturday evening and were storm bound next day so they went east on the midnight express.

That the tricycle will eventually supercede the bicycle, there cannot be the least doubt, owing to the former being far safer, more comfortable, less fatiguing on a tour, and possessing as it does greater luggage carrying capability than the latter.

A party of bicyclists from Trenton, en route to Napanee, were joined here yesterday morning by two Belleville wheelmen, but the storm caught them about three miles east of Shannonville, where they took refuge in a barn. Most of them returned home but two went on to Napanee.

'Chips,' the breezy all-around writer of the Canadian Sportsman, never realized the beauties of bicycling until the recent meet in Toronto. He says the racing was keen and exciting, and next to horse-racing, 'takes the cake,' Chips thinks that Lavander can hold his own with Hendee, Dolph, or Frazier.

Ladies have almost come to look upon the bicycle as one of their greatest enemies. Not only are they unable to ride 'the horrid thing' themselves, but on bright summer moonlight evenings, when of all times in the whole year they long to see their gentlemen friends, they are deprived on account of the superior attractions of their nickel-plated rivals of the society of the finest, handsomest and most attractive young man of their acquaintance.

A CARD.—To all who are suffering from errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send self-addressed envelope to Rev. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City. d&w

It removes wrinkles and softens the skin. The regular use of MURRAY & LANMAN'S FLORIDA WATER at the toilet tends to prevent and remove wrinkles, the softness of the skin produced by its taking away the natural inclination of the cuticle to form into ridges and furrows.

ANXIOUS TO BE SICK.

The Good Work Performed by a Mustard Plaster.

"It is wonderful how anxious some people are to take medicine when they can get it free," said gaol physician Farley as he stood in the corridors of the Court House, delicately adjusting his cuffs preparing to take his departure after his visit to the gaol.

"Are the inmates anxious to be doctored?"

"Yes, very. As soon as they are incarcerated they have all sorts of complaints and pains, which these people never bother about when outside of the gaol. You see they want to be relived of work and put on the sick list where they get better diet and so on. They generally complain of an indefinite pain in the side and although you know they're lying its impossible to prove it."

"What course do you generally pursue in cases of that kind?"

"Well." said the doctor with a dry smile, "I generally order the application of a mustard poultice to the part affected and they seldom desire a second dose."

The bachelor physician here gave a final stroke to his beard and resumed his interrupted exit.

SPORTING NEWS.

The Sports Who Go to Oswego To-night.

The Cutter Yacht Daisy—Westmont the Pacer—The Shamrocks Win.

Phyllis, the famous Canadian filly, is to trot in Cleveland, O., on Thursday in the 2:17 class.

Little Wonder, trotting record 2:30, having shown a 2:10 clip on a pace, has been put to pacing.

W. W. Bair drove Mr. W. H. Vanderbilt's Maud S. a mile in harness in 2:11¼ at a private trial in Cleveland on July 17. Bair was suffering from chills, and let the mar trot without urging.

Lulu Hurst, the Georgia "wonder," has challenged John L. Sullivan, the pugilist, to meet her to settle the question as to whether her feats are the result of muscular strength or not upon the stage of the Globe theatre in Boston.

The stupidity of all three morning dailies in Toronto when reporting a big lacrosse match is remarked on all hands. A crisp summary, giving result of each game and time, is seldom or never appended, although the result of a horse race is always thus concisely given.

The Shamrocks defeated the Torontos at lacrosse in Montreal on Saturday. The first game was taken by the Shamrocks in 5½ minutes. The second game was taken by the Torontos in 7 minutes and the third and fourth games by the Shamrocks in 4 and 18 minutes respectively.

The Belleville yachts will not be without backers in Oswego on Wednesday and the backers will not be without bottom. The following named will leave on the midnight express to-night: Commodore W. H. Biggar, Vice Com. R. Roy, Capt. S. R. Balkwill, Messrs. J. Jenkins, E. Foree, G. Hope, J. Starling, J. Jellett, J. Clarke, A. E. Fish and E. Corby.

The clubs attending the regatta of the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen to be held on Toronto bay to morrow are as follow:—Peterboro', Lachine, Chatham Nautilus (Hamilton); Excelsiors (Detroit), Grand Trunk (Montreal); Leanders (Hamilton); Murphy (New York). The race for the amateur rowing championship of Canada will be rowed at this meeting.

Those who sailed with the yachts are as follows:—

Iclanthe—Dow Claus Capt.; W. Campbell, W. Eyres, J. Addison, P. Duesbury, W. Clarke.

Gracie—J. Haslett, Capt.; H. Covert, R. K. Carlet, C. Munson, A. H. Richardson, W. Haslett and W. Drewry.

The Gentlemen of Kent have defeated the American cricketers.

While the wrestler Duncan C. Ross was quietly sleeping at 3 o'clock in the morning, he was waked by a member of the Cleveland City Council, who had brought another wrestler who he hoped could outwrestle Ross in a mixed match of the best two falls in three. Ross arose, led the party to the basement of his place, and for a purse of $90 placed his antagonist on his back twice in the space of twenty minutes. The stakes were paid and the visiting party left.

The Oswego Palladium in concluding an article on the regatta to be held there on Wednesday says:—The other clubs of the yacht racing association are all larger and stronger than ours, and belong to our Canadian cousins, whose boundless hospitality is proverbial, and while we speak the same language, and have one common mission,—the development of the American continent,—still we sail under two flags we have a broad lake between us, and a generous rivalry, and a hearty emulation will stimulate progress and be an incentive to improvement in the royal sport of yachting.

The racing cutter yacht Daisy, purchased by Mr. Mansell Van Rensselaer, Jr., of New York, and member of the Seawanhaka Yacht Club, from Messrs. J. G. Fay & Co., of Southampton, England, arrived at Boston a few days ago on the deck of a steamer and was sailed to New York. Mr. Van Rensselaer expects to try the speed of his yacht at an early day in company with representative American sloops of the same size owned about New York, and these trials are anxiously looked forward to by all classes of yachtsmen, as the victories of the Madge are not forgotten. The Daisy is 32 feet 7 inches over all, 25 feet on water line, 8 feet inches beam, 4 feet 2 inches deep and 5 feet 9 inches draught. She has teak topsides and planksheer and oak frame.

J. M. Hill's Westmont, the pacer, did not get a record when, hurried along by a running mate, he went in 2:01¾ in Chicago. But in Pittsburg last week he got a record of 2:02. As the weather conditions were less favorable in Pittsburg than they had been in Chicago, probably the 2:02 mile was really a better performance than the 2:01¾, which was only an exhibition. Westmont was first trained as a trotter but not showing any speed at that gait he was sold as a saddle horse to a lady in Indianapolis. One day in the winter while he was being driven to a sleigh it was found Westmont wanted to pace, and thereafter he was allowed to go that gait, and he now covers a mile in 2:01¾. He was named by Mr. Steiner in honor of Col. West, who bred him, and Almont, his sire. The American sporting papers however, refuse to recognize Westmont as the king of the turf until he wins his honors in his legitimate sphere by drawing a sulky and driver to rule one mile better than 2:10.

Not a particle of calomel or any other deleterious substance enters into the composition of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. On the contrary they prove of special service to those who have used calomel and other mineral poisons as medicines, and feel their injurious effects. In such cases Ayer's Pills are invaluable.

A STARTLING DISCOVERY.

Mr. Wm. Johnston, of Huron, Dak., writes that his wife had been troubled with acute Bronchitis for many years, and that all remedies tried gave no permanent relief, until he procured a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, which has a magical effect, and produced a permanent cure. It is guaranteed to cure all Diseases of Throat, Lungs, or Bronchial Tubes. Trial Bottles Free at [illegible] Drug Store. Large Size $1.00.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

THE FIRE AT COOPER'S MILL.

DEAR SIR,—Mr. McCurdy remarks, in your issue of the 26th inst., that my statements at the fire committee are news to him. If he will think back a little he will come to the conclusion that I called on him at the engine shed for the express purpose of ascertaining the cause of the very unfortunate delay of the fire company which allowed the destruction of a very large amount of my savings, the result of hard toil and labor for very many years, and would do me the kind favor of allowing me to bear my most unfortunate affliction without adding insult to injury. Now I will try to give an honest statement of the conversation that passed between us on that occasion. I said to Mr. McCurdy I could not see how it was that the fire department allowed my mill to burn, as I felt sure they would save it, No. 2 engine being promptly on hand with a sufficiently large staff of (no doubt in my mind) willing and determined men, I will add, just here that No. 1 seemed just as determined but seemed to me to have an insufficient staff which I can account for only in this way—that the alarm given was of short duration, many of our neighbors in the immediate vicinity not knowing of the fire until they were told of it, or saw it some time after. Being satisfied that the fire was the work of an incendiary I asked Mr. McCurdy if he did not think the suction and nozzle had been tampered with, or could it not get there from the fire previous to mine, Mr. McCurdy said oh no, that Orr said in forcing the suction down there was sawdust and that it was in near the wall. I did not tell Mr. McCurdy there was sawdust near that wall, but on the contrary did tell him that there was an accumulation of sawdust against the opposite or eastern wall or basin next the mill. Now, I invite careful inspection of the situation in the immediate vicinity of the fire, and if any person or persons will declare that I have committed a shameful act I will then leave the city to be known here no more.

Notwithstanding Mr. McCurdy's assertion to the contrary I do most sincerely and with heartfelt gratitude return thanks not only to the fire department, but to all that assisted in saving my property, including James McCurdy, who I think was, [illegible] and will continue to be a true friend after careful consideration of the above.

Truly yours,
R. B. COOPER.

Belleville, July 28.

CHURCH LIGHTS.

The practice which obtains in one or two of the city Anglican Churches of turning down the lights when the preacher ascends the pulpit is a very peculiar one, the reason for which it is hard to determine. It may be that those of the congregation who sleep during the sermon find it much more comfortable, and then, too, no one knows it if they can wake up when the gas is again turned on. It may be, as the pulpit is left in a blaze of light while the pew is in darkness, that it is typical of their respective spiritual state.

Howsomever it may be it is a poor practice. No one likes to sit for half an hour in dull gloom, even if it is called "dim religious light." A dim light is depressing whether it is religious or not, and, further more it has a disadvantage which ought to appeal directly to the pulpit. In such a light a reporter cannot take notes! He might as well stay away or write from memory with the risk of being censured for faulty reporting.

"ROUGH ON PAIN."

Cures colic, cramps, diarrhœa; externally for aches, pains, sprains, headache, neuralgia, and rheumatism. For man or beast. 20 and 50c.

THE CHEESE MARKET.

NEW YORK, July 28.—Cheese has not had a very eventful week, beyond the maintenance of a pretty steady tone and a further fractional gain on values. Exporters failed to submit quietly or without protest, and there was considerable standing off until the last possible moment, but sellers had the grip upon the market and possessed the nerve to retain it until the buyers came to terms. Strong advices from Canada and a well maintained cable quotation have also been additional props to the position. But the hard facts of the present situation seem to be simply that the factory men have been enabled to so regulate the supply as to prevent it over-running demand, keeping a little inside of it, if anything, and shippers, after making all natural resisting efforts submitted. On Saturday the receipts were 19,155 pkgs., and shippers were compelled to pay 9¾c. for the very best stock, and a fraction more on white of which there is a scarcity. There is a noticeable undertone of distrust among many of both receivers and exporters, and not only expressions of views, but negotiations are held in abeyance regarding this week's market. It is, however, generally conceded that the action in the country will prove a very important factor.

BELLEVILLE, July 26.—Cable to-day was 49s. 6d. and the market active and prices advancing under pressure to receive cheese sold for shipment this month:—2 factories sold at 9½, 2 at 9 3-16, 1 at 9⅛, 2 at 9¼, and 1 at 9½. Four or five presidents went home without selling. The last half of July is now being put on the market.

JUST THE SAME

Every time. Everybody who has used or sold Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor reports that it is the only sure pop Corn Cure extant. C. Thompson, Tilsonburgh, writes. The only safe, sure and painless Corn cure is Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Beware of imitations. Polson & Co., proprietors' Kingston.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. Templeton.

THE GENERAL HOSPITAL.

The Estimated Cost Reduced by Some $3,000.

The trustees of the hospital lot and the building Committee on Saturday met Ald. Thos. Hanley, who submitted the plan and specifications of the building as revised by him. The overhauling was done for the purpose of reducing the cost, and Mr. Hanley purposes that now the hospital shall not cost more than $12,000, instead of $15,000. The Home for the Friendless has been considerably reduced in size, and a great deal of extensive ornamentation on the whole building cut off. The Association now hope to be able to raise the money provided they get $2,000 from the city council to-night, which they anticipate. The ladies will meet to-morrow afternoon and if this sum is granted, tenders will at once be invited for the construction of the building.

A GRACEFUL COMPLIMENT.

'Do you know, Miss Smithers,' remarked young Featherley, as they sauntered up Bridge St. Saturday night returning from the Opera House; 'that there is something very peculiar about your father?' 'Something very peculiar about my papa?' repeated Miss Smithers, who loved Featherly passionately but purely. 'Yes,' that young man went on, 'very peculiar.' 'And what is it, pray?' 'It lies in the fact that, although he is not a grandfather, he has a grand daughter.' And then Miss Smithers looked reflectively at the young moon in the heavens.

RESCUED AT LAST.

W. H Crooker, druggist of Waterdown, says, when all other remedies fail for Bowel Complaints, then Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry comes to the rescue.

——The question whether young women shall pursue the same line of studies as their brothers, seems to find its chief objection in their different physical constitution. Arguments on this subject are finely handled on both sides; but the perfect adaption of Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to the cure of ailments attending the feminine organs needs no argument; its works are its proof.

The plumbers and gas-fitters propose to form an alliance. It will be an offensive and defensive all once—particularly offensive.

AN END TO BONE SCRAPING.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctor told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated, I used instead, 3 bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve and my leg is now sound and well.

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c per box by R. Templeton.

NO RIVAL IN THE FIELD.

There is no rival for Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It is the acknowledged champion for the cure of all Summer Complaints.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS—Coughs Influenza.—The soothing proerties of these medicaments render 'em well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In in common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally and the Ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceeding efficacious. When influenza is epidemic this treatment is the easiest, safest, and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free without reducing the strength irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of saving suffering when any one is afflicted with cold coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints, by which so many persons are seriously and permanently afflicted in most countries.

NERVOUS DEBILITY And PREMATURE DECAY RADICALLY CURED without stomach medication by the Marston Treatment, effective, cheap, pleasant. Send for sealed treatise. MARSTON REMEDY CO., 19 Yonge St., Toronto, Ont.

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "28 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 28, 1882.

"Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly, W. M. PHILLIPS."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the SARSAPARILLA in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1882. Yours gratefully, HIRAM PHILLIPS."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blotches, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

CHOLERA

—IS—

COMING!

The countries where Cholera prevails, as in India, China and Africa, Pain-Killer is considered the surest and safest of all known remedies, and natives place the most perfect reliance in it

Read the following extract from the letter of a missionary in China:—

DEAR SIRS—I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain-Killer you had the goodness to send me last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. The Cholera appeared here soon after we received it. We resorted at once to the PAIN-KILLER, using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain-Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered.

Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours, J. M. JOHNSON, Missionary to Swatou, China.

Beware of Counterfeits and Imitations. Ask for the genuine Perry Davis' Pain-Killer and take no other. jy 2 d&w

LOVE'S LOTTERY

OR,

THE RIVAL SISTERS.

The features gave you the idea of their having once been a bird of prey's but suddenly metamorphosed into the face of a man.

The vulture nose was large sharp and thin, the eyes red, furtive, small, and ferret-like, the mouth cruel, mean, yet sensual, the chin long, pointed and prominent, the whole blended by a wily, cringing expression of mock humility.

This was he who laid claim to Juliette Beauchamp, as his share of the plot.

As he came forward his head bent a little in advance as if in humble apology for the body's presence, his features more repellant, owing to a grin of triumph resting on them, Stuart Loring absolutely shuddered.

'No, never,' he reflected; 'she to belong to him! It would be desecration.', Charming morning, my friend, charming morning,' remarked Jabez Scladden sliding into a seat. 'They are gone, you see; they are gone, the peerless beauties. How lovely they looked!'

'Yes, they are gone,' rejoined Stuart Loring shortly.

'Ah! I thought they wouldn't be long after the scene last night. Of course you heard of it?'

'Heard of it,' said the other a twinkle in his eyes. 'I was there. It was madness for them to go.'

'Madness — he, he, he! Pure insanity.'

'But they say she looked magnificent, as if she would and could, had she been permitted, have taken the whole boiling of them single handed.'

'She did indeed. She looked every might the Emperess Theodore.'

'Beautiful! she is handsome as ever,' exclaimed Jabez Scladden, his pointed tongue passing unctuously over his white lips, and his bony hands, slipping one across the other until the joints cracked, 'A sweet morsel, a delicious morsel! worth the whole estate of Longueville in itself; worth——'

'The price you have paid,' interpolated Stuart Loring, dryly—'murder.'

The sallow face of Jabez Scladden turned livid.

'Hush! for the love of heaven hush!' he ejaculated throwing an alarming glance around, 'What a man you are, Mr. Loring. We are all friends here, of course, Mr. Girvin, eh?' he added with an insinuating leer. 'Still walls have ears, and old adage, but true. We want no exhumation,' eh? —far better, I think, cremation. My dear friend, Mr. Freeland, worthy man, respected by all who knew him, died in a fit, owing to a weakness of the heart. He was overheated and drank a too large quantity of champagne; it was over in a second. If men cannot control their desires, they must take the consequences, that's what the jury found—he, he, he? It's justice, Mr. Girvin, eh?'

The chuckle was accompanied by a smile from Stuart Loring and another from Girvin, who stood a little apart, leaning on the back of a chair.

'You proved yourself an adept in the work,' I confess remarked the American. 'But now leave the past for the present. To what am I indebted for this visit? Have you any news?'

'Yes. This morning I received a letter from Miss Juliette. Fancy from her own own sweet hand! Here it is perfumed as delicately as herself,' he proceeded, taking the dainty note from his breast-coat pocket, and pressing it rapturously to his lips. 'It makes a man fall in love, though he'd never thought of it before.'

'Be kind enough, for the present, to oblige me by falling out of it,' remarked Stuart Loring, his brows darkened, this disgust of his companion getting beyond control. Love is not the matter on the tapis just now.'

'Not on the tapis?' grinned Jabez Scladden. 'As if you, Mr. Loring, hadn't got your full share. There ought to be more sympathy between two such Lotharios as you and me.'

The American made a movement of irritation.

'It is a maxim of mine—there is a time for everything. Try also to follow it,' he said. What does the letter contain?'

'A request that as I myself desire to become purchaser of Longueville at a fair price—a fair price, I will repair thither at once with the necessary deeds for signature as the ladies are anxious to return to England as speedily as possible.

'We may thank the scene last night for that,' remarked Stuart Loring.

'Exactly.'

'When do you intend to start, Scladden?'

'When? At once — this hour—this minute,' replied the other throwing wide his arms with a smirk. 'Every second brings her nearer my embrace. In imagination I can already feel her on this bosom I can see myself soothing the sobs rending her lovely breast; kissing away the pearly tears from the brilliant eyes. Oh, the prize was worth winning. I surrender you your Pauline without an atom of envy.'

'Thanks,' responded Loring dryly; 'you are good I am sure. Still here is another maxim of my adoption—'There's many a slip 'twixt cup and lip' Consequently, I wisely never reckon my chickens before they are hatched. That's wisdom, sir, still I don't think there's much chance of a slip in my case.'

(To be continued.)

ADVICE TO MOTHERS

Vital Questions!!

Ask the most eminent physician

Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?

And they will tell you unhesitatingly

"Some form of Hops!!!"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians:

"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, diabetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—

"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu!"

Ask the same physicians

"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.," and they will tell you:

Mandrake! or Dandelion!"

Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable.

And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is

Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

CHAPTER II.

"Patients

"Almost dead or nearly dying"

For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.

Women have gone nearly crazy!!!!

From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefullness, and various diseases peculiar to women.

People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic, or suffering from scrofula.

Erysipelas!

"Saltrheum, blood poisoning dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact, almost all diseases frail"

Nature is heir to

Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.

☛ None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile poisonous stuff with 'Hop' or 'Hops' in their name.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co.s. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

"Twenty-four years experience, says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the Generative organs is to repair the wasteby giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box, 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas, Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See adv't in nother column

DON'T YOU.

I love to hear the wind at night sing low
among the trees,
I love to see a certain flag a flying in the breeze—
I love all women, high and low, for a certain woman's sake,
And I love a friend who never will another friend forsake.

I love to hear a woman's laugh, there's music in the sound;
I love to see, to know, to feel that they're young or old, around;
I love the rivers, meadows, forests, birds and lanes—ah, me!
More than all of these I love the throbbing,
sobbing sea,

I love a man who's willing to forget and to forgive—
I love one who knows how to live, and still let others live,
I love a song, a good cigar, a lively yarn—and this;
A sweet, delicious, cosy, little, comfortable kiss!

I love an honest heart and true, a fair and open brow;
I love to do my little all the best way I know how,
I love to think I lived before—two thousand years ago.
And with charming Cleopatra tripped the light fantastic toe!

"IS LIFE WORTH LIVING?"

The frequently asked conundrum concerning the desirability of living can surely be answered easily and accurately with regard to the class of unfortunates considered by Dr. Leffman. These are idiots and monsters, or monstrosities, and certainly there can be no reason for supposing that life to them is worth living. In the instance of the imbecile or idiotic, we can hardly say that they know they are alive' and they could not possibly miss what they do not know that they possess. Now Dr. Leffman (who appears to be an amiable theatrical benefactor of his species) suggests the propriety of putting these unhappy creatures out of their misery and their doubt by killing them. Said he: 'Within reasonable bounds it would be wise and justifiable to remove from life the classes of persons mentioned.' But the application of this humane suggestion would depend for its general extension upon the definition given to the words 'within reasonable bounds.' Where would we draw the line? Who would be the judge and what would be his standard? These are serious questions to entertain, in view of the possibility of adopting Dr. Leffman's suggestion, which, says the Baltimore Herald, 'shows that scientific men are year by year becoming more bold fearless.'

"THE CITY OF THE SUN."

The ruins of Heliopolis, "the City of the Sun.' which adjoin the present village of Metarijeh, is about five miles distant from Cairo. This famous place is identified as the On of the Bible, where Joseph took the daughter of the priest Potipherah to wife. The site of the once important city is appropriately marked now by the oldest obelisk that has yet been discovered, with the exception of a small one in the necropolis of Mempis. The companion to this existing obelisk (for obelisks are always erected in pairs) passed away over twelve hundred years ogo. The two were erected four or five thousand years ago. The remaining one is a shaft sixty-six feet high; of red granite, covered with hieroglyphics. The metal on the pyramidium at the top has passed away, and the successive inundations of the Nile have piled a good many feet of mud about the monument.

At Heliopolis was also the finest Egyptain, temple with one exception, in those Old Testament days—a temple dedicated to the sun, ahd employing a staff of priests, menials, custodians, and other attaches which is said to have numbered no less than 12 913. The Pharaohs were especially proud of their title as 'Lords of Heliopolis.' Nearer the modern village are the tree and well of the Virgin. The Virgin's tree is a decayed sycamore, planted in 1672. allegedly upon the site of a prievious tree, in the hollow trunk of which Mary had concealed herself and the divine child. Not satisfied with well enough, the people in the vicinity spoil the whole tradition by averring that a spider spun his web across the opening so as to effectually screen the fugitives. I did not learn whether the spider and his web are still preserved here or not.

The present tree was presented to the Empress Eugenie by the Khedive at the inauguration of the Suez Canal.

It is also stated on pretty good authority that the balsam shrub, the balsam of which the Queen of Sheba presented to King Solomon, once throve in the vicinity of Heliopolis. The plant has long since ceased to grow there abouts: Cleopatra attempted to reintroduce it, but without success.—Cor. New Orleans Times-Democrat.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Winslow's Soothing Syrup For Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrub for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists through out the world Price 25 cents a bottle.

SAVED FROM A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Unto May I had spent at least five hundred dollars in treatment by many of the best medical men without benefit. My mouth became badly ulcerated, sores breaking out on my neck and legs. I also suffered excruciatingly with Rheumatism, grew very despondent, and my best friends advised me that the icy hand of death was fast approaching. I caught at Shaker Blood Syrup like drowning man catches at a straw. After taking two bottles I could feel the change for the better. The sores began to discharge freely, and Rheumatism to abate. When I had taken six bottles every sore had healed and my skin began to assume a natural appearance. I persisted until I had taken twelve, and there is not a symptom of the disease remaining, and I feel as well as I ever did. I have gained twenty-one pounds in flesh, and my friends wonder at my improved condition. I have recommended it to many, and in every instance with complete success. I believe that Shaker Blood Syrup has saved me from a horrible death.

T. S. Cannon South Boston Mass.

In 1878 I was the victim of terrible Blood Poison, and after being treated by three physicians was confined to my bed, not able to raise my hand to my head, spiting up clots of blood and reduced in weight from one hundred and eighty-five to one hundred and thirty pounds. I then began the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, and in less than three months I was entirely well, weighing one hundred and ninety-six pounds, and have never had a symptom of the disease since. If it had not been for Shaker Syrup I believe I would have been in my grave.

Chas. erger, Hoboken, N.J.

HOARSENESS AND FAILURE OF voice from congestion of the vocal cords follicular disease of the fauces, or ministers sore throat, are often the results of bronchial troubles, extending up the trachea and larynx, affecting the whole mocus tract of the air passages. These diseases are the outcome or expression of nerve debility and blood impoverishment from overworking the system and excessive use of the organs involved. Here constitutional treatment is required to restore nutrition and nerve power, and WHEELER'S Phosphates and Calisaya has been successfully used by singers and public speakers.

THE DAILY ONTARIO.

HON. OLIVER MOWAT.

Since his accession to office Mr. Mowat has met with violent and unscrupulous opposition from Sir John Macdonald although they once sat in the same cabinet for the purpose of creating the new confederacy. Mr. Mowat therefore knows as well as the naughty Knight the principles upon which it was agreed to build up an united nation, the difference between them however being that, while Mr. Mowat and the Liberal party has had regard for the spirit in which Canadian statesmen acted twenty years ago, Sir John Macdonald has divorced himself from the compact, and of late years by setting one Province against another and the Dominion against the chief one hazarded the disintegration of the union—anything so that he destroy Liberal rule in Ontario. In everything he has been checkmated by Oliver Mowat whose cautious and prudent policy, guiding an honest and able administration has been endorsed again and again by the people. The Federal Government sought to usurp the perogative of the Crown in Ontario; Mr. Mowat resisted and the position he took was sustained by the Privy Council. The Federal Government endeavored to humiliate the Government and Parliament of Ontario by rendering null and void legislation fashioned for the needs of the people. Mr. Mowat resented such unconstitutional interference and his course was justified by a judgment of the Privy Council. Insurance legislation intended to protect policy holders and promote the well being of Ontario's citizens was challenged; the Act was declared a good one by the Privy Council. Mr. Mowat stoutly maintained Ontario's authority and jurisdiction in matters of liquor licenses; the Privy Council declared he was right. The greatest attempt to overawe Ontario and cajole Quebec in the matter of the Boundary was rendered vain by reason of Mr. Mowat's astuteness and vigilance and the Privy Council has again declared Mr. Mowat to be right in is course.

These are some of the extraordinary achievements by reason of which Hon. Oliver Mowat is entitled to the gratitude of Ontario's citizens; the ordinary acts of useful legislation and reform are almost countless. All honor then to the Premier of Ontario to whom in no small measure is due the growth and local prosperity of this Province.

In this record and in our knowledge of the great services rendered his country by this veteran statesman we find good reason for suggesting that the people of this Province would do themselves honor in subscribing a substantial and suitable testimonial which would in some degree mark our hearty appreciation of those services.

MR. PARNELL has written a letter in which he condemns the action of a number of Nationalists, who have issued a call for a convention of Irishmen friendly to the Nationalist cause to be held in Belfast, the avowed object of the convention being to offset the recent Orange demonstration at Newry. Mr. Parnell says that the promoters of the convention are hostile to the principles advocated by the members of the National League, and he advises all of his supporters not to attend the convention. Notwithstanding this it is seen by the cable that the meeting was to be held to day.

CONTEMPORARY COMMENT.

ONE WEALTHY EDITOR.

Opulence confers leisure.—Peterboro' Review.

THE BOUNDARY.

It is a great triumph for Mr. Mowat, and for the province of Ontario. In Manitoba the news will be received with a sense of gratification that the dispute long prevailing has at last been settled, and with a feeling of humiliation that this province should have spent so much time and money in a quarrel which was not her own.—Winnipeg Sun.

WORTH TEN DOLLARS A BOTTLE.

Any person who has used Polson's NERVILINE, the great pain cure, would not be without it if it cost ten dollars a bottle. A good thing is worth its weight in gold, and Nerviline is the best remedy in the world for all kinds of pain. It cures neuralgia in five minutes; toothache in one minute; lame back at one application; headache in a few moments; and all pains just as rapidly. Small test bottles only cost 10 cents. Why not try it to-day? Large bottles 25 cents, sold by all druggists and country dealers. Use Polson's nerve pain cure—Nerviline.

YOUNG MEN!—READ THIS.

THE VOLTAIC BELT CO., of Marshall, Mich., offer to send their celebrated ELECTRIC APPLIANCES on trial for thirty days, to men (young or old) afflicted with nervous debility, loss of vitality and manhood, and all kindred troubles. Also for rheumatism, neuralgia, paralysis and [illegible] other diseases. Complete restoration to [illegible] guaranteed. Write [illegible] free.

THE MODEL SCHOOLS.

The Minister of Education sent a circular to the different School Boards in the Province where county Model schools are already established, stating that they were designed to place within the reach of all the young teachers of the province the facilities for properly learning the art of teaching and inquiring as to the nature of the facilities provided. The response made by trustees to the requirements of the Education Department has, in the main, been very satisfactory, and has led to the establishment of 52 Model schools, in which nearly 1,000 teachers are annually trained. Complaint is made (1st) that the Legislative grant is not sufficient, and 2nd, that the Model School interferes with the work of the Public School. So anxious have Boards been to aid in the great work of improving the school system that already in 12 schools the Principals have been relieved during the whole of the Model School term, and in 18 schools from two to three hours per day. In the remaining 22 schools no adequate relief has been provided. As this it a vital matter to the success of the whole scheme, the Minister of Education suggests the following plans for relieving the Principal:

1 Employing an extra assistant during the Model School term.

2 Employing a duly qualified person to do the Model School work.

3 Dismissing a junior division at 11 a.m. and at 3 p. m., and allowing the teacher to take some of the less difficult subjects in the Principal's room.

4 Securing the services of a High School student during a portion of each day. As Boards of Trustees are to be permitted, under the new regulations, to impose a fee of not more than $5 on each teacher-in-training, the expense incurred will be fully met without any additional cost to the Board.

CANADIAN NOTES.

SALVATION GIRL ARRESTED.

ST. CATHARINES, July 29.—Eliza Jane Beattie, a girl 16 years old, wearing a salvation bonnet, was arrested at the instance of the Toronto police. She ran away from her mother's home in Toronto, and will be sent back.

A TORONTO SWINDLE.

A few months ago G. H. Dawson, agent for "Gauband & Son," 19 Adelaide St. east, Toronto fashion importers, solicited orders from nearly every dress making establishment in the city and collected the cash $2.50 in advance. As the first number was to be delivered by the 16th inst. and as nothing has since been heard of it the conclusion is reached that Dawson is a swindler and "Gauband & Son" a myth. Others should look out for Dawson.

SHANNONVILLE NOTES.

From our own Correspondent.

SHANNONVILLE, July 29.—A fine substantial iron bridge has just been completed over the Salmon river at Milltown, greatly to the advantage of the business interests of the place, especially the gristing. The bridge was manufactured at the foundry of R. Weddell, Trenton, Ont., and is exceedingly creditable to local enterprise. A similar structure is greatly needed at Shannonville to replace the old rickety bridge, which is becoming unsafe for travel.

A sloop came to our wharf here last week with a cargo of Nebraska wheat for Lazier's grist mill. This is a new departure and only indicates what might be done if more capital were invested in utilizing our splendid water privileges and extending the business interest of the place.

The Masonic Excursion from here to Massassaga on the 22nd was a success notwithstanding the unfavorable condition of the morning. First of all the rain fell in showers and then our boat, the Utica, in coming up the river got aground, and there was a delay of two hours in getting her afloat. In the meantime the weather cleared, and about 11 o'clock we got fairly under way with a happy crowd of pleasure seekers on board and a very pleasant time was spent. Our host, Mr. Williams, of the Massassaga House, provided a capital dinner at a moderate charge and was very attentive to the comfort of all.

A misstep will often make a cripple for life. A bottle of Henry & Johnson's Arnica and Oil Liniment at hand, will not prevent the misstep but used immediately it will save being a cripple.

Not a particle of calomel or any other deliterious substance enters into the composition of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. On the contrary they prove of special service to those who have used calomel and other mineral poisons as medicines, and feel their injurious effects. In such cases Ayer's Pills are invaluable.

A STARTLING DISCOVERY.

Mr. Wm. Johnston, of Huron, Dak., writes that his wife had been troubled with acute Bronchitis for many years, and that all remedies tried gave no permanent relief, until he procured a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, which has a magical effect, and produced a permanent cure. It is guaranteed to cure all Diseases of Throat, Lungs, or Bronchial Tubes.

SPORTING NEWS.

News of the Regatta from our Oswego Correspondent.

THE LACROSSE MATCH TO MORROW.

OSWEGO, July 29.—The arrangements for the first regatta of the Lake Yacht Racing Association to-morrow are now completed. The big yachts will be started at 10 a. m., and the second class at 10:15. The course for the former will be one of thirty miles, for the latter twenty miles. The entries in the first class list are: Aileen, Verve, and Rivet of Toronto; Ella, and Ethel of Oswego; Garfield of Kingston; and Cygnet of Cobourg. In the second class the following yachts will start:—Iolanthe and Gracie of Belleville; Coquette, of Hamilton; Emma, of Toronto; Laura, of Kingston; Cricket, Katie Gray, Farcinatior, of Oswego; and Zeta of Sackets' Harbor.

KINGSTON'S EXPLANATION.

The Kingston yachtsmen state that they would have held the regatta on Saturday but that it would be impossible to get a crowd that day. The merchants would not subscribe if the regatta were held on that date. Another thing, the committee did not desire to interfere with the Oswego races. In order that the Belleville regatta shall not suffer, the Kingstonians have offered to tow to that place the yachts of the owners who wish to take part in the races there. There was no intention whatever to injure the prospects of the Bay of Quinte regatta when the Kingston date was fixed for the 4th of August.—News. It is certain that the Kingston yachtsmen would not intentionally injure Belleville regatta, but their vacillation had that tendency.

130 LIVES LOST.

In the Collision on the Mediterranean Sea.

LONDON, July 28.—The survivors of the steamship Laxham report that on the evening of the collision there was a thick fog. The Laxham was going slow and both steamers were sounding their whistles. The Gijon struck the Laxham amidships and the latter was nearly cut assunder. The funnel well and the steam pipe burst and the engineer was horribly scalded. Most of the Laxham's crew boarded the Gijon, Captain Lothion tied his wife and child to himself and all were hauled aboard the Gijon by a rope. The Laxham sank in twenty minutes after the collision. The Gijon soon began to settle and terrible confusion prevailed. The captain stood with his revolver in his hand, but was unable to keep order. The passengers and crew were fighting for their lives. Boats were lowered and filled to the gunwales, but could not accomodate half the people. Those who had secured places were obliged to keep off others with knives. The Gijon sank bow first. The quarter deck was crowed with men and women. The captain and officers were on the bridge. It is estimated 130 persons perished.

THE BRITISH ASSOCIATION.

Montreal, July 29.—The Treasurer of the British Association announces the total receipts for the entertainment of members up to date as $8,290.

Among the visitors to the British Association meeting recently booked for quarters at the Windsor are Mr. Joel Cook, correspondent London Times; Prof. E. L. Youmans, editor Popular Science Monthly, New York; Miss Eliza A. Youmons, the authoress in botany and kindred topics; Dr. Dallinger, Cambridge; Major-General Laurie, Oakdale, N. S.; Prof. Felix Adler, the founder of the Society for Ethical Culture, New York; W. K. Muir, of Detroit, and Dr. T. W. Gross, the eminent surgeon of Philadelphia.

Preparations are being made at McGill College for the approaching meeting and considerable changes are being made in the central corridor of the main building, Faculty of Arts, by the removal of the partitions, etc.

A NEW ALLAN LINE.

MONTREAL, July 29.—The Messrs Allen are establishing a steamship service to run between Montreal, and London, Eng. The "Norwegian" will leave here on August 11th, and the "Lucerne" is to sail from London on the 13th of the same month calling at St. Johns Nfld., and Halifax.

A BABY FARM.

TORONTO, July 29.—In a baby farm existing on Munro street a number of infants have died lately, and residents in the locality are calling for an investigation. Yesterday an unfortunate woman called to see her child, which was left in care of the establishment, and a tiny corpse was all that was shown to her. Her grief created a scene. It is alleged that filth and starvation are the causes of the mortality.

A SEARCH WARRANT.

If there is any lurking taint of scrofula in the system, Burdock Blood Bitters are warranted to search it out.

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficent. For sale by all Druggists.

THE HOP MARKET.

The hop market is quiet and dull and transactions light. Considerable attention is given to the growing vine, and conjectures and estimates are made as to the coming yield. Hops are in blossom and the general information is that the crop will be lighter than last year. The cold, dry, windy weather is unfavorable for the growth of the hop. Worms working in the roots of hops are said to be injuring the vine.

NEW YORK, July 28.—The market remains very quiet and without change. Shippers are not even making offers, and brewers buy only in a small way. In other quarters there is likewise a general indisposition because of lack of incentive for taking more goods than may be required to meet the current moderate demand. Prices are nominal in a great measure; with strictly choice goods held somewhat firmly, but medium grades not all difficult to obtain at the figures quoted.

BASEBALL AND THE JAIL.

The legility of the action of the Police Magistrate yesterday in sentencing to three days' imprisonment the two apprentices of the firm of James Stewart & Co., for absenting themselves on Monday may be unquestionable, but its expediency is certainly open to grave question. Being indentured apprentices they were no doubt guilty of a breach of contract, but it looks more like a travesty upon justice than anything else to punish them as criminals for the offence. From the evidence it was shown that like a great number of otherwise estimable citizens, they had a bad of the baseball feaver, which reached its height with the avent of the Buffalo League team in this city. For them, in this respect, many excuses might fairly be pleaded. Older heads—bald ones too—deserted their workshops and stores on Monday afternoon last, and spent the time in Dundurn as eagerly and excitedly over the game as two youthful culprits could possiblythave done. A man with the baseball craze is not amendable to law or reason, and would willingly break the whole of the Decalogue—to say nothing of an indenture—rather than lose an opportunity of seeing a league game, and 'hollering,' himself hoarse at the players. —Hamilton Times.

THE COMING LEPER SHOW.

It appears that a gentlemen who purports to be of the medical profesion is on his travel eastward from San Francisco bringing with him a novel exhibition of two Chinese lepers. Somehow the Western cities through which the leprosy circus is expected to pass do not seem alive to the interest and importance of the opportunity offered them. On the contrary, the press of Indianapolis, Chicago Cincinnati and other cities vie with each other in inviting the exhibitor of lepers to pass them by. Cincinnati threatens him with a spontaneous riot if he appears there; Indianaposlis vouches for the entre lack of curiosity on the part of her citizens regarding leprosy, and Chicago points with pride at the Presidential candidate of the republican party as a reason for not indulging in further investigation in that direction.—New York Herald.

A SPECIAL INVITATION.

We especially invite a trial by all those sufferers from Kidney and Liver complaints who have failed to obtain relief from other remedies and from doctors. Natures great remedy, Kidney-Wort, has effected cures in many obstinate cases. It acts at once on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleansing the system of all poisonous humors and restoring a healthy condition of those important organs. Do not be discouraged but try it.

A PHYSICIAN'S SUICIDE.

Dr. William M. Doran, a bachelor physician in the village of Mount Vernon, Westchester county, for twenty years, shot and killed himself yesterday in his room, at the reidence of H. T. Knapp, Mount Vernon. He was 52 years old. He was a graduate of Bellevue Hospital Medical College, and was hospital surgeon at Fort Smith, Arkansas, during the war. Ill health, finally compelled him to retire from the practice. He wrote papers on surgery which were printed in the Medical Record, poetry on Ireland for the village papers, was corespondent of a newspaper in Sligo, and spent three years in writing a book on the authorship of the letters of Junius which is in manuscript. Dr. Doran argues that Henry Flood was the author of the letters.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF.

And perhaps in the distant future when the ages have grown old, and move with slow and failing steps down the corridors of time—When the adjuncts and appliances that now make life endurable are forgotten, how gladly will the people hail the rediscovery of Putnam' Painless Corn Extracter, the great and only sure pop corn cure of this age. Without a rival for efficacy or painless action, certain in every case and yet perfectly harmless to every other part, surely its loss would be felt in future ages as keenly as its value is now appreciated by all in this. Try Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Sure and safe. N.C. Polson & Co., Kingston, proprietors.

LIQUOR PROSECUTION.

Louisa Filion, hotel keeper of Trenton, was charged at the police court this morning by License Inspector Grainger with selling liquor during prohibited hours on 12th July.

Mr. Hilton, of Trenton, appeared for the defendant and entered the objection that this case had already been brought before the courts by the Dominion License Inspector, and was still sub judice. The alleged offence he said was the same in both charges, and he submitted the defendant should not be fined twice for the same offence.

Mr. W. J. Diamond appeared for the Dominion Government and urged that the Ontario Act was ultra vires.

The Magistrate decided to hear the evidence and at the close he enlarged the case for judgment until 25th August.

"ROUGH ON PAIN."

NORTHWEST SOIL.

Mr. E. W. Ashley, of Foxboro, now in Assessippi, sends samples of top and sub soil taken from township 23, range 24 of the Shell River district. The top soil is a beautiful dark loam, having the appearance of rich mould. In it apparently anything could be grown. The samples are said to be average and typical of the whole of the half section.

A CARD.—To all who are suffering from errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. The Whig says that the tickets are being largely taken up for the Kingston Lacrosse Club excursion to Belleville on Wednesday. It is hoped that Belleville will not allow the Kingstonians to be in a majority on the ground to-morrow.

The press throughout the Province has been noticing the Belleville celebration on the civic holiday in a complimentary manner. The Kingston Whig says:—"There is to be a great demonstration in connection with the civic holiday in Belleville on 18th August. The labor unions of all the towns and cities in Ontario will be asked to send delegates to it.

At the police court this morning Laurence Kiser, drunk and disorderly, was fined $2. David Neal, on a similar charge, got the same dose. Thomas McCue was charged with assaulting and beating Isabel Pickell. The defendant denied striking her, when the fair Isabel stepped up to the bar and answered him thus:—"Tom McCue, your a liar, straight." That settled it and Thomas paid his fine of $3.

Mr. Wm. Edgar, General Traffic Manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, has written the Knights of Labor Demonstration Committee, stating that on the 18th of August return tickets will be issued from all points within 33 miles of Belleville at a single fare, and one cent a mile over that between Toronto and Brockville, making the return rate from Kingston only $1.30—less than a single fare. This is a remarkably low scale of rates. The steamboats will carry passengers at a single fare. The committee will meet to-night in the Hooks rooms.

The report of the Harbor Master shows the total number of pieces assorted at the boom this spring 380,255, divided as follows: Logs, 331,618; floats, 3,623; cedar, 12,457; posts, 7,269; ties, 20,872; jots, 4,156; long logs, 1,222; timber, 39. The tallyman began work on May 21, and ended on July 26. This statement as compared with last year shows a marked decrease. In 1883 the total number of pieces was 551,513, as follows: Logs 470,791; floats, 7,984, timber, 95; cedar, 27,649 posts, 25,689; ties, 11,279; jots, 8,908; traverses, 3,718. This will show a falling off in the revenue of the harbor of several hundred dollars.

At this season of the year, when all are liable to an attack of cholera, every family should be protected by having in the house a good reliable remedy. Such a remedy will be found in Holden's Cholera Drops, for sale at Geen's drug store.

WISELY ADOPTED BY DAIRYMEN.
The adoption by most of the prominent dairymen and farmers of the United States, of the Improved Butter Color made by Wells Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt., is a proof of their wisdom in a business point of view. Nearly all winter butter is colored in order to make it marketable, and this color is the best in regard to purity, strength, permanence and perfection of tint.

CITY COUNCIL:

Estimates Passed and a Rate of 15 Mills Struck.

$1,000 FOR THE HOSPITAL.

A meeting of the City Council was held last evening His Worship Mayor Dunnet in the chair. Present Ald. Clarke, Alford, Tickell, Baker, Graham, Pope, Cooper, McIninch, Diamond, Biggar, Vandusen, Hanley, Campion, Pringle, Macoun and LaRoche.

The Board of Health asked for $50 to purchase disinfectants.

Chief Engineer Campbell recommended that three fire stands be built on the western bank of the river between the two bridges, two north of the upper bridge and one below the lower bridge.

Police Magistrate Flint called upon the council for prompt action in improving the sanitary condition of the police cells and city buildings.

A petition signed by a large number of citizens to have the fire teams employed on Front street was read. The petition was sent to the Fire Committee.

The Opera House Directors again asked that the taxes be remitted on the building for 1884. The petition was referred to the Executive Committee.

The council adopted the recommendation of the Fire Committee for a fire tank on Church Street in the vicinity of the Central school. Cost $300. Tenders will be advertised for at once.

THE ESTIMATES.

In Committee of the Whole, Ald. La Roche in the chair, Ald. Diamond moved the adoption of the estimates as previously published in these columns, fixing the rate at 15 mills on the dollar. The increased assessment on income and personal property he said in a great measure accounted for the decrease in the ratio this year. He provided for everything fully except a sinking fund, and this had been supplemented and would continue to be by the proceeds from non-resident lands. These lands would, he hoped, be sold this year, whereby the city would realize a large revenue. The amount of cash on hand from last year was brought into the estimates as a surplus amounting to $17,828.88. In this statement he included $27,810 of uncollected taxes brought over, deducting the unpaid accounts amounting to over $10,000. The total ordinary receipts this year would be about $14,224, the expenditure $68,084.75, which with the cost of collectors, $4,639.97, would make a grand total of $72,774.72, leaving $39,751.49 to be levied for. This would require a rate of 10½ mills for municipal purposes and 4½ mills for school purposes, making a total rate of 15 mills on the dollar. He believed this rate would be satisfactory to the people, who he thought expected a lower rate this year than last in view of the increased assessment. He proposed to give the Women's Christian Association $1,000 this year, with the recommendation to next year's council for $1,000 more. This he said was all that had been asked for, and this grant was made in the only manner possible legally. If the grant was increased this year the rate would have to be raised. If this was done it would not only be felt by the people but it would bear too heavily on the Roman Catholics who now pay two mills more for school purposes than the supporters of the public schools. If the council whished to please the taxpayers generally they would sanction the rate of 15 mills. The ladies had urged, he believed, every member of the council for an increased grant except himself, but for reasons best know to themselves they had refrained from even mentioning the matter to him. He objected to such treatment, but expressed himself nevertheless in sympathy with their work.

A DANGEROUS POLICY.

Ald. Pope opposed the passage of the 15 mills. If Ald. Diamond was allowed to bring into account the revenue from last year, he would like to know where the city would be next year. This money was always needed in the early part of the year to pay the overdue accounts. He has included all the unpaid taxes of last year and fixed the rate of 15 mills, which would leave the city with exactly nothing next January. The only alternative then would be to compell the citizens to pay their taxes at once, but Ald. Diamond a short time ago said this would never do. The city had been paying 6 per cent. on borrowed money and receiving 3 per cent. on the sinking fund. Was that a paying business? He did not think that a rate less than 16 or 17 mills would answer this year, leaving a surplus to run the council into next year instead of paying 6 per cent. on borrowed money. He did not believe that the nonresident lands would be sold this year, nor even next. He thought $2,000 should be given to the hospital now. It was disgraceful he said the present state of the cells. He moved that the rate be made 15½ mills for the purpose of giving the ladies $2,000, and the balance of about $800 to the market committee for repairing the cells.

TOO MUCH ECONOMY.

Ald. Vandusen was an economist, but he did not believe in the "penny wise and pound foolish" policy. If the rate was low this year it would be burdensome next. The rate of 15 mills should be carefully considered before it was passed. He was in favor of the extra grants to the Market and Women's Association. Legally he did not think the city could take the uncollected taxes from last year and levy on them as cash.

Ald. Petrie was in favor of the lowest rate possible and accepted that proposed by the Chairman of the Executive.

Ald. Tickell was anxious to have a low rate, which he thought the people, especially those in Ketcheson Ward, anticipated if they had not there would have been more appeals before the Court of Revision. He was in accord with Ald. Diamond's views on the hospital grant. There were citizens he said who were opposed to giving the ladies anything, but such a class of people he did not think were worthy of notice. He was sure the council next year would give the Women's Association $1,000, for he added:—"they have the whole thing in their own hands. They will elect men who will favor the grant." He favored $2,000, but payable in two years, and highly eulogized the laudable work in which the ladies were engaged.

A SERIOUS CHARGE.

Ald. Pringle claimed the ladies misrepresented the hospital matter to the council, by stating that the cost would be only $15,000, whereas the lowest tender was $18,000.

Ald. Diamond and McIninch sotto voce—Yes, the lowest tender was $27,000.

Ald. Pringle continuing: I think $1,000 this year is sufficient for the ladies, and as to the police cells they would be very much improved if the police themselves did not commit nuisances within the building. (Hear, hear.)

Ald. Alford remarked that it was difficult to tell where to find Ald. Tickell. At a late meeting he was in favor of $2,000 for the hospital this year; now he moves for $1000. He (Ald. Alford) was in favor of 16 mills.

THEIR HANDS ARE CLEAN.

The Mayor said that the ladies did not misrepresent the matter to the Council, as they did not intend to expend more than $15,000.

Ald. Diamond—Did not the ladies know at that time that one tender had been sent in for $27,000.

The Mayor—I cannot answer that.

Ald. Diamond—I don't like to mention names.

The Mayor—Perhaps Ald. Hanley can answer you, but I believe the ladies as soon as they found out who the tenders were had the plans revised and the cost of the building reduced.

Ald. Hanley said he thought the tender of $27,000 was for the whole building, but it was not their intention to erect the whole building now. Since the change in the plans he said the building would cost between $12,000 and $15,000. He was in favor of a grant of $2,000. As to the police cells he said they would never be fit for human habitation until they were removed entirely from the building. He was in favor of the extra half mill to meet these demands.

Ald. Diamond in reply said he was an admirer of consistency but Ald. Pope was far from the mark. He (Ald. Pope) censured him for the way in which he brought down the estimates, but in the face of this he moved half a mill more and to leave the estimates as they were. The cells could be remedied if the recommendation of the Board of Health was adopted.

TOO HONEST BY HALF.

Ald. Petrie stated that he would not take the responsibility himself of making these improvements to the cells.

The clerk read the resolution passed by the council at a late meeting, authorizing him to go on with the work without delay. He was again authorized by the council to have the work done.

Ald. Biggar strongly objected to the Aldermen who charged the ladies with making false misrepresentation to the council for the purpose of getting money. Such conduct, to say the least, was unbecoming a gentleman. He could not account for the somersault taken by Ald. Tickell in this matter but he hoped he could. The rate in his opinion should be more than 15 mills. If it was not the council would have to borrow $40,000 or $50,000 to run the city next year until the taxes of that year come in. If the rate this year was 15 mills, it will have to be at least 22 mills in 1885. Such financing was a new thing to him.

Ald. Macoun did not object to the rate of 15 mills.

Ald. McIninch said last year Ald. Dickson proposed a rate of 19 mills in order to have a surplus among other things and then Ald. Pope, Vandusen and the Mayor, (then an alderman), urged a lower grant in order not to have that surplus. Now Ald. Diamond proposes to use that surplus and have a low rate, but he is opposed by the same gentleman again for exactly adopting the policy they proposed in 1883.

A BAD POLICY.

The Mayor said if 15 mills was agreed to this year, the rate would be 19½ mills in 1885. There was no help for this, and he was afraid a low rate had such a hold on this council that they would adopt it. This year the council had to borrow money in July, but with a rate of 15 mills the loan would have to be made in January. He showed in justification of the work of the Womens' Christian Association, that in 1879 the city expended over $3,000 for indigent purposes, whereas the ladies only spent about $1,500 this year. If the city had continued to control the poor and sanitary funds they would soon have lost the grant asked towards the hospital now.

Ald. Tickell denied that he showed "a new front" on this hospital question.

FIFTEEN MILLS CARRIED.

Ald. Pope withdrew his first motion and substituted one asking that the estimates be laid over for two weeks. This was lost and the estimates were passed without amendment.

A CONTRACT LAID OVER.

Ald. Hanley opposed the grant for a drain on Catharine Street until an estimate was obtained of the cost of a drain down Catharine Street. This was carried and the recommendation of the Board of Works awarding the contract for the drain to Thomas Harris, was laid over. On motion of Ald. Pope new tenders were asked for.

In compliance with a largely signed petition a half holiday was granted for the 8th August, the date of the regatta.

The Mayor stated that it was his intention to donate his salary of $200 from the city to the Women's Christian Association.

COOPER'S FIRE.

Ald. Cooper moved that a committee of investigation be appointed to enquire into the cause of the burning of his mill, while a fire steamer was on hand but not throwing water for some time. He spoke on this subject as previously reported in THE ONTARIO, and urged an investigation in justice to himself as well as to the city and the fire brigade. The Fire Committee was requested to investigate the matter as early as possible.

Ald. Petrie's motion, asking the railway to remove the siding on Pinnacle Street, was carried.

The By-laws confirming the rate were passed and the Council adjourned for a month.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The Executive Committee met last night previous to the council and passed the following accounts:—Intelligencer Company $327.80; ONTARIO $123.39; H. Tammadge $3.50. A reward, on motion of Ald. Cooper, of $500 was offered for the conviction of any person guilty of incendiarism in this city within the past three months.

The Board of Works passed the pay list amounting to $293.24. The following tenders were received for building a drain on Catharine street from the river to Cedar street: Wm. Robertson 4.95 per running yard; Robert McCoy $5.20; Thos. Harris, $4.75, and Richard Waterhouse $3.24 per running foot. The tender from Thos. Harris being the lowest was accepted, but the council objected to the report and laid the tenders over for a month.

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "29 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 28, 1882. "Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly, W. M. PHILLIPS."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the SARSAPARILLA in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1882. Yours gratefully,

HIRAM PHILLIPS."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blotches, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

CHOLERA

—IS—

COMING!

The countries where Cholera prevails, as in India, China and Africa, Pain-Killer is considered the surest and safest of all known remedies, and natives place the utmost perfect reliance in it

Read the following extract from the letter of a missionary in China:—

DEAR SIRS—I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain-Killer you had the goodness to send me last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. The Cholera appeared here soon after we received it. We resorted at once to the PAIN-KILLER, using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain-Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered.

Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours, J. M. JOHNSON,
Missionary to Swaton, China.

LOVE'S LOTTERY

OR,

THE RIVAL SISTERS.

'Apparently not. Nevertheless, I prefer action to speculation.'

'You say you start at once?'

'At once.'

'Then I will not detain you; it would be a sin,' added Loring, with a sarcastic sneer 'to stay the eager wings of such an amorous Cupid.'

'He, he, he! you like your joke, sir; you like your joke. I ain't one of nature's beauties, p'raps,' remarked Jabez Sceladden, grinning as he arose; 'but that doesn't matter in men.'

'It might in the ladies' opinion,' muttered Loring as he followed his guest's example.

'Do you remain in New Orleans, sir?' asked the latter. 'Shall I find you here on my return?'

'I can scarcely tell; I imagine not. If possible, I may follow; but there is not the haste needed on my part as on yours. It will be time enough for me to arrive, if I see necessary, after the papers are signed and you are master of Longueville.'

Agreeing to this with a snaky self-satisfied smile, Mr. Jabez Scladden undulated, slipped and wriggled out of the room.

No sooner had the door closed than Peter Grum, who had remained silent during the interview, now made a step forward, and said—

It's your intention of course to start at once for Longueville?'

'Of course, was the response; 'I must reach there; as soon as that fellow. What a slimy sneak he looks.'

'And is,' laconically remarked Grum.

'Yes; I must be on the spot ready to act. But on no account must Jabez Scladden be aware of my presence. Are the horses waiting?'

'They must be; I ordered them to be taken outside of the town half an hour ago. Am I to attend you?'

'Yes. you will be needed.'

How then about the steamer, and Mr. Belmore's arrival,

'That is of little moment; the vessel cannot possibly reach New Orleans before our work is over, if it is to be over at all. Should Eustace belmore come—he comes too late. Victory is ours, dear Grum—viciory. Now for the horses; I trust you have seen well to their strength and speed as before a week we must be far away from here, crossing the great prairie. If all go well,' he added with an amused laugh, 'our friend Jabez Scladden shall find that after all the 'slip 'twixt cup and lip' excellently verified.'

CHAPTER XXI.

LONGUEVILLE—THE MYSTERIOUS BILLET.

Longueville was an extensive and handsome estate, to which the late Colonel Beauchamp had added to all the comforts and beauties of American vegitation those of a refined cultivated European taste and education.

No house in Lousiana was it's equal—or no estate, for though worked by slaves, it was a slavery under the English officer's rule that possessed more pleasure and good living than enjoyed by the British agricultural laborer.

The Longueville negroes counted themselves on the whole a happy race, and, save in a few rare instances, returned the obligation by a sincere gratitude to their owners, which ensured a hearty welcome for the sisters.

The depression that, despite their efforts the latter could not shake off, lightened relatively with both as they neared their dear their beloved home—the place of their birth, where they had lived years of happiness, which, if equalled could never be surpassed in the future,

'Oh, Juliette!' ejaculated Pauline impulsively, as she caught the first sight of Longueville through a break in one of those primeval forests, where the mahogany and other valuable timber trees flourish luxuriantly. How beautiful it looks, bathed in this glorious sunshine! I begin to feel it almost a sin to part with it, though our dear father willed we should. I feel after all I should like to make it my home as it was d'l.'

'Possibly with you, Pauline; I cannot share the sensation,' responded the Creole her previous smile clouding, and her tone taking a meaning which the other instantly read.

An expression of grief shone in her eye, as throwing herself on her sister's bosom, she exclaimed, contritely—

'Juliette, my own good sister, forgive me; but surely you do not let that cowardly, that disgraceful scene of the other night trouble you?'

'Trouble me!' ejaculated the Creole, with sudden, bitter energy. 'Pauline does the poisoned thorn cease to trouble while it is imbedded in the quivering flesh?'

'But why should so false—so cruel a falsehood remain imbedded?'

'Why? Ah, how little your nature can understand mine,' responded Juliette, with a slight inflection of scorn very little scorn. 'I tell you what has happened will never cease to trouble me—will never be out of my thoughts while I remain in this land, now so hateful. The spirit must be poor and mean, indeed, which could forget so cruel an insult. Imagine!' and her face, crimson with indignation, her eyes flashing, she pointed to a negress in the neighboring field. They lowered me to her level—to such a being as that—the level of one—a slave whose right to live, to love, even to eat is ruled by her master's will; who at that will can be whipped, scourged, and sold, as in England they sell cattle, Is that insult ever to be forgotten—ever pardoned?'

Great Medical Work on Manhood

Exhausted Vitality, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Errors of Youth, and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses. A book for every man, young, middle aged, and old. It contains 125 prescriptions for all acute and chronic diseases, each of which is invaluable. So found by the Author, whose experience for 23 years is such as probably never fell to the lot of any physician. 300 p. bound in beautiful French muslin, embossed covers, full gilt, guaranteed to be a finer work in every sense—mechanical, literary and professional—than any other work sold in this country for $2.50, or the money will be refunded in every instance. Price only $1 by mail postpaid. Illustrative sample 6 cents. Send now. Gold medal awarded the author by the National Medical Association, to the officers of which he refers.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE should be read by the young for instruction and the afflicted for relief. It will benefit all.—London Lancet.

There is no member of society to whom THE SCIENCE OF LIFE will not be useful, whether youth, parent, guardian, instructor, or clergyman.—Argonaut.

Address the Peabody Medical Institute, or Dr. W. H. Parker, No. 4 Bulfinch-street, Boston, Mass., who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Vital Questions!

Ask the most eminent physician
Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?
And they will tell you unhesitatingly
"Some form of Hops! ! !"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians:
"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, debetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—
"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu !"
Ask the same physicians
"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.," and they will tell you :
Mandrake! or Dandelion !"
Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable.
And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is
Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use

CHAPTER II.

"Patients
'Almost dead or nearly dying"
For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.
Women have gone nearly crazy ! ! ! !
From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.
People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic, or suffering from scrofula.
Erysipelas!
"Saltrheum, blood poisoning dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact, almost all diseases frail"
Nature is heir to
Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.

☞ None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile poisonous stuff with "Hop" or "Hops" in their name.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co's. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

MANITOBA CORRESPONDENCE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

BRANDON, July 24.—The weather continues cold still grain is looking well. In some sections frost has been reported, but no harm to crops has taken place. For about three weeks past we have had on an average three showers a week and the warm weather that followed each shower has done wonders for the harvest, which otherwise would have been, we fear, slim. Farmers are now taking their self binders home to be ready for harvesting.

The principal draw back in this country, and likely to be for some years is the want of railway connections. There are many sections settled hundreds of miles from any railroad and no possible way now of shipping grain in or out from these sections only by oxen and horses. We are quite aware of the fact however, that a complete net work of railways has not been established in any country from its infancy and we do not for one moment think it could be done here until a reasonable time expires. The Government, however have one very important thing to learn and that is this. That the Province of Manitoba and the Northwest is being settled by an ambitious and industrious class of settlers, and these settlers in the majority of cases are young men and demand a greater protection of rights than they have been given. There can be no argueing about it if the farmers of this county are to be held down below the other Provinces it must not be wondered at if they ask to be set aside. There are just as loyal men in this county as any part of the British Empire, but people will not submit to everything. Farmers have been obliged to take almost any figure for their grain owing to scheming upon the part of the elevator men and the C. P. R. The plan is simply this. Elevator men build their warehouses along the line with the understanding with the C. P. R. that they shunt no cars for loading grain only at their storehouses. This at once compels all farmers who have grain to sell to draw to the elevator and takes just what he is offered or hold it if he is able to do so. We do not for a second think that elevator men should invest largely without some security, neither do we think they should be allowed to monopolize the whole business. Some might say the farmers are foolish they don't lay down a side line and have a car run off and load themselves; but in reply to this the answer comes back the C.P.R. have pledged themselves to the elevator man not to do it. A pretty state of affairs this is surely, and will the government look on and allow this to continue? or do they class the agriculturists of this country as ignoramuses and not capable of appreciating anything advantageous to themselves ?

A NEW INVENTION.

ELECTRICAL APPARATUS FOR EXAMINING THE HUMAN INTERIOR.

Philadelphia Press.

One of the newest adaptions of electric illumination is in the shape of a very small lantern, which can be introduced into the stomach, for the purpose of aiding surgical and dentisal operations which cannot be carried on without light and for which it has been extremely difficult heretofore to obtain light by mirrors or other means. The lamp perlimarily consists of a delicate glass bulb, from which the air has been withdrawn and as nearly a perfect vacuum created as possible. The bulb varies in shape, being speroidal' flat and compass-shaped, and also cylindrical, with a conical termination. Through the thin walls of of the lantern run the connecting wire, connected by a carbon arc, on which the electricity centres, and which thus become the place of light. The glass lantern is vary small, the cylidrical shaped being scarcely half an inch in length, and with a diameter not nearly so great as that of an ordinary lead pencil.

When the lamp is placed in the mouth of a patient every portion of the throat even to the lowest parts, can be plainly seen. This will greatly facilitate the work of surgery and dentistry, and enable an operator to conceive a much more thorough diagnosis of a case than the use of any other means prievously known. Placed behind the teeth, but even the gum above highly transparent. If the teeth are good and undecayed, no lines will be visible—but the presence of a filling or of mere beginning of decay may at once be seen. When the lamp is placed within the mouth and the lips are closed, the entire front structure of the mouth is brought to view. The bone and tooth formations are easily discoverable, and even the interior of the nasal passages. In the same way the instrgment is of great value in the treatment of obstetrical diseare, and in studies of the stomach. No unpleasant sensations arr experienced by patients, in cases of protracted use, no other effect being noticeable than than that which follows drinking coffee. Mr E. T. Starr of Philadelphia is the inventor.

SAVED FROM A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Unto May I had spent at least five hundred dollars in treatment by many of the best medical men without benefit. My mouth became badly ulcerated sores breaking out on my neck and legs. I also suffered excruciatingly with Rheumatism, grew very despondent, and my best friends advised me that the icy hand of death was fast approaching. I caught at Shaker Blood Syrup like drowning man catches at a straw. After taking two bottles I could feel the change for the better. The sores began to discharge freely, and Rheumatism to abate. When I had taken six bottles every sore had healed and my skin began to assume a natural appearance. I persisted until I had taken twelve, and there is not a symptom of the disease remaining, and I feel as well as I ever did. I have gained twenty-one pounds in flesh, and my friends wonder at my improved condition. I have recommended it to many, and in every instance with complete success. I believe that Shaker Blood Syrup has saved me from a horrible death.
T S. C[illegible]n'South Boston Mass.

In 1874 I was the victim of terrible Blood Poison, and after being treated by three physicians was confined to my bed, not able to raise my hand to my head, spitting up clots of blood and reduced in weight from one hundred and eighty-five to one hundred and thirty pound. I then began the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, and in less than three months I was entirely well, weighing one hundred and ninety-six pounds, and have never had a symptom of the disease since. If it had not been for Shaker Syrup I believe I would have been in my grave.
Char. [illegible]erger, Hoboken, N.J,

HOARSENESS AND FAILURE OF voice from congestion of the vocal cords follicular disease of the fauces, or ministers sore throat, are often the results of bronchial trouble, extending up the trachea and larnyx, affecting the whole mucous tract of the air passages. These diseases are the outcome or expression of nerve debility and blood impoverishment from overworking the system and excessive use of the organs involved. Here constitutional treatment is reduired to restore nutrition and nerve power, and WHEELER'S Phosphates and Calisaya has been successfully used by singers and public speakers.

THE DAILY ONTARIO.

SEPULCHRES OF BURIED CAPITAL.

A correspondent of the Kingston Whig, signing himself "An Investor," writes to that paper in a very doleful strain, thinking probably that the large dividends he was led to expect from his investments are in his eye. He says:

If this city be an index of the effects of the N.P. in general its course must be a disastrous one, apparent to the unprejudiced who investigate the conditions of the industries forced into existence by it. The tall chimnies that delighted and deceived by an evanescent and artificial show of prosperity, are now but monuments that mark the sepulchres of buried capital. The sounds that were misconstrued by a mistaken minister for the 'hum" of prosperity have proven to be the dead march, played for the "infant industries" which could not be reared on a tonic. Mark some of this funeral procession of dead investments, forced to a premature birth and early death by the national pill: The locomotive and engine works are closed; the car works are closed; anxious nurses are watching the feeble life-currents of the cotton mill. This list does not include the minor corporations that are breathing out the last of an ephemeral and uncalled-for life. There is but one enterprise here that can be cited as prospering under the high tariff, the workmen of which are convicts.

The Globe is now publishing reports from industrial centres on the condition of the manufacturing interests and they form no more cheerful reading than the above lament. It is shown that the sudden impetus, which no one denied the new tariff would give to investment, was only transitory and that its effects have been of permanent injury. It needed not this additional proof that the N. P., or a protective tariff, could not and has not raised the rate of wages which are regulated by the times and the existing competition.

In Hamilton, where the fathers of the N.P. have their home, capital has been locked up in unremunerative investments and where work is not slack it is suspended altogether. The straw hat factory and the knitting factory have disappeared. Some of the leading manufacturers in this manufacturing city are convinced that the high tariff has been a hindrance instead of a help

In Oshawa the Joseph Hall Manufacturing Company, which in 1878, employed 225 hands, and in 1882, 200, at present give employment to but 150. At the Malleable Iron Works wages are 15 per cent lower than in 1882, and the number of hands is about half that previously employed. One of their factories is closed altogether though the industry was started prior to the N.P. One of the seed drill factories employs one half the number of hands engaged in 1878, and another shows a great falling off, while the third has almost held its own. The Oshawa furniture business has been much less prosperous under the N, P. than before it. There are now only about seventy-five men employed in the leading furniture factory against 150 last year, and nearly 200 in 1878, and during the years of the last depression. The smaller furniture factory employs fewer hands than before the N. P., and about a third less than in 1882; and besides are working only five days per week. The contrast between the activity of the Oshawa furniture trade in the few years before the N. P. with the dullness since is very marked. The carriage factory industry has also reduced the number of employees, and the tanneries are employing fewer hands than in 1878, or than a couple of years ago. Only one of the grist mills is now running—and its value has greatly fallen since the old tariff has discontinued. For the other grist mill which was running during the continuance of the old tariff and is now silent $5,000 was recently offered. At one time it was held at $40,000. To sum up, the number of men employed in Oshawa is several hundred less than last year, and considerably less than at any time during the depression of 1874-79. The aggregate product of the industries of Oshawa in the past year is about a quarter of a million dollars less than in 1878. Wages have fallen on an average 15 per cent. below last year's figures, and are rather less than in the last depression. The population of the town is exactly the same by this year's census as it was in 1878, the last year of the old tariff.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. Bunting has got back from Europe. The bribery commission has adjourned.—London Advertiser.

The news notes should be reversed, thus: The Bribery commission has adjourned. Mr. Bunting (of the Mail) has got back from Europe.

The Mail is wrong in attributing Sir John Macdonald's famous declaration regarding the wood and minerals of Northwestern Ontario to his Yorkville speech. It was made first at the Amphitheatre in Toronto and we would like our contemporary which complains of garbled extracts in the Grit press, to give us its own report of the Premier's words in the Amphitheatre, and we warrant that no Grit paper will refuse to reproduce it.

WORTH TEN DOLLARS A BOTTLE.

Any person who has used Polson's Nerviline, the great pain cure, would not be without it if it cost ten dollars a bottle. A good thing is worth its weight in gold, and Nerviline is the best remedy in the world for all kinds of pain. It cures neuralgia in five minutes; toothache in one minute; lame back at one application; headache in a few moments; and all pains just as rapidly. Small test bottles only cost 10 cents. Why not try it to-day? Large bottles 25 cents, sold by all druggists and country dealers. Use Polson's nerve pain cure—Nerviline.

CORNWALLE'S CRIME.

Outline of the Curious Case Now Agitating Dublin.

Toronto World.

The daily mention without explanation, in the cable despatches of what is called 'the Cornwall case,' has naturally aroused great curiosity as to what the pother is all about. The case is the most extraordinary one—so extraordinary that it defies detail—and none the less remarkable that the parties accused of making Dublin a Gomorrah are mostly government officials, and all members of what is termed 'society.'

William O'Brien is the youngest member of the Irish national parliamentary party, and one of the most aggressive of that pugnacious band. Because of this he became the object of a good deal of official attention from detectives in particular and the servants of Dublin castle in general. He revenged himself upon the official classes, from the lord lieutenant down, by raking them in his paper, United Ireland. During the progress of this vendetta he accused a superintendent of police named French, and one, Cornwall, secretary of the Dublin postoffice, of certain Turkish practices from which, as a distinguished writer has said' history averts her eyes.' The accused brought action for libel and the defendant pleaded justification. Presuming that a number of witnesses did not perjure themselves, the evidence reveals a state of affairs in what has hitherto been considered respectable Dublin circles that would not be tolerated among heathen savages. The jury believed the evidence and O'Brien was acquitted in the Cornwall case. Such was the effect of the exposure that French's counsel withdrew his case upon the plea that he is suffering from softening of the brain, and the authorities felt constrained to arrest Cornwall. Dr. Fernandes of the Coldstream Guards, and others implicated by the evidence in the libel suit.

The accused all possess powerful friends, and will hardly be committed except upon the clearest evidence. Whatever the outcome of their trials may be, the undoubted effect so far has been to intensify the popular dislike for the official classes, and to give aid and comfort to those who have always claimed that the Dublin government buildings are sinks of iniquity as well as centres of tyranny.

Such is the present status of 'the Cornwall case.' It is not an edifying matter to discuss, but as one that is daily mentioned it demands outlining, so that future mere mention of its phases may suffice to indicate all that is necessary or proper for the news-loving public to know about it.

THE LATEST NEWS.

Dublin, July 30.—The hearing of the scandal case has been transferred to the court of common pleas. The two men arrested yesterday were charged with keeping houses for unnatural practices. Women living in one of these have given testimony.

BOLTON V O'BRIEN.

Belfast, July 30.—The trial of the action for slander, brought against Wm. O'Brien, editor of the United Ireland, by Mr. Bolton prosecutor for the Crown, began yesterday. The court was crowded. Mr. O'Brien denied writing any article imputing unnatural crimes to Mr. Bolton. He justified the other charges he had made, The article in the United Ireland on which Mr. Bolton brings his action headed "A Deeper Depth," began as follows;—

We have discovered the real ground of Mr. Bolton's soreness, and we hasten to do justice to the man and to reassure him. True, we have designated Mr. Bolton a forger, an adulterer, a swindler, a bankrupt, a defrauder of his own wife, a suborner of false testimony, a witholder of true affidavits, as base an all-round member of society, as could be produced outside Dublin Castle circles.

ELABORATE SUICIDE.

The Apparatus a New Yorker Rigged for His Death.

PART OF IT DIDN'T WORK.

New York, July 29.—Julius Holweg, janitor of the double tenement house 154 Norfolk street, was an expert sharpshooter of an east side schuetzen corps. He was a tall, stout Prussian, with a big head, long flaxen hair, and a heavy moustache. He was in perfectly bodily health, and loved to drink beer and smoke his pipe in the neighboring saloon, where tenants met to play penuckle and gossip about the German Emperor. Twenty-three years ago he married in Prussia, and seven years ago he came to this city with his wife and his son. He had been noted at home for his skill as a hunter, and brought with him his single-barrelled gun. When he got his place as janitor his wife became cook in a down-town restaurant, where Evild, the son, worked as waiter.

His cheerfulness had not deserted him, seemingly, when Mrs. Holweg and her son left him at seven o'clock yesterday morning to go to work. He left the door unlocked and sat down in the back room and smoked his pipe. When the tobacco was all burned out he got up on a chair and stretched a piece of new telephone wire, with a spool on it, across the room and nailed it taut to the wall with picture hooks. Then he took down his gun and loaded it with buckshot and ball. The children of the other tenants watched him from the back yard. He tied the gun down to a table and pushed the table against the wall under the mirror so that the butt of the gun was chock against the wall. He put a screweye in the wall under the mirror, tied a cord to the trigger of the gun, ran it through the screweye and over the spool on the telephone wire, and let the end dangle over his chair. He cocked and capped the gun, got down his revolvers, blocked the rocking chair under the dangling cord with pieces of kindling wood so that it would not rock, poured out a glass of beer, lit his pipe, sat down in the chair, and surveyed himself in the glass.

The muzzle of the gun was a foot and a half from his chest, and pointed straight at his heart. He drank the beer, put the lighted pipe back into his mouth, tied the loose end of the dangling twine around his right hand, and taking a revolver in each hand fired two thirty-two calibre bullets into his head. The pistols fell into his lap, and his right hand dropped and jerked the twine over the spool and slightly tugged the trigger but not enough to fire the gun. His head dropped on over his right shoulder and the lighted pipe fell into his lap. The pipe was still smoking when tenants of the house startled by the double report, rushed in and discovered all this apparatus.

Two hours after Holweg's death, after the ambulance surgeon had come and gone, and the Eldridge street police had closed the room, Mrs. Holweg came in, intending to get supper ready for her husband and son. She pressed her hands to her temples, shrieked and fell at the bedside. When she had become calm she told Coronrner Merkle that the only possible cause for the suicide was a return of her husband's despondency The Coronrner gave permission to the widow and son to prepare the body for burial, and the pistols and the gun, and the machinery to discharge it, were removed to the station house.

AMERICAN SPARKS

A thousand miners employed by Markle & Co., of Wilkesbarre, Pa., are on strike in consequence of a difficulty about wages.

'No; because one-half of you appears to have dissolved in the water.'

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Toronto, July 30.—A young woman named Minnie Hutchinson spent yesterday afternoon on the Island in company with a couple of young men. They had a few drinks and all went well until about ten o'clock, when the three were standing at Heber's Hotel, south of Hanlan's. Without a moment's warning the young woman cried out, "Oh! see my mother is drowning, and rushed in the water." She was followed by one of the young men, who had great difficulty in bringing the girl to shore.

A SERIOUS ROW.

ASSAULT AND SHOOTING IN A TORONTO HOTEL.

Toronto, July 30.—A man named John Neil, a boarder at John Beers' hotel corner of King and Bathurst streets, forced an entrance about 2 o'clock yesterday morning into the apartment where the wife of the proprietor lay sleeping and attempted to assault her. She struggled with him and shrieked for assistance Mrs. Beers' brother Jno. Fitzpatrick, was aroused by his sister's cries, and making his way into her bedroom he met Neil near the door, Fitzpatrick had armed himself with a revolver before leaving his room, and on meeting Neil he fired one barrel at him, but luckily his arm was unsteady. Several of the boarders had also hurried to the scene, and before Fitzpatrick could repeat the shot, they had seized him and wrested the revolver from his grasp. The report of the shooting had also brought a couple of constables to the spot and both Fitzpatrick and Neil were arrested. At the Police Court the prisoners were arraigned, Fitzpatrick on a charge of having feloniously attempted to shoot Neil, and Neil with having attempted to commit an indecent assault on Mrs. Beer. Pleas of not guilty were entered in each case, and remands were granted for a few days.

CANADIAN NOTES.

The body of a dead infant was discovered on the sidewalk at Kingston.

The Montreal export of lumber to South America is this season 2,000,000 feet in excess of last season's export.

The Hon. Edward Blake was presented with an address of welcome by the Corporation of Essex centre yesterday.

A reduction of ten per cent. on Canadian Pacific Railway freights between Montreal and Port Arthur took effect on Monday.

Major Macpherson has ordered the suspension of Capt. William Hodgins, Adjutant of the Governor General's Foot Guards.

More than one thousand signatures over the required 25 per cent. have been secured for the submission of the Scott Act in Simcoe county.

Four boys playing on a lumber pile in Toronto yesterday were buried beneath the falling timber, and two of them received fatal injuries.

The fate of Mr. Johnston's surveying party is in doubt. They were seen alive on Sunday, but the despatch concerning the accident bears a later date.

Rev. W. Ross, M. A. one of the best known presbyterian ministers in Canada, died at Megantic, Que, Monday. He was ex-moderator of the synod of Montreal and Ottawa.

A special meeting of the Toronto Presbytery was called yesterday to consider the acceptance by Rev. Donald Fraser of the charge of the Pandora street church, Victoria, B.C. A resolution approving of Mr. Fraser's action was passed. The induction ceremony will take place Tuesday evening at Cook' Church, Rev. J. M. Cameron will preside.

CABLE BREVITIES.

Great precautions are being taken at Warwick to ensure order at the approaching trial of the dynamite conspirators—Daly, Egan and O'Donnell.

Nearly three hundred arrests have been in connection with the Warsaw plot to murder the Czar. It is said that the Czar is appalled at the revelations made.

Five Orangemen who took part in the late riots at Cleator, Ireland, have been committed for trial, and eleven discharged. A conference of British Liberals will be held to-day to consider the attitude to be taken by the party in reference to the House of Lords.

A SPECIAL INVITATION.

We especially invite a trial by all those sufferers from Kidney and Liver complaints who have failed to obtain relief from other remedies and from doctors. Nature's great remedy, Kidney-Wort, has effected cures in many obstinate cases. It acts at once on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleansing the system of all poisonous humors and restoring a healthy condition of those important organs. Don't be discouraged but try it.

AN INGENIOUS WOMAN.

'My wife is the most ingenious woman who ever lived,' said Jones.

'I believe you,' said Smith politely.

'But you don't know why you believe me,' intimated Jones.

'To tell the truth, I don't,' frankly replied Smith, looking bored.

'Well, I'll tell you. We've been married twelve years, and lived in the same house all the time, and this morning she found a new place to hide my slippers.

And Smith was paralyzed with admiration.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF.

And perhaps in the distant future when the ages have grown old, and move with slow and tailing steps down the corridors of time—When the adjuncts and appliances that now make life endurable are forgotten, how gladly will the people hail the re-discovery of Putnam' Painless Corn Extracter, the great and only sure pop corn cure of this age. Without a rival for efficacy or painless action, certain in every case and yet perfectly harmless to every other part, surely its loss would be felt in future ages as keenly as its value is now appreciated by all in this. Try Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Sure and safe. N.C. Polson & Co., Kingston, proprietors.

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient.—For sale by all Druggists.

A young man entered Templeton's yesterday and said: 'I want to get some arnica, Russia salve, carbolic acid, Empress Relief, Davis' Pain Killer, and a package of sticking plaster.' Druggist: 'All right, sir, all right. Anybody got hurt?' Y.M.: 'Oh, no. I've just bought a bicycle.'

Ald. Biggar has signified his intention to present a gold and silver medal for a three mile race at the tournament on August 18th. Dr. Willson will give a medal for an obstacle race. Besides these events there will be the following: Corby Cup race, Secretary's race, race for the Robertson gold medal, and others yet to be announced. There will be a grand time in bicycle circles.

MILL ACCIDENT.

James McGowan, head sawer at Flint and Holton's mill, was the victim of a bad accident while at work in the mill yesterday afternoon. He had just filed a large circular saw, weighing over a hundred pounds, and in passing in the saw rolled against his leg cutting it open from the ankle to the knee. The gash penetrated to the bone and was large enough to lay two fingers in. He was driven to Dr. Tracy's, where several stitches were put in the wound.

A meeting of the shareholders of the opera house company was held here last night, Dr. Willson in the chair. The mortgagees stated that they would transfer the quarterly payments to annual payments, and after a heated discussion this was agreed to and the meeting adjourned.

The Maud arrived here from Kingston shortly after two o'clock this afternoon with the Kingston lacrosse club and about two hundred excursionists. As the ONTARIO went to press the Kingston and Belleville representatives of the national game were fighting for supremacy on the lacrosse field.

At the police court this morning Walter Obigan and John Reid, drunks, were discharged. Andrew Towney, who is not a desirable citizen, having just finished a term in the penitentiary, was sentenced to 90 days or $5 and costs. Sentence was suspended on condition that he should leave town.

You will promote a most worthy object and spend an enjoyable evening by attending the parlor social and concert on Thursday evening at the residence of Irvine Diamond, Isabel street, (Murney's Hill). A good program will be provided consisting of readings, recitations, music, vocal and instrumental. 2t.

The Ramblers Bicycle Club are about to give a series of weekly entertainments in their park on Queen Street, at which the Oddfellows' Band will play, commencing next Tuesday. The park will be brilliantly illuminated, and bicycle races, some novel and amusing, will be held. Particulars will be announced by advertisement.

With fine weather the excursion on the Quinte to-morrow to the Murray Canal will be a success. The St. Andrew's Society has made ample preparations at the grounds for the accommodation of a large number and those who have not yet visited the canal, can spend a profitable day with the veteran Scots to-morrow. The boat leaves here at 9:30 sharp.

It is interesting now that the cholera is again threatening the country, to note that Dr. Stewart of this city was, during the epidemic of 1832, engaged for 3 months at Brockville battling with the dread disease, and sent an account of a post mortem examination he made of the body of a victim to the Brockville Gazette. This was his first year of practice. The doctor has since then been in three cholera epidemics.

A despatch from Toronto states that an impostor about 50 years old is going through the Province representing himself to be Jeffrey, the engineer of the freight train in the Humber disaster, and that his injuries, received then, prevent him from working. Jeffrey is working in Toronto, strong and healthy, and if the impostor comes to Belleville, people will know how to receive him.

Chief of Police Atkin, of Gananoque, states that John McDonald and Wm. O'Brien have arrived there with a black horse and buggy. They claim they are from Belleville and that the horse was got from a carter with one leg. The officer has them under arrest on suspicion of having stolen the equine. They are further charged with stealing numerous articles from farmers in that district.

At this season of the year, when all are liable to an attack of cholera, every family should be protected by having in the house a good reliable remedy. Such a remedy will be found in Holden's Cholera Drops, for sale at Geen's drug store,

A well-selected stock of wall paper, the cheapest in the city, and we are bound to clear out the entire stock.—T. Donnelly & Co.

HOPEFUL WORDS.

Mrs. McArthur, of Hopeville, Ont., says she could not keep house without Hagyard's Pectorial Balsam to cure prevailing throat and lung troubles.

PARALYSIS OF THE HEART.

Mr. Clare St. G. Yarwood Falls Dead on the Street.

Mr. Clare St. G. Yarwood dropped dead on Hotel street at one o'clock this afternoon, of paralysis of the heart. He was walking on the south side of the street in front of Dr. Curlett's residence in company with Mr. John Lazier, when death called him away. In falling he struck his left temple where a bruise could be seen afterwards, but death was almost instantaneous. The body was taken into Dr. Curlett's office and a few minutes later driven to the family residence on Forin street.

Mr. Yarwood was an old resident of Belleville, and was known to most of the present generation in this city as a quiet, gentlemanly person, respected by all who knew him. His familiar face will be sadly missed on our streets for a long time. He was a member of the civil service for several years under Sir John Macdonald's Government. After leaving the custom house here he was appointed Collector of Customs at Port Rowan on Lake Rowan on Lake Erie, and afterwards he held a similar position at Chippawa, where after serving the Government faithfully for a number of years, he was superannuated. He then came back to Belleville where he has lived ever since, carrying on a general insurance and loaning business. The deceased leaves a wife, three sons and three daughters. One of the sons is teller in the Bank of Montreal and another in the Bank of Commerce. Mrs. Yarwood was a daughter of the late Judge Dougall and a cousin to Mr. A. B. Dougall Q. C. She will have the heartfelt sympathy of a large acquaintance. The deceased was past 65 years of age.

CIRCULAR TO INSURANCE MEN.

The following circular has been received by the insurance agents in Kingston from the Canadian Underwriters' Association. It is binding on all companies doing business in Canada:

"The city of Kingston, having levied a tax upon fire insurance companies doing business there, the Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association has increased the fire insurance rates in accordance with the following resolution upon the subject, which was passed unanimously at the annual meeting of the association, held in Toronto on January 25, 1884:

'Municipal taxation—In cities and towns where taxation is imposed on insurance companies such places shall be classed under a lower letter of the tariff rates (involving an increase of rates), and in places classed E of the tariff, there being no lower letter, five cents additional shall be imposed on each $100 of the amount insured.

"I have, therefore, to notify you that on and after the first day of August next no insurances or renewals must be accepted within the limit of the said municipality of Kingston at lower rates than those required by tariff D."

T. A. BALL,

Manager, London & Lancashire Fire Insurance Co

The Kingston City Council passed a motion last night to re-consider its decision to assess the income of insurance companies. It is probable that their former resolution will be rescinded.

VERBATIM REPORTING

In the Sydney Legislative Assembly, a member was angry at the abridgment of his speeches, and he joined with others in demanding that full reports be given. The reporters revengefully gave his remarks verbatim: "The reporters ought not to—the reporters ought not to be the only judges of what is important, not to say what should be left out—but—the member only can judge what is important—as I—as my speeches—as the report—as what is reported sometimes no one—nobody can tell—no one can understand from the reports—what it is—what I mean," and so on.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

THE COUNTY RAILWAYS.

Mr. Editor,—The building of the Central Ontario Railway from Trenton to Coe Hill, in the township of Wollaston, is an accomplished fact. Five or six gravel trains, some of which are being loaded with a steam shovel, are now at work completing the balasting from Eldorado north. This work, it is expected, will be completed in about five or six weeks, and then there will be a railroad from Weller's Bay to Trenton,—five miles—and then from Trenton seventy four miles north, as well constructed and as efficiently equipped as any in Canada. A road bed far exceeding that of the Grand Trunk, with the highest grade only 52 feet to the mile, and all grades inclining to the south, so that all the heavy ore laden trains will virtually run down an incline, the elevation at Coe Hill being 950 feet above that at Trenton. The bridges are as substantial as stone, steel and modern engineering can make them. The culverts, on the southern half of the road are mostly of stone, and the track is laid with steel rails. That such an excellent road-bed has been obtained is greatly to the credit of the engineer. That such a railroad so efficiently built and equipped should be built in this county for the purpose of developing its resources, without municipal aid or Government bonus, is greatly to the credit of its proprietors. The lands in the northern part of this county are only fit for mining purposes after the lumbermen are done with them. An iron mine in the township of Wollaston or adjoining townships is worthless without a railroad. If these people risk their money in building a railroad into this country why should they not have the right, and the very best right to obtain at a reasonable figure the lands adjoining? With the exception of a little patch here and there, there is scarcely one lot out of a hundred fit for settlement from Bannockburn to L'Amable. If any of your readers dispute this, just let them run out to Madoc, hire a horse and buggy and drive out to L'Amable and return.

By the building of this road, very probably one million dollars of taxable property will be added to the county. This is an important item in itself, besides the large mining population, some of them with their families, which will be engaged in the work of the company. The grant of land to these proprietors lies between Wallbridge and L'Amable, excepting the small settlement at St. Ola, how many settlers does this county contain between the points I have mentioned? And how many settlers is this portion of the county capable of containing? In comparison to the Railway Company, if every available lot of land in this tract was settled upon, what population would it add to the wealth of this county and of this province?

The City of Belleville has taxed itself, perhaps for all time to come, in giving a bonus of $150,000 to the Grand Junction. How long would it take before the settlers in the tract I have mentioned could afford a bonus like this towards a railway to open up and develop the resources of our county? The southern part of this county is done granting bonuses.

What has been the history of every mining project heretofore undertaken in this county, but disaster and failure, except the enterprises undertaken by Mr. Coe and those associated with him. I say it is unfair, ungenerous and hostile to the best interest of this county, to endeavor to discredit this great undertaking.

The people of this county generally will look with satisfaction and earnest hopefulness for the completion and prosperity of this railway, and the objects for which it was undertaken, while the people of Belleville, some of them, at least, will look upon it with anything but wishes for its success. And as they are complaisently contemplating our declining prosperity, our deserted streets, and our high taxes, can say "this is our handy work."

Yet the Central Ontario Railway is not the only thorn in its side. The line of the Toronto & Ottawa, which was built from Madoc to Bridgewater as a bluff to the Ontario & Quebec, is being ballasted and put in running shape; and for what purpose? The Napanee & Tamworth Railway, which has its terminus now at Napanee, but shortly at Deseronto, is being now built to Bridgewater to connect with this same Toronto & Ottawa, and will have Madoc as the terminus of this branch of the road. Therefore in another year it is expected there will be a line of railway hostile to the interests of Belleville, having its terminus in the very heart of this county, and affording an outlet from the north at Napanee or Deseronto. Why do we not hear something about this? The Central Ontario Co are willing to afford reciprocal running powers to the North Hastings which meets their line at Eldorado. Why are not the Grand Trunk people willing to put their line in shape from Madoc north and co-operate with the Central Ontario? Why do we not hear something about this? But it is all Coe and his land grab, while that gentleman and those interested with him are doing more to advance the real prosperity of our county than any other railway company, or any other company which has heretofore attempted to develop it.

Cures colic, cramps, diarrhœa; externally for aches, pains, sprains, headache, neuralgia, and rheumatism. For man or beast. 20 and 50c.

THE CLERGYMAN.

I have myself been a new man by the use of a bicycle. I was broken and unnerved by long pastoral work. The bicycle fell in my way and I learned to ride more as a pastime than with serious intent. Then I began to ride upon the road, rather superficially, and during the winter months when I am deprived of it, I get sick for lack of exercise. As an instrument for the restoration of weakened frames to strength and health, I believe it has no equal.

TAKING NO CHANCES.

'My dear,' said the Czar to his wife, the czarina, 'has the milkman left the milk yet?'

'Yes.'

'Well, will you drink a little to see if it's poison

MADOC NEWS.

(From our own Correspondent.)

MADOC, July 29.—Dame Rumor says we are to have several weddings soon,

Archdeacon Jones held services in St John's church last week.

Mr. T. Cross' mother died on Saturday and was buried on Monday.

The county teams are engaged in putting gravel on Durham St. south.

Mr. Jas. A. Orr is assisting his brother in running the Review office now.

Hon. Billa Flint passed through the village last week on his way to Bridgewater.

Mr. D. C. Clarke expects to be in his new store in the Wilson block in about two weeks.

The three gentlemen who were rusticating at the Lake returned last Thursday, looking well over their week's sojourn there.

The copious showers which fell on Sunday were very acceptable and the prospects for good crops are growing brighter every day.

Henry Robinson of Eldorado, utilized the railroad and had the brick for his new house hauled by train, Mr. Rollins placing the brick on board here.

Mr. M. Bristol is building a large stage waggon for Mr. Simmons, which looks as though it would stand some wear over the rough Hastings road.

RESCUED AT LAST.

W. H Crooker, druggist of Waterdown, says, when all other remedies fail for Bowel Complaints, then Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry comes to the rescue.

INTERESTING ITEMS.

A Zulu belle is like the proverbial prophet. She has not much order in her own country.

HORSFORD'S ACID PHOSPHATE UNEQUALLED.

Dr B. M. ALEXANDER, Fannettsburg, Pa., says: "I think Horsford's Acid Phosphate is not equalled in any other preparation of phosphorous."

'What is it you like about that girl?' asked one young man of another. 'My arm,' was the brief reply.

——The question whether young women shall pursue the same line of studies as their brothers, seems to find its chief objection in in their different physical constitution. Arguments on this subject are finely handled on both sides; but the perfect adaption of Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to the cure of ailments attending the feminine organs needs no argument; its works are its proof.

The plumbers and gas-fitters propose to form an alliance. It will be an offensive and defensive all ance—particularly offensive.

AN END TO BONE SCRAPING.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctor told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used instead, 3 bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve and my leg is now sound and well.

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c per box by R. Templeton.

A clerk in an Alleghany dry-goods store says that the ordinary striped bed-ticking is a terrible crime. It is a mattress-hide, he says.

NO RIVAL IN THE FIELD.

There is no rival for Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It is the acknowledged champion for the cure of all Summer Complaints.

A correspondent wants to know why some women are called Amazons. Perhaps it is because they are uncommonly wide at the mouth.

PREJUDICED PEOPLE.

Many people are prejudiced against patent medicines but all who try Burdock Blood Bitters are compelled to acknowledge it worthy a patent as a valuable discovery.

A gossiping exchange reveals the secret that there are 18,000 more women than men in Boston. The Hub is evidently hard up for fellows.

Baxter's Mandrake Bitters cure indigestion, Heart Burn, Costiveness and all malarial diseases. Twenty-five cents per bottle.

A Paris lady recently gave a ball to her female friends and asked each to bring a living animal. All except three brought their husbands.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS—Coughs Influenza.—The soothing proerties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In in common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally and the Ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceeding efficacious. When influenza is epidemic this treatment is the easiest, safest, and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free, without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of saving suffering when any one is afflicted with cold, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints, by which so many persons are seriously and permanently afflicted in most countries.

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "28 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 28, 1882.

"Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly, W. M. PHILLIPS."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the SARSAPARILLA in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1882. Yours gratefully,

HIRAM PHILLIPS."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blotches, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

CHOLERA

—IS—

COMING!

The countries where Cholera prevails, as in India, China and Africa, Pain-Killer is considered the surest and safest of all known remedies, and natives place the most perfect reliance in it

Read the following extract from the letter of a missionary in China:—

DEAR SIRS—I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain-Killer you had the goodness to send me last year. Its coming was most providential, I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. The Cholera appeared here soon after we received it. We resorted at once to the PAIN-KILLER, using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain-Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered.

Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours,

J. M. JOHNSON,
Missionary to Swaton, China.

Beware of Counterfeits and Imitations. Ask or the genuine Perry Davis' Pain-Killer and take no other. jy 2md&w

LOVE'S LOTTERY

OR,

THE RIVAL SISTERS.

'Hush, hush! in mercy hush!' cried Pauline, pale with horror; 'how can you say anything so terrible, dearest Juliette? Do not all of us know how false the libel?'

'Not all, else that scene would never have occurred,' was the answer, calmly uttered, yet with deep concentration; and you wonder that I hunger to quit this land where I have been so publicly disgraced?'

'No, indeed no; you wrong me,' exclaimed Pauline, hastily. 'I spoke thoughtlessly—I wish also to be away, for what is pain to you is agony to me. No, not for worlds would I live out of England, for was it not our father's command we should not live here? We will see these papers signed as soon as possible, then return. Eustace no doubt will arrive in time to escort us. Ah! I wish now that we had never, never come.'

Before many hours how far more sincerely was that prayer to be uttered by both.

At the name of Eustace Belmore, the Creole's cheeks had flushed yet deeper, then turned deadly pale.

Hurriedly, with compressed lips she averted her face from her companion, bending her gaze upon the house of Longueville, which they were now rapidly approaching, and to see which in all its luxurient extent, from the crest of a neighboring hill. Mr. Folmsbee, leaving the ladies had taken his place on the box.

The silence that ensued was not broken until the travellers entered the grounds, lined with grinning negroes, male and females nodding welcome, stopped at the verandahed entrance.

Alighting and warmly responding to the domestics' greeting, the sisters conducted Mr. Folmsbee into the dining-room, where they ordered luncheon to be brought.

As may be imagined this was not Mr. Folmsbee's first visit to Longueville.

The place was well known to him.

Consequently, being of a rather plethoric build, he was delighted, after luncheon, to be left to rest a space, while Juliette and Pauline repaired to visit their servants, and bid them farewell.

It was rather a long ceremony, the domestics had so much to say to the sweet misses, and the misses to say to them, besides inquiring after, and patting the rolling, chubby, laughing picaninnies.

Thus it was almost evening before the sisters returned to the house, and found Mr Folmsbee in a rocking chair under the veranda, enjoying the fumes of a choice cheroot and the cool evening breeze at the same time.

'I suspect you ladies are a bit tired,' he remarked, lowering his feet to a lesser altitude.

'I suspect we are,' responded Pauline with a forced smile; 'yet I am glad, very glad we have been. They were so glad to see us, so sorry at the idea of parting, were they not Juliette?'

The Creole was standing in a shaded portion of the varandah leaning against the trellis her large eyes fixed meditatively upon the landscape, now bright with moonlight, extending before her view.

'Very,' she answered. 'If the English can boast of freedom, I don't think they can of the affection and fidelity of their dependants.'

'True, my dear Miss Beauchamp, said Folmsbee puffing slowly, 'But you see, your father was rather an exception of the general rule. He was the most good-natured fellow that ever stepped; he could never bear to see, much less occasion unhappiness. I only hope their next owners will treat them half as well.'

'I have thought of that,' exclaimed Pauline energetically, 'Oh, how I wish we might set them all free.'

'And thus make every one of them as miserable as now he is happy,' remarked Jacob Folmsbee, sententiously. 'It isn't possible, my dear Miss Pauline, very philanthrorical. It wouldn't do to give them freedom without providing each with a livelihood; otherwise it would be simple starvation. No, dear young lady emancipation will need a stronger hand than yours, but, be assured of this it will come,'

'Talking of coming,' broke in Juliette, abruptly, the word apparently reaching her in her reverie, 'when does Mr. Scladden, who intends purchasing Longueville, arrive?'

'To-morrow at eleven. That was the hour I appointed. Will it suit?'

'Perfectly.'

'Is not that two early?'

'On the contrary, the earlier the better,' rejoined the Creole rather wearily. 'I shall be glad when it is all settled. When it is settled, when may we get away?'

In less than a week all can be arranged the surrendering up and taking possession, though directly the papers are signed to-morrow, legally, Longueville, and everything upon it, animate, and inanimate, belongs to the purchaser, Mr. Scladden. I will hurry the proceedings as quickly as I am able.

'It is very good of you,' said Pauline, who now, for her sister's sake, seeing the effect it had upon her, desired with equal anxiety to be once again in England.

From this point the conversation was carried on by Pauline and Mr. Folmsbee.

Juliette wrapped in her own thoughts, gazing out at the lights and shadows, did not hear it,

Her face was full of pain.

Her heart full of agony.

(To be continued.)

Vital Questions!

Ask the most eminent physician

Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?

And they will tell you unhesitatingly "Some form of Hops! ! !"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all the most eminent physicians: "What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, diabetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—

"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu !"

Ask the same physicians

"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague &c.," and they will tell you:

Mandrake! or Dandelion !"

Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable,

And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is

Harmless to the most frail woman, the weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

CHAPTER II.

"Patients

"Almost dead or nearly dying"

For years and given up by physicians, of Bright's and other Kidney diseases' liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.

Women have gone nearly crazy ! ! ! !

From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.

People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory, and chronic, or suffering from scrofula.

Erysipelas!

"Salt rheum, blood poisoning dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact, almost all diseases frail"

Nature is heir to

Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.

None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile poisonous stuff with 'Hop' or 'Hops' in their name.

OUR CANADIAN SILK INDUSTRY is prosperous. The great difficulty to be contended with is the low grade of goods required. In nothing is this more apparent than in the comparatively small article of sewing silks. The great demand in Canada seems to be for cheap quality, buyers forgetting that a cheap thread must necessarily be a fine and consequently a weak one. Messrs Belding, Paul & Co. make three grades of spool silk; of these different qualities the poorest one has by far the largest sale, at the same time they constantly hear of complaints of poor sewing silk. If the ladies will take the trouble to ask for Belding Paul & Co's. own brand, and see that their name is on the end of each spool, they will be sure of getting the best made.

"Twenty-four years experience," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the Generative organs is to repair the wasted by giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all Druggists at 50 cents per box, 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Jas, Clarke & Co. Belleville they will forward he goods free by mail, and send their written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure See adv't in nother column.

MARJORIE'S KISSES.

Marjorie laughs and climbs on my knee,
And I kiss her, and she kisses me.
I kiss her, but I don't much care,
Because, although she is charming and fair,
Marjorie's only three.

But there will come a time, I ween,
When, if I tell her of this little scene,
She will smile and prettily blush, and then
I shall long in vain to kiss her again,
When Marjorie's seventeen

LADIES IN LOW-NECKED GOWNS.

A CORRESPONDENT'S OBSERVATIONS IN FASHIONABLE DRAWING ROOMS.

From the San Francisco Argonaut.

In England the female evening or full dress is, and always has been de regeur, decollete. It is the established court dress of the English court, and there has never been a sovereign so strict in rules and in the rules and regulations which enforce its observance than Queen Victoria. The Queen herself in her best days was never alarmingly reluctant as to the extent of her own display of those womanly charms with the possession of which she in no small degree accredited. Her daughters too, when in evening dress, are quite lavish, in an exhibition which leaves but little to the imagination. Especially the Princess Louise. And, indeed, she can hardly be blamed to conceal one of the most rounded, plump, and satiny necks and pairs of shoulders and the most billowy bosom in the United Kingdom; and that is saying a good deal. Certainly no men object to the gracious view she gives them, and what women may say is of course, actuated by jealousy and spite. I doubt if Labouchere has ever seen the Princess Louise in a low-necked gown. If he had, he wouldn't have another word to say against the custom.

The Princess of Wales, on the other hand, makes a great mistake in dressing so low as she does. In harmless things an avowed prude, her bodices are not only the most decollete in England, but she has a way of hoisting up her shoulders that, aside from giving the appearance of an effort on her part to crawl through, shows the complete contour of both arms between the top of the bodice and the shoulder knot. One could, perhaps, forgive her this trick if the result were satisfactory in other respects. But her neck is bony and scraggy to a degree. What surprises one most is that she should be as fond as she is of being photographed in a semi-statuesque fashion.

Gladys, Countess of Lonsdale, has a beautiful neck and a bust which, to once see as she graciously condescends to unveil it, would make one regard as a species of vandalism any movement of fashion directed to even a soupcon of its future obscurity. Mrs. Cornwallis West is now getting decidedly passee; but her best days three or four years ago, she dressed as decollete as—well, as decollete as everybody dresses now. But at the time she was considerably sat upon in consequence. Yet no one could really blame her, beyond its then styled immodesty, for showing as lovely a neck and shoulders as one could well wish to see. The young Marchioness of Kildare, Lady Hermione Duncombe that was a few months ago, had a beautiful neck o which she never fails to show what would be considered a superabundance in a less favored by-nature woman. And, after all, that is really where it all is. One doesn't object to the pretty necks going as decollete as they please. It is the ugly ones that make the fashion detestable.

THE VILLAIN WHO DOES NOT SMILE

It is true, my son, a man may smile and smile and be a villain. But it is equally true that a man may never smile [and also be a villain of the inkiest hue. I know it is quite the thing with a certain class of people to decry the smiling man who is so monotonously pleasant that he is sometimes offensively unpleasant. I know that some people bid you beware of the man who is always smiling! But you should also beware of the man who always greets you with a glare. If I am to be beguiled by a villain I think I rather prefer the smiling villain. He would swindle me courteously anyhow. I do not admire saturine countenances even on good men. I do not enjoy any real pleasure in contemplating the bird of prey visages; the hungry glare of the village horse trader, for instance, never improves my appetite. I do not think there is good reason for fearing the man that smiles in all sorts of human weather. I do not always believe in his smile. There are times when he bores me beyond measure. Sometimes his set, unvarying smile wearies me as does the unwinking sun in the dead. cloudless calm of successive August days, and I want to quarrel with him and try to make him cloud up and thunder a little, or at least strike out a show of heat lightning. I don't believe his smile is eternally a reflex of his feelings. He must feel blue and dismal, and troubled and chafed, and penitent and doubtful, and anxious and longing and sorrowful at times like the rest of us. But if he chooses to veil all his troubles behind a smile that is so set it betrays the mask and wearies us, why that is his way of trying to keep his little light shining in this troubled world, my son! It doesn't prove that he is a villian. All men who smile and smile are not villians, nor or all men who look solemn good men. When you hear a man saying, 'Look out for the man who always smiles,' that is the man, my son, who will rehypothecate your collaterals.—Bob Burdette in the Brooklyn Eagle.

SAVED FROM A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Unto May I had spent at least five hundred dollars in treatment by many of the best medical men without benefit. My mouth became badly ulcerated, sores breaking out on my neck and legs. I also suffered excruciatingly with Rheumatism, grew very despondent, and my best friends advised me that the icy hand of death was fast approaching. I caught at Shaker Blood Syrup like drowning man catches at a straw. After taking two bottles I could feel the change for the better. The sores began to discharge freely, and Rheumatism to abate. When I had taken six bottles every sore had healed and my skin began to assume a natural appearance. I persisted until I had taken twelve, and there is not a symptom of the disease remaining, and I feel as well as I ever did. I have gained twenty-one pounds in flesh, and my friends wonder at my improved condition. I have recommended it to many, and in every instance with complete success. I believe that Shaker Blood Syrup has saved me from a horrible death.

T. S. Cannon South Boston Mass.

In 1878 I was the victim of terrible Blood Poison, and after being treated by three physicians was confined to my bed, not able to raise my hand to my head, spiting up clots of blood and reduced in weight from one hundred and eighty-five to one hundred and thirty pounds. I then began the use of Shaker Blood Syrup, and in less than three months I was entirely well, weighing one hundred and ninety-six pounds, and have never had a symptom of the disease since. If it had not been for Shaker Syrup I believe I would have been in my grave.

Chas. [illegible]erger, Hoboken, N J,

HOARSENESS AND FAILURE OF voice from congestion of the vocal cords follicular disease of the fauces, or ministers sore throat, are often the results of bronchial troubles, extending up the trachea and larnyx, affecting the whole mucus tract of the air passages. These diseases are the outcome or expression of nerve debility and blood impoverishment from overworking the system and excessive use of the organs involved. Here constitutional treatment is required to restore nutrition and nerve power, and WHEELER'S Phosphates and Calisaya has been successfully used by singers and public speakers.

THE DAILY ONTARIO.

NOT YET TOO LATE.

It will hardly be expected that we can speak with any authority as to the views or intentions of the Dominion Cabinet or any of its members. What we here say may therefore be taken as our conjectures, founded upon what we believe to be the logic of common sense. It is a publicly known fact that the Minister of Customs has visited Weller's Bay, the Murray Canal, and has ridden over the Central Ontario Railway to its northern terminus. He has of course seen what every observer with two eyes and the faculty of observation must see who takes that trip. He was accompanied by two close political friends. This far, he has, with evident propriety, maintained a silence as to his observations, and the conclusions he has reached in regard to the important public interests of which he is the guardian. With equal propriety Mr. Geo. D. Dickson does not maintain any such reserve. He points out the magnitude of the work done by the Central Ontario people, the terrible mistake made in the Murray Canal location, and the evil that is likely to result to our city unless some positive moves are made. We believe that the two gentlemen who accompanied the Minister, Judge Fralock being the other, will agree with us in saying that these moves are, in the first place, to put the Murray Canal where it should be, and next to make some agreement with the Central Ontario people for railway facilities to the north. The first of these is within the control of the Minister of Customs. The second requires the consent of outside parties as well as the co-operation of the Dominion Government. If Mr. Bowell fails to do the one thing he will deserve the severest censure. If he fails to try to do the other he will be equally censurable. The ONTARIO fully realizes all the difficulties of the case. We do not presume to know what his views are, but we feel convinced that no man of sense could go where he did and not come to the general conclusions reached by his companion on the trip. We believe the interests at stake are so much greater than any temporary cry against a political opponent, that we readily approach the matter upon the ground of urgent public necessity and announce ourselves as prepared to second any well directed action of Mr. Bowell to the end that profit may result to this section. It is, we believe, true that great and unexpected difficulties have been encountered in digging the Murray Canal where the present work is going on. It is also true that the general benefits of Weller's Bay could not perhaps have been so thoroughly appreciated two years ago as now.

We believe that no observant man in this city fails to feel the extent of damage that will permanently result if the present course is persevered in. We speak advisedly in saying that prompt and cordial approval will greet an honest and courageous rectification of what is a mistake. We believe that the evil effects may yet be largely averted.

GOVERNOR CLEVELAND ACCEPTS.

ALBANY, July 29.—Governor Cleveland was formally tendered the Democratic nomination for president to day by the notification committee. He said, in accepting the honor: If the contest upon which we now enter we steadfastly hold to the underlying principles of our party creed and at all times keep in view the people's good we shall be strong, because we are true to ourselves and because the plain and independent voters of the land will seek by their suffrages to compass their release from party tyranny where there should be submission to the popular will, and their protection from party corruption, where there should be devotion to the people's interests. These thoughts lend a consecration to our cause and we go forth not merely to gain partizan advantage, but pledged to give those who trust us the most benefit and honest administration of national affairs. No higher purpose or motion can stimulate to supreme effort or urge us to continuous and earnest labor and effective party organization. Let us not fail in this and we may confidently hope to reap the full reward o patriotic services well performed,

A STORMY SESSION.

THE IRISH MEMBERS FIGHTING THE ESTIMATES.

LONDON, July 30.—In the House of Commons last night six hours were consumed in a discussion on the adjourned Irish estimates. The Parnellites fought each item tooth and nail. Mr. Sexton denounced the crown prosecutor, Mr. Bolton, as a forger and bankrupt' and "moved to disallow the amount of his salary. Messrs Labouchere, T. P. O'Connor and T. D. Sullivan supported the motion. Mr. Trevelyan, Chief Secretary for Ireland, promised to take legal advice as to the propriety of withholding Mr. Bolton's compensation. Bolton is one of those implicated in the infamous' practices lately shown by O'Brien to be carried on by certain Government officials in Dublin. In further consideration of the estimates, Mr. O'Connor moved to disallow the salary of Mr. John Naish, Solicitor General for Ireland, but this was rejected by a vote of 126 to 29. The entire session was stormy and excited, the Chairman rising almost incessantly in vain attempts to preserve order. The estimates were finally a[illegible] again, the consideration not having been completed.

CONTEMPORARY COMMENT.

ADDISONIAN ENGLISH.

The Grit papers are making fools of themselves over the Boundaries question.—Kingston News.

A STARTLING DISCOVERY.

Mr. Wm. Johnston, of Huron, Dak, writes that his wife had been troubled with acute Bronchitis for many years, and that all remedies tried gave no permanent relief, until he procured a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, which has a magical effect, and produced a permanent cure. It is guaranteed to cure all Diseases of Throat, Lungs, or Bronchial Tubes.

ON THE EVE OF MARRIAGE.

Frank Estes says Farewell and Shoots Himself.

NEW YORK, July 31.—An epileptic named Frank Estes who was about to be married gave up hope of cure and taking a room in the Grand Central Hotel to write his farewells to his sweetheart and his parents shot himself fatally. On a table in the room was an envelope weighted down with a box of cartridges. It was addressed in pencil: "Mr. E. B. Estes, 280 Pearl street, city, between Fulton and Beekman." The envelope contained these letters:—

DEAR MINNIE: Forgive me for bringing so much trouble upon you. I know you would if you knew what I have suffered. God only knows how much! I have been growing worse daily, and am completely discouraged. Had it not been for your love and the encouragement you have given me, I could not have kept up as long as I have, I cannot endure the suffering longer. Good bye.—FRANK.

DEAR FATHER AND BROTHER: Forgive me for committing this rash deed. I have suffered terribly. I can neither eat nor sleep. Have been to see Dr. Hammond, but he gives me little encouragement, and I have lost all hope. You may think this cowardly, but I can bear this suffering no longer. I desire that my property should be equally divided among my own sisters and brother. Good bye.—FRANK.

CANADIAN NOTES.

The latest report pronounces the Johnston surveying party safe.

The General Manager of the Federal Bank has completed his investigation of bank's affairs.

Some twenty of the petitioner's charges have been struck out of the Algoma election petition.

An election for member of the House of Commons will be held in Queen's county P. E. I., August 26.

The employees of the Joseph Hall Manufacturing Company, Oshawa, last evening accepted Mr. Glen's terms and agreed to return to work in the morning.

The sink hole on the Ontario & Quebec Railroad was all right Tuesday night and a freight train passed over it. Yesterday morning it fel again in its usual position, the track being under water. It does seem as if there is no bottom to the ditch.

A CURIOUS BOOK

The most curious book in the world is one that is neither written nor printed. Every letter of the text is cut into the leaf and, as the alternate leaves are of blue paper, it is as easily read as the best print. The labor required and the patience necessary to cut each letter may be imagined. The work is so perfect that it seems almost as though done by machinery, but every character was made by hand. The book is entitled "The Passion of Christ." It is a very old volume, and was a curiosity as long ago as the year 1640. At this time it belongs to the family of the Prince de Ligne, and is kept at a museum in France.

A BEE'S PUSH.

Somebody has estimated that in proportion to its weight a bee can pull 33 times as much as a horse. That is nothing compared with its pushing power. A healthy bee can push fifteen times more to the square inch than it can pull. Just calculate it. One hundred bees weigh an ounce, and one hundred can push on a square inch surface. N[illegible], the Prairie Farmer has seen a lively bee back up against a 150 pound man and push him clear through the door into the house, 100 x 100 x 16 x 150—1,900,000,000, which equals the pushing power of a bee. Give it up?

A misstep will often make a cripple for life. A bottle of Henry & Johnson's Arnica and Oil Liniment at hand, will not prevent the miss! But used immediately it will save being a cripple.

WORTH TEN DOLLARS A BOTTLE.

Any person who has used Polson's NERVILINE, the great pain cure, would not be without it if it cost ten dollars a bottle. A good thing is worth its weight in gold, and Nerviline is the best remedy in the world for all kinds of pain. It cures neuralgia in five minutes; toothache in one minute; lame back at one application; headache in a few moments; and all pains just as rapidly. Small test bottles only cost 10 cents. Why not try it to-day? Large bottles 25 cents, sold by all druggists and country dealers. Use Polson's nerve pain cure—Nerv-

TERRIBLE TREATMENT.

Two Women Kidnapped and Badly Abused,

THE GIRL STABS ONE OF THEM.

BUFFALO, July 31.—A Chatanooga, Tenn. special says:—"Mrs. John Buchanan and her daughter Mary, aged 17, live five miles from Spring City. Several nights ago seven men compelled the ladies to accompany them to the wood where they were forced to remain all night. The men alternately outraged the mother and daughter, and in resisting them both were bruised unmercifully. Next morning the women were taken to the river and forced into a boat. The whole party floated down the river to Smith's Landing, where the mob was taken to the west shore. Two of the men with the daughter proceeded to near Birchwood, Bradley county, where she was kept in custody two days. She finally made her escape while her captors were asleep.

The mother made known what occurred, and warrants were placed in the hands of Marshal Rassor, and he arrested one Jas. Gilburst, who, on a preliminary trial, confessed the crime, and gave the names of the parties associated with him. Yesterday Henry Thomas was arrested in Bradley county and taken to Spring City for trial. Gilburst was committed to jail at Washington. The other five men whose names are divulged are still at large, but are known to be close neighbors to Mrs. Buchanan. This evening Miss Buchanan stated that after arriving near Birchwood she got possession of a knife, and upon one of the men renewing his assaults she stabbed him and made her escape into the woods, leaving the man dead on the ground. This statement is doubted by some, but the girl swears to it, and proposes to accompany a party to find the body.

FEARFUL OUTRAGE.

A YOUNG WOMAN BRUTALLY ASSAULTED BY A GANG OF ROUGHS.

HAMILTON, Ont., July 30.—A fearful outrage has just come to light here. On Sunday night, while a gentleman and a woman named Quinn were returning from church, in the southeastern portion of the city, while on Concession Street, they were pounced on by a gang of roughs. The young man was disabled and four of the villians outraged the young woman. Since the occurrence the victim's life has been despaired of, as she has had a succession of fits. The affair is in the hands of the detectives. Should the scoundrels be discovered, there is enough indignation expressed by the community to lead to a recourse to lynch law. The young woman lived with a relative at the asylum.

A MOTHER'S FAITH.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Mrs. Clarissa Rugg, wife of Rev. Henry Rugg, and mother of Charley H. Rugg, the convicted murderer of Mrs. Maybee and her daughter of Brookville, L. I., died at her home in Bridgehampton on Saturday, 60 years old. She had not seen her son since his arrest, but she believed in his innocence. Before her death she asked to see her "boy Charley" and on being informed by her husband that her son could not come to her, she said: "Then I shall see him in heaven." These were the last words she uttered. Charley was her favorite child. When Rugg was informed of his mother's death, he broke down and said:

"Well, I have to stand that, too. My wife and child died soon after I was convicted, and now, my God! my poor mother, and I the cause of her death. I'd like to have seen her before I die myself, but God tells me I'll see her in heaven, I'm ready to die now I've nobody left."

STANLEY'S WORK ACCOMPLISHED.

LONDON, July 29.—Stanley says he returned to England because he considered he had completed the work of establishing satisfactory trading stations along the Congo river, from its mouth to Stanley-pool. He eulogizes the trading prospects of the country, and considers that General Gordon commands perfect practicable routes of escape from Khartoum. Stanley believes the sending of a large English force to extricate Gordon will be a most perilous undertaking, and likely to be attended with a great loss of life and expense. The English would be unable to stand the climate.

THE SCIENCE OF PHRENOLOGY.

New York Sun.

'The development at the back of the head, my friends, indicates parental affection,' explained the phrenologist. 'Now you will observe,' he went on, feeling of the boy's head, 'that bump is abnormal in size thus indicating that he loves and reveres his parents to an unusual degree. Is this not so, my lad?'

'Naw.'

'What's that? You do not love your parents?'

'I think well enough of ma,' the boy replied, 'but I ain't very fond of de old man. That bump you're feeling of he give me last night wid a baseball club.'

THE MONARCH OF VULTURES.

A Government Declares War on the Condor.

The announcement that the Chillian Government has declared a war of extermination against the monarch of vultures—the condor—and offers about $5 for every condor killed, justifies some remarks as to the possibility of the Chillian Government realizing its purposes. The condor has indeed been declared "an enemy to the republic," but when one takes into consideration the astounding powers of the bird and its wonderful habits, one finds it hard to believe that the Government can ever succeed in destroying the species at any price. Shooting it on the wing is almost out of the question, for it sails at altitudes far beyond the reach of the human eye, and roosts on peaks immeasurably above the clouds. It has been seen at altitudes of 20,000 feet. It can withstand variations of temperature beyond human endurance, and hatches its young far above the snow line; nevertheless, it rests quite comfortably on the burning sands of the southern sea shore.

It haunts the whole western slope of the Andes—not only Chili, but Peru, Bolivia and Patagonia. With the vast spread of its wings—often exceeding twelve feet—it can perform prodigious journeys in a few hours. Its eye is miraculously keen; for when no bird is visible in the sky, even with the aid of a powerful glass, if a mule or other animal in a convoy fall or die, the condors instantly drop upon it like lightning from heaven. Latterly the birds have so increased as to form a veritable scourge notwithstanding the fact that the female lays but two eggs at a time, and that condor hunting has been a regular, lucrative calling for more than a century. Traps are the only reliable means of catching them: but the day will soon come when traps shall be of no avail whatever. Condors have already learned to fear a gun, and with their wonderful sight it is absolutely impossible to get within rifle range of them.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF.

And perhaps in the distant future when the ages have grown old, and move with slow and tailing steps down the corridors of time—When the adjuncts and appliances that now make life endurable are forgotten, how gladly will the people hail the re-discovery of Putnam' Painless Corn Extracter, the great and only sure pop corn cure of this age. Without a rival for efficacy or painless action, certain in every case and yet perfectly harmless to every other part, surely its loss would be felt in future ages as keenly as its value is now appreciated by all in this. Try Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Sure and safe. N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, proprietors.

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in th market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all Druggists.

IMPALED ALIVE.

(St. Thomas Times.)

A blood-curdling accident happened on the Canada Southern railway at Waterford at 12:45 to-day, resulting in the shocking mutilation of a man named Osborne Huffman, employed in Green's agricultural implement works. The firemen of engine 425, attached to No. 1 American express, asked Hoffman to turn the lever of the standpipe at the station in order that the tender might be filled with water. The unfortunate man was in the act of turning the lever, when the engine on train No. 10 came along in the opposite direction. He did not see his danger until too late to avert it, and the lever of the standpipe was driven through his groin, impaling him alive. The shocking affair was witnessed by some of the trainmen who hurried to his assistance. Much difficulty was experienced in releasing him, the lever having passed through his body, coming out at the back. Drs. Duncombe and Rose were summoned and did everything possible to alleviate the man's sufferings, it being at once apparent that he could not survive.

TRACED TO BELLEVILLE.

A Tramp Who Stole $100 at Easton's Corners.

Constable Cook last night arrested John Carroll at the Salvation Army barracks on a charge of having stolen $100 from a farmer back of Brockville. Carroll has been in the city for a couple of days and those who saw him mistook the gentleman for a millionaire. Yesterday afternoon he attended the lacrosse match and was the most enthusiastic admirer of the game. But the curtain soon dropped on John's life of happiness and pleasure, and to-day he languishes behind the bars at the gaol on a charge of robbery. The particulars of the case are these: Last Thursday night a tramp called at Daniel E. McIntyre's house at Easton's corners, on the Canada Pacific Railway, about twenty-four miles from Brockville, and applied for a night's lodging, which the honest farmer could not refuse. The stranger was quartered in a room with two or three other men, inmates of the house, who on rising early in the morning left Carroll asleep in the bed. The ungrateful guest—and who of this class are not?—hurriedly arose when left alone, picked the lock of a drawer and stole the $100. After breakfast he cleared out and Mr. McIntyre on Saturday night missed the money. He at once had suspicion of the probable thief, and started in pursuit. At Farmersville he got trace of Carroll, where he was seen with $99. From there he followed him to Belleville, and had him arrested. When searched in the police station he was without funds. The only thing he had to show for the money was a silver watch which he gave $10 for. He was brought before the Magistrate this morning and remanded for a week to await the arrival of the Brockville authorities when he will get his trial.

SPOKES FROM THE WHEEL.

A Liverpool bicyclist who was riding down a steep hill near that city was shot through a cottage window by the breaking of his machine.

The five mile amateur bicycle championship of England was won by R. Chambers, who covered the distance in 15 min. 36 4 5 sec., considerably faster than the Canadian record.

The funeral of Ernest Metcalf, a prominent member of the Enfield Bicycle club, of Liverpool, England, was attended by about 50 members of his club, who followed the hearse mounted on their bicycles. One of the members on foot wheeled the bicycle of the deceased in the cortege.

Several new safety machines have appeared in England, which have shown good capacity for work. One of these, called the "Kangaroo," is described as a little wonder. Says one of the English papers: 'Although only a 36 inch wheel, it can be geared up on the tricycle principle to sixty inches.

Walter J. Blum was riding on his bicycle along the turnpike out at Verona. N. J., one day last week, when the rubber tire suddenly flew off the front wheel. Before the rider could stop the machine, a large black snake that was lying in the road suddenly placed its body in the groove of the wheel, which it just fitted, and remained there until the bicycler reached the end of his journey.—Puck's Snake Stories.

The wheel has a good defense against all the objections that can be brought against it. If it has some dangers, it has more advantages than any other means of sport, amusement, and recreation that can be mentioned. It is not cruel; it interferes with nobody's rights; it goes everywhere, and fast or slow as its rider dictates; it it requires no food; its broken limbs can be mended; it never has the heaves nor the glanders, and if it sometimes brings about the fall of man, it never can be accused, as man has been, of total depravity.

A DIVORCE CASE.

MRS. VANDERBILT ALLEN'S CHARGES AGAINST HER HUSBAND.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Mrs. Vanderbilt Allen, plaintiff in the celebrated divorce case, gave evidence yesterday before the referee. She stated her husband left her Feb. 25, 1883. He left a note stating he had gone away because he was offended at some language she had used towards him. Mrs. Allen said her husband was very intemperate. He threatened once to kick her out of bed. She had an income of $1,400 of her own, and thought $200 would be necessary to enable her to keep up the style of living she had always been accustomed to. Witness said she resided at Cape May in 1882, but never had enough to eat there. She discovered her husband's infidelity by a letter she found in his pocket addressed to Edith De Belleville. She also found a letter from Walker to Col. Allen, congratulating him on his 'success with the ladies of Philadelphia.' She made up her mind she would never again live with Allen under any circumstances when he failed to prove his innocence. In March, 1883, she saw on the blotter of the Fremont House the entry, 'J. Andrews and wife' written in her husband's handwriting.

SPORTING NEWS.

Lacrosse Match—Oswego Regatta Racing.

SOME EXTRAORDINARY TROTTING.

Yesterday afternoon the Okas played a match on their grounds with the Kingston Lacrosse Club, winning the first and only game, and the match, it being a time match. There was a large attendance and the game was closely watched, although the visitors were unable to face the ball with the home team. The following was the composition of the teams:—

KINGSTON.		BELLEVILLE.
P. Moran,	goal	L. Laurance.
R. Mills,	point	A. H. Coleman.
C. Mil'an,	c point	H. Burdette.
F. Bissonette, J. Haggarty, J. Lenagher,	defence field.	E. Halliwell. W. Henderson. W. Schultz.
T. James	centre	H. Beasley.
W. O'Shea, W. Corrigan, J. Callighan,	home field	W. H. Garratt. H. Thomas, H. Yeomans
W. Leary,	out. home	D. Whitelaw.
C. Grezs,	in. home	J. Fleming.
J. Briggen,	capt.	C. Kenny.

Mr. J. Behan, of Kingston, acted as referee.

Play was begun at twelve minutes to three. The ball was at once hurled down to the Kingston goal, where it remained for some twenty minutes, but the defence was a strong one and the rubber was kept away from the flags in a clever manner. It was apparent from the beginning that the Kingston club could not play with the Okas, but in order to make some showing on the field the visitors massed their forces around their goal, and played a good defence game to the finish. Time was called at 3:30 when Tim James, of the Kingston team, was reported injured and a man on each side was dropped off. At a quarter to four the ball was faced again. The Okas for a time played a determined game and kept the ball flying about in front of the visitors goal, until, it being evident that the rubber must go through the flags, O'Shea of the Kingston team dropped on the ball within four feet of the flags and a lively tussle ensued. In the search for the ball two or three parties fell over O'Shea, who received a scalp wound and time was again called. The match was finished with ten men each. The Okas, exasperated at the stone wall reared before the Kingston flags, now made a determined onslaught and after some fine play by Whitelaw he threw to Garratt who, with a well directed shot delivered within a few feet of the goal, took the game for the Okas at 12 minutes to five.

As the visitors had to leave for home at five they were unable to play a second game.

The splendid form of Coleman and Burdett on defence and Garratt and Whitelaw in home was particularly admired. The Kingston goal deserves all the credit of prolonging the game. The Kingston team consisted of gentlemanly young men, and their visit to the City of the Bay will always be looked upon by the Okas as a pleasant and agreeable event in the history of the club.

The Maud left for Kingston at five o'clock with the club and about four hundred excursionists who accompanied them.

Mr. E. J. B. Pense, President of the Kingston Club, represented the Whig newspaper and Mr. J. Macdonald the News.

THE OSWEGO REGATTA.

(From our own Correspondent.)

OSWEGO, N. Y., July 30.—The regatta opened with a fine sailing breeze from the west. The Aileen, Garfield, Verve and Ella started in the first class, distance 30 miles. Shortly after starting the Ella lost her topmast. The Garfield led around the entire course ten miles. In the second class there entered the Katie Gray, Gracie, Zeta, Fascination, Laura of Oswego, Laura of Kingston, Cricket and Iolanthe. The wind died away and the regatta was postponed.

OSWEGO, July 31.—The regatta was resumed this morning. In the first-class the Aileen turned the home buoy on the first round twelve minutes ahead, she lost two topmasts and has hoisted a third, and is still leading. The Verve and Garfield are having a close call for third place. In the second class the Iolanthe passed the home buoy first on first round, Laura of Kingston, next and Katie Gray close up. The Gracie and Zeta withdrew before reaching the home buoy first. As seen from shore the second class is now closely bunched.

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "29 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 28, 1882.

"Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly, W. M. PHILLIPS."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the SARSAPARILLA in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1882. Yours gratefully,

HIRAM PHILLIPS."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blotches, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

CHOLERA

—IS—

COMING!

The countries where Cholera prevails, as in India, China and Africa Pain-Killer is considered the surest and safest of all known remedies, and natives place the most perfect reliance in it

Read the following extract from the letter of a missionary in China:—

DEAR SIRS—I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain-Killer you had the goodness to send me last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. The Cholera appeared here soon after we received it. We resorted at once to the PAIN-KILLER, using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain-Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered.

Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours, J. M. JOHNSON,
Missionary to Swatow, China.

LOVE'S LOTTERY

OR,

THE RIVAL SISTERS.

Her brain was full of Eustace.

Was not the burthen of an unrequitted affection bad enough to bear, without this cruel addition she had lately gone through?

'Ah, that I were dead—dead rather than he should know of my humiliation. There is one only one who could tell him and dare I—can I rely upon her secrecy when he is her husband? Her husband,' she ejaculated, her features becoming convulsed, her nails almost piercing her palms. Is he ever to be that? Is he ever? Heaven, can my reason support it? Would that I were dead' or—' her eyes turned towards Pauline looking so pretty and airy in her light muslin dress seated upon a low stool, and chatting gaily with Mr. Folmsbee—'or she.'

A spasm of agony shot through her breast,

She pressed her hand to her brow.

Then suddenly a long sigh escaped her lips, a strange calm seemed to creep over her senses.

Once more she sighed, and her gaze appeared involuntarily attracted to a group of magnolias at a little distance.

A space she remained wrapped as it were in their contemplation, still governed by that ineffable calm.

Afterwards, as influenced by a power not her own, slowly descending the few steps of the verandah, she glided across the lawn to the trees.

Why she went she could not have told.

She never dreamed of asking herself.

When she reached halfway, however, she stopped and passed her hands over her eyes as one waking from a slight slumber or deep reverie,

'Why ever have I come here?' she asked, mentally. Am I dreaming? I knew not where I was going. A waking somnambulist,' she added with a faint laugh at the solecism, 'What attraction could yonder clump of magnolias have for me?'

She strove to pierce the shade as it to find a reason, but in vain. Hence she was ignorant of the figure they concealed, the figure that brought her thither by his will, and who his arm now dropped, leaning against a tree, had only just released her from the spell he had cast

Rather ashamed of her proceedings, and to give some show of of reason for it to those under the verandah, Juliette bent over a bed of scarlet bloom. gathering a flower, flung it away as though not suitable, selected another, and twined it in her hair as she slowly retraced her steps to her sister and Jacob Folmsbee.

As she reached them, a negro brought the supper tray into the dining-room to which they instantly repaired, dropping the lace curtains behind them as some barrier against the intrusive visits of night insects.

Hardly had they disappeared when the figure quitted the trees and glided stealthily to the bed of scarlet blossoms. Stopping, he picked up the blosom the Creole had discarded pressed it to his lips, placing it carefully within his breast, then again sought his previous concealment.

Half-an-hour after all the doors and windows of Longueville, were closed for the night.

The household had retired to rest.

Bidding Pauline retain Keziah's service as long as she liked, for she would for that night dispense with her, Juliette repaired to her own room. Entering she locked the door behind her.

'Alone. Thank Heaven I alone at last,' she ejaculated with a long breath of relief. 'How their frivolous small talk maddens my brain. These moments of solitude are my only safeguard against insanity.'

Juliette started, A low cry of alarm escaped her lips.

Some heavy substance, passing through the yet open window, had fallen to the ground near where she stood.

Immediately recovering self-possession she searched for the object that had startled her.

It was a stone, having a paper securely fastened to it.

To release it, tear of the missive and read what was written, was the work of a second.

The words were as mysterious as the mode of deliverance. They ran—

'From a sincere friend, whom circumstances compel for the present to remain nameless. Before any papers are signed to-morrow there be made an imperative proviso that the purchaser shall not enter into his possession for two days at least. There may be no cause for this; much, more vital for Miss Beauchamp's future happiness, depend upon it. The writer dare not say more. A few hours shall prove.

'Aware of the noble courage of the peruser of these lines, the writer with safety trusts to her honor to keep this communication a secret from all, while also earnestly implore her not to disregard it.
